Chapter 2021: Master, please step up (Part 58)

She thought that the 'student teacher relationship' would be a hurdle for Gong Mu Bai, but she never thought that he would accept it that easily!

"What kind of relationship are you talking about?" Gong Mu Bai's lips curled as he said, "I quite like the marriage license relationship."

Actually, in his heart, whether it was a student teacher relationship, a relationship as husband and wife, or as contracted in a game, he liked them all.

As long as she was Luo Qing Chen, even a relationship that he couldn't accept before could accept now if it was her.

"....." Luo Qing Chen saw the smile on his face and said, "You've never care about the opinions of others?"

"If I said that I no longer cared after seeing you for the first time, would you believe it?" Gong Mu Bai took a sip of his beer before a loving look appeared in his eyes, "Perhaps it wasn't love at first sight, but I knew that I would care.....very much."

When he saw her name in the WeChat group, he was very surprised.

Thinking back now, there were no words to describe his feelings. It should be half joy and half sadness.

Happy it was her and also sad that it was her.

Luo Qing Chen was strangely moved when she heard Gong Mu Bai's words.

She felt that it was a little love story, but it also described the feelings in Gong Mu Bai's heart.

Perhaps he didn't fall in love at first sight with her, but he knew that he would love her in the future.

This was what Gong Mu Bai wanted to express.

"You....."

"Wa, so beautiful. Look at the skyscraper across."

"What is this? A marriage proposal?"

.....

The darkness was suddenly lit up by the lights from the sea as the silent sky was illuminated with fireworks.

Luo Qing Chen looked in the direction of the skyscraper where there was a short line written: Even if you are my student, I don't care what the world thinks and promise that I will be with you for the rest of my life.

These golden words stayed for a minute before it turned to the next page.

It was an even simpler line of words: Marry me, alright?

“Marry me, alright?” He fell to one knee on this crowded street, in this food stand with people walking around. He held a pink box with a diamond ring inside of it with eyes that sparkled like water.

It wasn't just a simple midnight snack.

It wasn't as simple as she thought.

It turned out.....this was a well planned proposal.

In the center of the fireworks, while everyone was watching, the crowd suddenly started clapping and cheering.

He didn't choose a high end restaurant, he chose a very busy street.

Luo Qing Chen knew why he did this. It was because he didn't feel any taboo from their relationship and didn't even hesitate at all.

He didn't need to hide anything, he could tell the whole world that his student was his wife, so he chose this place to propose to her.

“Alright!” She nodded as she revealed a smile that couldn't be hidden.

He slowly put the diamond ring on her ring finger before raising his right hand to lovingly pat her head.

“Only.....” She then took a step forward and whispered in his ear, “Teacher, are you happy being this naughty?”

“I'm happy with you.” He pulled with his right hand and brought her into his embrace, “Quickly pass the exam, quickly grow up, and quickly get married.....Ha, ha, forget it, our family's Qing is still a child.”

Chapter 2022: Master, please step up (Part 59)

After getting the license and proposing, what came after their preparations wasn't their wedding.

It was the university exams.

Of course, there were some things that happened before the university exam which was related to the supporting male and female leads of this world.

Guan Zi Yang and Xia Tian Xin.

Guan Zi Yang took three days off to sell his game account. It was a pity that his account had become a joke on this server and no matter how low the price was, no one wanted to buy it.

This gossip became the biggest gossip in the history of Heavenly Mandate. The contracted in the game and his real life girlfriends were actually 'sisters'.

There was a certain Fairy who said that the two of them were both showing off in YY about how good the voice of their boyfriend was.

But they didn't know that the man they were talking about was the same person.

Three days later, when Guan Zi Yang came back to Forgotten River High School, he was kept out by the security guard.

Gong Mu Bai had already perfectly taken care of this incident. With his power, he had the board of directors expel him.

His girlfriend Xia Tian Xin had been expelled three days ago without any room for discussion.

It had to be said, based on this, Gong Mu Bai really was different from what he seemed.

He wasn't a talented and graceful young master, but rather a very black bellied god.

Thinking of it, if Gong Mu Bai was the elegant young master, he would have played the magic DPS Void Jade in the game.

Those snow white robes instead of a Light Blade with a sword dyed red with blood.

