I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2870-With perseverance and willpower, he made it through.

He stayed awake the whole time and never passed out, even for one second.

While the system undoubtedly played a crucial role in David's achievements, his vigilant nature and indomitable endurance were equally significant factors in his success.

Had he failed to endure any of those breakthroughs and lost consciousness, the outcome might have been different.

The moment the pain in his body and soul disappeared, David felt as if his entire body had been endlessly sublimated.

He had no idea what kind of state he was in now.

His soul floated out of his body and quickly grew in size.

Then, his body kept getting smaller. Soon, David saw countless shining living planets and continents with all kinds of creatures living on them.

At the same time, his soul kept expanding.

The living planets and continents gradually turned into small points of light.

Then, the densely packed small light spots combined to form one large light spot, which then became a civilization.

Countless light points representing civilization form the vast universe.

David now had a panoramic view of these scenes.

Of course, what he saw was just the tip of the iceberg in the universe.

Soon, David discovered a light spot that was significantly larger than the surrounding civilization. According to his calculations and speculations, that should be Leila.

A level 9 civilization was naturally much larger than a level 7 or 8 civilization.

Therefore, it would emit brighter lights.

Not long after, level 9 civilization Leila disappeared among other civilizations and became inconspicuous.

David could see countless stars around him.

Each starlight represented a civilization inhabited by countless creatures.

The universe was too big, shockingly big.

At this time, the brightest luminous source appeared in David's eyes.

It was much brighter than a level 9 civilization, and it baffled him.

Could it be the legendary God Tier Civilization?

Perhaps only the God Tier Civilization was brighter than a level 9 civilization!

David focused all his attention on the brightest point of light and discovered through the endless distance that it was an extremely huge planet.

He was shocked once again.

What would a planet the size of a civilization mean?

Were there such big stars in the universe?

This was too much!

Just when David was about to take a closer look at this huge planet, a voice came into his mind.

"Huh? There's a new guy! He looks quite young. It's been so many epochs, and we finally have fresh meat! Boy, what's your name?"

David did not know if the voice was asking him, so he did not answer immediately.

Then, another voice appeared.

"Okay, don't scare our new friend. Boy, since you have become an Origin Realm Almighty, you are considered one of us. Drop everything and come to Planet Zwei as soon as possible. We'll be waiting for you, and when you get here, we'll tell you the story of this universe. After becoming an Almighty, you are also one of the guardians of this universe."

Only then did David confirm that the other party was talking to him.

He politely replied, "Hello! My name is David Lidell. Nice to meet you."

Although he had no clue who was speaking, he could tell from the tone of these two people that they must be Almighties.

David did not expect that after the system's ultimate evolution was completed, it would directly help him upgrade without needing him to spend money to obtain lavish points. This was beyond his expectations.

In fact, David did not want to become an Almighty so quickly, let alone go to Planet Zwei and get in touch with Origin Realm Almighties.

"David, you don't need to be so polite! Due to some reasons, it is very difficult for people in our universe to reach Origin Realm. Most are stuck in Peak Heavenly Overlord Rank, and a few as partial Almighties. Now that you've broken through this critical moment, you've given us new strength. Although it cannot change the ending, it is also a good beginning."
