

I'm A Quadrillionaire

Chapter 376

The time was certainly not short.

He wanted to tell them the truth today but they did not give him a chance to speak.

However, according to his impression in Mindy's mind, he suspected that she would not believe him anyway.

She had already decided in her heart that he was a pauper.

'Ugh!

"This is so hard!

David was thinking about how he could explain it to Celia's family and make them believe him when the phone in his pocket rang.

David picked it up and saw that it was an unfamiliar number.

"Hello." David pressed the answer button and said.

"Hello, Vulture Ten, I'm Spider Seven. Someone just accepted the mission to assassinate you that has a commission of 2 billion on the dark web. Please be vigilant during the next period."

"I got it, thank you."

"You're welcome."

After hanging up the phone, his eyes narrowed.

A commission of two billion, huh? Zachary was really determined to kill him.

With his current strength, he would kill all the assassins who sought him out.

However, he could not go to see Celia during this time, so as not to hurt the innocent.

For the next few days, David would spend half a day at Greenwood University every day before

The break gradually started at Greenwood University and many students were leaving with suitcases every day.

The reason why he wanted to go to Greenwood University was that Howard leaked his whereabouts to Zachary. If he did not come to Greenwood University, he was worried that the ask anyone for further information.

David wanted to lure the killer out as soon as possible in case something else happened.

After all, the ones who would accept this kind of mission would not be too weak.

However, he got nothing after five days straight.

On the sixth day, the moment David walked out of the entrance of Greenwood University, his strong mind power sensed two very strong auras in a car that was stopped not far away.

The two auras were similar to Blue Enchantress, and they were halfway to the Dragon Rank.

'Don't killers act alone?

'Why are there two of them this time?'

David ignored it and continued to drive to the suburbs.

Sure enough, the black car followed him from a distance the whole time.

Arriving at the old place, David started putting on his bait and fishing by a secluded river.

After he was done, he closed his eyes, sat on the spot, and exuded his mind power to the extreme.

Now that car had disappeared from David's sensing range, it was probably a little farther away.

An hour later.

David still could not sense the aura of the two killers, so it seemed that the two were still very cautious. After a while, it started getting dark, so David was ready to pack up and go back.

Suddenly, David sensed that the black car was slowly approaching him before it finally stopped behind his car which was about a few hundred meters away from him.

There were two men in the car.

One of them was tall and big while the other one was short and small. It was a strange combination.

The smaller man kept staring at David while the taller man was about to take out his weapon.

However, after the shorter man blinked, David was gone.

Oh no!

The shorter man was shocked.

Before he could say anything, someone was squatting on the hood of the car staring at the two. "You're here to kill me, right?" David asked.

Chapter 377

The two men looked at David outside the windshield in horror. Although there was a layer of glass between them, David's words could still clearly reach their ears.

Immediately afterward, David said, "Although two billion is a lot, you still need to live to be able to spend it, no?"

"B-Bro... We just passed by here and wanted to ask for directions," the shorter man stammered.

"Oh? Directions? What road are you looking for? If you are looking for the road to hell, I can not only tell you, but I can also take you there."

"You..."

Just as the two men were about to make a move, David penetrated the thick windshield with his hands, reached into the car, and grabbed the top of their heads.

After he exerted a little force, David shattered both of their skulls.

They could only open their eyes wide to look at David unwillingly.

They did not even know how they died.

'Didn't they say that the target is only in the Tiger Rank?

David jumped off the hood and called the team in Falcon that was in charge of the aftermath before calling Lucas to report this to him.

He just waited for the team to arrive.

Currently, inside Falcon's base, Lucas was stunned after answering David's call.

Based on the information he had been collecting over the days, as well as his own investigations in South River Province, Lucas was almost 99% sure that Silver Face was David.

Because this matter was too important, he decided to take care of this matter himself.

Lucas was sure that Silver Face was David because of one person.

Paul, the second deputy captain of the Red Flame Mercenaries.

Paul was from South River Province in Somerland. He went abroad more than ten years ago and had been living in Chaos Land.

However, he returned to South River Province in Somerland six months ago because his mother was seriously ill.

It was at this time that he met David before he started working for him.

