Chapter 2251: Magic potion: You will fall wildly in love with me (Part 70)

Time passed very quickly and winter soon turned to spring. Other than eating or sleeping, Mu Nan Xi spent all her time in the library.

In her opinion, it was like a wild horse that had suddenly been taken off its reins and allowed to run free across the prairies. No one could stop her.

That year was also the 30th anniversary of the new 'Alice Academy' name, so many overseas alumni came back to the school!

Alice Academy was originally a private school, so this 30th anniversary celebration was considered quite spectacular.

But the arrival of a couple shocked Luo Qing Chen the most. The girl wasn't very beautiful, but she could be considered gentle and solemn when she dressed up. However, the boy was too handsome!

Even if he was middle aged, no one could resist his handsomeness.

What surprised them wasn't their mismatched appearances, but what the woman said at her speech.

"I'm very happy to be back here after thirty years. Actually, the name Alice Academy is very related to us." She revealed a gentle smile as her eyes fell onto the man next to her.

The man gently took her hand and said with an affectionate look, "Back then, they kept saying that you gave me a magic potion."

"Woah!" When the handsome man said this, the crowd stirred.

Everyone's first reaction was that the couple on stage was the mysterious couple from before.

"After graduating, we went abroad and this matter became a mystery." The woman said with a smile, "I heard that some people are still studying magic potions, so I wanted to come back and explain it to everyone....."

"As well as sharing our love." The man cut her off as he said this with a pampering look.

Over the next half an hour, the middle aged couple told their story.

The school hunk that had a dazzling glow to him falling in love with a normal Cinderella, it had actually happened in an instant.

It was because at the sports meet, many people gave him water and sports drinks, but only the Cinderella gave him pork rib soup.

The warm pork rib soup with a few pieces of green onion floating on it.

The story was very long, but the ending was very beautiful. After they finished listening, the last bit of doubt in their hearts disappeared.

It turned out that there was no magic potion in this world. It turned out that everything had been fabricated and exaggerated by other people.

Luo Qing Chen heard a scream that came from He Qing Qing all the way in the back. She had a bottle of blue liquid in her left hand and her right hand was filled with a bottle of powder. She shook her head as she muttered, "Impossible, impossible....."

Yu Qian Jin knitted his brows and instantly brought Luo Qing Chen behind him, as if he was afraid that a crazy person would do something terrifying.

"If this classmate has any doubt, you can come ask me and I'll....."

"You liar!" He Qing Qing slammed the bottle of blue liquid on the ground and roared, "You aren't the lovers from the past, you must be actors that she paid for!"

The man knitted his brows and looked at He Qing Qing with a bit of displeasure, "102471005420, that is my student number. If this classmate doesn't believe it, you can check it on the school boards or you can match us with the graduation pictures."

"You! Why are you being so fierce....." The woman behind him glared at him and softly said this.

"Wife, this isn't being fierce!" The man looked at her with a determined look, "I like you because I like you, it isn't because of anything else, let alone some magic potion!"

Chapter 2252: Magic potion: You will fall wildly in love with me (End)

Yu Qian Jin standing beside Luo Qing Chen didn't forget to turn his head and repeat what the man said to her, "I like you because I like you, it isn't because of anything else. Do you understand? Silly girl."

"Un." She looked into his deep eyes and gave a nod before revealing a faint smile.

Actually, he knew about her doubt before and he wanted to tell her what he felt, as well as express his love.

He didn't want his love to be understated by others by saying, "Oh! Young master Jin! He only fell in love with Luo Qing Chen because of a love potion!"

This was true love, it wasn't some love potion, alright?!

Since that day, He Qing Qing never appeared at school again. The He Family that was part of the four great families started to gradually decline. Some people said that He Qing Qing's parents brought her to see a psychiatrist abroad.

Some people said that He Qing Qing became addicted to studying magic.

In short, all kinds of news were heard about He Qing Qing, but there was no accurate information.

Time passed quickly and a month after the school celebration, Alice Academy welcomed a big exam.

The one who took first place would be recommended by Alice Academy to study abroad.

Although this story seemed dramatic, first place was Mu Nan Xi. But if you looked at it carefully, it wasn't dramatic since she put in all that effort and she received what she deserved.

