Chapter 1961: Side story: Some people are like rainbows, only understanding after meeting them (Part 1)

I like you, clumsy and dull, having nothing and giving everything. ——He Jin Nian.

I shined bright from the day that I was born. I could easily solve problems that other children of the same age encountered.

I was never worried about my grades, but a life without trouble was boring after a long time.

When I met her, I used up all the luck in this one life.

And I didn't have the luck to be with her.

From middle school to high school, from high school to university, I always felt that she was a person that I was grateful to and had no other thoughts. Even when she handed that love letter to Xu Ze Yan, I only felt a bit of loss.

This loss didn't make me sad and didn't hurt my heart.

It was just that feeling that you got when your best friend got another half and you were frozen by it.

But there were many people in my life that I quickly forgot about.

Until that day on the basketball court. When I greeted her and said a few words to her.

Her boyfriend came over and showed off his superiority which made people annoyed to look at.

But I didn't say anything. I thought that I could walk away as gracefully as before.

But without knowing why, I suddenly cared.....

Perhaps it was because she said to Xu Ze Yan: We're not fighting, we're going separate ways.

Maybe it was because she looked at me with the corner of her eyes.

In short, I suddenly felt restless.

I rarely felt this way, but once I did, I would do.....something special.

For example, I knew that she went to the library.

For example, I ran into her there.

Sitting next to her, I felt my indifference turn to nervousness.

I was so nervous that I said in a slightly unwilling voice: Single people have nothing to share.

Then she said something that completely stunned me. She said that she was single too.

That feeling was very wonderful, a feeling that couldn't be described with any words.

Actually, what I looked forward to the most was the class reunion.

Because I knew that there would be people who would put my name together with hers.

But what I never thought was that Chen Ying Ying would suddenly appear.

But she seemed to be the key that allowed my heart to fill with determination.

I suggested that we roll dice.

The reason was very simple, I wanted to use the alcohol to say some things and do some things that I didn't dare do before.

But I never would have thought that her alcohol tolerance was that good.....

I suddenly felt small in front of her and she.....was that kind of dazzling.

The sound of beer bottles opening kept ringing out and the people around fell one by one.

She narrowed her eyes to seriously look at me which made my heart panic.

Finally I decided, I would act drunk.

Actually, it wasn't completely acting. I had drunk so much that my blood was boiling and my mind was particularly clear.

I could feel her bringing me into the taxi and I could smell the fragrance from her along with the scent of alcohol.

At that moment, I felt like I couldn't take it anymore.

There were things that could be left unsaid, but some things had to be done.

In the living room on the first floor, in that dim light, when I suddenly hugged her, I was probably more nervous than her.

What I wanted to know the most was.....did she see through my heart?

Xu Ze Yan.....or.....me?

Chapter 1962: Side story: Some people are like rainbows, only understanding after meeting them (Part 2)

Actually, sometimes I admitted that I had feelings for her, but I would become scared.

A single I love you couldn't be said for many years.

Perhaps because it was endured that no matter how long passed, I could stay by her side.

But I never thought that there would be a Fang He that would appear in our lives.

When I first saw Fang He, I knew that he would steal my spotlight.

It wasn't because he looked better than me, rather because of those eyes and his smile.

He was the complete opposite of me.....

His enthusiasm and aggressiveness made me strangely annoyed, but there was a bit of.....envy.

Yes, I envied him.

I envied that he could approach her without any hesitation, being able to confess his love without caring.

And I.....couldn't do that.

I felt like I was trapped in a deep abyss, desperately trying to escape, but I couldn't climb up no matter what.

At that time, as long as I heard Fang He's voice, I couldn't concentrate.

His quick tone was like a deep taunting voice that made me feel.....like I would soon lose her.

She only had me by her side before, but now.....

At that time, I wished that Fang He disappeared from this world, no longer existing.

I never knew if it was my resentment that was too strong or if Fang He's destiny was bad.

He really disappeared, or it can't be considered that since he became a 'vegetable'.

I heard that he was in an accident when he was buying flowers for her. It was Qixi that day, so he most likely wanted to confess to her!

