Chapter 1931: Hello, my mister confidant (Part 34)

Fang He was only surprised for a second before saying with a smile, "It's fine, just take it! Just in case your friend has also forgotten their umbrella!"

It had to be said, Fang He really understood a girl's heart. This kind of sudden attack wasn't abrupt, but attracted the other side's attention in a unique manner.

Luo Qing Chen never would have thought that Fang He's 'love' wasn't just from his mouth.

During the following days, Fang He used a terrifying method to pursue her.

Whether it was during breakfast, lunch, afternoon tea, or dinner, he did his best to prepare it for her.

He would always have an extra umbrella when it rained and he even prepared a new coat for her when it became colder.

If everyone had thought that Fang He was just greedy for something new before, after his performance over the past two days, people began to believe what he said.

He had really fallen in love with Luo Qing Chen at first sight!

These few days passed very slowly and each day was like a year for Luo Qing Chen.

He Jin Nian still prepared breakfast for her, but he never went to school with her. He even hurried off after school and never waited for her whether it was windy or raining.

Luo Qing Chen didn't know why the appearance of a Fang He had caused a change with them.

It wasn't like she never confessed to others before. He had even gone with her when she handed the love letter to Xu Ze Yan and he hadn't been as.....cold as he had been now.

So going from 20% to 70% affection caused this kind of change.

The big test on Friday finally came and it was also the Qixi Festival.

Luo qing Chen who had wanted to confess had been completely defeated by He Jin Nian's cold attitude over the past few days.

She seemed to be at a very extreme border which had He Jin Nian's coldness on one side and Fang He's wild passion on the other.

It was a good thing that she was an expert in love, or she would have been captured by Fang He right away.

Only, she didn't understand what He Jin Nian was thinking.

Until this morning when she didn't see a breakfast that he had prepared for her when he came downstairs.

It's a lie to say that there was disappointment and it was also a lie to say that there was no sadness.....

The sky gradually cleared and the typhoon over the past few days was finally gone. Arriving in the classroom, Fang He handed her a strawberry cake that she never accepted and said, "The sky's already clear and you're still knitting your brows like an old man."

Not asking for the icing on the cake, only sending coal during a cold night.

When a person was in a very low mood, if someone was by her side, they would definitely become their own light.

It had to be admitted that Fang He was indeed glowing in front of her at this moment.

"Thank you, I already ate." She pursed her lips. This time she didn't look in He Jin Nian's direction as she looked at Fang He with a serious gaze, "I know what kind of person you are, there's no need to do anything meaningless like this in the future."

Fang He was Fang Xiao Jing's cousin. When Fang He entered her gaze for the first time, the system had already told her this.

It seemed right. If there wasn't a purpose, no one would confess as soon as they transferred in. Her intelligence was high and even if the system didn't say anything, she wouldn't believe it.

Fang He was stunned when he heard this. He wasn't worried that the relationship between him and Fang Xiao Jing had been exposed, but rather....he suddenly felt that there was no reason to be nice to Luo Qing Chen.

This was a very strange feeling. Even after all those flowers, he had never felt this way before.

Chapter 1932: Hello, my mister confidant (Part 35)

"I....." He found that he didn't know what to say at this moment. He just seriously looked at Luo Qing Chen and said, "There are some goals that have changed, the thoughts from before have changed."

Luo Qing Chen narrowed her eyes and looked at him until his eyes dimmed. She couldn't help believing him a bit.

But so what? She didn't believe it would change and she didn't care if it did change.

In this life, not every love would go smoothly. It wasn't that everyone could fall in love at first sight.

She suddenly understood what the setting of this world was telling her. Perhaps the deepest love.....was the most silent.

"The test is about to start." She calmly watched him return to his seat before preparing for the exam, which was the most important exam for her and He Jin Nina.

Because they had made a bet and because they both had a wish.

Luo Qing Chen never thought she would beat He Jin Nina. After all, other than math, she could only score ninety seven or ninety eight, she couldn't guarantee full marks.

So she never thought about beating He Jin Nian.

But losing was fine since at least she had a reason to talk to him. At least she could ask him if he had any wishes.

Although these few days had been depressing, her heart was filled with hope.

She would wait, she would wait for an answer.