After he stopped David from killing the Chasez brothers, Paul was sent by David to Chaos Land to form

Red Flame Mercenaries.

When David returned to the South River Province, he actually went to Chaos Land and then teamed up to attack Dark Cape.

Everything had fallen into place.

The only thing he could not figure out was David's strength.

At the age of 22, he had reached the realm of surpassing the peak of the Dragon Rank.

No one would believe it even if he told them.

Even he was now basically sure that David was Silver Face, he still did not dare to believe it.

From the photo sent back from Dark Cape, it could be seen that Silver Face leaped into the air without relying on anything.

Only those who surpassed the peak of the Dragon Rank and had taken that step could achieve this.

After determining that David was Silver Face, Lucas immediately wiped away all traces of Paul's time back in Somerland, as even his mother's file was altered by him. Now, it read that Paul's mother passed away ten years ago.

Furthermore, Paul never returned to Somerland after he went abroad.

This was very serious and he could not let word about this get out. Once the spies Falconia planted in Somerland learned about this, Falconia would definitely attack Dark Cape immediately.

However, what should he do about this?

He needed to report this to his superiors.

Lucas took out his phone and called an encrypted number.

"Luke!" An old man's voice could be heard from the phone.

"Captain, I have something important to discuss and I need to meet you," Lucas said.

"You know I'm not in good health recently."

"I know who Silver Face is."

"Stay there, I'll send someone to get you."

"Okay!"

Lucas hung up the phone and took a deep breath.

He was going to see the legendary old man. Right now, he was feeling excited.

Chapter 378

David did not wait long before Falcon's team in charge of the aftermath arrived in a helicopter.

After the handover, David drove away.

He did not know that his identity had been figured out by his Captain Lucas.

The next day, David was about to go to Celia's house to say goodbye when the phone rang.

"Celia," David answered the phone.

"David, my mom wants to speak to you."

As soon as Celia finished speaking, her mother Mindy's voice came through the phone.

"David, have you returned to South River Province?" Mindy asked on the phone.

"No, Mrs. Young, I'm still in Capital City," David replied.

"Then come over later and ask Celia to accompany you to buy two suits. Tomorrow you and Celia will accompany me to a party. This is a relatively high-end business party in Capital City. I will introduce you to some people, you will definitely deal with them when you stay in Capital City in the future"

"Mrs. Young, ..."

“David, my mom is gone,” Celia whispered into the phone.

“Okay, I’ll come over later,” David said helplessly.

“Okay!” Celia replied happily.

The two went together to the largest high-end shopping mall in Capital City. Basically, all the luxury goods sold here were huge international brands and the prices were naturally quite expensive.

“David, this one is good too.”

“David, this one is just right for you.”

David could only passively accept Celia’s arrangement. He wanted to tell her that this was enough and he could not wear so much, but watching Celia happily choosing clothes for him, he could not bear to dampen her passion.

Celia chose a lot of clothes for David, but every time David wanted to pay, Celia would be a step ahead of him.

It made the men in the mall look at David with envy, jealousy, and hatred.

His girlfriend was too beautiful and most importantly, she was rich.

Looking at the women beside them, they were all covered in heavy makeup and their women would only know to ask them to buy things for them.

David was sitting in a women’s clothing store with two big bags, waiting for Celia to choose clothes.

A man next to him nudged David with his elbow.

David turned his head and saw a young man who was dressed pretty effeminately.

He looked decent. Although he was not as handsome as David, he was not that bad.

“Hey, dude, how did you get her? Teach me,” the pretty boy asked, looking at Celia’s back.

David said innocently, “I have no idea. She’s the one who pursued me.”

“Damn, dude, stop lying. Nothing will happen to you if you teach me a few tricks. Do you think I’ll steal her away from you?” The pretty boy looked like he was in disbelief.

As the two were speaking, they heard a rough voice.

“Honey, come and see whether this is nice or not.”

“I’m coming, I’m coming,” the pretty boy replied quickly and ran over.

David turned his head to take a look.

‘Damn!

He almost vomited the food he ate the previous night.

The woman who was calling the pretty boy honey had a height of 150cm, a weight of 108kg, and an age of 50.

‘H-How... H-How is he able to... k-kiss her?’

David stared wide-eyed at the two of them that were completely different, his jaw on the floor.