In the dark side of my heart, there was a strange happiness. At least he could no longer take her away from me.

Although I knew that I could never have her because I knew that this accident would have an effect on her, so I couldn't cause her trouble at this time.

I felt that I could wait, wait until the day Fang He woke up, wait until we graduated and reached the age where we could start a business and a family.

But I never thought that I would never reach that day.

My family was targeted by our competitors and they used illegal means to slander our company, causing our stock prices to drop.

But my parents had always had quite the fame in the business circle, so they quickly used their plans and the company was stabilized.

But I never thought that they would use assassins.

When my uncle called, I knew that there was no future between me and her.

It turned out the first to leave was me and not her.....

Once before, I thought that I would always be by her side. No matter what happened, even if the person she chose to marry wasn't me, I would be by her side.

I never thought that I would be the one to decide to leave her.

When I was sitting on the airplane, I felt like I wanted to run off the plane at any time, forgetting all this hatred to stay by her side.

But I knew that I couldn't do that.

Life was filled with many choices and each choice was difficult.

The choice that I was making this time was the most difficult one in my life.

The days in America were harder than I imagined. My parents had left me some money, but this money was stored in a specific bank. The mastermind behind the assassination had sent people to watch the bank.

I knew that they wanted to catch me and then finish this.

After all, for this money, in a country where one could freely obtain firearms, it wasn't a problem for them to kill one or two people.

Chapter 1963: Side story: Some people are like rainbows, only understanding after meeting them (Part 3)

Actually I should thank Chen Li because when I needed help the most, he appeared by my side.

Although he did some very dumb things later, I didn't fire him.

Did you think that the reason I didn't fire him was because he was someone who was with me while I was hiding?

Then you're very wrong. I didn't fire Chen Li because my wife.....didn't agree!

Of course, her becoming my wife was something that happened long after.

After all, when I was in America, it was a kind of delusion.

The three years for her was like a snap of a finger, but every day was like a year for me.

I wanted to catch my enemies as soon as possible every day, but I knew that the faster it was, the less calm I would be.

However, I couldn't control myself. It was hard to sleep every night when I was in hiding and only in the few seconds of sleep, I would dream of her.

That pure white school uniform, that brown plaid skirt, that long hair that went to her shoulders, and the faint smile.

It really was warm in the dream, so warm that I didn't want to wake up.....

Finally, the heavens didn't let me down and I found decisive evidence. It turned out that my parents didn't just leave me money, they also left evidence of bribes and threats of violence from those competitors.

In the end, I managed to catch them up and used the connections my parents left behind to start over.

Actually.....that wasn't hard, or at least it wasn't hard at all for me.

Half a year later, when the company had the ability to go public, there were of course people who asked me why I named the company QC. During those times, my lips couldn't help curling.

Because she was a dazzling queen in my eyes, just a warm beam of light that shined into my life.

And I was the one whose greatest wish was to put that crystal crown on her head.

Of course, it had another meaning which was that QC equaled Qing Chen.

In her name, I was able to bring out endless fighting spirit and work hard.

I hoped that when I could see her again, I would be dazzling, so I could match her.

Before coming back, I had secretly investigated her current job.

Actually, when I had sent the people who killed my parents to jail, I was thinking of ways to find information on her.

But I knew at that time that since I didn't have any domestic connections, it was impossible.

My original phone number, I had thought that it had been shut down.....

When I went to get that number again, I learned that someone had been helping me pay for three years.

Truly good.....Luo Qing Chen really was a very, very good girl.....

After investigating, I knew that Sakura was only a second rate magazine in A City and she was just one of the editors in chief.

I suddenly felt that this didn't match her. Such an excellent person was only an editor in chief, did they not have eyes?

I bought that company without another word to create an excuse to approach her.

Facts proved that this excuse was quite good.....

In that conference room, when I saw her surprised expression, when I saw everyone's surprised expression, I felt strangely happy.

She just wanted to be dazzling and I was willing to let her be that way forever.

I just wanted to be a shadow because then I could keep chasing her.....

Like the shadow chasing light and dreams.....