She never would have understood how He Jin Nian survived these past few days.

He could feel himself sinking deeper and he couldn't find an exit. It was a feeling of suffocation that he couldn't escape from!

No one knew how hard it had been to keep calm for him.....

He was a smart person, in this jungle of mixed thoughts and that kiss he couldn't control from that night.

He recognized one thing.....He had fallen in love.....with his best friend.

How to say it, how to do it, would he be rejected, would it be lost forever if he didn't have it.

He hadn't figured out the answer to those questions when a Fang He had appeared.

They were people with two different personalities. All the things that he did for her, they were the things that he wanted to do, but didn't dare to do.

He hated Fang He, but he knew that while he hated him, he also envied him. He could be that passionate and even if he was rejected once, twice, thrice, or four times, he could still keep going forward.

Would she really fall in love with this kind of Fang He.....

During the first English test, he sat there for half an hour without moving as a mix of thoughts filled his mind.

Until a certain kiss appeared before his eyes.....

It was like he had found the gap in his life. When faced with those questions that he had never heard before, he quickly filled out the answer sheet.

Perhaps there should be many things that should be broken.

The relationship between him and her couldn't continue like this. Once one side had feelings that went beyond friendship, they could only become strangers if not lovers.

He Jin Nian knew very well that he didn't want to become strangers with her.

So no matter what, he would give it a try. Even if she didn't like him, even if she rejected him.

He would work hard in the end, work hard without giving up because he didn't want to give her to anyone else. Because he knew that he would never be able to leave her for the rest of his life.

Chapter 1933: Hello, my mister confidant (Part 36)

After the exam in the morning, they announced the results in the afternoon.

English was the first one to be announced. Although it was only a simple piece of A4 paper, the entire class A was in an uproar because of it.

Because He Jin Nian was actually tenth place with sixty points.

And Luo Qing Chen was first with a full one hundred and fifty points.

She wasn't surprised that she had gotten full marks, but He Jin Nian only getting sixty points was very shocking to her.

English was the best subject to get full marks other than math and even if He Jin Nian made a few mistakes, he wouldn't be missing this many marks.

"Classmate He, the English teacher wants you to go to the office." The study committee member came in and pushed up her glasses as a blush came over her face.

He Jin Nian had always been the top student in the class, so it was impossible to call him to the office.

Today was her first chance as the study committee member to "speak up" to him in a long time.

Luo Qing Chen knitted her brows and followed He Jin Nian to the office.

When He Jin Nian came in, there was a sigh from the English teacher as he placed He Jin Nian's test paper in front of him, "Jin Nian! Teacher won't talk about your grades first, but has there been something bothering you lately?"

"No, teacher." He Jin Nian's face was calm without a single ripple.

It was as if it didn't matter that he only got sixty points on the test, he wasn't surprised that he had gotten this score at all!

"Then can you tell me why you made a mistake on all the listening comprehension questions? Why were all your reading comprehension questions all correct?" The English teacher took a deep breath and said, "You just randomly filled it out, right?"

"Teacher, I didn't randomly fill it out!" He Jin Nian immediately replied.

The English teacher heard this and her face turned red as she covered her heart to say, "You, you, you.....Do you want to anger me to death!"

Luo Qing Chen standing outside saw that it was bad and quickly had the teacher sit down. She patted his back as she knitted her brows to look at He in Nian, "Quickly pour some water, teacher has a bad heart."

"Alright." He Jin Nian was surprised before quickly pouring a cup of water as Luo Qing Chen had instructed.

The previous host had played a role in the English teacher's heart attack before. The previous host had bumped into the teacher outside of school and had sent him to the hospital.

Taking advantage of He Jin Nian pouring the water, Luo Qing Chen looked at He Jin Nian's test on the table.

Because their school had a branch set up in America, it could be considered a multinational school. There were hundreds of exchange students each year, so English listening comprehension was very important and most of the marks from the test came from the listening comprehension.

This was where A University was different from other schools.

Luo Qing Chen narrowed her eyes and seriously looked at He Jin Nian's test. There were only a few answers on the listening comprehension portion and some parts weren't even filled out. It looked like the test that one of the students with poor grades handed in.

It had to be said, his writing was still very neat even if it was scattered.

