

Night Ranger - Chapter 701 – 728

Chapter 701: Display Of Strength
Translator: Shiraishi Editor: TheAlliance

Marvin's calm voice echoed through the top floor of the Sky Tower.

Those powerhouses, who had been preparing Divine Spells or waving their swords while preparing to charge, suddenly froze.

Time seemed to stand still.

Marvin walked out from the protection of the Copper Dragon.

His gaze was as cold as ever. "Still want to kill me now?"

No one dared to answer!

The people surrounding the Copper Dragon were in a state of near-collapse!

They had all attacked because they had felt so sure of one thing: Marvin was seriously hurt, so this was the best time to attack!

But when an apparently healthy Marvin stood before them, the scene of him going against the World Ending Twin Snakes appeared in their minds.

Some of them even started to subconsciously and slowly back away in fright!

Because Marvin had already activated his advanced False Divine Vessel as he spoke.

The Slaughter Domain flooded the whole area.

That killing intent was almost visibly marking those who had tried to take advantage of the situation.

A strange light flickered in the eyes of the Copper Dragon, but he didn't say anything.

Marvin stood with a cold glare, and that ice cold gaze made them feel like they were frozen before the most ruthless viper.

Someone retreated.

It triggered a chain reaction.

'It's finished,' they all thought.

Marvin must have been using some mysterious ability to repair his body. Or maybe it was his shapeshifting itself that did it.

Whatever the case, his weak state was already a thing of the past, and this frightening avatar of death had already recovered.

If they really tried to press on at this time, few of them, if any, would be able to leave unscathed.

The Gods had already instructed them that they should avoid conflict with Marvin if he seemed to be at full strength.

And the fight against the Molten Archdevil had already proved that Marvin had the strength of a Half-Plane Guardian.

From what the Gods could assess, even if the current Marvin really had the power of a Plane Guardian and they might beat him if all the forces teamed up against him, it would still be very difficult to kill him.

And now, Marvin seemed to have somehow completely recovered.

If Kangen returned, the situation would become even more one-sided.

Although Eve and Holy Paul were troublesome, the former was at most able to hold even with Jessica while the latter didn't seem to be showing any killing intent toward Marvin. Nor did he show any temptation towards the Fate Tablet, which was somewhat odd.

If the son of the God of Dawn and Protection stood down, Marvin's strength would be enough to kill most of his opponents here!

Moreover, he now had the Fate Tablet. Who knew whether his strength improved even further?! Perhaps his sudden recovery had been aided by its powers!

...

Seeing everyone lowering their heads, Marvin inwardly let out a sigh of relief.

He was the perfect example of a weak person bluffing his way out with false bravado.

On the surface, it looked like he had recovered his full strength at the level of a Half-Plane Guardian, but in reality, he could barely fight right now!

While in the Devil Magic Egg state, his body truly did recover at a high speed, but the damage caused by the World Ending Twin Snakes had been too severe.

It wasn't that easy to recover from a near-death state.

He still needed more time.

But when he became aware of the situation in the hall, he discovered that he didn't have that time!

Marvin had to step out and do what he could to help Professor, who was risking his life to protect him.

Although the defenses of the Magic Egg were very tough, some of those from the Astral Sea had spells tailored against lifeforms from Hell.

If they actually went all-out to attack him, he might really have no way to survive.

Thus, he could only take a gamble.

He dismissed his Magic Addict Shape before its effective duration had elapsed, and then tried to intimidate all the others into backing off.

And it seemed like his bluff was effective.

Most people retreated because they couldn't see through Marvin's real state.

However, a leisurely voice came out at this time. "Nice guts, you didn't completely recover but you still removed the Magic Addict Shape."

"Eh? You have a False Divine Vessel in your body? You are really a shocking man. If not for the Fate Tablet being too dazzling, I almost wouldn't have noticed it."

"And it seems like the Fate Tablet already fused with your false Divine Vessel. It's unfortunate that you don't have the key. If you could actually harness its power, you would have truly profited."

"But still, I admire your courage. Not everyone would be able to scare away so many powerful beings when weakened to the point of barely being able to fight."

The Son of Anuba Grant laughed loudly while skillfully blocking the attacks from the pair of Elves and simultaneously giving Marvin a thumbs up.

In Marvin's eyes, his smile looked quite malicious!

Because with just those words, he managed to reverse the situation in the hall once more.

Those powerhouses who originally thought of escaping took a closer look at Marvin.

But this time, killing intent had risen up again.

“So he was only bluffing! Why didn’t I notice that he wasn’t projecting any strength!”

“Yes, I also felt he didn’t have any power, he is a pure mortal.”

“I thought he was deliberately hiding his aura so we wouldn’t know exactly how much power he had. Thinking about it now, after the fight against the World Ending Twin Snakes, how could he still have the power to hide his aura?”

They all sneered as they recovered their courage.

Marvin shook his head helplessly.

He looked at the son of the God of Dawn and Protection and threatened, “If I survive this, I’ll definitely kill you.”

Holy Paul coughed and pointed at Eve. “Don’t take your anger out on me, I’m only a hired goon. She is the one who wants to kill you.”

Eve’s eyebrows shook, but she didn’t react as she was still entangled with Jessica.

Marvin snorted.

Although he looked calm on the surface, deep within his heart, he was already on the verge of despair.

Facing the attacks of so many Divine Servants, he had no way out. He needed help.

Eve and Holy Paul... If Marvin had the opportunity, he would never let them live!

Regardless of their reasons or difficulties!

‘Heiress of the Valkyrie?’ Marvin squinted his eyes.

She had tried to kill him now, so he wouldn’t care about pretextes and reasons.

‘As long as I can survive!’ Marvin inwardly pledged.

He looked at those malicious Divine Servants with disdain in their eyes.

If he was really about to die, he wouldn't mind using Diross' Imprint.

Although he instinctively felt that the Imprint Diross left was nothing good, he couldn't manage things on his own this time.

In any case, he would at least take them down with him.

The Copper Dragon raised his head, wrapping his wings over, trying to protect Marvin once again.

Divine light flickered in the hall, formed by countless Divine Spells gathering their energy.

The pressure in the atmosphere was stifling.

At this time, a young voice suddenly echoed across the whole floor:

"Those who want to kill my brother will die!"

It was followed by a frightening Arcane Energy billowing through the hall!

Chapter 702: Inheritor

Translator: Shiraishi Editor: TheAlliance

When he heard that voice, Marvin initially felt overjoyed, before suddenly worrying!

'Wayne woke up!'

This was naturally good news.

But waking up in this unfavorable situation wouldn't be good for him!

And to the others, it was baffling.

A small boy suddenly appeared, floating above the hall.

The boy looked like he was about twelve years old, but he clearly had the strength of a Legend Wizard at the very least!

Those with sharp eyes recognized that he was the boy Marvin had been looking for outside the Sky Tower!

He was actually Marvin's younger brother!

'Were these brothers freaks?'

A teen that was only sixteen years old already had the power of a Half-Plane Guardian.

And the other one was even more ridiculous!

Twelve and already a Legend Wizard!

Moreover, such pure Arcane energy was unheard of!

That frightening Arcane energy already inundated the hall, stirring restlessly.

The atmosphere in the hall felt as if a wild beast was grinding its teeth, ready to pounce anytime to bite an enemy to death!

But a Legend Wizard appearing out of nowhere couldn't change the situation anyway.

A Legend Wizard was indeed troublesome.

But the current situation wasn't something that a single Legend Wizard could settle.

Marvin needed at least an ally on the level of a Half-Plane Guardian to be able to help him turn the situation around!

Although that small boy was very gifted, he definitely couldn't be a Half-Plane Guardian Wizard yet!

The Arcane Energy on his body was pure, but that was all.

Perhaps he might become a very shocking figure some day in the future, but he certainly not now.

"We all want to kill your brother, can you kill us all?" sneered Connor. "If you want to keep the bloodline of White River Valley alive, then tell Marvin to obediently fork over the Fate Tablet."

"If he does that, we might spare you!"

Marvin didn't say anything.

He trusted Wayne.

Others might not know, but Wayne was the real prodigy.

A Seer and the Inheritor of the Wizard God.

How could someone like him be weak?

That Legend from the West Coast was bound to pay the price.

As expected, Wayne looked at him and slowly said, "You can come one by one, or all at once."

Connor chuckled.

But his laughter didn't last long.

"Bang!"

A frightening explosion burst from inside him.

His sturdy body blew up and turned into a bloody mist!

Even his soul was torn apart by this sudden burst of Arcane Energy!

He was completely annihilated!

...

"An Ancient Arcane Spell?" Anuba Grant's son wondered aloud. "You are Lance's student? The rumored Inheritor of the Wizard God?"

Wayne didn't pay attention to him.

His gaze focused on all those people who had targeted Marvin.

All those who fell under his gaze burst into a bloody mist in less than a second!

The frightening Arcane Burst scared quite a few of the survivors away!

They hadn't seen such a strange and powerful spell before!

This already wasn't in the realm of just Magic.

His gaze had become a gaze of death. Killing with a glance, such a strange scene!

Even Jessica and Eve, who had been embroiled in a fierce battle, suddenly froze.

The Inheritor of the Wizard God!

If someone else had spoken of this title, it might have sounded like a bad joke.

But it came from the son of the God of Dawn and Protection! That was different.

Anuba Grant's son was knowledgeable and naturally wouldn't talk nonsense about something like this.

And with that pure Arcane Energy, those who had wanted to fight for the Fate Tablet had already fallen into despair!

Seriously, with such a pair of brothers, how could there be a chance for anyone else?

A Half-Plane Guardian Ruler of the Night.

A young Legend Wizard with such terrifying killing magic!

If they kept growing...

'Never mind just Feinan... Who in the entire Universe would be able to rival their power?'

This thought appeared in their hearts.

Their belief in their Gods started swaying!

After Wayne burst another nine Divine Servants, he finally stopped.

Some traces of weariness appeared on his face.

As he slowly descended back to the ground, he looked at Marvin and interjected, "Ah... The Fate Tablet already merged with you."

Marvin spread his hands apart, helplessly saying, "I have no idea..."

"It's fine!" Wayne's voice was still brisk.

He looked at Marvin earnestly and said, "Although I said that I wanted the Fate Tablet to quickly become the God of Magic, I can still attain that position without the Fate Tablet. I don't mind if Brother has the Fate Tablet."

Marvin nodded. Wayne truly had returned to normal.

The knowledge he inherited from the Wizard God would definitely let him reach outstanding heights.

The Fate Tablet would only speed up this process.

...

Wayne's appearance was an unanticipated variable. Even Eve and Holy Paul were caught unprepared.

After Wayne's killing spree, even if the son of the God of Dawn and Protection said more, it might still be useless.

So many people had already died, all of them unable to resist the silent Arcane Burst. Even the abilities that some of the Divine Servants had for protection from instant death were ineffective. How terrifying were Wayne's Arcane Spells?

The remaining people didn't want to stay in this frightening place. The pair of brothers from White River Valley were monsters.

Even Eve called back her Holy Swords and frowned deeply. She felt that she wouldn't be able to kill Marvin today.

"Let's go," she sighed, calling the God's descendant.

But she watched Marvin without saying a word to him.

Her meaning was clear.

She would kill him.

He also didn't say anything. And the next time they met, he wouldn't give Eve the chance to talk.

Valkyrie's Inheritor? Guardian of the Three Northern Cities?

She had threatened Marvin's life, so he would definitely go all-out if he saw her again.

Show no mercy.

This was Marvin's resolution!

The fight in the hall apparently come to an end.

Everyone got on the move. Besides Marvin's group, everyone else left the Sky Tower.

The Copper Dragon also sighed.

After using Counter Storm earlier, he had suffered a lot of injuries.

Although Dragons were physically strong, facing so many Divine Servants at once while protecting someone was not easy at all.

Marvin was deeply touched by those who stood by his side at this most dangerous time.

He wanted to say something when the seal formed by the Truth Scale Imprint suddenly collapsed despite still seeming rather sturdy moments before.

“Ssss!”

Two huge snake heads burst out from the thick fog!

The World Ending Twin Snakes!

Chapter 703: Ethereal Plane Seal

Translator: Shiraishi Editor: TheAlliance

When the World Ending Twin Snakes had originally escaped from the seal, Marvin had known that sooner or later, he would have to confront them.

Even if he successfully escaped this time, it would still happen.

But he didn't think that the temporary barrier from the Truth Goddess' Imprint would fail so suddenly!

Even if his enemies were retreating and the Sky Tower was only filled with allies now, this wasn't good news for Marvin.

This meant that the lives of all his allies were threatened!

Although Wayne could use many Arcane Burst, he was young and had just woken up from his coma. After killing so many enemies, both his Magic Power and mind were exhausted, and he was showing clear signs of fatigue.

And Marvin himself was still in a weakened state!

Though, compared how he was previously in a near-death state, he was a lot better now.

When it came to that, Marvin had to admit that the Magic Addict Shape was very powerful and had saved his life once again.

Even if he lost one point of Willpower, there was no point in having it if he was dead.

Surviving was the most important thing!

Thus, when the World Ending Twin Snakes were pushing their way out of the seal, Marvin immediately made a decision: “Flee!”

Professor flapped his wings, solemnly flying up, preparing to cover everyone's retreat.

But that young voice echoed once again through the Sky Tower. "It's fine, Brother. With me here, these two snakes won't harm anyone."

Wayne!

Marvin gave his younger brother a startled look.

He knew that Wayne was very powerful, but surely not to the point of being able to contend against the World Ending Twin Snakes! And he had even used most of his power driving off the enemies earlier!

These words sounded like a child showing off.

But the next instant, everyone was shocked by Wayne's actions.

They saw him floating in the air as the walls of the Sky Tower started shaking, and a pale yellow Arcane Barrier formed between his body and the walls!

"This is... the resonance between a Wizard Tower and its master!"

The Sea Elven Queen looked at Wayne's actions in shock.

It was well known that Wizard Towers were the most powerful weapons of Wizards!

A Legend Wizard would be almost unmatched when inside his own Wizard Tower.

And the master of this Wizard Tower was definitely Lance.

But the scene before their eyes completely upended their worlds!

Only one person could trigger the resonance with a Wizard Tower! And especially this one!

Wayne was wearing his oversized Wizard gown, covered entirely in a golden glow.

The Sealing Power inside the Wizard Tower quickly burst out again, focusing on the entrance of the Ethereal Plane!

Although the power of the Truth Goddess Imprint had collapsed, this sealing power coming from Lance's Wizard Tower was even more unbearable!

"This is Lance's Power?!"

"He hasn't left this world!"

“One day, we will kill you!”

As they were pushed back by the Sealing Power, the World Ending Twin Snakes sounded very flustered!

Wayne’s eyes flickered. “You won’t have the chance to kill Teacher!”

“Because your ultimate fate is still the Ethereal Plane!”

“Get lost!”

Following this, an ancient word came out of Wayne’s mouth!

Ancient God Language!

The World Ending Twin Snakes shuddered, and they tried to use spatial distortion to get through, but they couldn’t do so in the end!

Having stayed in the Ethereal Plane for so many years, they had actually grown much weaker than before, though they were still immensely powerful.

The Azure Matriarch’s blood undid Lance’s seal after the key component was removed, but the World Ending Twin Snakes were still in the Ethereal Plane.

And Lance hadn’t set up only one seal; he had set up a double seal.

The entire Ethereal Plane itself was a seal that could be activated by Lance at will!

On the top floor of the Sky Tower, 7 huge six-pointed stars appeared, revolving quickly and at a strange angle!

An azure radiance started shining through Wayne’s eyes.

He slightly opened his hands like he was cradling something in them.

He then pointed his right hand at the World Ending Twin Snakes and sharply shouted, “Return!”

The 7 six-pointed stars ruthlessly flew over.

The World Ending Twin Snakes recoiled in agitation!

...

Marvin stood completely still as he watched everything in a daze.

He knew that the seal of the Ethereal Plane, this kind of Plane Guardian level spell, wasn't something Wayne could completely control.

Those 7 six-pointed stars would have been enough to seal any of the Gods within!

However, this wasn't really Wayne's power, but rather, he was using a spell to draw out the power of the Sky Tower!

In other words, this was Lance's power, but it was being controlled by someone else.

'He really is Lance's Inheritor.'

Marvin was pleased, but a bit worried.

The relationship between Wayne and Lance was so close... Was the matter of the Destroyer that Eve talked about true?

'If Lance really is the destroying side, then what about Wayne now?'

'If it really reaches that stage in the future, what should I do?'

As he thought of these convoluted things, he became confused for a moment, before finally laughing at himself and deciding to throw these things to the back of his head for now.

After all, the issue at hand had yet to be solved, so there was no use in overthinking.

Even if they could repel the World Ending Twin Snakes, there would be another frightening challenge for Martin to face soon.

'I hope Wayne can succeed,' Marvin thought.

If he managed to seal the Ethereal Plane successfully, the World Ending Twin Snakes wouldn't cause problems for a long time again.

There would be one... Two fewer enemies.

But what about the Astral Sea, the Abyss, the Negative Energy Plane, the Nine Hells, whose intentions weren't clear, and the threat of Ancient Gods?

Although he originally chose this path and made the best preparations that he could think of, he would rather have one less enemy when the day arrived.

Everything originated from the Fate Tablet in his body.

It was rumored to be an Artifact that could change the fate of the world.

...

The Sealing Power at the entrance of the Ethereal Plane was unmatched.

The World Ending Twin Snakes were compressed mercilessly until they couldn't take any more, and soon, they were forced to retreat back into the Ethereal Plane.

But just as everyone was feeling relieved, a spear suddenly flew down from the skies and pierced formation of six-pointed stars.

It tore a huge hole.

The World Ending Twin Snakes rushed through that opening as if their lives depended on it, and fled from the top of the Sky Tower!

Wayne spat a mouthful of blood, looking extremely pale!

The Ethereal Plane Seal had failed!

After the spear destroyed the formation, it vanished.

All of Feinan heard a voice afterwards: "You owe me one. Remember to kill Marvin, that Kangen is mine."

Those who heard the voice where shocked.

Only a few were shocked.

"Anubis!" Ivan looked at that disappearing spear, clenching his teeth. "The War God!"

Chapter 704: Absolute Sanctuary!

Translator: Shiraishi Editor: TheAlliance

Nobody had expected War God Anubis to do such a thing. This would do no good for the Gods either.

The World Ending Twin Snakes, who had been so close to being sealed away for at least another era, got the opportunity to escape.

And even though the seal over the Ethereal Plane still ended up closing under the effect of the remaining Sealing Power, it had no meaning anymore.

The World Ending Twin Snakes had already been released.

Wayne struggled to channel the tower's energy to cast a Long Distance Lens spell so they could see the World Ending Twin Snakes, and they saw an image of them crashing into a sea of ice!

The Pambo Sea!

They escaped the Ethereal Plane, fled from the Sky Tower, and finally returned to the real world!

Although they still seemed weak on the surface, Marvin, who had fought with them, knew that these two Ancient Evil Gods weren't easy to deal with. They would surely be able to recover from the damage they had suffered from both seals.

Everyone watched as the World Ending Twin Snakes raged against the surface of the sea of ice for a moment before finally breaking through the layer of ice and drilling in, disappearing from view.

The stronger one was, the more they valued their life, and the World Ending Twin Snakes were no exception.

After breaking out from the second seal, they naturally wanted to be cautious.

They chose to disappear for now because they needed to recuperate.

This was the era of the Gods Descent after all.

They might not necessarily be able to beat the Great Gods after suffering from the formation of stars.

This kind of enemy was the most frightening.

Marvin himself also liked to hide in the dark before suddenly make a deadly move.

The stakes changed, now that there were two powerhouses that had once been able to contend with Lance now hiding in the dark. And both of them wanted to kill Marvin, making him feel quite depressed.

The next time they met, even if they hadn't recovered to their peak states, the Twin Snakes might have already recovered most of their strength.

If he couldn't become stronger, far stronger than he currently was, stronger than he had even hoped to get before... not mentioning White River Valley, he might not even be able to protect himself!

Moreover, Wayne had spat out blood from the backlash.

Clearly, despite him having tyrannical Magic Power, being interrupted by the War God had put a lot of strain on his body!

“They are watching this place!”

Wayne coldly raised his head again, looking at the sky.

They all understood what he meant.

After the Gods got rid of the Astral Beast, they didn't return to their God Realms, but instead approached as close to Feinan as they dared.

Although they couldn't enter Feinan for the time being without causing disastrous effects on the plane, this didn't mean that they couldn't interfere with what was happening in Feinan through special means.

Fortunately, this was the Sky Tower. Lance's power permeated this place, as well as the remnants of the Universe Magic Pool, or else no one would have been able to escape that spear!

He was able to let the World Ending Twin Snakes escape because the entrance to the Ethereal Plane was quite a large portal, and because the seal was designed primarily to be extremely resistant on one side... It was always much easier to break a seal from outside than from within.

Also, the Laws of the Sky Tower were very domineering. Although he couldn't lock onto the exact position of Marvin or the others, it was easy for him to perceive the intersection between two different Planes, and with such a huge target, even if the power of Lance offset and weakened his spear, he still wouldn't miss that entrance.

‘The upcoming days will definitely not be easy!’

Marvin had a bitter expression on his face.

He was weary, his False Divine Vessel was still recovering, and the Fate Tablet was locked!

In the following days, unless he died, the continued chase for the Fate Tablet would be inevitable.