[Ding, congratulations on bringing a soul fragment into the Lead God Space. 32/100]

Chapter 1964: Master, please step up (Part 1)

When she returned to the Chaos Space, Luo Qing Chen was confused.

She was only in her sixties, she was in her golden years, how could she suddenly come back?!

Luo Qing Chen knitted her brows in confusion, but she couldn't remember what happened.

[Does the host need to see the scene before your death?]

Damn, of course!

Hearing the voice of the system, she felt that it had been a long time since she had finished the mission a long time ago in the previous world.

So early that other than saying a few words that 'scared' her, it had never appeared.

The bronze mirror was covered in a light blue glow and a familiar scene entered her eyes.

This was a pink bedroom. She liked to be mature when she was twenty and when she was sixty, she liked to act.....coquettish.

It was a good thing that their family's mister He played along. He was someone who was worth hundreds of millions, but he didn't mind playing along with his wife.

The gardenias were placed on the wooden cabinet in the bedroom. Just looking at it, it was like there was the faint scent of gardenias in this Chaos Space.

On quiet nights, she would put her legs on He Jin Nian's stomach and her restless hands would come to his face.

Seeing her sleeping like this, Luo Qing Chen felt a bit embarrassed.

"Ke, ke....." She cleared her throat and said, "This.....This isn't anything! It's beautiful, how did it seem like the scene before death....."

Before she could finish, the scene in the bronze mirror suddenly started to shake. He Jin Nian who had been beside her instantly opened his eyes and wanted to carry her out, but the ceiling collapsed on them.

He turned and used his sixty year old body to firmly protect her.

How much love did he have to not forget his original intentions after all these years? At the moment of life and death, his first thought was still to protect her.

Although he had failed in the end! But this action had made her eyes turn red as she stood in this Chaos Space.

The picture turned black and the bronze mirror gradually regained its cold appearance.

"Earth.....Earthquake?"

[Yes.]

"But our house is protected from earthquakes because it's....."

Luo Qing Chen didn't get to finish as the system cut her off.

[A magnitude twelve earthquake.]

?!

“Damn! Isn’t it GG for everyone!”

[Un, 99% of the people in A City all died!]

.....

Luo Qing Chen wasn’t that depressed since she didn’t think that she was lucky enough to be in that 1%.

[Then the system will give the summary now!]

Chapter 1965: Master, please step up (Part 2)

Luo Qing Chen silently sorted through the previous host's memories and was strangely excited.

It was something that hadn't been seen in a long time.....an online game.

Moreover, it was an online game that made her feel nostalgic because in the beginning, she and Mu Qian Liu had met in this game.

The previous host was the daughter of the richest man in A City, with a very powerful family backing.

It was probably because real life was too boring since she was a rich young miss with everything, so there was nothing for her to do during normal days other than going to taste famous delicacies.

Coincidentally, at this time, Su Nan Nan who was also a rich miss was 'emotionally hurt' in this game.

Actually, it wasn't considered much. It was that Su Nan Nan had a crush on one of the gods in this game, but no matter how hard she tried, she couldn't gain the attention of the great god!

Because the great god was just.....too cold.

The previous host had been drinking and said that she would definitely get this cold man for her best friend and then decisively dump them.

It was a pity that in reality.....the previous host didn't even touch his hem when she fell into a scumbag's 'online harem world'!

Su Nan Nan's male god was the number one light blade in the new server of the online game «Heavenly Mandate» who was said to have incredible skills.

Therefore, there were a lot of girls that were the same as Su Nan Nan who worshiped this god. However, they could only watch from afar and couldn't.....play with them!

By the side of the great god, there would be many girls who were called 'crying monsters' on the web.

It had to be said, the previous host really was bad at games, but that didn't mean that she wasn't a local tyrant. The previous host directly bought thirty thousand dollars worth of coins and took the wings that all the local tyrants wore, the dark gold wings!

Even if she was a noob, if you were rich, there would be people willing to play with you even if your noobiness reached a point where it couldn't be cured.

Since she had money, the previous host was able to easily enter the high level area of the new server. With how bad she was, when she went into dungeons, she would always turn into a corpse.

When the men in the game saw that she was a girl and she had money, they naturally didn't say anything.

