Chapter 1191: Sea emperor: Lifting up the hostage princess (Part 2)

This story really made people feel sorry for the male lead.

Because the male lead had been indirectly killed by the previous host.....Although it was indirect, the previous host was 99% responsible.

The previous host was the youngest daughter of Long Peace City's sixth king. Not only was she spoiled by her parents, even her big brother had pampered her.

The servants all took care of the special needs of the little princess and the chefs all made special meals according to her tastes.

She had a very sensitive taste, just a single bite told her what seasonings there were and how much heat there was.

The chefs in the palace kept changing and finally there was someone who could satisfy her taste buds.

That person was the supporting male lead, Lin Ruo Jing.

He seemed a bit weak, but he was someone with a strong sense towards cooking.

Over time, the previous host went from liking his dishes to liking him.

The sixth king didn't actually like Lin Ruo Jing because he was a commoner. His mother had died from illness and his father was a thief.

He once thought to pass the imperial exam, but even if he went to class for free, he didn't have the talent for studying.

In the end he gave up and went to work as an apprentice for the chef of the Happy Red House, but that was where he found his strength for cooking.

Over time, he became a very outstanding cook of Long Peace City.

But his identity as a chef was still lowly in front of the precious little princess of the sixth king.

But even so, he couldn't stop the previous host's love for him.

She even wanted to recruit him to the palace and marry him.

The sixth king was naturally not happy, but if his daughter liked him and this Lin Ruo Jing was a bit capable, it wasn't a problem for him to arrange a position for him in court.

The previous host accidentally mentioned this matter to Lin Ruo Jing and he immediately agreed.

But Lin Ruo Jing already had a wife and his wife was the supporting female lead of this story, Liang Ji.

Liang Ji was a singer in the Happy Red House. When he was still a cook there, he had fallen in love with Liang Ji.

The two loved each other and secretly bowed to the heavens and earth.

Of course, the previous host didn't know about this.

The story developed smoothly. The sixth king in order to make Lin Ruo Jing a match for his daughter, with his identity as a king, had him enter the court as a third grade official.

Although this kind of official couldn't match his daughter, at least it was better than a chef.

On the eve of their wedding, Lin Ruo Jing told her that he wanted to take her to see the sea.

The previous host naturally knew that Lin Ruo Jing liked to take a trip to the sea just to get her the freshest seafood.

The previous host was very moved by this and couldn't wait to go to the sea with him.

But the previous host didn't know that this was a trap.

They went to the Blood Blue Sea where pirates ran rampant.

His father used to be a pirate, so naturally he knew that his uncle Liu was still there.

The pirates captured the previous host and told Lin Ruo Jing that he had three days to bring three thousand taels of gold to Blood Blue Island to exchange for the previous host.

As the previous daughter of the sixth king and thinking that she was the most important girl in Lin Ruo Jing's heart, the previous host was certain that Lin Ruo Jing would bring back the money.

It was a pity that Lin Ruo Jing never came back.

Chapter 1192: Sea emperor: Lifting up the hostage princess (Part 3)

On Blood Blue Island, the previous host was tied up as she was brought in front of the male lead Chu Xi Mo.

He was stunned when he first saw her, as the wine glass being lifted in his right hand paused.

After a while, he slowly said, "Untie her."

The previous host felt the male lead was familiar, but she couldn't remember him.

Until she ate something that the male lead cooked that she remembered him.

The male lead's dishes were the best that she had ever eaten, it was even better than Lin Ruo Jing's.

They had met three years ago, when the previous host was a proud little princess (Although she still was).

The male lead was already a pirate on the sea. He had been seriously injured because of a leak in information and had been trapped in Long Peace City.

The soldiers all searched the streets and he had nowhere to run. He hid inside a restaurant and acted as a cook.

At that time, the previous host was living in that inn. She was angry with the sixth king, so she stayed for a night.

It was that dinner that she had her servant bring the male lead to her room, sending away the soldiers.

