Chapter 2641: Loving the prince, but he doesn't know (87)

Everyone had an understanding in their heart, thinking that they knew what the best decision for their important people was.

Living was the best in their lives and sacrificing to protect a person was the best method.

But they didn't know that person just wanted to live and die with them.

"Empress.....Young master's intentions were for you to live in peace." Ya Nu said word for word. His expression didn't match the tone of his voice.

But in Ya Nu's heart, if one didn't love a person enough, how could they defend a city because of this person.

Since ancient times, emperors have been afraid of death and wanted to live forever.

Who would give up their life for their so-called empress.

"He." Luo Qing Chen swayed on the platform as tears streamed down her face.

She pursed her lips to look at Ya Nu, "It's useless to say more."

"Empress....."

"You wouldn't understand." She shook her head as she said in a choked up voice, "Living isn't that good, you wouldn't understand....."

She closed her eyes. It was the first time she felt the coldness of the palace that was like a thousand year old ice that wrapped around her.

Dragon Prestige Hall.

The Supreme Hall wasn't far from the Dragon Prestige Hall, but this short walk made her feet feel so heavy.

Nian An was sleeping soundly, not being affected by the changes of this world.

He didn't even know that his father had left this world and his mother couldn't even say goodbye to him.

"Little Nian An....." Luo Qing Chen patted his head, "Your father really is ruthless, he doesn't want you anymore. This is the second time he's given up on you....."

Nian An turned his beautiful eyes to silently look at her.

Luo Qing Chen raised a hand to caress his forehead, "Mother is the same.....I'm also giving you up....."

The one that she wronged the most in this life was Nian An. She couldn't be with him and left him every time.

Nian An seemed to have sensed something and his long lashes trembled.

She looked down and without saying anything, she slowly stood up to walk out.

She was afraid that another look would change her decision.

She returned to the King's Landing Palace to tidy up her things. There weren't many things that bring to the Dragon Gate Pass now that she was alone, she had nothing to worry about.

Other than Nian An, there was no one else to say goodbye to.

The next morning, she rode a horse to Dragon Gate Pass. No one could stop her and no one dared to stop her.

She wanted to see this so-called Ten Thousand Miles Gorge that swallowed so many lives, including Du Jiu Sheng's.

She wanted to see his final place, the place where he.....died.....

On the way, she kept telling herself to remain calm and couldn't be impulsive.

She still had Nian An, she really couldn't just throw him away.....

With her past temper, she would have held the Phoenix Dance Sword and charged into the desert to kill all the soldiers of the Liao People army.

She felt that this was something that seemed like her, but now she told herself that she was just taking a look at this Ten Thousand Miles Gorge, she was just taking a look.....

But when she really saw it, she forgot her rationality and this so-called single look.

There were corpses all around and the smell of blood and gunpowder in the air.....

Chapter 2642: Loving the prince, but he doesn't know (88)

"Du Jiu Sheng....." Seeing this scene, she could feel her heart beating faster, invading her blood bit by bit.

She panicked, was helpless, and wildly called out Du Jiu Sheng's name.

Again and again and again.....

In this place filled with ghosts, she kept calling out. Her trembling and miserable voice echoed in the canyon, but no one responded to her.

She ran forward among the piles of corpses. There was only the scent of rotting flesh that filled her nose.

This place was like a mass grave and her big brother Jiu Sheng was one of the countless corpses among them.

How could she accept this bloody fact.....

A corpse caught her foot and she stumbled back, falling to the ground. Her eyes turned red and tears came down.

No one could understand the grievances in her heart and no one could hold her hand, protecting her.

With a 'si' sound, the bag at her waist was ripped because she fell and plum blossoms scattered out.

There was the note that man had left before he left that also fell out.

Luo Qing Chen was surprised. She wildly grasped at this note and her trembling hands slowly opened it.

There was his official writing on it that was elegant and domineering, but also filled with an indescribable love.....

The mountains have trees and the trees have branches. Loving the prince, but he doesn't know.

Everyone knows that the mountains have trees and those trees have branches. But you don't know how much I love you.