But those girls who didn't have money and saw that she got her wings even without skills had an illness when they saw her.

The name of that illness was jealousy!

Once they were infected, those little white flowers that only had a bit of skill and liked to act weak naturally started to spread rumours.

For example: There is a girl with some money in our guild! She doesn't have anything and can enter the high level dungeons, it really is a joke!

Or like: That Summer! Her skills really are trash, but because she relies on Sun, she can enter the high level group!

Speaking of Sun, his ID was called Sun God. He was a paladin with decent skills.

It was a pity that he only had decent skills and wasn't a tyrant. When the game reached max level, he only put in ninety dollars.

The rest, including the twenty eight thousand dollar wings he was wearing were all given to him by the previous host.

But no one in the game knew about this.

Although the previous host didn't hesitate to spend money and acted slightly like a young miss, she was still a good person.

In order not to hurt Sun's pride, she had never mentioned the matter of her paying for others, so the other people of the team never knew about this.

The previous host gradually turned from a girl with money to a girl who 'was being carried by others'.

Of course, this wasn't the worst thing. The worst thing was that Sun was a complete scumbag!

Chapter 1966: Master, please step up (Part 3)

The guild that the previous host was in was called Fight the World Together, it was a large battle guild in the new server Light Dream. Most of the people in this guild spent money to play this game and they spent quite a bit.

Most men needed girls when playing games and this guild had a small group of girls who were led by 'Sweetheart Darling', being the so-called group of cute girls.

They naturally disliked the previous host because the previous host could buy what she liked herself and they had to make a "contract" with the big brothers before they could get what they wanted.

Over time, the previous host became an outsider in the guild. In their free time, they liked to gossip about her.

For example.....

“That summer, I can tell that it’s Sun giving her money to spend. She acts like a boss all day, I bet that she’s already given that away!”

“How could she not? Otherwise with those skills, how could she still go to the dungeons? She can only hug the legs of the big brothers, it truly is disgusting!”

.....

There were countless people who said stuff like this.

The previous host had been pampered since she was young and had never encountered something like this before. She didn’t know what to do at all when she encountered this.

The supporting male lead ‘Sun God’ told her at this time that if she gave gifts to them, maybe that would change their mind.

The previous host liked ‘Sun God’ very much and to stay in the guild, during the New Years event, she gave all the girls in the cute girls group led by Sweetheart Darling a new bride set.

She never thought that they would fight back when they received the bride set, letting ‘Sweetheart Darling’ from their group to successfully catch ‘Sun God’.

Later the previous host learned that this ‘Sweetheart Darling’ girl had been having an affair with ‘Sun God’ for a long time.

But for the previous host’s money, ‘Sun God’ have never married her.

Before this, ‘Sweetheart Darling’ had directly done that with ‘Sun God’. After this man called Sun had finished the deed, he had gone back to forcefully break the contract with the previous host.

Moreover, it was using a server message, like a man who couldn’t take it anymore.

[Server message] Sun God: It’s not enough after I gave you all those things? You always ask for money when you log on and you’re always dead when you go into dungeons. If this contract isn’t broken, how long should I keep it going?

Then there was a system announcement that rang out in the server.

[System announcement] Sun God has used a secret method to break the contract with Summer. The old vows have disappeared from the Setting Cloud Continent and can never be replaced.

Since the cute girls group from the Fighting the World Together guild all stood with Sun God and Sweetheart Darling, no one believed anything the previous host said in her defense.

Not to mention that before she had time to defend herself, the guild master of the Fighting the World Together guild had kicked her.

All the people she loved and all the money she spent couldn’t be taken back.

The next day, Sun God and Sweetheart Darling formed a contract and bought a pack of fireworks worth fifty two dollars to set off, making their wedding very festive.

Both the world messages and server messages rang out, but the previous host was lonely.

Only one person messaged her, it was the only apprentice that she received when she entered the game.

[DM] White Clothes like the Beginning: Master, are you alright.....

The previous host's apprentice had a low level and poor equipment. The two had met because he had found the previous host to buy a limited edition mount named 'Nine Coloured Immortal Deer'.

