

Real Daughter 221

Chapter 221: Molesting the Nurse

“She did not lend you? How could she not lend you? She actually dares not to see you. She really returned to a rich family and became tough. It’s only 200,000 yuan. If she gave you a little bit of what she usually spends, it’ll be enough for you... us to save your father’s life.” Chang Hao was secretly shocked that she almost said the wrong thing.

“In any case, I can’t borrow from her anymore. Lin Yin has soared. Why would she care about poor people like us?” Jia Qing said angrily.

When she heard that Jia Qing wasn’t able to borrow it, Chang Hao panicked. If Jia Qing wasn’t able to borrow, what would happen to her son’s betrothal gift?

“No, Qingqing, we have to get this money. Tell her this. If she does nothing to save him, she’ll be the murderer who killed your father and will have a guilty conscience for the rest of her life. When she hears this, she’ll definitely be willing to borrow money,” Chang Hao was all worked up when she said it.

If it weren’t for the fact that she didn’t want Lin Yin to ask them to return the money in the future, she would have gone to look for Lin Yin herself. She didn’t need this useless girl.

Jia Qing pulled her hand out of Chang Hao’s. “Mom, Lin Yin is different from before. In the past, she would listen to us when we say this, but now, she’s like a different person. She won’t care about us at all.”

“How can people change so easily? Are you spouting nonsense because you’re unwilling to borrow the money from her?” Chang Hao looked at Jia Qing suspiciously.

Chang Hao couldn’t help but suspect. Lin Yin was so obedient in the past. She had only been back for a short time, but she had changed so much. She didn’t believe it.

She now suspected that Jia Qing knew that they were pretending and was unwilling to borrow money from Lin Yin, so she simply said that Lin Yin was unwilling to lend them money.

“Mom? What do you mean? Are you suspecting me?” Jia Qing asked in disbelief.

She was already unlucky enough today. First, she was humiliated by that ungrateful b*tch Lin Yin, then she was splashed with water by a crazy car. Now, even her mother suspected her. This made her feel terrible.

“Tomorrow, Mom will go with you to ask for money.” Chang Hao had no choice but to say this.

She still did not believe Jia Qing, so she wanted to see for herself. Could this Lin Yin change in just a short period of time?

After sending Jia Qing off, Chang Hao was thinking about how to get the money from Lin Yin tomorrow.

On the bed, Jia Rong said, “Why is it so difficult to ask for money now? Didn’t she always give us money when we asked in the past?”

“Who knows if Qingqing is spouting nonsense? I’ll go over and take a look tomorrow,” Chang Hao said.

“Alright, we have to hurry up. The hospital’s fees are very expensive,” Jia Rong said.

“Got it!” Chang Hao said impatiently. Then, she stood up and said, “I’m going out to walk. Don’t get up and walk around on your own, lest others discover you.”

Chang Hao’s attitude also affected Jia Rong’s emotions. Jia Rong waved his hand impatiently. “Go, go. You’re an eyesore.”

When the door of the ward closed, Jia Rong, who had been lying down for the entire day, got up and was about to walk when the nurse on duty came in.

“You can be discharged soon. It’s just a small fall. There’s no need for you to be hospitalized. It’s a single ward even. It’s a waste of money,” the nurse said as she busied herself.

Jia Rong looked at the nurse wretchedly before looking at the door of the ward sneakily. Then, he suddenly stood up and fell on the nurse.

Her dark hands immediately touched the nurse’s chest. Jia Rong even groped her rampantly.

The nurse screamed in fear. Jia Rong quickly covered the nurse’s mouth and said, “Young lady, don’t shout. I didn’t do it on purpose. I just fell and was careless. Don’t shout and I’ll let go of you. Of course, it’s useless if you shout.

Everyone will believe me, the patient.”

The nurse was suppressed by Jia Rong’s strength and could only look at Jia Rong in horror before nodding vigorously.

Jia Rong let go in satisfaction, and the nurse scrambled out.

Jia Rong was not worried about whether the nurse would complain. He knew that this nurse was an intern and had just arrived.

It was not easy for her to have a job and she was an intern, so she naturally did not dare to cause trouble. If this matter blew up, the nurse would not be able to stay in the hospital.

After all, he just had to leave. If the nurse did not resign, she would be criticized by her colleagues in the hospital..

Chapter 222: Blocking the School Gate

As Jia Rong had expected, the young nurse returned to the nurses' station in tears. The colleagues beside her knew that they had definitely been wronged. After all, which nurse had not been wronged?

Another nurse who was also on internship patted the nurse's shoulder and comforted her. "Alright, it's fine. Just cry if you're sad."

The nurse felt aggrieved. She really wanted to expose the scumbag who had molested her, but she was afraid of causing trouble. She did not have any evidence. If a complaint was filed against her and her internship failed, the gains would not make up for the losses.

In the end, she endured it.

The culprit, on the other hand, was smugly walking around the ward and stretching his muscles. He did not look like a patient whose leg was hurt and was waiting for leg surgery.

The next day's class had just ended. Lin Yin was about to return to the Lu Family with Lu Yan to continue doing her homework when Jia Qing and Chang Hao walked over.