"I know.....I know....." She slowly placed the words in her chest and closed her eyes as tears fell down one by one.

Endless sadness in those crystal clear drops.....

No one saw her cry, no one could see her vulnerable side.

With Du Jiu Sheng gone, there was no weakness left.....

Because no one helped her wipe her tears and no one would feel pain for her.

He was no longer in this world of mortals and she no longer had a place to be in this tired world.

Luo Qing Chen stayed at the Ten Thousand Miles Gorge for three days. She was covered in blood and her fingertips were rotten when she came out.

No one knew what she did for three days and they didn't need to know. No one knew that she didn't plan on coming out until she heard a piece of news.

The Liao People army would set out soon with the Ying Army, but it was unknown when. After all, they had suffered heavy losses at the Ten Thousand Miles Gorge and they would need at least three months to recover.

But this Ying Army couldn't be looked down on.

Their hot weapons were much more destructive than blades.....

Nian An was still in the palace, so she had to go back to make sure everything was safe.

When she returned to Peaceful Ink City, she stayed at an inn and changed into clean clothes.

Although he was in a high position, he was still Ya Nu, a person that had been good to them.

She couldn't understand why he did it, but she wasn't willing to let him suffer.

An empress covered in blood would create a mess in court. She just wanted to take Nian An away and nothing else.

The market of Peaceful Ink City was so lively and filled with people.

Every stall seemed to be the same. The only one that changed was the auntie who sold fruits.....

The fruit selling stall had turned into a fortune telling place and there were four words written on the white cloth, Xiao Chong's Fortune Telling!

Chapter 2643: Loving the prince, but he doesn't know (89)

Luo Qing Chen was shocked before quickly going forward.

Xiao Chong was still the same and the plaque beside him was also the same.

Xiao Chong's ten lines and one hexagram fortune telling. Know the past and the future.

But when he saw her this time, there was a dim glow in his eyes.

The eyes had ups and downs in them, as if he knew everything.

He wanted to change it, but was powerless.....

"Miss, we meet again." Xiao Chong looked at her misty eyes and said, "What does the miss want told this time?"

His voice was very deep, like someone who told stories. When he started talking, the others would join in.

"The ending." After a while, she slowly spoke in a cold voice that didn't have a trace of warmth.

Xiao Chong looked at her and after a few seconds, he shook his head with a bitter smile, "Doesn't the miss already know the ending?"

Without knowing why, when she heard these words that were clearly Jianghu nonsense as Du Jiu Sheng described it, she couldn't help taking a cold breath.

"He, he....." Luo Qing Chen gave a cold laugh before imitating Du Jiu Sheng and putting some money on the table, "Jianghu nonsense."

As soon as her voice fell, she turned to leave.

But this time Xiao Chong called out to her.

In this noisy Peaceful Ink City, no one other than her heard Xiao Chong's words.

It was the.....real ending.....

"In one year, Peaceful Ink City will fall. Bring Nian An to Three Emotions Mountain, that is the place with the best ending."

Luo Qing Chen suddenly turned around and looked at Xiao Chong in fear.

“You.....How do you know about Nian An?”

Xiao Chong didn't say anything as he looked away and took the money.

It was impossible for anyone to know about the impending doom of the Mo Country. Since the battle of Ten Thousand Miles Gorge, the main forces of the Liao People army had been decimated and with Xiao Sheng's death, it was impossible for the Liao People army to approach Dragon Gate Pass in a short period of time.

Them joining with the Ying Army was not something that anyone could predict. These were armies of the western region, how could anyone know about this?

Seeing that the other side didn't talk, Luo Qing Chen gave a cold snort, “You aren't saying anything, it's just like Jiu.....he said, it's Jianghu nonsense.....”

When she turned around again, she didn't plan on turning back.

Since the other side wasn't willing to talk, she would just treat him as a scammer.

Anyway, things couldn't be repeated and the person who protected her couldn't come back to life.

What was the point of asking a fortune teller now?

She didn't expect Xiao Chong to not only call out to her, but also grab her wrist, “Host, you have to take Nian An to Three Emotions Mountain. The collapse of this world is something that no one can control.”