No, no, no, Luo Qing Chen shook her head before thinking: He Jin Nian is such an intelligent person, he wouldn't do something this meaningless.

If it was just to lose to her, he wouldn't have lost most of his marks.

There must be some other meaning to this.....

Chapter 1934: Hello, my mister confidant (Part 37)

The English teacher looked at the cup of warm water brought over. After drinking it all down, he angrily tapped the test paper on the desk a few times before angrily leaving the office.

Luo Qing Chen knitted her brows. When He Jin Nian was about to take the test paper, she suddenly took it.

He was surprised. He reached out to take it, but Luo Qing Chen had already placed it behind her.

"He Jin Nian who always gets full marks on every test, I don't believe that he would be completely wrong on his listening comprehension part of the test." Luo Qing Chen looked at him and said, "Just what are you thinking?"

There were some things that she had to make clear today because her personality didn't allow this kind of thing.

"You want me to say it here?" He looked up at her with a bit of a sparkle in his eyes.

[Ding, affection has increased by ten. Mission completion rate is now 80%.]

Luo Qing Chen panicked at that moment. It wasn't just the students who would gossip here, there were also the teachers.....

"I feel....." Luo Qing Chen's lips curled to reveal a smile, "We should step aside and talk."

"Ding ling, ding ling." Her phone rang and it was an unfamiliar number, but the note below said that it was the First Hospital.

Luo Qing Chen knitted her brows and picked up.

"Hello, is this Miss Luo Qing Chen? This is the First Hospital, do you know a man named Fang He....."

He Jin Nian could tell that Luo Qing Chen's expression changed. The moment she hung up, she looked at him and said, "Go home and wait for me first."

As soon as her voice fell, she ran out of the school with the test.

Fang He had been in a car accident. It had been at a flower shop when he had been buying a large bouquet of flowers for her.

While in the taxi, she was in a very calm mood. Someone from the hospital had called to tell her about Fang He.

When she was at the emergency room, she saw Fang Xiao Jing who couldn't stop crying.

She pointed at Luo Qing Chen and roared, "It's all because of you, it's all because of you! If it wasn't for you, how could something have happened to Xiao He?"

Luo Qing Chen narrowed her cold eyes and stared right at her, "You know that he's your cousin, then why did he appear in front of him? You should know in your heart, right?"

Her powerful aura and her words made people unable to contend against her. Fang Xiao Jing wanted to say something, but it was stuck in her throat and she couldn't say it.

When the operating light turned off, the doctor came out and his face didn't look good. He took off his mask and said, "We've saved his life, but he hit his head, so the situation is very dangerous."

"Doctor, you have to save him....."

The doctor shook his head, "It doesn't look good, it'll depend on his luck."

Luo Qing Chen knitted her brows as she knew what the doctor meant. To be more precise, it was a big problem if he could wake up or not!

"Luo Qing Chen, if my little brother can never wake up, don't think you'll have a good life!" Fang Xiao Jing angrily looked at her as she bit her lip while trembling.....

She narrowed her cold eyes and didn't reply.

No matter what, Fang He had never done anything to hurt her. Even if he had ulterior motives, it was only her guess so far.

She didn't reply to Fang Xiao Jing because she respected Fang He.

If he really didn't wake up, perhaps.....

She might have some responsibility in this.....

There was no sleep that night.

Chapter 1935: Hello, my mister confidant (Part 38)

Overnight, the topic of Luo Qing Chen and Fang He became the center of attention.

The people who gossiped were very calm since this matter wasn't related to Luo Qing Chen.

Fang He had fallen in love at first sight and had been rejected by Luo Qing Chen, this was something that all the students of Class A had seen.

But even with the understanding of her classmates, Luo Qing Chen still felt that her heart was heavy.

He Jin Nian had been very quiet over the past few days, always silently following her without a word. It was like he was a protector that kept staying by her side.

"I'll go to the hospital with you this afternoon!" During lunch, He Jin Nian narrowed his eyes and had a bit of distress appear in them as he looked at her.

Tang You also put down her bowl of sweet and sour pork ribs, "I'll also go with you!"

Luo Qing Chen pursed her lips as a mist appeared in her eyes, "Thank you."