Thinking of this, Marvin quickly thought of a bold plan!

‘There is no other choice... For both White River Valley and Wayne, it's the only choice.’

An unswerving determination flashed in his eyes.

But just as he was going to tell everyone about his plan, Wayne suddenly looked at the others and said, "Everyone, my older brother is in a very sensitive state, therefore, I apologize in advance!"

"I hope my actions won't influence your friendship with him or White River Valley. I'm very sorry, but I have no other choice."

Marvin asked in bewilderment, "What do you want to do?"

Wayne suddenly waved his hand!

Before the others could react, a white light flashed everywhere.

"Woosh!"

The next second, they felt their surroundings change.

They glanced around and found out that they were now outside the Sky Tower!

"That kid actually expelled us from the tower?" Jessica asked in disbelief.

Ivan nodded, looking somewhat unhappy. "Maybe in his eyes, Marvin is the only one he can trust."

"Marvin's current situation is very worrying. And there is also that Fate Tablet in his body. Perhaps in such a situation, it's normal not to trust easily."

Copper Dragon Professor nodded. Those who were left had good relationships with Marvin, so they wouldn't take offense.

But they were still very curious... After Wayne threw them out, what would happen next?

The answer was soon revealed.

All the powerhouses who were still watching the scene stared in shock as the unfathomable Sky Tower rose up!

The magnificent and imposing Wizard Tower actually started flying!

It pierced through the clouds and flew south at a crazy speed!

After a short thirty seconds, the busy inhabitants of White River Valley heard the sound of an explosion!

They raised their heads in alarm.

What they saw was a tall Wizard Tower appearing in the Sanctuary, right outside White River Valley's location!

On top of the Wizard Tower, an eye shining like a radiant sun appeared! The sun shone over every corner of White River Valley!

A lot of dust was whirling around the Wizard Tower.

White River Valley's guards became nervous. A few powerhouses that were now in the territory also waited for an opportunity to make a move. Under Madeline's lead, they quickly gathered at the side of White River Valley that was closest to the tower.

They didn't understand why this tower flew here and landed in White River Valley!

After all, from what their Lord Marvin had told them, nothing could enter the Sanctuary without his consent!

And what was going on with that light?

It felt even warmer and more reassuring than the light of the Source of Fire's Order.

Anna quickly went to the front of the Wizard Tower when she heard the news.

When she saw the tower, her heart started pounding for some reason.

Marvin said that only what he allowed would be able to pass through!

'Then this tower...'

As she thought about this, the dust gradually scattered.

A tall youth and a child came out, supporting each other.

Wayne's face was still dusty, but his smile was beaming.

"Brother, we are home."

Marvin nodded, and despite not being able to give much of an acknowledgement due to his weakened body, a huge wave of cheers echoed through White River Valley!

The Overlord was back! And so was Young Master Wayne!

To this territory's inhabitants, this was the best news.

What they didn't know was that the pale yellow radiance outside White River Valley would remain there for seven days – Absolute Sanctuary.

For the next seven days, Marvin and White River Valley were unlikely to be disturbed by anything that happened in the outside world.

For Marvin, seven days would be enough.

Chapter 705: Rose Dukedom

Translator: Shiraishi Editor: TheAlliance

The return of Marvin and Wayne naturally created an atmosphere of joy in White River Valley.

After all, they knew that this time, Lord Marvin and Young Master Wayne had been participating in the struggle over the Fate Tablet.

And the focus of the struggle was the Sky Tower left behind by Lance!

Although they didn't know the specific outcome, they had brought home the Sky Tower itself, so there was nothing to say.

The morale of White River Valley was soaring.

But at this time, Marvin gave a strange command.

Within seven days, no one was allowed to enter or exit White River Valley Sanctuary without his permission.

Those hunting parties that had been clearing away monsters outside were also summoned back by Marvin.

Although everyone felt strange about this, with Marvin's prestige in White River Valley, they wouldn't complain.

He was the owner of the Sanctuary, and he had the final say in everything in this territory.

It was just that only the top brass of White River Valley faintly understood that the situation wasn't very good!

Anna was the one that was most aware of this.

After that spear thrust by the War God, Wayne's Arcane Energy was in a state of backlash.

In that situation, he forcibly drove everyone away in order to protect Marvin. He then brought the Sky Tower to White River Valley, using Lance's Power to cast Absolute Sanctuary for seven days!

Wayne knew of the temptation of the Fate Tablet.

He couldn't give anyone the chance to sneak in.

Because of this Absolute Sanctuary, they would both have some time to rest and recuperate.

But Wayne had been injured too severely.

After some time, he could only remain in a half-comatose half-meditating state in the Sky Tower.

And Marvin's situation wasn't good either.

This was the gravest injury he had received so far.

The early release of the Magic Addict Shape made it hard for him to recover from many of his internal injuries. Even though two days later, Shadow Thief Owl came over to bring Daniela's goodwill, a special secret medicine from Lavis Dukedom that had strong healing effects on the Cridland bloodline, the injury in Marvin's body could only recover slowly.

The good news was that Marvin could tell that after these seven days, he should be much better.

At that moment, it would be time for him to implement his plan.

...

In these seven days, Marvin rarely had the time to relax completely.

He spent a lot of time dealing with government affairs with Anna, and from time to time he would check on the meditating Wayne or pay a visit to the chief of financial affairs. Lola's card skills deeply impressed Marvin. White River Valley's people were always kind, including the Shas who had immigrated. They believed in Constantine and Marvin.

The only pity was that some had left White River Valley, like the pair of freaks who had always been quarreling in the Alchemy lab. Fidel apparently had met his love, Sasha, who had managed to regain her body, and they both went north. The Nameless Alchemist changed completely after some time with the Alchemy Box.

From a fancy and pretentious peacock, he turned into a silent, tired old man. Marvin heard from Anna that he had shouted a word, perhaps a name, while standing in a field at midnight.

That name had a very strange pronunciation and Anna couldn't imitate it.

In any case, the presumably greatest Alchemist of all time left White River Valley after leaving a letter for Anna.

He said that he would be back one day, but he didn't know when.

And there were also the Gnome brothers.

It seemed that the pair of Gnomes from another continent had already left when Marvin went to fight over the Fate Tablet.

Although they hated to part with the Mechanical Titan, things seemed very urgent. Perhaps they had been contacted by those from home.

From Butterfly's previous matter, Marvin already had a faint guess.

This era might really create huge changes.

After the calamity, mankind survived, and would keep on surviving.

Regardless of how hard it was, this was something carved in all bloodlines: survival instinct.

...

Constantine and Sophie established the new Night Walker Headquarters in White River Valley.

After all, the northern fortress had already fallen and the venerable O'Brien had sacrificed his life. The newly appointed Night Walker Leader was Marvin.

When Constantine handed over the Eternal Night Paradise to Marvin, Marvin couldn't help sighing, feeling wistful.

He was too familiar with this Artifact!

Eternal Night Paradise... It was his Artifact in his previous life as a Ruler of the Night. But back then, he hadn't gotten it from O'Brien then, but from the corpse of a Lord of Hell.

Most likely, O'Brien had already died in the game, but when it happened, he didn't have time to hand the Night Monarch's Artifact over to the future generation.

With the Eternal Night Paradise, Marvin's strength once again improved and those two Legend Night Walkers settled in White River Valley for good.

Because of what would happen next, Marvin officially announced that Constantine was newly appointed as White River Valley's Second Magistrate.

After Marvin left, Anna would act on Marvin's behalf, and Constantine would be second in command.

After all, even though Marvin trusted Anna's abilities completely, it would be good to have a Legend in the top brass to take care of problems that required more force.

Madeline was supervising River Shore City, and the Tomb Raider didn't have suitable skills for managing a territory.

Isabelle recovered very quickly and seemed to have no ill will towards Wayne. These days, she was Marvin's shadow, as usual.

Marvin had no idea how to deal with this girl.

The dedication of the Hammons was famous, but as he thought of the future, he had a headache.

Because it would be too dangerous, he could only do it on his own and couldn't take anyone else with him.

'We'll see when it happens.'

...

4th day.

Marvin, who had been paying close attention to what was going on in the outside world, finally received an explosive piece of news:

This declaration stirred up a storm over the entire continent!

[The Three Northern Cities joined together with the Church of Dawn and Protection to formally establish their Dukedom!]

The Dukedom was named after the Rose Sword of the Valkyrie.

Eve herself became the first Great Duke of the Rose Dukedom, and Holy Paul, the son of the God of Dawn and Protection, became the first Supreme Pontiff. In the Three Northern Cities as well as the surroundings, the church's influence began spreading.

On the day of the founding of the Rose Dukedom, Great Duke Eve made a declaration to all of Feinan:

[White River Valley's Marvin is the destined Destroyer.]

[Anyone who obstructs the Rose Duke from eradicating Marvin will be viewed as a heretic and an enemy!]

Chapter 706: Leisure

Translator: Shiraishi Editor: TheAlliance

For the low remaining Human population in Feinan, the news from the North was an absolute storm.

Most people felt shocked and startled, because as two of the few remaining large Human forces of Feinan, White River Valley and the Three Northern Cities hadn't ever had any hostilities before.

And given the situation with the Gods descending soon, shouldn't the two forces join hands and work together?

This was the most confusing thing for the people.

Naturally, the clever ones could see that the northern side seemed to be preparing for the Gods' descent in their own way.

Eve took a strong stand on the side of the God of Dawn and Protection, making his son the first Supreme Pontiff. This already explained a lot.

And everyone already knew that Marvin's relationship with the Gods was like fire and water.

This youth from White River Valley had been provoking the Gods over and over with a bold attitude.

He apparently never had learnt what respecting a God meant.

Even when the frightening Great Calamity began, he was the first to stand up and slaughter the first person to publicly make an attempt to ascend to Godhood since the 3rd Era.

Under such an explanation, the falling out between the North and the South seemed clear.

But only a few people knew about the secrets behind Eve's decision.

Marvin wasn't included among these people.

But since the fight at the Sky Tower, he knew that Eve had become his enemy.

He didn't know the reason; he only needed to know what the current situation was.

The North decided to join forces with the Astral Sea. This was something that never happened in the game.

It was clear that this even happened specifically because of Marvin's transmigration. And there had already been many other things in this life that had diverged from the events of the game.

It was thoroughly different.

Thus, Marvin couldn't use his original experience to handle everything.

He calmly accepted Eve's announcement, but during these days, White River Valley didn't react to the announcement.

Because of the existence of the Absolute Sanctuary, apart from a few people that Marvin approved, no one could enter White River Valley.

People were very curious. What kind of attitude would the tyrannical Marvin use to confront Eve's war declaration?

From what Anna had learnt, the Three Northern Cities were in the process of clearing out the monsters in the surroundings on a large scale. This would allow the area to be safer when most of the army left.

After that, they would dispatch an army and attack White River Valley, their most important target being Marvin.

Whether the information was true or not, one declaration was enough to make everyone in White River Valley feel very tense.

Was that a joke?!

That newly established Rose Dukedom threatened to kill the Lord of White River Valley? The great hero that kept saving mankind?

White River Valley's inhabitants disagreed right away!

And those who moved to White River Valley later were the same.

Because in terms of their best interests, they and Marvin could be said to be on the same boat.

When the declaration came out, many people started cleaning their weapons, making their preparations for the upcoming war.

But what they didn't know was that the protagonist who was the target of this was leisurely strolling in the corners of White River Valley.

...

"Your [Seducer] is hiding a [Black Sheep], am I wrong?"

In a cabin in the Northern Mine, a strange trio was gathered around a deck of cards.

Lola, who hadn't craftily smiled like that for a long time, pointed at the card in Marvin's hand, ultimately announcing his death sentence.

Marvin smiled awkwardly and then nodded.

He was truly not on the same level as that crafty girl in this card game.

He had never thought that the girl he saved from the Gnolls would one day play such an important role in White River Valley.

And despite all that she went through, she was still the same crafty and talkative girl.

She was wearing her favorite checked skirt and still liked to bully the small halfling. She liked to use lots of tricks when playing her card game. At the same time, she also controlled the finances of White River Valley.

A lot of people would have a hard time connecting the two together, but in Marvin's eyes, Lola was Lola, and she was the same as before.

This felt very pleasant.

Since he transmigrated, he always had to hurry around, to the point that he lost contact with many friends.

But in the end, there had been many people supporting him from behind. Anna was one of them, and Lola was another.

...

“You really have no opinion?”

Lola gently put the cards away, and then blinked as she looked at Marvin. “Although I know nothing about battle, the matter this time sounds pretty serious.”

The halfling on the side nodded vigorously.

Like everyone else, they were worried about Marvin, Wayne, and White River Valley.

Fighting was something most people were afraid of.

Marvin shook his head gently and smiled. “Nothing to worry about.”

Lola snorted, “With my understanding of you, when you say these words, you usually go off and try to deal with everything on your own.”

Marvin laughed out loud and didn’t confirm or deny anything.

Wayne was still half asleep in the Sky Tower.

Constantine and Sophie had already returned and were dealing with the new headquarters of the Night Walkers. White River Valley also officially signed their alliance agreement with Rocky Mountain.

Apart from the Migratory Bird Council, whose attitude was still outside their grasp, the South seemed to be united.

Because the leader of Thousand Leaves Forest was Marvin’s close friend, there was no need to worry about this.

Thus, when looking at it as a normal war, Marvin didn’t have much to be afraid of.

In a war between the North and South, the South should be a lot more powerful.

But he didn’t want to start a war.

He didn’t want countless people dying because of him.

The only one Eve wanted to kill was him.

And with the matter of the Fate Tablet getting sorted out, there would be many more flies watching White River Valley because of Marvin.

The place Marvin swore to protect with his life was now in huge trouble because of him.

He had already thought of the obvious way.

That was to leave.

Lola was very clever and she already guessed that. But she didn't expose him. She only probed while worrying about Marvin's plans like he was an old friend going on an expedition.

But she knew she couldn't stop Marvin, and the only one that could stop Marvin was still asleep in the Sky Tower.

"So, when are you going?" Lola winked, "Don't deny that I'm right, I don't think you would have taken the time to play with me otherwise, or to visit the others... Besides, White River Valley's Overlord being missing isn't anything new."

Marvin blushed with shame.

He really seemed like someone that didn't know how to manage his territory.

But facing Lola's question, he still conscientiously answered!

"After the seven-day duration of the Absolute Sanctuary spell ends, I'll leave."

Chapter 707: Eternal Night Kingdom

Translator: Shiraishi Editor: TheAlliance

The Absolute Sanctuary would last 7 days, and Marvin only had 3 days left.

He had to personally settle this matter, settle this war.

And the only method was for him to leave.

He wasn't quite sure what would come after that. His opponents would be coming one after the other and Marvin would face them on his own, but he wasn't the kind of person that would just follow a path that would lead to his own doom.

He had already thought about this plan early on.

In order to save him, Wayne had already fallen into a half-comatose state. Marvin couldn't let him be disturbed at this time.

The threat of the World Ending Twin Snakes was always there, and they always had the same target. It wasn't White River Valley, but Marvin.

Thus, if he left and it became known, White River Valley should be fine for the time being.

Naturally, this peace wasn't certain. When Feinan became stable enough for the Gods to descend, there would definitely be some who would lust for this southern territory.

Because of this, Marvin didn't plan to leave for a long time.

He had a plan.

...

"The Three Sisters of Rocky Mountain stealthily came over a few days ago... Was it because of this?" Lola described what she had noticed. "They seemed very worried when they left."

Marvin smiled and nodded.

He might still need to keep this generally hidden, but he had no need to conceal it from Lola.

First, she wasn't an enemy, second, her knowledge of this world's powerhouses was lacking, and third, she wouldn't try to stop him like Anna would.

Rocky Mountain's group had visited White River Valley a few days ago, when Absolute Sanctuary was activated.

This time, both sides signed a complete alliance treaty, to attack and defend together.

They both knew that this alliance was created to react to the imminent Gods' Descent as well as other troublesome things.

And during that time, Marvin privately asked Lorie for her help with something.

The Three Fate Sisters naturally weren't like Eve, who believed that Marvin was the destined Destroyer.

Even in Jessica's eyes, it was impossible for Marvin, someone recognized by the Plane Will, to be related to the Destroyer. Even if he really had been dragged into this world by Lance.

This already didn't matter.

After going through so many things, as friends, they chose to trust each other.

This was what touched Marvin.

Because even if the entire world targeted him, there would always be people standing behind him.

These were his friends.

Jessica, Kate, and Lorie were good examples.

Marvin looked for Lorie, hoping she could use her genuine Wisdom Ability to look for the whereabouts of the remaining pages of the Book of Nalu!

The pages scattered throughout Feinan had already been gathered by Marvin, and the remainder were most likely spread around outside.

In this situation, to find the parts of the God of Deception's Artifact, even a Divination used by one of the three Great Gods might not necessarily work.

A Fate Sorceress' power might be more suitable, since it came from the Plane itself.

He told everything he knew about the 4th Fate Tablet to the three Fate Sorceresses.

They didn't disappoint Marvin.

Although the Fate Power transfer incident last time had injured Lorie, as a Chosen, her ability was quite amazing, and in a short time, she was able to recover a significant amount of what she had lost.

With the help of Fortune Fairy Ding, Lorie used a Greater Tracking spell and found the exact location of three of the final pages of the Book of Nalu.

As for the last page, Lorie had originally found it, but she said that just as she was detecting the page, she had felt the gaze of something staring at her.

When the last page was being pinpointed, her spell was interrupted, and she could only learn that the last page of the Book of Nalu was in a lower plane.

The Negative Energy Plane!

A place that was too heavy for Marvin.

The Negative Energy Plane was, as its name suggested, full of Negative Energy. Most people couldn't stay there for a long time, not to mention that he had many enemies there. The Evil Spirit Overlord of a Sub-Plane, Tidomas, already viewed Marvin as his mortal enemy. And a part of his Divine Source was still in Marvin's hands! If Marvin wanted to go to the Negative Energy Plane, he would risk a lot more than if he went to Hell or the Abyss!

Unfortunately, there was no other way.

If he wanted the key to open the 4th Fate Tablet, Marvin could only go down this path.

Otherwise, the 4th Fate Tablet would cause an unending cycle. Many people would lose their lives over it, including Marvin himself!

In fact, after obtaining this information, Marvin had already begun feeling that what the Truth Goddess had said was correct.

If Lance wasn't the one who wanted to destroy this world, then why would he create this Fate Tablet, which would give rise to an era of slaughter?

His transmigration, the Great Calamity, the waves of the ascensions in the 3rd Era... Lance apparently had facilitated all of these things.

This information made it hard for him to believe the words of the Book of Nalu.

Who knew whether this was a ruse arranged by Lance and the God of Deception. Pretending to be the God of Wisdom to confuse the later generations.

But Marvin believed that things weren't progressing as Lance had planned.

He probably hadn't expected him to collect the pages of the Book of Nalu so quickly. Due to a combination of experience and chance, he had now collected seven pages of the Book of Nalu already!

If he could manage to find the remaining four in the following month, he would be able to break open the 4th Fate Tablet and obtain the knowledge and comprehension of Laws inside.

At that time, through the combination with his mystical False Divine Vessel, his strength would soar!

And further events restricted his choices even more.

After all, Eve's declaration already pushed him to have no choice but to stand directly against her, and getting his hands on the Fate Tablet made the powerhouses of the entire world focus on him.

He had no choice but to leave.

But Lorie had managed to pinpoint the three other locations precisely. One was in the Collapsed Earth of the Elemental Plane of Earth, one was in the 17th layer of the Abyss, Evil Street, and the third was in the Tribal Temple in the starry sky.

The bad news was that since Lorie had been intercepted when using Greater Tracking on the last page, it was quite likely that others would find out that Marvin was looking for information on the pages.

His enemies would all be waiting for an opportunity.

And when the time came, regardless of who he would be facing, it would be impossible to avoid going through a bitter.

But Marvin had some confidence in his abilities, although unexpected events could always come up.

Not only was he getting more familiar with Sodom's Blades, but he had also obtained another Artifact!

[Eternal Night Kingdom]!

When Constantine handed that Artifact to Marvin, he had been filled with emotions.

It could be thought of as O'Brien's will before his death.

This was also the symbol of the Leader of the Night Walkers.

But others didn't know that Marvin had once relied on this Eternal Night Kingdom to escape from the never-ending pursuit of the Gods!

He had deep feelings for this Artifact!

Chapter 708: Return!

Translator: Shiraishi Editor: TheAlliance

The Eternal Night Kingdom had great meaning to Marvin, but the most important thing was that this Artifact had the ability to evade enemy scouting abilities.

And every once in a while, when Marvin was at an impasse, he would use the Eternal Night Kingdom to elude all his pursuers, including Gods!

This was the power of the Eternal Night Paradise.

If the Eternal Night Paradise was a Demi-Plane left behind by the Night Monarch, then the Eternal Night Kingdom was a valuable Artifact left behind by the Night Monarch for mankind!

Moreover, in his previous life, the Eternal Night Kingdom he received was a defective item, a Half-Artifact.

What he inherited from O'Brien this time was the complete Eternal Night Kingdom.

Marvin didn't know whether it was originally complete and rendered defective by the Lord of Hell who plundered it, or whether it was due to O'Brien repairing it in this timeline because of some butterfly effect, but he did know that he couldn't fail to live up to the expectations of his predecessor.

He wanted to survive.

To unlock all the mysteries and guard all his cherished people.