Chu Xi Mo said to the previous host when he was leaving, "I owe you a life, I'll pay it back in the future."

The previous host had replied with a smile, "If I have the chance to eat your food, that will be enough!"

On Blood Blue Island, he had arranged a room next to him. The bedding in the room was clean and everything was new.

Of course, he had made a table of dishes for her. Everything was the freshest sea delicacy.

The maid who brought the dish to her looked at her with envy as she said, "The emperor never goes into the kitchen, this is my first time seeing this."

The previous host learned afterwards that the male lead was someone that specialized in robbing officials, the entire sea was his world.

Because of his appearance, all the large and small pirates had to bow their heads or feed the fishes.

Therefore he had been called sea emperor by many people.

Because only a small part of the ransom he received went to feeding his brows, the rest went to victimized citizens or poor people.

Every time they sent food, they left the word emperor. This 'emperor' word was like a god like existence in their eyes.

As for the previous host, she didn't like him at all. Three days later, Lin Ruo Jing didn't come. The male lead sent her back to Long Peace City and had given her a firework.

On it was the the word 'emperor'.

Chu Xi Mo had said to her, "As long as you are in danger or need my help, shot this firework. As long as I'm alive, I will come save you."

Lin Ruo Jing's plan had been ruined and he was chased out of the sixth king's palace. He didn't even have time to take the official post before he was kicked out.

He secretly stole the firework from the previous host and led the soldiers to create a trap to kill the pirates.

That night, there was a firework in the sky. She dashed in the direction of the firework, but all she saw were corpses all over the ground.

She suddenly remembered what he had said: I owe you a life, I will pay it back in the future.

The previous host wanted to take revenge for Chu Xi Mo, but she couldn't find Lin Ruo Jing. It was like he had disappeared, which included Liang Ji, the singer from the Happy Red House.

Only after did the previous host learn that he had replaced Chu Xi Mo with uncle Liu, becoming the ruler of the sea.

And they didn't rob the rich to help the poor, they left nothing but evil.

The previous host personally set out to kill them. When she saw Lin Ruo Jing, she lit up all the explosives on the boat.

And died together with him.

Chapter 1193: Sea emperor: Lifting up the hostage princess (Part 4)

[Has the host finished sorting everything?]

Sort what? This complicated relationship, of course I need more time to digest!

She had just stepped onto the dock and hadn't returned yet.

Chu Xi Mo had given her a man's outfit when he had sent her back.

Along the way, the people of the Long Peace City were whispering about her.

"The little princess really is pitiful, she was actually kidnapped on the eve of her wedding."

"Right! I've heard that her fiancé hasn't closed his eyes for several days to save her."

"Truly pitiful! There's no good men these days.....They could live a happy life, but now it seems like they can only arrange a funeral."

"I say, keep your voice down. If someone from the king's palace hears you, you might not be able to keep your life."

"....."

Luo Qing Chen narrowed her eyes when she heard this. She remembered when the previous host returned to the palace.

There was white silk hung all over and the house was filled with grief.

There was a crystal coffin in the hall and there was the conversation between the sixth king and Lin Ruo Jing.

"My Qing'er, my Qing'er!" Lin Ruo Jing kneeled on the ground as he kept crying out, his voice sounded very hoarse.

He cried out that he would take revenge. When the sixth king saw how he treated his daughter well, his attitude towards him had changed.

"Qing'er treated him well, even if she is on the path of the silver springs, she also.....she also....." After saying this, the sixth king couldn't say anymore.

The old tears came down his face and his voice choked up.

In the memories, the previous host walked in then. She looked at Lin Ruo Jing in disbelief who also looked at him in a panic.

Suddenly having his 'mask' ripped off made him look very ugly.

But this time, she was hesitating a bit on whether to return or not.

After all, dealing with someone like Lin Ruo Jing, it was hard to get rid of his hatred without making him fall into pieces.

She put the firework into her chest and headed off towards the Happy Red House, while opening up the system's shop.

She exchanged for a Moon Glass Fan.

