Chapter 371: Don't Become a Gynecologist

"Pfft, no I don't." Ji Qingyan said with her ponytail raised.

"It's all just a coincidence, but you made so much money in secret that you bought Didi without anyone knowing. I was shocked when I heard that."

"Actually, I've been working in secret for a long time and only brag in front of you. Aren't I good?"

"Yeah, you're the best. I'll give you a thumbs up." Ji Qingyan's eyes narrowed into crescents. She was happy that Lin Yi had achieved such success.

"Ah, it's just a small matter. It's not worth mentioning."

"Keep bragging."

Ji Qingyan was happy that Lin Yi had bought Didi.

"Now, Didi has become a wholly-owned subsidiary of Lingyun Group. When we talk about 'food, clothing, housing, and transportation', the 'transportation' portion has been settled. All that remains is 'food, clothing, and housing'. What are your plans regarding Lingyun Group's next steps?"

"Tell me what you think first. I want to hear your opinion."

"No, you have to go first."

"Is there a need to be so calculative?"

"Of course there's a need," Ji Qingyan said matter-of-factly. "I'll identify the loopholes after you're done. This will show how great I am."

"You're such a nuisance."

"I can't help it. I'm a woman, so I'm naturally unreasonable."

Lin Yi leaned back on the sofa. "I'd rather wait and see the reactions of the other companies than come up with a plan for the next step."

Ji Qingyan pondered for a moment and said,

"Lingyun Group's acquisition of Didi is considered a big deal in the industry. It's a very rare event in the internet industry."

"But you can't keep it a secret. It won't be long before people find out that Didi is being bought out. After that, those in the industry who want a share of the big data industry might join forces. It's a wise move for you to quietly play a defensive card for now."

"You're being a bit too serious if you're thinking about playing a defensive card."

Lin Yi changed his position and lay on Ji Qingyan's lap. The latter naturally moved closer to the sofa, afraid that Lin Yi wouldn't be able to lie down.

"I just want to see how many enemies I have waiting in the dark, who they are, and then destroy them one by one."

"Are you trying to form a monopoly?"

"I was thinking of it."

"I believe you can do it. You're the best."

Ji Qingyan put her finger to her lips, then pressed it against the corner of Lin Yi's mouth.

"I'll give you a flying kiss. Come on, do your best."

"You're too prim and proper."

"Be content. It's already good enough that I'm giving you a flying kiss." Ji Qingyan smiled.

"During the day, Yuanyuan called me and said that she might go to Yangcheng with Brother Qi. I'm planning to go back to Yangcheng as well after I join the bid tomorrow. It's been a long time since I've visited Mother Wang and the others."

"We'll see how it goes. I have a lot of things to do there, so I might not be able to keep track of the time."

"You just leave the company to Yuanyuan and the others. You're so free with your time, so how can you not keep track of time?"

"I'm not free. I got a new job."

"Oh?" Ji Qingyan's interest was piqued. She looked at Lin Yi curiously. "What new job did you get this time?"

"I joined Huashan Hospital and became a doctor."

"Ah!!!"

Ji Qingyan raised her voice. "You are going to be a doctor?"

"Yeah, is there a need to give such a big reaction?"

"I'm already being very calm," Ji Qingyan said.

"I can understand when you went to school to be a teacher, but it's unbelievable that you are now becoming a doctor."

"I can't help it. Who asked me to be so omnipotent?"

"Keep bragging. I think you're actually joining the hospital to do logistics."

"How is that possible? I'm applying to be a clinical doctor, and it's sad that you actually don't believe in my ability."

“The main issue is that you are trying so many fields. Moreover, being a doctor requires a very high level of professional knowledge. How am I supposed to believe you?”

“Do you want me to show you?”

“Sure, let me see what you’re capable of. I don’t want you to lose face at the hospital, otherwise I’ll lose face too.”

“I’m good at gynecological diseases. Let me check you right now to see if there are any lumps.”

Ji Qingyan paused. “Lin Yi, you’re a hooligan and a bully.”

“It’s just a precaution. Don’t worry, I’m a professional. It won’t hurt at all.”

“Dream on. Hmph!”

Pushing Lin Yi aside, Ji Qingyan stood up. “I can’t believe you’re going to the hospital to become a doctor. Which department exactly?”

“Is that important?”

“Of course. If you dare to become a gynecologist, I won’t stay with you anymore.”

Lin Yi couldn’t help but laugh. “So that’s what you care about.”

“I don’t care. I already told you, you can join any department except the gynecology department.”

“Okay, okay, okay, I’ll listen to you.”

After getting a positive answer from Lin Yi, Ji Qingyan nodded in satisfaction and went to the bathroom on the second floor to take a shower.

In reality, Lin Yi himself didn’t know which department he would be assigned to.

The job was arranged by the system, and he had to report to the hospital before he could find out what he would be doing.

Fortunately, he had the sage’s wisdom, so he could deal with patients from different departments easily.

However, in his current state, he would be a piece of trash if he immediately started working.

At the end of the day, it wasn’t up to him to decide what he could do, and he still depended on what reward the system gave him.

However, Lin Yi felt that it was a bit too hasty to start experiencing the profession of a doctor in just a week.

Some patients even needed more than a week to stay in the hospital, receive their check-up, go through surgery, and recover.

It didn’t matter to him, but leaving to experience another profession after a week was the most irresponsible thing he could do to a patient.

Lin Yi leaned back on the sofa, thinking about his new job.

He was looking forward to every new career the system gave him.

However, being a doctor was too special, and it depended on the situation.

After thinking about these things, Lin Yi went upstairs to take a shower and rest.

The next morning, Ji Qingyan woke up very early to make breakfast.

It seemed to have become a habit for her to make breakfast when she was with Lin Yi.

However, this was only limited to breakfast. Her lunch and dinner were still rubbish.

Lin Yi didn't leave after dropping Ji Qingyan off at the company because he didn't need to drive anymore. He was going to join the bidding with her.

Around ten in the morning, just as Ji Qingyan was making the final preparations for the bid, her secretary walked in from outside.

The female secretary was used to seeing Lin Yi.

She also knew that the relationship between Lin Yi and the CEO had always been vague.

"President Ji, I asked around and found out that Tianhong Group from Zhonghai is also participating in the bid."

"Tianhong Group?" Lin Yi muttered, "Is it that stupid company that Zhao Zhengyang is from?"

Chapter 372: Trying to Woo Liang Ruoxu?

The female secretary was taken aback. She didn't think that Lin Yi would know of Tianhong.

"It's that Tianhong Group." The female secretary said:

"But this time, Zhao Zhengyang didn't invest as the general manager of Tianhong Group. Instead, he used his company, Tianzheng, to bid."

"He changed companies."

Ji Qingyan muttered, "What he did is not beneficial to their bid."

In the construction industry, reputation was very important.

Tianhong Group, a behemoth that had stood tall in Zhonghai for decades, had nothing to prove in terms of both reputation and ability.

Zhao Zhengyang's approach was indeed a little strange.

"Could this be a joint bid led by Zhao Zhengyang?"

"It's possible."

Ji Qingyan thought of this possibility as well. "If our guess is true, it'll be even harder to handle. No one is willing to give up short-term gains for their long-term success."

Zhao Zhengyang was willing to give up the golden name of the Tianhong Group, which meant that he had confidence in winning the bid.

From the looks of it, Chaoyang Group was at a huge disadvantage.

"Apart from the Tianzheng group, are there any other bidders?" Lin Yi asked.

"The Qin family's Hanhai Group and Far East Group are also participating in this bid."

"Even the Qin family is participating."

Hearing these names, Lin Yi realized that the bid this time was really big. Otherwise, it wouldn't have attracted so many people.

The Qin family's Hanhai Group, Zhao Zhengyang's Tianzheng, and Far East group that had sold him the Twin Towers.

In front of these giants, Chaoyang Group was insignificant.

"I heard that the Qin family is also very serious about this bid. With the participation of these three giants, the chances of us winning the bid are not high."

Chaoyang Group might have had the ability to handle such a big project, but in terms of connections, they were far too lacking.

This would also directly influence whether or not they could win the bid.

This also meant that the hard work over the past month was likely to go down the drain.

"What big three?" Lin Yi said with a smile. "Zhao Zhengyang is an idiot. There's no need to count him."

Ji Qingyan couldn't help but laugh. It seemed that Lin Yi really didn't consider Zhao Zhengyang an opponent.

"Let's go and see the situation first," Ji Qingyan said.

"Compared to them, we have the advantage in terms of our financial offer. It's not like we don't have a chance at all."

Ji Qingyan pondered for a moment, "Tell the finance, prepare some checks for me, one for 1 million, two for 500,000, and five for 200,000. I will use it later."

"Got it, President Ji."

"Isn't it a little late to give gifts now?" Lin Yi asked after the secretary left.

"It's better to be prepared." Ji Qingyan said with a smile. "If we can buy someone lunch, the chances of us winning the bid will be higher."

"Your routine is nothing new, and there is nothing special about it."