This was what Marvin was striving for, simple and straightforward, just as before, never going against his original intentions.

...

The effective time of the Absolute Sanctuary seemed to fly by extremely quickly.

Marvin felt like before he knew it, the seventh day had already arrived.

After ten hours, the Absolute Sanctuary disappeared.

Using his power as the Lord of the Sanctuary, he already felt some forces approaching.

These people were all at the Legend level, but they weren't Marvin's opponents in a duel. However, if they united and attacked the Sanctuary, it would truly bring trouble to White River Valley.

At that time, even if Marvin killed his way through them with his daggers and could intimidate all those near him, he would be unable to protect his own people.

Moreover, Marvin could feel the aura of Divine Servants among them.

The true powerhouses were hidden in the dark, obscured from view as they watched White River Valley's every move, preparing to deal a mortal blow to Marvin.

Like the World Ending Twin Snakes, or Valkyrie Eve!

In the morning, White River Valley's intelligence network brought the latest information. The rulers of the Rose Dukedom, Eve and Holy Paul, both had left the Three Northern Cities.

They disappeared from public view, and what they wanted to do was very clear.

Rocky Mountain's side was worrying and asked Marvin whether he needed their help. But Marvin rejected them, reminding them to pay attention to the safety of their own territory.

Although the entire Universe's enmity was focused on Marvin because of the Fate Tablet, Rocky Mountain had also been a place that was frequently targeted in the past. The three sisters were the easiest trigger of the Gods' jealousy. They had to be careful.

The goodwill of his other allies was also declined. No one could stop him from walking that lonely path.

But in the process, two world-shaking events happened on this mystical continent.

At 2 o'clock in the afternoon of the seventh day, some people noticed Jewel Bay's water having some irregular changes.

And Marvin, with Madeline's help, saw the astonishing scene through the Scouting Eye spell.

A towering tree rose up from the middle of the sea.

Large tidal waves spiralled around this tree as they slowly crashed against the edge of Jewel Bay's coastline.

A fluorescent green light flickered at the top of the tall tree.

The scene was simply spectacular.

All of Feinan's forces saw the moment when six roots spread out and pricked into the ruins of the Six Pearl Harbors.

Those roots started emanating a terrifying Order Power when they landed.

The monsters in the surroundings, as well as the remnants of the Wizard Monsters, were completely annihilated.

The green light followed the tree roots and entered the earth, creating life.

In a short hour, the large tree floating in the sea ultimately rotted and fell to the seafloor. As for Jewel Bay, it was covered in a dark green forest.

Six Elven towns rose up and fused with the Six Pearl Harbors. The Elves occupying this place called it [Green Harbor].

Marvin noticed a particular woman standing at the top of the tree, holding a scepter and a crown, looking awe-inspiring.

She was already completely different from that small and unrestrained messenger back in Thousand Leaves Forest.

The High Elves had returned!

This was definitely a big deal for Feinan!

As the rulers of the 1st Era, the High Elves, under the orders of the Ancient Elven God, left for an oversea Sanctuary, staying far from the issues and eventually becoming forgotten.

In the Wizard Era, a few High Elven items were revealed, reminding people of the existence of that race.

Like early on, Marvin drew support from the High Elven Wishful Rope to get the upper hand in fights.

This race was very skilled in combat. Their magic originated from themselves and they were more powerful than the Wood Elves.

Although they were sparse, no power dared to underestimate this returning force.

On the first day of the return of the High Elves, the Elven Queen Butterfly announced that her Green Harbor was allied with the Thousand Leaves Forest.

This added an invisible layer of defense to White River Valley.

All that lay between Thousand Leaves Forest and Jewel Bay were the chaotic Three Ring Towers. If the Northern Three Cities wanted to march onto White River Valley, they would definitely have to pass through that road. At that time, they would have to obtain the permission of the Elves, or else wouldn't easily be able to head further south.

...

The shocking news of the High Elves' return spread through all of Feinan.

But not waiting for others to digest this news, another race came out from the dust of history and reappeared.

An hour after the establishment of Green Harbor, a floating city appeared from the depths of the First Mountain Range where the Sky Tower originally was.

The floating city was just like a small mountain. Under the support of the Ancient Gnomes' science and technology, it had been drifting between the planes.

Now that the Universe Magic Pool had shattered, the trajectory of their drifting was no longer safe.

They chose to return to Feinan. The Ancient Gnomes were in Feinan once more.

The floating city took root in the First Mountain Range, and countless swarms of machinery were driven around by the Ancient Gnomes, bubbling like ants.

With the floating city as their core, the Ancient Gnome Empire started rebuilding!

...

Two great races returned, attracting widespread attention. Marvin's too.

But he wasn't too surprised about this. After all, he had already guessed from the departure of Butterfly and the two Gnomes that the Ancient Gnomes and the High Elves might return.

They had to return, or they would have nowhere to go.

But, the return of these two Great Races changed the already complicated situation of Feinan, making it even more confusing.

Along with the incoming Gods, Feinan was in a tense situation!

And this was the state of Feinan when White River Valley's Absolute Sanctuary finally disappeared.

A lone figure sorrowfully left.

Chapter 709: Ambush

Translator: Shiraishi Editor: TheAlliance

In just seven days, many stunning changes had come to pass in Feinan.

It was also enough time for Marvin to make his preparations to leave.

Wayne was still asleep in the Sky Tower.

Marvin transferred a part of his authority as the Sanctuary Lord to Constantine. This middle-aged Sha had already obtained Marvin's trust through many battles.

After Marvin left, White River Valley's safety would be entrusted to Constantine and the others. In any case, with the power of the Sanctuary and the help of the Legends Marvin controlled through the Book of Nalu, unless a large-scale invasion happened, White River Valley should be safe.

As for the threat of the Three Northern Cities, it felt like a much more distant problem after the appearance of Green Harbor.

The High Elves had a very domineering attitude. They wouldn't usually get involved in others' affairs, but their territory was inviolable.

The Wood Elves and the High Elves watched over each other and there was only one path between the two forces, not leaving much room for Eve to manoeuver.

Not to mention that Ivan and Marvin's friendship was pretty good, and although his relationship with Butterfly was somewhat unclear, it didn't seem bad.

Because of all this, Marvin wasn't very worried that White River Valley would suffer an attack once he departed.

He didn't meticulously conceal the news of his own departure. On the contrary, he ordered everyone to spread the news that he had already left White River Valley.

This would be the best ways to dissuade other Legends from attacking White River Valley to seek out Marvin.

They had always focused their sights on Marvin.

He deliberately stayed on their radar for some time after leaving the territory before suddenly disappearing!

Endless Path!

...

When Marvin was a 1st Rank Ranger, the path from River Shore City to the Three Ring Towers seemed to stretch so far.

And now, he had become a Half-Plane Guardian powerhouse, and the world seemed small and flat.

With Endless Path, he could cross the distance with a thought by consuming a large amount of stamina or Fate Power.

He had always had to watch his stamina consumption before, but since he obtained the 4th Fate Tablet, Marvin felt a change in the False Divine Vessel.

He could obtain a steady flow of Divine Power from the False Divine Vessel now. He couldn't see specifics data, but Marvin could feel that this was a huge amount.

It could be assumed that this Divine Power was related to the 4th Fate Tablet.

With this to support him, he would be able to fight more tenaciously. He already expected that the path to complete the Book of Nalu would be a war of attrition.

The entire Universe was seeking out the Fate Tablet in Marvin's Divine Vessel.

This feeling didn't make Marvin feel horrible or awed, but excited instead.

He could still remember the time when a dozen of Half-Gods tried to pursue him when he had just completed the ascension quest in his past life, almost managing to kill him.

He also remembered the scenes of himself going deep within the enemy lines time and time again before his body was too injured to continue on easily.

Whenever this happened, his blood would start boiling.

Deep within him, he loved to take risks.

The pressure of facing others was the best challenge in Marvin's eyes!

Facing one challenge after another and prevailing over all of them; that was living!

This was Marvin's creed.

To protect that which was important to him, he would have to keep pushing his way past many obstacles. It was a cycle that might never stop!

Until he died!

...

When Marvin disappeared, the forces all over the Universe spread this information.

The Gods from the Astral Sea started using Divine-level Divination to look for Marvin's specific whereabouts.

But before that happened, Marvin had already appeared at the Pearl Tower, south of Rocky Mountain.

Unexpectedly, Marvin didn't go directly to the three places known to have pages of the Book of Nalu after leaving White River Valley. He headed to Pearl Tower first, the sacred place that kept all kinds of information about Feinan's history.

He came in touch with Mark 47 through the usual trick before entering Pearl Tower.

He had once received a mission to gather Memory Chips, but unfortunately, he hadn't found any more after the initial ones. But he supposed that the reward that seemed so significant back then also wasn't so desirable now.

He didn't come this time to talk about the Memory Chips.

"Wormhole Pearl?"

A strange laugh came out of the construct after hearing this. "That is a very precious treasure, what do you intend to exchange for it?"

"Give me a price." Marvin also didn't have too much hope that Mark 47 would comply.

But when the Three Fate Sisters visited him earlier, Ding had reminded him that he had yet to honor his promise.

Because he had been way too busy, Marvin had completely forgotten about the Eternal Time Dragon locked in the prison at the end of the Universe. He would have remembered eventually because they did have a contract, but it was still quite bad to forget the promise.

Feeling guilty, he went to look for Mark 47 when he left White River Valley to get his hands on the Wormhole Pearl.

If he could successfully trade for it, it would be an awesome acquisition.

If he couldn't, then he would just have to see what Mark 47 would be willing to trade it for. In the end, Marvin was only a mortal, what he could do was limited.

But Marvin didn't expect Mark 47 to lead with the words, "I can give you the Wormhole Pearl."

"But you have to exchange something for it."

Marvin froze in surprise. "What thing?"

The construct said with its unique, hoarse voice, "The Essence Absorption System in your body."

Marvin frowned!

...

Half an hour later, when Marvin's figure appeared once more in the land south of Rocky Mountain, his body was a bit different.

After thinking for a bit, Marvin decided to agree with the terms!

The Wormhole Pearl was the key for Tiramisu to get out of his jail, and the Essence Absorption System in Marvin's body.

With the final evolution of his advanced False Divine Vessel, the system had started to slowly become less necessary for him.

It might have been critically important to his improvement at the start, but that was no longer the case.

And although the system had helped him a lot, it was lacking when it came to advancement through the Legend Realm, which required Comprehension points. Marvin's leveling speed at that point had been too slow through the Essence Absorption System.

But what about the advanced False Divine Vessel?

The complete version of the advanced False Divine Vessel had the frightening ability to absorb Divine Source with good efficiency.

Each time he absorbed a certain amount of Divine Source, Marvin's strength would increase. He had already levelled from this effect!

Marvin felt that this False Divine Vessel was the most valuable treasure he had gotten since coming to Feinan!

Thus, the deal went smoothly.

Marvin obtained the Wormhole Pearl, and Mark 47 obtained the system he had always wanted!

Because the system in his body had incomplete, there were some Laws that forced him to stay in Pearl Tower.

Now, with Marvin's Essence Absorption System, he could finally break through and leave as he wished.

Before departing, Marvin watched the construct walk out of Pearl Tower and heading for the depths of the Wilds.

In this world, every lifeform had their own stories. He wouldn't get too involved, but he had a feeling that this construct who had once followed the God of Creation, Lance, had an even bigger secret.

"We will meet again."

This was what the construct told Marvin before leaving.

Marvin wasn't so sure that would be the case. He was now facing a large crisis, and all he could do was to keep pushing ahead.

One step after the other.

Marvin suddenly felt an intense feeling of danger!

"Woosh! Woosh! Woosh!"

Three shadows appeared in Marvin's sight.

Anuba Grant's Son.

Eve.

And one leisurely smiling old man.

"To be honest, I originally didn't dislike you." Marvin glared coldly at Eve as he gently grasped the hilts of Sodom's Blades. "Even though during the battle against Dark Phoenix, it was your subordinate that did something stupid, I didn't blame you."

Eve calmly interrupted, "I know what you want to say, but unfortunately, we are bound to be enemies."

Marvin spat in disgust, "And you are keeping the reason a mystery."

Holy Paul smilingly asked, "Stalling for time? There is no need, we already sent people to keep those three girls from Rocky Mountain busy. Mister Marvin, you already have nowhere to go. Actually, I quite like you, but Miss Eve wants to kill you. She claims that you are the Fate Destroyer. I don't really believe in these things. However... killing an insignificant Human in order to get the right to preach in the Three Northern Cities, I believe this is worth it."

Eve drew her Holy Sword and pointed it at Marvin. "Sorry."

"I only do what I must."

Light erupted from the Holy Sword and transformed into a long streak aiming at Marvin!

Chapter 710: Light Flow Reversal

Translator: Shiraishi | Editor: TheAlliance

The Valkyrie's three Holy Swords had always been praised as some of the most powerful Artifacts in Feinan.

If a mortal faced these frightening Holy Swords, they would have no way to block them and would only be able to try unsuccessfully to flee.

For example, despite Dark Phoenix already attaining the body of a God, she was still cut down by the Holy Sword.

In that realm, weapons mostly were unimportant due to everyone's strength transcending the limits of weapons. However, some Artifacts were naturally different.

Whether it was the three Holy Swords or Sodom's Blades, they were all weapons that could instill fear in Legends and Gods!

Facing Eve's overbearing might, Marvin had no intentions to withdraw!

What if the three of them ambushed him?

Marvin had only handed over his Essence Absorption System because he was already confident in his ability to fight off the most imminent pursuers.

With the endless stream of Divine Power from the False Divine Vessel, even if he fought with a Mid God, he wouldn't be at a disadvantage.

His raw strength had yet to reach the level of a Plane Guardian, but in a real battle, his fighting capabilities were on par with those of a Plane Guardian!

Marvin's silhouette flashed like lightning to meet the fierce Holy Sword.

"Bang!"

The crimson light shone out as the blades ruthlessly slashed at a precise point on the Holy Sword!

Something miraculous happened! The mighty Holy Sword suddenly weakened as Marvin struck it in a key location.

Eve frowned.

Ever since these Holy Swords had been passed to her hands, such a thing had never happened.

The fencing style that the Valkyrie imparted to her gave her enough power to use the Holy Swords to attack from afar.

When Marvin learnt about the Holy Swords in the game, he sighed, thinking that these things were like the immortal swords from the old legends in China.

With one thought, it would automatically fly out to attack.

He never thought that in this life, the Holy Swords would be turned at him, seeking out his life!

But Marvin made sure to keep cool. His willpower was still firm.

The flurry of attacks he flung out using Sodom's Blades was terrifying, all of them aiming at the same spot on the Holy Sword.

The effects of his fierce Desperation Style began to show.

This Blade Technique Style from the Martial Path that had been created by Blade Master Kangen had marvelous effects. It was not just a killing style, it was also an ability that could target the weak points of his enemies to overcome them as fast as possible.

As soon as Marvin activated Desperation Style, he faintly felt that the power of the Holy Sword wasn't evenly distributed after leaving Eve's hands.

At some places, the power was too strong, while in other parts, the power was too weak.

Marvin made a prompt decision and repeatedly attacked one of the relatively underpowered sections, getting an overwhelming result in the first clash!

That Holy Sword whose name he didn't know was repulsed by the relentless blows and lost its momentum.

...

Holy Paul had an expression of amazement on his face. He had personally experienced the frightening power of the three Holy Swords, they admittedly they were especially effective against Gods and their ilk.

If Eve hadn't been in possession of these mighty weapons, he wouldn't have obeyed her.

He'd already had a high opinion of Marvin, but it increased even more when he saw how Marvin managed to skillfully fend off Eve's attack!

"Interesting..."

A sneer appeared in the corner of his mouth, but he didn't make a move.

He still remembered the stinging disgrace of being Eve's captive. Although both sides were now cooperating, Holy Paul wasn't a broad-minded person. He wouldn't secretly dig a hole for Eve, but he wouldn't be against seeing her suffer a bit, either.

Naturally, he wouldn't openly show that, but he decided to hang at the side for now

He wouldn't take the initiative to make a move. He felt that he could surely take care of Marvin within three exchanges, but he still wanted to just watch for now.

He was waiting for Eve to ask. If Eve requested his help, he would give her his aid.

The difference in that case would be that Eve would then owe him a favor.

Sometimes, Human emotions like pride were the most useful, especially when dealing with someone like Eve.

...

But Eve's performance was also beyond the expectations of the son of the God of Dawn and Protection.

She didn't ask for his help at all. The whole time, she didn't even glance at him!

She was completely focused on Marvin. When her first Holy Sword was blocked, she wasn't discouraged. Instead, her eyes shone!

"Woosh! Woosh!"

A formidable power rose up from her hands and the other two Holy Swords soared up, turning into two bright lights and swinging from two different paths to flank Marvin!

And the Holy Sword that Marvin had forced back suddenly blossomed with a brilliant luster and renewed its attack on Marvin.

The three Holy Swords were out for Marvin's life!

Seeing this scene, even Holy Paul was startled.

Even now, the power of those Holy Swords seemed very frightening to him!

How would Marvin deal with them as a mortal?

'He should start fleeing...'

He silently tried to predict how Marvin might try to flee from the onslaught of the Holy Swords, and he took a few steps back, making preparations to stop Marvin from getting away.

He was sure that, Marvin wouldn't be able to handle the three Holy Swords at the same time with just Sodom's Blades.

The only choice was to flee.

But at that time, the silent old man at the side opened his eyes wide and stared in Eve's direction!

At that instant, Marvin, who had been surrounded by the three Holy Swords, started fading away!

He seemed to be panicking as he turned to flee.

But at the same time, a shadow appeared behind Eve out of nowhere!

Crimson light flickered, followed by Marvin's ice cold voice: "You seem to forget. The so-called Valkyrie was nothing without her Holy Swords!"

Eve was suddenly frightened!

She hadn't felt Marvin approaching!

'How did he get past the Holy Swords? What is going on?'

But she didn't have time to think about it.

The crimson light from the Sodom Blades already covered her.

Eternal Night Seal!

A frightening power sucked Eve inside, and both she and Marvin disappeared!

...

"That's bad! That avatar was exactly the same as his real body!" Holy Paul paled as he muttered, "Eve is in danger!"

The silent old man dashed to the location where the two had disappeared. He gently stretched out his hand and gave a light push.

A golden light appeared and countless little Angels surrounded that old man!

Divine Spell – Light Flow Reversal!

Chapter 711: Kill!

Translator: Shiraishi Editor: TheAlliance

Everything was dark in that eternally sealed world.

Eve felt like she was drowning, losing all ability to resist!

She truly was a powerful Legend, and a famous one at that.

But Marvin knew the deadly weak point of that mighty Valkyrie!

Most of her power came from the Three Holy Swords.

The three Holy Swords weren't only weapons to her; they were practically part of her body.

She was at her weakest when separate from her Holy Swords!

Thus, Marvin had come up with a plan at the start.

After leaving Pearl Tower, he deliberately revealed himself and was thus intercepted by the trio from the North.

But these people didn't know that what they had intercepted was only Marvin's avatar!

[True Shadow]!

Reaching level 5 Ruler of the Night gained was yet another a qualitative change.

The avatar made from True Shadow had 100% of Marvin's fighting strength, and would last as long as thirty minutes!

Thus, Marvin had hidden away while waiting for a chance to attack Eve. He even used the cloak gifted to him by the Vampire Primogenitor!

Thankfully, his plan was successful.

The attention of the attackers was drawn by Sodom's Blades, which were in the hands of the avatar.

Its great strength forced Eve to send her three Holy Swords out to try to subdue him. The other two had never thought that he would actually stay and fight instead of trying to flee!

But his goal was to capture Eve!

The moment that the three Holy Swords were sent out, Marvin chose to summon Sodom's Blades back!

At that moment, he could tell that the seemingly weak, old man had noticed his plan.

But it was too late.

The Eternal Night Seal appeared without warning and completely engulfed Eve!

This world was filled with endless darkness.

...

"Why do you want to kill me?"

The bloody knife pressed against Eve's neck as Marvin coldly asked.

Eve shivered, but unyieldingly declared, "This is the will of the Valkyrie! She has already seen the future."

"You are the Fate Destroyer! You aren't Feinan's guardian, they have been tricked by you."

"Lance chose you, he wants to use your power to destroy this world so that he can escape from this cage!"

Marvin remained silent for a moment before quietly saying, "Regardless of whether you believe it or not, I'll still let you know that I am not this Destroyer or whatever it is. I have no interest in doing such a boring thing."

"As for Lance, to be honest, I also don't know what kind of plan he has in stock."

"But you'd believe in whatever the Valkyrie says? No matter what?"

Eve flushed with anger from Marvin's mocking. She started to retort.

But suddenly, a light shone in the endless darkness!

An old man could faintly be seen from the light, gently looking at Marvin and Eve.

Marvin could feel that the Eternal Night Seal's space was slowly being reversed!

'Light Flow Reversal?'

Marvin was startled. “[Light Flow Reversal]?! You are Anuba Grant?!”

The old man faintly smiled. “Marvin, I didn’t make a move towards you back in the Nightmare Boundary.”

“Today, please let Eve off, she is just following the Valkyrie’s decree.”

“Moreover, your daggers might be fast, but my Light Flow Reversal is faster.”

Marvin’s heart sank!

He didn’t think that the inconspicuous old man was actually a body hosting the God of Dawn and Protection!