When Chang Hao saw Lin Yin, she immediately smiled and went forward to stop her. "Yinyin, why didn't you meet Qingqing when she went to look for you yesterday? She was sad for a long time. Look at how close the two of you used to be. Why are you so distant now?"

Lin Yin glanced at Chang Hao and said indifferently, "What's the matter? If there's nothing, please make way."

Seeing Lin Yin's attitude, Chang Hao was stunned for a moment. In the past, Lin Yin had always been polite to her with a smile.

Why did Lin Yin have such an expression now? Could it be that it was really as Qingqing had said? She despised the poor and loved the rich. She was ungrateful and did not acknowledge her poor friends?

When Jia Qing saw her mother's expression, she felt a little better.

She had clearly said that Lin Yin was no longer the same Lin Yin as before, but Chang Hao did not believe her and insisted on personally accepting Lin Yin's humiliation.

Chang Hao's mood turned bad as well. She said in a neutral tone, "Looks like Yinyin is rich, so she looks down on us poor people?"

Lin Yin did not mediate with Chang Hao. She just looked at her coldly and said, "Move aside!"

Chang Hao did not expect Lin Yin to be so arrogant and completely believed Jia Qing's words. This Lin Yin had really changed and become unfamiliar.

Jia Qing grabbed her mother. She did not expect that she would still have to deal with it in the end.

In the blink of an eye, Jia Qing's eyes began to turn red as she begged miserably, "Yinyin, I know our family's current identity and we can't cling to you anymore. But I beg you, can you save my father? He's about to undergo surgery, but the medical fees are really too expensive. We really can't afford it."

The gazes of the surrounding people embarrassed Jia Qing, but since things had already come to this, she could only brace herself and continue acting.

Chang Hao, who was at the side, immediately understood Jia Qing's intentions. She wiped her tears and knelt in front of Lin Yin, wailing, "Yinyin, your uncle saved you once before. Can you really bear to see him die?"

"We just need 200,000 yuan to save his life. You can save your former savior with the same price as two or three bags. You have to have a conscience. You can't harm him!"

Lu Yan was quick to react. She pulled Lin Yin to the side and made an elder kneel in front of her. Was this person here to deliberately harm Lin Yin?

As for Lin Yin, she almost laughed in front of everyone. Chang Hao's words were really funny.

If she didn't save Jia Rong, she would be harming him?

Lu Yan couldn't stand it anymore. "What nonsense are you talking about, old woman? What do you mean by our Yinyin harming people? You shouldn't slander her like this. Do you believe that I'll hit you?!"

Lin Yin grabbed Lu Yan and told her to calm down. She still wanted the mother and daughter opposite her to continue acting.

Lin Yin suddenly felt that it was very interesting. In her previous life, she had helped, so she had never seen such a family. In this life, she had to open her eyes and recognize this family.

Seeing that more and more students and parents were gathering around, Jia Qing pulled her stupid mother back and said with tears in her eyes, "Yinyin, if we had a way, we wouldn't have shamelessly disturbed when you're rich. But we're really at our wits' end. Can you save my father's life on account of him saving you once?"

Repay his kindness? Lin Yin felt like she was going to die of laughter. She looked at Jia Qing and said, "Repay his kindness? Why? Your father gave me half a steamed bun that he's eaten. I've already used my best effort to repay it.. Do you still think it's not enough? Do you still want more?"

Chapter 223: The Kindness of Half a Bun

Jia Qing's eyes flickered a few times before she cried even louder, "Yinyin, you said it before. If my father hadn't helped back then, there might not have been a person like you in the world. Do you dare to say that you didn't say it?"

Lin Yin's dark eyes looked coldly at Jia Qing in front of her, her eyes filled with disgust, but a smile bloomed on her face.

Yes, she did say that.

At that time, Jia Qing asked her why she was so good to their family. In order not to burden Jia Qing's family, Lin Yin said those words to make Jia Qing's family feel better.

She did not expect that one day, Jia Qing would hurt her with the words she used to comfort her.

Jia Qing's words instantly resonated with the surrounding onlookers.

"You should repay a life-saving favor with your life. Now that she only needs 200,000 yuan, it's already too cheap, okay?"

"This girl is too cold-blooded and heartless. She's clearly so rich that she can save a life with a raise of her hand, but she's actually unwilling!"

"An ungrateful ingrate like her shouldn't live in a humane society like ours."

"She received their kindness for nothing, but in the end, she even made someone else's wife and daughter kneel down and ask for money. They shouldn't have saved such a person at that time. They should have just left her there to die."

"Lin Yin is indeed vicious. As soon as she returned, Su Fei went from a young lady to a child bride. I don't believe that she wasn't part of it."

"That's right. How could a beast that can ignore its benefactor show mercy to its parents' adopted daughter? Su Fei must have suffered a lot."

Lu Yan gritted her teeth when she heard this. Yang Xue, who had just arrived, held Lu Yan back tightly, afraid that Lu Yan would not be able to hold back and make things even more difficult for Lin Yin.

As Chang Hao wiped his tears, she secretly looked smugly at Lin Yin, who had been scolded badly. She felt very happy.

If Lin Yin had given them the money just now, such a thing wouldn't have happened.