If she did not call the pretty boy honey, David would think that with the woman’s age, she could be the pretty boy’s mother.

‘Honey? How can she call him that?’

When David thought how the guy who was talking to him just now would be ravaged by this fat and greasy body, a chill ran down his spine and he shuddered.

He quickly turned his head to look at Celia’s back

Now, he was feeling much better.

Chapter 379

David did not sit down for long before the pretty boy came back.

David looked at the pretty boy speechless for a long time. "What's wrong?" The pretty boy asked inexplicably when he noticed that David had been staring at him.

"Is she your wife?"

"She's not my wife, she's my girlfriend."

"I think she's older than your mother."

"She is older than my mother."

"So, you..."

one. I'm not as lucky as you," the pretty boy said as he sighed.

"You can also make a living by depending on yourself, why are you doing this?"

"It's so tiring though!"

"Are you not tired now?" David asked, looking at the fat body of the woman.

"Um... I am really tired now, but I earn a lot! I will serve her for a few more years, and when she can't do this anymore, she will give me a lot of money. Then, I can live the life I want."

David was speechless.

"Honey, Honey, come and help me see how this dress looks."

"I'm coming," the pretty boy got up and ran over again.

David glanced at the rich woman as she was trying on a mink coat.

The mink coat was wasted on such a bloated figure. 11

'Could this be the legendary sugar baby and sugar mommy?

'A sugar mommy? More like diabetes mommy!' (1)

Originally David was not so concerned about who was the one paying, but after talking to the pretty boy, he felt that he should pay for it himself.

He was the richest man in the world and now, people thought that he was a sugar baby.

Eventually, when Celia was about to swipe her card to pay, David stopped her.

"Celia, I'll pay for this," David said seriously.

"But... This is expensive," Celia whispered beside him.

"Don't worry, I have money now. If you want to buy this place, I can afford it too," David said proudly.

However, his words attracted contempt from the people around them.

Where were they? The largest and most high-end mall in Capital City!

Did he think he could buy this place just because he wanted to?

There should be a limit to bragging.

"Aren't you afraid that you'll sprain your tongue by bragging? This is the largest and most high-end shopping mall in Capital City. Do you know how much sales they make in a day? You are just a sugar baby who depends on a woman and you want to buy this place? Who do you think you are? The richest man in the world?"

David and Celia turned their heads and saw a bloated and short old woman walking toward them, followed by the pretty boy who had just chatted with David.

This fat and greasy woman had long been p*ssed with David and Celia.

The guy was handsome while the girl was pretty. Besides, they were still young, and not everyone could spend money here. Then, she looked back at herself.

Her eyes were full of envy, jealousy, and hatred toward Celia. She was miles away from Celia and the men around her were much worse than David. She had wanted to find a chance to roast them since a long time ago.

Celia snapped before David could say anything.

The woman could criticize anyone but not David.

She had known that David's ego was very large and ever since they were in high school, so she was very careful in this regard, for fear of hurting David's ego.

"Grandma, please pay attention to what you say. This is a high-end place, not a place for you to act like a shrew. And how do you know that we can't afford it?" Celia replied angrily.

David looked at the soft and vulnerable Celia in shock. She murdered that woman with her words!

Indeed, the old woman shrieked, "You idiot girl! Who are you calling grandma? I'll tear your mouth from your face!"

After she said that, her fat body charged forward.

David quickly ripped the paper tag from one of the clothes in the shopping bags and then threw it toward the ankle of the fat woman lightly.

Smack!

"Ouch!"

The fat woman fell on her face.

Chapter 380

The pretty boy beside her quickly stepped forward to help her up.

After she got up, a thick layer of powder remained on the ground.

David turned his head and asked the salesperson, "How much?"

"Sir, the total is 128 thousand," the salesperson replied politely.

David did not talk dilly-dally and directly pressed his finger on the fingerprint payment reader.

A mechanical voice sounded.

"Ding! You've successfully paid 128 thousand dollars."

"Celia, let's go."

David held the bag in one hand and Celia in the other, and under the envious eyes of many people, the two walked out of the store together.

As soon as they walked out, they heard a roar inside.

"You idiot girl, stand right there! You'll see how I teach you a lesson!"