“Aiya, just prepare some food for us.” Ji Qingyan stood up and pushed Lin Yi into the kitchen. “You cook, I’ll be your assistant.”

“You’re a female CEO. Why are you focusing on cooking instead of learning about how to win auctions effectively? Are you trying to run the company into the ground?”

“Yeah, when I lose my job, we’ll find an alley to sell egg fried rice together.”

Lin Yi smiled and didn’t say anything. He started working on lunch with Ji Qingyan, and at that moment, felt like a husband and wife working together.

After lunch, Ji Qingyan took the bidding documents and went to the city hall along with Lin Yi.

Just as they parked the car, they saw a Rolls-Royce Phantom parked next to them.

“It looks like that idiot Zhao Zhengyang’s car,” Lin Yi muttered.

The two opened the car door and saw Zhao Zhengyang and Qu Nan coming down.

Lin Yi pulled back his hand and hugged Ji Qingyan’s waist. The latter looked at Lin Yi but didn’t say anything.

Zhao Zhengyang’s face darkened. He couldn’t hide his expression.

“Mr. Lin, why are you acting like this? It’s like you’ve never seen a woman before.”

“I’ve seen a woman before, but I’ve never seen one this beautiful. It’s a pity that President Zhao doesn’t have a chance with her.”

“Ha, I’m not interested in her anymore. You should keep her for yourself.”

“What’s wrong? Do you have a new lover?” Lin Yi laughed.

“What’s her name? Do you need me to test her out? You can’t be too cautious when it comes to these issues.”

“Haha, I admit that I can’t win against you, but I also don’t want to compete with you in this regard.” Zhao Zhengyang said.

“As for this bid, I advise you not to bother joining. You won’t stand a chance of winning.”

Lin Yi shrugged. “You said the same thing about the lawsuit.”

Zhao Zhengyang narrowed his eyes, his face cold.

“I was careless last time, but this time, you won’t stand a chance.”

“Then let’s wait and see.”

As he spoke, Lin Yi hugged Ji Qingyan’s waist and walked toward the hall.

“Director Zhao, after this auction, we should give him a lesson.”

“Yeah, we can’t do it the gently, let’s do it the hard way!”

Zhao Zhengyang looked at the time and said, "Let's go. It's almost time. I still need to talk to Mayor Liang about the bidding. I want to really secure the project. Both the Qin family and the Far East Group will have no choice but to back down."

"Director Zhao, I heard that the newly appointed Mayor Liang has an excellent appearance and figure. Moreover, she's from Yanjing. Besides her current identity, the family behind her will probably be even more terrifying."

"Do you even need to say that? She's already in a high position at such a young age. Moreover, she focuses on the economy. We can't win just by being terrifying anymore," Zhao Zhengyang said.

"But I'm guessing that she's here to build her reputation. She probably won't be staying long."

Qu Nan chuckled. "So you have to act quickly."

"Don't worry, I know what to do."

"Then I'll get someone to prepare the roses."

At that moment, a rumbling sound could be heard. A black Bentley drove over from afar.

The two of them subconsciously looked over. Qu Nan said, "Director Zhao, that seems to be Wang Mazi's car."

"Why are you speaking in that tone? He's our partner after all."

Soon, the black Bentley stopped in front of the two of them.

Ma Zi Wang, Yan Biao, and Ao Zhang got out of the car one after another.

"Uncle Wang, you're just in time. Let's go in together," Zhao Zhengyang said politely.

"Actually, I arrived a long time ago, but I saw that you were chatting with someone else, so I didn't come over immediately," Wang Mazi said.

"Zhengyang, you know Lin Yi too?"

Zhengyang and Qu Nan looked at each other. "Uncle Wang, you know Lin Yi too?"

"Not only do I know him, but I have a grudge against him," Wang Mazi said coldly.

"What's going on? Tell me, I have a grudge against him too."

Wang Mazi shot Zhang Ao a look. Apart from his usual tattoo, there was also an irregular scar on his body.

"What's going on?"

"A month ago, we had a conflict at the nightclub. The scar on my body was caused by Lin Yi," Zhang Ao said with a cold face.

Chapter 373: Seduction Doesn't Work at All

“No way.”

Zhao Zhengyang was surprised. “I know how strong Zhang Bro is very well. How could he stab you? Your strength isn’t something an ordinary person can rival.”

“I underestimated him. He’s very skilled. I’m not his match.”

Zhao Zhengyang frowned. He now had a new understanding of Lin Yi’s strength.

Zhang Ao was a famous fighter under Wang Mazi, stronger even than Wang Mazi’s own bodyguard, but even so, he was still beaten up by Lin Yi.

From the looks of it, Lin Yi’s strength was nothing to be scoffed at.

He was stronger than Zhao Zhengyang had imagined!

“Uncle Wang, it’s been so long, and he’s still alive and kicking. Haven’t you thought of making a move? This doesn’t seem like your usual style,” Zhao Zhengyang said.

“I’ve wanted to make a move a long time ago, but I was forced to bide my time. I was afraid that it would affect the project this time, so I simply suppressed it. I need to wait until the bidding is over before I could settle things with him.”

“Haha, then today is really killing two birds with one stone,” said Zhao Zhengyang. “After the bidding is over, we’ll go deal with him.”

“I’ve been waiting for this for a long time. The day has finally arrived.”

...

As the bidding was about to begin, the waiting hall in the city bidding center was filled with people.

Ji Qingyan greeted some of her old acquaintances and prepared to find a place to wait for the bidding to begin.

However, there were too many people coming here to join the bidding, so it was difficult for them to find an empty seat, let alone two.

“Old Lin, you’re here to bid too.”

Qin Han walked over when he saw Lin Yi and Ji Qingyan. “Don’t just stand there. I’ll take you to the VIP room.”

“There’s a VIP room in a place like this?” Lin Yi asked.

“The VIP room was prepared impromptu,” Qin Han said with a smile.

“We have a very good relationship with the people working here. They reserved a small conference room for us. People like us who are famous usually go there to wait for the bidding to start.”

“You sure know how to act cool. People like you without a handsome face or body ought to go straight to the crematorium instead of hiding in rooms like this.”

Lin Yi said with a smile

“I think you’re just jealous.”

Qin Han laughed out loud as he brought Lin Yi and Ji Qingyan to a small conference room not far away.

The seats were made of leather and some tea had even been prepared. The treatment here was many levels higher than what one would experience outside.

Ji Qingyan felt a little sad when she saw this scene.

The outside hall was normally quite nice by her standards.

However, when compared to this room, there was an obvious difference in level.

Just now, the friends she had greeted were all worth billions, and their overall strength was comparable to that of Chaoyang Group. However, they were all sitting on benches similar to if they were in a park, carefully and nervously waiting for the bidding to open.

However, the treatment was different at Qin Han’s level.

Moreover, this was the Zhonghai City Bidding Centre, an official government organization.

If it were a private organization, they would have long been divided into different classes.

The difference would be even more obvious then.

However, Ji Qingyan quickly came to her senses. With her current level, she might never have been able to enter this place.

However, Lin Yi definitely was qualified enough, so she didn’t care.

“President Lin is here!”

Seeing Lin Yi and Ji Qingyan walk in, a middle-aged man came over to greet them.

Lin Yi still remembered the person who spoke. It was the vice president of Far East Group, Luo Wan.

He was the one who sold him the Twin Towers.

“Nice to meet you, Director Luo.” Lin Yi greeted with a smile.

” President Lin, I thought Far East Group still stood a chance today, but now that your Lingyun Group is here, it looks like we have no chance at all.”

“Director Luo, you’ve misunderstood. This time, it’s not our Lingyun Group who is bidding, it’s my girlfriend’s Chaoyang Group.”

Ji Qingyan looked embarrassed. I haven’t even agreed to the relationship yet, but you’re already spouting nonsense.

Luo Wan revealed an intriguing smile.

“President Ji is a well-known beauty in the circle. I didn’t expect you to be together with Mr. Lin. What a perfect match. Congratulations.”

Ji Qingyan’s face was flushed with shyness. She appeared as charming as a young girl at this moment.

“Director Luo, you flatter me.” Ji Qingyan said gently and magnanimously, “I hope you can show mercy and not make us lose too badly.”

“With President Lin’s support, Chaoyang Group will definitely win the bid this time. I should be the one saying that.”

“Director Luo, look at what you’re saying. Why are you still trying to boost other people’s morale at the expense of your own reputation?” Qin Han ridiculed.

“Old Lin’s Lingyun Group is indeed a little awesome, but you’re not bad either. It will be a good competition.”

“Young Master Qin, you really know how to make fun of us.” Luo Wan smiled and said.

“President Lin spent 18 billion to purchase the Twin Towers in one go. Our Far East Group can’t compete with them financially.”

“That’s a real problem,” Qin Han said.

“Old Lin, we have a good relationship, but business is business. I won’t let you win this, or my father will skin me alive.”