Before leaving, she generously invited Luo Qing Chen and Yu Qian Jin to eat at a.....food stall!

Moreover, she told them that Lu Qiu Fan had congratulated her and said he was waiting for her.

But after taking a few sips of wine, she looked at Luo Qing Chen with a sad look, "It can't be that he already has a girlfriend, right!"

"It doesn't matter! Just choose Xiao Pang if he does, I think it's still quite good!" Yu Qian Jin didn't forget to add as he ate the meat skewers.

Luo Qing Chen stomped on his foot again before casually saying, "Relax, relax, it won't be like this! If Lu Qiu Fan was that easy to pick up, he wouldn't have been single all those years!"

"It's still my Qing that's good.....Ying, ying, ying!"

Three months later, Mu Nan Xi set foot in the foreign country thousands of miles away to find the love that was so close, but was unspoken.

Luo Qing Chen was waiting for her good news.

But the news that came was very calm and the two didn't make a breakthrough in their tense situation.

In December of the same year, Luo Qing Chen and Yu Qian Jin held a prosperous wedding. As two of the richest families in A City, the people that came to their wedding were all rich people.

Invitations were also sent to Lu Qiu Fan and Mu Nan Xi who both came.

Mu Nan Xi was in a long pink dress and Lu Qiu Fan was in a black suit, which suited them quite well.

When she tossed the bouquet, she gave a wink to Mu Nan Xi. Before she could react, the bouquet was already in her hand.

"It seems like you'll be the next one." Luo Qing Chen revealed a faint smile.

Lu Qiu Fan heard this and walked right over to Mu Nan Xi, taking the bouquet from her. He looked up at her and said, "Quite beautiful, it really suits you."

It wasn't that he was waiting for someone better that he didn't accept Mu Nan Xi.

Rather it was because he wanted to clear the feelings in his heart. Coming to her wedding this time and seeing her happy, he was happy for her.

He felt that he could do the same.

Then it was time for a new love to begin.

As for Luo Qing Chen and Yu Qian Jin, they celebrated with their friends and family at the wedding. He held her in a princess carry and kissed her several dozen times alone. After the wedding, there was only one thing left to do.

It was.....a happy thing!

Chapter 2253: Side story: Fairy tale woven into dreams (Part 1)

I don't want to say good night, I hope that you can't sleep at all thinking of me.

But wife, can stop stealing all the blankets? ——Yu Qian Jin.

For someone who always had what they wanted, I grew up being used to having nothing that I couldn't get.

Even becoming arrogant and aloof, looking down on everyone.

What love? He, he.

If someone were to ask me, I would definitely give a cold laugh and tell them that there's no love in this world.

Because most girls cared about my appearance or my money. Of course there were a few that weren't like this, but I had never met them.

I didn't look directly at her when I first met her. The classmates in the class were all filled with praise for her.

But when the teacher said that she was just a commoner, everyone stopped talking.

What followed were the ridicule of the other female students. I couldn't help giving a cold laugh. If she was the daughter of a rich family in A City, how could she be treated like this?

I thought that she would choose to silently endure this ridicule and silently live in a corner.

I never thought that she would choose to be Lu Qiu Fan's deskmate! (Actually, my first reaction was: Since you're so bold, why not choose to be my deskmate?)

When she reached the seat beside Lu Qiu Fan, I took a glance out of the corner of my eyes. She was indeed beautiful and those eyes were clear without a single ripple in them.

I thought that she was pretending to be calm, but it turned out that she really was that calm.

Moreover, it was very odd that she didn't want to talk to me.

There were countless people in this school, whether they were rich or commoners that wanted to approach me, but this was my first time meeting a girl who barely even looked at me.

Although she later told me after becoming my wife that she looked quite a few times, I was always looking out the window!

Was there? Was there? Was there?

Wasn't she looking at Lu Qiu Fan?

Since she sat in front of me, I felt that she was a bit familiar, like I had seen her somewhere before.

With this extreme curiosity, I questioned her. I probably wanted to see if this girl who never talked to me was really pretending to be reserved or if she really didn't like me. (After getting married, I asked this many times. She would always give an answer that angered me to death: Because I thought Lu Qiu Fan was more handsome at first sight! I threw myself in bed without another word until she came to whisper that I was more handsome!)