"Madam, you haven't paid for your clothes yet."

"Pay my *ss! I don't want it anymore! What stupid store is this?"

"Then please take off the clothes."

David took Celia out of the mall and got into his G-Wagon.

The two came in one car when they went out today.

He was speeding on the road with Celia beside him.

"David, don't be mad. That woman must think that you are better than the man next to him so she deliberately triggered you," Celia comforted him in the car.

She thought that David's ego might be bruised because the woman called him a sugar baby.

"You silly girl, am I that petty?" David asked with a smile.

"It's good that you're not mad. Where are we going?" Celia asked happily.

She discovered that they were not on the way home.

"I'm taking you to a place."

David brought Celia all the way to a huge courtyard house. This was a place that David bought with two billion when he came to Capital City. It was said to be the residence of a prince in ancient times. This was also the most expensive property David bought in Capital City. It was not accurate to call it a courtyard house, this place should actually be called a manor. Not only was there a fake mountain here, but there was also a pond and courtyard. There were more than 20 main rooms and side rooms. The area it occupied was also huge, if not, it would not be worth 2 billion.

David wanted to tell Celia the truth but if he did not show her, it might be hard for her to believe him too.

After all, his pauper image had been seared into the hearts of her family members. If he wanted to change it, he had to show them his ability. This way, it would be more convincing. Thus, he decided to take her directly here.

'A residence worth 2 billion is convincing enough, right?'

David stopped the car in front of the door.

"Celia, wait for me."

Then, he looked for the key in the boot. He had tossed all of the keys to his houses in the boot. After he found it, he walked to the passenger seat to open the door.

"Celia, get out now."

"Oh, okay."

The two walked to the front door. There were two words above the door. Opulence Manor.

"David, where are we? Why did you take me here?" Celia asked.

"I'll explain to you after we go in."

David took out the key, opened the door, and the two of them walked in.

Chapter 381

As soon as the two entered Opulence Manor, Celia was mesmerized by the beautiful surroundings. It was like a paradise here. They were surrounded by green trees and a bridge above flowing water.

One would definitely feel comfortable and relaxed living in such a place. Celia did not know there was such a place in Capital City. She felt that the villa area where she lived was already the best possible environment.

However, this place was not on the same level as her home.

"David, where is this place?" Celia asked curiously, looking at David.

"I bought this place."

"You bought it?"

"Well, actually, I want to make it clear to you today. I am very rich now. When I bought this house, I spent 2 billion," David said seriously.

"Two... Two billion?"

Celia's eyes widened at David's words.

Although she had no worries about food and clothing since she was a child, and she had lived 21 years without worrying about money, the astronomical figure of 2 billion still shocked her.

"Yeah, two billion. Plus, I have a lot of real estate in Capital City. I haven't calculated the exact amount, but it adds up to at least tens of billions. In addition, I have a company that should be worth hundreds of billions."

"H-Hundreds of billions?"

Celia was too stunned to speak.

Although she felt that David had changed a lot during his trip to Capital City this time, as not only had his temperament become very outstanding, but he had also become more confident,

A net worth of hundreds of billions?

How much money did her mother Mindy have after working hard for two decades?

Perhaps not even 1% of what David had.

"Actually, I was going to tell you and your parents a few days ago, but Mrs. Young never gave me a chance, so I'll tell you first. Then, I'll tell your parents when I get a chance."

"I'm sorry, David." Celia came back to her senses and said apologetically.

She knew that her mother was domineering.

It had been that way since she was little.

Basically, she and her father, Jon, had to follow all of her mother's arrangements.

She was powerless to change this so she could only look at David with an apologetic gaze, hoping for his forgiveness.

David touched the top of Celia's head and said with a smile, "You dummy, you don't need to apologize. I know your mother is strict, but it's all for your own good, and to be honest, I'm very grateful to her. At least she still accepted a poor boy like me and didn't kick me out of the house."

"Thank you."

"Let's go, I'll show you around this house. In truth, it's my first time here since I bought it."

The two wandered around the Opulence Manor together.

"By the way, Celia, there is a high school reunion during this break. Did you see it in the group chat? Are you going?" David asked.

"I want to, but my mom won't let me," Celia answered in disappointment.