She suddenly felt like her feet had large boulders tied to them and she couldn't move at all.

Her mind was suddenly filled with what the fortune teller named Xiao Chong had once said.

“The moon is like a hook, it goes away fast. It is like threading a button, the heart must be like a mirror.”

The Xiao character remove the Yue and add the Mi, the Chong character remove the Mi and link it together, that was her answer.

It turned out that someone had told her their identity a long time ago, but she never thought about it or cared about it.

“You.....” The arm that held her released when she turned around and that person was gone.

No, they shouldn't be called a person.

She should call him: System.

Chapter 2644: Loving the prince, but he doesn't know (End)

Peaceful Ink City was still very prosperous, but her heart had already sunken into the bottom of the canyon.

That year, the people who enjoyed this prosperity with her were all gone.

Forever.....gone.

When she returned to the palace, Ya Na almost immediately sent eunuch Shen to pick her up.

She didn't avoid it and followed eunuch Shen to the Supreme Hall.

The path was very long and it was like when she first entered the palace, following the maid to see the empress.

She was filled with joy and expectation to see Du Jiu Sheng again, but it was a pity that they separated once again.

She thought that after so many life and death separations with him, she would be numb to the pain.

But after it happened, she found that there was a pain that made it hard to breathe in her heart.

After eunuch Shen brought her to the Supreme Hall, Ya Nu waved his hand, "Go down."

"Yes."

Luo Qing Chen slowly looked up at the face that was the same as Du Jiu Sheng's, but her heart didn't feel the slightest ripple.

It was only afterwards that she knew why there was that strange feeling in her heart.

It was because she did her best to follow her heart, but who could do that when they didn't know anything.

She couldn't see through the relationships of the world, she couldn't see the truth.

"Did the empress find the young master?" Ya Nu came forward and bowed as usual.

Seeing that face bowing to her, Luo Qing Chen felt it was very funny. She just said with a slight nod, "Un."

"I thought that you.....wouldn't come back."

"I came back to have you do something." Luo Qing Chen slowly looked up at him, "Just treat it as what you owe big brother Jiu Sheng!"

After a while, he said, "Whether it is going through water or flames, I won't back down."

"I don't care what method you use, but take care of everything and send Nian An to Three Emotions Mountain."

"I....."

"This is big brother Jiu Sheng's throne, please return it to him."

"I never wanted to take the young master's position." Ya Nu fell onto his knees, "I will definitely do what the empress says."

Even if this world was collapsing, the system wouldn't be wrong and the Mo Country would perish.
She couldn't help wondering what would happen to Du Jiu Sheng and her if this plane didn't collapse.
Would it be happiness? Or would it be a tragedy like it was now?
She didn't know because there were no ifs in this world.....

Seven months later, the Liao People army and the Ying Army attacked Dragon Gate Pass.

Ya Nu and Nian An had already arrived at Three Emotions Mountain. Luo Qing Chen left a letter explaining everything.

The final words in the letter was: You can't die, you owe this to us! Take care of Nian An for us.

After Ya Nu left with Nian An, the court was in a mess. Luo Qing Chen helped a treacherous official take the throne.

When he thought that he would become the next generation's emperor, the Liao People army had already broken into the palace.

Luo Qing Chen held her umbrella as she walked step by step to the Cold North Palace.

Standing outside the door, she looked up with a calm look in her eyes.

Although this place was barren, this was her final resting place.

Sitting in the pavilion where they drank wine, played the zither, and talked about their hearts, she closed her eyes and blew the wisp of flame before throwing it into the grass beside her.

The Cold North Palace at night was very beautiful as the flames mixed with the snow. It was like when they first met, with white snow and faint plum blossoms. There was also the faint and soul stirring zither music ringing out.

[Ding, the host has completed the mission.]

Chapter 2645: Side story: Writing a final letter for you

This is a letter that you will never see because it was written in my heart.

Right now I'm standing on the ramparts of Dragon Gate Pass, watching the sky being filled with gunpowder. I can't help thinking how good it would be if I could see you again.

Because I will be heading to Ten Thousand Miles Gorge soon and my life will most likely end there.....