This proved the character hidden in his heart. The books said that this kind of person couldn't be offended in real life!

Because one would 'die' and it would be ugly, like what happened with Guan Zi Yang and Xia Tian Xin.

After all, in this expulsion matter, Gong Mu Bai just casually gave the reason 'unnecessary' and it was easily solved.

A month later, before the university exam.

Cheng Xing Xing couldn't sleep all night and she had two black circles around her eyes the next day.

Moreover, she looked at her with a bitter look, "Qing! My math depends on your great god. If he's right, then my university dreams still exist or it will all be for nothing!"

"Xing! You want to cram for the university exam?" Luo Qing Chen gave a sigh after imitating her tone. After all, she clearly knew the abilities of her family's great god.

It wasn't 100%, but it was still 80%.

"You.....You, you, you....." Cheng Xing Xing patted her chest and said, "I feel dizzy if you say things like this."

"Do well, I'll be waiting at Forgotten River University for you."

"Pu, isn't that a bit too high!" Cheng Xing Xing narrowed her eyes and said, "But that's just high for me, shouldn't you be going for Harvard or something?"

"The great god said that he will be teaching at Forgotten River University next year, so I still want to learn from him." Luo Qing Chen revealed a smile and it was hard to hide the happiness in her eyes.

She felt that Gong Mu Bai looked good during class, she felt that it would be true that he would mesmerize people.

“Damn! You still want to be his student?” Cheng Xing Xing’s lips curled slightly, “Ha, ha! Interesting, interesting! Other people would hide this kind of relationship, but you guys keep showing it off.”

“Perhaps this is what I like most about the great god.” Luo Qing Chen looked at Gong Mu Bai who was slowly walking over and said with a faint smile, “He has everything that I like.”

That kind of liking someone without caring about their identity, the world, or anything else would make people feel very moved.

Gong Mu Bai had moved her like this.

Chapter 2023: Master, please step up (End)

Gong Mu Bai might not have known, but when he slowly came over to her, he became the center of attention.

“Look, look, the male and female lead from the post!”

“What are you gossiping about, it’s their family matter!”

“Ah, ah, ah! I’m just envious, teacher Gong is so handsome! He was a substitute for our class before, he’s just too handsome!”

“Ha, ha! He comes to his wife’s exam, he really is good!”

.....

There was gossip all around them and although they didn’t say anything bad, she felt awkward hearing it.

“Did you bring everything?” He stood in front of her, looking at her with sparkling eyes like he was looking at a treasure.

“I brought everything.” She nodded with an obedient look.

“Un.” Gong Mu Bai softly replied before suddenly pulling her into his embrace.

“Woah!” There was an uproar around them. She could feel her face suddenly revealing a blush which quickly spread all the way to her ears.

“Gong Mu Bai.....”

“Do well! When you finish, you should be an adult.”

His tone was strangely gentle, like a warm current that flowed into her heart.

She looked up into his deep eyes and seriously said, “I will always walk in your direction.”

“The problem is.....” He had a gentle smile as he looked at her with a loving look, “I was always by your side.”

With a breeze, the leaves slowly fell down. She revealed a smile as her face was filled with happiness.

There were claps all around them, blessing their crazy teacher student relationship.

After the exam.

Since Gong Mu Bai's quiz was 90% accurate, Cheng Xing Xing was barely able to make the cutoff for Forgotten River University.

Luo Qing Chen directly entered university with her high score, even scoring in the top ten.

The most important life lesson was over, so now she was heading to her second lesson.

The seventh of July, the wedding dress dragged on the ground.

There were many people who came to their wedding, including their classmates from class one and their beautiful head teacher Xu Wei.

At the wedding, she drank too much and said with a look of regret, "Why did I miss this opportunity! Why did I let my student get ahead of me!"

"Teacher Xu, this is wrong." Cheng Xing Xing shook her head, "Teacher Xu never had a chance."

"This girl, don't think that I can't take care of you after you've graduated!" Xu Wei put her hands on her hips as she pretended to be angry, "Why did teacher never have a chance?"

"Because." Cheng Xing Xing said with a smile, "Teacher Gong and Luo Qing Chen didn't know each other at school, but they knew each other in the game".