In the end, Lin Yin, that ingrate, reaped what she sowed.

When Jia Qing heard everyone criticizing Lin Yin, she felt better.

Previously, Lin Yin had refused to acknowledge her and embarrassed her.

This time, Lin Yin was reviled. It was Lin Yin's retribution.

Lin Yin said coldly and loudly, "Yes, I've said that! Your father gave me half a steamed bun to satisfy my hunger and you want 200,000 yuan from me. Your mother offended someone and was hung by the bridge. I took the risk to save her and I almost died. Is that enough?"

"Your brother was chased for a debt. I took the money to ransom him and was beaten so badly I had to be in bed for more than two weeks. I almost couldn't make it. Are two lives enough?"

"I did everything I could to provide for your previous tuition fees. Have you forgotten how you cried to me when your family didn't let you study and said that it was useless for girls to study? Wasn't I repaying you?"

"Why? Are your steamed buns that expensive? Isn't two lives enough to repay half a steamed bun? You still want me to be your slave for the rest of my life?"

"Jia Qing, the heavens are watching. I don't owe your family anything anymore." Lin Yin's words were powerful and neither servile nor overbearing.

Jia Qing did not expect Lin Yin to say everything so bluntly, and her expression was a little unnatural.

Chang Hao couldn't stand it anymore and immediately shouted loudly, "You were willing to do all of this. What has it got to do with us? We didn't beg you come. But today's matter is different. My husband did not voluntarily give YOI the steamed bun. You should repay it."

When Jia Qing heard Chang Hao's words, she was instantly furious. Wouldn't these words be a joke?

As expected, the surrounding people were still wondering if Lin Yin's words were true, but as soon as Chang Hao said them, everyone instantly looked at Chang Hao and her daughter with disdain.

"Isn't this too shameless? She's not satisfied with exchanging half a steamed bun for two lives and still wants to ask for repayment. How can she be so shameless?"

"I must have been blind just now to speak up for such a disgusting person." "F*ck, this is the real ingrate, right?"

"There's indeed a reason why people are poor. They're a family of vampires. If they target you, how can you survive?!"

"To be honest, Lin Yin is still kind. If it were me, I would immediately get someone to beat her up and throw her out.."

Chapter 224: Repaying the Kindness

Jia Qing hated her mother, who didn't know anything and was still spouting nonsense. If this continued, she really wouldn't be able to live in school in the future.

And that vicious woman, Lin Yin, clearly knew that saying such things would ruin her. Why did she say it in front of so many people?

This vicious woman deserved to die!

She wished she could go up and tear Lin Yin's disgusting face apart.

However, there were so many people now and she could not do anything.

Jia Qing stabilized her emotions and said loudly with red eyes, "Yes! Lin Yin, you helped me before. I'll remember it in my heart. But you owe my father's life, so you should repay him. As for your kindness to me, I'll repay you in the future. My mother and brother will repay your kindness to them when they have the ability in the future."

Lu Yan laughed especially loudly. "Why? You can't extort money from you, so you start giving empty promises? Return it in the future? How? Who? Is it your mother who wants money from the sky? Or is it your gambling brother? Or is it you, a heartless piece of trash who repays kindness with ingratitude!"

Jia Qing's eyes turned red from Lu Yan's humiliation. She begged Lin Yin loudly, "Lin Yin, in short, this is a separate matter. My father is innocent. His life is at stake now. As long as you move, you can save his life and repay his kindness!"

Lu Yan was so angry that she wanted to laugh. "Jia Qing, is your brain different from others? Your father used half a steamed bun to exchange for someone saving his wife and son's lives and even giving his daughter a chance to go to school. Isn't this considered repaying your father's kindness? If it weren't for Lin Yin, your father wouldn't have a wife and son now!"

Jia Qing straightened her neck and her eyes were red. "I've said it before. We'll repay Lin Yin's kindness to me, Mom, and Brother in the future. But I beg you, Lin Yin, save my father. That's a life!"

Lin Yin smiled and looked at Jia Qing with pity. "Jia Qing, let me remind you out of kindness. You have to figure out if your father needs saving."

Chang Hao, who was beside her, instantly rushed up and cried, "Lin Yin, you heartless ingrate. Are you asking our family to die? Why are you so vicious..."

Lin Yin dodged Chang Hao's pounce and turned to leave.

As for Jia Qing, she was thinking about what Lin Yin had just said. What did she mean by did her father need help?

Chang Hao was afraid that Jia Qing would know something.

Jia Qing asked uneasily, "Mom, what did Lin Yin mean just now?"

Chang Hao cursed in her heart and hurriedly bluffed and said loudly, "What else can she mean? She just doesn't want to save your father. She's mocking your father for not being worth saving. That's right. We're poor and cheap. In the eyes of rich people, we're not worth saving. She's saying that the lives of poor people are worthless!"

Hearing Chang Hua's explanation, Jia Qing's eyes instantly turned colder. What a good Lin Yin. She dared to look down on and humiliate them like this.

When the onlookers saw Lin Yin leave, they felt a little bored. After their disdainful and mocking gazes landed on Jia Qing, they left.

