I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2828-No matter how hard he tried, aside from his name, David could not remember anything about his past.

It was as if his body was doing this on purpose.

Somehow, David felt that as long as he waited patiently, he could remember his past very soon.

This confused him, and yet he could not do anything about it.

The next day, Cy came to David in secret while Peach was steaming the dried fish. Since he only had limited time, he went straight to the point. "David, I have to tell you something because we really have no choice." "Just go ahead, Old Master Cy," David replied.

"Ever since you fell into Lake Pescado, almost all of the fish in it have died. We have relied on Lake Pescado for generations to survive, but now that the fish are dead, we have lost our food source and had to find another way.

"We went to Village Pott a few days ago and wanted to use labor in exchange for pay to support the sick and elderly in Village Pescado, but after the younger chief of Village Pott saw Peach, he put forward a condition and demanded Peach to follow him. Peach is still young and wasn't willing, but for the sake of our village, she agreed.

"Peach is my granddaughter, and I don't want to force her to do anything she doesn't want, but I have no choice. If I don't agree, the entire Village Pescado will face famine or even death. The youngsters may be able to survive, but what about the elderly and the nursing child? So I implore you to save us, David."

Cy recounted all the difficulties encountered by Village Pescado.

He did that in the hope that David, a big shot, could help Village Pescado tide over the difficulties.

After all, David was the one who caused this.

If he had not fallen into Lake Pescado, he would not have caused such serious consequences.

David was silent after he heard that.

It was not that he did not want to help Village Pescado.

Since this started because of him, he should be the one solving it.

However, how could he help them now that he could not remember anything?

“I understand, Old Master Cy. I was the one who caused Village Pescado to be in this state, and I won’t shift the blame. Can you tell me what I can do to help?”

As long as it’s within my power, I will never say no,” David thought about it and answered.

Cy could not think of anything to say.

David’s question stumped him.

How should he help Village Pescado?

He should get enough food for the village to tide over this upcoming famine.

Then, he also needed to help Village Pescado find renewable resources.

For example, the fish in Lake Pescado used to be a renewable resource that could support generations of villagers.

“David, can you help our village find enough food to tide over the upcoming famine? We can talk about the survival problem in the future,” Cy asked tentatively.

“Old Master Cy, to be honest, I don’t remember anything except for my name, and I have no idea where I can go to find so much food,” David chuckled bitterly.

His mind was blank, and he had no idea where to find food.

Moreover, it needed to be enough for thousands of villagers.

Cy felt as if he was struck by lightning. He froze, not knowing what to do.

Initially, he thought David could help the village’s problem after he woke up.

That way, Peach would not have to force herself to be Jagger's maid.

Then, Village Pescado could go back to becoming a self-sufficient village.

In the end, this was the result.

Wasn't David a big shot who could fly?

Why couldn't he solve such a small problem?

Cy struggled to accept this and asked in a shaky voice, "D- Do you really have no way to help us?"

"I should after I recover my memories. However, there's nothing in my brain right now, and I have no idea what to do. I'm sorry to disappoint you." David shook his head with a bitter smile.

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2829-The two of them remained silent.

Not long after, Peach came back with the steamed dried fish.

The fishiness overwhelmed him.

He had no idea how the villagers in Village Pescado could stand such fishy food.

Moreover, this was what they ate generation after generation.

Perhaps they were already used to it.

"David, Grandpa, I've steamed the fish. Dig in," Peach said.

Then, she picked up one of the pieces and ate it.

Growing up eating fish since childhood, she would not be as fussy as David.

After she finished eating, she noticed they had not taken a bite.

The girl asked in confusion, "David, Grandpa, what's wrong? Eat up, or it'll get cold."

"Peach, you go ahead. I am not hungry," David said with a smile.

In fact, he also liked Peach.

Not only was she lively and cheerful, but she was also responsible.

She would rather sacrifice herself for the sake of the entire village.

David clenched his fists and could feel the limitless energy in his body.

He had already secretly made up his mind.

He would beat up anyone who dared to force Peach to do anything she did not like.

It did not matter if he were the village chief's son.

Although his mind power was still dormant, David still had his partial Heavenly Overlord strength.

If anyone angered him, he could shatter Planet Gorgon into pieces and make it completely disappear from the universe.

However, due to his amnesia, David did not realize how powerful he was.

He just vaguely felt that he was fearless, and nothing could frighten him.

David felt Jagger was just an ant.

This was what his subconscious was telling him.

At the same time, there were also the remaining memories left in his body.

Peach was already used to David not being hungry.

Since he could sleep more than half a year without eating, it would not matter if he skipped one meal.