Of course, that was all for later.

The current scene was that she thought my words were too boring and were nothing new.

This was my first time being frustrated and it was at the hands of a little girl. I didn't know why I felt a bit of panic and also started caring more about her.

But even if I cared more about her, that didn't mean anything. I would rather coldly watch as others insulted her or even made a move against her.....

Perhaps I couldn't see my heart then and it was my biggest regret in my life towards her.

On that rainy day, those people surrounded her in the small alley.

I watched her holding the black umbrella, not letting Mu Nan Xi or Lu Qiu Fan go with her. She was going to face that crowd all by herself.

I felt my heart skip a beat as I strangely felt that she was courageous.

Perhaps this was Cinderella's stubbornness from the fairy tales?

It was probably at that time that something started to bloom in my heart! Only, I wasn't willing to admit it.

Chapter 2254: Side story: Fairy tale woven into dreams (Part 2)

She was surrounded by a bunch of older girls. I was the same as her, holding a black umbrella as I watched them cornering her from above.

I knew that I was waiting for a chance to be the hero that saved the beauty.

I wanted her to be grateful to me, to love me. I had the right to choose at that time, looking at my heart to see if she really was special.

But I never thought that my future wife didn't need me at all.

On that rainy night, in that dark and damp corner. In her clean uniform and holding that black umbrella, she revealed a set of ice cold eyes that didn't have a trace of warmth.

She didn't panic at all, standing there with a calm look. She looked over them and there was a strange.....killing intent.

That night, my breath couldn't help stopping as I watched her from above.

But before I could even react, she charged into the crowd. There were sharp cries that rang out and the sounds of weapons falling to the ground.

Three minutes later, the sound from the alley stopped and there were only moans that rang out with the sound of the rain.

She still had the clean uniform and the umbrella in her hand, not even getting her uniform wet at all.

I watched as she walked out of the alley step by step with those cold eyes.

At that moment, all the feelings in my heart mixed together. Those unclear and inexplicable feelings.

Perhaps even I didn't know why it was like this. Why I felt pain in my heart and why I felt like protecting her.

I didn't get any sleep that night as I tried to suppress the strange feelings in my heart.

I wanted to do everything I could to get her eyes and her attention. To put myself in the top position and have a choice.

It was a pity that nothing succeeded. Instead, I sunk deeper and deeper into the mud.

I put those thoughts into my heart and desperately resisted.

It was a pity that it failed.

After confirming that I couldn't hide the love in my heart, the sun had already risen.

The girls in the class who always caused trouble declared war again and in a hurry, they pulled out a knife.

I saw her grab the dagger in an instant. Her expression didn't change at all, she didn't even knit her brows.

But I felt my heart crack. That feeling of not being able to breathe really was uncomfortable.

I watched her desperately trying to save someone. Even when her face was pale from losing blood, her hands never stopped.

Those clear eyes that were clear to the bottom, they only had indifference in them.

Lu Qiu Fan came forward to give her a handkerchief like a knight in the fairy tales, not caring about the eyes of others as he silently protected her.

I knew that if I didn't do anything, I might lose something soon.

I was a very obsessive person since I was young. I would always like what I liked, liking it 100% without changing.

I knew that I could no longer ignore the feelings in my heart, the lingering image of her in my mind.

I found that I liked her.

But I didn't know how she felt about me. I just desperately wanted the attention from her eyes, but I never got it before.

But it was because of this that I couldn't let that person named Lu Qiu Fan take advantage of this situation!

The things I wanted, the people I liked, I would never give them to anyone else.

You were mine in life and death.

Chapter 2255: Side story: Fairy tale woven into dreams (Part 3)

Facts proved that my 'intervention' that day was correct. At least I forced myself to her side so she couldn't be taken away by 'unlawful elements'.

I gave her my phone number and I even used an aggressive method of asking her before leaving, "Do you dare call?"

Actually, I was even more nervous than her at that moment. I checked my phone every ten seconds after getting home. It was clearly at full battery, but I was afraid that it would be out of power. I even asked the butler several times if the wifi in our villa would suddenly cut out.

The butler replied, "Young master, it doesn't take wifi to make a call."

My lips twitched before I weakly lied down on the sofa beside me.