[Ding, 5000 exchange points has been taken. Successfully exchanged for a Moon Glass Fan.]

[The Moon Glass Fan's description wrote: The Moon Glass Fan is covered in a moon white glow and is cool to the touch. It has a light mint scent and is mainly used for long range attacks. (It can only be used as decoration in a world without powers!)]

Luo Qing Chen was filled with contempt for the system, but she still had a faint smile and looked very handsome as she opened the fan.

There was a faint mint scent in the air that made people feel refreshed.

After all, she wanted to go to the Happy Red House and the scent there really needed.....

Right, your guess was correct.

She wanted to find Liang Ji.

"Ai, this customer is so handsome! Please, come in, come in." The old lady at the door called out to her.

She had a red and green dress with a large red handkerchief in her hand, as well as a strong perfume scent coming from her.

Luo Qing Chen pursed her lips, "I'm here to find miss Liang Ji."

"Aiya, this master really has good eyes! Liang Ji is our top star! Not only is she beautiful, she is very skilled at the zither." The old lady began praising her girl with a wide smile.

Luo Qing Chen gave her the tael of silver that Chu Xi Mo had given her, "Bring me to see miss Liang."

"Alright."

Chapter 1194: Sea emperor: Lifting up the hostage princess (Part 5)

The moment she came in, there was the strong scent of perfume that hit her nose.

Luo Qing Chen used the time the old woman took to find Liang Ji to write a few words. She had the errand boy of the Happy Red House bring this message to her father at the king's palace.

— I'm fine, don't worry. Lin Ruo Jing isn't good, don't expose him for now.

After all, she didn't want to make her parents worry.

She came looking for Liang Ji to see the number one card of the Happy Red House, seeing what the girl who had taken the heart of the scum man really looked like.

Liang Ji came a bit slow.

“Kou, kou, kou.” There was a knock on the door before a delicate voice sounded, “Young master Luo, I am Liang Ji.”

Her voice was very delicate like hearing the clouds themselves, there wouldn’t be any man who could stop their hearts from trembling.

Lin Ruo Jing should have been mesmerized by Liang Ji like this before!

“Come in.” Luo Qing Chen waved the Moon Glass Fan in her hand and revealed a faint smile.

When Liang Ji came in, she was still surprised since she was still indeed considered a beauty.

She was wearing a lotus green dress with hundreds of golden trimmings, with a pair of creamy satin shoes that were embroidered with beads.

There was a hollow crystal bead hairpin inserted in her hair, which looked lovely with her smile.

There was a mole under her eye that made her seem more pitiful.

But to be honest, it wasn’t self boasting!

She felt that she looked better than Liang Ji, at least her eyes were cleaner than hers.

Liang Ji slowly gave her a delicate greeting, “Does young master want to listen to Liang Ji’s music or talk with Liang Ji?”

She looked at the purse on the table which had a trace of gold in it, there should have been several gold taels inside.

As the trump card of the Happy Red House, she naturally knew through these small signs that this person in front of her was very rich.

Then she had to properly grasp him.

Luo Qing Chen swayed the cup of wine in her hand and looked at her as she said, “Drink with me?”

“Young master Luo is so bad, you’re teasing Liang Ji!” Her delicate voice rang in her ear and she couldn’t help feeling disgusted.

It wasn’t that she despised girls who worked in brothels, she just looked down on Liang Ji.

As expected, similar people gathered and they were split in groups.

“I don’t have much when I go out.” Luo Qing Chen raised her right hand and weighed the gold in her hand, “If you make me feel good tonight, all this gold is yours!”

Chu Xi Mo who was watching the stars from the seas not far away gave a sneeze.

The subordinate beside him said, “Emperor, please don’t get a cold.”

Chu Xi Mo narrowed his eyes and slightly knit his brows, "There should be someone talking about me.....Or doing something that is wronging me!"

To be honest, Luo Qing Chen was indeed doing something that was wrong to him.