If Fang He didn't wake up, she wouldn't feel assured.

She didn't even know how to face her relationship with He Jin Nian. They had gone back to the way they were before, they didn't talk about what had happened.

In the room, Fang He was silently lying in bed with a bunch of withered roses on the side.

He didn't wake up and he didn't die.

Time passed very quickly and people gradually forgot about this matter. In the end, Luo Qing Chen and He Jin Nian didn't become a couple.

Time passed and they were about to graduate.

On the day of the graduation ceremony, He Jin Nian prepared breakfast for her as usual and placed a pin on her chest, "Little girl, you're finally graduating."

"You.....are planning on studying abroad?" Luo Qing Chen looked at He Jin Nian.

"Un, it should be!" He Jin Nian seriously looked into her eyes, "You have to take care of yourself."

Suddenly there was a feeling of parting in the air. Luo Qing Chen gave a chuckle and said with a bit of a sparkle in her eyes, "If that day, you....."

"There shouldn't be that day." He could see what she wanted to say from her gaze and gave her his reply.

"He Jin Nian....." She took a deep breath as her eyes turned red and tears almost came out.

At that moment, he suddenly took her hands and pulled her to his side, tightly holding her.

This was the first time she received this warm and passionate hug from him when he was sober.

That reality, that long lost hug!

[Ding, affection has increased by twenty. Mission completion rate is now 100%.]

When this notification from the system appeared in her mind, she felt that this world was about to end.

But why did it feel like there was a stone in her heart and she couldn't breathe?

She knew what the reason was, god was playing a joke on her.

Turning Fang He into a vegetable had completely derailed her path forward.

If Fang He had appeared a bit later, after they had become a couple, she wouldn't feel this strange feeling of guilt.

Actually, she didn't feel like she had wronged Fang He. She just felt that she couldn't be calm and happy when Fang He had become a vegetable.

In the end, when doing things, you couldn't go against your conscience. No matter their reason for approaching her, he had become a vegetable because he was buying a bouquet of flowers for her.

She had a sweet smile in the graduation photo with the graduation cap that He Jin Nian had placed on her.

Chapter 1936: Hello, my mister confidant (Part 39)

How great it would be if he and her could be frozen in this moment, with eternal youth in every part of their hearts.

But reality wasn't as beautiful as one would imagine, He Jin Nian still left.

She didn't go see him the day he went abroad and she wasn't worried about him. After all, his parents had been abroad for a long time, so it was a good thing to go back to their side.

Perhaps it couldn't be said that she didn't send him off, she just didn't send him off in person. She had silently gone and watched him look back after three steps, watched him get into the plain that flew off into the boundless skies.

At that moment, she felt that her heart had left with the airplane.

When the airplane took off, He Jin Nian in the cabin took out his phone and sent her a text.

A text that had made her cry when she saw the first line.

Classmate Luo Qing Chen:

I am already on the plane when you see this.

Actually, perhaps it's a good thing that you didn't come see me, at least you won't feel the feeling of separation.

There are some things that I didn't tell you. I may not be returning for a long time this time and my phone shouldn't be in service anymore.

When I'm not here, you have to take care of yourself. If you like someone, there's no need to tell me. If you get married, there's no need to contact me.

He, he.....Actually, you won't be able to contact me.

It was the luckiest thing in my life to be with you in my youth. The long words that can't be written down, you should already know.

October 10th, He Jin Nian.

Luo Qing Chen saw the message he sent her and almost burst into tears. Her heart was filled with pain and nothing else.

She didn't want to miss it, she wanted to selfishly tell him that they should be together!

The matter of Fang He had already passed, she couldn't wait for him for her entire life, she had her own life.

But she knew that he wouldn't let her say those words because he understood her better than anyone in this world.

She was a kind person and although she was domineering from time to time, not caring about what others thought, he knew what was most radiating about her.

After He Jin Nian went abroad, he disappeared. In the middle of the night, she would send him texts, but there was never an answer.

Just like he had said in the last text he sent her from the plane, he disappeared.....

He disappeared to a foreign country she had never been to before. Perhaps he had new friends, perhaps he had a new lover.

Luo Qing Chen thought that when there wouldn't be an ending in this life, god had played another cruel joke on her.