“It’s okay. There’s no father or son relationship in business. Even if I lose to you this time, I won’t hold any grudges.” Lin Yi patted Qin Han on the shoulder. “Good luck. I have faith in you.”

“F*ck! You’re teasing me again.”

The three of them chatted for a while before sitting in different seats.

Although they were familiar with each other, they were all opponents fighting to secure this bid, so they had to make their relationship clear.

Ji Qingyan was on the phone, and Lin Yi glanced at the contact she was calling. He saw the name ‘Mayor Liang’, and became suspicious.

Could Liang Ruoxu be the mastermind behind this project?

If that was the case, the project would be easy to secure.

However, Ji Qingyan’s call didn’t go through, and Liang Ruoxu hung up on her.

A few seconds later, Ji Qingyan called Liang Ruoxu again. It was the same as before, and she hung up after a few seconds.

“What’s wrong? She isn’t picking up?”

“Maybe she didn’t pick up my call to avoid suspicion. The check might not have any use to us anymore.”

With that, she picked up her phone again and prepared to call the others.

“Why are you still calling her if she’s not picking up?”

“There are other leaders besides her. As long as we can give the money, they’ll take extra care of us during the bidding evaluation. It’s not strange for people to be courteous to their stronger bidders.”

“You’re wrong to think that way.” Lin Yi said. “Instead of giving Liang Ruoxu one million, why not give her three million? You have to give the person the right gift.”

“But I can’t even see her face.”

“Don’t worry, I’ll go out and see if I can find her people.”

“You want to go? Why don’t I go?”

“It’s not suitable for you to go. You’re the boss of Chaoyang Group. If someone with bad intentions sees you together, even if you win the bid, they’ll make a big deal out of it. There’s even the possibility that you might lose the bid altogether. That’s the reason for her trying to avoid suspicion as well.”

“Alright, but don’t force it,” Ji Qingyan said. “There are so many people involved. It’s only natural if we don’t win the bid.”

“Don’t worry, I know what I’m doing.”

Lin Yi patted Ji Qingyan’s shoulder, signaling her to be at ease. Then, he walked out alone.

After leaving the small meeting room, Lin Yi took out his phone and sent a WeChat message to Liang Ruoxu.

“Are you in the bidding hall?”

Liang Ruoxu replied quickly.

“How did you know?”

“Which room are you in? I have something to tell you.”

“Room 408, but don’t come in. Let me know when you get here. There’s someone in the office.”

“You can come out in five minutes. I’m heading over to you now.”

“Okay.”

Lin Yi put his phone back into his pocket and saw Qin Han following him.

“Old Lin, where are you going? You’re not thinking of using the back door, are you?” Qin Han asked

“You’re like my little follower.”

“The Qin family is determined to win this project. We have to follow closely so you don’t play any tricks under the table.”

“F*ck, what is wrong with you?”

Lin Yi had no choice but to let Qin Han follow him.

“Old Lin, I’d advise you to cease your dirty thoughts. Mayor Liang, who’s in charge of this project, isn’t an ordinary person. She’s cold and aloof, and her temper is well known. Seducing her won’t work at all. Be careful that you don’t end up with a pile of rice on your head.” Qin Han said

“Why would you curse me like that?” Lin Yi said.

"I'm just reminding you, Bro. I don't want to see you get embarrassed." Qin Han said

The two of them went upstairs together. Just as they turned the stairs, they both stopped. Qin Han said,

"Hey, wait a minute. Isn't that Zhao Zhengyang?"

Chapter 374: Fear of the Human Heart

"Judging from his behavior, he's probably here to pull some strings," Qin Han cursed again. "But he's holding a bouquet of roses in his hand. What is the meaning of this?"

"Maybe he's here to court someone," Lin Yi said with a smile. "That's what a showoff like him likes to do."

"With his pretentious personality, any woman with a bit of sense wouldn't fall for him."

"Agreed +1"

Zhao Zhengyang stood up when he saw Lin Yi and Qin Han walking over.

"I'm sorry but you're late." Zhao Zhengyang shrugged.

"What happened? Did you ask Mayor Liang out?" Qin Han asked,

"No, I just got here first. There's always a first come, first served rule, isn't there?"

"At least you have some self-awareness. I thought you were going to be a lap dog and try chasing after her," Qin Han said sarcastically.

"Why? Are you jealous?" Zhao Zhengyang smiled. "With our Zhao family's size in Zhonghai and even Huaxia, can't I go after her?"

"You're so ugly, yet you still have the nerve to say that?"

"At our level, do you think dating is a game?" Zhao Zhengyang said, "It's important to be of equal status."

"Of equal status? What? Do you think our Qin family's influence is just for show?"

"You'll find out later whether it is just for show."

Kacha.

Just as the two were arguing, the door to Room 408 was pushed open.

Liang Ruoxu, who was wearing a black uniform, walked out of the office and saw Lin Yi at first glance.

However, Qin Han and Zhao Zhengyang's presence surprised her slightly.

Why were there so many people here?

Qin Han and Zhao Zhengyang were both impressed by Liang Ruoxu's cold appearance.

Apart from Ji Qingyan, there wasn't anyone else who could compete with her.

"Mayor Liang, I prepared this for you..."

"Um, can you give way? She's here to see me."

Zhao Zhengyang didn't finish his sentence before Lin Yi walked over and grabbed her waist before walking away from them.

"F*ck!"

Qin Han was dumbfounded. What the f*ck was going on?

Zhao Zhengyang was also dumbfounded.

She was actually taken down?

When did this happen?

Seeing Lin Yi disappear from in front of him with Liang Ruoxu in his arms, Qin Han took his phone and left silently.

"Dad, the bid is over."

"Over? It's only a few hours and the bidding is already done?"

"No, it's been internally decided."

"Ridiculous, even our Qin family couldn't secure the bid through private means. Who has the ability to do so? Liang Ruoxu is a by the books kind of person."

"Lin Yi got Liang Ruoxu."

There was a few seconds of silence on the other end of the phone.

"Your brother... He's really something else."

...

Liang Ruoxu panicked at first, not expecting Lin Yi to be so bold.

"What are you doing?!" Liang Ruoxu said coldly, trying to escape from Lin Yi's grip.

"Just cooperate," Lin Yi said with a smile. "That sand sculpture outside was chasing after you with some roses. I had to make him back off."

"Do you think I need your help with something like this?" Liang Ruoxu was obviously ungrateful.

"Of course, there are thousands of sand sculptures like him. You can't handle them alone."

"But we're already at the staircase. Why are you still hugging me?"

"Eh, it's my occupational disease," Lin Yi said with a smile.

“Tell me, why are you looking for me? Do you want a project to be approved or do you want to get a loan?”

“I have enough money, and I’m not looking to get anything approved,” Lin Yi said.

“I’m here to bid. Please give Chaoyang Group the project through the backdoor. I’m sure there’ll be no problems in terms of our qualifications and reputation, so I’ll definitely be able to complete the task quickly and efficiently. However, can you help me with the bidding?”

“Do you think I’m a money-grubber? Or do you think that with our relationship, I’ll be able to use my official position for personal gain?”

“That’s the rules of the game here in Huaxia,” Lin Yi said with a smile.

“You’re the youngest person I’ve ever met in this position, and everyone knows how this works. I’m sure that you’re here to gild your reputation, but you’re still just a deputy. Give me some time, and I’ll let you get promoted in two years.”

Lin Yi’s courage and sharp insight reminded Liang Ruoxu how terrifying the inner workings of the human mind could be.

Even though Liang Ruoxu was adamant in claiming that she would never commit jobbery, but perhaps her reaching her current position was the biggest act of jobbery.

“Is that all? Do you have anything else to tell me?” Liang Ruoxu asked with a stern expression.

“Uh...” Lin Yi paused for a second, pretending to be deep in thought. “Your waist’s pretty soft, so there should be a lot of meat there.”

Lin Yi left quickly as he spoke, or else he’d be hacked to death.

Meanwhile, Liang Ruoxu stood rooted in place, thinking about something.

‘Is there a lot of meat?’

...

Lin Yi returned to the small meeting room after talking to Liang Ruoxu and found Qin Han and Zhao Zhengyang there.

Qin Han didn’t really care. It didn’t matter if he missed out on this opportunity, and it wouldn’t greatly affect the Qin family’s business.

On the other hand, Zhao Zhengyang’s face didn’t look too good. There was even a hint of green on it.

“Mr. Lin, you’re really something. You actually hooked up with Mayor Liang. I feel bad for President Ji.”

“Huh? What are you talking about?”

“I saw it with my own eyes. Are you trying to deny it? Are you afraid that President Ji will find out that you’re two-timing?”

Ji Qingyan didn’t understand what was going on. What was Lin Yi doing?

“President Ji, I just saw Lin Yi and Mayor Liang leave with their arms around each other’s shoulders. It looks like you weren’t aware.” Zhao Zhengyang gloated.

“President Zhao, it’s meaningless for you to say such things.” Ji Qingyan said with a cold face.

“Lin Yi doesn’t even know who Mayor Liang is, yet you’re saying such slander. It’s ridiculous.”