"What?" Xu Wei said with a look of disbelief, "What game?"

"Heavenly Mandate!"

Luo Qing Chen passed by Xu Wei holding Gong Mu Bai's hand and she didn't forget to answer her question.

It really was a magical game, where unexpected encounters had happened.

"Actually, I've always been looking for an opportunity." When they were exchanging rings, Gong Mu Bai slowly said by her ear, "To let White Clothes like the Beginning and Admiring the Moon become one person.

"What person?" Luo Qing Chen looked up with a trace of doubt in her eyes.

He sealed it with a kiss before saying, "Your contracted."

She revealed a smile as he lovingly looked at her. This person that she thought was impossible to approach in the game and the person who she thought was impossible to be together with in real life.

Now she was his wife.

This was their story.

Chapter 2024: Side Story: If two people love each other, others can't do a thing (Part 1)

On the future path, I will share all the happiness with you and I will try all the pain before you. ——Gong Mu Bai.

In my life, I never had any worries since I was young. Maybe it was because of my personality that I didn't like to go to clubs like those friends of mine.

I liked playing games more.

A friend had once told me that someone like me was definitely suited for online dating.

I couldn't help nodding and saying: You're very right.

The online world was more real than the real world in most cases. The feelings that people didn't dare express in the real world would all come out in the online world.

I've seen many people who live in rented houses that are less than ten square meters in real life, eating instant noodles for every meal who can spend thousands on the game. It was all to let other people call them boss and enjoy the vanity that they couldn't enjoy in real life.

To be honest, I didn't discriminate against those kinds of people, rather I felt that this was what they desired the most.

They could get girls and things that they couldn't get in real life in the game.

It was because of this that I liked online games, I liked seeing all the faces in the game with the identity of a bystander.

Until I met Luo Qing Chen with the smurf that I used to collect things.

This was the first time that I felt that other than comparing money and seeing who was richer, there was something else in the game.

She just sent an item worth a thousand dollars to me without even collecting the money.

I was stunned when I received this mail and I remembered her name.

Summer, what a good name.

I waited for three days and I thought that she would ask for the money from me, but she never did. It was as if she had forgotten about this matter, or she didn't even care about it in the first place.

I was filled with disbelief. She was like a breath of fresh air in this muddy game, different from others.

When I contacted her and asked if she was lacking an apprentice, she was very casual like she didn't want to pay attention to me.

After saying a few words, she went to do a quest with her contracted.

When I saw the name of the contracted, I denied my own inference.

Perhaps she was like the others in the game, no different from them.

I gave her the money and then didn't contact her again.

Occasionally I would hear people say that her equipment was given to her from her contracted, but I couldn't help saying: A person who doesn't care about something worth over a thousand, they wouldn't need others to provide equipment for them.

Facts proved that I was right.

Because her battle power increased very quickly and her contracted didn't improve as fast as her.

I thought that she and I would only meet by chance in this game and wouldn't meet again.

But on a quiet night, she, who was a person who never used a horn, had suddenly used one to challenge someone to a deleting their account duel.

Without knowing why, I felt that she always made me feel like she was a different person. Although we never met again, I had heard from friends that she was a handicapped healer.

Whether it was on the battlefield or in the dungeons, her skills weren't that good.

But she had declared this duel and declared it on a healer who had a much lower battle power.

Many people in the world chat thought that she couldn't beat this healer.

Seeing the odds of the bet, I was a bit unhappy and directly went on my smurf to bet on her victory.

Chapter 2025: Side Story: If two people love each other, others can't do a thing (Part 2)

But I never would have thought that not only would I be betting on the victory of the match, I would be betting on her.

Atop Sulan Bridge, there were countless people watching this account deleting duel.

She used less than a minute to beat her enemy.

During this time, her opponent wasn't able to resist at all and she had used each skill perfectly, which was the skills of a great god.

The world fell into an uproar and even her opponent never thought that she would be defeated like this.

At this moment, I strangely felt like I wanted to.....get to know her again.

Later she fought a few more matches and no matter who the opponent was, their job, or their battle power, she didn't lose.

Luo Qing Chen was dazzling at that moment, she was different from the Luo Qing Chen that I knew before.

She broke the contract with Sun God that night and left the guild.