"Why don't I talk to your mother and then we'll go together?"

"Yeah, okay!"

Even though Celia was initially very shocked that David was suddenly so rich, she came to her senses very quickly.

After David saved her from the grim reaper back then, David was like a god in her heart.

No matter how great David was and no matter how excellent he was, she would feel that it was only right.

Therefore, she would not ask how David achieved all this.

Chapter 382

She only knew that the man in her heart was omnipotent.

After they were done shopping, they went home together.

On the way, the two were discussing how to convince Mindy that David was no longer a pauper.

However, if there was no physical proof, they predicted Mindy would not believe them even if they talked until their mouths bled. She might not even give them a chance to speak.

After thinking about it, David decided to wait for the party tomorrow and then tell Mindy.

Since he asked for it, the head of East League International in Capital City, Hugo, would also be there.

When the time came, he would call Hugo to back him up. Mindy should believe in him then.

David actually did not have much of an opinion toward Mindy.

Although she often would be very domineering and would not give David a chance to speak, she was nothing compared to his Uncle Bobby's family. 2

The years he lived at Uncle Bobby's house could be described as the darkest years in his life.

Since he was living like that in the past, he felt that Mindy was a typical person whose bark was worse than her bite. Although she was unforgiving with her words, she was actually quite considerate.

Before his identity was revealed, he was still a poor boy from a small county in front of Celia's family.

At the very least, he had never been discriminated against when he was eating at their house. They would often stuff him full of food too.

Moreover, Mindy wanted to cultivate him and hand over the business she had worked hard for many years to him and Celia. Therefore, she was definitely a qualified mother and mother-in-law.

Therefore, with David's current strength and identity, he could have exuded some of his strength to reveal his identity and scare Mindy when she looked down on him.

However, David did not do that.

However, it was never nice to be underestimated.

David was no exception to this.

What was more, he was looked down upon by his future mother-in-law.

Thus, he was going to set up a plan to let Mindy accidentally discover his identity at the party and then be shocked beyond recognition.

On the other hand, he needed to display a matter-of-factly and unshakable appearance when this happened.

Mindy always said that he was from a small county, so what kind of expression would she make when she found out David's identity?

David felt a little pleased when he thought about it.

After sending Celia home, David had dinner at Celia's house and then returned to the Starry Night Hotel

During the period, Mindy also asked them if they had bought their clothes.

She told them that they had to dress formally for tomorrow's party because the people attending were all well-known figures in the Capital City business world.

One had to be worth at least one billion to receive this invitation.

Mindy also had a net worth of several billion and had a reputation in the cosmetics field.

Recently, because of the Chases family, she became even more famous.

There were even rumors in the outside world saying that even the Chases family could not do anything to Beautylish.

There were apparently some powerful people behind Beautylish.

However, only the real ones from the upper class in Capital City knew that Beautylish was nothing to the Chases family.

They were like a fish on a chopping board, as anyone could take advantage of them.

In the end, Beautylish had faced enemies on all sides before the Chases family even said anything. If it was not for the shareholder who was loaded and sponsored hundreds of billions in funds, Beautylish would have been finished long ago.

However, Mindy would not be so stupid to explain how she got this fame.

The more people misunderstood this, the better.

In this way, Beautylish could develop further.

Chapter 383

The next day when David arrived at Celia's house in the afternoon, he found Celia and her mother already ready. Then, the three of them drove two cars to the venue of the party, Club Exclusive.

This was also one of the three major clubs of Capital City. The founder was a big shot in the business circle of Capital City, and was very well regarded.

In the Capital City business world, almost any big parties would be held at Club Exclusive.

David drove his Mercedes-Benz G-Wagon while Mindy drove her Porsche limited edition coupe, which was estimated to be worth at least tens of millions. Meanwhile, Celia was sitting in the passenger seat of the Porsche.

Celia wanted to sit in David's car, but Mindy stopped her and forced her into her car.

The group of three went to the Club Exclusive parking lot and parked their cars under the guidance of the security guard.

When David got there, he discovered that his Mercedes-Benz G-Wagon was the worst car, and sports cars costing tens of millions of dollars could be seen almost everywhere here. It was also not rare to see the ones worth more than tens of millions.

