I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 971

A spaceship was moving fast through the void near the center of the Milky Way.

Behind it were more than a dozen black – horned ships, and they were constantly attacking the spaceship. Although the black –horned ships temporarily could not break the spaceship's defense, it would not take long for the latter's defense to fail if this continued.

After all, black–horned ships were attack–type ships one tier below the Octagon.

Meanwhile , the spaceship was only a commercial – type ship. It focused on defense and did not have a strong attack.

It had no means of fighting back while faced with the siege of so many black–horned ships.

Its defense would be gradually breached if the black horned ships kept attacking it.

At this time, inside the spaceship, an exceptionally beautiful young woman was frowning as she looked at the dozen or so black–horned ships that were catching up to them not far away. Mia Concord was the dancing fairy among the four fairies in the Milky Way.

This time, she was initially invited by Burke, the head of Planet Boundless, to be a guest on Planet Boundless.

Burke from Planet Boundless recently broke through from Star Realm to Universe Realm. Since he had reached Cosmos Rank, he invited many friends to be guests on Planet Boundless.

Mia was also one of those invited.

She originally did not want to go because she lived far away from Planet Boundless. Due to this, she would need to pass through the edge of the Milky Way's core. However, Burke made an offer she could not refuse , so Mia decided to go.

However, she did not expect to meet space pirates halfway through her journey, resulting in her being hunted down till now. Space pirates were a group of bandits active outside the Milky Way's core.

They would rob any commercial spaceships passing by. Mia could not understand. She only passed the edge of the core of the Milky Way and did not come out of the core.

The outside of the Milky Way's core is huge, and there are very few space pirates here. 'However, why did I encounter these hateful space pirates?

'Did someone reveal my whereabouts? 'Did someone plot against me?'

Mia was lost in thought.

"Miss Mia, what should we do? If we continue like this, our defense will be broken in a day at most, and we will lose our protection. At that time, we will have no way of escaping," a middle-aged woman said anxiously beside Mia.

"Ms. Kane, what did the other party say?" Mia asked.

Her voice was gentle and melodious. While it sounded as clear as a bell, there was a hint of softness to it.

Anyone would feel pleasant hearing her voice.

"They said..." Ms. Kane hesitated.

"You can just tell me. I've heard all kinds of horrible things throughout these years."

"They said you should surrender obediently and be their leader's wife. Then, they will let you go after you serve the men for a hundred years."

"Really? Tell them I accept, but they must let you leave first."

"Miss Mia, no way! I will never leave without you. We will die together! Plus, you can't trust these space pirates at all. You mustn't promise them this!" Ms. Kane immediately refused.

"Ms. Kane, if they agree, you should leave first, as it'll be easier for me to escape by myself. Otherwise, we might not be able to leave if we all stay together in such a huge group," Mia said calmly.

She did not seem to be affected by such a big dilemma at all.

“Miss Mia, no one will have a good ending when dealing these space pirates. You can't go.”

“Ms. Kane, don't forget that I am also a beginner Stellar Ranker. If I am alone, I might get a chance to escape if I fight with all my life. Thus, you have to leave first.”

“But...”

Ms. Kane wanted to say something, but the communication device suddenly rang.

She turned it on and asked, “What's wrong?”

“Ms. Kane, there's an Octagon ahead of us.”

Mia's eyes suddenly lit up. The Octagon was a military weapon that was possessed only by major forces.

She might be saved now that she ran into it.

She also knew what awaited her once these space pirates caught her.

If possible, she certainly did not want to deal with these nasty guys either.

After Frida finished speaking, she said to Mia, “Miss Mia, there is an Octagon in front of us. Let's go and see if we can ask them for help.”

“Sure!”

The two went to the control room of the spaceship together.

When they were in the control room, they saw a huge Octagon slowly approaching them

Anyone able to possess military weapons like the Octagon would definitely be a prominent force in the Milky Way Empire.

“Send a request to contact the other party,” Mia said.

“Yes, Miss Mia!”

The spaceship sent a request to connect.

After a while...