She spent all the gold he gave her on an enemy.

Of course, Liang Ji was good at drinking, but she wasn't as good as Luo Qing Chen.

She got her drunk and took away the token that Lin Ruo Jing had given her.

With this, it would be more satisfying to take an eye for an eye, right?

Early next morning, Luo Qing Chen was waiting at the gate of the king's palace for Lin Ruo Jing.

He was wearing a white robe with tears at his eyes, but it was hard to mask the smile on his lips.

Luo Qing Chen had arranged someone to give him a letter, as well as giving him the token.

The letter said: The Ten Thousand Spring House in the city's east, I'll be waiting for you there. I won't leave if you don't come.

Chapter 1195: Sea emperor: Lifting up the hostage princess (Part 6)

Luo Qing Chen had arranged a trap at the Ten Thousand Spring House.

When Lin Ruo Jing arrived, there were many regular customers of Liang Ji, as well as some officials that Lin Ruo Jing had gotten close to recently.

After all, he wanted to rise as an official.

Other than having the Luo Family, he wanted to gain enough power.

Luo Qing Chen had used a hundred taels of gold to invite Liang Ji. She used the name Chu Jun Ting to invite the guests, getting her to come play the zither to entertain the guests.

Chu Jun Ting was a very good friend of the previous host. When she learned that Luo Qing Chen had come back, she was like a phoenix reborn!

It wasn't exaggerated!

Liang Ji was wearing a fine brocaded red dress, sitting on the high stage, Her fingers strummed the pipa and each word from her made people's hearts tremble.

But Luo Qing Chen could clearly tell that her expression was a bit awkward.

Luo Qing Chen was wearing a feather blue robe and was gently waving the Moon Glass Fan in her hand, with a faint smile in her eyes.

Actually, the previous host's later memories learned a secret of Liang Ji's that couldn't be told.

For example: The people she 'married' or rather the people she 'promised her life to' was not just Lin Ruo Jing.

Other than him, there were two others.

One was Zheng Kuan, the son of a high ranking official and the other was Xu Wei, the son of a great general.

The identity of these two were definitely several levels higher than Lin Ruo Jing.

But Lin Ruo Jing looked better than them.

No, it should be that much better than them.

After all, Zheng Kuan had crossed eyes and Xu Wei was covered in scars.

Liang Ji knew very well that these three didn't have the time to meet each other. Zheng Kuan was busy during the week and only had free time at the end of the month.

Xu Wei happened to be busy at the end of the month, being more free during the middle of the month.

Then Liang Ji used working at the Happy Red House as an excuse to tell Lin Ruo Jing that she only had time at the beginning of the month.

Like this, Liang Ji could be with three men in one month.

These memories were deep in the mind of the previous host. She only learned about this at the end of her life in the other world.

But now, she had learned this truth a full three months ahead of time.

After the song was over, Liang Ji knew what was right and wrong. When she was about to step off the stage, Zheng Kuang said, "Miss Liang truly is skilled with the pipa, how about singing a "Farewell from the Small Building" for us?"

Zheng Kuang naturally didn't know about the existence of Xu Wei, he sounded very frivolous when he said this.

After all, she would always sing this to him after their night together.

As soon as his voice fell, Xu Wei's expression changed, "Liang Ji, I won't allow you to sing this!"

To be honest, when Xu Yi said these words, Luo Qing Chen felt that this son of the general had a different aura.

Although he looked a bit ugly.

And at this time, the real male lead of this 'trap' arrived.

When Liang Ji saw him, her face instantly turned pale.

As expected, Liang Ji was the most sincere towards Lin Ruo Jing.

Lin Ruo Jing tightly knit his brows. He had changed into a deep blue robe, but he was recognized by many people here.

After all, the guests at the Ten Thousand Spring House today were all guests that her little sister Chu Jun Ting had spent quite a bit of effort inviting.

The most difficult one was Xu Wei, he had a bit of pride as the son of a general.

The reason why he came was because Chu Jun Ting was the most precious daughter of the emperor.