Sorry, Qing'er, I couldn't stay with you for the rest of our lives, holding your and Nian An's hand as we watched him grow up.

Actually, I wanted to do this more than anyone, but no one gave me this chance.

No, I should say that.....god didn't give me this chance.

When I switched identities with Ya Nu, I didn't dare look into your eyes.

Because I noticed that your eyes would come to me from time to time, like a hot flame that burned me.

I didn't dare look at you. I was afraid that if I saw your eyes, I would be unable to stop myself from telling you everything.

I didn't dare touch. I was afraid that at that moment, I would pull you into my chest.

Even like this, I would still stick to your side.

Even being laughed at by the maids: Look! The eunuch and empress are together.

I thought that I wouldn't be afraid as long as you were by my side. The soul was different from the flesh, but it was only a matter of perception and I knew that you would understand.

But I knew that I couldn't do this. I could be the target of criticism, I could never recover, but you couldn't.

The days that I wanted to give you should be watching you sleep when I headed to court in the morning and placing a kiss on your forehead.

Then after court, if you were awake, I would have breakfast with you. If you weren't awake, then I would bring my memos into the room and watch you from the side.

At noon we would enjoy the flowers in the garden together and I could even go out of the palace with you if you wanted.

There was no need to be afraid because I was enough to protect you.

At night we could sing and drink wine. Although I said that it wasn't good for girls to drink wine, I would let you have a small cup because you looked very good with a blush on your face.....

From morning to night, whether it was extraordinary or ordinary.

As long as you were by my side, that was the life I wanted.

It's a pity, Qing'er.....I didn't have that chance.

I don't know if you're doing well, I don't know if Ya Nu has exposed the fact that we changed identities.

But I deeply remember the scene when we walked to the Cold North Palace together.

Your eyes asking me not to leave the Cold North Palace, the look of hesitation, and also the emotions that you couldn't feel.

I knew, I knew it all.....

Because the person standing in front of you was Du Jiu Sheng, so you had all those emotions.

So you would be uneasy, afraid, and unwilling.....

Did you know when I almost couldn't help telling you the truth?

It was when you said: How come your writing is so similar to big brother Jiu Sheng's.

Silly girl, you still feel it's similar even though I wrote it all crooked, what is your little head thinking?

God knows how much I wanted to pat your head, hug you, hug you, and hug you.

But I couldn't say I love you again.

Because I couldn't speak.

At this moment, when facing my imminent death, I close my eyes and sincerely pray.

If, if, if.....

If there is a next life, if we can meet again, please don't take away my memories and let me remember her forever.

And in the next fleeting life, let me recognize her right away.

Chapter 2646: Side story: Your figure is fading away (1)

I wanted to hide from the world, but if I miss the world, it's because of you. ——Du Jiu Sheng.

Three Emotions Mountain, the way of immortality.

I vaguely remembered when she kneeled at my feet and called me master for the first time.

Dressed in white with clear and sparkling eyes.

I gave her the Phoenix Dance Sword and she was my only female apprentice.

When she first went to Three Emotions Mountain, she didn't know anything and learned immortal arts slowly.

She liked watching the cranes flying through the sky, watching the blue sky and white clouds, and watching the beautiful scenery.

Her immortal arts weren't good, but my other apprentices all pampered her.

They liked drinking peach blossom wine with her and wandering the human world with her.

She was playful by nature and liked many strange things. She never participated in the yearly sword test.

I didn't know why this kind of her would be hated by others.

There would always be one or two people from the other master uncle factions that didn't like her no matter what.

But no one knew her real identity and no one knew who she was.

I didn't know either, I just knew that I met her in the mortal world.

We have a mortal story that no one knew about.

"Second record · Three Emotions Mountain"

The first time I saw her was in the deserted Cold North Palace.

It was my bedroom.

I didn't know what love at first sight was and I didn't even know how it felt to like someone.

I only thought that she really looked good facing the sun.

In my life, out of the women that wanted to approach me, other than to kill me, it was to kill me.

I didn't have that thought at that time.