“They accepted! They accepted!” There was a burst of excitement in the spaceship control room.

Their worst fear was that the Octagon would refuse their request.

If that happened, they would not even have a chance to ask for help.

Now that the Octagon had accepted, they would at least have some hope that the Octagon would agree to help them.

Even the tiniest bit of hope was beyond exciting when someone was at their most desperate.

They would have been captured sooner or later if they had not encountered the Octagon.

“What’s the matter?” A man’s voice sounded in the spaceship control room.

The source of this voice was David.

As soon as he accepted the request, he asked this question.

“Hello, I am Mia Concord, and we’ve run into space pirates while on our way to Planet Boundless. Please help us. I will never forget your grace if you do,” Mia said. When the people inside the Octagon’s control room heard Mia’s name, they gasped in excitement. “Mia Concord ? Dance Fairy Mia from the four fairies of the Milky Way?”

“We ran into the Dance Fairy? I want her autograph.”

“Me too! Me too!”

“I heard her autograph is at a sky-high price now.”

However, David did not know Mia Concord or the Dance Fairy.

“Miss Concord , right? I’m sorry, I don’t know you, so I am not obligated to help you,” David rejected. Inside the control room of the spaceship.

David's words were like a bucket of cold water, putting out everyone's excitement.

Mia also frowned.

'Who among the Milky Way's core doesn't know me?

'Who doesn't know the four fairies?

'It's fine if he doesn't want to help, but why did he say he doesn't know me? 'It's either this person is an aborigine, or he just doesn't want to help me. 'But how would an aborigine have an Octagon?' Therefore, Mia felt that this person simply did not want to help her.

She had nothing to say anymore since this person was so heartless.

After all, he did not have an obligation to help her.

However, Mia still wanted to try again since this was not only related to her life. This would also affect the life and death of the dozens of people on the spaceship.

Furthermore, these people had been with her for a long time.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 973

Only Dancing Fairy Mia lacked a strong background among the four fairies in the Milky Way.

She was born into a small family.

However, she got a position among the four fairies by relying on her ability, moving one step at a time.

She was also loved and worshiped by countless people in the galaxy.

Although she was only ranked the last among the four fairies, it was still something ordinary people could never achieve.

One must know that the other three fairies were from prominent forces and had very powerful backgrounds.

In particular, Astrid Barlowe, the head of the four fairies, was the princess of the Milky Way Empire.

Countless people from great forces had to address her as Her Royal Highness.

She had a high status, and people looked up to her.

Although the status of the other two was not comparable to Astrid, they definitely had a status than much higher Mia's.

At the very least, they would never take a commercial spaceship when traveling.

They were even less likely to be stopped by space pirates.

It was precisely because Mia did not have a powerful background that she would always have many people eying her.

She was powerless to refuse the invitations from prominent forces.

Otherwise, the family behind her would likely be implicated.

The reason why she went to Planet Boundless this time was that she was invited and also threatened by Burke.

A head of a planet whose combat power had broken through to beginner Cosmos Rank would also be an important figure in the Milky Way.

Moreover, the forces behind Burke were even more terrifying, and he could easily get rid of the Concord family by offering any random excuse.

However, although many big people were eying Mia, there had never been any news of someone successfully dominating her.

This was also the reason why she was liked by countless young people. The space pirates' black-horned ships were still constantly attacking Mia's spaceship.

They seemed to know Mia's whereabouts this time.

Thus, they blocked her path to drive her out of the Milky Way's core.

It was their world out there since space pirates could not enter the core easily.

Once the Milky Way Empire's officials found out about them, they would be immediately destroyed.

If this were any of the other three fairies, the space pirates would not dare to do such a thing. Although they were a group of desperadoes, they were not fools. Once they provoked the prominent forces, they would be in deep trouble.

Inside the spaceship's control room.

"What do you need for you to save us? As long as it's within my power, I will definitely not refuse," Mia asked.

She felt that it was very likely that the other party wanted to talk to her about conditions.

After all, too many men were eying her in this galaxy.