In other words, she was the princess.

Chapter 1196: Sea emperor: Lifting up the hostage princess (Part 7)

When the surrounding people saw Lin Ruo Jing, they all focused their attention on him and broke out in discussions.

"Ai, isn't that the sixth king's son in law? I've heard that young miss Luo was kidnapped by pirates and there is white silk hung all over the king's palace!"

"Damn, what is he doing in the Ten Thousand Spring House, is he here to see Long Peace City's number one singer!"

"Ze, ze, don't say anything. This Lin Ruo Jing used to work as a chef for the Happy Red House, I've heard that he and Liang Ji were together!"

"Peng!" The table was shattered in half as Xu Wei angrily roared, "What nonsense are you little things saying! Liang Ji belongs to father, all of you open your dog eyes for me!"

The entire Ten Thousand Spring House fell into silence.

Zheng Kuan, the son of the high ranking minister gave a cold snort. He turned with his cross eyes and said, "It seems like young miss Liang truly has many new and old loves!"

"You are also involved!" Xu Wei was a bit afraid of Zheng Kuan since they were both ministers in court and they were both second grade ministers.

"Young master Xu is joking." There was a slight hatred in Zheng Kuan's eyes as he said in a taunting voice, "In bed at the Happy Red House the night before last, she told me that some people seem mighty, but they can't compare in other aspects. At first I didn't know who she was talking about, but now I can see it clearly."

Zheng Kuan was also afraid of Xu Wei, but this was related to his dignity as a man.

After all, the girl that he had placed in his heart was actually this sloppy.

If he didn't say anything, it was hard to vent the hatred in his heart.

"Si."

The surrounding people took a cold breath since this atmosphere became very awkward.

But from Zheng Kuan and Xu Wei's words, the number one singer of the capital Liang Ji wasn't as she praised herself to me.

Selling her art and not her body!

Liang Ji's face was very pale at this moment. Lin Ruo Jing tightly gripped his fist as he looked at her in hatred.

He had taken great risk for her, sending his fiancée into the bed of the pirates.

He could have married the princess and had a smooth road, but to be with her, he had decided to take this risk.

But her? What did she give back to him!

There were just two men other than him!

Xu Wei clenched his fists and looked at Zheng Kuan before looking at Liang Ji. He then spat onto the floor, "This girl, you really make father feel disgusted! No wonder father felt you were so loose, it turns out you were serving other men!"

Xu Wei's outburst made Liang Ji's pipa fall to the ground. She wanted to explain, but she found that no one would believe her even if she did explain.

"Xu Wei, I agree with this!" Zheng Kuan's cross eyes turned as he said, "A service girl is a service girl, she definitely is dirty! Just playing around, there's no need to be serious!"

When everyone heard this, whether it was the men or women, they all looked at Liang Ji in disdain.

Everyone's gaze made Liang Ji unable to breathe as large beads of sweat fell down from her forehead.

What worried her the most was that they were all speaking the truth!

Lin Ruo Jing's face was green, he had been truly devoted to Liang Ji.

But he never thought that it would end like this.

Chapter 1197: Sea emperor: Lifting up the hostage princess (Part 8)

"Brother Zheng Kuan is right!" Xu Wei tossed a jug of wine to him, "Brother, let's go to my general's manor to drink. My little maids are much cleaner than this dirty thing!"

"Alright." Zheng Kuan finished half the jug before walking forth. He handed it to Lin Ruo Jing who was standing on the final step of the stairs and gave him a meaningful smile, "Brother, based on your expression, you are also a victim. This half a pot of wine is to help solve your sorrows!"

Lin Ruo Jing had eyes filled with rage. That calm and gentle face became fierce at this moment.

But the urge to kill immediately disappeared from his mind.

Liang Ji wasn't worth him doing this.

He took the drink that Zheng Kuan handed him and said, "Thank you, brother."