Qin Han couldn’t help but give Lin Yi a thumbs up. Old Lin was so awesome!

He didn’t even need to explain himself. President Ji didn’t believe Zhao Zhengyang at all.

He was looking for a woman like this too!

Lin Yi shrugged at Qin Han, acting very pretentiously.

“President Ji, if I didn’t see it with my own eyes, do you think I would say something like this? Don’t you trust my character?”

“I don’t.”

From Ji Qingyan’s point of view, Zhao Zhengyang’s words were pure slander!

How could two people who didn’t know each other get together?

Even he they wanted to tarnish Lin Yi’s reputation, he had to come up with a better lie.

His methods were too low.

“Alright, don’t bother with him anymore. A mad dog like him will bite anyone he sees. Let’s just do our own thing,” Lin Yi comforted.

“I hate people like him the most.”

“I can’t help it. I’m too outstanding, so it’s normal for people to be jealous of me.”

“Haha, Mr. Lin is indeed outstanding. He’s so outstanding that he even dares to touch my men. The younger generation is really awesome.”

Lin Yi, Ji Qingyan, and Qin Han turned back when they heard the sudden voice.

They were surprised to see a middle-aged man wearing a linen shirt coming in from outside.

“Wang Mazi, you are here too!”

Chapter 375: Doctor Lin Is Online

“Young Master Qin, what a coincidence,” Wang Mazi said.

“The municipal tender project has nothing to do with you, right?” Qin Han said.

“Indeed, it initially had nothing to do with me, but I find this project pretty attractive, so I’m cooperating with Director Zhao to develop it.”

“You still want to do real estate? Do you think you are the right person for the job?”

Wang Mazii wasn't angry at all but instead smiled.

“Of all the high-end real estate developers out there these days, how many of them are clean? It's only reasonable for us to get involved.”

Qin Han shrugged. “I can't control you, but I've already told Zhang Ao everything I needed to say. Lin Yi is my brother, so you'd better set aside those evil thoughts. We're all businessmen, and we're here for money. Don't make things unpleasant.”

Hearing that, Ji Qingyan was surprised.

She never thought that Lin Yi would get involved with these hooligans.

Sensing Ji Qingyan's mood change, Lin Yi patted her shoulder, telling her to relax.

“The bidding is about to start. Go get ready, don't waste time.”

Ji Qingyan grabbed Lin Yi's hand. “What about you?”

“I'll come find you after I'm done with this.”

“Come with me. Don't stay here.”

“Old Qin is here. How can I leave him behind?” Lin Yi gave her a relaxed look. “Just continue with the bid normally. Don't worry about me. Go.”

“Be careful then.”

Because of his relationship with Qin Han, Ji Qingyan knew that she wouldn't be able to bring Lin Yi away.

However, she wasn't too worried about Lin Yi's safety.

This was the city's bidding hall, which was official government property. No matter how bold these people were, they wouldn't dare to make a move here.

“Okay, go.”

Lin Yi looked at Luo Wan, who was sitting in the corner, and smiled. “Director Luo, the bidding is about to start. You guys should go out and prepare for it.”

“Okay, okay, okay. I'll go out with President Ji.”

Luo Wan was a proper businessman. He had never experienced anything like this before.

President Lin was really something.

He had a feud with Zhao Zhengyang and Wang Mazi. If word got out, it would be enough to cause a stir in Zhonghai.

Everyone who had nothing to do with the matter walked out of the meeting room. After this, Wang Mazi put his hands behind his back and looked at Qin Han.

“You can ask me not to pursue this matter, but are you asking me to let Zhang Ao’s injuries go just like that?”

“He ran over to show off and help Li Qingfeng settle a score. He was stabbed because he wasn’t capable enough, and now you guys are here to take revenge. What are you doing now by taking advantage of your superior numbers to bully those smaller than you?”

“This is the rule of the underworld. From the beginning to the end, this is how we do things.”

“Alright, let’s do things according to the rules of the underworld, then.” Qin Han pointed at Wang Mazi and said,

“I’ll let you include Zhao Zhengyang. I’ll let you even decide on the place to have the fight. Anyone who doesn’t show up will be branded a coward.”

“Look at how this matter has developed.” Wang Mazi chuckled and said,

“We’re already so old, so who would still want fight and kill? The underworld has become a lot more civil now.”

“Civil?” Qin Han smiled. “If you’re talking to me about civility, it means that you haven’t risen high enough.”

Wang Mazi’s face darkened. Previously, he could still face Qin Han as an elder.

However when he heard the word ‘haven’t risen high enough’, he could not control his emotions.

“I, Wang Mazi, have been in this world for so many years. Isn’t it ridiculous for you to say that I don’t understand the ways of the world?”

Qin Han leaned back in his chair with his legs crossed.

“We’re not even in the same class. Why are you discussing the civility with me? Only when two parties are evenly matched do you start discussing such things. If you meet someone of a higher level, do you think they’d be willing to grant you such mercy?”

“But at the very least, the Qin family hasn’t reached that level yet.”

“I’ll repeat what I said just now. If you want revenge, we will fight face to face. If you do anything sneaky in the dark, I’ll arrange to take care of your whole family.”

“Who the hell do you think you are talking to...”

“Get lost.”

Zhang Ao’s scolding stopped abruptly at Lin Yi’s words. He didn’t dare to say another word.

“Haha...”

Wang Mazi laughed dryly. “We’re here to bid today, not to fight. We’ll talk about these trivial matters later. I have plenty of time anyway.”

“Then we’ll waste it slowly,” Qin Han said playfully. “But I suggest you guys don’t join this bid. You won’t enjoy any success.”

“What does he mean by that?” Wang Mazi looked at Zhao Zhengyang, wanting to know what was going on.

The latter whispered in his ear a few times, and his expression changed. Finally, he left the small meeting room with a cold face.

“What a bunch of idiots,” Qin Han cursed.

“What’s the point of being so arrogant? It’s not worth it.” Lin Yi patted Qin Han’s shoulder. “Let’s get Old Liang and Old Gao together for dinner tonight.”

“Just for dinner?”

“Then what else were you thinking?”

“We should at least have a swimsuit party. It’ll be more exciting that way.”

“F*ck...”

Three hours later, Ji Qingyan walked in excitedly. “Lin Yi, we won the bid!”

Qin Han sighed silently.

‘Your man even won over Liang Ruoxu. It’d be weird if you didn’t secure the project.’

However, after thinking about it, he found this matter really infuriating.

A mistress giving a project to her first wife was really f*cking shady business. The benefits would be kept completely internal.

“See, I told you that you would win the bid.”

“Okay, okay, okay. You’re the best.” Ji Qingyan said delightedly, “As a reward, I’ll cook dinner for you tonight.”

“Cough, cough, cough...”

Qin Han coughed lightly. “Old Lin, didn’t you say that you’d treat me to dinner tonight? I think the weather’s pretty good today, so let’s do it today.”

“You guys are such jokers...”

“What are you talking about?” Ji Qingyan stopped them. “If you guys don’t mind, come with us. We can also invite Liang Jinming and Gao Zongyuan. It’ll be more lively with more people.”

Earlier at Xinhua Airport, Liang Jinming and Gao Zongyuan had helped Lin Yi and herself out of trouble.

Now that they had the chance, they had to repay them.

“It’s settled then.”

The group returned to Jiuzhou Pavillion later, but they had barbecued meat for dinner instead of making Ji Qingyan cook.

Ji Qingyan went back to rest after ten at night.

Lin Yi, Qin Han, and the others drank until dawn before ending the engagement.

The next morning, Lin Yi and Ji Qingyan got up and prepared to go to work.

Qin Han and the others were still sleeping soundly. Lin Yi ignored them and let them continue resting.

“Doctor Lin, it’s your first day on the job. I won’t make you send me off,” Ji Qingyan said playfully. “It’s won’t be good if you’re late.”

“That works for me. Pick a car from the garage.”

Ji Qingyan glanced at the garage. “I’ll drive a Bentley, but you shouldn’t drive a luxury car. It’ll be too eye-catching. I’ll find some time to buy you an ordinary car.”

“I don’t care what I drive. I don’t need to buy a car. I’m already quite comfortable in my Shari.” Lin Yi said with a smile.

The two drove to work separately after assigning the cars.

As the best hospital in Zhonghai, Huashan Hospital was naturally quite high-class.

Lin Yi sighed as well. He’d finally found himself a more awesome job.

“What’s going on?”

He was walking past a market when he saw a large group of people blocking the road.

There wasn’t even enough space for a bicycle to pass through, let alone Lin Yi’s Shari.

Lin Yi got out of the car and walked toward the crowd. He wanted to see what was going on.

“Can someone help us? My grandfather suddenly has a stomachache and can’t stand up anymore.”

Just as he walked over, he saw a little girl carrying a schoolbag and crying.

Beside her was a pale-faced old man with a pained expression, as if his life was in imminent danger.

“Don’t move, let me take a look!”