I was following up on her the entire time, feeling very nervous. I strangely expected her name to appear in the guild.

Because on this server, the only guild that could compete with Fighting the World Together was Drunken Dream Lazy Flower Wine.

I hoped that she would come and it was a strange feeling of hope.

No one knew just how excited I was the moment her name appeared in Drunken Dream.

I had never felt this emotion before, it could be considered, nervousness.

But there was no use being nervous because other than using the White Clothes like the Beginning account to call her master, I couldn't talk to her with the Admiring the Moon account.

I needed a reason to add her as a friend, to get her WeChat information.

I had an epiphany at that moment, I suddenly remembered that she got a Wild Hero Spirit last night.

There were times where buying things were the best way to approach someone without making them suspicious.

The market price of the Wild Hero Spirit was nine thousand to ten thousand, she wouldn't raise the price since I was a great god.

It was because of this that I was able to get her WeChat.

But I never expected the relationship between us to not be as simple as buyer and seller in the game.

It turned out that we met in real life.

And I had actually become her.....math teacher.

I had thought that this was a chance from god and if I didn't grasp it, I would be letting myself down.

But when the opportunity came, it turned out that she was sick.

I was a bit annoyed. Allergies were an important matter, but she had been that casual about it.

I felt that she was a bit immature in real life, completely different from that fearless appearance she had in the game.

I was already her contracted at that time. I was desperate when I brought her to the land of contracts and had given it a try.

Because I didn't like those people saying that she didn't have a contracted. In my eyes, there was no one in the game that could match her.

Un, other than me.

I thought that she didn't know I was her teacher, but I never expected her to know before me.

I thought that this was fine later. I wanted to make things clear, but she still wanted to be my contracted after she learned of this which meant that I still had a chance.

But this girl was very disobedient at times. For example, logging in to fight in the territory battles even when she was sick.

Although I knew that Drunken Dream was able to keep Central State because she healed me.

In my eyes, her body was more important than anything. It was the first time that I scolded her and I felt a bit of regret after scolding her.....

Chapter 2026: Side Story: If two people love each other, others can't do a thing (Part 3)

It was probably because the feelings I had were getting harder to control or rather the feelings for her.

I couldn't hold them back. I couldn't even wait for her to take the university exam or graduate before wanting to bring her to see my parents.

With a call, I learned that her father and my father were business partners.

I suddenly felt that this kind of family relationship was good. I could openly hold her hand and take her to see my parents.

Also, see her parents.

On the way, she kept asking if her clothes were too childish or if she was too immature.

I was secretly laughing. She thought that I was bringing her to see my friends, but it wasn't like this.

When the door opened, I could see the shock and disbelief in her eyes.

Actually, I knew that I didn't take into account her feelings, but I really couldn't help but want to keep her by my side.

When I saw her embarrassed expression, I felt a bit lost.

I was afraid that she would be unhappy and even more afraid that she would reject this.

I never thought that she would look at me with a smile and agree like a child.

Seeing that smile, I wanted to take her in my embrace, but she was still a child.

Even if we got engaged, got a marriage license, she was still a child in my eyes.

A child that could be watched.....and not touched.

But I never thought that the relationship between us would be posted on the forum by someone with a plot.

Reading behind the lines, other than wanting to stand on the moral high ground, there was a bit of unwillingness and hatred.

For a math teacher, you can just use a hacking software and know who it was.

Guan Zi Yang, the one that had tried to court her in front of me before.....the love rival?

No, he couldn't even be considered one since his appearance was far lacking.

She told me in game to leave this matter to her. I wanted to use the power of my family to expel Guan Zi Yang, but I decided to trust my wife and let her show off.

As expected, she was more ruthless than me.

Not only did she tell all the students that we were a legally married couple, she even exposed Guan Zi Yan's affairs in Heavenly Mandate.

I watched all of it and seeing my wife in all her splendor made me feel very proud.

Sometimes some friends would ask if I was greedy for novelty, always thinking that a relationship between a student and a teacher wasn't a good thing.

But I didn't think so. I experienced more than her, so I could keep her from heading down detours in the future.

Student and teacher, it was just a title and didn't matter when it came to love.

There were no taboos in this world, everyone had their own point of views, which could become taboo in time.

