

Read I am a quadrillionaire

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2706-Isa was respected and worshiped by countless Elves.

If it were not for Isa, the Elves would still be in dire straits today.

Although they disapproved of some of the things Isa did, for example, cultivating Elven women from childhood on how to please humans, which they viewed as humiliating and against ancestral teachings, they had to admit that the Elves were thriving because of that.

The dark days of being a prey were forever gone.

In the past, countless merchants would gather outside the Elven Forest, waiting for hunters to come out with Elven women. They would buy the women at a high price and sell them to various places in Leila.

The Vingean even discovered The Elves' temporary base, resulting in tens of thousands of Elven women being killed in one swoop.

The scene was so cruel.

Yet, the sale of Elven women had been banned by all major forces in Leila now.

It was only done in secret, not publicly.

This was all thanks to Isa.

Faced with such an Elven Queen who changed the fate of the Elves, the stubborn elders did not dare to go too far.

In addition, the Elders' Council also supported Isa, so they were even more afraid of offending Isa.

"Of course, we know that everything Your Majesty does is for the Elves. There is no doubt about it. It's just that, not only did our people see Princess Evie accompanying Master David around the Elven Forest, but the heirs of the major forces also saw that. If they ask, it would be hard for us to explain ourselves," a senior member of the Elves said with a bitter expression.

“Don’t worry! I will handle this matter, but before that, I can’t tell you my plan. You will naturally know the identity of Master David by then.” Isa’s tone also softened.

“Now that Your Majesty has said so, we will take our leave. I hope Your Majesty can handle it as soon as possible and not let outsiders find any excuses. The heirs of Leila’s top forces are already dissatisfied with each other. If they find out that Princess Evie is always accompanying a young man, they will make similar requests, and it will be difficult to handle then.”

“I see!”

The seniors and the stubborn elders left, leaving Isa alone.

She did not think about this.

The heirs of Leila’s major forces were all comparing, competing, and dissatisfied with each other.

David was also an heir secretly cultivated by a big force but he was not well-known.

If the heirs of the other forces found out that the Elven Princess was accompanying David, how would those guys, who think so highly of themselves, tolerate such differential treatment?

They would certainly make this request to the Elves as well.

If Isa did not agree at that time, she would offend the other party.

Isa fell into deep thought.

It seemed that she needed to remind Evie not to be seen with David. Moreover, Isa also had to accelerate the plan and she could not delay it any longer.

Just when Elven Queen Isa was thinking about countermeasures, Evie’s path was blocked when she took David to a canyon in the Elven Forest.