Just as everyone was thinking of helping but was unsure of how to do so, a young man rushed out from the crowd.

The man was about twenty years old. He had short hair, eyes, and a scholarly air about him.

“Big Brother, do you have a way to cure my grandfather?” The girl cried.

“Don’t worry, I’m a doctor from Huashan Hospital. Just leave it to me, there won’t be any problems.”

“A doctor from Huashan Hospital!”

“This girl is really lucky. Huashan Hospital is the best hospital in Zhonghai, and the doctors there are all extraordinary. Her grandfather will be okay this time.”

Lin Yi was a little surprised. He didn’t expect to meet a colleague here.

“Thank you, Big Brother.”

The bespectacled man was very professional. He first touched the old man’s abdomen and appendix, then looked at his eyelids and tongue. Finally, he said seriously,

“This is acute appendicitis. We have to send him to the hospital quickly. If we are late, his life will be in danger!”

“What?! Acute appendicitis!”

The little girl cried even harder and panicked.

It was normal for a young girl like her to panic when faced with such a situation.

“Acute appendicitis is life-threatening. There’s no time to wait for the ambulance.”

“Sigh, how pitiful. He actually fell ill in such a place. He’s too unlucky.”

“Alright, stop talking for now. Since we can’t wait for an ambulance, we’ll borrow a nearby car and bring the old man there ourselves,” the bespectacled man said hurriedly.

Hearing this, everyone realized that this would be much more effective than an ambulance.

Then, everyone turned their attention to Lin Yi. Because this was a vegetable market, no other car could be reached at this time. At this moment, only his car could be used.

“Kid, I need your car. Take this old man to the hospital!”

The bespectacled man was about to help the old man up and into Lin Yi’s car.

“Why do you need to get into my car?”

Chapter 376: Moral Kidnapping

Lin Yi’s words stunned everyone present.

Wasn’t it only right to lend a helping hand when someone needed help?

“Kid, don’t you have any morals? This old gentleman has acute appendicitis, and you won’t even let us borrow your car!” The bespectacled man said angrily.

“Don’t worry, I won’t ask for a discounted fare, and I’ll even pay you double!”

“I’m not short of money.”

Hearing Lin Yi’s words, the bespectacled man glanced back and said disdainfully.

“Are you just afraid of dirtying your car? What’s so great about a shabby Shari? What’s wrong with letting someone else sit in it?!”

Seeing Lin Yi’s indifference, the people around echoed.

“People nowadays really don’t have any sense of social responsibility at all. How can they just turn a blind eye to something like this?”

“After they become successful, they don’t even want to repay society. They’re really hopeless!”

“Exactly. In my opinion, people like him who don’t have any sense of social responsibility should be charged!”

“Not only should they be charged, but they should also be fined heavily. They should all be fined until all their money is gone, and then it should be given to the poor!”

Everyone pointed at Lin Yi one after another, and the man with the glasses looked pleased as if he had found a way to punish Lin Yi.

“Kid, you heard it yourself. If you continue to act like this, you might drown in saliva!”

The man with the glasses didn’t seem to be satisfied and continued.

“Also, this old man has acute appendicitis, and if his life is in danger. If something really happens, you will be held fully responsible!”

Lin Yi laughed in anger.

“This is the first time I’ve seen someone talk about moral kidnapping in such a dignified manner. Which law in the country says that you have to save someone when they’re at death’s door? You’re useless, and yet you’re blaming others for being rich?”

“I’m not your father, and you’re not my son. Helping you is a favor, but my choice to do so is my right. What right do you have to order me around?”

The bespectacled man was dumbfounded by Lin Yi’s continuous questions.

He didn’t expect this guy to be so sharp-tongued!

“Stop talking nonsense. It’s your fault that he can’t be saved. When the time comes, I’ll post this on Weibo and let all the people of Huaxia blame you!”

“You keep saying that I’m not saving him. I’d really like to know, what right do you have to say that he’s dying in the first place?” Lin Yi said.

“Or rather, who told you that he has acute appendicitis?” The bespectacled man asked

“Are you kidding me? I’ve already diagnosed him. There’s no way I’m wrong. It’s clearly the symptoms of acute appendicitis!” The bespectacled man explained loudly.

“What’s wrong with this guy? He’s driving a broken down Shari, and yet, he’s questioning a doctor from Huashan Hospital?”

“Common diseases like acute appendicitis have been shown on TV before. Even a middle-aged woman like me can tell that these are the symptoms of acute appendicitis, let alone a professional doctor. Despite this, he’s still saying that it’s not the case. He’s clearly not trying to help and is looking for an excuse.”

“I agree. People nowadays look pretty good, but their bones are rotten. They have no conscience at all.”

Lin Yi shrugged and said,

“Since you say it’s appendicitis, then treat it as appendicitis. I can bring him along, but I’ll have to trouble you to be conscientious and help him raise some medical fees. With Huashan Hospital’s standards, an appendicitis surgery costs about twenty thousand yuan. Each of you can donate a small amount.”

The little girl looked at the people around her with hope in her eyes.

“Uncles and Aunties, I beg you to lend me some money. My family background is not bad. When the time comes, leave your names and I’ll return the money to you.”

“This...”

The people around her subconsciously stepped back, their eyes filled with wariness.

“I don’t have any money in my pocket. Don’t look at me like that.”

“I still have to use my money to buy a house for my son. I can’t lend you anything.”

“This might be the case, but when the time comes to ask for the repayment, who will return it?”

“Uncle, Auntie, please,” the little girl cried. “When my grandfather recovers, I’ll tell my parents to return the money to you.”

“You’d better not promise this. You’re simply asking for too much. Our money didn’t fall from the sky.”

“Miss, don’t ask these people. Ask the uncle who is treating your grandfather. He’s the most responsible person here, and saving lives is a doctor’s duty. He’ll definitely help you,” Lin Yi said with a smile.

“Uncle, can you help me?”

“This...”

The bespectacled man was speechless.

Twenty thousand yuan wasn’t a small amount. If he lent her money, what would he do if they didn’t return it?

There were too many cases like this in the hospital. He couldn’t take the risk.

“Uncle doesn’t have that much money.”

“No money? That can’t be right, right?” Lin Yi said.

“I saw your watch. It’s an Omega. It’s worth a lot of money if you pawn it. It’s your duty to save lives, even so, you’re not even willing to help them, sigh...”

Damn it!

The bespectacled man was so angry that he wanted to curse!

You're f*cking toying with me!

Lin Yi shrugged. "You guys were going on and on preaching about my morals. When it's your turn to contribute, each and every one of you ran faster than a rabbit. It's not like I'm asking you to pay for all of it. Can't you even loan them a few hundred dollars?"

No one said a word. They all looked at Lin Yi awkwardly, wishing they could find a hole to hide in.

"Stop standing there and criticizing us!" The bespectacled man shouted. "If you're so capable, how about you lend them the money?"

The little girl looked at Lin Yi with pleading eyes.

"Big Brother, please help me. If you don't send my grandfather to the hospital, his life will be in danger."

Lin Yi patted the little girl's head. "Don't worry, your grandfather's life won't be in danger."

"Why won't he be in danger? Acute appendicitis..."

"Don't listen to him," Lin Yi said.

"He ate the wrong thing this morning. There's gas in his stomach. It's not acute appendicitis at all."

"You're saying he ate the wrong thing?!"

The bespectacled man raised his voice and confronted Lin Yi.

"Kid, I think you just don't want to lend them money, so just make up an excuse to lie to them!"

"Yeah, that must be it!" The crowd chimed in.

"Look at him, he's just a worker. He must be afraid of being ripped off, that's why he's making up this excuse to escape the situation!"

"Sigh, the world is really getting worse. He doesn't even have moral integrity anymore."

"He's doubting the standards of the doctors in Huashan Hospital. What a joke!"

The people who were watching Lin Yi all shared their own complaints.

Now that they had found a place to vent their anger, they started scolding Lin Yi, trying to get back at him after getting embarrassed.

Lin Yi ignored them and took out 100 yuan, handing it to the little girl.

"Go to the pharmacy next door and buy lactic acid bacteria and galactosidase. Hurry up."

"Got it, Big Brother."

The little girl took Lin Yi's money and rushed to the pharmacy. She bought the medicine back in less than two minutes.

“Give me the water bottle in your bag.”

“Here.”

Lin Yi took out two pills and fed them to the old man. Then, he rubbed the old man’s abdomen clockwise for a while.

“Burp, burp, burp...”

After about half an hour, the old man burped a few times. His face was much better than before, and he was not as pale as before.

After another half a minute, the old man, who was almost unconscious, woke up on his own!

His pale face returned to normal, and he now like a normal person.

“Grandpa, Grandpa, are you okay now?” The little girl asked nervously.

“I feel much better now. I’m fine now. This little brother is the best. He can tell that I ate something bad with just one look.”

The people standing around were stunned when they heard that.

It... It really was just a case of bad digestion!

“But this big brother said that you have acute appendicitis.”