Although he currently couldn’t actually wield all the great Divine Power that he had, any Divine Spell would cause great trouble to Marvin right now.

Let alone Light Flow Reversal!

This Divine Spell could warp reality to some extent within a short time and range.

Even if Marvin successfully killed Eve, the old man could still resurrect her!

To a certain degree, he could control time!

...

Seeing the old man appear, Eve’s breathing also became a lot more stable.

‘Saved.’

It occurred to her that if not for the God of Dawn and Protection personally stepping in at this time, she might have really died at Marvin’s hands!

‘Next time, regardless of how fierce the battle is, I should always keep one of the three Holy Swords at my side,’ Eve inwardly scolded herself.

As the power of the God of Dawn and Protection waited for Marvin’s response, his power continued to permeate through the space.

Marvin’s Eternal Night Seal couldn’t resist the erosion of the Light Flow Reversal!

But even when facing one of the most powerful Gods of this world, Marvin still chose not to compromise.

He flashed a smile at that old man. "For the matters of the Nightmare Boundary, I thank you for being lenient."

"But I don't have the habit of leaving a disaster for myself. Eve wants to kill me, I cannot let her live!"

Eve was startled. Before she could react, an ice-cold blade flashed past her neck!

A happy sound was emitted from Sodom's Blades. Eve's blood made these daggers very satisfied!

Fury flashed in the eyes of that old man.

He snorted and pointed at Marvin!

Suddenly, countless rays of light rushed over!

"Even if you kill her, I can bring her back!" the old man yelled.

In a flash, a frightening light spread in all directions.

The entire Eternal Night Seal was destroyed.

Marvin was in the center of the light and about to be hit by Light Flow Reversal!

But a lazy voice suddenly echoed into everyone's ears. "You wanna kill my lil' Bro? Light Flow Reversal is still not enough!"

The old man paled!

Marvin's silhouette strangely twisted and warped before disappearing!

Eve's head fell to the ground! Her corpse slowly tumbled down too, leaving a mess in the desert.

Anuba Grant's son looked foolishly at this scene in complete disbelief.

He simply couldn't understand what was happening!

That was Light Flow Reversal!

That was the Divine Spell that had made his father so famous!

How could it fail?!

The old man had a very grave expression. He looked at the headless body and couldn't help but whisper, "Could it be... He really returned?"

...

In the depths of the Universe, a long-forgotten Dragon was proudly looking at Marvin. "If I didn't ignite your contract in the nick of time, you would have been in great danger!"

"I felt a very powerful aura of time, but when it comes to playing with time, how could there be someone better than me in this world?!"

Looking at Tiramisu's arrogant appearance, Marvin couldn't help feeling a bit amused.

But just as Tiramisu had described, the instant that Marvin felt Anuba Grant's killing intent, he contacted Tiramisu through his contract, letting him know that he was ready to fulfill the terms.

The Eternal Time Dragon ignited the contract and Marvin was teleported over!

The Divine Spell of the God of Dawn and Protection failed because of the distortion in spacetime, and Eve died!

Marvin was very satisfied with this outcome.

He straightforwardly took out that bright pearl.

Chapter 712: War God's Might
Translator: Shiraishi Editor: TheAlliance

When he saw that sparkly pearl, Tiramisu immediately became excited!

He swallowed the Wormhole Pearl in one bite!

His body then swelled up.

"Woosh!"

The Dragon disappeared from Marvin's sight!

Marvin looked around and noticed the silhouette of the Dragon flying outside the orange walls.

"I'm finally free!"

"Shameful Father! You locked me in here for so long, only letting me sleep and eat, not able to move my body!"

“Be ready, I’m coming for you!”

Tiramisu flew around in the space above for a dozen minutes or so, venting loudly the whole time.

Marvin watched the spectacle from inside the prison, feeling quite awkward.

He didn’t know why Tiramisu’s father had wanted to lock him in the cage for so long.

But after consuming the Wormhole Pearl, it seemed that Tiramisu could now fly unobstructed.

Like this, Marvin’s promise had been completed, and the contract dissolved.

“Woosh!”

Tiramisu flew by one more time. This time, he grabbed Marvin’s shoulder with his small claws as he yelled, “Let’s go!”

The two of them left that frightening prison together.

After departing, Tiramisu’s mood was pretty good.

“You must have gone through great troubles to get the Wormhole Pearl. Not bad, not bad. I am pleased with you.”

The Dragon smilingly said, “Since you helped me get out, from today on, you are my lil’ brother!”

Marvin didn’t know whether to laugh or cry.

Looking at the Dragon’s youthful effervescence, as well as his small body and young voice, Marvin felt a bit wronged!

But in any case, he could feel the warmth from Tiramisu’s voice.

Being able to gain the friendship of an Eternal Time Dragon was no mean feat. As they soared freely through the sky, Marvin felt gratified.

His own system hadn’t been wasted.

But he still underestimated how unreasonable the Dragon was.

After taking Marvin out of the cage, he casually found a destroyed Secondary Plane and abandoned Marvin there.

“Now that I’m free, I have to look for my old man to take revenge.”

“If there is anything you need, please wait until my vengeance is fulfilled.”

Before Marvin could say a word, the Dragon disappeared!

Vanished!

Marvin checked the surroundings: broken walls, ice-cold stars, complete silence!

“Fuck!”

He couldn’t help swearing!

‘Where is this?! I’m in the depths of the Astral Plane!’

‘He just left me here?’

Clearly, Tiramisu believed that Marvin had some way to make it back to Feinan on his own.

But Marvin didn’t!

Endless Path was very overbearing, but it needed specific coordinates or at least line of sight during the travel. Marvin didn’t even have any idea where he was now!

How could he go back to Feinan!?

Moreover, Endless Path itself was also limited by distance based on how much power he could pour in. Who knew how much Divine Power or Fate Power he would have to consume for interplanar travel via Endless Path?!

According to Marvin’s Wisdom Ability, even if he used all the power in the advanced False Divine Vessel, it would be far from enough for interplanar travel!

‘What’s up with this...’

Marvin was a bit annoyed.

Thankfully, he still had the Fate Imprint, so he should be able to contract Jessica and Ding.

Last time, Ding and Jessica managed to pull him back from the depths of the Universe, so they should be able to figure something out this time too.

With such a thought in mind, Marvin urged the power in his False Divine Vessel into his Fate Imprint.

One minute later.

No reaction!

‘What’s going on? Why is there no reaction?’ Marvin frowned... This wasn’t logical.

The Fate Imprint represented Feinan’s will. Regardless of how far he was, there should still be a reaction.

He wasn’t in the prison now, so there was no reason for him to be unable to feel a connection with Jessica and the others after pouring in so much power.

But he soon understood.

A huge celestial-looking silhouette slowly walked over from the distance.

Each of his steps was enough to make this Universe shake!

Marvin’s expression changed. He knew who that person was!

It was rumored that no one had ever seen his real appearance.

He was always lofty like the stars. Each person that fought him died miserably before falling into the darkness.

He was one of the three Great Gods leading the Astral Sea!

The War God!

...

“I sealed all the exits of this plane!”

“Even if you manage to get in touch with the three Fate Sisters, they still won’t be able to help you.”

The War God’s tone was very calm. “You are the prisoner in the cage now, and there is nowhere to escape.”

“Hand over the Fate Tablet and I can let your soul smoothly enter the Underworld.”

Marvin felt a frightening and overwhelming force surge over!

This was the first time he had faced such a terrifying God in this world!

Anuba Grant, who he had met earlier, was but a mere avatar!

This time, it was actually the War God himself!

From this, it could be seen how precious the Fate Tablet was. Even if Marvin was still fine in Feinan, he would keep getting chased by Gods outside Feinan!

The War God was the first, but if Marvin got away, he would definitely not be the last.

Under the pressure of this almighty God's powerful Divine Vessel, even the complete False Divine Vessel still seemed to be shaking!

Marvin frantically tried to come up with an escape strategy, but he couldn't help being distracted as he cursed the unreliable Tiramisu in his heart.

If the Dragon hadn't thrown him here so casually, he definitely wouldn't have been such an easy target for the War God!

He subconsciously tried to retreat.

But the War God's shadow already covered all the corners of this plane.

Even Marvin's Shadow Domain was being suppressed by the might of his pressure and couldn't fully be used!

In a face to face confrontation, Marvin actually didn't even have the strength to escape!

This was the first time meeting a God with such overbearing force!

'Damn! Do I have to use Eternal Night Kingdom so soon?'

Marvin was unwilling.

Eternal Night Kingdom was a treasure he kept close to his heart.

After choosing the path of the Book of Nalu, he didn't know how many troubles he would meet.

That kind of treasure had to be used at the most critical time.

Otherwise, once it had been understood by the enemies, they would have countermeasures against it the next time.

The Gods weren't total fools. They wouldn't be repeatedly tricked by that thing, and it would lose its effect over time.

But now, the situation was very difficult. If it was a God like the Dream God, Marvin would have confidence in battle!

The War God, though...

'Forget it... Can't help it.'

Marvin inwardly groaned as he prepared to use the Eternal Night Kingdom to flee.

But at that time, a familiar swearing voice approached from the horizon. "Which bastard locked this plane!"

"This great Dragon is unhappy! I just escaped a cage, only to end up in a new one. Get that seal opened right now, or else I'll really get angry!"

Marvin's eyes shone!

Chapter 713: Three Slaps

Translator: Shiraishi Editor: TheAlliance

This youthful voice came from the one who had just abandoned Marvin, Tiramisu!

Sure enough, not long after, a mighty silhouette flew over.

The War God's attention was drawn by its approach.

He coldly glared at that Dragon and roared, "Fuck off!"

It was a thunderous roar that shook the entire Universe!

He then ignored Tiramisu and reached out with his hand to grab Marvin!

Suppressed by the pressure of the War God's aura, Marvin couldn't move at all!

At this crucial time, his only option to escape on his own would be to use Eternal Night Kingdom.

But then, a silver line suddenly appeared in the endless darkness.

The originally harmonious and lawful Universe seemed to be thrown into a very precarious and unstable state by that silver line!

The mighty War God couldn't help letting out a sound of surprise.

Marvin felt a warmth coiling around himself.

In an instant, a formidable power rushed out from him and stopped the War God's palm!

Before Marvin could recover, he had already been plucked away by Tiramisu, and he then appeared in another corner of the realm.

The Dragon seemed enraged.

He gently put Marvin down as he angrily growled, "Telling me to fuck off?"

"And daring to attack my lil' bro in front of me?"

"What do you take this handsome Dragon for?"

"I'll slap you three times today!"

As his voice resounded through the plane, his words not only made the War God frown, but even made Marvin go pale!

Marvin believed in the tyrannical power of the Eternal Time Dragons, but this one was still a child who had spent his entire life in a cage. His power had yet to grow to its peak.

Would a Dragon like this be able to rival the powerful War God?

"Careful! Don't act recklessly," Marvin shouted. "Can you actually beat him? It might be better to try to escape. Don't risk your life with him, he is one of the strongest of the Universe..."

Tiramisu interjected, "I don't care who he is, he made this handsome Dragon angry!"

"Strongest of the Universe? I don't believe it!"

"Wait for it, I'll slap him three times to get even with him for you!"

After these arrogant words, Tiramisu soared into the air!

Marvin couldn't stop him!

He was a bit regretful!

If he had known earlier that Tiramisu would be so brash, he would have used Eternal Night Kingdom and escaped together.

That guy didn't know how high the sky was and directly came in conflict with the War God. What if he wasn't powerful enough to stand against him?

Unfortunately, he could barely move with the War God's overbearing power still flooding over the plane. It was impossible for him to stop Tiramisu!

He could only hope the Dragon was stronger than he was expecting, or else had some means of self-protection!

...

The War God wasn't the only one in the boundless Universe that was focused on Marvin's situation.

There were many eyes firmly staring in this direction, monitoring the events.

Unfortunately, the War God had sealed the place both from entry and exit, so they could only look from the distance.

When they saw that Dragon appear out of nowhere and act so recklessly, declaring that he wanted to slap the War God, they couldn't help laughing.

Truly a calf that doesn't fear the tiger. This youthful Dragon must have been used to being obeyed, but he didn't know who he was facing this time!

This was the War God!

Because of the special nature of his Divine Vessel, the War God had needed to defeat 101 God-level opponents during the process of ascending!

And in the bloody 3rd Era, that person had viciously killed all 101 of these God-level opponents in succession.

Thus, he climbed over the corpses of countless Gods and became strong enough to stand on equal footing with the God of Dawn and Protection!

Such a powerful person, how could he lose to what seemed to be a newly born oversized snake?

"Not only does that Marvin not know what's good for him, but it seems that trait is also shared by the strange ones around him," the Black Dragon God sneered.

The other Gods agreed with his sentiment. Only a few Gods looked at that strenuously flying Dragon with a thoughtful expression. It seemed to them that Tiramisu was flying absurdly slowly!

His flying speed simply couldn't compare to that of the rest of the Dragon Clan!

It was like watching a snail crawl along!

"He declared that he was after the War God's head, but why is he so slow?"

"The War God would be able to send him flying with just one finger!"

But what shocked everyone was that the War God didn't move at all.

After no less than five minutes, Tiramisu finally reached the War God!

All the Gods froze in confusion!

"The War God is motionless?"

They then heard a resounding slap echo through the Universe!

The Dragon's claws fanned open and let out a frightening sound as they hit Anubis!

Tiramisu slapped away the aura of the War God, the Bloody Battle Shadow!

The Gods were looking at the scene, completely astounded!

What was going on with him? How come everything related to Marvin end up being so strange? That little snake was really able to hit the War God? And the latter didn't even resist?

Marvin was also stunned.

When he saw Tiramisu fly off so slowly, he also thought that the War God's Divine Power would restrict him, but it seemed that it wasn't so!

After the War God's halo fell, a head wearing a helmet was exposed!

The Dragon snorted irritably, "You bullied my lil' bro!"

"Slap!"

Another slap!

The Gods looking from the distance also felt their teeth hurt!

That slap had directly smacked against the War God's helmet, exposing the face that he had always tried to conceal!

And under the helmet was a shocking face indeed!

A face riddled with scars that looked quite nauseating!

“So ugly!” Tiramisu loudly jeered.

As for the final slap, it definitely wasn't light either!

Everyone saw it clearly as the tiny Dragon's last slap directly smashed against the War God's face!

A burning red imprint was left there.

The Universe sank into silence.

All the Gods went mad!

What was going on?

How could the War God be shamed like that?!

With his fiery hot temper, this snake should have been crushed to pieces by now, shouldn't it?

But what made the Gods begin to despair was that even after the three slaps, the War God was still standing there proudly, not even blinking!

Tiramisu put down his hand and glanced dismissively at the War God. “Strongest of the Universe? This handsome Dragon doesn't believe it!”

“Lil' Bro Marvin, let's go!”

He then vanished again and grabbed Marvin with a movement that nobody could see, before disappearing from that part of the Universe!

The next second, the whole Universe could hear a furious roar!

About a dozen Secondary Planes in that region were directly smashed to pieces!

Chapter 714: Plundering Duo

Translator: Shiraishi Editor: TheAlliance

On a floating abandoned plane in the depths of the Universe.

Tiramisu was panting as he put Marvin down, continuously flapping his wings. “Friggin scary... That guy is very troublesome, he almost caught up.”

Marvin was stunned.

In fact, he had yet to react to the fact that the frightening War God had been taught a lesson by a young and inexperienced Dragon.

How inconceivable was that?

He couldn't help but ask, "Aren't you more troublesome than him?"

The Dragon said with a very human-like expression, "Lil' Bro Marvin, you are too foolish."

"If I was more troublesome than him, I would have already beat him down! Why would I run?"

"So foolish!"

Marvin felt speechless. 'If you hadn't slapped the War God three times, why would I ask this question?!'

"Then that..."

But before he could say more, Tiramisu cut in. "I used the fiercest ability from within my Bloodline inheritance to give him a taste. Didn't I say that it was to get even with him for you?"

"He is too strong, I'm not a match for him right now, so I could only flee."

Marvin was moved. Although the little Dragon had a condescending tone, he was still looking out for him.

But the situation now was very troublesome.

Marvin hadn't thought that his whereabouts would be noticed by the Gods so easily.

The Fate Tablet was simply a time bomb ready to explode at any time!

At that moment, Tiramisu suddenly shouted, "I used a lot of stamina to let you vent, I'm hungry now!"

Marvin probed, "What do you like to eat?"

"Coconuts!"

Marvin was amazed.

Tiramisu ignored Marvin's stunned expression as he went on, "Don't even think of serving me common things. All of the coconuts on the coconut tree my dad planted for me were full of Time Power. Although I took some out when I left, I need to ration them so that they last. I'll have some later. In any case, you have to find me tasty things. They definitely cannot be common goods."

"The best would be stuff that rich in power. After all, with my stomach, I can surely even digest Artifacts."

Marvin's eyes shone when he heard those words; he suddenly had a bold plan!

He mumbled, "Can you carry me and escape from the pursuit of those Gods?"

Tiramisu proudly asked, "Are you looking down on me? Aren't I an Eternal Time Dragon?"

"In the entire Universe, besides my dad and God Lance, there shouldn't be anyone else that would be able to catch up to us!"

Marvin burst out laughing!

He looked at the Dragon and earnestly asked, "What do you think of the things in the God Realms?"

Tiramisu's eyes glimmered with awe. "Do you mean... we should go loot the God Realms?"

Marvin nodded.

The Gods' eyes were scouring the Universe, strenuously searching for traces of Marvin.

But surely they wouldn't expect that Marvin would do something completely crazy instead of trying to evade them!

Before they met Tiramisu, he naturally wouldn't have decided on such a bold plan, but with the Eternal Time Dragon as his partner, looting the God Realms should be a very reliable endeavor!

However... after hearing Marvin's words, the little Dragon had been hesitating for a long time.

"What is it?" Marvin asked.

Tiramisu answered, "I don't know how to get to the God Realms."

Marvin smiled mysteriously as he whispered, "I know a place."

...

In Arborea Plane, under the Shadow Temple's ruins, the Eternal Time Dragon was now lying on Marvin's shoulder after reducing his size. "This path really leads to the Dream God's Secondary Plane? Is your plan really reliable?"

"Then again, your strength isn't too bad, Lil' bro. Well, you have the advanced False Divine Vessel, even if you aren't using it to its full potential."

Feeling a twinge of shock, Marvin immediately asked, "You know of the advanced False Divine Vessel?"

Tiramisu coldly snorted, "This handsome Dragon knows countless things about the Universe!"

"The advanced False Divine Vessel's strongest point lies in its ability to consume and merge with other things. The advanced False Divine Vessel in your body is already complete, so it can swallow Divine Source without restriction! The Divine Source consumed should support your physical body, and based on your training path, it would directly increase your strength."

"At least, before reaching the level of a Plane Guardian, you won't meet any obstructions. Naturally, the precondition is that there is enough Divine Source for you to swallow."

Marvin felt excited.

He had some understanding of the False Divine Vessel, but it wasn't that thorough.

Swallowing Divine Source without restriction?

Able to directly reach Plane Guardian level?

This would be far better than what he had hoped for before!

"Eh? You really didn't know?" The Dragon seemed a bit surprised. "I thought you were trying to trick me into plundering the God Realms in order to help you increase your strength."

Marvin was left inarticulate for a moment before he explained, "I still don't know the full use of the False Divine Vessel."

The Dragon patted his shoulder. "It's not important, as my Lil' Bro, you definitely need to become stronger."

"When we go through the God Realms, I'll leave you enough Divine Source."

The two of them reached the end of the passage as they were talking.

A light spread out before them.

They saw a peaceful and warm world.

That was the Dream God's Dream Land!

Marvin had already found this passage after Ambella tried to assassinate him. He was ready to take revenge on the Dream God. This time, with the Eternal Time Dragon's help, Marvin would be like a fox making use of the tiger's strength!

"Such a nice, peaceful world," Tiramisu sighed.

Marvin nodded. "It is."

"Let us destroy it."

After saying this, a man and a Dragon formed a plundering duo as they rushed toward Dream Land!

...

God Realm, Dream Shrine.

The Dream God had just returned, still in shock from the events that had happened.

He originally thought that he wouldn't even have a chance to act with the War God personally making a move.

That was one of the Three Great Gods, after all. If he held the Fate Tablet, he might have the chance to become a Supreme God!

But the scene that ensued had left him stunned.

The Dragon had come from who knows where and actually slapped the War God three times before leaving!

This was world-shaking!

'That guy is too frightening. Not only his growth speed is shocking, but he also has so many freaks at his side.'

'We have to deal with him quickly.'

The Dream God was anxious.

In fact, ever since Ambella's failed assassination, this anxiety had been haunting him.

But he was even more anxious than usual today.

As he pondered, he suddenly thought of the reason for his current elevated anxiety!

'Why can't I feel the Faith of the followers from that Secondary Plane?'

He subconsciously had a bad feeling and used a Divine ability to look at the situation in his God Realm.

With one glance, he almost spat out blood!

Chapter 715: Target! Astral Sea!

Translator: Shiraishi Editor: TheAlliance

Like Arborea, Dream Land was a Secondary Plane.

It was reasonable to say that with Marvin's current strength, he normally already couldn't enter this Secondary Plane.

But he had that unique being at his side.

An Eternal Time Dragon.

There wasn't much known about Eternal Time Dragons, but there was no need to doubt their formidable abilities.