It turned out that the poison called love was like this. Nervousness, uneasiness, weakness, and anxiety, but still waiting in hope that she would call.

But she didn't call in the end.

The next day, rumours about the 'magic potion' spread through the school and He Qing Qing boldly stopped me.

She kept saying that there was a problem with the water she gave me that day.

It was the magic potion that she made and as long as it was drunken with blood, the person who drank it would madly fall in love with the owner of the blood.

That day, the water I drank had the blood of my wife.

Actually, when He Qing Qing told me this, my heart was strangely excited.

There was an excitement from accidentally drinking her blood.

But I knew in my heart that it was impossible for this 'magic potion' to exist.

Because I knew better than anyone when I started thinking about her.

Perhaps the first time was that rainy night, but I knew very well that it absolutely wasn't that day.

He Qing Qing was very stubborn until I told her to shut her mouth.

I wasn't someone who was a gentleman. Although I never hit girls, that didn't mean that I had to treat them well.

Of course, my wife was an exception.

Although she didn't call me, she did invite me to the Laurel House.

I seriously booked the entire Star Moon Street and waited for her to arrive.

I knew that she wanted to drink with me, but I didn't want her to drink.

A little girl shouldn't drink, not to mention that she was injured.

Although I said this, I felt that the ambiguous atmosphere was raised to the max.

In the quiet bar with those warm lights, I received her attention.

Those beautiful eyes were focused on me.

But her injuries were more important, even bigger than this matter.

I felt that my first impression in her mind wasn't that good, so I worked hard to leave a better impression later on.

Facts proved that my efforts weren't wasted. I could feel that she liked me, at least she slowly started to like me.

Since she became my girlfriend, other than a few girls who liked to challenge her, no one dared to cause trouble for her.

Although I knew that she could handle it, it was better to leave these trivial matters to me.

But I never thought that the girl named He Qing Qing would want to verify her magic potion in public.

It truly was a joke.....

If it was before, even if it was the four great families, I wouldn't have shown mercy and wouldn't have accepted this verification.

But now that I had her, I would do this.

Because I didn't want other people's gossip to affect me. She was my princess, my dazzling princess.

Moreover, I wanted Lu Qiu Fan to know that in fairy tales, a knight was always a knight and the princess belonged to the prince!

Chapter 2256: Side story: Fairy tale woven into dreams (Part 4)

I drank the magic potion in front of everyone and then kissed her.

It was for nothing else but to tell everyone in Alice Academy something.

There was no magic potion in this world. I liked her, no matter how long it was. I was like a gust of wind that blew for ninety thousand miles, never coming back.

Since that verification, no one in the school talked about the magic potion again.

After all, I had destroyed the rumour myself.

When I thought that everything was going well, I was notified that the daughter of my father's good friend, Daisy was coming back from abroad.

I had seen her many times when I was young, but that was more than ten years ago and I didn't remember it clearly.

Moreover, since they were a rich young miss, it would be hard for them not to be cold.

If she didn't have the heart to approach me, I wouldn't have an impression.

This rich young miss coming back shouldn't have had anything to do with me, but my mother told me that she was going to be my fiancée.

This news shocked me and I was at a loss as to what to do.

I never disobeyed my father since I was young because he was like that, he never interfered in my decisions.

But this time, I vaguely felt that I didn't have the right to choose.

Because the love and hate relationship between the elders was very entangled.

I heard that my father and uncle Luo Long's wife Dai Wei had been childhood lovers, but they didn't end up together because of family interests.

He felt more or less guilty towards the Luo Family.

But guilt was guilt, you couldn't take my future happiness away!

I won't agree, alright?

Since the rich circle was small, it didn't take long before the news of me and Daisy being engaged spread.

I was very afraid that she would misunderstand (later: He, he!) and I hoped that she wouldn't know about this, but I knew that people would talk.

Of course, all those people disappeared from Alice Academy later! After all, I didn't like having sand in my eyes.

I kept reassuring her so that she wasn't worried, but she didn't seem worried at all in the first place.

This made me a bit frustrated. After all, there would only be jealousy and care if there was love! I later thought that she must have trusted me.

Then I wouldn't do anything that would let her down.

Therefore, when the two families met at the Royal Imperial Hotel, I had a showdown with my father about this matter.

