

Read I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2744-2746

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2744-The head of the Vingeans stood up first. He bowed to David and said respectfully, "Greetings, I am the head of the Vingeans. Thank you for saving us; otherwise, our clans would have suffered heavy casualties."

He did not mention that many Vingeans' elites died after David flicked the hammer back at them.

He knew in his heart that with this person's strength, he was not someone the Vingeans could mess with.

As for those elites, they were already dead!

It was not his fault that they were so unlucky that they happened to stand under the hammer David flicked back.

It was their fault that they were unlucky.

This was the change brought about by strength.

David had killed Vingeans elites, but the head of the Vingeans still had to thank him shamelessly.

He did not know that the Elven Princess brought David here. Otherwise, he would be scared out of his wits.

The Vingeans were no different than ants in front of such an invincible opponent.

'You don't have to thank me. I just came here to ask if the Vingeans specialized in trafficking women?' David turned around and asked.

When a big shot like David looked at him, the head of the Vingeans instantly felt as if he had a target on his back.

A chill went straight to his head.

It was more terrifying than the shocking arrow that Isa had just fired after activating her bow's source.

This person was too strong!

It was no wonder he could easily catch Queen Isa's arrow.

He was definitely a partial Overlord.

"My Lord, you have misunderstood us! It's all a misunderstanding! Although the Vingeans are not a race whose mission is to save civilians, we are not heinous. My Lord, you must have misunderstood," the head of the Vingeans cried out a grievance without thinking.

Never mind if they had done it.

He would deny it first and then talk it out.

The other party was obviously disgusted with this kind of behavior.

"Really? Why have I heard that the Vingeans have been secretly capturing and selling Elven women all these years?

Moreover, you have obtained a lot of benefits and resources from this, which you use to develop and strengthen yourself.

After that, you come back to capture more Elven women. How can you explain that?"

David paused and added with a gloomy face.

"Think before you speak. Don't try to fool me. If I hear a single lie, you know the consequences!"

Upon hearing this, the head of the Vingeans felt his heart skip a beat, and his face instantly became ashen. There was no color on his face at all.

He thought to himself, 'It's over! He's on the Elves' side!

What should I do?’

The Vingeans had no power to fight such a powerful figure.

The head of the Vingeans was constantly thinking about how to resolve the crisis at hand.

However, after much thought, he still could not even find the slightest chance.

In the face of absolute strength, any conspiracy would pale in comparison.

“Sir, I admit that the Vingeans have been capturing Elven women and selling them to various underground auction houses in Leila to obtain huge profits,” the head of the Vingeans finally answered honestly. He did not dare to hide anything.

He feared that the other party would annihilate the Vingeans in a rage if he lied.

It would be a slight effort for him.

“Oh? Then how dare you say that you have not trafficked women? Are Elven women not women? Do you know that in my hometown, trafficking women is a serious crime punishable by death?” David said in a severe tone.

As a well-educated young man and a good member of society, he hated people who would do something like this the most.

For every woman and child trafficked, a family was torn apart.

There were too many such families on earth.

If they could live a good life after being sold, the sellers’ sins could be alleviated a little.

However, those Elven women sold would all be tortured and reduced to a shadow.

Finally, they would all die in reluctance and pain.

The Vingeans knew this would happen, but they still did it for their benefit, which was entirely against humanity.

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2745-David's words polarized the scene.

The Vingeans were tense, worried that the big shot who had suddenly appeared would kill them.

He said that trafficking in women was a serious crime punishable by death.

How many Elven women had the Vingeans secretly sold over the years?

The total number was hundreds of thousands. The Vingeans had greatly benefited from this, which was how they grew to their current scale.

It was not an exaggeration to say that the Elves were the Vingeans' cash cow.

That was why the head of the Vingeans did not want anything to happen to the Elves.

They all understood that they had to work steadily at something little by little.

Meanwhile, all the Elven women in the valley cried joyfully, including the thousands of Elven warriors unafraid of death.

They were overjoyed.

After all these years, a big shot was finally willing to seek justice for the Elves.

The Elves had been waiting for this day for too long.

Evie supported her mother and looked at David with a delighted smile.

She felt that she had fallen for him even more at this moment.

Isa also did not expect David to help the Elves in this way. However, this also confirmed that her vision was correct.

David was indeed a man of justice.

The head of the Vingean stood uneasily outside the entrance to the valley.

He knew he had to say something at this point. Otherwise, the Vingean would face total annihilation.