Because it was too special. It was like the willow tree dancing in my heart.

Until the moment I died, I never forgot how she called me that first time.

'Big brother Jiu Sheng.'

If I was a wanderer outside of time, then her beautiful eyes would let me see the beauty of the world because that would be the only way that I could keep her in my life.

I vaguely remembered that even when I rarely cooked, I strangely cooked for her when she arrived.

It was because when I looked in her eyes that were as clear as water, I couldn't refuse her.

The things that she didn't know how to do, I did.

Later I drank with her and told her things that I had never told anyone else before.

It was as if she wasn't an outsider that I had only known for a day, as if we had known each other for a long time.

I learned from her that she wasn't a commoner as she said.

She was the Luo Manor's young miss and the crown prince's fiancée.

Such a resounding title, it was countless times more powerful than the prince of this cold palace.

Hearing these words, I had an uncomfortable feeling in my heart. The wine turned sour.

I didn't sleep that night. When I met Ya Nu, I found that he was preparing clothes for her and I felt a bit uncomfortable.

As soon as that little girl entered the Cold North Palace, she kept telling me that she liked me with every word.

She would ask when I would marry her. She would cross her arms and look away when she was angry.

I would narrow my eyes to look at her, feeling that everything was good.

It turned out that accumulating power and contacts wasn't to make my days of laying low more comfortable.

It was to wait for her appearance.

If god told me in advance that such a woman would appear in my life.

I think that I would have worked even harder and gone beyond expectations.

The day Ya Nu gave her those clothes, I took her out to buy some things. The clothes that she wore, some snacks to eat, and the makeup that she used.

Although I felt that she looked good even without makeup, much better than anyone in this world.

I liked the innocent way she looked in front of me and the way she held my arm when I was next to her.

I knew that I couldn't resist this kind of warmth and couldn't resist any of her smiles.

But I never thought that we would encounter an incident on this trip.

A fortune teller, righteously talking about my and her future.

I couldn't understand what he meant, but I could understand the meaning of the words.

Clearly see the person in front of you or you would lose your most important person.

She seemed to really care about what the fortune teller said and her face turned a bit pale.

And I couldn't listen anymore.

These Jianghu scammers dared to tell our future, based on what?

I left the money and took her hand to leave.

But there was something strange about what he said.

I couldn't understand the meaning, but I could investigate.

When I went back to the palace, when she was resting because of her allergy to osmanthus cake, I had someone investigate that fortune teller.

Could it be that he was my enemy so he was confusing me with those lies?

But the response was that the fortune teller had disappeared.

I ordered people to wait for an answer when he appeared the next day.

But after one day, two days, three days, four days.....

The fortune teller seemed to have disappeared and I could never find him.

The more it was like this, the more unsettled I felt. Then she finally met the crown prince.

Ya Nu's disappearance made all of us worry and when we split up to search, she confronted the crown prince.

I didn't know how she defeated Yue Leng Qing, I just knew that when the crown prince wanted to hurt her with his sword, my heart skipped a beat and I felt suffocated.

I grabbed the sword without a single word.

Blood fell drop by drop.

Actually, I didn't feel any pain at all.

I even wanted to see her worrying about me, caring about me.

I could see the anger in the crown prince's eyes and I could see the pain and shock in her eyes.

After that day, I began focusing on gathering more power for myself.

I guessed that the crown prince would want to deal with me, but I didn't know what method he would use.

After all, with his status, I would always be passive. I could only wait for him to make his move and then go against it.

Of course, I never thought that going with it would actually have her.

Would have him.

The crown prince was very smart. He didn't want to marry the Chen Country's princess, but he couldn't offend the emperor.

Because before taking the throne, anyone could replace him.

Even if he had the empress and the northern faction behind him.

So he killed two birds with one stone. Since he could eliminate me and make Chen Yao Yao known as a promiscuous woman.

It was a pity that he thought I brought a eunuch with me, but I actually brought her.

In this dangerous situation, she didn't hesitate to save me, not caring about anything.

It seemed like we were connected because when this danger happened, I didn't hesitate to save her.

It was fine even if I paid for it with my life.