Soon, Jia Qing and her mother's deeds spread throughout the school. Jia Qing did not show her face in school and followed Chang Hao back to the hospital.

However, very quickly, a piece of news about an ingrate from a rich family being ungrateful and cursing her benefactor for living a poor life climbed to the trending searches on various platforms.

There was a video in the post. It was edited very cleverly. It only edited Jia Qing and Chang Huan's pleading, as well as Lin Yin's words and Chang Huan's words that were enough to incite public anger.

In an instant, all kinds of curses directed at Lin Yin came from all directions.

There were also some people at the scene who tried to say something fair. In the end, they were scolded by indignant netizens until they deleted their accounts.

At this moment, Jia Qing, who was in the ward, looked at the netizens' comments about Lin Yin on her phone screen and felt better.

As public opinion fermented, some kind-hearted people also appeared and claimed to want to donate to Jia Qing's family for the surgery. Hence, Jia Qing cooperated with the reporters and said many sympathetic words.

Chang Hao looked at her bank account information and was so happy that she could not close his mouth. "Qingqing, you're still the capable one. You're much better than your brother.."

Chapter 225: Donation

On the other side, Jia Rong also said happily, "That's right, Qingqing. You still had a plan to get the netizens to donate. You gathered 300,000 yuan in one go, faster than taking money from Lin Yin. Our Qingqing is so capable."

Hearing her parents' approval, Jia Qing felt like she had become taller.

The corners of Jia Qing's lips curled up slightly. "This is nothing. Those netizens are stupid and rich. What's the big deal about giving us some? When I find someone to push the popularity up, there will be even more people donating money. At that time, it won't be 300,000 yuan, it might be a million yuan."

When they heard a million yuan, Jia Rong and Chang Hao's eyes lit up.

"Dad, did the doctor arrange when the surgery will be done? I'll be more at ease if the surgery is done earlier," Jia Qing asked her father, who was lying on the bed.

Jia Rong's expression changed slightly before he said vaguely, "I'll make an appointment with the attending doctor today. Qingqing, go home and bring some clothes for Dad. The air conditioner in this hospital is quite cold."

Jia Qing asked in confusion, "Dad, haven't you been covered with a blanket? You're still cold?"

As Jia Qing spoke, she was about to get up and touch Jia Rong's blanket. Chang Hao, who was at the side, was afraid that Jia Qing would know something and quickly stopped her. "Your father wants you to go back. Go back quickly. I'm here. You don't have to worry."

Jia Qing retracted her hand and said, "Alright, I'll go back and get it."

After Jia Qing left, Jia Rong couldn't help but say, "Find an opportunity to do a fake surgery or divert Jia Qing's attention. We can't let her know that I'm pretending to be injured."

"It's fine. Later. I'll get her to make a trip to our hometown. When she comes back, we'll say that the surgery is over. Won't that be fine?" Chang Hao said.

"Not now. We don't know anything about this Internet. When the donation money reaches a million yuan, we'll let Qingqing go back. At that time, we'll give 200,000 yuan to Jia Song as a betrothal gift and 500,000 yuan to Jia Song as a down payment for a house. We'll use some of the remaining 300,000 yuan for the wedding and keep some for us to retire." Jia Rong thought about how to use the money that he had yet to obtain excitedly.

"Alright! I didn't expect there to be so many benefits from pretending to be sick. All our problems were resolved in an instant. The money came too quickly. When we finish spending our money, it's my turn to pretend to be sick and extort another sum," Chang Hao said happily as he looked at the balance.

Lu Yan looked at the vicious comments online and was about to explode.

"Yinyin, why aren't you in a hurry at all? You should at least clarify things! It's clearly not like this!" Lu Yan was so angry that she paced around the house.

“How is it not a big deal? These netizens are going to dig you up,” Lu Yan said with a frown as she looked at Lin Yin.

As she spoke, Lu Yan directly sent a message to her uncle, who had gone missing because of something: Uncle, come back quickly. If you don’t come soon, Yinyin will be scolded to death.

At this moment, Mu Ran, who had also seen this news, exuded a gloomy aura.

When Wei Yuan saw Mu Ran like this, he hurriedly went forward and said,

“Calm down, calm down. We have to consider this matter at length.”

“How can we plan at length? This report is simply nonsense.” Mu Ran was so angry that the veins on his neck were popping.

Mu Ran felt that it was worse for Lin Yin to be attacked like this than it was for him.

When she received Mu Ran’s call, Lin Yin was about to go home from Shenglin Bay.

When Mu Ran heard Lin Yin’s voice, he asked anxiously, “Yinyin, how are you now? Are you all safe?”

Mu Ran was afraid that some irrational netizens would attack Lin Yin irrationally.

Lin Yin smiled faintly. “Brother Mu Ran, I’m fine. Don’t worry.”

“They’re just some greedy people. Yinyin, don’t be afraid. I’ll stand on your side. I’ll post on Weibo later to support you,” Mu Ran said firmly.

Lin Yin quickly stopped him. "Brother Mu Ran, don't be rash. I have my own plans for this matter. You're a public figure. It's not good for you to speak up for me.'