But when the previous host traded it, she forgot to receive the payment for it.....

Chapter 1967: Master, please step up (Part 4)

The previous host didn't even realize this after logging on the next day.

Until her apprentice added her as a friend, she said in a voice of understanding, "It's like this!"

So it was her apprentice that knew her best. A person that didn't care about a mount that cost a thousand dollars, they wouldn't be as terrible as the world said they were.

After receiving the care of her apprentice, the previous host was very pleased.

After all, in this ice cold game, there was someone who still truly believed in her.

She sent all her valuables to her apprentice and then went to delete her character.

For her, this game no longer had any meaning other than hatred.

She wanted to take revenge, she wanted to tear them apart, she wanted to expose their hypocrisy to the world! She even wanted to go to their enemy guild 'Drunken Dream Lazy Flower Wine' to fight them.

But she knew that she couldn't do this and those little white flowers were right about her.

In every battle, every dungeon, and every territory fight, she wasn't any use at all. She was a handicap.

She only wanted to be a casual player when she joined this game, browsing the scenery of the game and wearing the most beautiful clothes.

But she never thought that after meeting 'Sun God', she would be pulled into a battle guild.

How she wished that she could become a first class healer, but this was an illusion for her.

After deleting the game, she went out to drink at a bar, but she never thought that she would be in a car accident when she came back.

The moment before she died, the plot of the game «Heavenly Mandate» was on her mind.

If she could repeat her life, even her game life again, she would definitely become a first class healer. The most important thing would be——

Tearing up the little white flowers and staying away from that scumbag!

[What does the host feel about this world?]

Un! It feels like it's challenging! But I want to know, where is the male lead?

She had to admit that there was no male lead at all in the memories of the previous host.

Yes, not a single bit.

[The male lead's name was on the display. He is one of the experts in the Light Dream Server's best guild, Drunken Dream Lazy Flower Wine!]

So it's like this! Isn't that the guild the host wanted to join to take revenge on them?

It was seven months back, this was when the previous host had just entered a contract with Sun God and joined the Fighting the World Together's cute girl group.

In fact, the first day the previous host joined the guild, she didn't like the cute girl group that Sweetheart Darling led.

The rich guys were called big brothers and the girls would always flatter them.

Girls that had money were a different breed to them and they would be jealous of them!

Luo Qing Chen sat in front of the computer and looked at her character in the game. This game felt really familiar to her and although it had been close to twenty worlds, she felt very excited to come back to it.

This time, she had job changed from the peerless Flowing Light to becoming a healer.

To be honest, she didn't like the job of healer that much. After all, healers could only heal and couldn't kill people normally.

She looked at herself in the game wearing the white wedding dress with a title above her that said: Sun GodTogether Forever.

This was the title that people received when they formed a soul contract with each other.

Without knowing why, she felt disgusted seeing it! At this time, the 'cute girl group' of the guild spoke up.

Chapter 1968: Master, please step up (Part 5)

[Guild] Cute Darling: Did someone send me flowers? [Cute Darling's status].

[Guild] Sweetheart Darling: I want flowers too! ㄟ(ωω)ㄨ

[Guild] Dragon God Big Brother: You two are so popular and you still want flowers!

This Dragon God Big Brother was a big brother and he was one that didn't have a contract right now.

But she remembered that his voice was rather rough, so the three people in the 'cute girl group' didn't like it.

But looking at it, even if you didn't like it, you had to hug the big brother's leg. After all, a big brother that didn't have a contract would be easy to get gifts from.

[Guild] Fairy Darling: Didn't Dragon God Big Brother open a bunch of gift boxes yesterday? Did you give it to that young miss?

When Luo Qing Chen saw the messages in the guild chat, she revealed a faint smile.

It seemed like the three girls of the cute girl group had appeared. This Fairy Darling should be the one that was the most low key among them.

But as long as the man she was with had something, she would definitely post in the guild chat. Look at this, this, this, all these new items, you have to give some to her.

[Guild] Dragon God Big Brother: I just casually opened them, I don't have anyone to give it to!

[Guild] Fairy Darling: I saw that you sent Blossoming the Rainbow Rose yesterday! Is what she was wearing given by you as well?

