

R. Paradise 32

Chapter 32: (Vol 1: End): The New Derivative World

“Tick, ticking ~.”

The sound of the clock rang in the quiet living room.

Su Xiao sat on the sofa and placed the sword on top of his legs. He was meditating.

This kind of meditation was not the one that sorcerers practiced, but a way that Koshiro imparted to Su Xiao, which enabled him to perceive himself more clearly.

Practicing the sword was not just about slashing, it was also about strong physics and mental power, this process may be boring for other people, but Su Xiao was happy doing it.

The degree of enthusiasm for one thing also represented the highly he thought about it. If there was no enthusiasm for the foundation, then it was better to give up, especially the practice of sword skills.

“Hoo...”

Su Xiao sighed and ended his meditation, although he did not exercise, he still felt hungry.

Picking up the phone, Su Xiao ordered eight servings. With his current food intake, one serving was not enough for him to fill his stomach.

After half an hour, a knock sounded on the door.

Looking at the sweaty delivery guy, Su Xiao smiled bitterly. It was hard for a person to take eight servings of food and go upstairs.

“katza.”

The door opened in front of Su Xiao’s door, and a man with sunglasses and a serious look came out.

The sunglasses man looked at Su Xiao and the delivery guy. After seeing Su Xiao, the person was obviously alert, because Su Xiao lived in his front door.

“New tenant?”

“New tenant.”

At the end of the greeting, the sunglasses man went downstairs.

After a meal, Su Xiao recalled the former sunglasses man, the person’s pace was strong, the bottom was stable, he was not ordinary people, but Su Xiao will not investigate the origin of the person, it was completely none of his business.

Just staying in the real world for a few days, Su Xiao did not know why he felt a little annoyed.

He was eager to enter the reincarnation paradise for an adventure, which made him smile bitterly. Maybe he was born to be adventurous.

[Ding, the new mission in another world is about to be triggered, the hunter will return to the reincarnation paradise, please make sure that there are no witnesses around.]

[Transfer..., the transmission is completed.]

Su Xiao felt dizzy, and his ears hummed. After everything was restored, he was already in the exclusive room.

The new derivative world was coming. Su Xiao couldn't help but look forward to what world he will enter this time. If it is still the nightmare difficulty like one piece world, then it will be too difficult.

This time when Su Xiao will enter the derivative world, he will not only receive the main task of the reincarnation paradise but also receive the hunting task.

If the difficulty of the derivative world is too high, there is a low possibility that he will succeed in the hunt.

“Reincarnation paradise”, what kind of derivative world I will enter.”

[Hunter level: Lv.2, you will receive notice before ten minutes of entering the derivative world, the hunter will enter the derivative world in an hour, please be patient.]

Su Xiao knew that he could understand what kind of derivative world he will enter in advance, but he needed a higher rank. The higher the rank, the earlier he will know, which meant he would have more time to prepare.

He could only be notified ten minutes in advance, not too short, but not too long. It was not enough time to prepare.

Leaving the exclusive space, Su Xiao walked to the trading market.

It was a circular plaza. Although there were people selling items throughout the reincarnation paradise, there were more people here, and there were many excellent goods.

The green gun that Su Xiao saw before was in the trading market.

“Technical materials dictionary, four months old shop.”

“It's too expensive, 700? Why don't you rub a bank?”

“Acquiring materials from the derivative world, the price is fair.”

“Don't miss this while passing by, all kinds of restoration products are sold here exclusively.”

The crowds were bustling, selling sounds and bargaining sounds interweaved.

Su Xiao still had 2,827 paradise coins, which he deliberately left to prepare for the upcoming derivative world.

Stopping in front of the booth that sold the restoration products, there were already a few contractors gathered here, and they looked awkward.

This shop, Su Xiao had seen several times before, the owner of the booth should be a worker who often set up here.

Compared with the booth of the contractors, Su Xiao was more interested in the stalls of the workers.

Many contractors will treat the items they obtained in the derivative world as treasures. The price was very high, and it was outrageous.

Workers were different, they stayed in the trading market all the years and had a good understanding of the prices of the reincarnation paradise.

If a large number of contractors enter the world with dark creatures soon, then the price of items with light attributes will increase significantly.

The range of increasing price will change according to the needs of the contractors, and this was the solid law. Workers did not dare to raise prices. They also had to enter the derivative world, and they may face the anger of the contractors.

Su Xiao found several good restoration products at the booth.

These three kinds of restorative products, although the [gold fried rice] can recover most, it has to be eaten whole, and the recovery speed was slow.

[Salt rice ball] was similar to [Golden fried rice], but the eating speed was much faster. According to Su Xiao's estimate, he could eat this thing at most in two bites, and he could also consider swallowing it in an emergency.

The most valuable thing was that the bottle [XT-12 Life Vitality Pharmacy], although it could only restore 15% of life value, he could be drunk during battle.

The reincarnation paradise did not have the function of directly using the medicine. He needed to use it himself.

In the fierce battle, it was difficult to eat the restorative products, but it did not mean that the medicinal products had no value. It was the best choice to recover from injuries after the battle.

“These three kinds, what's the price for them?”

The worker saw that Su Xiao had the intention to buy. Su Xiao and several contractors on the side were different. He looked like he will buy.

“[Salt rice group] 100 paradise coins, [gold fried rice] 200 paradise coins, [XT-12 vitality medicine] 700 paradise coins, a total of 1000 paradise coins.

Friends, I can see that you sincerely want to buy, I am also sincerely selling, this is the most favorable price, you can call me the medicine can, this price is for making a friend. ”

The prices of the first two kinds of restoration products were not high, only the latter's price was as high as 700 paradise coins.

But that was a life-saving thing, and it was acceptably high.

Imagine a contractor who was in danger and almost dying, he could save his life by using just one bottle.

“It's too expensive, that's it, I want to buy more...”

After some bargaining, Su Xiao bought [XT-12 vitality medicine] × 1, [golden fried rice] × 2, [salt rice group] × 5 in a total of 1500 paradise coins.

The worker named medicine Can was very happy and also told Su Xiao the correct way to use those products.

The medicine Can was, of course, a fake name. Just like Su Xiao's Byakuya, the contractor who used the real name in the reincarnation paradise was rarer than the giant

Although [Salt Rice Ball] can only restore 10% of health, it was easy to eat.

There was no such setting like cooldown time of use, but if he eats those products continuously for a short period, the effect will decrease, and the recovery effect will be lost entirely.

“Brother, I wish you come back.”

The medicine can shake hands with Su Xiao while sincerely smiling.

The workers were different from the contractors. They had not experienced too much cruelty, and most of the workers had not even killed anyone.

“Thank you for your good words.”

After Su Xiao wandered in the trading market for a while, he received a hint of the reincarnation paradise.