The direct descendants of many major powers, and even the heads of families, had expressed themselves to her secretly and openly. However, Mia would muddle through them using various excuses.

Those people were all reputable and dignified.

Moreover, Mia was also famous. Therefore, they would also not use force against Mia.

People of great power would need to maintain their dignity.

However, Mia obviously could not refuse in this situation. If she were given a choice, of course, she would not want to fall into the hands of the space pirates.

This would ruin her life.

Therefore, she would rather agree to David's request as she would at least still be able to rely on a powerful force that possessed this Octagon.

It was just that she did not expect David not to have any interest in her at all, and he simply did not want to help her.

The operators in the Octagon's control room went crazy.

Mia actually said that.

If they saved Mia, Master David might even make her his maid.

How impressive would this be if word got out?

Mia was one of the four fairies in the Milky Way!

Countless big shots wanted her in their arms, but none of them could do so.

Meanwhile, they had this opportunity right now.

It would be easy for the Octagon to rescue Mia from the pursuit of more than a dozen black-horned ships.

After all, the Octagon was one level higher than the black horned ship.

The black-horned ship's attacks would not hurt the Octagon at all.

On the contrary, the Octagon's attack could destroy a black-horned ship in one hit.

It was a pity that Master David had no idea how famous the Dance Fairy was nor had any idea how many people were obsessed with her.

"Who's chasing you?" David asked.

David was a newcomer and did not know anything about outer space, so he did not want to get involved in the war between the two forces.

The Tuffin family was enough to give him a headache.

If he provoked another prominent force, wouldn't he be making trouble for himself?

"Sir, these people are all space pirates outside the Milky Way's core. I was invited by Burke, the head of Planet Boundless, to go to Planet Boundless to celebrate his breakthrough to Universe Realm. However, I didn't expect to meet these space pirates halfway through my journey. Our defense won't be able to handle any more attacks. Please help us, Sir. I will be eternally grateful," Mia replied respectfully.

'Space pirates?

'Celebrating the breakthrough of the head of Planet Boundless Burke to Universe Realm?

'Does that even require a celebration?

'It seems that the people of the Stella Civilization Galaxy are no different from ordinary people on earth.

"They all like having fun.'

David thought silently.

He did not know who Burke was, but he knew a little about space pirates from the Internet.

These people were tantamount to criminals who were constantly challenging the law.

They specialized in arson, murder, and looting.

If caught by them, the victims would definitely lose their money and life.

'So, should I save them or not?'

According to David's character, his heart leaned more toward saving them.

However, he was currently shouldering a huge responsibility, so it would be unwise to waste his time here.

When David was about to refuse, he heard another voice.

"Miss Mia Concord, just be a good girl and surrender. We'll let you go as long as you serve my men and me for a hundred years. If not, no one will save you today. Also, I forgot to tell you that there are 1384 of us here. Haha!"

Then, another voice said, "I don't care who you are. I should advise you to stop being nose. There are some things that you can't afford to interfere with. Beware of causing trouble for the forces backing you."

The latter message was clearly directed at David.

"How did they contact us?" David asked the commander of the Octagon.

"Master David, we didn't accept the message. They forcefully hacked into us," the commander replied.

"You can't imagine the extent of our strength. Just leave obediently. If not, the Octagon can't even protect you."

“Kick them out,” David said to the commander.

“Yes, Master David!”

Soon, the commander said, “Master David, I can’t. They should be using some special tactics.”

“Stop wasting your efforts. Since we can hack into your system, how can you kick us out?” If you’re smart, kid, you should leave now. If not, we’ll also take action against you. Don’t think we can’t do anything to you because you have the Octagon’s protection.”

“Since when did irrelevant buffoons like the space pirates dare to be so arrogant in front of me? Open the hatch of the ship and let Mia in. After that, prepare the laser cannons and show them that there are certain things they shouldn’t say,” David said casually. If the space pirates did not say things like that, he might not have saved Mia.

After all, he had a lot of things to do, and he did not want to waste his time here.

However, since they said this, wouldn’t he look weak if he did not respond to them?

After all, he was a peak Cosmos Ranker.
