

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2766-She thought David might just be comforting her.

"It's useful! It's so useful! It may not be useful to other people, but for me, it's a rare treasure," David said excitedly.

Seeing David's excited expression, Isa finally felt relieved.

She was afraid that David would look down on the Elves' gifts.

After all, he was a powerful Overlord. What treasures had he not seen?

The only presentable things the Elves had were the inherited bow and the Water of Life.

David looked down on the Water of Life, but fortunately, the sacred sap was useful.

"I'm relieved as long as you like it, Master David." Isa breathed a sigh of relief.

"Miss Isa, thank you! From now on, the Elves will be my best friends. As long as I am here, I guarantee that no one will dare to invade your clan, not even the Overlords!" David said solemnly.

"Master David, we should be the ones thanking you! Not only did you help us avenge our greatest grudge, but you also helped the Elves to rise from having to please other forces. We, the Elves, will always remember this kindness."

"Gosh! Mother, David, you two should stop being polite with each other. Since we are all friends, shouldn't we help each other?" Evie could not help but interrupt.

"Haha! Evie is right! We are friends, so we should help each other. Let's stop being so polite." David laughed.

He was so happy.

His trip to the Elven Forest had completely solved his worries.

Heavenly Overlord Lu an, just wait to be tortured by my clones!

Even if Lu an could handle 81 clones, what about another 80?

After a clone vanishes, it will be replaced immediately by consuming another drop of blood essence.

As long as David's main form was there, countless clones would be waiting for Lu an.

He might even die from exhaustion.

With the divine tree sap, David no longer had to worry about running out of blood essence.

Isa laughed, too.

With David supporting them, the Elves' rise would be unstoppable.

One day, they might also become one of Leila's top forces.

Both parties got what they wanted. It was a win-win situation.

"Ms. Isa, since the Vingeans are your old enemies and have done so many outrageous things, I will give you another gift before I leave!"

After David finished speaking, the scene before them suddenly changed.

When Isa and Evie came to their senses, they were in a strange environment surrounded by thick fog.

"Master David, where is this?" Isa asked in confusion.

"We are above the Misty Forest, and below is the home of the Vingeans," David replied.

"What? We're above the Misty Forest?" Isa asked in shock.

One moment, they were in the Elven Forest, and in the blink of an eye, David had transported mother and daughter to the Misty Forest, the home of the Vingeans.

The strength of an Overlord was truly terrifying!

"Master David, what are we doing here?"

"Last time, I only abolished some of the Vingeans Elites. This time, I will eradicate all their powerhouses and disperse the thick fog shrouding the Misty Forest. In the future, you can monitor the Vingeans at any time. Whenever a powerhouse shows up, just kill them so they can atone for their actions."

Isa and Evie's eyes lit up together.

Without Vingeans powerhouses and thick fog in the Misty Forest, the Vingeans would be completely under the Elves' control.

"M-Master David, how can we accept this? W-We've troubled you too much!" Isa was so excited that she did not know what to do.

"It's no trouble! It's just a slight effort and won't take much time."