"There's nothing bad about it. I believe in you, Yinyin. I'm just following my own thoughts. Besides, I have various legal teams and public relations teams behind me. I'm not afraid of them." Mu Ran insisted on his thoughts.

Afraid that Mu Ran would really do something, Lin Yin persuaded earnestly, "Brother Mu Ran, thank you! But I want to handle this matter myself. Let me do it myself.."

Chapter 226: It's Better To Call You Uncle

Hearing Lin Yin's insistence, Mu Ran could only give up. However, he still instructed worriedly, "Alright, if you need anything, you have to look for me.

Do you understand?"

"Yes, yes, I know." With that, Lin Yin hung up.

Lu Yan looked at Lin Yin with bright eyes and said, "Was it Mu Ran who called you just now?"

Lin Yin nodded and said, "Yes, he saw the news online too."

Lu Yan wrung her hands and said in a probing tone, "Brother Mu Ran really cares about you. You two..."

"Stop!" Lin Yin quickly said, "Brother Mu Ran only treats me as his sister. It's nothing."

Lu Yan heaved a sigh of relief. Fortunately, her uncle still had a chance.

Just then, Lu Ming's car arrived at the entrance.

When he got out of the car and saw Lin Yin waiting for the car, Lu Ming said gently, "I'll send you back."

Lin Yin shook her head and refused. "No need. My chauffeur will be here soon. I'll wait a little longer."

"You don't have to let your chauffeur come for nothing," Lu Ming said with a smile.

"Yinyin, it's getting late. Just let my uncle send you. I don't know when your car will arrive. Just get him to go back now," Lu Yan said from the side.

Unable to refuse her enthusiasm, Lin Yin could only call the chauffeur and get into the car.

Initially, Lin Yin thought that Lu Ming was asking the Lu Family's chauffeur to send her back. She did not expect Lu Ming to get in too.

Looking at Lin Yin's surprised gaze, the corners of Lu Ming's lips curled up slightly. "I saw the news online and have already gotten someone to deal with it. You don't have to worry. I've also found the publishers who framed you, but I haven't caught them yet. How are you going to punish them? I'll listen to you."

Lin Yin did not expect Lu Ming to move so quickly and quickly said, "I want to handle this matter myself."

Lu Ming raised his eyebrows and was suddenly curious about how Lin Yin was going to deal with it.

"Don't you need my help?"

"There's no need. It's just a small matter that's easy to resolve. There's no need to use a sledgehammer to kill a chicken. There's really no need to use your strength," Lin Yin rejected gently.

"Alright, if you need anything, you can tell me directly. Anytime." Lu Ming's dark eyes landed on Lin Yin's face, and every word was sincere.

Lin Yin nodded. "Yes, yes. Thank you, Uncle!"

Lu Ming's heart turned cold when Lin Yin called him "Uncle." His lips were filled with helplessness.

"Last time, you still called me Brother. Why are you calling me Uncle now?" Lu Ming looked at Lin Yin with a smile in his eyes.

"I'm of the same generation as Lu Yan, so our seniority can't be messed up. It's better to call you Uncle." Lin Yin's ears were a little hot.

The image of Lu Ming holding her waist and asking her to call him Brother suddenly appeared in her mind. In an instant, she felt that the air in the car had thinned.

Lu Ming sighed slightly. He could only persuade himself that Yinyin was still young and there was no hurry.

After sending Lin Yin to the Su Family, Lu Ming contacted his assistant and said, "Suspend everything on Lin Yin's side, but keep an eye on the people who need to be watched. We can't let them escape."

As soon as Lin Yin entered, a cup hit Lin Yin's feet.

Su Zhen's angry voice sounded. "Look at what you've done. Now, everyone is scolding our Su Family for raising an ingrate. There are even netizens who launched a boycott of the Su Family. You're going to destroy the Su Family!"

Lin Yin naturally knew what those netizens were doing. From attacking Lin Yin to attacking the Su Family, it was as if doing this was the sanction of the righteous side against the evil forces.

"That's right, Sister. It's just a little money. If you don't have it, I can give it to you on my side. It won't be like this. Now, everyone is laughing at our Su Family for not being able to fork out 200,000 yuan. The Su Family will lose face," Su Fei said worriedly.

When Su Zhen heard Su Fei's words, the anger in his heart intensified. "I thought you were smart. I didn't expect you to be stupid on this matter. They're just some lowly commoners. You can get rid of them with just some money. You don't even see things as clearly as Feifei. You really can't lose your petty nature."

Chu Yun said sarcastically, "That's right. She caused trouble outside and implicated her family. In the end, our Feifei still has to go out and clean up her mess for her."

Lin Yin frowned and asked Su Fei, "What did you do?"

Chapter 227: Foolish Teammate

Chu Yun snorted coldly and said, "What else can she do? For you, Feifei, a rich young lady, went to apologize to a few lowly people in the slums. She used 500,000 yuan to settle this matter. Jia Qing and the others said that they would consider removing those videos."

Lin Yin suddenly felt a headache coming on. Would Jia Qing's insatiable family stop after only receiving 500,000 yuan? They probably still had a big move waiting.