Seeing the words from this 'Fairy Darling', Luo Qing Chen gave a cold snort and muttered, "Can only men have money, can't women have money as well?"

[Guild] Blossoming: What a joke! Just because you don't have anything, does that mean others can't?

[Guild] Fairy Darling: Miss Blossoming, don't be so agitated! I'm not making fun of Dragon God! (=?д?=?)

[Guild] Blossoming: I can't take it.

Guild notification: Blossoming has left the guild.

Luo Qijng Chen sitting in front of the computer was surprised. It seemed like this had happened in the memories of the previous host as well.

But the previous host had stood on the side of the cute girl group.

[Guild] Fairy Darling: Damn! Do you need to be so fragile? Can't you just take a joke?

[Guild] Sweetheart Darling: There are many people like this, showing off with only a bit of battle power. It's not like she's our guild's number one healer!

[Guild] Sun God: The number one healer in our guild is my wife! [Summer's status]

Ze, ze, he really was 'two faced'. This sun God was trying single mindedly to win the trust of the previous host.

After all, he knew better than anyone that the previous host was the one who was rich.

[Guild] Fairy Darling: What's the use of high battle power! It can be obtained by hugging a leg, the key thing is whether one's skills are good.

This girl named Fairy Darling really had a mocking tone. Luo Qing Chen opened her status, thirty thousand battle power!

She then opened her own, fifty thousand battle power!

Although they were both healers, it was clear that they were healers of different levels. Moreover, their skills weren't even in the same realm!

No, the system didn't give her the healer skills yet, right?

[Oh! Sorry, the system just forgot!]

[Ding, because of the specialty of this gaming world, the host has only obtained 50% of the healer skills.]

?! What does this 50% mean?

[Since this is an A level mission, the host can only gain 50% of the skills!]

What about the other 50%?

[Learn it yourself!]

He, he, he, he, he, he.....It had to be said, her system really was getting more and more naughty!

Chapter 1969: Master, please step up (Part 6)

She could understand what the 50% the system meant was. It was using the number one healer of «Heavenly Mandate» as a base and giving her half their skills.

But it was clear that having 50% of the skills, she could already feel the sensitivity coming in.

She quickly typed some words on the keyboard.

[Guild] Summer: Plant the flag?

In this game, planting the flag meant 1v1.

In Luo Qing Chen's words, there's no need to waste words if you can use your hands! Using the sword was the best way to deal with problems!

The Fighting the World Together chat channel exploded.

There were three shrill voices that rang out in the cute girl group's room.....

"She dares to challenge you even when she's that handicapped?"

"Right! Who doesn't know that her level 79 healer can't even beat a level 50 dungeon? How can you challenge you to plant the flag?"

"Isn't it because she's hugging thighs! No matter what, Sun is one of the best, I just don't know why his brain is so bad that he formed a contract with that handicapped person."

"Then do you think I should accept or not? Doesn't the handicapped person know if she can beat me or not?"

"Accept it! I can't stand how arrogant she is!" Cute Darling pursed her lips as she said, "I'm clearly better than her, I don't know why Sun likes her!"

As one of the three girls in the guild, she played best with Sun.

She always thought that he would form a contract with her, but she never thought that there would be a high battle strength healer called Summer that would suddenly appear!

Although her battle strength was high, in her eyes, she definitely raised her battle strength and got the equipment from her contract.

[Guild]: Fairy Darling: A fifty thousand healer is fighting a thirty thousand healer like me, how embarrassing would it be if you lost!"

[Guild] Summer: Beating noobs is never embarrassing.

As soon as she sent this, Sun God sent her a DM.

[DM] Sun God: What is with you today, why are you so angry? Fairy's skills are quite good, you shouldn't plant the flag with her!

As Sun God who was contracted to the previous host, he naturally knew what level the previous host was at. Although the previous host had good equipment, in a duel, it would be wasted skills if she couldn't land them.....

Adding in the fact that she can't move, the other side's skills would all hit her.

Luo Qing Chen narrowed her eyes. She didn't even reply as she bought a Duel Sticker from the store and put in Fairy Darling's ID!