Or perhaps it couldn't be called a joke, but rather.....a terrifying pleasant surprise.

Fang He woke up and he had strangely woken up three months after He Jin Nian left.

It was unknown if it was the New Years fireworks that were too loud or if he had slept for too long, but he was awake. Fang Xiao Jin had always disliked Luo Qing Chen, but she still contacted her when Fang He woke up.

After all, being compared during their youth and the fact that they loved the same person.

Fang Xiao Jing not liking her was natural, but Luo Qing Chen had come to see Fang He over the years and she hadn't gotten together with He Jin Nian in the end.

Fang Xiao Jing was a bit surprised. Although she couldn't become friends with Luo Qing Chen, it had been her intention to let Fang He approach her in the beginning.

She couldn't avoid taking responsibility for this matter.

Chapter 1937: Hello, my mister confidant (Part 40)

“You talk, I’ll go out first.” Feng Xiao Jing crossed her arms as she looked at Luo Qing Chen, “But the doctor said that my little brother just woke up and can’t talk for too long.”

As soon as her voice fell, she didn’t wait for Luo Qing Chen’s response as she left the room.

Luo Qing Chen was too lazy to respond since some people were destined to never get along. There was no need to hope that they would understand you and there was no need to understand them.

“Sit, sit.” Fang He revealed a smile as those eyes still gave people the same feeling of handsomeness as before.

Although his face was still a bit pale, it seemed like he was already slowly recovering.

Luo Qing Chen nodded. She sat in the chair on the side and looked at him to say, “How do you feel?”

“Like I’ve been in a very long dream and I would often see you in that dream.” Fang He looked at her with a smile, “I’ve heard what happened over the years from my cousin.....”

When he fell into a coma, it created an irreversible injury. Actually, in his heart, he felt that he had wronged her very much.

But him feeling sorry was just towards her and it wasn’t because of his feelings.

There was one thing where whether it was her, He Jin Nian, or even Fang He himself couldn’t understand. It was whether the ‘love at first sight’ he felt towards Luo Qing Chen was even real.

He didn’t know why, but when he first saw her, there was a strange feeling in his heart that made it beat very fast.

If it was said that he was only helping Fang Xiao Jing in the beginning, when he saw her, this favour had already ended.

If he had succeeded in chasing her, he definitely would have never left her.

He knew this better than anyone.

But he never thought that before anything wonderful could happen, something would happen to him.

“There’s no need for you to think about this.” Luo Qing Chen shook her head with a smile, “I’m very happy that you’re awake.”

She felt a very relaxed feeling at this moment, she wouldn’t have to bear an innocent life any longer.

Maybe she had a chance to chase her true love.....

“He Jin Nian.....”

“Fang He.” Luo Qing Chen took a deep breath to cut him off before continuing, “There’s no need to feel sorry towards me, there’s nothing for you to be sorry for. As for He Jin Nian, that is my matter with him.”

Since Fang He was awake, the ending of the story had already changed.

But she wouldn’t know if she could find him in time.

After a while, he looked at her with a bright smile, "If you can be happy, I will be happy."

"I won't disturb your rest then. I won't come again in the future." Luo Qing Chen looked into his eyes and said, "Goodbye....."

"Qing Chen."

When she stood up, he called her name. After a bit of hesitation, he bit his lip and said, "When I said that I fell in love with you at first sight, it wasn't false."

It was true.....it wasn't false.....

If he met her before He Jin Nian, perhaps the ending would have been different.

"I know." Luo Qing Chen didn't turn back as she softly said, "People's eyes won't lie."

She could see a bit of sparkle in Fang He's eyes which was why she felt guilty towards him.

When she left the hospital, the first snow of winter fell. She raised her hand and a snowflake fell into her hand.

She suddenly missed him a bit.....

He Jin Nian, where did he go? Why didn't he contact her?

Luo Qing Chen never would have known that his leaving A City wasn't to study abroad, but rather his parents had been killed by someone.

Chapter 1938: Hello, my mister confidant (Part 41)

She went to the supermarket and planned on making a hot pot for dinner. She never would have expected that she would receive a call from the housing agent, asking her to dinner.

Luo Qing Chen thought that it would be a raise in the rent or that another tenant wanted to move in, but she never would have imagined that she would tell her something that she never would have thought of.