I knew that he would be very angry and would object, but I still had to say what had to be said. At the last moment, I knew that he had been moved.

After all, he knew what kind of personality I had. They would still be friends even if they cancelled the engagement, but if I ruined the matter, then they wouldn't even be friends anymore!

But god always liked to play jokes.

I was like a frog at the bottom of the well, seeing my fiancée switch between the role of Cinderella and princess.

I never would have dreamed that she was Daisy, the Luo Family's young miss.

Shock, joy, excitement.....Countless emotions came together that I almost lost my senses.

It turned out that our script had long been written.

It turned out that it wasn't the prince and Cinderella, but the prince and the princess.

It turned out that this fairy tale was so beautiful!

If there was still a chance, I still had something else to say to her.

I missed being childhood lovers, I missed the beginning of my love, but now I just want to grow old together with you.

[Ding, congratulations on bringing a soul fragment into the Lead God Space. 36/100]

Mission change: [Two dimensions.]

"What does the two dimensions mean?"

"The host will know after receiving the memories!"

[Currently importing memories, please accept them, host!]

After receiving all the memories, Luo Qing Chen was suddenly a bit afraid.

Because she was only going back three days and not three years.

It wasn't because there was much a difference between three days and three years, but because in three days.....she couldn't change the ending, she couldn't do anything.

The story was very long and when she received it, even she as the host felt suffocated by it.

This previous host and male lead, she didn't know how to describe them. She could only say that good fortune made people what they were.

It started when they were still young. The male lead was the son of concubine Wan of the Mo Dynasty.

Concubine Wan was the princess of the previous dynasty. The male lead Mo Ye's father pitied her and brought her into the harem.

As the emperor, he was born with a playful nature and Mo Ye's father Mo Gong Yi wasn't someone who fell to infatuation.

Adding in the fact that concubine Wan wasn't some nation collapsing beauty, after the novelty wore off, she lost her position in Mo Gong Yi's heart.

After all, there would be new flowers entering the palace each year and there were many girls to replace her.

It was a good thing that concubine Wan had a child before being left in the cold. That child was the male lead Mo Ye.

But he was born to tragedy. No one to love or care for him.

After concubine Wan died, he was brought up by the maids in the palace. Because of his low status, he didn't enjoy the treatment of a prince and his life was even worse than a commoner.

It was a good thing that Mo Ye knew how to endure and he was very indifferent to all these things.

Everyone thought that he had no future, so no one harmed him.

Mo Gong Yi had a playful nature and had over twenty princes and forty princesses.

He even had some children that he didn't even know the names of.

Among them was naturally Mo Ye.

The previous host and Mo Ye met when they were seven years old. She was the daughter of the imperial censor's seventh madame, so she could be considered born from a concubine.

There was a bit of similarity, the previous host was like Mo Ye. Their fathers were both playful people and loved having girls one after another, so their hearts changed as quickly as the seasons.

When spring and autumn came, the women by their side would never be the same.

In Mo Gong Yi's twentieth year of reign, the Mo Dynasty was at peace. Mo Ye was fourteen years old and the previous host was only seven years old.

The first time they met was at Mo Gong Yi's fortieth birthday. The previous host was catching sparrows in the back gardens alone and Mo Ye happened to pass by.

Chapter 2258: Love transcending a thousand years (Part 2)

At such a lively banquet, as long as you could show off in front of the emperor, not only would you gain wealth, you would also gain fame and status.

Even if you didn't have anything else, you could get a reward for playing the qin or singing a tune.

No matter how bad, it was a good thing to show off a bit in front of the emperor.

But they didn't go. It was probably because of their similar statuses that they felt sympathy towards each other.

In these lonely times, they became childhood lovers.

For Mo Ye, the previous host had always been a child, a child that needed to be protected.

He said, "I am only a weak prince, a fish that can't even reach the chopping board. Do you want to be my friend?"

She replied, "Greetings big brother prince. Then are you willing to be friends with someone born to a concubine like me?"

Answering a rhetoric with a rhetoric, Mo Ye was actually speechless.

"Good, I'll be your friend from now on."

"Un, the only friend."

From that day forth, the previous host went to the palace to find Mo Ye from time to time. The palace was very strict, so most of the time she snuck behind her father's back.