I loved her without fear of taboos.

After the university exam, she smoothly entered Forgotten River University. On the first day, there were bold boys who confessed to her and I carefully recorded the names of these boys in my notebook.

No matter how good their grades were or how good their attendance, I would make them fail.

Un, I was just that willful!

She always said: Math teacher, this isn't willful, this is black bellied.

I thought about it and it seemed like it was.....

Actually, there was something I always wanted to ask her, but never had a chance.

Then I would say it now!

Wife, you are the best in this world! If there is anyone better than you, I'll act like I didn't see it!

[Ding, congratulations on bringing a soul fragment into the Lead God Space. 33/100]

Chapter 2027: Palace wine drunk peach blossom (1)

Then later on——

Forgotten River University, when a handsome math teacher came up to the podium to lecture, the hall was filled with people.

Over 80% of them were girls who came to see him and 20% were boys who came to see his wife, with no exception.

He liked to pick on those boys who secretly looked at his wife, asking them very harsh questions!

Until one day when a boy wearing a bright red dress shirt and with blonde hair came up to him with a blush on his face as he said, "Teacher, I know that Qing Chen is your wife. I'm really not here to see her, I'm here to see you!"

Then the class fell into an uproar.

Because of how low profile mister and missus Gong were and the fact that university was different from high school, not everything was known.

Not everyone knew that they were wife and husband, but everyone knew once this boy said it.

Luo Qing Chen's face turned red and she put her right hand on her forehead.

Gong Mu Bai stood at the podium with a hard to hide smile. Actually, everyone could tell that he was happy.

He wouldn't have to threaten the boys who approached his wife, this was definitely a good thing.

"Un, you are very spirited." Gong Mu Bai then said, "But I am a man with a family, there's no need for love."

"Teacher! Since it's like this, can you stop baiting me? I've been baited by you for three years, getting full marks and extra lessons each year." The blonde haired boy said with a tearful look, "My mom thinks that I've encountered an evil spirit and makes me wear red to counter them!"

"Ha, ha, ha, ha, ha!" The whole class broke out in laughter and some boys even nodded in agreement.

"Teacher, we really don't covet the school flower. I was baited by you and I immediately found a girlfriend not to fail university!"

"Me too.....When I see Qing Chen.....Oh, no, no, no, when I see the teacher's wife, I always avoid her out of fear that I won't pass this class even with full attendance."

"Teacher, you really are good together!"

.....

Gong Mu Bai standing at the podium gave a satisfied nod. After this, the failing tragedy of Forgotten River University was over!

Of course, the relationship between Gong Mu Bai and Luo Qing Chen was brought out under the sun.

The people she didn't know who passed her would call her miss school flower from time to time, but now they all called her.....miss teacher's wife.

This title followed her for a long time, after graduation, through her work, until they both retired.

She felt embarrassed at first, but then when she heard these words later, she never suffered any grievances or set back with Gong Mu Bai at her side.

This peaceful life continued their story of a student teacher relationship.

When she opened her eyes, she was in the Chaos Space.

[Currently importing memories, please accept them, host!]

Chapter 2028: Palace wine drunk peach blossom (2)

When the memories entered her mind bit by bit, she could feel her eyes unconsciously turning red.

This was a sad story. In the blooming city of Long Peace, a story of obsession was written.

The story was one where no one got what they wanted, all for their selfish love and constantly hurting others.

The one who was hurt the most was the previous host. It could be said that in this story, the previous host was the female lead.

She was a poor person that no one loved.

The previous host was the daughter of the dynasty's great scholar, known as the darling of royal historian Luo since she was young.

A famous woman who was knowledgeable and reasonable.

The supporting male lead Rong Mu Ling was the minister of affairs, being handsome and suave. The supporting female lead Lan Ling Qian was a woman bought by the madame Rong Sheng from a brothel, living in the Rong Family for ten years.

Madame Rong never had a daughter, so Lan Ling Qian could be considered the young miss of the Rong Family. The servants were polite to her and Rong Mu Ling was very good to her.

Only she always had a knot in her heart and this was why she became desperate later.

She and Rong Mu Ling had been childhood friends and Rong Mu Ling's feelings for her had grown over the years.