"Miss Luo, I'm very sorry to invite you to dinner on such short notice." The agent was a woman in her early thirties. They had met several times and she looked professional every time.

Luo Qing Chen didn't care since she was living alone now, so if someone wanted to invite her to dinner, she didn't mind.

"It doesn't matter, I live alone." Luo Qing Chen took care of some lamb meat as she said, "Did you invite me for a reason today? I was planning on giving you the rent for the next three months tomorrow."

"No, no, no." The agent shook her head before saying with a smile, "Miss Luo, you're mistaken. I'm not here for rent....."

Luo Qing Chen knitted her brows as she revealed a confused look.

The agent quickly took out a stack of documents from her bag and put it on the table, "This is the deed and the information on the owner, the landlord asked me to take care of this three months ago."

"Three months ago....." Luo Qing Chen was surprised. Her fingers couldn't help trembling as she forgot to pick up the piece of lamb meat that she had been cooking.

"Yes." The agent nodded politely, "Because miss Luo didn't come herself, there were many things that became complicated. We had to take care of many things before finally sorting it out this afternoon."

She opened the blue folder and the most striking thing was the three words: He Jin Nian.

"You.....You meant that he bought the house?" Luo Qing Chen took a deep breath. She drank some water before calming herself down.

"It isn't that....." The agent shook her head, "Mister He Jin Nian was already the owner of the house."

He was.....

That house's.....owner?!

Luo Qing Chen suddenly remembered the past.

It was no wonder she was able to get such a high end house for such a good price.

It was no wonder she could rent the house for so long without a tenant on the first floor.

It was no wonder He Jin Nian seemed so comfortable when he came to her house.

It turned out that the house belonged to him in the first place!

This news really shocked her. He had hid it for such a long time.

"Mister landlord never found another tenant for miss Luo because he thought that it would be inconvenient for you. He wanted to rent the whole place to you, but since the price was too low, he was afraid that you would be suspicious."

There was a strange sadness in her heart, but with the extra things the agent said, it spread all over her heart.

"Do you know where he went?" Luo Qing Chen knew that it was impossible that she would know, but she still had some hope in her heart as she asked this.

"Aiyo, how could I know this!" The agent shook her head with an awkward smile, "But when we were looking for this information, we accidentally heard a few of his phone calls and he didn't seem good. If I didn't hear wrong, it seemed like he was talking about his parents' funeral....."

Chapter 1939: Hello, my mister confidant (Part 42)

There were some people who appeared for no other reason than to let you know that there wouldn't be a person that would understand you like him in the future.

When you needed him the most, he would go against the whole world to stand with you. When you didn't need him, he stood in a place that you couldn't see to silently protect you.

Actually, she wanted to go abroad to look for him, looking in each city. Even if it was like trying to find a needle in a haystack, she would have hope.

But she knew that she might never find him.

And he.....

If he missed her, he could find her with a single call, but he didn't call.

In the days that followed, she thought that it might be better to return to the Chaos Space. Anyway, the mission was complete and it was endlessly waiting alone if she stayed here.

But she wasn't willing. She wasn't willing to accept the plot of this 'youth drama' where like most of these dramas, there wasn't a good ending.

She wanted a good ending, so this time she waited for him.

After graduating, she stayed home for a few months and looked at several jobs in the programming industry, but she gave them up in the end.

In the end, she took a job that went against mathematics, she became a writer!

No, to be more precise, it wasn't a writer, but rather a more general.....editor.

She became the editor of a youth story publication, with many writers under her. She would see all the true and fake love stories each day, feeling the loneliness and sadness in her heart.

It was her third year at Sakura Publishing and she had finally overcome all obstacles to go from a junior editor to editor in chief of group A.

There were many people who chased her over the years and no matter how intense they were, she had kept them out the door.

"Di, di, di, di." There was the sound messages on WeChat and her hands didn't leave the keyboard as she looked at the calendar.

Today was Fang He's birthday. He was one of the most famous authors under her and with his looks, he had many fans.

Fifteen minutes later, she finished processing the last document and picked up the phone on her right side.

Man Who Has Dazzled Thousands of Girls: Great editor, can I invite you to a meal? I am alone now and I only have you as a friend.