"You're welcome." Zheng Kuan gave a soft laugh before lowering his voice, "It's a pity that the little princess isn't here. If she was still alive, I definitely wouldn't have fallen for this kind of woman."

Zheng Kuan's words made Lin Ruo Jing's heart tremble. He stood there in a daze as his mind turned blank.

What had he done? He had given up that woman who had supported him to love this kind of woman.

After Zheng Kuan and Xu Wei left, Liang Ji finally came back to her senses from this 'bad news'.

She immediately came to Lin Ruo Jing's side and looked at him. She wanted to say something, but Lin Ruo Jing suddenly stopped her.

He drank the rest of the wine and sprayed it onto Liang Ji's face. He looked at her as he said, "Wash yourself, you're too dirty."

Liang Ji's tears began falling down after that.

She bit her lip and wanted to grab his sleeve, but she never thought that Lin Ruo Jing would take a step back, not giving her this chance at all.

He hated her, he hated her more than Zheng Kuan and Xu Wei.

But he didn't want to ruin his future for a woman like her.

He still had a chance, he could find Luo Qing Chen. Although the time limit has passed, his uncle Liu had sent a secret message to him that the sea emperor didn't kill her.

Although he didn't know where she was now, he could find out as long as he contacted uncle Liu.

Returning to the king's palace, the white silk had already been torn down. The servants at the door stopping him said in an unfriendly voice, "The king already knows about what happened today at the Ten Thousand Spring House. For the sake of the emotions from before, the king has ordered me to tell you that he will give you one day to leave Long Peace City, or you shouldn't blame him for being merciless."

As soon as his voice fell, the servant pushed him in a manner that was filled with hostility.

He didn't have many taels of silvers on him and the silvers he had in the bank must have been taken by the sixth king!

If he left Long Peace City now, he wouldn't be able to survive.

He had spent all this effort to reach where he was today, how could he let a filthy woman ruin his future?

At that moment, he wanted to cut Liang Ji into ten thousand pieces.....

He tightly clenched his fists and decided to take a risk. He would use the silvers he had to rent a boat and go to the Blood Blue Sea to take back Luo Qing Chen.

The sixth prince only knew about his affairs with Liang Ji, he didn't know that he had delivered his daughter to the pirates.

He thought that his guess wasn't wrong at all since if the sixth king knew about this, he would definitely pay with his life.

Then he only needed to save Luo Qing Chen and give her a few sweet words, then everything would change!

Chapter 1198: Sea emperor: Lifting up the hostage princess (Part 9)

After leaving the Ten Thousand Spring House, she stayed at an inn first and used the token Chu Jun Ting had left her to summon her!

Chu Jun Ting moved very quickly, bringing large and small bags for her.

The large bags had changes of clothes, two male clothing and two female clothing.

The small bag.....was filled with silvers.

After all, the rumours said: Money could even make ghosts suffer. Those words definitely had reason behind them.

"I say, little princess, there is only you who can make me run errands for them in this world." Chu Jun Ting lazily sat in the chair on the side while drinking the tea, "What do you want these outfits for? You want to leave the city?"

Chu Jun Ting was very happy that she was back, but of course she also vaguely felt that her personality had changed.

But women!

After experiencing such emotional pain, it was very normal to change!

"I am indeed going out." Luo Qing Chen looked at her with a sparkle in her clear eyes, "I'm not leaving the city, I'm heading out to sea."

"Pu!" Chu Jun Ting couldn't help spitting out the tea in her mouth as she looked at her who looked exceptionally beautiful under the moonlight that was coming in through the window in disbelief, "You wouldn't be telling me that you're going out to sea right now, right!"

Not mentioning how dangerous the sea was at night, even if she didn't encounter pirates and such, she would become lost on the sea.

Could it be that her sister couldn't think through her pain and wanted to die!

Luo Qing Chen gave a shrug and a soft laugh, "You're not dumb! I've already arranged for the boat, I'm setting off now!"