Looking at the security guard's contemptuous eyes, David did not care. After all, his status was evident. With his current status and identity, it would make him look cheap if he got mad over such a trivial matter.

However, Mindy was a little unhappy. She was a person who cared about image very much.

After getting out of the car, she grabbed Celia and walked in front. Celia could only turn her head to look at David helplessly, while David could only follow behind.

If he knew this would have happened, he would have shipped his Bugatti over to Capital City.

The three entered Club Exclusive one after the other.

While they were entering the hall, Mindy was still waiting for David. Since he did not have an invitation card, David could not enter by himself and had to go in with Mindy.

It had to be said that Mindy and her daughter were like a beautiful scene.

If Mindy could give birth to a beauty like Celia, she herself was not that bad either. Plus, she was a cosmetics seller, so she would pay more attention to skincare. Although she was in her forties, she still looked like she was in her thirties.

She looked like Celia's mother and also her sister when she standing alongside her daughter.

When they walked into the luxurious hall, many people were already gathering there. Most of them were middle-aged and they were bringing a young person along with them while they chatted with others who also consisted of the same combination. It was possible they were introducing their heir or family member to each other.

The main purpose of the business party was actually for people to get to know each other so that they could have better and closer cooperation.

While they were at it, they would bring their family or heir out to see the world. Many such parties were held every year.

Of course, this was also divided into circles.

There were many circles in the Capital City business community.

The most powerful was naturally the circle formed by the major families.

At this time, David and the others were participating in the most elite circle aside from the aristocratic family circle.

Not long after the three came in, someone greeted them.

"Ms. Graham, you are here! We have been waiting so long for you," said a middle-aged man.

Next to the middle-aged man were a middle-aged woman and a 26 or 27-year-old man.

They were Joshua and his family, who had previously been to Celia's house.

"Mr. Houston, hello!"

Mindy replied politely too.

"Hello, Mrs. Young. Celia, long time no see," Joshua said to the mother and daughter duo. After he said that, Joshua's eyes were sparkling as he looked at Celia.

However, Celia did not say anything.

When David entered the hall, he kept a two to three-step distance away from the mother and daughter duo. Thus, even when Joshua and his family noticed David, they did not think that he was with Mindy.

"Mindy, it's been so long since we saw each other. Come, let's go have a chat. Leave the children alone to hang out with each other," Joshua's mother said.

Chapter 384

She originally had a good relationship with Mindy, but during this time, Mindy's family was suppressed by the Chasez family.

Since the Houston family was far worse than a first-rate family like the Chasez family, they dare not offer any assistance in case they got implicated.

However, she heard rumors that Mindy's family had a huge supporter who had taken down the Chasez family. So, she naturally wanted to restore the previous relationship with Mindy. It would be even better if they could be in-laws.

"I'm sorry, I still have something to do, let's talk next time when we have a chance. David!"

Mindy declined Joshua's mother's invitation and called out to David.

"Mrs. Young," David stepped forward and answered.

"Let me introduce you, this is David, my daughter Celia's boyfriend and my future son-in law. We have other things to do, so I won't bother you anymore." After that, Mindy left with David and Celia, leaving Joshua and his family with unpleasant expressions on their faces.

This was especially true for Joshua. As he was looking at David's back, he went a little crazy with jealousy.

Mindy did it for a reason, of course.

When Mindy's family was beaten down by the Chasez family, she called Joshua's mother, but the other party rejected her without a second thought..

She did not even give Mindy a chance to speak. The moment she answered the phone, she told Mindy that the Houston family could not help her, so she should stop calling,

She was very decisive. Mindy did not want her to help much because she knew that the Houston family could do nothing to the Chasez family. She just wanted to ask the Houston family if they knew other families that were at odds with the Chasez family.

If Mindy could get into contact with them, she wanted to see whether she could sell Beautylish's shares to the other party at a low price. At that time, in her opinion, the only ones who would dare to buy Beautylish's shares to piss off the Chasez family would be the Chasez family's rivals.

However, the Houston family did not even give her a chance to speak.

Because of this, Mindy did not have a good impression of the Houston family now.

Now, her crisis was over and they wanted to come back to worm their way into a relationship with her. Plus, they even wanted to marry her daughter.

