I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2836-Yet, this happened.

“You’re telling me that the famous Avian Troops from Village Pott just lost a Blackwing, and even the people riding it didn’t notice anything unusual. They lost it just like that?” Jade asked curiously.

“Yes, Miss!” Five replied.

“Interesting! How interesting! Very interesting indeed! It seems that my trip to Village Pott this time won’t be boring. If this person can steal a Blackwing quietly under the nose of the Avian Troops without being discovered, it proves he’s not weak.”

“Miss, I don’t know whether this person is an enemy or a friend. I also don’t know if there is an organization behind him and whether they will affect our plan,” Five said worriedly.

All he could think about now was the plan.

Once the plan was successful, Five would replace Ouro and become the village chief of Village Pott.

He would not need to rely on others anymore.

Even though Five’s status in Village Pott was second only to Ouro, there was a huge gap in power between him and Ouro.

For example, the famous Avian Troops would only listen to Ouro’s orders.

Even Jagger could mobilize a team by faking an order, but Five could not.

If he wanted to use the Avian Troops, he must get Ouro’s permission.

This was the gap.

“Don’t worry, since I’m here, no one can destroy it. Since you have surrendered to Hive City, we will definitely help you ascend to the position of village chief.”

“Thank you, Miss!” Five said excitedly.

He had been waiting for that day to come, even in his dreams.

“Okay, you should leave now. As soon as the people arranged by Father arrive, we will launch a plan to seize Village Pott. You should also get prepared and gather all the forces you can win over and try your best to preserve Village Pott’s strength.”

“Yes, Miss!”

Five left in excitement.

It would not be long before he could become the village chief, completely control Village Pott, and be the local tyrant.

Jade continued to sit leisurely and drink tea.

Her true identity was not just a performer. She was the daughter of the mayor of Hive City.

Hive City was a large city with a population of several million and was very powerful.

The forces on Planet Gorgon were spread across various cities and villages, ranging from small villages with just a few thousand residents, like Village Pescado, to vast cities with populations in the tens of millions.

The scale of Hive City was also at the upper-middle level.

Five surrendered to Hive City and wanted to use its power to overthrow Ouro so that he could be the village chief.

As the owner of Village Pott, Ouro naturally learned about some of Five’s unusual behavior, but he did not act on it. Instead, he secretly made preparations.

It could be said that both sides had evil intentions.

Ouro guessed that the person who stole Blackwing was Jade, who followed Five to Village Pott.

As the daughter of Hive City's mayor, she had been taught by famous teachers since she was a child. Moreover, she was also born with extraordinary talents.

Despite her young age, Jade was not weak at all.

Ten days later, led by Cy, Village Pescado finally arrived at Village Pott after travelling day and night.

At this time, someone blocked their way.

After learning that they were villagers from Village Pescado, the people who blocked them immediately passed the news to Jagger. At the same time, they also followed Jagger's instructions and took the people from Village Pescado to where they were going to be stationed.

After receiving the news, Jagger came to greet the villagers with his lackeys.

Of course, his main reason was to meet the beautiful girl Peach.

Not only did Village Pott lose a Blackwing because of this girl, but he was also scolded by his father. So, naturally, Jagger was pissed.

He could give up on other girls, but he must get Peach.

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2837-When he saw Jagger, Cy was the first to greet him, "Hello, Master Jagger!"

Thousands of villagers behind him immediately followed.

"Hello, Master Jagger!"

"Thank you, Master Jagger, for taking us in!"

"Thank you, Master Jagger, for taking us in!"

Jagger did not reply but only nodded.

He walked straight up to Cy and his granddaughter.

"Old Master Cy, I have arranged everything, and you will be stationed here from now on. Peach, come with me now!" Jagger said impatiently.

He looked at Peach with a hint of lust in his eyes.

Today, he was going to have fun with this beautiful girl.

Although she was not fully developed, her figure was beginning to take shape.

An under-ripe and a ripe fruit would taste different.

Peach secretly clenched her fists and looked at David.

David returned a reassuring smile.

After seeing David's smile, Peach instantly felt less nervous.

David gave her a strong sense of security.

Just when Cy wanted to speak, a sound interrupted him.

The sound came from far away.

Village Pescado was now relocated to a flat land on the west side of Village Pott. This was where Jagger arranged for them to station.

There were thousands of people, so Jagger could not let them all enter Village Pott and disrupt the order.

Jagger heard the sound too.

When he turned to look at Village Pott, he could only see fire.

Immediately, he was stunned.

What was going on?

Why was the village on fire?

Moreover, it was more than one spot.

Clearly, this was not an accident.

Someone was making trouble at Village Pott!

Did they want to die?

Before he could think much, Jagger yelled, “Go back to Village Pott with me! Now!”

He ran toward Village Pott.

The lackeys he brought along also ran behind him, leaving the confused villagers.

What was going on?

