

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2875-The Almighty team of more than ten people continued to move forward.

During the process, only David looked around him while everyone else kept looking forward. It was obvious that they were all very familiar with this extraterritorial battlefield.

Not long after, David saw something strange on the ground in front of him.

From a distance, it looked like a fallen tree, except it was not straight and was curved in the middle.

When David took a closer look, he realized that they were the limbs of some huge creature.

‘Could it be...’ David wondered.

Before David could ask, Blaze explained, “David, did you see that leg?”

“Yeah.” David nodded.

“That’s what the Sky Demons left behind after they died!”

“Are they that big?” David asked in shock.

‘Yes, the Sky Demons are very large and are not much different from the galaxy beasts in the Metaverse. However, although the size difference between the two is not big, their strength is completely different. They are not on the same level at all! There are no galaxy beasts in Origin Realm, so any of the Sky Demons can easily destroy them.’

Of course, David knew about the galaxy beasts.

Next to the Milky Way was the Beast Galaxy, which galaxy beasts inhabited.

David even fought them once.

However, the galaxy beasts in the Beast Galaxy were all Eternals. So, compared with the Sky Demons that could only be hurt by Almighties, they were much weaker.

The only similarity between the two was their body shape.

As they went deeper into the extraterritorial battlefield, the number of the Sky Demons' broken limbs gradually increased, and David was no longer surprised.

It was only when he saw the complete corpse of a Sky Demon that David took a closer look.

These big guys looked horrifying. They were all ferocious-looking, and it was no exaggeration to say that they could give children nightmares.

The Sky Demons, like humans, were a race that stood upright and walked on two feet. They had scarlet wings made from flesh on their backs, similar to bat wings.

Their four meter-long fangs were exposed, two at the top and two at the bottom.

They looked terrifying.

After moving forward for a while, there were more corpses. Moreover, each one looked like a hell with a hideous appearance.

Ordinary people would faint from shock when seeing such a scene.

Fortunately, although David was not very old, he had to get a lot of blood on his hands to achieve what he is today.

He did not care about the corpses of some foreign races.

If possible, David would like to add more.

Soon, the terrain ahead began to change, and the flat landscape turned into high mountains.

Countless peaks were rising from the ground.

Blaze led everyone through the peaks and landed on a platform.

This was originally a huge mountain formed by flattening it from the top.

Therefore, it was very spacious.

There were many mountain peaks around, all smaller than the ones below.

After reaching the platform, Blaze took out something that looked like a conch, put it to his mouth, and blew on it.

The sound was melodious but not loud. Yet it spread throughout the entire extraterritorial battlefield.

After hearing the sound, some Origin Realm Almightyies came out one after another from the distant peaks and landed on the platform.

Soon, there were dozens of people there.

“Blaze, you are finally here. Did you bring what I asked for?”

The one who spoke was also an old man who looked older than Blaze.

With his wrinkled clothes and messy hair, he looked like an ordinary homeless old man.

Who would think that he was an Almighty in Origin Realm?

Moreover, his status and strength were not low.

“Don’t worry, Eros, I can forget everything but not your stuff.”

After saying this, Blaze threw a wine gourd to the other party. Then, the old man took it before opening it and taking a sip.AB