Because the moment that I met her, all of my time in exile had been overturned and I had unknowingly become free.

Chapter 2648: Side story: Your figure is fading away (3)

This incident caused the crown prince to become everyone's target. With Chen Yao Yao's testimony and the fact that nothing had happened between us.

Even if he was good at talking, it was hard to argue.

Since the crown prince had lit the fuse, I wouldn't be polite.

Although I didn't expect a trap banquet to be held in the Supreme Hall in this situation and father was angry with the crown prince, if I didn't have power in my hand, it was impossible to overturn everything.

Thinking of it, it was an exciting duel.

What followed was the death of Yue Leng Qing, the crown prince, and also the empress.

I watched all of this with cold eyes and found that our family's girl also watched everything with cold eyes.

Doing all of this, other than to let her peacefully stay by my side, it was also to take revenge for the sixty six members of the Luo Family.

Right and wrong, those that killed needed to repay them with their lives.

She wasn't a weak woman and she would never talk about revenge with me, but that doesn't mean that these things don't need to be done.

Later on.

She got pregnant and fainted at the sacrifice ceremony which really scared me.

When I learned that she wasn't sick and had a baby, peace of mind turned into much more than just joy.

The old saying goes that if the emperor had to choose between a concubine and a prince, he would always choose the prince.

But if she was in any danger because of the baby, I hope that the baby would never come out.

His appearance is another person to protect her and not to threaten her life.

But she seemed to know more about this child than I did.

When the doctor didn't know if it was a prince or a princess, she told me that it would definitely be a boy.

And the name was already set, it would be Nian An.

Nian An.....Actually, I never knew why she would come up with this name.

Later when I was in a different place, I seemed to understand.

Nian An meant.....Thinking of safety.

When the prince was born, everything seemed to return to normal.

No one could threaten her and any minister who had intentions towards her no longer appeared in court.

I could not kill, but I couldn't hear others saying that she wasn't good.

Since that person felt that she wasn't good, then he could leave forever because I didn't want to see them either.

After a long time, whether it was the court or the harem, everyone knew her position in my heart and no one dared to say that she wasn't good.

Because that meant returning home to go farm.

But none of us expected this smooth life to usher in the first change.

Chen Yao Yao's death was a painful decision for Xu Yue.

I was infinitely grateful towards Chen Yao Yao because if it wasn't for her help, Qing'er and I wouldn't have reached this point.

I wouldn't even have had a way to trap the prince and sit on the throne.

I thought that after she came back, I wouldn't let her go on the battlefield again. But I never thought that she wouldn't come back.

That strong woman, for the one that she loved, she held on without caring for a thing, but she still closed her eyes and died.

How painful of a thing this was.....

Xu Yue had watched her die, how much pain was he in.

I could understand and even feel this pain because.....I was also this afraid of losing her.

But.....what came came in the end. I couldn't escape it.....

It was like a thousand year old curse, a constant cycle that never stopped.

Chapter 2649: Side story: Your figure is fading away (4)

The day of the conferring ceremony, a day that I looked forward to.

From the red carpet to the high buildings, everyone bowed their heads and kneeled down to her.

This was what I had promised her in the past. I wanted her to become the most dazzling person.

This was the day that I had been waiting for all this time, but I never thought that this day would be the key in my parting with her.

With a bolt of lightning, Ya Nu and I both tried to protect her, but we never expected to switch bodies because of this.

I woke up first, but it wasn't in the King's Landing Palace and she wasn't beside me.

I was filled with pain and I wanted to get out of bed, but I found that I couldn't use strength in one of my legs. I wanted to talk, but I couldn't say a thing.

Gradually, a feeling of fear filled me as an ominous premonition filled my mind.

I started running and running. I ignored the doctors that tried to stop me and ran to the King's Landing Palace. I was afraid that this terrible truth would become real if I stopped running.

But when I ran to the King's Landing Palace to see the other 'me', my breathing had stopped.

Sitting there with empty eyes, focused on her who was lying in bed.

When my footsteps appeared, he came back to my senses and looked in my direction.

Ya Nu wanted to bow to me, but I stopped him.