Even as a young Dragon, Tiramisu could slap the War God in front of all the Gods of the Universe.

Entering the Secondary Plane by craftily exploiting a gap in the Spatial Laws was nothing to Tiramisu.

The plundering duo discussed their plan in advance.

Tiramisu used his powerful Time Ability to control all the interconnections of the entire Secondary Plane.

That way, he could delay the exposure of the situation so that unless the Dream God directly investigated his Plane, even he wouldn't notice his territory being profaned.

As for those living in that land, they literally couldn't act for themselves. Their souls had been wiped clean by the Dream God, leaving them completely brainwashed.

Marvin felt that these people were quite pitiable. But all these inhabitants mindlessly rushed over when they saw Marvin and Tiramisu appear, so he couldn't just ignore them.

To some extent, if you wanted to become a hero of a world, you'd likely have to become a monster of another.

Knowing this, Marvin didn't hold back.

The two of them split up and began wreaking havoc throughout Dream Land!

Marvin's current strength was close to that of a Plane Guardian. And Sodom's Blades gave him enough power to cleanly sweep through Feinan's Legends.

And in the Secondary Planes, the most powerful Clerics were only level 18.

These people were just cut down when they rushed toward Marvin.

They were chopped up like vegetables.

It was different for Tiramisu, who was looking for things with Divine Fragments.

Their targets were different. Marvin was rushing toward the core of the Plane, toward the Divine Source Pool, which stored the Faith Power generated in the plane, while Tiramisu went to snatch the Holy tools and artifacts of those dozen or so Temples.

The appearance of the reckless duo was definitely a nightmare for the people of Dream Land.

The entire plane was shocked by the strength of these two powerful thieves.

They tried to communicate with their God, but couldn't get an answer. Little did they know that due to Tiramisu's Time Magic, these prayers would be delayed for a very long time before the Dream God could receive them!

...

This plundering spree lasted no less than six hours.

By the time the Dream God realized that something was wrong and came down along with a large number of Angels and Divine Servants, Marvin had already swallowed a lot of the Divine Source!

The amount of Divine Source swallowed was comparable to what he got from the Black Dragon God last time.

As for the quality, the Dream God's was clearly better!

Despite this, Marvin still looked at the remaining two-thirds somewhat regretfully.

It would be a lot better if he could swallow everything. At this moment, the advanced False Divine Vessel in his body was already growing crazily.

With the nourishment of the Divine Source, the Domains under his control also had various levels of strengthening.

Just as Tiramisu said, with the support of his False Divine Vessel, his physical abilities upgraded by leaps and bounds. His Ruler of the Night class also had the faint feeling of leveling again.

But unfortunately, after losing his system, Marvin couldn't obtain precise data about when this might happen or what the effects were.

However, he was quite certain of one thing. His six Attributes had already broken through the Godly Realms!

He was now only a step away from being at the level of a Plane Guardian!

But Tiramisu had stopped him from getting more, because the Dream God had angrily descended.

They could see a huge passage opening over Dream Land!

That passage was connecting the Dream God Realm with this Secondary Plane. Only through this could his powerful Divine Vessel pass through this plane. But such a method used a lot of Divine Power, so Gods wouldn't use it for ordinary matters.

This time, the Dream God had been completely enraged by Marvin and Tiramisu!

The scene of the Black Dragon God's Secondary Plane being destroyed was vivid in his mind. If these two lawless guys weren't stopped, they might really cause something even bigger!

Soon, the passage completely opened and an angry by proud voice came out from the sky. "You dare to act unrestrained in my world!"

"Accept my judgement! In my name as the Dream Weaver, I command you to forever sink into a dream!"

In the Secondary Plane, countless believers who had scattered to the sides like chicken and dogs were extremely moved by the presence of their God.

Their prayers had finally been answered. God finally came, and now he would kill the invaders.

But at that time, Tiramisu suddenly stopped next to Marvin.

He laughingly said, "Thank you for opening the entrance."

"As for your Dream Cycle... it uses a lot of Divine Power, and you would need at least four hundred years to make up for it... I will become extremely powerful in the days to come."

"It's very dangerous for a weak God in these times."

Tiramisu's voice wasn't loud, but it made the fire burning in the Dream God's heart shake!

'What he says is true! That Dragon even shamed the War God. If I make a move, I'm afraid I might not be able to handle them.'

'And there is that freak, Marvin...'

The Dream God was somewhat hesitant.

But in that split second, Tiramisu grabbed Marvin and took flight!

This time, he flew extremely quickly, hurling through the passage that the Dream God had so strenuously opened!

The Dream God was startled!

These two guys actually dared to intrude in the Astral Sea?

Was their goal the whole time to lure him here so that he would open the passage to the Astral Sea?

The Dream God's first reaction was to look for the Gods' Assembly and let them know that there was an outsider in the Astral Sea. This was a serious matter, after all.

But when he looked at the mess they had caused in Dream Land, a different feeling rose up in his mind.

Since Marvin and that Dragon had left for the Astral Sea, what did it have to do with him?

He knew this information, but he didn't have to share it.

What did it matter to him if something happened to the other Gods?

As he went down this train of thought, he ended up choosing to remain silent and returning to the Dream Temple.

He wanted to see what these two lawless guys would try to do!

Chapter 716: Dragon Thief
Translator: Shiraishi Editor: TheAlliance

The Astral Sea was a mystical plane.

It was the highest plane of the entire Universe, at the top of the World Tree.

In fact, this place was originally a small space.

The Ancient Gods and Ancient Angels resided atop the World Tree, overlooking all the planes and making sure this world was safe.

Later, most of the Ancient Gods died in the endless wars.

Soon, even the remaining few sitting atop the World Tree could only recall fondly the Gods or even Humans who fought by their side.

Including Lance.

It was said that the First High Elven Ruler had once been invited by Lance up the World Tree and obtained some secret Laws taught by him.

Since then, it was spread on Feinan that the High Elves knew the key to climb the World Tree.

And whether that was true or not, the High Elves were truly the group closest to the Ancient Gods.

In the 3rd Era, Lance made the Fate Tablet and lit up the beacons of war on Feinan.

He personally gathered the New Gods and opened a completely new world at the top of the World Tree.

He called this beehive-like world, the God Realms.

The structure of the God Realms was very complicated and varied. Someone entering that place would find out that their own body would sometimes twist, and sometimes weaken...

This was due to the rules being made by the respective Gods, and the hierarchy was very strict.

Without a Divine Vessel to counteract the Laws, one would die instantly when entering this place.

This place was the Gods' holy land.

The Divine Vessel's power decided the position of a God in the God Realm.

Marvin and Tiramisu felt as if they had entered a mysterious world when they got out of the passage.

There was no direction and all their movements would rely on their willpower.

Fortunately, he had the advanced False Divine Vessel, otherwise he would have been crushed when entering the God Realms.

"What should we do?" The dragon asked.

With such a powerful killing machine like Tiramisu, how could Marvin not make use of it?

He mischievously laughed, "I have a few Gods I'm not really getting along with in the God Realms. How about we plunder their things?"

"I heard these Gods have been storing treasures for many years, they should be quite rich."

Tiramisu's eyes shone when he heard that and he crazily nodded, "Plunder!"

"We have to plunder!"

"Where do we begin?"

Marvin used his advanced False Divine Vessel to locate the closest God Realm.

He soon opened his eyes, and pointed the way, "There is an old acquaintance that way. He could be said to be related to you..."

"He is the first target!"

"Black Dragon God!"

...

Atop the World Tree, the War God Anubis and the God of Dawn and Protection Anuba Grant were sitting, along with two female Gods, calmly having a meeting.

“We Ancient Gods won’t get involved in the matter of the Fate Tablet. Wasn’t I clear?”

Moon Goddess Faniya was frowning at the two Great Gods.

She was sitting opposite of a small girl. Behind the girl was a serious looking Paladin.

The Truth Goddess didn’t even feel like looking to these two.

Facing the two Ancient Goddess, Anuba Grant’s attitude was extremely good, “I understand what you mean, but things are different now.”

“Feinan’s Plane Will is very irascible, the Ancient Nature God is still sleeping, and this meant that besides you two, no one can pacify it.”

The Truth Goddess shrugged, “Isn’t it because of the matter of the Fate Tablet? Lance violated the agreement, isn’t it normal for the Plane Will to be dissatisfied.”

“God Lance’s intention are beyond our understanding.” Anuba calmly said, “There is definitely something wrong behind both sides’ actions, but I always felt that something was missing.”

“Evil Spirit Sea.” The War God stiffly said, “Us three once joined hands to explore the Primal Chaotic Fringes and found some traces left behind by Lance. He predicted the arrival of the Great Calamity. And us attacking the Universe Magic Pool was only to gain the initiative, if we don’t take the lead in ruling Feinan, those Demons and Devils, as well as those hiding in the darkness, that frightening existence in the Evil Spirit Sea, they would swallow that Universe sooner or later.”

The Truth Goddess sneered, “I don’t know if you really found traces of Lance, I really want to ask him why did he set me up.”

“It’s hard to believe in someone who did such a bad thing. When the Wisdom God fell, I had some doubts. But who would have known that I would fall into Lance’s trap after probing a bit...”

“Molly, let’s not talk about that.” Moon Goddess Faniya doused the Truth Goddess’ anger and gently said, “God Lance did curse you, but he didn’t kill you.”

“Hmpf.” The Truth Goddess frowned and remained silent.

“In any case, if we weren’t in an impasse this time, we also wouldn’t come looking for the two of you.”

Anuba Grant said, "The Fate Tablet is now in the hands of a mortal, this is a very unstable variable. We can still bear with it, but the Plane Will has to be pacified, otherwise we won't be able to descend to Feinan!"

The Moon Goddess quietly sighed, "I'm afraid I cannot help with that thing."

"I already lost contact with Feinan's Plane Will many years ago. If you really want to pacify it, you have to find the one representing it."

Anuba and Anubis glanced at each other, helpless.

Anuba Grant bitterly said, "I originally found one... But that child has been killed by Marvin."

"That Valkyrie inheritor?" The Truth Goddess' eyes flickered, "She seemed to have some enmity towards Marvin. The Valkyrie's inheritor should have a very good relationship with Feinan's Plane Will."

"More and more things can't be explained."

Anuba Grant sighed, "Since it's inconvenient for both of you, we will take our leave first."

But at that time, a huge parrot quickly flew out from the God Realms.

It was fat, but moved very nimbly.

It was yelling while flying, "Master! No good!"

"There is a Dragon Thief in the God Realms!"

"It already stole a great amount of Divine Source and Artifacts from seventeen God Realms"

Dragon Thief!?

The four Gods were stunned, shortly after, an angry expression appeared on the War God's face.

"They dare to trample over the prestige of the God Realms!"

Anuba Grant also said in a heavy voice, "Use the World Tree's Imprint and seal the God Realms!"

"I want to see what will that Dragon Thief do!"

After saying that, the two Great Gods prepared to leave.

But they didn't think that the Truth Goddess would suddenly stand up.

"I'll go with you."

Chapter 717: Dragon Thief (2)

Translator: Shiraishi Editor: TheAlliance

At the top of the world, the God Realms were definitely the focus of the whole Universe.

There would always be many eyes watching the happenings at the peak of the World Tree.

Regardless of whether it was Hell, the Abyss, or the Negative Energy Plane.

Whenever there was a small disturbance in the God Realms, these powers would quickly get all the information that they could so that they would be able to react. In the end, it was because the strength of the God Realms was too great.

Although Lance had already disappeared for a long time, he left methods and Artifacts behind that were enough for the New Gods to suppress the rest of the Universe.

For example, in the first Assembly of Gods, the Gods decided to attack the Universe Magic Pool; Hell and the Abyss were able to obtain the information in advance.

But this time, the information coming from the God Realms shocked every Demon Lord and Lord of Hell!

Dragon Thief?

God Slayer Marvin?

These two mavericks went for the God Realms?

When all the great forces obtained that information, they weren't sure whether there was a mistake. It might have been a smokescreen kicked up by Marvin to attract attention, so they requested confirmation.

But when the information was irrefutably confirmed through further investigation, they could only fall silent.

That young Dragon had slapped the War God three times and instilled fear in the minds of the Gods... and he was now acting like a thief. As for that Marvin, was he even clear about his own situation?!

He was now being targeted by all the powerhouses of the Universe.

The Fate Tablet was in his body and everyone was coveting it.

Under these circumstances, he should be trying to disguise himself with another identity, hiding in a distant corner of the Universe in hopes of avoiding everyone that was after him... shouldn't he?

This script was so wrong!

While all the forces from across the Universe, including the powerhouses from the God Realms, were searching for Marvin in the places that they thought would be most likely, that guy was actually plundering the God Realms.

How did he even get in? This was the first question.

What was he doing in there? There was no need to ask this question, as he hadn't bothered hiding his actions, which explained everything.

God Slayer Marvin and his companion, the Dragon Thief, were tyrannizing the God Realms, recklessly plundering the Divine Source and Artifacts of the Low Gods!

Everyone found this information practically unbelievable.

But it involved Marvin.

That wondrous guy, the shocking Marvin.

They all had no choice but to believe it!

Especially after what happened at the Sky Tower. Marvin had already shown that he had the strength to resist the World Ending Twin Snakes to some extent, though admittedly they had been weakened from being sealed for so long. It still bumped up the overall evaluation of his strength.

And some believed that Marvin was Feinan's number 1 expert.

In any case, this news was certainly embarrassing for those that had been busy looking for Marvin.

Hell's forces were looking for Marvin, Tidomas was looking for Marvin... But how could they go look for him now?

Could they truly form a group like the Plundering Duo and enter the God Realms?

Those were the God Realms!!!

The Nine Hells had repeatedly raised the banner of war but had never been able to break into the God Realms!

In other places, Demons and Devils might not be afraid of the Gods, but in their home ground, it was a completely different matter.

Right now, the only thing that they could do was to pray that Marvin had some special plan to get away.

Otherwise, the Fourth Fate Tablet would end up in the hands of the Gods, and getting it back would be nearly impossible, especially after they managed to utilize its power.

But they weren't very optimistic about Marvin's chances.

Although they didn't know what method Marvin had used to sneak into the God Realms, it seemed that the three Great Gods already used the World Tree Imprint to seal the God Realms in response.

Now, no one could enter or exit the God Realms. There should be no way for Marvin or that Dragon Thief to escape.

...

Extreme Evil Hell.

The flames from the Scorched Earth burnt every corner of the Evil Hell. Although they were also Devils, under the blessing of a more powerful Hell Lord, the Devils of the Scorched Hell were clearly braver than usual.

The Extreme Evil Hell was slowly getting nibbled away.

Everything happened silently, just like how the Scorched Hell swallowed the Molten Hell.

Only this time, Diross' target was the Extreme Evil Hell.

The flames were surging like the tide, forcing the Devils of the Evil Hell to retreat.

Corpses were everywhere and wails echoed.

High above, a young man was coldly looking down at this land.

"Truly interesting... He actually went to the God Realms. Worthy of my grandson."

Diross finished listening to his subordinate's report and showed a broad grin, "Don't die there. The seeds I planted with great difficulty are waiting for you to take root."

“Milord, the Extreme Evil Lord already escaped,” a Greater Devil quickly reported.

“Don’t chase, I don’t feel like it. This group of wastes has been occupying these thrones for so many years. It’s time to get these old guys to fuck off.”

Diross laughed, a light suddenly flashing from his hand.

Three similar metallic thrones were rotating in his hand, seemingly containing an immense power.

“After sweeping away the Extreme Evil Hell, the next target is Tark.”

Diross gently looked at the sky and mumbled, “Speaking of which, our plans down here are going so smoothly thanks to my grandson.”

“Marvin... I’m really looking forward to our next meeting. How far will you have grown then?”

“When I’ve unified the Nine Hells, what choice will you make?”

...

God Realms.

Marvin and Tiramisu’s actions had been exposed. Their reckless stealing was met with an unprecedented blockade.

But the two of them didn’t care.

Because before the Three Great Gods used the World Tree Imprint to seal the God Realms, Marvin had already swallowed enough Divine Source!

His advanced False Divine Vessel was almost saturated!

He needed a place, a safe place to digest this frightening energy.

Despite the fact that the pursuers, led by the three Great Gods, were searching thoroughly for them, with the Eternal Time Dragon’s cheat-like ability to manipulate time, they could always elude their enemies.

But this wasn’t a method that would work indefinitely.

Marvin’s False Divine Vessel was on the verge of breaking apart. If he didn’t carefully digest the energy, who knew what could happen?

The Dragon Thief could only helplessly say, "They used the World Tree Imprint, even I can't leave the God Realms for the next day and a half!"

'God Realms, God Realms...' The words echoed in Marvin's mind.

His Wisdom Ability suddenly kicked in.

Marvin's eyes shone as he muttered, "Who says we need to leave the Astral Sea!"

"I know a safe place, and they would never think to look there."

"Where?" the Dragon asked in curiosity.

"The Ancient Nature God's God Realm!"

Chapter 718: False Ascension

Translator: Shiraishi Editor: TheAlliance

There were many mysterious places in the God Realms, and also many dark places.

But there was one place that had been forgotten by everyone for a long time.

That was the Ancient Nature God's God Realm.

Marvin chose this place for three reasons:

First, from the fact that the Shadow Prince was able to steal his Nature Power, the Ancient Nature God must have been slumbering for a long time to the point that he wasn't even roused when someone tried to steal his power. To some degree, he could be considered dead.

Second, even if it was so, the Ancient Nature God's God Realm still surely existed because it not only relied on the power of the Ancient Nature God, but also on the World Tree. The World Tree connected all the planes of the Universe, and even if the Imprint of the World Tree was in the hands of the three Great Gods, allowing them to use it to seal the God Realms, there was still a path out of the God Realms through the Ancient Nature God's God Realm.

Third, the Ancient Nature God's God Realm wasn't a place that other Gods could enter. And with Tiramisu here to help, besides the cage left by Bacon, there wasn't a place in the entire Universe Marvin couldn't get inside!

The Plundering Duo felt that this was a good plan and immediately set out for the God Realm of the Ancient Nature God.

Tiramisu originally had a childish temperament, and he had developed a good relationship with Marvin. Also, seeing the Fate Tablet and False Divine Vessel in Marvin's body, although both he and Marvin benefited greatly from this plundering trip, it seemed as though Marvin was gaining even more from it.

But he didn't point it out.

After all, he also knew that the Wormhole Pearl was also very precious.

Marvin must have gone through no small amount of trouble to get it for him.

The Dragon wasn't someone that couldn't differentiate between good and bad; on the contrary, because of his long-term isolation, Tiramisu treasured every friend he could get. If his friend was in trouble, he would naturally help out.

Along with the fact that Tiramisu was very bold and feared nothing, Eternal Time Dragons were the peak beings in the entire Universe, so even if he was a young one, there was nothing to be afraid of!

God Realms? So what!

He grabbed Marvin, and then sensing the direction of the Ancient Nature God's God Realm by trailing the aura of Nature using his innate abilities, they rushed to get in.

..

Nature God Realm.

Unlike what Marvin had imagined, this place was overgrown and littered with dead leaves and stones, giving it a very desolate appearance.

'What kind of disaster did the Ancient Nature God meet for his God Realm to look like this? No wonder the World Tree was also affected.'

Seeing this scene, Marvin was considerably shocked.

But he knew that he had no time to lose. Even though he was quite sure that the three Great Gods shouldn't be able to open the Ancient Nature God's God Realm even when working together, it was likely that they would ask the Moon Goddess Faniya and others who had closer relationships with the Ancient Nature God. What would happen then was uncertain.

After all, in some stories in Feinan, the Moon Goddess Faniya had an ambiguous relationship with the Ancient Nature God. It wouldn't be out of the question for her to have a way to enter his God Realm.

Tiramisu didn't wander aimlessly.

This time, Marvin told him to not touch anything, even if he found something good.

This was the Ancient Nature God's land.

Marvin was still respectful when facing this Ancient God. He was different from those New Gods. The Ancient Nature God was a God who really contributed to Feinan.

He didn't want to ruin the peace of the resting Ancient God.

After the Dragon left, Marvin found a safe place to sit down.

It was an area filled with parasol trees. When the wind came, the trees would shed leaves, leaving an extremely desolate scene.

But Marvin's mood surged up!

Because the Divine Source in his body had already reached a frightening level!

After all, with all the plundering that he did with Tiramisu, Marvin had simply hit the jackpot!

The advanced False Divine Vessel's ability to absorb Divine Source to upgrade itself was too fierce, but how much more Divine Source could Marvin absorb in this Universe?

There was only the God Realms.

But even in the God Realms, without the Eternal Time Dragon's control of time, Marvin would be unable to do this on his own.

Now, he was full of gratitude for Tiramisu's help.

The advanced False Divine Vessel had transformed into a translucent sphere. Rotating inside it was the 4th Fate Tablet, a cube full of Runes and Laws.

A large amount of Divine Source was covering the False Divine Vessel, and it felt as if it was overflowing.

Marvin focused and tried to concentrate this power through his Ruler of the Night's techniques to support himself.

This process wasn't difficult.

Soon, as part of Marvin's body, the False Divine Vessel began to share its power.

Large amounts of Divine Source transformed into Essences.

These Essences nourished Marvin's body, making his attributes rise up at a visible speed!

At the same time, the False Divine Vessel itself also began to reconstruct itself even further than ever before.

...