Although they were separated by the gap in age, it didn't prevent them from talking to one another.

Rather, they both felt that only the other person could understand what they were saying.

In Mo Gong Yi's twenty fifth year of reigning, the Hundred Flower Banquet was hosted for the eldest princess.

The whole banquet was filled with people who came to flatter him. Since the banquet was special, they didn't have time to sneak off after sitting down.

As for this Hundred Flower Banquet, for the ancient people it was a hundred flowers blooming.

There were men and women looking for relationships at this banquet, some even wanted to find true love.

For the previous host and Mo Ye, it was a world that was completely different from their own.

They never thought that even if they didn't offend anyone, others would still offend them.

Mo City, also known as Moonlight City was the capital of the Mo Dynasty.

There were rumours that the fourth prince Mo Ye was the most handsome man in all of Moonlight City, becoming the idol of many women.

But due to his lowly status, even if he had a dazzling face, most of the ministers' daughters only took a few looks, but didn't go forward.

But it was at this time that the crown prince came forward. He was drunk as he said with a smile, "I heard that fourth brother is the most handsome man in Moonlight City, why don't you have any beauties by your side!"

The crown prince's name was Mo Kuan and as his name, his body was wide.

Mo Gong Yi gave him this name so that he would be lenient to others, but he never thought that his body would also develop this way.

He was not tall, but he was as fat as a ball.

But even with this appearance, there were several girls around him.

The previous host was only twelve years old, but she had grown slim and graceful.

She was naturally angry that Mo Ye was being bullied. She stood up without another word and walked towards Mo Ye before sitting down beside him.

After a few seconds, she said, "Who says he doesn't!"

The previous would never forget that look. No fear of power, no fear of being hurt, not caring what would happen.

Liking someone meant standing by their side no matter what happened.

Even if the other person was the crown prince who stood above all except one.

Of course, bravery came at a price!

For example, the beating of her father who never cared for her. For example, being starved for three days and nights.

The reason was very simple. The Luo Family wanted to support the crown prince and not some prince in the cold palace.

But the matter of the previous host spread all over the court.

Chapter 2259: Love transcending a thousand years (Part 3)

It was the Hundred Flower Banquet set up for the eldest princess, so certain things couldn't be avoided.

Not to mention that the eldest princess had spoken about them to the emperor and felt that they were a good pair.

In the end, the emperor bestowed an engagement to them. Even if the previous host's father wasn't willing, he couldn't go against the emperor's orders.

The matter of the previous host and Mo Ye had been set.

When the previous host reached adulthood, the fourth prince would marry her.

He seriously said, "I can't repay you for treating me like this. My life belongs to you from now on."

She just shook her head with a smile, "I don't want your life, it's fine as long as you're good to me. I don't want brocaded clothes, luxurious food, wealth, or honour, I'm fine as long as we're together!"

"I will always be by your side and will never throw you away."

Mo Ye's words kept ringing in her mind in the days that followed.

Just like a hot needle that pierced her heart bit by bit.

Very painful, but also a bit warm.

In the twenty eighth year of Mo Gong Yi's reign, the eldest princess died of sickness. The Feng Dynasty started eyeing the Mo Dynasty and wanted to send troops on a false crime.

After Mo Gong Yi learned of this matter, he decided to send a hostage prince to the Feng Dynasty.

It was to express their friendship on one hand and to monitor the enemy on the other hand.

In the court, only those with power could survive.

After so many years, Mo Gong Yi's twenty or so princes started running out.

There were only three left now.

One was the crown prince, one was the fourth prince, and one was the eighth prince.

The power in the court was divided between the crown prince and the eighth prince. Since the eighth prince was born to his favourite concubine Li, he naturally couldn't go to the Feng Dynasty. The crown prince was the future heir of the Mo Dynasty, so that was even more impossible.

By process of elimination, the only one who could go was Mo Ye.

"But this one once gave the fourth prince an engagement." Mo Gong Yi hesitated a bit.

Concubine Li shook her head and said, "Now that the eldest princess is gone, that engagement isn't worth anything."

In the end, the emperor overturned his previous edict and ordered Mo Ye to go to the Feng Dynasty as a hostage prince.

That night, the previous host wept under the peach blossom tree that they drank wine most frequently under.