If the two fell in love, this would be a beautiful story for the Rong Family, but Lan Ling Qian already had someone in her heart ten years ago.

That year, the Lan Family had been attacked by their enemies. Their manor was burned down at night and everyone fell under their blades.

Only Lan Ling Qian had escaped and she kept running until she met a warm embrace.

She saw a youth in a black robe with hair tied up with a bamboo hairpin, giving off a different deer musk scent. He looked cold and solemn. His eyes were like cold stars that gave him a noble demeanor, making him look like one who ruled the entire world.

The enemies caught up, but the moment they saw this youth, they all bowed to him.

Lan Ling Qian would never forget that day. The youth stood with his hands behind his back and he slightly narrowed his beautiful eyes. With an ice cold voice, he slowly said a single word: Scram.

He looked no more than fifteen to sixteen, but the feeling he gave people was just that cold.

The people who had destroyed her whole family disappeared from in front of him and the youth turned to leave without saying a single word.

Only his appearance had been firmly engraved in her mind, never fading.

She always wanted to know who that youth was, but she never had that chance. Until the gift year after entering the Rong Manor, she was invited to a feast at the palace and she saw him again.

The current crown prince, Feng Qian Che.

Lan Ling Qian was a very persistent person and she would always love someone if she fell in love with them. The empty space in her heart had already been filled by Feng Qian Che who saved her ten years ago.

There was no way to put another person in, so no matter how good Rong Mu Ling was to her, she couldn't accept him.

Actually, she knew that she couldn't love him.

At the feast, she danced in her bright clothing, but she never caught the attention of Feng Qian Che. Instead, she caught the attention of the empress.

The empress wasn't Feng Qian Che's biological mother, his biological mother had died the day he was born.

But the empress had very discerning eyes. Lan Ling Qian had caught her eyes at the banquet and she could tell from her eyes that she wanted Feng Qian Che.

People would change once they wanted something. If Lan Ling Qian wanted to be by Feng Qian Che's side, she had to pay a price.

Chapter 2029: Palace wine drunk peach blossom (3)

After the banquet, the empress kept Lan Ling Qian in the palace for a few days.

She very directly pierced through Lan Ling Qian's thoughts and told her that she could help her.

But when Lan Ling Qian became the crown princess, she couldn't forget her grace.

For Feng Qian Che, Lan Ling Qian agreed.

There were three forces in the Feng Dynasty other than the emperor. It was the Luo Manor's great scholar, Luo Sen, the minister of affairs Rong Lin, and the crown prince Feng Qian Che.

To avoid the crown prince Feng Qian Che from being threatened, the Luo and Rong Families couldn't join hands.

The empress told her that if she could cause a divide between the Luo and Rong Families for Feng Qian Che, she would definitely receive the grace of the crown prince.

She believed this.

However, it wasn't an easy task to cause a divide between the Luo and Rong Families.

Until the Luo Manor's Luo Qing Chen became of age. The Luo and Rong Families planned a marriage to strengthen their own power while also getting to know the character of each other's children.

The elders of the two families thought that Rong Mu Ling and Luo Qing Chen would definitely be happy together.

The previous host thought the same.

When the previous host was young, she met Rong Mu Ling several times. The two families were friends, so naturally they were close.

She didn't fall in love with Rong Mu Ling at first sight, but she was envious of how Rong Mu Ling cared about Lan Ling Qian.

Or it was because Rong Mu Ling was too good to Lan Ling Qian. When the two families had a meal together, he would always get soup for Lan Ling Qian, peel the shrimp for her, even putting her favourite dishes in front of her.

She envied Lan Ling Qian and admired this youth Rong Mu Ling. When she came of age, she asked her mother why Rong Mu Ling hadn't married Lan Ling Qian.

Her mother combed her hair as she said, "Because she is his little sister."

The previous host believed her mother's words and liked Rong Mu Ling even more. Because he could be this good to his little sister, he would definitely be even better to his wife.

That night, the previous host was too happy to sleep. When her mother saw her like this, she was a bit worried.

Actually, she had lied to her daughter. The reason why Rong Mu Ling didn't marry Lan Ling Qian wasn't because Lan Ling Qian was his little sister, but because Lan Ling Qian had rejected his advances.