God Realms. The four powerful Gods left together and swept through most parts of the God Realms, but they didn't find any trace of Marvin and that Dragon Thief.

"Why do I have the feeling that we will only be able to chase after them, yet never catch up?" Anuba Grant mumbled. "We're in the God Realms, we have the World Tree Imprint, and it's our home. How could such a strange thing happen?"

The War God was still carrying his helmet, so no one could see his expression, but it could be assumed that it wasn't very good.

"If it really is as you said, then there is only one lifeform in this Universe that can accomplish that."

Faniya frowned before adding, "But he should have already left this Universe."

"A young Dragon," the War God stiffly said.

The Truth Goddess smiled as she clarified, "The Eternal Time Dragon."

"Don't look for it, it's meaningless."

"If it's really an Eternal Time Dragon, we will only shame ourselves with our efforts with the World Tree Imprint. We won't find them."

The other Gods looked at each other in dismay.

The Eternal Time Dragon was an unfamiliar creature to many of the New Gods, but it was very familiar to the Ancient Gods.

It had an even more recognizable name: Bacon.

That was Lance's best partner, which had the control over time.

It was also the reason that there was no God among the 3rd Era's New Gods that ruled over the Time Domain.

If it really was an Eternal Time Dragon, they had no chance of success.

Suddenly, in the depths of the God Realms, a terrifying feeling spread out!

“Someone is ascending!”

“What? There is someone ascending in the God Realms? Who?”

“It’s not an ascension,” Faniya shouted with shock as she looked in the distance, “it’s... a False Ascension?”

Chapter 719: Night Ring

Translator: Shiraishi Editor: Shiraishi

Nature God Realm.

The desiccated area around Marvin had completely changed.

Those already withered parasol trees recovered their foliage.

The location was full of vitality.

It was due to Marvin being unable to control the overflow of Divine Source.

In the digestion process, it was hard to avoid Divine Source leaking.

That escaping Divine Source nourished a part of the Nature God’s Realm while also taking some pressure off of Marvin’s shoulders.

If he still had the system, he would have been able to see his six Attributes jumping up and know the precise numbers.

But now that he didn’t have the system, he could only rely on his gut feeling.

The Divine Source was slowly dwindling.

Ultimately, the translucent sphere calmed down once again.

There was a brand new black ring on Marvin’s finger.

That ring was purely condensed out of Divine Source, and it was called the [Night Ring].

The advanced False Divine Vessel was originally the product of an ancient powerhouse’s research in order to surpass Gods.

With that item, mortals could break through the shackles of their bodies and become existences that could eventually become even more powerful than the gods.

But no one had managed to reach that level before Marvin.

After all, only two Eternal Time Dragons had ever appeared in this Universe.

Within the Night Ring was condensed all the abilities of the Ruler of the Night. It was part of Marvin, and also the symbol of Marvin's strength.

The advanced False Divine Vessel transformed beyond what anything like it had managed to reach before, and based on Marvin's estimate, his current False Divine Vessel was already on the level of High Gods!

And with its special nature, even a Great God might not be able to suppress him through his Divine Vessel.

The most frightening part was that Marvin's body had also reached a terrifying level.

By Tiramisu's estimates, Marvin's physical strength should surpass that of most Gods!

The energy of the advanced False Divine Vessel was frantically increasing the level of Marvin's Ruler of the Night class up to its limit!

Although this kind of improvement through external forces couldn't help Marvin obtain new skills, Marvin's body was still tempered to a fierce extent.

And with his body being tempered by the Hell Spawn's flames in the fight with the Molten Archdevil's avatar, it led to the odd situation of a rogue having the fiercest body in the Universe!

If one was to say that the increase in attributes wasn't the expected goal, then the upgrades of Marvin's Ruler of the Night's skills were what he was anticipating.

After all, Tiramisu had said that the False Divine Vessel was refining the Divine Source into Essences to level up his Legend class and increase the strength of his Legend Skills.

For example, his True Shadow had been upgraded and could now last 60 minutes, compared to the original 30 minutes.

The most frightening part about it was that the True Shadow now had 120% of his strength, making it even stronger than Marvin himself!

This would definitely catch Gods off guard in the future.

For an avatar to be stronger than a God was a very rare thing.

...

“Just like this. Not using a treasure like the advanced False Divine Vessel was such a waste.”

Tiramisu looked at the reborn Marvin and criticized, “Your current strength is barely enough to be called my lil’ bro.”

Marvin didn’t know whether to laugh or cry, but in the end he simply thanked Tiramisu.

After all, without the help of the Eternal Time Dragon, without the inheritance and knowledge from his bloodline, he also wouldn’t be able to quickly reach this level so easily!

Plane Guardian!

Marvin had finally reached that level, and even exceeded it!

Because of his special growth, even among powerhouses at the Plane Guardian level, Marvin was among the best!

Moreover, he still had the Eternal Night Kingdom and Sodom’s Blades in hand!

And with the help of the Eternal Time Dragon, gathering the Book of Nalu wouldn’t be so impossible anymore!

When Marvin recovered, he shared a summary of his situation with Tiramisu.

During this plundering, Tiramisu stole many Artifacts from several Gods, and was thus in a very good mood.

After hearing Marvin’s story, he immediately guaranteed, “No problem! It’s just collecting a few pages of an old book. If you know the location, I’ll help you.”

“In any case, I didn’t have any reaction from my wretched father’s aura. And I found out that the outside was quite boring, go go go! Let’s go to that place!”

Marvin laughed involuntarily. That guy was so impetuous.

But with the help of the Eternal Time Dragon, Marvin’s outlook on his journey brightened!

He immediately started looking for the door of the World Tree in the Nature God Realm.

...

Outside the Nature God's Realm, a group of Gods had gathered, and they all had complicated expressions on their faces.

"Turns out they are hiding here." A trace of anger could be heard in the War God's voice.

Anuba Grant was actually a lot gentler. "That kid Marvin truly cannot be underestimated. My previous Divination predicted that no matter what he did, he simply wouldn't be able to change the overall situation. I never expected that he would be able to accomplish this. Even the destined inheritor, that young girl called Eve, was killed by him. Now he has an Eternal Time Dragon as a helper. It seems that fighting him upfront isn't the best idea."

"Could it be that you still want to look for them?" The War God coldly said. "Grant, don't think that I don't know what you are scheming. Whoever gets the Fate Tablet can reach Lance's level. Others might not know, but the few of us clearly know that this Fate Tablet wasn't created by God Lance, but rather, it is something left behind by a powerhouse of another ancient world!"

Grant helplessly shrugged, "But we can't go in."

The Nature God's Realm had already been sealed for many years, and even the Great Gods couldn't get in without permission.

After all, none of them were proficient enough in the Time Domain to rival the Eternal Time Dragon and pierce a hole in.

"Do you want to let them go?" some of the Gods complained. "These two thieves plundered our Divine Source, they are more vicious than Demons and Devils."

"Do you want the Astral Sea to become a laughingstock because of this incident?"

"The Astral Sea won't become a laughingstock," The Truth Goddess coldly said. "It's just a few Gods that would sneer at those unable to protect their God Realms."

"I'm leaving. With the Eternal Time Dragon here, you won't be able to catch him."

After saying this, she turned and left, leaving Anubis, Grant, and the others feeling shamed.

After a while, some Gods came forward and asked, "God of Dawn and Protection... What should we do?"

Anuba Grant bitterly smiled and ultimately ordered, "Activate the World Tree Imprint, seal the Ancient Nature God's God Realm."

"I don't believe the Eternal Time Dragon can really break through all seals."

"It's only a small Dragon, after all."

Chapter 720: Collapsed Earth
Translator: Shiraishi Editor: TheAlliance

In the Nature God's Realm, Marvin finally found the World Tree's entrance.

This was as he had expected.

Even if the Gods blocked the exits of the God Realms, the World Tree ran through the Universe, so it was the best way to leave.

But there was one thing that was beyond his expectations.

The three Great Gods' ability to control the World Tree was better than he had thought!

The entrance of the World Tree was actually sealed.

This was normally should have been impossible.

But the fact was that it did happen.

This meant that as long as the three Great Gods didn't lift the World Tree Imprint, Marvin and Tiramisu wouldn't be able to get into the World Tree.

Clearly, if only the New Gods were there, they wouldn't have been able to do this.

Marvin estimated that either the Truth Goddess or the Moon Goddess had participated in this matter in some way.

Without some sort of help from one of the Ancient Gods, they wouldn't have been able to maintain such deep control over the World Tree Imprint, and they definitely wouldn't have been able to use it in the Ancient Nature God's God Realm.

But now that matters had reached this stage, Marvin could only try to find some way to deal with this thorny problem, or else they would remain trapped in the God Realms, never able to leave.

"Do you have a way to crack the seal of the World Tree Imprint?" Marvin softly asked.

He had dared to come cause trouble in the God Realms because of the fact that he was backed by Tiramisu. Not taking advantage of the abilities of the Eternal Time Dragon would be a waste.

And Tiramisu hadn't disappointed him. He had been able to bypass or get rid of the defenses of all the Gods.

He was even able to bring Marvin into the Ancient Nature God's God Realm.

But this time, the Dragon shook his head for the first time.

Tiramisu muttered with a grave expression, "This is the World Tree Imprint, it was said to have been made from the first decaying roots of the World Tree, and it can seal the entrances and exits of the entirety of the God Realms."

"The World Tree Imprint's most important characteristic here is the fact that it isn't bound by Time Laws. In other words, my control over the Time Laws is useless against it."

"I can't break it open on my own."

"But as long as their World Tree's seal slightly moves, or they have to transfer a bit more power to another location, I should be able to deal with it."

After hearing this, Marvin pondered for a short moment before having an idea.

...

The Gods were still waiting outside the Nature God's Realm.

But as they waited, the mood was inevitably becoming more irritable and anxious.

Gods left one after the other, and many of them had awkward expressions.

Waiting there doing nothing and hoping for a random chance felt quite foolish.

Who knew how thoroughly Marvin might have prepared his supplies? And who knew how long they would just wait inside?

Maybe that Eternal Time Dragon had even slipped out of the Gods Realms with Marvin already.

If it was the former, it wouldn't be that bad. But the Gods were very busy. they were busy with the construction of their own Secondary Planes, expanding their God Realm, as well as making preparations for Feinan. Standing there was a waste of time. It really wasn't a good method.

And if it was the latter, that would be much worse. If the news spread out, even if it was an Eternal Time Dragon, the Gods would truly become laughingstocks.

The Gods gradually left, but a few Gods still followed the three Great Gods and stood outside the Ancient God Realm, watching the area outside.

After some time, the God of Dawn and Protection said, "In fact, we don't have to all focus on Marvin."

"This is our home, and if Marvin and that Dragon dare come out, we will need a Great God to make a move and suppress them."

"We can take turns to watch over it."

After bringing this up, he turned his gaze to focus on the War God.

"Taking turns?" Anubis sneered. "Grant, you plan on waiting alone for Marvin to come out so that you can monopolize the Fate Tablet?"

"In any case, I won't leave! Before I peel off that Dragon's skin, I definitely won't leave!"

Those three slaps earlier really had left a huge psychological trauma for Anubis.

He was famous as the War God. He had never suffered such shame before!

He wouldn't ever be able to forget that matter.

Hearing these words, the always calm Anuba Grant became a bit angry. He coldly snorted, and then he created an avatar to help stand guard before leaving.

A portion of the Gods following Anuba Grant also left.

That avatar was expressionlessly continuing to watch the same place.

"An opportunity!"

The duo using Time Boundary to watch what was going on outside the Nature God's Realm became energized!

It would almost certainly be too risky to make a move against two Great Gods at the same time here.

Tiramisu had been able to slap the War God back in the depths of the Universe, but now they were in the God Realms!

Even though he was an Eternal Time Dragon, given the World Tree Imprint's ability to suppress the Time Domain under the suppression of the World Tree, he might really be tortured to death by the War God!

This was the home of Gods, they had to be careful.

But the opportunity that Marvin had been hoping for had now come. One of the Gods had decided to leave!

And among these Gods, Anuba Grant was the only one who knew about Marvin's True Shadow skill.

The others might have known that Marvin had an avatar, but they didn't know that it was as strong as his main body.

"Help me check the avatar that the God of Dawn and Protection left behind," Marvin said in a low voice.

The Dragon snorted and used his innate ability to make a move.

...

Outside the Nature God's Realm, the remaining Gods were feeling ever more bored.

But at that time, the War God suddenly snorted, "Finally can't bear it anymore?"

The avatar of the God of Dawn and Protection didn't react, because at that time, Marvin had appeared in the back of the God Realm on the other side!

It was at a very crafty angle specially chosen by Marvin!

The War God could see there, but Anuba Grant's avatar had his limitations and wasn't able to notice him.

Before he could do anything, the War God already angrily grumbled and used the World Tree Imprint to impose pressure in his direction.

"Hold on!" Anuba Grant's avatar shouted. The Gods nearby turned and looked as the World Tree Imprint condensed into amber and swallowed Marvin inside!

But the next instant, that Marvin that was in the amber dissipated into mist!

"How could this be?" The War God was quite startled. He had been certain that this was Marvin because he could sense the power of a Plane Guardian coming from him!

This definitely wasn't just an avatar!

“What’s going on?” the War God roared in surprise.

As he caught up, Anuba Grant’s avatar coldly explained, “Marvin has an Avatar that is as strong as he himself is. It’s all over now.”

“They already left!”

He waved the World Tree Imprint back and could see the situation inside the World Tree.

Marvin and Tiramisu had gotten into the World Tree the moment that the War God directed the power of the Imprint at Marvin’s avatar, and they were quickly rushing toward a yellow leaf!

“Where are they going?” The Gods were puzzled.

Grant’s Avatar mumbled, “The Elemental Plane of Earth.”

“Collapsed Earth.”

Chapter 721: Plane Guardian’s Strength! (2)

Translator: Shiraishi Editor: TheAlliance

“From my Divination, the only way for Marvin to solve his dilemma is to gather the pages of the Book of Nalu.”

“Book of Nalu?”

“That cursed thing?”

The Gods were surprised by Anuba Grant’s words.

Grant continued, “From what I’ve seen, the locations of the remaining pages are in the Collapsed Earth, Evil Spirit, Fallen Star Field and the Evil Spirit Sea.

Grant quickly said, “Marvin definitely won’t dare to go to the Evil Spirit Sea first, it’s too dangerous and even we don’t know what’s there.”

“Evil Street is also not that easy to approach. I heard Balkh’s people already blocked that place. As for the mysterious Fallen Star Field, it can only be reached through the Green Sea Paradise and they are clearly not on the path of the Green Sea Paradise. Only the Elemental Plane of Earth’s Collapsed Earth is left.”

“They have the Time Dragon and have the lead, we have to get on the move.”

“The Earth Sovereign might not care about the matters of the secular world, we have to move fast.”

After those words, Grant and Anubis chose a few elites Gods and left for the Elemental Plane of Earth.

After all, they couldn't all barge into the Elemental Plane of Earth, the Four Elemental Planes weren't easily bullied, if they triggered the Elemental Sovereigns, the ones running out of luck would be the God Realms!

...

The sky was filled with sand flying in all direction.

A careless breathing would lead to swallowing a handful of sand.

This world was formed by a large amount of stone and sand. It felt like a monotonous law containing an old eternal aura.

This was the Elemental Plane of Earth.

Fifteen minutes earlier, Marvin and Tiramisu used the World Tree to escape the God Realms and reached the Elemental Plane of Earth.

Like the God of Dawn and Protection said, Marvin's goal was to gather the pages of the Book of Nalu.

Only then could he truly stand tall in this Universe.

As for the four remaining pages, the one in the Elemental Plane of Earth was the easiest to get.

The Earth Sovereign didn't care about worldly matter, there had been no news of him for a millennium.

The last time the Earth Sovereign was mentioned in Feinan's history was during the era of the Night Monarch, as a friend fighting alongside him, repelling the outsiders.

Despite so, no one dare to underestimate the Elemental Sovereigns.

The four Elemental Sovereigns' lives were said to be longer lasting than God Lance.

They formed the core of this World's Order, as long as there was no chaos in the Four Elemental Planes, the whole Universe would have hope in the chaos.

Respectively, if there was a problem with the Four Elemental Planes, the entire Universe would be faced with a disaster.

This was also why the God Realms attached such importance to the Elemental Planes.

However, a lead of fifteen minutes wouldn't allow Marvin to have his way.

In order to avoid the perception of the Gods and the Elemental Sovereign, he even put on the cloak gifted to him by the Vampire Primogenitor!

But the Elemental Plane of Earth was too big.

Lorie had narrowed down the range by using her Wisdom Ability to search, pointing to a depression in the western part of the plane, but Marvin didn't think that when he arrived, he would shockingly find out that this depression was no smaller than Feinan's Jewel Bay!

Although Tiramisu had powerful Time abilities, but predictions and calculations would be better left to Marvin.

He also could only patiently follow Marvin, using his perception all round to search for something different in the surroundings.

Marvin himself wasn't clear about what the meaning behind the so-called Collapsed Earth was. This was because the Elemental Plane of Earth was too mysterious.

When he visited Pearl Tower, he checked some information, but unfortunately, everything pointed to the Collapsed Earth being the ground the Earth Sovereign used to imprison convicts.

Who knew what they would encounter next

...

The flying sand blocked their line of sight, but Marvin still pushed forward.

But at that time, Tiramisu solemnly said, "They arrived!"

Marvin shivered, "That fast?"

The Dragon conscientiously nodded, "Two Great Gods came, fortunately, no Ancient Gods came."

Marvin bitterly shook his head.

"They" naturally referred to the Gods.

These New Gods attached too much importance to the Fate Tablet. If Marvin stayed in Feinan, they would only be able to watch helplessly. But outside Feinan, they would be unable to sit and watch.

This was a unique treasure after all.

“I’m honored to have two Great Gods move for me.” Marvin laughed before asking, “Is there a way to avoid their perception? As far as I know, my cloak...”

“Useless.” The Dragon suddenly said, “They apparently know the location of the Collapsed Earth, they are in a certain place, waiting for an opportunity.”

Marvin remained silent.

This was troublesome.

His target was too clear, giving his enemies a chance.

He couldn’t do anything about it, it was hard to conceal the information about the Book of Nalu after he got a hold of the Fate Tablet.

It wasn’t that Marvin wasn’t able to keep it secret, but rather, the Three Great Gods’ Divination abilities were too fierce.

Moreover, at that time, Lorie left some traces behind when she looked for the locations of the pages of the Book of Nalu due to being surprised by someone when using her ability.

As long as they followed these traces, the Gods most proficient in Divination would be able to locate the Book of Nalu as accurately than Marvin.

This was a bad news, and Marvin couldn’t avoid it.

“How many people do they have?”

Since they couldn’t escape, then they would find a way to deal with it. He wasn’t fighting alone after all.

To be able to fight alongside an Eternal Time Dragon, the only other one able of such a feat in the entire Universe should be God Lance. To Marvin, it was also a privilege.

“Two Great Gods. One High God, Two Mid Gods.” Tiramisu quickly said, “I can stall those two Great Gods... But that’s only stalling, and it won’t be for long.”

Marvin frowned, still thinking, but Tiramisu suddenly said, "What are you thinking about? I can stall the two Great Gods, as my Lil' Bro, could it be that you can't handle three small Gods?"

Marvin was suddenly roused up!

He was still thinking with the attitude of someone weaker.

Yes!

Things have changed.

The transformation of the False Divine Vessel, the Night Ring condensation, these were the marks that Marvin already accomplished what many of his predecessors were unable to reach with the advanced False Divine Vessel!

He now had the strength of a Plane Guardian!

A High God and two Mid Gods weren't opponents he couldn't fight anymore!

"Good!"

"Let's go!"

"Let's make these Gods taste the power of a mortal..."

"Taste the power of Feinan's Plane Guardian powerhouses!"

...

At the entrance of the Collapsed Earth, the two Great Gods were suddenly surrounded by a whirlpool and disappeared.

The remaining three Gods immediately paled.

At that time, a shadow they hated to the bones appeared in front of them.

Marvin.

He was alone, holding daggers in both hands. Sodom Blades.

"You still dare to appear?"

One of the Gods sneered, "If I were you, I would have hid in the sewers like a rat for the rest of my life!"

Marvin's expression changed, "Turns out it's you."

It was an old acquaintance.

It couldn't be better.

Marvin suddenly raised his blades and the bloody shadows of the Sodom Blades were fully displayed!

Chapter 722: Plane Guardian's Strength! (2)

Translator: Shiraishi Editor: TheAlliance

When they reached the Collapsed Earth, Marvin hadn't thought that among the three Gods following the two Great Gods, there were some who had special enmity with him.

They were clearly coming to avenge themselves this time.

And considering that they came with their main bodies, they must have been confident.

This was the Elemental Plane of Earth. Although the Laws here limited Divine Spells, this fact didn't impose too many restrictions on their strength.

The grievances of those Divine Servants and Apostles who died at Marvin's hands could finally be quenched.

And there was still the Fate Tablet.

Thus, when the two Great Gods chose the Gods who would accompany them, these few used all their methods to be part of the team, and they finally got their chance to meet Marvin at the entrance of the Collapsed Earth.

Dream God!

Ever since Marvin refused the olive branch tossed out by Ambella, he had always been at odds with Marvin! Especially after the First Divine Servant that he was so proud of died. This enmity was great, and among those three Gods, the Dream God was the most frightening!