Seeing this WeChat ID, Luo Qing Chen almost broke out in laughter.

This was the personal account of the great writer. If the fans knew that his ID was this, he wouldn't have been called a 'bubbly youth' by all his fans.

Qing Chen: Un, I just finished.

Her WeChat name was very simple, it was her name.

There were times that she thought that if that youth forgot her phone number one day, perhaps he could find her by just searching.

Although this idea was very dumb, it had given her hope before.

Man Who Has Dazzled Thousands of Girls: The Porsche 911 is already here, it's waiting downstairs for you.

Luo Qing Chen didn't reply, she just put her phone in her bag and walked to the elevator.

"Hello, editor Luo....."

"Hello, editor Luo....."

"Editor Luo, you're just getting off work?"

.....

All the people working here respected her since the A column that she led was always the most popular.

Of course, she didn't write anything, she just chose what was published.

Therefore, she was quite famous in the literature world. After all, there were many talented people, but few people with good eyes for talent.

She was the editor with good eyes for talent that everyone respected. She was good at digging out touching stories and promising newcomers.

Chapter 1940: Hello, my mister confidant (Part 43)

With a "ding" sound, the elevator door opened.

Standing inside was the editor in chief of group B, Wang De, with the nickname: Thousand Year Old Demon.

There were two assistants in lacy dresses and heavy makeup behind him.

This nickname had been given to him by the newcomers he brought years ago and it had followed him the entire time.

The meaning was that he was stubborn, strict, and quick witted, a person that was very difficult to get along with.

But since he was an editor in chief, there were plenty of people who flattered him.

He liked big girls and girls that had heavy makeup on. As long as they met these two requirements, they would most likely become his assistant.

Right, he also liked the new and hated the old.

“Editor Luo! You’re getting off work quite early today.” Wang De first greeted her, but the two assistants behind him didn’t take the initiative to greet her.

“Un.” Luo Qing Chen softly replied without saying anything else.

When the elevator reached the fifth floor, it opened again.

In came the editor in chief of group C, Lin Miao.

As an editor in chief, they were all people that couldn’t be offended. Lin Miao as a person loved to flatter others and did everything she could for her own benefits.

Envious and narrow minded.

A man had dazzled thousands of girls.

There was harmony on the surface of Sakura Magazine, but it was actually a three sided race.

“It seems like you’re not diligent enough, getting off this early?” Lin Miao’s voice was a bit sharp, she hated his voice more than Wang De’s cold taunting voice.

“This month’s ratings are good, it’s almost double your ratings.” Luo Qing Chen put her hands into the pockets of her coat and looked forward as she said with an indifferent look, “If I don’t slack off a bit, this three way tie might end soon.”

“You.....” Lin Miao heard this and her face turned red.

She was clearly the veteran here at Sakura Magazine, she had been the editor in chief for ten years!

Ten years! This was an astronomical number for a woman. She was twenty nine this year and she had dedicated her youth to this place, she had to become the editor in chief of Sakura Magazine!

The editor in chief position had been empty for the past few years, the main reason was that the boss and the board of directors couldn’t choose between Luo Qing Chen, Lin Miao, and Wang De.

If it was based on the sales and reader preference, it would definitely be Luo Qing Chen.

But Wang De also had his own abilities. Whether it was the youth love story theme, the urban story theme, or the science fiction theme, Wang De had dipped his fingers in everything.

Although he wasn’t the best, at least he was excellent.

As for Lin Miao, she had always been the weakest out of the three of them. Her advantage was that she was a true veteran of Sakura Magazine.

“Editor Luo, don’t be too complacent. You should have also heard it, Sakura Magazine was purchased by an American company and the ‘world’ will change starting next week.” Lin Miao looked a bit smug. Luo Qing Chen and Wang De looked at each other, understanding a bit in their hearts.

It seemed like Lin Miao had already hooked some people, otherwise she wouldn’t be this calm.

There was a ‘ding’ sound as the elevator reached the first floor. Luo Qing Chen looked over with a smile, “Then I wish you luck in finding a leg to hug!”

As soon as her voice fell, she headed out the doors of the company without even looking back, entering that bright red Porsche!