The old man looked at the bespectacled man. “This guy is so unprofessional, and he probably always jumps to conclusions. Whoever gets him as a doctor him will be really unlucky.”

Lin Yi stood to the side and looked at the others.

“Didn’t you guys agree that he had acute appendicitis? Now that his symptoms have improved, I’m guessing you still want to him for surgery.”

Chapter 377: Never Go to the Male Department

“This...”

The people surrounding Lin Yi were all quiet and ashamed.

“Grandpa, are you really okay?”

“Don’t you want me to be okay?”

“I...”

The bespectacled man was speechless. He didn’t even know how to deal with such an awkward situation.

It was simply too embarrassing.

“He even said that he was a professional doctor, but he can’t even differentiate between flatulence and appendicitis. His standard is too amateurish.”

“He confidently proclaimed that he is a doctor of Huashan Hospital, but he’s not even able to identify this. I don’t dare to go to Huashan Hospital in the future.”

“With his standards, he probably isn’t even as good as a doctor from an illegal clinic. He is really a disgrace to Huashan Hospital.”

The bespectacled man stood up dejectedly, not daring to retort as he disappeared from everyone’s sight.

Lin Yi was about to leave when he saw that the old man was fine. It was almost nine o’clock, and he might be late for the meeting.

“Big Brother, what’s your name? You spent a hundred yuan on us today. I’ll give you the money after I tell mom and dad about this.”

“There’s no need to return the money, just go to school and try to get good grades.”

Lin Yi got into his car and drove toward Huashan Hospital.

Twenty minutes later, he arrived at Huashan Hospital.

Lin Yi was nervous and excited when he saw the magnificent outpatient clinic building.

This profession was given to him by the system, and he didn’t know which department he was assigned to yet.

Originally, Lin Yi didn’t care about any department at all.

It was wonderful for him to be able to have this job whilst simultaneously completing the system’s task.

However, after joking with Ji Qingyan yesterday, Lin Yi realized he was facing a very serious problem.

This was because not only was there a gynecology department in the hospital, but there was also a f*cking male department!

If he was assigned to the male department, then he would f*cking hate this job.

Lin Yi followed the hospital’s instructions and went to the personnel department.

He found out that apart from the other staff, the bespectacled man was also here!

However, there was a cute round-faced woman beside the bespectacled man.

In terms of appearance, she looked like Song Jia from a teacher’s college. She had a girl next door look, but her body was curvy and bulging. She was much more developed than Song Jia.

However, there was still some distance between her and a deadly weapon like Sugar.

All the women in the personnel department widened their eyes when they saw Lin Yi.

This man was so handsome!

“It’s you!”

The bespectacled man’s face was cold when he saw Lin Yi. He couldn’t help but get angry when he thought about what had happened earlier.

“After all this time, it turns out you’re just like me. You’re just a new doctor.”

“What does that have to do with you?” The bespectacled man said coldly, ignoring Lin Yi.

“Do you know each other?” A female staff member asked gently.

“No.”

“Oh, you’re a new doctor too, right?”

“Yeah.” Lin Yi nodded with a smile.

“Okay, okay. Please wait a moment, I’ll go find Sister Ping.”

“Why did you ask us to wait here after the two of us arrived? Why didn’t you go get the director as soon as we arrived?”

“Is that important? We can do whatever we want. It’s none of your business.”

The bespectacled man was rendered speechless.

Even though he was about to become a doctor, he was not qualified to micromanage the affairs of the HR department.

Thus, he had no choice but to lower his head in embarrassment. He could only accept the situation.

A few minutes later, a middle-aged woman in her forties walked in from outside.

“You’re all here to be onboarded for your respective positions, right?”

“Yes, Director Chen,” the bespectacled man said. “I’m Zhou Ziqiang, a doctor in clinical medicine and cardiology. We’ve met before.”

“I know who you are.”

After that, Chen Ping looked at Lin Yi and the other girl. “Your name should be Lin Yi, and the girl’s name is Qiao Xin, right?”

The two nodded. “Yes.”

“All three of you are cardiologists, but you can’t go to your own departments for the time being,” Chen Ping said.

“Because you are housemen, you have to go through a month at the emergency department before you can return to the cardiology department. You should be aware of this, right?”

“Housemen?”

Due to the sage’s wisdom, Lin Yi still had some understanding of the words ‘housemen’.

To put it nicely, it was a process to train high-level professionals through clinical practice.

However, to put it bluntly, it acted as a cheap labor force.

After joining, one would have to work in various departments for a period of time before they could return to their own specialized departments.

Moreover, during this period, there was the risk of being dropped completely.

In short, it was a f*cking mess.

On the hand, fortunately, the male department wasn't part of the rotation.

"Do you have any objections?" Chen Ping asked tentatively.

"No, I'm just a tool. I will go wherever you want me to go. You can even arrange for me to go to the logistics department."

"Hey, look at what you're saying. That's really pleasing to the ears." Chen Ping smiled like an old mother. "Young man, do you have a girlfriend? My daughter just graduated from college a year ago and is currently single."

"I'll introduce her to someone when I'm free."

Seeing that Lin Yi didn't have any intention of playing along, Chen Ping didn't continue the topic.

Instead, she helped the three of them complete the relevant procedures.

"You guys wait here for a while. Director Li from the cardiology department will take you to her department later. You just have to listen to her arrangements to understand the rest of your work."

"Okay."

Zhou Ziqiang's eyes narrowed when he learned that Lin Yi was also going to the cardiology department.

His uncle was the chief director of the cardiology department. Now that this guy had fallen into his uncle's hands, it would be a piece of cake for him to take revenge today.

"Doctor Lin, can I add you on WeChat?" The girls from the human resources department came over one after another, their eyes full of hope.

"Uh, sure thing."

They were colleagues from now on, so Lin Yi wasn't stingy. He took out his QR code and let them scan it one by one.

"Can I, can I add you too?" Qiao Xin whispered.

"Why not? We'll be in the same department from now on. It won't be convenient to contact each other without each other's WeChat."

"Yes, yes."

Qiao Xin nodded heavily as she took out her phone and added Lin Yi's WeChat.

“Little Qiao, this is my wechat. You can add it as well.”

Zhou Ziqiang took the initiative to open his QR code and waited for Qiao Xin to add his wechat.

“Oh.”

Qiao Xin scanned it and put the phone back into her pocket.

“Eh? Why aren’t there any incoming friend requests?” Zhou Ziqiang muttered, “Little Qiao, did you add me?”

“Yes, maybe the Internet here isn’t good. You’ll see it later.” Qiao Xin said casually.

At that moment, the HR department’s door was pushed open.

A woman in a white coat with a ponytail walked in from outside.

The woman had a fair and pretty oval face, looked to be about thirty years old, but she wasn’t dressed properly. There wasn’t a trace of delicacy in her appearance, and she looked a lot more natural than other women.

However, this perfectly matched Lin Yi’s impression of a typical doctor.

If a doctor dressed up meticulously and appeared to be as exquisite as Ji Qingyan, then something wasn’t right.

“Director Li, you’re here.”

Seeing the woman come in, Chen Ping went up and introduced her to Lin Yi and the others:

“Let me introduce you. This is Director Li Chuhan from the cardiology department.”

Chapter 378: A Godlike Resume

Li Chuhan nodded and swept his gaze across the trio.

“These must be the newly assigned housemen.”

“Didn’t the hospital inform us to start focusing on training our younger doctors? Furthermore, the cardiology department is our hospital’s top department, so they arranged for you guys to take the lead.”

“Alright, got it.” Li Chuhan nodded. “Then I’ll bring them back to the department first.”

“Okay.”

Li Chuhan looked at the three of them. “Follow me.”

“Okay, okay, okay.” Zhou Ziqiang quickly agreed and followed Li Chuhan’s footsteps.

“Director Li, when I was in school, I had attended one of your lectures. To be honest, if it wasn’t for your lecture, I probably wouldn’t have gone for a PhD. Thank you for your encouragement.”

“I was just giving a casual lecture at the hospital’s request. It’s not as serious as you make it out to be.”

“Director Li, you’re too modest,” Zhou Ziqiang complimented.

“Although I’ve only heard your lecture once, honestly, I can be considered your favorite student. If you have important tasks in the future, just let me know.”

Li Chuhan frowned slightly, but she still nodded politely.

Zhou Ziqiang had heard about Li Chuhan’s situation from his uncle beforehand. She was definitely someone on the level of a big shot.

Therefore, he could not wrong if he built a good relationship with her.

Huashan Hospital was very large. The group walked for twenty minutes before they arrived at the eighth inpatient department that was the Cardiology Department.

The hospital wall displayed the names of the department’s directors.

Li Chuhan was one of the three associate directors, and she was also the youngest of the group.

However, even when including the director, the person with the most impressive resume was still Li Chuhan.

When Lin Yi finished reading the profile, he felt like this woman was a god!

After living for so many years, he had met all kinds of people. Even so, only this woman could be compared to Ji Qingyan in terms of academic qualifications.