Rong Mu Ling couldn't get the person he loved, so in order to help the Rong Family consolidate their power in court, he had no choice but to marry the Luo Family's daughter.

That day, when the Rong Family was covered in red and the sounds of festivity spread through the city, she nervously sat in the red sedan covered in red while her heart filled with joy.

But this happiness didn't last long. On the night of the wedding, Rong Mu Ling didn't come to their bridal chamber.

Instead he was in a study and in his stupor, he called the name of another girl, Lan Ling Qian.

For him, Lan Ling Qian was special. He could never forget the stubborn look that she had on that day at the brothel.

She was different from other girls, not weak like the daughters of large families. She always had a stubbornness in her that had attracted him.

He thought that she would be his wife when he grew up, but he never thought that she would tell him that she had another man in her heart.

“Who is that person?” He asked.

“A person in the palace.” She replied.

He didn’t ask anything else because he could tell from her eyes that she was telling the truth.

She liked to write poems since she was young and there was meaning between the words. He could vaguely feel the person in her heart, but he never thought that this person was from the palace.

Chapter 2030: Palace wine drunk peach blossom (4)

After the previous host married Rong Mu Ling, he treated her with respect. Indifference was normal, but because of their family relationship, he couldn’t find a good reason to divorce her.

Only in those three years, he never went to her room. Not to mention skin contact, he didn’t even stay at home during the week. He even quickly avoided making contact with clothes.

The previous host didn’t know what she had done wrong. She only knew that after marrying into the Rong Family, she never got Rong Mu Ling to look at her once even though she dressed up.

She didn’t understand, why did he marry her if he didn’t love her? Back in the Luo Family, she was the gem of her parents’ eyes and growing up, they had never scolded her once.

But after getting married, she experienced all kinds of human emotions.

Although the maids of the house were respectful to her, they knew that she was an unloved wife and they gossiped behind her back.

She had heard a lot and was numb to it.

The previous host loved peach blossoms since she was young, but the Rong Manor was only filled with pear trees. When autumn came, the ground was covered in pear blossoms creating a rich scenery.

She didn’t understand why the Rong Manor only planted pear blossoms and no other trees. Later she accidentally heard someone mention it and she knew that it was because miss Lan of the Rong Manor liked pear blossoms.

It turned out it was an item of parting.

Three years ago, Lan Ling Qian caught the eye of the empress and she had a chance to stay in the palace because of her dance.

Madame Rong wanted to find a reason to reject this, but she never thought that Lan Ling Qian would kneel to express her gratitude.

Since it was like this, madame Rong couldn’t say anything.

Lan Ling Qian had stayed in the palace for three years and had done many shameful things for the empress.

But she had only seen the crown prince very few times. According to the rumours, Feng Qian Che had a strange personality, was cold, domineering, and cruel.

In the third year after she entered the palace, the influence of the Luo and Rong Families kept increasing and the Rong Family aided the eighth prince's foolish actions.

It was at this time that Lan Ling Qian received the final mission from the empress. She was to return to Rong Mu Ling's side and split the relationship between the Luo and Rong Families.

The previous host endured under the gaze of her parents for three years, but her heart was already in pain.

It was the best opportunity at this time.

Lan Ling Qian appeared in front of Rong Mu Ling again. There was a sparkle of light that appeared in his dead eyes.

He asked, "Why are you back?"

She replied, "Living in the palace for three years makes me think of the time spent by your side. I still want to stay by your side."

Rong Mu Ling didn't hesitate to take her in his arms as he said in a trembling voice, "It's good that you're back."

Because of Lan Ling Qian's special status, madame Rong didn't agree to her marrying into the Rong Manor. There was always a faint worry, but Rong Mu Ling didn't care as he put her in his concubine house.

Although he couldn't give her the title of madame, in Rong Mu Ling's heart, he only had one wife.

That was Lan Ling Qian who came back to him.....

The previous host's heart was filled with pain after learning this, but she couldn't do anything. The concubine must serve her tea the day after the marriage, but after she dressed up, Lan Ling Qian didn't come.

The maid told her that Rong Mu Ling wouldn't let her.....

Such a mocking phrase. She sat in front of the bronze mirror like a fool, slowly taking off the jewelry that she wore.

Just like a fool, laughing and crying at the same time.....