How did an accident happen the moment they arrived in Village Pott?

Cy was the first to come back to his senses. He turned to say to the villagers.

“Everyone, start setting up your tents. Master Jagger needs to take care of some important business.”

Thousands of people began to go about their own business.

They were cutting down trees from the nearby forest to make a simple living place.

This scene looked very chaotic because, after all, no one had any training.

Fortunately, no one stayed idle.

David mingled with the crowd and helped chop down trees, doing whatever he could.

He always felt apologetic toward Village Pescado.

If it had not been for him, Village Pescado would not have left their village and moved here.

With David’s strength, chopping down trees was really overkill.

With a casual wave of the ax in his hand, a row of trees fell.

He had already suppressed his energy.

In the end, he had no choice but to change locations after he finished chopping.

He was moving quickly through the forest like a shadow.

After a while, David had chopped the entire forest to the ground.

The villagers of Village Pescado looked at the fallen trees in confusion.

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2838-When did they become so efficient?

At this time, Cy shouted, "Stop standing around, everyone, take action quickly. It may rain soon, so we have to make sure there is a shelter at least. Otherwise, the elderly and children may get sick."

Upon hearing what Cy said, the villagers began work again.

Village Pescado had a population of thousands, but the real labor force was less than one thousand.

The rest were all the sick and elderly.

They could do some simple things, but when it came to building a house, they would need strong men.

However, with a young and energetic young man like David around, he could help save them a lot of time.

Soon, some simple wooden houses were erected.

The elderly and children went inside to rest first.

Now, they were just building some semi-finished houses for the time being.

After they were sure they would live here, they would continue fixing it.

The commotion in Village Pott continued.

There were also some screams from humans.

Cy stood on a hill, looking at the fire in the distance and frowning.

"Grandpa, what is happening to Village Pott? Why are there so many places on fire?" Peach asked.

"I don't know. Something big must have happened," Cy answered.

“Then, what do we do?”

“Let’s wait.”

“But we are almost running out of dried fish. If we can’t get food from Village Pott, we can’t continue to survive.”

“Old Master Cy, Peach, don’t worry! Just leave the food to me. Since the fish in Lake Pescado died because of me, I must help you find food.” Out of the blue, David showed up next to the two.

He was only responsible for helping chop down trees and would leave other tasks to the villagers of Village Pescado.

“David, can you find food?” Peach asked.

“Of course, I can. It’s a trivial matter. I forgot everything when I woke up, so I didn’t know what to do, but now that I’m slowly understanding some of my abilities, I can find food with no problem,” David said with confidence.

“But there are so many of us!”

“No problem! If it doesn’t work out, I’ll go to Village Pott and borrow some from the landowners who have a surplus.”

“Will they lend it to you?” Peach looked confused.

In her opinion, why would they lend him if they did not know him?

“They will.” David raised his fist and smiled.

There was nothing violence could not fix.

If not, they just add more violence.

Cy was more experienced, so he knew strength was very important in this world.

David was a big shot who could fly. Even if he asked the village chief of Village Pott to allocate a piece of fertile land to Village Pescado, the other party would have no choice but to agree, let alone borrow some food.

The three of them looked at Village Pott together.

“It seems that Village Pott is in danger,” David suddenly said.

“What do you mean?” Cy asked.

‘There are multiple fires, and there are also tragic screams. It is obvious that a fierce battle is taking place in Village Pott.’

David’s hearing and eyesight were much better than those of Cy and Peach, so he could observe this better.

“Who would dare to attack Village Pott? You must know that Village Pott is the largest force in this area.” Cy was puzzled.

“Maybe it’s not a force from this area,” David said.

“It won’t be the force around here to manage Village Pott even if they managed to dominate it, right?”

“What if there is collusion among the people within Village Pott? Who can say for sure.”

David’s words pointed out Village Pott’s dramatic changes instantly.

Five, an insider, was indeed colluding with an outside force to overthrow Ouro’s rule in one swoop.

“Peach, how about we go to Village Pott together?” David said.

“Huh? Now?” Peach asked in surprise.

‘Yeah! Let’s go now. Don’t be afraid. As long as I’m here, no one can hurt you!’

“Grandpa?” Peach looked at Cy.

Of course, she wanted to go, but she still had to ask her grandfather’s permission.

“Go ahead!” Cy smiled.

He was at ease since David was here.

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2839-With Cy's consent, David approached Peach and whispered something in her ear.

"Miss Peach, excuse me."

He put his arms around Peach's waist and held her.

The little girl did not resist, but her face turned red.

"Don't worry, Old Master Cy! I will protect Peach. We'll come back after we take a look."

"Go on!" Cy laughed.

David no longer hesitated. So, he hugged Peach and flew into the air toward Village Pott.

Even though it was his first time flying since coming to Planet Gorgon, his instincts were still there.

When he first woke up, David heard Peach crying, and she was saying she wanted him to take her flying.