She was a clinical doctor from Xiehe Medical School and worked at the Mayo Clinic for two years before returning to Huashan Hospital.

There was no need to mention how awesome Xiehe Medical School was. However, she was able to work at the Mayo Clinic, which was ranked first in the world, for two years. This was definitely a godly resume.

It was no wonder that she was able to become the Deputy Director of the cardiology department of Huashan Hospital at such a young age. If it were another hospital that was slightly less prestigious, she would have no problem even becoming the hospital director.

Now, it was only a matter of time before she eventually climbed to become the director herself.

“Director Li, you’re really amazing. You actually worked at Mayo Clinic before. You’re really a role model for us to learn from.”

Although he was already aware of Li Chuhan’s background, it didn’t stop Zhou Ziqiang from flattering her.

“Didn’t you say that you were my favorite student? Why did you only learn about my resume today?”

“This...”

Zhou Ziqiang smiled awkwardly. “Actually, I already knew about it but forgot about the details. I only remembered it today.”

Li Chuhan shook his head lightly and did not say anything.

“Look, the boy behind Director Li is so handsome. Which department is he from?”

“I just heard from Director Cao that Director Li went to the human resources department to pick up the new housemen. The three of them are very likely to be new doctors in the department.”

“No way, there’s actually such a handsome houseman? Was he sent by God to save us older young women?”

“Stop dreaming. He’s such a handsome boy, why would he give us a chance?”

“Even if he doesn’t spare us a glance, I’d be honored to even be able to help him.”

Seeing the little nurse beside him chattering away, Zhou Ziqiang smiled smugly.

What a bunch of people unworshipful people. From now on, you guys will be my subordinates.

In a hospital environment, doctors and nurses existed under two different management systems.

In foreign countries, no matter how powerful a doctor was, he was not qualified to tell nurses what to do.

However, in Huaxia, this phenomenon was less serious.

This was because the professional status of a doctor was much higher than that of a nurse. During their usual work, the nurse typically had great respect for the doctor.

This created an illusion for those who didn’t understand the situation that nurses were like waiters, but this was incorrect.

When he arrived at the department, Lin Yi found five other young doctors sitting in the room.

They weren’t that old either. They were all in their early thirties. They should have just graduated and were now coming here to practice.

The two young female doctors looked at Lin Yi as he walked in. It was rare to see such a handsome man.

Apart from the five housemen who came first.

Lin Yi also saw the head of the cardiology department, Cao Jiawang, who was also Zhou Ziqiang’s uncle.

Deputy Director Liu Yongsheng.

Deputy Director Fan Shufang.

The remaining five interns were called: Yang Hongrui, Li Mai, Zhao Xinyi, Wang Chao, and Duan Siyu.

After a simple self-introduction, Lin Yi memorized all the names.

He would learn the other names based on how his work was assigned.

“Director Cao, there are three more people here. Please assign them.”

“Little Liu and Little Fan have their hands full, and I have too many things to do nowadays, so I don’t have the energy to take care of them. You have to work hard and take them with you this time. I’ll give more tasks to Little Liu and the others in the future.”

Zhou Ziqiang and Cao Jiawang hid their relationship very well.

It wasn’t the time to expose their relationship yet.

“Okay.”

Chu Han looked at Lin Yi and the other two and said,

“When you went to the human resources department, Director Chen should have told you that you have to go to the emergency department for a month before returning to the cardiology department. You should be aware of this, right?”

“Yes.”

“But don’t worry. I’m not asking you to stay in the emergency department the whole time. This position will be rotated on a weekly basis. When you have nothing to do, you can return to the department to gain more experience. Of course, you can also take a break if you want. You can arrange the time for this.”

The rules and regulations seemed reasonable, but in reality, they were not.

If he did not return to the department to study during his break, he would be labeled as unmotivated.

In a hospital environment like this, being lazy was considered a very serious crime.

Seeing that the three people did not show any reaction, Li Chuhan took a folder and looked inside.

“There’s an emergency night shift tonight. Even though the three of you can go over, only two of you need to actually stay over tonight. Who wants to volunteer to remain here?”

“Director Li, why don’t I remain? I’ve been here before and I know the hospital’s operating procedures. Let the two of them go first.”

Zhou Ziqiang’s idea was very devious.

Going to the emergency department to work the night shift was very boring. It was better to take advantage of this time and mingle with the doctors in the department first.

In addition to his uncle’s relationship, once he familiarized himself with the environment, he might eventually even be sent to do other things.

He could also be exempted from the emergency department rotation altogether.

Meanwhile, Li Chuhan was still taking care of him as his direct superior. One week would be enough for him to get closer to her. If he did anything impressive in the future, he could also directly show off to her.

Therefore, he definitely could not go to the emergency department!

“Alright, you can stay in the department. I’ll take the two of them to the emergency department tonight.”

Chapter 379: The First Emergency Patient

“Director... Director Li, are you going with them to the emergency department?”

Li Chuhan nodded. “I’ll follow them for a week to familiarize them with the procedures here. When you eventually start your shift at the emergency department, Brother Liu will take you.”

“This...”

Zhou Ziqiang was a little regretful. What the hell was this?

Li Chuhan was taking care of them as the director. If he didn’t follow her, how could he show off to her in the future?

“Director Li, I just thought about it,” Zhou Ziqiang said.

“Among the three of us, I have the most experience. Why don’t the three of us work together? When you’re busy, I can show them the ropes.”

Deputy Director Liu Yongsheng’s expression changed slightly, but he quickly covered it up with a smile.

“Director Li, you can take the three of them with you,” Liu Yongsheng said with a smile. “When you aren’t free to supervise them, I’ll go and help.”

“Alright then.”

Li Chuhan looked at the three of them and said, “Although I added an additional person, the rules are still the same as before. After I’m done with them, you guys will be responsible for the emergency treatment.”

“Got it, got it...”

Li Chuhan didn’t say much. After assigning the tasks, she said to Lin Yi and the others

“You guys follow me to do my rounds around the wards first, then we’ll go to the emergency department.”

“Okay.”

After walking around the wards one by one, Lin Yi realized that dirty diseases were no longer exclusive to the elderly. There were also many young patients under the age of forty who were sick.

Fortunately, they were young and strong, and their recovery wouldn’t take long.

“Director Li, is the handsome guy behind you a new doctor?” A young woman around thirty years old asked.

“Yes, he’s a houseman in our department.”

“Hello, I’m Zhou Ziqiang. I’ll be a cardiologist from now on. If you...”

“I’m not asking about you, I’m asking about the tall doctor.”

“Uh...”

Zhou Ziqiang took a step back in embarrassment, unwilling to let Lin Yi outshine him.

“I’m Lin Yi, a cardiologist houseman,” Lin Yi introduced himself.

“Doctor Lin, Director Li said that I’ll be discharged today, but I still feel a little uncomfortable. Give me two more sets of glucose, and I’ll stay here for another two days.”

“Little Bro, my heart suddenly feels a little uncomfortable. Come take a look at it for me.”

“Director Li, can the beds in your cardiology department be booked for a year?”

“All of you should act more proper. Why are you guys so excited just because he is better looking?” Li Chuhan said helplessly.

“How is he just better looking? He’s simply too good-looking.”

“Quickly stop your evil thoughts. According to the hospital’s regulations, he was transferred to the emergency department and will not be on duty in this department for the time being.”

“Why didn’t you say so earlier?”

“Sister Sun, why are you getting up? Didn’t you say that you wanted to stay in bed for a few more days?”

“I’m heading to the emergency department to register myself. I’m afraid that I won’t be able to get a spot later.”

“Sis Sun, wait a minute. This is my ID card. Help me register for the emergency department as well. I’ll be out of this ward tomorrow and head to the emergency department as well.”

Lin Yi, “...”

“We’re done with the ward rounds. Let’s go to the emergency department first,” Li Chuhan said as she led the three out of the ward and headed towards the emergency department.

“Lin Yi, don’t join for anymore ward rounds.” Li Chuhan said

“What’s wrong? Isn’t that one of my responsibilities?”

“I’m afraid that their hearts won’t be able to take it, and they’ll have to undergo surgery again.”

Lin Yi, “???”

This was quite the reason.

On the way to the emergency department, Li Chuhan gave a brief introduction of the emergency department.

With her introduction, Lin Yi gained a basic understanding of cardiology and emergency departments.

Although there was a clear division of labor in the emergency department, there was not much difference when it came to actual work.

A houseman like Lin Yi had to do a little bit of everything.

Even so, it was all basic stuff, and even non-professional doctors could handle it easily.

If there were serious cases, the nurse guide would assign them to the appropriate departments.

From the looks of it, the emergency department didn't seem to have anything important they would need to deal with, and they just needed to do a relatively good job.

From Li Chuhan's words, their job was to ensure the efficiency of the emergency department. Otherwise, it the whole purpose behind having an emergency department in the first place would be lost.

When they arrived at the Emergency Center, Li Chuhan briefly introduced the three of them to the other doctors and nurses. From here, they could be considered to be familiar with each other.