"Your brother was also implicated because of you. He and Feifei tried their best to persuade them in front of those people before they agreed. Look at what stupid things you've done!" When Su Zhen thought of this, he was furious with Lin Yin.

Su Zhen's son apologizing to those lowly people was enough to disgust him to the extreme.

Lin Yin suddenly smiled. Why did she have such a bunch of stupid teammates? It was originally very easy to resolve, but now, the cyber violence would probably be even more violent!

Seeing that Lin Yin did not reply, Su Fei thought that Lin Yin had nothing else to say and instantly felt smug.

These days, Su Zhen's attitude towards her had been very cold. From Su Lin's words, it seemed like Su Zhen still wanted to send her out to stay, so she had been looking for an opportunity to ease the tension.

Coincidentally, something like this happened to Lin Yin. She naturally had to seize this opportunity to let Su Zhen understand that his daughter, who had returned from the slums, had a limited future.

Only she, a daughter who had been raised by them for more than ten years, was useful.

Since she no longer had her parents' love, she would be a valuable person. This way, she could at least stay in the Su Family and not be chased out dejectedly. Su Fei looked at Lin Yin and said, "That's right, Sister. They said that they just wanted the treatment fees to begin with. I didn't expect you to be so cold-blooded as to leave her in the lurch, so I had no choice but to do this. However, I was very angry at that time. How could Sister be such a heartless person? It's just that we had a favor to ask, so I endured it."

"Why not? You're so vicious to your benefactor who has lived with you for so long. I wonder if you'll be even more ruthless to strangers like us who have never interacted with you." Su Lin, who had been silent, suddenly said sarcastically.

At the side, Su Zhen originally thought that Lin Yin was just petty. Now that he heard Su Lin's words, his probing gaze landed on Lin Yin.

Su Lin's words made sense. Lin Yin, who was cold-hearted, did indeed look like she could not be nurtured.

However, that didn't matter much. Lin Yin was just a pawn he used to exchange for benefits. It didn't matter if he raised her well.

Looking at the family in front of her echoing each other, Lin Yin only looked at them as if she was looking at a fool. Then, she said lightly, "Idiots!"

Hearing Lin Yin's words, Su Lin instantly exploded. He rushed in front of Lin Yin and scolded loudly, "Lin Yin, what do you mean? We didn't hesitate to put down our dignity to clean up your mess. It's fine if you're not grateful, but you actually scolded me. Don't think I don't dare to hit you."

Lin Yin sized up Su Lin in disdain and smiled. "Help me? I'll be eternally grateful if you don't drag me down. The Su Corporation has a public relations department, right? Come, call the public relations department and ask how much you can handle."

Su Fei knew that the Su Corporation had a public relations department, but in order to perform in front of Su Zhen, she naturally bypassed it.

If the public relations department took action, she would not have the chance to show off.

"Why? Do you think the public relations department can be better than me, the general manager?" Su Lin said disdainfully.

Lin Yin was simply stunned by Su Lin's blind confidence. She sneered and said, "Yes, you're amazing. Look at the latest trending topics later before telling me how amazing you are."

"We're talking about you now. Why are you talking about the trending topics? Lin Yin, you have to apologize to the entire family and thank Feifei for what happened today. She put down her dignity as a daughter of a rich family for you."

Su Fei grabbed Su Lin and said gently, "Brother, don't say that. I'm willing to do this. As long as it's for the good of the family and the Su Corporation, I'm willing to do anything."

Just as Chu Yun was feeling gratified, a call from the Su Corporation's public relations department instantly caused blood to rush to Su Zhen's head..

Chapter 228: The Culprit

"What did you say?" Su Zhen's shocked voice resounded in the villa.

The people beside him looked at Su Zhen in unison, wondering nervously what had happened to make Su Zhen's expression so bad.

Su Zhen turned on the speakerphone and said, "Say that again!"

When Su Zhen said this, his eyes were fixed on Su Fei and Su Lin.

The voice on the other end of the line came through the receiver.

"The video of President Su and Second Miss apologizing has been posted online. That family said that our Su Corporation used money to humiliate them, so they didn't accept the money. However, they want the public to give the poor justice. They challenged and asked if the poor really should die. Now, there's already an uproar online. Everyone is saying that our Su Corporation is rich and heartless and bullies others."

Su Fei's eyes widened. She said in disbelief, "That's impossible. How could they not have taken the money? They clearly received 500,000 yuan from us.

They're lying."

The public relations manager on the other end of the line asked, "Second Miss said that they took the money. Is there any evidence?"

"I... don't. But I didn't think of this at that time. I just wanted to resolve this matter quickly." Su Fei's voice gradually weakened, and she avoided Su Zhen's angry gaze in fear.

The public relations manager was silent for a moment before he continued,

"It's not the best solution to send money to apologize and settle this matter. Once we're caught, even if they don't accept it, they'll give everyone the impression that our Su Corporation is in the wrong and indirectly confirm Missy's guilt."

“Then why didn’t you say so earlier? What’s the use of saying it now?!” Su Lin was also a little angry as he questioned.

If it weren’t for the fact that this public relations department was too slow, he and Su Fei wouldn’t have had to bow down to apologize and give them money.

They had even been tricked.