Therefore, he would take this opportunity to fulfill the little girl's wish.

Cy looked at the two people flying in the air, his eyes full of excitement.

They were flying! They were really flying!

As expected, David was indeed a big shot who could fly.

Apart from being excited, Cy also had a hint of envy in his eyes.

Humans dreamed of soaring in the sky.

Unfortunately, there were very few people who could do this, and they would need to rely on external forces.

For example, the Avian Troops in Village Pott relied on domesticating birds to fly.

As he watched David flying into the sky with Peach, Cy also breathed a sigh of relief.

Just now, he was worried that if something happened to Village Pott, Village Pescado would also be affected.

Now, he did not need to worry at all.

Whatever happened to Village Pott, everything would be fine as long as David was here.

They may be able to move into Village Pott soon.

In the sky, Peach widened her eyes. As she realized that she was in the air, she asked, "D-David, are we flying?"

"Yeah! We're flying. Didn't you want me to take you flying? I'm fulfilling your wish now."

"You were already awake then!" Peach's face turned red once again. Even the nape of her neck was red.

Ever since coming back from Village Pott, she thought she would have to be Jagger's plaything. So, she went to the cellar and vented everything in her heart while lying on top of David.

Including how she felt for David.

If David were already awake then, he would have heard what she said.

Therefore, the little girl was extremely embarrassed.

"Um, I only heard that and not the others," David replied awkwardly.

Peach did not speak and continued to enjoy the breeze on her.

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2840-The air here seemed to be much fresher than on the ground, and she felt rejuvenated.

Of course, the main reason was that she was in David's arms.

Inside Village Pott, two groups of people were confronting each other.

Ouro headed one side, while the other was headed by Five.

The real rivalry between the two brothers began.

Whoever won would be the village chief of Village Pott.

At this time, the entire Village Pott was in chaos.

There was thick smoke everywhere, mixing with the countless sounds of smashing and screams of terror.

“Five, you traitor! I was so nice to you, but you colluded with outsiders to invade Village Pott. What are you trying to do?” Ouro pointed at Five and yelled.

“Ouro, you don’t have to pretend to be a good person here. Just because I am silent, it doesn’t mean I don’t know,” Five sneered.

“I’m pretending to be a good person? Let everyone in Village Pott be the judge!

How else should I treat you? Even though I am the village chief, you are the number two! What else do you want? Do you want my position? Five, if you are dissatisfied with anything, you can tell me, and we can discuss it, but since you’re colluding with outsiders, you are committing treason! You should be punished!” Ouro shouted angrily.

“Gosh, Ouro, on the surface, I am the second-in-command of Village Pott, but in fact, you’re the one with real power. Even your son can dispatch the Avian Troops, and I can’t. Is this how you’re kind to me? How ridiculous!”

“Is that why you colluded with outsiders and started chaos in Village Pott? Just so you can replace me and be the village chief?”

“Even so, Ouro, you know how you became the village chief. How are you comparable to me in terms of strength, talent, and contributions to the village?”

Father always thinks you’re inferior to me! Father wanted to make me the chief, but when I came back from outside, he died, and you became the chief instead!

Father has always been healthy, so how could he die so suddenly? So, my darling brother, do you dare say that you’re not behind this?”

“Y-You’re slandering me!” Ouro pointed at Five and yelled frantically.

'You should know if I am spewing nonsense! I experienced three ambushes on the way back. Do you want to tell me if you're also behind that? Today, not only I will take back what's mine, but I will also avenge Father. You killed our father for his position, so you should die a thousand deaths!'

"What nonsense! Five, this is just an excuse for you to collude with outsiders.

Since you don't care about Villager Pott, I will kill you today!"

"Oh? Did I get your sore spot? You want to kill me? Hehe, Ouro, now that things have escalated to this point, only one of us can leave alive today!"

"What sore spot? You made all of this up! Five, no matter what you say, you will not be able to hide the fact that you're colluding with outsiders, you traitor!

Today, I will eliminate you for the sake of Village Pott!" Ouro was fuming.

Even though what Five said was a little different from the truth, it was more or less what happened.

Their father did value Five more back then, and he was indeed inferior to his little brother.

However, how would a big brother like him accept this?

So, while Five went out on a mission, he played some dirty tricks to nail down this matter.

When Five returned, everything had been decided. Even if he sensed that something was not right, he was too weak and could not do anything about it.

Throughout the years, Ouro constantly tried to kill Five to get rid of future trouble once and for all.

However, Five was not weak, and he seemed to know that Ouro would take action against him. Therefore, he had always been cautious and would never go anywhere alone to allow Ouro a chance to kill him.

At the same time, Five also had huge resentment in his heart.

Everything Ouro had right now should belong to him.

In the end, it was taken away by Ouro with despicable means.

Today, the two brothers had a complete fallout and stated that only one of them could live.

So, a battle broke out between them.