"You guys can stay here. I stayed up all night last night so I'll go rest first. If there's anything you can't handle, come and call me."

"Okay, okay, okay. Director Li, you go ahead. Leave it to me. I'm sure I can handle everything," Zhou Ziqiang said.

Li Chuhan nodded calmly and prepared to leave.

However, at that moment, an urgent shout broke the silence.

"Make way, make way!"

They turned around and saw two middle-aged women following the emergency doctor. They were pushing a young man whose abdomen was covered in blood as they rushed in.

"Where's your director? Get him to operate on my son."

Li Chuhan looked back and said to Lin Yi, "Go take a look."

The three of them jogged over. Lin Yi opened his shirt and saw a 20-centimeter-long wound. The flesh was split open, and it was a shocking sight.

"How did this happen? Did you get into a fight with him?"

"Aren't you a doctor? Why are you asking me?" The middle-aged woman shouted. "Get your director here and get him to operate on my son."

"Please have some common sense. This is a knife wound. There's no need for surgery. Just suture it," Lin Yi said.

"Even if it's just a suture, get your director here. You can't take responsibility for delaying my nephew's treatment!"

"We can handle such a small thing. There's no need to alarm someone at the director's level."

“You?” The middle-aged woman said disdainfully. “How old are you? You don’t have any experience at all. What qualifications do you have to treat my son?”

“There’s really no need to alarm the director. Although they’re new here, our Huashan Hospital has a strict recruitment system. Their standards are completely passable. It’s no problem for them to deal with this kind of incident,”

“Auntie, I have an MD in clinical medicine from Fudan University. I have the confidence to handle a patient like your son well.”

Zhou Ziqiang said confidently. He wanted to use this opportunity to show off in front of Li Chuhan.

He had come into contact with such patients before, so it was not difficult for him to deal with them.

“So what if you have an MD? Let me tell you, I am the director of the housing construction committee. If anything happens to him, you will bear full responsibility!”

“This...”

After learning the identity of the middle-aged woman, Zhou Ziqiang gave up.

If it was an ordinary citizen, even if there was a complication with the suturing, they wouldn’t dare to look for him.

Moreover, even if they did look for him, a few words of deception would be able to push them back.

However, the woman in front of him was different. She was a high-ranking official!

If there was an accident during the process, he would have to shoulder the responsibility!

“Can you do it?” Li Chuhan asked.

Chapter 380: Amazing Suturing Techniques

“Director... Director Li, my skills might not be sufficient. I can’t suture such a wound for the time being.”

Li Chuhan’s hands were tucked in the pockets of her coat, and her beautiful brows were furrowed.

Although the wound looked scary, it was not severe. At most, it would only require four layers of suturing.

It was such a simple wound, and yet, he did not have the ability to treat it. Had he spent all his years of training learning from a dog?

“Can the two of you do it?” Li Chuhan turned back to look at Lin Yi and Qiao Xin.

Qiao Xin looked at Lin Yi. This was the first time she was faced with such a situation, and she couldn’t make up her mind.

“Let me do it,” Lin Yi said. “It’s not a big deal.”

“No!”

The middle-aged woman yelled. "No one else is qualified to operate on my son!"

"Then let your son die. I'm not the one who caused the wound anyway."

Li Chuhan and Qiao Xin were stunned. What a hot-tempered person!

"Hey, hey, hey! What kind of person are you? What kind of doctor are you? I'm going to file a complaint!"

"Okay, okay, stop arguing. This is a hospital, not a place for you to make a scene."

Li Chuhan took out her badge. "I'm the shift director of the emergency department. If you agree, I'll suture the wound. If you don't agree, you can transfer to another hospital right now. The director can't personally come down."

"This..."

The middle-aged woman hesitated for a moment and finally said, "Then you can do it. But let me say this first. If you can't suture the wound properly, I'll definitely ask you for an explanation!"

"If you don't trust me, you can leave now," Li Chuhan said. "I've seen more dead people than you've seen living people. Your son can be one of them."

Lin Yi looked at Li Chuhan.

This woman was a ruthless character!

The middle-aged woman was stunned by Li Chuhan. She knew that her son's condition couldn't be delayed, and he didn't have time to go to other hospitals.

"Then you do it."

"Push him to the operating room. The three of you follow me in."

A few minutes later, the patient was pushed onto the operating table. Zhou Ziqiang volunteered.

"Director Li, I'll be your assistant. As your favorite student, I'll definitely be able to cooperate well with you."

Li Chuhan looked up at Zhou Ziqiang. "You don't even have the confidence to perform such a simple suture, and you still have the nerve to say that you're my favorite student?"

"I..."

"Go watch from the side."

Li Chuhan ignored Zhou Ziqiang and looked at Lin Yi and Qiao Xin. "The two of you will be my assistants."

"Got it, Director Li."

Although he didn't graduate from medical school, Lin Yi's level was comparable to that of Zhou Ziqiang and Qiao Xin because of the sage's wisdom. In fact, he was even a little better than them.

It wouldn't be a problem for him to seal this wound.

The suturing process went smoothly. It was hard to think of any problems arising with Li Chuhan personally handling the surgery.

“The muscle and fat are all sewn up. There’s also the subcutaneous layer and the skin. You two can try it. It shouldn’t be a problem, right?”

“Okay.” Lin Yi said.

“Lin Bro, I’ll be your assistant. I’ll watch you do it this time. I’ll try it next time,” Qiao Xin said.

Although suturing the flesh wasn’t difficult, Qiao Xin still had to get used to it.

“No problem.”

Seeing the two of them suturing the patient, Zhou Ziqiang was furious.

“F*ck, I’ll kick you out of the hospital sooner or later!”

Lin Yi and Qiao Xin started suturing the fatty layer and skin.

Because he hadn’t slept all night, Li Chuhan sat to the side and rubbed her temples, trying to wake herself up.

In less than half an hour, the suturing process was over.

“Brother Lin, your suturing technique is too good!”

Qiao Xin exclaimed when she saw the wound Lin Yi had stitched up.

“Luckily I let you do it just now. If it were me, I definitely wouldn’t be able to achieve such an effect.”

Li Chuhan shook her head helplessly, got up, and walked over, cursing in her heart.

“Why are all these girls making such a big deal out of it? Don’t tell me these guys can do whatever they want just because they’re good-looking. What kind of logic is this... it seems like they’re pretty good...”

Li Chuhan’s eyes were filled with surprise as she looked at the wound Lin Yi had stitched up.

From the way the wound was treated, it would take at least ten years of clinical experience to be able to sew it up so well.

She wouldn’t have been able to do it if she was in Lin Yi’s shoes.

The reason she said that was because suturing the skin wasn’t that difficult.

As long as she put in more effort, he could easily reach the peak of this technique.

It was just like how a kindergarten teacher who graduated from a junior college would be more effective than a university professor in teaching children.

“It’s really not bad. Work harder in the future and don’t be arrogant.”

“Got it, Director Li.”

Li Chuhan nodded and made up her mind. She would have to talk to Lin Yi later.

Zhou Ziqiang pursed his lips nonchalantly. Was it that good?

I think it's just so-so!

"Alright, the stitches are done. Let's push him out."

"Okay."

Seeing her son being pushed out, the middle-aged woman went up to take a look and started cursing.

"What kind of suture is this? It will definitely leave a huge scar. My son isn't married yet. How will he be able to find a girlfriend in the future?!"

"It's normal to have scars. With such a big wound, how can there be no scars at all?" Li Chuhan said.

"After a few months, when the wound is completely healed, it will look much better. It won't be as glaring as it is now."

"I think you're lying!" The middle-aged woman pointed at Li Chuhan's nose and said.

"You're just trying to show off because your skills aren't good enough. The rest of my son's life will be ruined by your hands!"

"Stop fucking pointing," Lin Yi said.

"I'm the one who stitched your son's belly. Tell me if you need anything."

"You!"

The middle-aged woman was even more excited when she found out the truth. She turned to Li Chuhan and said.

"How can you be a doctor? You clearly said that you would sew him up when you entered the operating theater, but you gave it to your assistant. Weren't you lying?!"

"I sewed up the muscles and fats, and he did the subcutaneous and skin layers. And I can tell you clearly that his sutures aren't bad. Even if I were to do it, I would only be able to sew it up as well as he did."

"What did you say? You're a director, but you're on the same level as your assistant. How dare you say that?!" The middle-aged woman said loudly.

"And you, don't you know your own skill level? You don't have any self-awareness, yet you still dare to sew your son. How dare you?! Believe it or not, I can make the two of you get laid off with just a call!"

"You're just a lousy director, and yet you're so arrogant? You claim that you can get us laid off just like that?"

"Do you think I was wasting my time in Zhonghai?" The middle-aged woman said.

"I'm telling you, you should be glad that I'm here today. If my husband were the one here and saw what you did to my son, the whole hospital would be thrown into chaos!"

Lin Yi shrugged with a playful expression. "Then let's see who gets laid off first."