The world exploded!

[World] Cold Moon Turns Into a River Thinking of You: Damn! A Duel Sticker!

[World] Peaceful: What is interesting about two healers.....

[World] Little Ruler KK: I've played with this Fairy before, she is quite a good healer!

[World] Cute Darling: It's a pity! The other fifty thousand healer is handicapped! Declaring a dule like this and still losing, you won't be able to last on this server anymore.

[World] Sweetheart Darling: Right! Still showing off in the guild, who doesn't know where you got those equipment from?

In order to show off the friendship between the three sisters, the other two darlings went to the world chat to show support for their sister.

But there were those with righteousness that also appeared, for example, Blossoming who just left the guild.

[World] Blossoming: There are a lot of people who get jealous in this world, they aren't happy if others have what they don't have! He, he, laughable!

Chapter 1970: Master, please step up (Part 7)

Luo Qing Chen opened Blossoming's profile. A healer with forty five thousand battle power and a set of top grade equipment.

She was surprised when she saw her guild information. The person who had left the guild had gone to Drunken Dream Lazy Flower Wine.

Wasn't this the guild of the male lead Gong Mu Bai?

[World] Fairy Baby: Fight if you want, I'm not afraid of you.

Luo Qing Chen narrowed her eyes and quickly typed something as she revealed a faint smile.

[Horn] Summer: I'm waiting for you at Sulan Bridge, do you dare to delete your account if you lose?

The world was already boiling, Luo Qing Chen went to using the horn.

Such a fierce display made Fairy Darling panic a bit.

The three girls started discussing in their group again.

"Is she real? She went to the horn?"

"It's already been said, how embarrassing if you didn't do it!"

"How about I make a bet with her! Anyway, she can't be my opponent with her skills." Fairy Baby swallowed a mouthful of saliva after saying this, "She can't suddenly become stronger....."

"What are you panicking for? Didn't you see the guild experts fighting this afternoon! The amount of healing was abysmal."

"Alright! I'm not afraid of her!"

Fairy Darling gritted her teeth as she bought a horn to reply to Luo Qing Chen.

[Horn] Fairy Darling: Let's do it then, don't regret it afterwards!

The world exploded once again.

This was the healer duel of the century, there were already people in the world making bets.

[World] Gambler 005: Taking bets, taking bets, it's 1:1 right now! Come and enter the group, put down your bets!

[World] Person In a Dream: This Fairy Darling and Summer's battle strength has a big difference! Can she win?

[World] A Small Bear: That isn't certain, Fairy's skills aren't bad. I've heard that although Summer's equipment is good, her skills can't keep up!

[World] Falling Happiness: That's right. Battle strength is one thing, but skills are another thing.

.....

The world chat was going too fast that she was too lazy to care about it.

When she heard a 'ding' sound, she looked at the chat in the lower right.

It was a DM from the previous host's apprentice.

[DM] White Clothes like the Beginning: Master, are you really planting the flag with her?

Speaking of this apprentice, Luo Qing Chen remembered that he kept following her because the previous host had been too lazy to collect the money.

Not only did he give the previous host the money, he insisted on becoming her apprentice and letting her teach him!

Wasn't this a joke? The previous host was that bad, would she teach him how to rush into a crowd to die?

[DM] Summer: Is a deleting account duel a joke? (Eating sunflower seeds)

Since the previous host liked using this emote, she would use it too.

[DM] White Clothes like the Beginning: But.....that person's skills aren't bad.

Luo Qing Chen narrowed her eyes and gave a soft snort as she typed something on her keyboard!

[DM] Summer: Father's battle strength crushes hers!

After saying this, she saw Fairy Darling walking over in the free equipment that the game offered.

Luo Qing Chen looked at her own avatar, she was wearing full rare clothes and they were covered in high level dyes.

She suddenly understood why those girls would be so 'jealous'!

After all, there was too much of a gap between them!

[System] Notification: Player Fairy Darling has accepted player Summer's challenge, they will enter combat mode in sixty seconds.

[World] Gambler 005: It's now 5:1! Are there any other bets, it'll end soon!