The Public Relations Manager continued, “Missy gave us some materials previously, but they’re a little scattered now. We’re still sorting them out, so we need some time. This matter just happened not long ago. Our public relations department has already sent you a plan to deal with it.”

Su Lin was stunned. What solution? Why didn’t he have any impression of it?

Su Lin hurriedly turned on his cell phone to see if he had received any emails.

In the end, he saw the email that the public relations manager had mentioned. Su Zhen pulled the cell phone from Su Lin’s hand hard. After reading it, his aura darkened.

After hanging up the public relations manager’s call, Su Zhen questioned Su Lin angrily, “Why don’t you read your emails? Can’t you take some time out to read your emails for the entire day? Where did you go? You asked me to gradually let go of the Corporation’s matters and let you handle them. Is this how you manage it?”

Su Lin lowered his head, not daring to make a sound.

Because at the time he received the email, he was having a tryst with Su Fei. Then, he went to the hospital to give them money to resolve Lin Yin’s mess.

However, he really did not expect that those people would still spout nonsense after receiving the money.

However, Lin Yin was the one who exposed this matter.

Hence, Su Lin looked up and glared at Lin Yin. “Lin Yin, you were the one who caused this. Otherwise, so much wouldn’t have happened. You’re the culprit.”

Su Fei said with red eyes, “Dad, Brother and I went to apologize for the sake of the Corporation. Who would have thought that that family would be like this? They don’t keep their word and are greedy. Sister has lived with those people for so long, she must know their bad temper. Why didn’t Sister tell us earlier?

That way, we wouldn’t have been deceived.”

Lin Yin sneered. “You were personally raised by Mom and Dad, and Brother was even nurtured to be the Su Corporation’s heir. Do you still need me to tell you about such a thing? Crisis public relations. Why? Did Brother not learn well?”

“No matter what, you’re the one who caused this. They must be angry that you’re cold-blooded and heartless. If you apologize now, they might be relieved.” Chu Yun couldn’t stand Lin Yin’s accusatory look.

Lin Yin smiled and looked at Su Zhen.. “Dad, you’ve already seen the information I gave the public relations department, right? If Su Fei hadn’t taken matters into her own hands and if Brother hadn’t ignored the company’s internal affairs, I think our Su Corporation would have benefited from this disaster, right?”

Chapter 229: Exalted

Su Zhen had to say that with the information provided by Lin Yin and the plan of the public relations department, this could indeed reverse the situation. It could even be said that they could use the huge traffic of this matter to make a free advertisement for the Su Corporation.

In the end, he did not expect Su Fei and Su Lin to ruin it.

Lin Yin glanced at Su Lin and smiled. "Brother, I didn't tell Dad about this directly. Instead, I sent the information to the company's public relations department because I wanted you to use this opportunity to perform well in front of Dad. I didn't expect you to waste my efforts."

Su Lin did not believe that Lin Yin would be so kind, but from the looks of it, this seemed to be the case.

Su Zhen looked at Su Lin and was really angry. "You idiot!"

After scolding Su Lin, Su Zhen immediately looked at Lin Yin with a smile and said, "Yinyin, Dad wronged you in this matter. However, now that this matter has caused a storm in the city, Yinyin, you have to explain it to the Lu Family. You can't let others really think that our Su Family is that kind of heartless family."

Lin Yin chuckled. As a father, the first thing he did when his daughter was scolded by the entire Internet was not to comfort her, but to reprimand her. He did not care about his daughter's situation, but he was worried that she would not be able to climb up the social ladder. She had finally seen it.

"Dad, you should discuss the next clarification plan with the public relations department first." After Lin Yin said this indifferently, she went upstairs and returned to the bedroom.

Hearing the scolding and crying downstairs, Lin Yin stuffed her earphones into her ears to watch the video.

At this moment, in the hospital, Jia Rong's family was gloating as they watched the Su Family get scolded.

Jia Song smiled and said, "The Su Family is really stupid. The matter wasn't settled in the first place, but as soon as they came to apologize, we really became victims. Not only did we get 500,000 yuan for nothing, but we also attracted more donations."

Jia Rong was also so excited that his face was red. Together with the Su

Family's 500,000 yuan, they already had 1.2 million yuan. He had never seen so much money in his life.

"Daughter, you're amazing. I didn't expect those two children from the Su Family to be so stupid. We only said that we would consider it, and they gave us money directly. This child from a rich family is so easy to deceive. Thinking about it, my daughter is still the smartest." Chang Hao had money, so she was no longer stingy with Jia Qing's praise.

In the past, Chang Hao's attitude towards Jia Qing was not like this. Other than speaking in a better tone when there was a need, she spent most of her time scolding her with words along the lines of being a good-for-nothing who did not know how to earn money, a waste of food, or useless.

Now that she could finally bring benefits to her family, she could naturally hold her head high in front of her parents.

At the thought of this, Jia Qing's expression became a little proud. She said to Jia Song, "Brother, accompany Dad for the time being and don't go out and cause trouble again. Dad happens to be undergoing surgery. Help take care of him."

"What about you? Dad is in the hospital. If you don't come to take care of Dad, where are you going? How can a man like me do such a thing? Isn't this usually done by you women?" Jia Song glanced at Jia Qing disdainfully.

