

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2719—David and Evie reached the Grand Canyon, and David was amazed by the psychedelic scenery.

He did not expect that there would be such a paradise in the Elven Forest.

This was also the kingdom of many small animals and insects.

As soon as Evie arrived, countless small animals and insects like butterflies surrounded her.

Apparently, they are very familiar with each other.

When they arrived at the Grand Canyon, Evie seemed to have let herself go. She completely forgot the earlier unpleasantness and started dancing with the colorful insects.

David felt pleasant as he looked at the picturesque paradise and the beautiful girl dancing in front of him.

Who did not like beautiful things, whether it was people or landscapes?

Even though this beauty did not belong to him, David still felt very relaxed.

In fact, as long as he was willing, he could have all of this.

With David's strength, he could just ask and the Elves would do their best to satisfy his every wish.

It would be the same even if it was the Elven Princess or the Elven Queen.

After all, he was the man who could lead the Elves to the top.

It was a pity that David did not have such thoughts.

He had not figured out his own affairs yet, so he did not dare to get into more trouble.

The incident with Ambrose was just a small episode for David.

After it passed, he was no longer bothered by it.

However, for Evie, it was no small matter.

After the two returned from the Grand Canyon, Evie immediately went to her mother's residence.

"Mother, I have something to tell you," Evie said, looking at Elven Queen Isa who was lowering her head to handle the trivial matters of her clan.

Isa raised her head and looked at Evie.

"Just tell me whatever you want to say. I just have something to tell you too."

"Since you have something to tell me, you should go first. I'll tell you what I need to tell you later," Evie replied.

"I'll go first then." Isa was not modest at all.

"Okay, Mother, I'm all ears."

Isa took a deep breath.

"Evie, you are the Elven Princess and the most outstanding woman of the Elves. Recently, there have been many heirs of Leila's top power living in the Elven Forest. I believe you also know why they came here. They didn't come here just to attend the sacrificial ceremony. To avoid trouble, you shouldn't be seen with David. Find someone else to take him wherever he wants to go, so as not to run into those guys and attract their attention. If that were to happen, it will be a hassle for me."

Evie smiled bitterly in her heart after hearing this.

She just had to run into them earlier.

However, it ended up well. David was able to suppress Ambrose without causing any serious consequences.

"Mother, your reminder came too late."

"What do you mean?" Isa was confused for a moment.

"This is what I want to tell you. When I took David to the Grand Canyon, I ran into people from the Berlin family who were blocking our way. After that, the people from the Loughy family also came," Evie replied.

'The Berlin family and the Loughy family?' Isa recalled.

When she remembered the status of these two families in Leila, she was instantly shocked.

The Berlin family was not that much of a big deal. On the contrary, the Loughy family was a top force with a powerful partial Overlord.

The Elves could not afford to offend them.

Moreover, the Loughy family was also a family that was relatively friendly to the Elves.

In order to maintain this relationship, the Elves had to give them many treasures every year