"Don't, don't, don't!" Chu Jin Ting suddenly stood up and tried to 'explain' with a serious look, "My god! My royal mother told me when I was younger that there are plenty of people in the world, you can change if it doesn't work! You can't just seek death like this, you have to think it through! If you die, wouldn't you be doing what they want? Let me tell you....."

"Stop, stop, stop." Luo Qing Chen cut her off with a laugh, "I'm not seeking death for that man, he isn't even qualified to hold me shoes!"

For the current Luo Qing Chen, Lin Ruo Jing's best cooking wasn't worthy of her giving it a second glance.

After all, if a person had a bad heart, then even if he was good in a certain field, he was still dirty in her eyes!

"Wa!" Chu Jun Ting looked at her in a daze, "You've never said a single bad thing about Lin Ruo Jing before!"

Although they were both princesses, they were not related by blood. The sixth king wasn't the son of the previous emperor, he became a king based on his merits.

But even like this, it didn't interfere with their friendship.

At a palace feast when they were younger, that decided that they would be best friends for life.

The previous host cherished her friend, so now that she had taken over for the previous host, she would also cherish her.

"That was the past." Luo Qing Chen gave a laugh as she stroked her face, "It's different now!"

As soon as her voice fell, she looked at the moon outside and touched the firework in her chest before saying, "I'm setting off!"

"Ha? You, you, you.....You're really going! Aren't you seeking death, going out.....in the middle of the night!" Chu Jun Ting wanted to grab her sleeve to question her, but she found that she had already walked to the door.

She waved her hand and said with a faint smile, "I'm going to find my true destiny!"

Chapter 1199: Sea emperor: Lifting up the hostage princess (Part 10)

At the end of the day, the sea wind blew on her face. She used the memories of the previous host to set forth in the general direction of the Blood Blue Sea.

She chose a small that wasn't too big or small, there was only her on the boat.

The boatmen said that without an experienced person, they wouldn't sail at night.

But Luo Qing Chen didn't want to take him anyway.

Because if she told him that she was heading to Blood Blue Island, the boatman wouldn't have even rented the boat to her.

After all, she knew what the citizens all thought of Chu Xi Mo based on her previous memories.

In the eyes of the citizens, he was the young master of the sea empire, so they gave him a nickname: Emperor!

The boatman was scared by all this. The government wanted to catch him, but the citizens praised him as a legend.

It began several years ago that as long as the boats of the government entered the sea, no matter how many elite soldiers were on that boat, they would all be kidnapped.

At first, the government was still very determined, using traps again and again to catch Chu Xi Mo.

But every time the soldiers set out, they never returned.

After several days, their corpses would follow the direction of the sea and come ashore.

There was no boat and no belongings, only corpses.

After a while, the government no longer dared to fight and went around them.

But what they never thought was that no matter which way they went, the official boats would still be robbed.

Chu Xi Mo was like a sea god, creating waves on the sea and having no enemies.

Thinking of this, Luo Qing Chen's lips couldn't help curling.

After all, he was a mysterious and powerful man.

There were rumours that the sea emperor was a rough man, there were rumours that he was a weak girl, there were more rumours saying that he was an elegant gentleman.

Actually, the most accurate one was the last one because in her memories, he was a man who was unique with an evil charm.

When the previous host thought about Chu Xi Mo after, she was filled with regret.

Luo Qing Chen narrowed her eyes. She enjoyed the sea breeze while asking the system a serious question.

System, what is the male lead's affection for the previous host?

Why!

[The male lead is someone who must return favours, so he only feels gratitude towards the previous host. In his world, this kind of feeling doesn't count as gratitude.]

.....

Without knowing why, hearing the explanation the system gave her, she was a bit disappointed and a bit happy.

Only she knew why she felt this way.

“Hong long!” There was a boom of thunder that cut through her thoughts.

Luo Qing Chen finally felt the wind pick up on the sea, it was completely different from the gentle breeze from before.

The lightning smashed down from the sky to the sea before thunder followed several seconds later.

“Da, da, da, da, da, da.” Before she could even react, large beads of rain were already falling down.

