I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2871-David was a little confused when he heard what the Almighty said, but at the same time, he also got several key pieces of information from it.

For example, Planet Zwei was a planet that was as big as a civilization.

Once someone broke through to Origin Realm, they would automatically become one of the guardians of this universe.

Furthermore, getting to Origin Realm and becoming an Almighty in this universe was difficult.

Despite becoming a new guardian after breaking through to Origin Realm, he still could not change the outcome.

After assimilating this information, David understood.

Although he did not know everything, he was not completely lost.

He would have to wait until he got to Planet Zwei and meet the two Origin Realm Almighties to find out the specific situation.

What was the story of the universe he was in?

David was a little excited.

However, he did not know if someone would discover his system. This was what David was most worried about.

“Sir, are you saying that it’s been a long time since someone broke through to Origin Realm?” David asked.

“Yes! It was better before, but since...”

The voice suddenly paused before continuing, “Let’s wait until you come to Planet Zwei. We will explain this to you in detail then. After every newcomer becomes an Almighty, they need to go to Planet Zwei to understand the history of our universe and know where we will focus our efforts next so they can contribute to the survival of our homeland.”

“I understand! Don’t worry, I will come over as soon as possible,” David replied.

“Okay, we’ll be waiting. By the way, we will gather everyone to get to know each other.”

David, sitting cross-legged in the void, opened his eyes. His soul had returned.

He knew what had just happened was not an illusion but the real thing.

He stood up and faced one direction, exactly where Planet Zwei was.

Initially, David did not want to come into contact with an Almighty of Origin Realm so soon, but now that he had been discovered, there was no other way.

The other party was in an organization composed entirely of Almighties, so he definitely could not hide.

So, he could only go back to Earth first and meet Celia and the others. After all, they had been apart for several years. After that, he would go to Planet Zwei. It was not far from Earth and would not take much time anyway.

There were many secrets behind what the two Almighties said, and David would be lying if he said he was not curious.

What secrets and stories were hidden in this universe?

Everything would become clear once he reached Planet Zwei.

After only staying for a few days on Earth, David bade farewell to Celia and others again before heading to Planet Zwei.

After becoming an Almighty at Origin Realm, he was more than a hundred times faster than a partial Almighty, which greatly shortened David’s journey.

Otherwise, with his previous speed, it would be unknown when he could reach Planet Zwei.

Planet Zwei was the center point of this universe and the origin of this universe.

As he got closer to Planet Zwei, David realized how big the planet was and how terrifying its gravity was.

One would not survive if one were not in Star Realm.

They would not even withstand the strong gravity, so how would they survive?

In other words, all creatures that could survive on Planet Zwei were at least in the Star Realm.

Even newborn babies were at Star Realm.

This was indeed the universe's origin; the starting point was already so amazing.

At this time, the Almighty's voice sounded again.

"Welcome to Planet Zwei, David!"

David followed the voice and saw a mountain peak suspended above Planet Zwei. The Almighty's voice was coming from there.

Planet Zwei was so big that the mountain peak was not even a speck of dust before it.

"Hello!" David said politely with his hands clasped in his fists.

"Come here! Everyone is waiting for you!"

"Right away!"

David stepped forward, and his body appeared above the mountain peak. At his feet was the peak and a dilapidated thatched house