Because I was him and he was me.

I looked at him and used a finally greedy look to look at her.

Because I knew that from now on, I couldn't possibly have her anymore.

I forever remembered the conversation with Ya Nu in the royal study, he spoke while I wrote.

"Young master, tell the empress the truth. Your love won't be influenced because of this."

No, she is important.

"Young master! I can't hide it for long. I don't understand the empress, she will easily see through it!"

No, you understand.

"Young master....."

I will protect her using a different method.

I never thought that this method would come so quickly. I had to go even before I could even decide whether to go or not.

Once the Dragon Gate Pass was broken, the Mo Country would fall.

It was because everyone knew this that Yao Yao died, Xu Yue couldn't open the gate, and he now lived a painful life.

Thinking of this, I was luckier than Xu Yue.

At least I could still protect this person and he could only protect the land.

She would never know that when I headed to the border, I went to the Three in One House that we went together to before.

I ordered all the dishes she ordered other than the osmanthus cake that made her sick.

I wanted to recall something, but I found that all those memories were lingering in my mind.

Life and death, I couldn't see through it and I didn't want to.

What was scary about death? The scary thing was not being able to die by her side.....

Standing on the walls of Dragon Gate Pass one last time, Xu Yue asked me if I regretted knowing that I couldn't be with her one last time even if the Mo Country perished.

I was silent for a long time and even Xu Yue felt that I wouldn't be able to answer.

Because even I wondered what it would have been like if I had stayed by her side.

It was a pity that there were no ifs in this world and this is how I answered Xu Yue.

If time could go back, I would have left the royal palace with her long ago and lived our lives together in a beautiful place.

This was the only blessing in this lonely world. I could love you and could be deeply loved by you.

[Ding, congratulations on bringing a soul fragment into the Lead God Space. 40/100]

Chapter 2650: Silly and sweet: The lost granddaughter of the rich man (1)

Afterwards.

In the third year of the new Mo Dynasty, the Liao People army worked with the Ying army to break through Peaceful Ink City. The prosperous scene of the past was gone and only the destruction of war was left.

In all of this, a handsome man described as a lame mute took a boy to Three Emotions Mountain.

He acted so real that no one recognized him.

He left after sending Nian An to Three Emotions Mountain. No one knew where he went and no one knew if he was alive or dead.

But in his eyes, Ten Thousand Miles Gorge was his final destination. He wanted to stay by that man's side and be his servant forever.

Eighteen years later, Nian An with sword in hand became the strongest swordsman on Three Emotions Mountain.

In his white clothes, there was a faint sparkle in his deep eyes that seemed indifferent to everything.

There were many who loved him on Three Emotions Mountain and countless eyes were attracted every year at the sword test.

A sweet looking female disciple would often give him cakes and fruits.

She would look at him with wide eyes and say, "Big brother Nian An is so beautiful, I never get tired of looking at you."

"Un, thank you." He would always return the things politely and say, "You should keep it for yourself!"

He wasn't indifferent, he knew how to reject them.

Without knowing why, he always felt an unspeakable sadness that filled his heart.

No one to love and no one to fall in love with.

It seemed that all people in this world were the same to him, there were no differences at all.

He would often dance with the sword in the snow. The pieces of snow fell onto his white sword which would sometimes dispel the boredom in his heart.

Du was the surname of the past royal family of the Mo Country and he was called Du Nian An.

Even if no one told him, he could already guess what his identity was.

But he didn't know where his parents were. Were they still alive or were they dead?

There would be a nation collapsing woman who appeared in his mind that looked at him. She would hold a pink bag as she looked at him with a look of farewell.

These were the most beautiful eyes he had seen in life.

[Welcome back host.]

Coming back to this place, Luo Qing Chen could feel a deeply touched feeling in her heart.

She hated this place, but also looked forward to it.

This was where it ended and where it began.

[Host, the system has already worked hard, don't scold me again.]

It had courted death by entering the world, but it was the same as her, it also wanted to protect Nian An.

"The ending was already decided, there's nothing to say. Just start the next story!"

[Does the host not want to rest?]

"No."