Jia Qing did not expect Jia Song to still be like this. She said angrily, "I raised the surgery fees for Dad and brought so much money to the family. What's wrong with asking you to take care of Dad? I'll gather the money and you'll help. Isn't that right?"

Jia Song instantly stood up like a cat whose tail had been stepped on. She pointed at Jia Qing's nose and said loudly, "What do you mean you gathered the money? This is a donation from people who sympathizes with Dad. This is Dad's money. Dad's money is my money at the end of the day. Your money? Pfft! You're an outsider who's going to marry off in the future, but you actually want the family's money. You're unfilial!"

When Jia Qing heard Jia Song's words, her eyes instantly turned red.

Because she was a girl and because she was going to marry out in the future, everything in the family belonged to her brother. Jia Qing had known this since she was young.

However, all the money was gathered because of her plan. Couldn't she have a share? She was indignant.

"Brother, it's not up to you to decide if I'm filial or not. In short, I have a share of the money this time. I can't stay in school anymore because of this matter, so I'll use this money to find a good school to continue my studies." Jia Qing said her plan forcefully..

Chapter 230: Unfilial

Chang Hao was afraid that if Jia Qing stopped cooperating, he wouldn't be able to get more money. He quickly pulled Jia Song back and smiled. "Son, what Qingqing said makes sense. Qingqing is our family's hero this time. We should give her this money. Besides, it's just a school. It won't cost much."

After Chang Hao finished persuading Jia Song, he turned around and pulled Jia Qing affectionately. "Qingqing, don't be angry with your brother. He's that kind of person. In Dad and Mom's eyes, you're the most filial child. Don't be angry. Take care of this school first. When the time comes, Dad and Mom will help you settle the transfer procedures."

When Jia Qing heard Chang Hao's words, she looked disdainfully at the still indignant Jia Song.

Jia Rong, who was lying on the hospital bed, did not say a word.

After sending Jia Qing away, Jia Song asked angrily, "Mom, why don't you let me say it? I'm not wrong, am I? What right does a person who's going to get married in the future have to covet our Jia Family's assets? If this isn't unfilial, what is?"

Jia Rong also said unhappily, "Raising a daughter is worthless. She actually dares to have designs on us. It's already good enough for her to go to school, but she's still not satisfied. If I had known, I would have let her work at the factory earlier."

Chang Hao looked at the Jia father and son angrily and said, "Why are you guys angry with her now? We still have to rely on her to raise money for us. After this matter passes, we can just find a random reason to marry her off."

Jia Rong nodded in agreement. "Anyway, didn't she say that she can't return to school? Instead of spending money on her schooling, it's better to let her get married and collect betrothal money."

Hearing this, Jia Song felt a little better. "Then I'll endure that wretched girl for a few more days."

The next morning, the Su Family's share price fell again and again, almost scaring Su Zhen out of his heart. Hence, he went to the company for a meeting early in the morning.

Mu Heng naturally saw the news. He did not expect his business partner's family to encounter such a thing, and it seemed like the matter was getting worse.

Just as Mu Heng was considering whether to contact Lin Yin and see if she needed any help, Guan Nan knocked on the door and entered.

"Boss, I've found the two accounts you asked me to check." Guan Nan placed the information in his hand on Mu Heng's table.

When Mu Heng saw the name "Lin Yin" on the document, he raised his eyebrows in interest.

Guan Nan reported, "The owner of one of these two accounts is called Bai Tong. He's a feng Shui master. It's indeed as you expected, Boss. He's related to Chu Ning. On the surface, he's the one guiding Chu Ning to invest in stocks. However, I realized that while Bai Tong was investing in stocks, he seemed to have contacted a mysterious person frequently. I think that mysterious person might be the mastermind.'

At this point, Guan Nan paused for a moment before continuing, "As for the other person, I think you know her, Boss. She's Miss Lin Yin, your partner."

"Lin Yin..." Mu Heng muttered. Then, he picked up the comparison of the two accounts and smiled. "It seems that Lin Yin and the mysterious person you mentioned are very likely the same person."

Guan Nan was a little surprised. "But Miss Lin Yin is so young. Is that possible? Could there be another expert behind them?"

"Nothing is impossible. To be able to snatch Jiang Chen away before me and come up with so many advanced ideas, it's naturally possible that she's an expert in the stock market," Mu Heng said with a smile.

"Then, Boss, what should we do next?" Guan Nan asked. Then, he asked hesitantly, "Miss Lin Yin seems to have encountered trouble these two days. Do we need to reach out and help?"

"Let's wait and see. I think she should have a plan." Mu Heng's eyes shone with anticipation.

As soon as Lin Yin got out of the car at the school gate, a group of people suddenly rushed up and splashed paint on her, chanting, "You're heartless for your wealth. Damn it! You trample on human lives. You're worse than a beast!" Lin Yin quickly dodged the paint, but she was still splashed.

Just as Lin Yin's eyes turned sharp and she was about to attack, a group of people suddenly surrounded Lin Yin and subdued the people who splashed paint and insulted her.

"Yinyin, are you alright?" Mu Xiao's voice came from not far away..