At this moment, even the cursing of the sea couldn’t scatter the deep anger in her heart.

After all, she was here to find the male lead, not the sea god, alright?

In less than a quarter of an hour, her boat was swept by the waves again and again. Although she didn’t tip over, it wouldn’t take long before that happened.

She bit her lip and took out the firework from her chest. She aimed it at the sky and with a ‘peng’ sound, it suddenly exploded.

Although this encounter was different from what she imagined, this thing that had harmed Chu Xi Mo in another world, it was better to use it sooner!

[The system really is laughing to death, you say it like the male lead isn’t in danger.]

He is the sea emperor, if he doesn’t even have this little bit of ability.....

[So what if he doesn’t?]

I’ll save him!

Chapter 1200: Sea emperor: Lifting up the hostage princess (Part 11)

In the vast starry skies, there was lightning and thunder.

The splendid firework cut through the sky and lit up her clear as water eyes.

The waves kept hitting her boat, just like a leaf boat floating there.

It was like the next large wave would knock over her little boat and she was actually a bit worried.....

Although in another world, Chu Xi Mo had lost his life because of this firework. But this time, he wouldn’t be the same, being so desperate to come.

After all, this was the center of the vast ocean. After all, the waves were strong here and you might really be swallowed by the waves if you weren’t careful.

She looked up and muttered with a bit of emotion in her eyes, “You will come.....”

Whether it was in the past life or this life, they agreed to meet again. Could it be him who came looking for her this time?

[Ding, 500 exchange points has been taken. Successfully exchanged for a pipa (with pipa playing skills).]

Without knowing why, in this raging storm, she suddenly wanted to sing a song.

A song that was very suitable.

It's too late to go around picking flowers, searching for drunken dreams of death.

Remembering the vows of another life, being speechless while speaking.

Hating not knowing each other.

I am willing to become the blue stone that destroys the world.

Your name is sealed in the heart.

The butterflies weaving cocoons, weaving spring silk.

Never breaking, lasting for all lives.

— “Emperor, the location of the firework and the singing is coming from the same place! The waves are too strong, we can't hear the signing clearly.” Ji Yu standing beside him knit his brows and said, “It should be a fake.”

After all, the ‘hostage’ had left Blood Blue Island for less than two days, how could they be back so soon?

Moreover, they directly shot Chu Xi Mo's firework in the sea, this was too unbelievable!

“Give me a small boat, there's no need for the large boats to go over.” Chu Xi Mo narrowed his eyes with a bit of a sparkle in them.

“Emperor.”

He had given the firework to her, there was no need to save her.

Ji Yu slightly knit his brows, “I think that it's safer to use a large boat.”

As soon as his voice fell, he turned to look at uncle Liu on the side and said in a low voice, “It's better to avoid some people doing some sneaky things.”

Everyone heard this and lowered their heads, not daring to say anything else.

This pirate organization was dominated by Chu Xi Mo and Ji Yu was one of his strongest hands.

He admired Chu Xi Mo's act of robbing the rich to help the poor from the bottom of his heart.

But there were some people who thought otherwise. The bigger the organization the less unified it was.

Therefore, uncle Liu's recent actions had made him very disgusted.

“Un, then let's go over.”

As the large boat approached, Luo Qing Chen's singing became more clear.

Chu Xi Mo narrowed his eyes to look at the girl in the little boat. She was dressed in an ivory white pink silk trimmed dress, with a wave patterned blue jade hairpin in her hair.

Holding the pipa and singing, every action that she made created a beautiful scene on the sea.

It was simply too beautiful to look at.

“Just a small boat, you don’t need to come.” Chu Xi Mo had an evil charming look on his face, but in the dark night, he had a coldness that kept people a thousand miles away.

“Yes.” Ji Yu nodded, preparing a small boat for him.

At that moment, he had a strange feeling. In the beauty of the boundless sea, the smile of the girl in front of him, he wasn’t willing to share it with others.