Mo Ye walked towards her step by step and patted her head under the moonlight, "Don't cry. Wait for me to come back."

"I will wait, I will definitely wait for you."

Mo Ye had told her that he would make a difference on this trip to the Feng Dynasty.

He no longer wanted to be a useless person that others could slaughter, even not being able to protect his most important person.

She would have come to age in another year, there was clearly only a year before their wedding.

They didn't care if they were rich or poor, they feared nothing if they were together.

It was a pity that god didn't give them that chance. Three days later, he had no choice but to go to the Feng Dynasty as a hostage prince.

Perhaps he might not come back his entire life.

Perhaps she would wait her entire life.

Perhaps this was the happy ending of the story.

But he did come back. He spent three years gathering power in the Feng Dynasty and by rescuing the Emperor Feng's daughter, he made princess Feng Ling Er fall in love with him.

Emperor Feng loved his daughter and admired capable people. Mo Ye won every battle and had long lost his status as a hostage prince, becoming a famous general.

Three years later, when he came back to the Mo Dynasty, there was someone else that came with him. He had to bring back Feng Ling Er.

Chapter 2260: Love transcending a thousand years (Part 4)

Because without Feng Ling Er, there wouldn't have been troops from the Feng Dynasty and he couldn't have forced his way back.

In fact, even if he didn't force his way back, the Mo Dynasty had already been destroyed from within.

The two forces were hurt from competing against each other and Mo Gong Yi was seriously ill.

This was his chance, his only chance.

As long as he stood high above, the previous host could stand by his side without any fear.

In the end, he succeeded.

No matter how difficult all those years were, he had become the Mo Dynasty's emperor.

When he met the previous host again, she stood there under the peach blossom tree.

She was already a big girl now. The wind blew across her dress, making her look so beautiful.

Mo Ye came forward and gently embraced her, "I'm back."

"But you're already married, right?"

It was impossible for the previous host not to know that he brought the Feng Dynasty's princess back, but she still wanted him to come back with all her heart.

Because she waited for too long. Every time she got drunk under the peach blossom tree, she always felt someone gently patting her head.

For her, this was a dream, a very beautiful dream.

"That isn't important. I will protect you from now on, I won't let a single person bully you."

"Thank you! Big brother Ye!"

But they didn't know that all girls would be jealous in this world, not to mention Feng Ling Er who had been pampered since she was young.

She thought that Mo Ye was even more aloof in the beginning and she admired this kind of man.

Fighting a hundred on a battlefield, that face that looked like it was carved by the heavens.

Everything about Mo Ye made her deeply obsessed, so she desperately wanted to marry him. She even desperately asked her father to prepare an army for her so she could go to the Mo Dynasty.

But everything she did was making a wedding dress for someone else.

Then the person who occupied Mo Ye's heart, that person must die.

Mo Ye told her about the previous host and she always said with a smile that it was fine as long as he was happy.

But she already secretly changed Mo Ye's food. There was a medicine in the Feny Dynasty where one would fall into a coma if they took it for over a month, sleeping for at least half a month.

Feng Ling Er prepared everything. She used this half a month to get rid of the previous host.

She already thought of the method.

A month later, the emperor fell into a coma.

The Central Scholar Province discovered the villain who used witchcraft and contacted the enemy. It was the imperial censor's big brother, who was the previous host's uncle who was an official there.

'Treason' and 'witchcraft', such terrifying words once stained, would determine the fate of the entire family.

The previous host was imprisoned that night to wait until her hair fell out.

She thought that now that Mo Ye was the most powerful person in this world, he would protect her, he definitely would.

They had just drank and written poems under the moonlight last night.

She firmly believed that he would definitely save her.

Waiting was a long thing.

But the most terrifying thing wasn't waiting, but the result of the arduous wait.

"The emperor's decree is as follows. The Luo Family is suspected of conspiring with the witches and the evidence is conclusive. From now on, all males will be beheaded and all females will be exiled."

The previous host didn't see Mo Ye. Even when she was put in a dirty prison uniform and was sent away from Moonlight City, she never saw Mo Ye.

That was the most painful time in the previous host's entire life.

After all, he had broken his oath and left her.

Because of Feng Ling Er?

She didn't know.

She only knew that she truly understood that there was nothing sadder than the death of one's heart.