She looked at Cy.

“What about you, Grandpa? Why are you not eating? Don't compare your body to David's. He'll be fine if he doesn't eat for more than half a year, but if you don't eat for three days, you will lose half of your life.”

As soon as Peach said that, David and Cy could not contain their laughter.

The tense atmosphere suddenly became relaxed.

“Okay, okay! I’ll have some. Hahaha!” Cy laughed. He picked up the fish and started eating.

He ate this food all his life.

He was not particularly fond of it, but he had no choice.

Since Village Pescado had an abundance of fish, that was what he ate.

There was a hint of helplessness and distress in the old man’s smile.

David saw this and was thinking of ways to help Village Pescado.

Since there were no fish in Lake Pescado, why not find another lake?

However, David did not know how to fish.

Plus, he fell from the sky, and yet, he could not remember how he did that.

Gosh, how troublesome.

David felt that he should find a place where no one was around and try falling from the sky again.

At this time, a voice sounded outside the house.

“Listen, villagers of Village Pescado, Master Jagger of Village Pott sent us.

Master Jagger has found a place for you to move to, and it’s not far from Village Pott. At the same time, he’s already arranged for you to fish. Now, you just need to move there. We promise you will not have to worry about food and drink in the future and can survive in peace.”

Upon hearing that, the villagers of Village Pescado walked out of their houses one by one and looked up at the sky. Then, they saw a few huge birds hovering in the sky.

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2830-There were humans standing on each bird, and the voice came from one of them.

Since they were seeing this for the first time, every villager in Village Pescado was very excited.

Of course, what excited them even more was what the other party said.

The village chief had already told them yesterday at the village meeting, but everyone still had some concerns.

Now, since the younger chief of Village Pott had sent someone to inform them, all of their doubts disappeared.

The village chief did not lie, and he indeed found them a way in Village Pott.

From now on, everyone no longer had to worry about going hungry.

Their lives may turn for the better.

They ate dried fish every day for half a year, so of course, they wanted to eat something else.

The home of village chief Cy.

David and the other two heard the voice from the sky.

Peach dropped the dried fish in her hand, and tears fell from her eyes.

Cy stood there motionlessly.

David stood up and said, "Let's go out and have a look!"

Don't worry, Peach, as long as I am here, I will not let anyone force you." After speaking domineeringly, he walked out without waiting for the two to react.

Peach and Cy came to their senses and quickly followed.

When the three of them came to the yard, they saw the huge birds hovering in the sky.

At this time, the man on the bird spoke again.

"Miss Peach, Master Jagger wants you to set off quickly and get to Village Pott as soon as possible. Otherwise, if something unexpected happens, there might be a change in the arrangement, which will affect your placement in Village Pescado.”

Jagger’s intentions were clear.

He hoped that Peach could arrive at Village Pott as soon as possible and become his plaything.

Jagger met Jade a few days ago.

Judging from that meeting, Jagger knew that there was still a long way to go before he could get Jade.

Since he could not use force, he would just focus on Peach and get her first.

When he thought about Peach’s petite and delicate figure, along with her innocent and adorable appearance, Jagger felt his body heating up.

That was why he sent someone to Village Pescado to urge them.

He did not hesitate to dispatch the Avian Troops specially trained by Village Pott.

If his father found out, he would surely be scolded.

Before Cy and Peach could say anything, other villagers in the distance shouted back, “Please don’t worry, we will set off immediately and will get to Village Pott as quickly as possible. Please report to Master Jagger that Village Pescado is eternally grateful to him!”

“Very good! Then we will go back now. I hope you will be a man of your word.

Otherwise, you will infuriate Master Jagger. I don’t think your village can afford to incur his wrath.”

“Yes, yes! We know! We know! Don’t worry, Sir, we will get to Village Pott as soon as possible.”

The people on the birds stopped talking.

After the birds circled over Village Pescado, they flew toward Village Pott.

Their mission had been completed, so there was no need to waste time in such a backward, small village.

Cy and Peach stood dumbly in the courtyard. They naturally understood why Jagger sent his people here.

He was definitely not trying to help Village Pescado. Instead, this kerfuffle was for Peach.

David looked at the birds in the sky and thought to himself, 'Since fish meat can be used as food, can the meat of this big bird be used as food too?'

'It should be possible for other animals as well.' Since he thought of that, he would execute it immediately.

David informed, "Old Master Cy, Peach, I'm going out for a bit."

Before he finished speaking, David's body disappeared into the courtyard and ran in the direction where the birds had left.

He wanted to know if the big birds would taste good.