They must be dreaming!

Mindy brought David and Celia along to greet a lot of the partners in the hall. She would also introduce David and Celia, and it seemed that she was really planning to cultivate them so that they could take over.

Even though David was cooperating the entire way, he was also looking for Hugo the entire time.

In the end, Mindy brought him all over the hall, but he still did not see Hugo.

'Is Hugo not coming?

'Is he going to stand his boss up?

'Does he still want this job?

'Or are they not in the same party?'

David felt a little dejected.

He did not have any interest in continuing to get to know managers or chairmen alongside Mindy.

David was looking around when his eyes lit up.

He spotted someone he knew.

It was the Entertainment Empress Elsa Winters.

He even spent five million to buy a song from her at the charity event in Lake City.

She should still remember him, right?

He would go and talk to her and then let Mindy notice them. Then, she should ask him how he and Else met.

When that happened, he would be able to tell her.

Even though Hugo was not here, and the shock value would not be as good as he predicted, he had no choice.

Chapter 385

Entertainment Empress Elsa should have been invited to make the party better by the business tycoons who hosted the party.

This kind of top-level business party would usually invite some celebrities to liven up the party.

Plus, this party was the top party in the business circle of Capital City, so Elsa was not the only celebrity invited. Many A-list and even super-A-list stars in the entertainment industry were also invited.

Some lesser-known B-or C-list celebrities were dying to participate in this kind of party.

Since everyone attending the party were well-known figures in the business world, they would also find celebrities to endorse their products at this kind of party.

If you were lucky enough to be favored by these business leaders, you would get opportunities that you would otherwise miss even if you put in ten or twenty years of hard work.

While Mindy was chatting with an acquaintance, David quietly walked toward Elsa.

“Hello, Miss Winters,” David said as he approached Elsa.

Elsa was chatting with several acquaintances in the entertainment industry when a voice sounded in her ear suddenly.

She turned her head and saw a handsome young man smiling beside her.

“Mr. Lidell?” Elsa asked with uncertainty.

It was not that she was forgetful, it was just that she had not seen him for three months. David’s changes were a bit dramatic, so she was a little unsure.

“Thank God you didn’t forget me, Miss Winters,” David said with a smile.

He was also relieved.

If the other party forgot him, he might have been regarded as a fan again. “How could I forget you? Mr. Lidell’s song left a deep impression on me. I will forget anyone, but not you. I also want you to write a song for me, Mr. Lidell,” Elsa also said with a smile.

“That can be arranged.”

“It’s a deal then.”

“Elsa, who is this?” A man opposite Elsa asked.

David glanced at the man and saw that he was also a star. David recalled that this man seemed to have starred in a very popular television series.

‘What’s his name again?’

“Zoro, this is Mr. David Lidell, an old friend of mine,” Elsa said.

‘Zoro Chance?’

Yes, David remembered now. His name was indeed Zoro.

He seemed to be very popular among the youngsters.

He had been in a meet and greet event in River City and caused David’s school to give everyone breaks on that day. Since too many people took leave to see Zoro, the school decided to just close for that day. Back then, David was very grateful toward Zoro because of that extra holiday, since he could make more money in his part-time job. “David? Is he also in the entertainment industry? Why don’t I have an impression of him?” Zoro asked.

Obviously, he did not forget that Elsa had mentioned David’s song. So, he thought David was also in the entertainment industry.

“Zoro, you’re mistaken. Mr. Lidell is not in the entertainment industry. Instead, he’s a philanthropist.”

“Philanthropist? How so?”

“The last time in Lake City, Mr. Lidell not only spent 5 million to buy a song from me, he even spent 100 million to buy a song of his own to donate to the children in the impoverished mountain areas. Plus, Mr. Lidell wrote that song himself. It’s very good.”

He spent 100 million to buy his own song?

Right now, not only was Zoro looking at David in shock, even the rest of the celebrities also had astonished expressions. They were all in the entertainment industry so, of course, they would frequently attend this kind of charity event. Sometimes, they would also donate a song or a dance.

The money they got would then be invested into the foundation.

equivalent to directly donating 100 million.

David was definitely someone who did not lack money. He might be the child of some aristocratic family.