He was a High God, and even among them, he was considered among the top, second only to the Great Gods.

As for the remaining two Mid Gods, they were also familiar with Marvin.

Black Dragon God, Queen of Spiders.

The former already had an unquenchable blood feud with Marvin!

It first started when the Black Dragon God's Apostle was killed by Marvin as they led the Underdark's army to attack Rocky Mountain. That was followed by the only remaining Black Dragons remaining in Feinan being massacred by Marvin. After all, the Black Dragon God himself was an extremely lucky Black Dragon from the 3rd Era. He didn't believe in Dragon God Hartson or Evil Dragon Tidomas. He instead chose to stand on his own as a God after ascending. These past years, he had been working hard to gather the power of the Black Dragons in Feinan, but before this power could even take shape, it was ended by the Dragon Slaying Spear!

In the battle at the Deep River, he even dispatched a precious Martyr, one of the few things he had that almost no other God did, in order to finish off Marvin. But he hadn't expected that Marvin would counterattack with a Crypt Monster and destroy his Secondary Plane!

The Black Dragon God suffered such huge losses that he almost fell to become a Low God!

He was the one with the biggest grudges among the three.

As for the last, the Queen of Spiders, Marvin actually rarely came into contact with her in his previous life. However, he knew that this Goddess was very treacherous. She was the one who plotted with the Twin Goddess to attack the Three Fate Sisters. Marvin's performance in the Eternal Frozen Spring definitely harmed the Queen of Spiders' interests.

These three Gods came together, and even if the two Great Gods were kept busy by the Eternal Time Dragon, they had faith that they could stop Marvin!

He was just a mortal, what False Ascension!? The esteemed Truth Goddess and Moon Goddess were unreliable. In their eyes, as long as he didn't truly ascend, Marvin couldn't be their opponent!

Marvin wasn't sure what gave them the confidence that they would be able to beat him. Perhaps one side was estimating the other, or they were blinded by hatred.

They'd forgotten how powerful Feinan's Plane Guardians were!

They also didn't realize that Marvin daring to appear alone in front of them had a lot of implications.

They were even secretly delighted!

With the two Great Gods away, they could reap all the profits!

After killing Marvin, they could think of a way to collect the 4th Fate Tablet, combine their efforts to find the Book of Nalu, and enjoy the power of the Fate Tablet on their own before the Gods of the Astral Sea figured out. Perhaps one they could even betray their partners to claim the Fate Tablet alone!

After all, they attacked the Universe Magic Pool partially for the 4th Fate Tablet, and this thing that they had worked so hard for was in Marvin's body.

Thus, they looked at Marvin while full of greed.

It was like three hungry beasts were looking at a fresh piece of meat.

At that time, they lost their dignity as Gods. Their appearance was clear to Marvin, filled with infinite greed and viciousness.

'The God Realms... have they degenerated this much?' Marvin thought to himself, but his movements didn't relax at all.

"Burst!"

At that instant, he pierced through the Black Dragon God's body!

The Black Dragon God didn't have time to react before the Sodom Blades cold edges already stabbed him!

The other two Gods paled.

Marvin's speed was really too great!

This wasn't in what could be referred to as the Post-Godly Dexterity range anymore. They had already seen the Shadow Prince bursting with lightning speed, but Marvin's move pressured them much more!

Their Divine Laws couldn't suppress him at all!

Faced with Marvin's might, they suddenly were like plain mortals.

Under the edges of Sodom's Blades, they were no different from Divine Servants!

The Black Dragon God's body quickly started reshaping, and at the same time, the Queen of Spiders and Dream God also began channeling their Divine Power to muster a response!

But the next second, they found out that their spells simply couldn't properly target Marvin!

"How could this be? His location is actually blurred!"

“Why can’t my Divine Power lock onto him!”

The two became scared. This was something that they’d never experienced before!

They put up their Divine Power Shields in a rush, and the Dream God even took out some golden armor!

This golden armor was clearly an Artifact. Presumably it would be able to do something to reduce the damage of Sodom’s Blades.

There was nothing they could do about it, although the three Gods could resurrect, each resurrection used up a lot of Divine Source, and they would also be vulnerable for the duration.

The threat of the Sodom Blades to the Gods was truly too high, regardless of whether it was from its fame, or from its practical effects, it was all the same.

Moreover, when Marvin plundered the God Realms, he didn’t visit the homes of these three Gods. It could be said that he was showing consideration.

Among them, the Black Dragon God was the most miserable. After losing his Secondary Plane, he didn’t have a stable source of Faith, so he couldn’t let his Divine Source properly recover.

Marvin’s move severed his hope for survival!

Tiramisu’s words helped Marvin realize how powerful he was!

He was even stronger than the ascended Ruler of the Night from the game in his previous life!

No one had successfully ascended through a False Divine Vessel in Feinan’s history!

Incredible amounts of Divine Source had been transformed into Essence, strengthening Marvin’s body beyond the limits!

He wanted to let the God Realms see the power of a Plane Guardian from Feinan!

“Don’t you want to kill me?”

“I’m very sorry, I can’t let you do as you wish.”

“This is my time.”

Marvin’s slash was lightning fast as it cut the reforming body of the Black Dragon God into pieces!

An anguished howl echoed.

What frightened the other two Gods wasn't the Black Dragon God's mournful howl, but rather what happened to the surroundings...

Darkness!

Complete and impenetrable darkness!

Chapter 723: Plane Guardian's Strength! (3)

Translator: Shiraishi Editor: TheAlliance

Darkness, this meant that Marvin's strength would increase even further!

Eternal Night!

This Night Walker ability became especially scary after the upgrade.

The most frightening part was that the two Gods suddenly realized that they couldn't locate Marvin at all...

Without knowing it, they had already left the Collapsed Earth of the Elemental Plane of Earth.

They were in a pitch-black room.

"Welcome to the Eternal Night Kingdom."

Marvin's voice was just like a nightmare descending, and his presence seemed to be coming from all directions!

Now that he had used the Night Monarch's Artifact here, Marvin didn't plan to let these three Gods escape!

He was going for the kill.

Since these three Gods wanted to capture him and take his Fate Tablet, they would inevitably have to pay the price for it!

Eternal Night Kingdom was a very powerful Artifact, and few could contend with it. And this Artifact not only could be used to escape, but it could also be used to restrict someone's movements!

In an instant, darkness descended and swallowed everything.

The Black Dragon God's howl could still be heard shrieking out!

The Dream God and the Queen of Spider were thoroughly spooked as they saw that a blood-red imprint had appeared in the Black Dragon God's Divine Source!

Whenever he was attacked, this imprint would grow one more layer!

This was the most frightening power of the Sodom's Blades against Gods!

[Slaughterer Imprint]!

Whenever Sodom's Blades hit a Divine being, it would add a Slaughterer Imprint onto his Divine Source!

Each Slaughterer Imprint would effectively halve the number of resurrections of that God by increasing Divine Source expenditure for all recovery abilities by two-fold!

Halving!

This was a terrifying effect!

The Black Dragon God could originally resurrect some twenty times!

But with the weakening effects of the Slaughterer Imprint, he wouldn't have so many chances.

As they realized all this, the Dream God and the Queen of Spiders felt terrified!

"We have to go!"

"We have to flee this place! This is the Eternal Night Kingdom of the Night Monarch! I truly never thought that he'd have inherited the will of the Night Monarch and gained the ability to control this Artifact. We can't beat him here," the Dream God said in a hurry.

He tried using a Divine Spell to break the seal around the Eternal Night Kingdom.

But it was all in vain!

Marvin simply didn't pay any attention to their actions!

He only repeatedly brandished Sodom's Blades and slashed down!

In a short thirty seconds, the Eternal Night Kingdom was filled with the cries of the Black Dragon God!

The Black Dragon God, who only had his last life left, unveiled his true Divine Body!

He was a Black Dragon that wasn't any smaller than White River Valley!

Marvin looked like an ant in front of it!

But that huge monster was filled with fear while looking at Marvin.

An evil sound like grinding teeth came out of Sodom's Blades!

That was the sounds of the blades' spirit letting out an excited cheer!

This was a true weapon of murder. To the Gods, its birth was just a nightmare, all its properties were specialized for fighting Gods and their followers!

It was like Weeping Sky, which was specialized for Dragons.

Marvin wasn't flustered at all in the presence of that immense Black Dragon.

While inside the Eternal Night Kingdom, not only did his strength double, but he also had the ability to move instantaneously!

Along with his incredible burst power, these three Gods were bound to meet their ends here.

The large Dragon bellowed and spat out a Dragon Breath in desperation.

Marvin was just like a ghost as he flickered above the Black Dragon.

He was so fast that even if the Dream God and the Queen of Spiders wanted to save the Black Dragon God, they wouldn't be able to do anything! But at this point, they were each thinking only of themselves!

In a flash, Sodom's Blades disappeared from his hands!

They were replaced by a spear with a dense killing intent!

Weeping Sky!

The Dragon Slaying Spear!

Under the influence of Marvin's power, the Dragon Slaying Spear ruthlessly pierced the Black Dragon God's neck, slamming him down and nailing his body to the ground!

The last bit of Divine Source was also shattered, disappearing!

Marvin raised his head and coldly looked at the Dream God and the Queen of Spiders as they struggled to escape this place.

“The Fate Tablet is here! If you want it, come get it,” Marvin softly announced as he placed his hands over his chest.

He stepped over the Black Dragon God’s corpse gracefully, but in the eyes of the two Gods, he seemed just like a crazy Demon.

“Split up and flee!”

The Dream God clenched his teeth and immediately disappeared.

A hint of disdain flashed in Marvin’s eyes.

‘You want to flee from inside the Eternal Night Kingdom?’

‘You think too highly of yourself.’

He shook the spear in his hands, re-equipped Sodom’s Blades, and began aiming at his next target!

...

Inside the God Realms.

Because of the appearance of Marvin and the Dragon Thief, the God Realms were thrown into extreme instability.

Fortunately, two of Great Gods had announced that Marvin and that Dragon Thief had been driven out by them.

The God Realms temporarily regained their peace.

But that peace didn’t last long. A terrifying throb echoed in the Gods’ hearts!

It was like something related to them fell!

At that time, the Gods remembered the scene before the Shadow Realm fell!

“No good! A God fell!”

Even Moon Goddess Faniya and Truth Goddess Molly were visibly agitated.

The fall of a God Realm was a very serious matter. if not handled properly, it might lead to a chain reaction and destroy the entire structure of the God Realms.

At that time, the weakened God Realms might be attacked by Hell or the Abyss!

“Look!”

Gods arrived at the location.

“It was the Black Dragon God!”

“What’s going on? Why is his God Realm collapsing? Could he have already fallen?”

“Didn’t he leave with the God of Dawn and Protection and the War God to head to the Elemental Plane of Earth?”

The Gods were puzzled.

“I’ll deal with it,” Faniya quickly reassured.

In any case, now wasn’t the time to consider how the Black Dragon God had fallen. She first had to control the process of the God Realm’s collapse and stabilize its fall into the Astral Plane without getting in contact with other God Realms.

But at this time, the Gods felt another throbbing!

“This…”

“Heavens! The Queen of Spiders!” a God couldn’t help screeching!

Another one fell!

The Truth Goddess frowned as she appeared in front of that God Realm. Her Truth Scale stabilized the collapsing vortex, preventing it from creating more trouble.

But the fear shrouding the hearts of the Gods slowly increased.

How did these two Gods die?

But before they could figure it out, that throbbing appeared for the 3rd time!

This time, the Gods fell completely silent!

They found out that the 3rd God Realm that was collapsing was the Dream Realm!

“Shit! There aren’t enough Ancient Gods!”

“The Dream God’s fall might spread to the other surrounding God Realms!”

The Gods were panicking!

Chapter 724: Earth Sovereign
Translator: Shiraishi Editor: TheAlliance

It was known that the fall of a God Realm would affect the surroundings in a wide range.

Usually, when a God fell, there would be at least one Great God or Ancient God that presided over it to keep it stable.

Currently, only the Ancient Moon Goddess and the Ancient Truth Goddess were in the Astral Sea.

There were three Great Gods, of course, but apart from the War God and the God of Dawn and Protection, who had gone to chase after Marvin, the last one was said to still be in the Wilds, in the Primal Chaotic Fringe to be more exact, and couldn't appear in the God Realms at this moment!

Since the other two Great Gods were in the Elemental Plane of Earth, nothing could be done about the God Realms.

No one would have expected three Gods to die in a row so quickly!

Three God Realms were collapsing, and under the attraction of the Astral Plane, they started crumbling, shrinking and absorbing all the matter they could reach in their surroundings!

If there weren't enough powerful Gods to preside over this matter, it would definitely get even worse!

But the embarrassing part was that there weren't enough Gods of that level around!

Faniya and Molly, only two Ancient Gods.

And the fallen Gods amounted to three!

What could be done about the 3rd collapsing God Realm?

Everyone was terrified, especially the Gods whose God Realms were near to the Dream Realm.

At this time, a fluctuation appeared in the sky!

The War God's lofty silhouette appeared in the God Realms!

"Get the fuck out of the way, I'm coming."

He had a very angry expression, as if he had met some hindrance.

Every God obediently got out of his way. With the War God in such an explosive mood, who would dare provoke him?

Even the Gods affiliated to the God of Dawn and Protection didn't dare come up and inquire about Anuba's state.

After all, five Gods left for the Elemental Plane of Earth, and three of them fell directly!

Ultimately, the War God rushed back to deal with the matter of the God Realm. How badly must the battle have been?

Was the Dragon that troublesome?

The Gods were even more afraid.

Before the Universe Magic Pool shattered, they had still ruled the skies.

They had ignored all the lifeforms in the Universe, and enjoyed their limitless strength.

They had felt that nothing could challenge them in this Universe.

But ever since the shattering of the Universe Magic Pool, everything changed.

Feinan's Plane Guardians, Eric in the form of the Astral Beast, the huge monster that came after the collapse... and even some of the newly rising Feinan's powerhouses... All of these made them feel worried!

Dark Phoenix died under Marvin's blades.

The Berserk God died under Kangen's blades.

The War God was slapped three times by a young Dragon!

None of these things would have ever happened in the past.

And now, three Gods with outstanding strength fell one after the other, causing their God Realms to collapse!

This was a complete disaster for the God Realms!

They had no choice but to start reflecting: They might have been the strongest before, but perhaps that was no longer the case...

The Fate Tablet Fragments might have increased their strength, but it also restricted them!

Ever since the 3rd Era, these ascended powerhouses hadn't progressed much.

This was also one of the reasons that they chose to attack the Universe Magic Pool.

When one lost one's reason to strive, to struggle, one might turn into what was basically a walking corpse with no purpose.

But while they couldn't progress, many lifeforms of this Universe were growing tenaciously.

Whether it was those Plane Guardians or that hateful Marvin who rose so recently, these people kept reminding them that Feinan wasn't the same as before.

When they finally returned to this once-familiar land, they were no longer the mighty powerhouses of the past, and their enemies were younger and full of potential!

...

The darkness in the Elemental Plane of Earth slowly gathered at one location.

The Eternal Night Kingdom was retrieved by its owner, Marvin.

Sodom's Blades still maintained a high level of excitement. Marvin was forced to use some strength to suppress the killing intent flowing out of these murderous weapons.

Killing Gods continuously was something inconceivable, even for the bold Marvin.

Moreover, these three Gods had deep grudges with Marvin.

At that time, he finally realized that he had unconsciously become this powerful.

Even without having the system any longer, he was still the strongest person from Feinan.

All this was due to the advanced False Divine Vessel that he got from the Fairy in the Nightmare Boundary, as well as that Fate Tablet offering a steady flow of power!

When fully buffed, his body was perhaps as strong as an Astral Beast's; something like this was unprecedented in Feinan's history.

Max level Ruler of the Night fit perfectly with the Shadow Domain, and with the Eternal Night Kingdom and Sodom's Blades, Marvin turned into a true God Slayer!

Just like that Bloody Emperor!

'No wonder the name of the Bloody Emperor strikes fear in the hearts of the Gods...'

‘The Slaughterer Imprint ability is simply designed for slaying Gods!’

Marvin gently wiped his hand down Sodom’s Blades, inwardly sighing.

The Gods definitely considered these curved daggers full of evil intents to be among the most frightening weapons. When he killed Dark Phoenix, he had to kill her at least 30 times to succeed.

At that time, he was using the Azure Leafs that he had gotten from the Great Elven King, Nicholas.

If he’d had Sodom’s Blades back then, he would have been able to wipe out Dark Phoenix easily.

Reducing the energy available for recovery by half with each imprint, which effectively also halved the number of resurrections each time... This was simply too frightening for the Gods!

After the three Gods died, their corpses naturally returned to their God Realms, and Marvin didn’t feel like preventing it or checking on them.

As he took back the Eternal Night Kingdom, Tiramisu appeared too. “Done!”

“Seems like you weren’t slow either!” Marvin quipped.

The Dragon’s eyes rolled, and everything that happened here was played back for him to see.

“I sent that Grant guy to the Time Maze, so we have at least fifteen minutes. As for the War God... I played hide and seek with him for a while, but due to you killing so many Gods, he had to go on his way to the God Realms to clean up the mess.”

“We have to take advantage of this time to look for that page you need!”

Marvin nodded.

The duo didn’t hesitate and swiftly entered the Collapsed Earth.

...

In this part of the Elemental Plane of Earth, the Collapsed Earth was somewhat different.

Other places were filled with flying sand, but this place was exceptionally calm.

No wind. The earth was dark brown, and there would often be cracks opening, revealing some time and space auras.

Those were spatial cracks.

After entering the Collapsed Earth, Marvin noticed a very powerful aura.

He and Tiramisu sped up.

But when they passed between two mountains, a huge rock suddenly came down from an overhang!

As it fell, that huge rock transformed into a foot in mid-air, and it fiercely stomped Tiramisu to the ground!

Marvin looked at that strange rock and paled.

“Earth Sovereign?”

Chapter 725: Elemental Life Mark
Translator: Shiraishi Editor: TheAlliance

Indeed, when Marvin saw that rocky figure looking indifferently at the intruders, his first thought was that it was the Earth Sovereign!

Because it looked exactly like what he had seen in the game.

That foot that was able to suppress Tiramisu was using the Earth Essence of the Earth Sovereign.

Surely only the Earth Sovereign could have such pure Earth Essence that could even suppress a Time Dragon!

But what made Marvin somewhat puzzled was that the Earth Sovereign had always been known as being stern, yet kindhearted.

Why would he appear here in the Collapsed Earth, and why would he attack an Eternal Time Dragon without warning?

After all, the Elemental Planes definitely didn't have any special relationship with the God Realms, so this couldn't have been done on their behalf!

....

“Bastard! Quickly release this handsome Dragon!”

Tiramisu was boiling with anger.

His entire body was pressed down by that huge stone foot!

The earth of the Elemental Plane of Earth seemed to have a terrifying restrictive effect that allowed it to suppress even an Eternal Time Dragon! They were in the heart of the Elemental Plane, where the Earth Sovereign could exert the most power!

Coldness flashed in Marvin's heart.

The Elemental Planes were definitely the strongest force. Fortunately, the four Elemental Sovereigns usually had no desires. They just made sought to maintain balance.

'What's going on?'

'Could it be that even the Elemental Sovereigns can't restrain their greed? Even these Sovereigns known for having almost no desires are tempted by it?'

Marvin recalled his experience in the Elemental Plane of Water, with the gradually degenerating Water Sovereign. He could also feel something subtly wrong with the aura of the rocky giant before him. Marvin's heart sank.

The Earth Sovereign ignored Tiramisu's curses, only looking coldly at Marvin.

"Thing... Hand... Over..."

The words came out very slowly in stilted Common.

Marvin's heart calmed down.

This was different from the Earth Sovereign that he remembered!

Although the Elemental Sovereigns were cut off from the rest of the world, they were extremely intelligent and could learn things very quickly. None of the Elemental Sovereigns were unable to speak Common.

But this guy before him seemed to have trouble speaking.

And the pronunciation was very weird. If Marvin hadn't had excellent hearing, he might not have understood what the Elemental had tried to say!

"Thing? You mean the Fate Tablet?" Marvin probed.

The hulking figure nodded and then demanded in a slow and wicked tone, "Hand over... Otherwise... Kill you..."

This sentence made Marvin completely scratch his initial assumption!

This guy couldn't possibly be the Earth Sovereign!

Although it looked exactly the same, how could an Elemental Sovereign not be able to speak Common?

The previous words were shaky, sounding sort of like a countryside farmer with a very heavy accent. The tone was also rather odd.

Furthermore, if the real Earth Sovereign wanted the Fate Tablet, he wouldn't speak with Marvin. He would directly make a move!

Plane Guardians were truly powerful!

But Elemental Sovereigns were the peak existences in this Universe. Some even surmised that their strength exceeded that of many Ancient Gods, and that they were second only to the most powerful God, Lance!

Thinking of this, Marvin felt a lot calmer.

He suddenly inspected a few places on the Rock Monster.

Marvin had seen information concerning the Earth Sovereign back in the game, and he truly looked like the Rock Monster in front of him.

But he didn't feel the pressure that should have accompanied the presence of an Elemental Sovereign.

The pressure of an Elemental Sovereign far exceeded Dragon Might and Divine Pressure. Any lifeform with Essence would be under their rule!

Even if Marvin had the advanced False Divine Vessel, he wouldn't be completely immune!