So, he gritted his teeth and spoke loudly, "My Lord, you have no idea. The Vingean and the Elves were locked in a generational feud for a long time. As enemies, we must find ways to weaken each other and strengthen ourselves. The five Overlords didn't even care about this feud, so I believe we haven't done anything wrong. You can only fault the Elves for being too feeble. If they possessed enough strength, they could annihilate us, and I would have no regrets."

David chuckled when he heard this.

"What? You want to use the five Leila rulers to pressure me?"

"My Lord, you've misunderstood. I didn't mean that! I just want to say that the rule set by the five Overlords is that there can't be any serious internal strife within Leila. The matter between our two small clans doesn't deserve the attention of a big shot like you."

The head of the Vingean did not dare to say more.

The five Leila rulers had declared that it was best for partial Overlords not to interfere in Leila's worldly affairs as that would destroy the balance too much since the partial Overlord's destructive power was too great.

If they were not careful, it would cause a lot of casualties.

However, the five Overlords always maintained an air of mystery, so controlling the partial Overlords below was difficult.

Just like the situation now.

The five Leila rulers would never know if this person took action to annihilate the Vingean.

Yet once he said that, he would infuriate the other party.

‘What if I want to interfere?’ David asked with a smile.

‘Then you are welcome to kill us or even destroy us, but someone will pass the news to the Overlords so they will uphold justice for us.’ The head of the Vingean had thrown caution to the wind.

Judging from the situation, it was obvious that the other party did not intend to spare the Vingean.

So, he decided to mention the Overlords to see if this person would have some scruples and not dare to go too far.

David wanted to laugh.

Even if he only had the strength of a partial Heavenly Overlord, there was only one true Heavenly Overlord among the five Leila rulers.

Even if the five Leila rulers attacked him simultaneously, David would not be afraid.

Moreover, he knew two of them.

Why would Elora take action against David?

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2746-Neither would Sylvio.

He also needed David’s help to deal with Lufian, who might go berserk anytime!

It was no exaggeration to say that David was currently Leila’s strongest.

The Vingeans tried to threaten him with the five Leila rulers, so naturally, David found it funny.

Seeing that David was silent, the head of the Vingeans thought his threat had worked.

In his opinion, this was a matter of course.

No creature in the entire Leila was not afraid of the five Leila rulers.

“You’re not qualified to threaten me with the five Leila rulers. I can tell you clearly that I, David Udell, will do something about the Vingeans’ abduction and trafficking of Elven women. Of course, if you don’t accept this, I can give you a chance to ask the five Leila rulers to come out. We’ll see if they will support you,” David said calmly.

The head of the Vingeans was immediately stunned.

Where would he find the five Leila rulers?

Even meeting a partial Overlord was challenging. Moreover, he was just a Deity, not even qualified to meet an Overlord.

“My Lord, what benefits did the Elves give you? How about we double it for you? No! Triple it! I just hope that you’ll spare the Vingeans,” the head of the Vingeans begged.

His threat failed!

So, he could only tempt David with benefits.

He was ready to meet David’s requests as best as he could.

“It seems you still haven’t understood what I mean. I’m not even afraid of the five Leila rulers, so what benefits can you use to tempt me?”

David’s words once again stunned everyone present.

He was not afraid of the five Leila rulers?

What did that mean?

Gradually, everyone looked at David wide-eyed as they figured out the crucial point.

Could it be that the young man was an Overlord?

Only an Overlord would dare say he was not afraid of the five Leila rulers.

Would anyone below Overlord Realm dare to say that?

Not even a partial Overlord dared to say that.

When did such a young Overlord appear in Leila?

“A-Are you an Overlord?” the head of the Vingeans asked, trembling.

David did not answer but said, “Since you have admitted the crime of abducting Elven women, today, I will punish you on behalf of God! You have committed many heinous crimes, and it is time to atone for your sins.”

“No! Pfft!”

David did not take action.

However, after the head of the Vingeans said that, all the Vingeans suffered severe injuries. They spat out a large mouthful of blood, mixed with their internal organs, and, clutching their chests, fell to their knees.

They could feel the power in their bodies disappearing rapidly.

In other words, David had annihilated the Vingeans outside the valley.

The head of the Vingeans knelt on the ground, realizing that David was an Overlord.

His body was crippled, but he could not even feel any hatred in his heart.

Since the other party was an Overlord, how could he hate him?

He could only blame the Will of Heaven. The Vingeans had done something that the Overlord disliked.

No one could help the Vingeans.

Could it be true that if one had done too many bad things, God would punish them?

Such thoughts rushed into the mind of the head of the Vingeans. Images of the Elven women who were tortured and ravaged all appeared in his mind