So the attacker in front of them couldn't be the Earth Sovereign!

But it definitely was closely related to the Earth Sovereign in some way. Otherwise, the Eternal Time Dragon wouldn't be in such a miserable situation!

After all, he had been able to slap the War God three times!

Marvin took a deep breath. It looked like he would have to handle this problem on his own.

He slowly took out Sodom's Blades.

The Rock Monster angrily boomed, "Kill..."

At this instant, the stone in the surroundings fell down toward Marvin like a meteor shower!

If it was someone else, they might only be able to block.

But after reaching the Plane Guardian level and forming the Night Ring, his Post-Godly Dexterity had become something more!

His silhouette could be seen traveling back and forth, sometimes jumping, sometimes disappearing. This large-scale attack was completely ineffective against Marvin!

Marvin's movements apparently infuriated the Rock Monster. It bellowed in a deep voice and started chanting in a language that Marvin couldn't understand, despite having learned all the languages of Feinan.

At this time, Marvin realized something strange.

He looked at the chest area of the Rock Monster and saw that it was letting out a faint black light.

That black light seemed a bit familiar to Marvin.

Along with that black light, black circles surrounded the Elemental.

'This is... its Elemental Life Mark?'

'I can see its Elemental Life Mark?'

Marvin was shocked.

Elemental Life Marks were specific to Elemental lifeforms.

Usually, the most effective way to kill an Elemental was to cut the Elemental Life Mark.

But the Elemental Life Marks were usually hidden.

In the game, the Elemental's mark would only appear when it had 5% HP remaining.

It was at that time that the rogues would join the battle one after another.

Because striking hard and fast at a single point was the job of Assassins and Rangers!

But now, Marvin didn't have to do anything to his opponent to have its Elemental Life Mark be faintly discernible.

'What's going on?'

Marvin was confused.

But he knew that this was an opportunity. And Marvin had always been good at grasping opportunities!

He suddenly disappeared!

Night Boundary!

"Woosh!"

His body suddenly rushed forward, almost hitting the Rock Monster!

In that split second, he felt a powerful force that tried to repel him!

But Marvin still slashed down!

The spatial slash of Sodom's Blades landed on the Elemental Life Mark!

Something seemed to break.

Marvin looked over. Out of the original 9 Elemental Life Marks, only 8 now remained!

The attack was effective!

The chanting Rock Monster was frightened by Marvin's dash and was injured by his attack!

It bellowed, shaking the entirety of the Collapsed Earth.

Sand flew everywhere, sticking to its body, seemingly forming a layer of protection.

"Turns out you are that weak..."

"Or did you use up all your power to suppress Tiramisu because you thought that I was an easy target?"

Indeed, the monster seemed to instinctively realize that it couldn't afford to let the Eternal Time Dragon get free.

Marvin laughed, killing intent flashing in his eyes.

The next second, Sodom's Blades burst out once more!

The crimson blades broke through the sand!

They cut through another Elemental Life Mark.

Even at that time, Marvin suddenly saw the source of that black light.

“Book of Nalu?!”

Chapter 726: Beast

Translator: Shiraishi Editor: TheAlliance

The 10th page of the Book of Nalu, Beast.

When he cut through the second Elemental Life Mark, Marvin immediately felt it.

His soul was already somewhat linked to the Book of Nalu, and thus, when the core of the Rock Monster was slightly exposed and then emitted the aura of the Book of Nalu, he felt it.

But because of the special structure of the Elemental body, the Elemental Life Mark had the effect of blocking the aura, which was why he hadn't noticed it right away.

And now that he had cut down the 2nd Elemental Life Mark, the truth came to light.

‘The Collapsed Earth...’

‘Could this the part of the Elemental Plane of Earth have been corrupted by the Book of Nalu? Was this Rock Monster that looked like the Earth Sovereign the fiercest lifeform that had been here?’

‘But how could this explain its Earth Essence?’

Amidst the falling rocks, Marvin couldn't help glancing at the young Dragon still being held down by a huge rock.

This was the first time he'd ever seen the Eternal Time Dragon in such a difficult situation. At least he'd had some room to move around in his old cage.

A powerful existence that could even face the War God was being flattened on the ground, unable to move.

From Tiramisu's howls, Marvin could feel that he was really using all his might to try to escape!

But the weight of Earth Essence, combined with the power of the Book of Nalu, wasn't something that the young Dragon could fight off.

An adult Eternal Time Dragon might have been able to resist the force. But to Tiramisu, who was much better with magic and time manipulation than physical feats, it was incredibly hard to overcome.

Fortunately, Marvin had found the secret of the Rock Monster. Tiramisu's struggles were certainly having some effect. Either it would have to release the Eternal Time Dragon, or Marvin would cut it down.

It was harvest time!

...

The first two clashes had ended in Marvin completely suppressing it, proving once again how strong he had become.

At the same time, he had also figured out his opponent.

This Rock Monster definitely wasn't the Earth Sovereign. With the strength of the Earth Sovereign, Marvin definitely wouldn't have been able to cut two Elemental Life Marks!

The foe's magic was very frightening. Each spell was overwhelming and had a large area of effect with a high lethality.

Usually, this kind of attack would be the bane of rogues, since an attack that blanketed a large area would leave little room to dodge away and escape.

But Marvin was different.

Marvin already exceeded the what could be described as just a rogue. The Night Ring on his hand was proof of it. He was the Universe's most powerful rogue!

Only his silhouette could be seen flickering, ripping through the atmosphere!

Sodom's Blades were cheering with excitement!

3rd slash! 3rd Elemental Life Mark shattered!

4th slash! 5th Slash! All the way to the 9th slash!

Despite the Rock Monster constantly raining rocks and spells down at Marvin, as well as using attacks that came from the ground, the 9th Elemental Life Mark was slashed apart.

The Rock Monster finally stopped showing resistance.

Its huge body shattered and quickly disintegrated into powder that then fell down from the sky.

Only a page was left, floating down with a dark aura.

The 10th page of the Book of Nalu, [Beast]!

Marvin solemnly extended his hands, opening the Wisdom Chapter and his Book of Nalu.

The black page seemed to want to resist, but because of the powerful suppression of the Wisdom Chapter, it was unable to move.

Marvin took a step forward, moving to capture it!

Under the pull of the other pages, the relatively powerful page became assimilated into the steadily growing Book of Nalu.

Marvin had now gathered 8 pages of the Book of Nalu!

Only three pages left before he could reform the item that had been left behind by the God of Deception, which was also possibly something that had been left behind by the Wisdom God to open the 4th Fate Tablet!

Thinking of this, he couldn't help feeling excited.

...

"Hey, I finally crawled out of there..."

Tiramisu came over with a sullen expression. "I didn't expect that Rock Monster to actually have some skill and be able to suppress me."

Marvin looked at Tiramisu and couldn't help being startled. "The Earth Essence?"

As if he felt that it was obvious, the Dragon pointed out, "After you killed that guy, that stuff naturally flew away!"

"You sure it didn't disappear?" Marvin asked, feeling startled. "It flew away?"

Tiramisu reasserted, "100% certain, I can still feel it, that strange thing is still in this plane."

"Let's go!" Marvin suddenly had a bad premonition.

But the next second, a few silhouettes appeared in the surroundings of the Collapsed Earth!

The completely surrounded Marvin and the Dragon.

The War God!

The Dawn and Protection God!

The Moon Goddess!

The Truth Goddess!

Besides these four top-level Gods, there were an extra ten Mid Gods and High Gods!

“The Astral Sea really thinks highly of us,” Marvin joked with a smile.

A formation made of two Ancient Gods, two Great Gods, and many other Gods, even if the Night Monarch were alive and well, he might find it difficult to fight against such a formation.

His only hope was that Tiramisu could still whisk them away from there.

But then, a quiet voice echoed in his heart. “Stall for time! This handsome Dragon suffered from that attack earlier! It left suppressive aftereffects, and I also might have used too much effort trying to break free.”

“I’ll need at least half an hour to recover and be able to properly use my time-related abilities.”

Marvin smiled bitterly!

‘Half an hour!’

‘Is this a joke?’

‘Stalling so many Gods for that long?’

It wasn’t like Marvin could just take out a deck of cards and invite the Gods to sit down and play, hoping to persuade them that they could resume the fight after half an hour?

It seemed that Tiramisu also felt that the suggestion was too unreasonable, and he lowered his head, mulling over something.

...

“Marvin, I have to admit that you gave us a lot of surprises.” Anuba Grant sighed somewhat before continuing, “But you brought too many troubles to the God Realms. Three innocent Gods fell because of you. You are the holder of Sodom’s Blades, we can’t let you go out of control.”

“I thought that the Valkyrie made a mistake, but now it seems that you might really be the prophesied Destroyer.”

“Only a true Destroyer would have such thick killing intent.”

Marvin couldn’t help laughing when he heard such hypocrisy. “Oh, Great Grant~” he sarcastically jeered, “anyone that killed a lot is a Destroyer? I inherited the will of the Night Monarch. As the Guardian of Feinan, the Night Monarch killed millions of outsiders that came to invade the lands. Why aren’t you saying that he was a Destroyer?”

Grant shook his head, not saying anything in response.

It was actually the War God who sneered, “Grant is always trying to take the moral high ground as he spouts a bunch of nonsense. I’ll be blunt with you.”

“Marvin, if you hand over the Fate Tablet and give me that young Dragon, I’ll guarantee your life. No one will dare to harm you here!”

These words shocked quite a few Gods.

They had never thought that the War God would ever say something like this in front of all the others!

Some chaos appeared within the forces of the Gods.

Marvin felt some hope.

Chapter 727: Banished
Translator: Shiraishi Editor: TheAlliance

It seemed that there was no harmony between the Gods.

Well, it was true that every one of them seemed to want to get the Fate Tablet and possess the powerful force that it contained.

For Marvin, the hostility between the Gods seemed to be something he could use.

The situation was very difficult, after all. If there really was a fight, he wouldn’t be able to win. And even escaping seemed like a luxury.

But before he said anything, a gentle voice echoed across the plane. "This land has not seen so many gathered together for a long time."

"Grant, Anubis, Faniya... Molly... Long time no see."

When they heard this voice, the Gods were shocked!

'Who was it?'

'Someone dared to call the most powerful Gods by their names!'

But what shocked them the most was that the Great Gods and Ancient Gods didn't become angry. They actually forced themselves to smile.

"Great Earth Elemental Lord, the God Realms pay their highest respect." Anuba Grant put a palm on his chest in a salute as he bowed respectfully!

In the sky, a shadow quickly took form.

It shaped into what was a seemingly very ordinary middle-aged man.

Everyone could see that it was just an avatar.

But just this Avatar was awe-inspiring enough.

The Gods weren't total fools. There was only one entity that the God of Dawn and Protection would bow his head to in this plane, and it was that one lord.

All the Gods saluted one after the other.

The Elemental Plane Sovereigns were the pillars of the entire Universe, they were the existences worthy of the highest respect.

Only Faniya and Molly just nodded.

These two Ancient Gods had befriended the Earth Sovereign a long time ago. They were acquaintances, so there was no need to be too courteous.

Marvin and Tiramisu glanced at each other, and each saw the look in the other's eyes.

This was getting more interesting.

Not only had the Gods gathered in the Collapsed Earth, but the Earth Sovereign had also come to join in on the fun!

This guy was part of the very foundation of the Universe.

The War God was very troublesome, but he was far from being comparable to the Earth Sovereign, let alone now that he was here, in the Earth Sovereign's home!

Even if the four top Gods joined hands, they might only be able to hold the Earth Sovereign to a standstill. The others wouldn't affect a fight of that scale in the slightest.

Thus, even the arrogant Gods chose to bow their heads.

They were acting like mortals here.

But at this time, Marvin wasn't feeling burdened.

The more that came, the better.

The more troublesome things got, the better.

This was all that he felt about the situation.

He really had too many enemies. He would have a much better opportunity to find a way out amidst the chaos, and it could also help stall for time to let the Eternal Time Dragon recover.

If Tiramisu recovered, then there would be few people in this Universe that could stop them without the element of surprise! But the Earth Sovereign was certainly one of them!

...

After the Earth Sovereign's avatar descended, the situation became more complicated.

Marvin was calmly waiting for something big to happen.

No one expected that as the Sovereign's gaze swept over everyone, it would stop on Marvin!

His expression softened, looking much gentler. "You are Marvin."

"Seems like you met some trouble."

Marvin was startled. Earlier, he had thought that the Earth Sovereign had come for the Fate Tablet, but what about his tone now? What was going on?

As for the Gods of the Astral Sea, they were all shocked.

Especially Grant and Anubis. They both had rather agitated expressions.

The greeting of the Earth Sovereign made them think of some unpleasant possibilities.

Sure enough, the Earth Sovereign's next words to Marvin sounded very polite. "You helped me deal with quite a problem. I owe you one."

"Thus, you can rest assured that in this plane, no one will dare to harm you."

Marvin was extremely shocked. When had he helped the Earth Sovereign?

Among the Gods, one of them couldn't take it and entreated, "Respected Earth Elemental Sovereign, Marvin has..."

"Woosh!"

That person disappeared from the Elemental Plane of Earth.

The Earth Sovereign calmly asked, "Ladies and gentlemen, do I have to see you out myself?"

Marvin and Tiramisu were dumbstruck!

What was tyrannical?

This was so domineering.

Without the slightest movement, he banished a God and threatened the God Realms!

And even four of the most powerful Gods were standing in front of him.

But the Earth Sovereign didn't seem to care why they were here.

He only invited them to leave.

Anubis clenched his fists, while Grant shook his head.

"Since that is the case, we will excuse ourselves." Grant remained respectful enough, and after saluting again, he left without a trace.

He knew how frightening the Earth Sovereign was. Even if the Gods somehow beat him in his home realm, they would most likely end up crippled!

The Gods looked at each other in dismay, not having expected Grant to withdraw so quickly without any protest.

The War God coldly snorted and left too.

The other Gods also left one after the other, up until only Faniya and Molly were still left behind.

“Is there anything that the two of you need to say?” The Earth Sovereign’s voice felt like a spring wind.

“Nothing really. I am only curious,” Faniya said. “Protecting a mortal does not sound like you.”

The Earth Sovereign calmly responded, “Since the birth of this world, my duty has always been to protect mortals.”

Faniya chuckled and shook her head before leaving too. She was originally motivated by the fact that Marvin had killed three Gods, leading to the foundations of the God Realms to almost crumble.

But since the Earth Sovereign had appeared in his defense, she had no need to reason to stay.

The Truth Goddess, the last one left, gave Marvin a glance and softly said, “It seems that I don’t have to make a move this time.”

“You are very lucky.”

She then also disappeared from the Elemental Plane of Earth.

After a few seconds, the originally crowded Collapsed Earth was deserted, leaving Marvin feeling a bit uncomfortable!

“It seems that even if I didn’t appear personally, Molly wouldn’t have let you come to harm by their hands,” the Earth Sovereign mused while looking at Marvin. “You actually have some good relationships.”

Marvin felt embarrassed.

Good relationships? His enemies spanned the entire Universe.

If he hadn’t been worried about a disaster befalling White River Valley, he wouldn’t have needed to leave his Sanctuary, entrusting the place to others.

The words of the Earth Sovereign felt like banter.

“Respected Earth Lord. Thank you for helping me. I’m very curious, we haven’t met before, have we?”

Marvin was still curious about why the Earth Sovereign personally sent the Gods packing.

The old man laughed, "That is true."

"But you still helped me without knowing it."

"That [Beast] page in your hands almost destroyed me."

Chapter 728: Confirmation!

Translator: Shiraishi Editor: TheAlliance

The Earth Sovereign's words made Marvin curious.

The lifeform with nine Elemental Life Marks that he had just killed definitely was related in some way to the Earth Sovereign.

Since Tiramisu needed 30 minutes to recover, the Earth Sovereign took advantage of this opportunity to explain everything.

...

When the Book of Nalu exploded, many pages spread throughout the Universe. Some landed in Feinan, some flew away into the sky.

Many people were frightened by the terrifying book after that God died from it, so they didn't look for it.

There was only one exception back then.

That was the Earth Sovereign.

He personally saw the explosion of that God Realm, and the chaos that reigned in the God Realms afterwards.

Thus, when that page of the Book of Nalu flew over his world, he subconsciously stopped its path.

He hadn't thought that this would nearly create a huge disaster!

That page was called Beast.

There was a beast in each person's heart. But everyone was subconsciously using a cage to keep it sealed. But that page could release the beast locked inside the heart of anyone that came into contact with it!

Originally, the hearts of the Elemental Sovereigns were pure and free of desire. The Earth Sovereign was the same, and he would rarely find himself losing control.

He had a lot of confidence in himself and he believed that since it was just a page of the Book of Nalu and not the whole book, it could never harm him.

What's more, the Ancient God who wrote the Book of Nalu was at most on the same level as him. In term of pure power, the Earth Sovereign would definitely be stronger.

Thinking like this, he hid the page away.

Over a few hundred years, he occasionally looked through it. He didn't notice anything wrong at the start, as nothing seemed to happen. But gradually, he started feeling that something was off.

The Elemental Sovereign's heart started becoming chaotic.

He didn't know when it began, but at some point, a shadow had appeared in his heart!

And that shadow looked just like him.

Over hundreds of years, the [Beast] finally found an opportunity and corrupted a part of the Earth Sovereign's heart.

He started becoming moody, and even the entire Elemental Plane of Earth started becoming unstable.

Fortunately, he found out about it before it was too late and promptly used a method to isolate the problem.

He peeled away that evil beast and trapped it in this unstable land!

This was also the origin of the Collapsed Earth!

...

"And that was it," the Earth Sovereign concluded. "I asked the Water Sovereign to help me peel off the evil within me and then I locked it in the Collapsed Earth."

"As it was an Elemental lifeform, neither I nor the Water Sovereign could kill it, so we could only imprison it, leaving the matter somewhat unresolved. I never thought that you would be the one to fix my troubles."

"Now that I've been freed and the evil part of me has been destroyed, I have to sincerely thank you, Marvin."

Marvin nodded thoughtfully. "That's why you didn't hesitate to go against the God Realms?"

The Earth Sovereign nodded and gently said, "The God Realms never entered my eyes. Especially here, in my own domain. This is a very safe place for you to stay."

Marvin's heart calmed down, but he also heard the implied meaning.

The Elemental Plane of Earth was very safe, but other places wouldn't be safe.

The Gods had retreated, but they definitely wouldn't leave it at that.

This time, Marvin took Tiramisu to the God Realms and slapped the faces of the Gods. And there was still the precious Fate Tablet! How could they easily let him go?

As if he could sense Marvin's thoughts, the Earth Sovereign waved his hand and a scene appeared in front of them.

Outside the Elemental Plane of Earth, the Gods were waiting calmly, apparently ready for a fight. They didn't think that Marvin would stay long in the Elemental Plane of Earth.

"They are really unwilling to give up on the Fate Tablet." The Earth Sovereign sighed with sorrow. "Since they already chose to believe in the legend of the Destroyer, then why are they not following the established path?"

"Maybe this is wishful thinking, maybe each of them believes that they are different."

Marvin suddenly asked, "The legend of the Destroyer?"

The Earth Sovereign smiled. "Yes, the legend of the Destroyer. When Lance left, it spread through the God Realms."

"From the current situation, the person who fits the signs of the prophecy is you, Marvin."

Marvin frowned.

There actually was something like that?

No wonder Eve had wanted to kill him.

If Lance really wanted to destroy this world, then why did he have Marvin transmigrate?

"Could it be that he wanted to destroy this world through my hands?"

Marvin's heart sank.

“In fact, the matter of the Destroyer was originally nothing at all.” The Earth Sovereign didn’t seem to believe this version, and instead soothed him.

In any case, Tiramisu still needed some time to recover, so Marvin decided to rest in the Elemental Plane of Earth for now.

Since they were here, he asked about some questions that had been puzzling him for a long time.

In his eyes, the Earth Sovereign, as one of the oldest beings in the world, should know about these things.

...

“The game between Lance and the Plane Will? There is indeed such a thing.”

“But I don’t know too much about it. I have to stay in the Elemental Plane of Earth. Lance and many other Gods faded away, but I didn’t pay much attention to it.”

“In my position, I can only pay attention to the stability of the Universe. After Lance disappeared, I tried contacting him, but I failed. This worried me.”

“The only thing I can tell you right now is that the Book of Nalu is the key to stopping all this. It was written by an old friend of mine.”

The Earth Sovereign’s next word confirmed something that Marvin had suspected at one point. “Many people know him as the God of Deception, but he is in fact the God of Wisdom.”

The God of Deception really was the God of Wisdom!

Marvin’s heart shook!

He got confirmation about this from the Earth Sovereign!

“I believe that Lance and the Wisdom God want to do something, while also hiding it from certain people,” the Earth Sovereign continued, “and thus, as the one holding the 4th Fate Tablet and the Book of Nalu, you are the one he chose. You should be clear about what you have to do.”

Marvin nodded in silence and proceeded with clarifying his thoughts.

Time ticked away, and soon, half an hour passed.

Tiramisu recovered his abilities and the energy that had been depleted somewhat while he was struggling against the pressure of the Earth Essence.

“Let’s go! Let’s tease the Gods!” The Dragon said in high spirits. “I’ll get you to Evil Street!”

Marvin nodded.

Evil Street. Located in the depths of the Abyss, where the next page of the Book of Nalu was waiting!