After the Divorce CEO Realizes He's the Stand-In Lover By Madison King Chapter 216

Chapter 216 Hearts?

Looking at this lonely high heeled shoe, Natalie frowned and called for a cleaner.

"Auntie, could you please clean this up? Thank you very much."

Patients would be disappointed if they saw such a shoe in the diagnosis and treatment meeting.

What's more, many famous families came to greet my uncle in the meeting this time, making it even more impolite if them saw it.

After clearing up the garbage on the ground, Natalie arrived at uncle's medical room, and there were still as many people as usual,

But there's no way. At this pace, even if uncle didn't eat or drink, he couldn't finish his work although it turned dark.

She tried to squash in.

"Hey, why do you jump in the queue? Do you know any manner?" The person next to her protested.

Natalie looked a bit awkward.

"Yes! Go to queue up if you need to see the doctor."

"This girl looks decent but she doesn't do right thing."

People around her were all looking at her with dissatisfaction.

She blinked her eyes and tried to explain, "Emmm... I'm a doctor, not here to see a doctor, so I'm not taking your place"

The people around her didn't care if she's a doctor or not. After waiting in line for such a long time, they were so agitated that they couldn't listen to any explanation, "regardless of whoever you are, go back and queue up."

After the words, they pushed Natalie back.

Natalie didn't expect people would push her directly. When she was about to sigh and walked out of the crowds, she was heavily pushed on her back and tottered to fall off.

When people around her saw that she was about to fall, they quickly tried to help her, but suddenly they were pushed away.

Natalie felt a hand suddenly extend from behind her, and she felt a familiar breath.

Julian reached out and holed her back, locking tightly around the woman's waist with his powerful arm.

Natalie blinked her eyes and thought why Julian was here.

As if conditioned reflex, she almost immediately escaped from the man's arms.

"Don't move," Julian's deep voice whispered in her ear.

This man was holding her now. How could she stay still? Should her let him hold her?

Natalie didn't even think about it and directly reached out her elbow to strike the man, striking heavily without any mercy.

"Let go of me now."

She hit so fast and heavily that her elbow even carried the wind.

As Julian saw the woman's elbow thrust towards his face, he quickly turned his head and dodged.

“Who did you learn from for being so rude? It’s really hard for you to pretend to be virtuous for such a long time at home.”

His words were full of sarcasm.

From this sentence, it is obvious that Julian felt a bit of dissatisfaction with the woman’s sudden movements.

“None of your business.”

“I’m just helping you, okay?” Julian frowned, his tone barely remaining gentle.

“If you run out now, you will still be pushed down by someone”

But this woman seemed to be completely ungrateful.

“No need. “Natalie looked up at the man and said, “You help me if you quickly get out of here.”

Hearing this, Julian’s eyebrows furrowed tightly, and a hint of anger flashed in his black eyes.

“If you don’t take your hand away, I’ll call out.”

“Let’s take a look at how Julian Graham, the CEO of Graham, harasses women.”

Julian’s face darkened.

He let go of his hand.

Natalie quickly left him meters away.

She felt some pushing and shoving from the crowd around her, and quickly walked out to leave the dangerous crowd.

What was the most important was that left this man quickly.

Through numerous obstacles, she finally walked out. And when she looked up, she saw Julian who still stood in the crowds, looked at her with his brow twisted.

She couldn't figure out what kinds of Ideas were hidden behind his dark eyes.

antar 4JAH-Me?

98.35%

Natalie ignored his gaze. And since she couldn't get in uncle's office, she could only return to her own office.

She pulled out the chair and sat down.

However, it is obvious that everyone was following the name of the Spears family in New York, and no one had come to her, let alone come to her for medical treatment.

Natalie sighed.

When she was bored, she was about to take out her phone, but how did she feel like someone was staring at her all the time?

Natalie raised her eyes and saw Julian again. She looked at the man from afar.

Just now the distance was too close, she didn't pay close attention to Julian.

Looking from a distance now, the man was in a white shirt paired with a casual black suit.

The overall material of the clothes looked slightly soft and comfortable, which effectively neutralized the man's cold and stern temperament, and the slender and straight legs were below the shirt.

Natalie curled her lips.

With such dignified temperament, Julian seemed out of place to mix with the crowd seemed.

The man noticed the woman's gaze coming over, and for some unknown reason, he closed his eyes.

The man stood seriously in the queue again, with a straight back.

Is he queuing up?

Come to see uncle for medical treatment?

Natalie frowned.

It shouldn't be, there are so many doctors in Gu's private hospital, who can't treat him?
How does he come here to see uncle for medical treatment?

And looking at him like this, he doesn't seem to be sick at all.

Natalie frowned.

Julian was not only cold but also a bit aloof. He could resist his impatience and queued up with such a rude group of people.

It's really a rare sight in a hundred years.

However, Natalie raised her eyes and looked at the end of the team. At the current pace, even if the CEO queued until dark, he might not be able to walk up to uncle.

It's just a waste of effort.

But what does it have to do with her whether he can make it?

Natalie raised her eyebrows and lowered her head to focus on her own business, leaving Julian alone.

Suddenly, a message came from her phone, and Natalie looked down. It was Ryan.

[Doctor, how is uncle's diagnosis and treatment going?]

[Not very good.] Natalie replied without much expression.

Ryan held his phone and looked at this message, feeling a bit uneasy.

Is doctor not satisfied with the consultation he conducted?

He sweated and carefully typed, [Doctor, where do you think I'm not doing well? I'll definitely improve.]

There were several crying expressions following.

When Natalie saw those crying expressions, she really recalled Ryan's daily grievances. She unconsciously curled her lips and smiled.

Seeing Natalie not replying, Ryan became even more uneasy.

[This is also my first time holding such a large medical meeting. If you tell me the problem, I will definitely correct it. Please don't get angry.]

[Doctor, please don't ignore me, I will definitely correct it]

One message after another.

Natalie couldn't bear to tease Ryan any more.

[I'm teasing you.]

[You did a great job in this medical meeting. I haven't thanked you yet, but you kept apologizing in return]

[But there are really many people here, and they can't even move. I guess uncle won't be able to eat lunch.

today~]

Hearing this, Ryan let go of his heart.

[I'll ask someone to help me deliver lunch to uncle, and I'll make sure he can have meal!]

[And MasterChef will cook personally to ensure that uncle will be satisfied]

Next came a confident and adorable dog expression pack.

Natalie curled her lips. And her eyebrows and eyes were full of laughter.

This smile all fell into Julian's eyes.

He tilted his head to look at the woman.

The woman sat in the sunlight, a few afterglows sprinkled on Natalie's hair, reflecting a colorful shimmer.

Brimful suggestions of smile, temperament of gentleness and elegance, and the crowds who were perfectly noisy.

Get Boys

Everything was just right.

Coupled with the white gown she was wearing, she looked like an angel in the world.

Julian blinked uneasily, even his body stiffened a bit, and his back straightened even more.

President, what's the matter

Joey keenly noticed something wrong with the CEO and quickly greeted him, "Are you feel uncomfortable? Do you feel tired for standing too long? Do you want to take a break beside?"

"May I help you queue up?"

Julian regained his composure and awkwardly concealed it, then he resumed his stern demeanor, "No need,"

he said.

Everything is just right.

Only the woman's smiling eyes are not smiling for him.

Chapter 217 Break her leg

Niki genuflected in the car and bumped all the way to a dilapidated factory.

This factory had a rusty roof and even many patched zinc panels. Behind the factory was a blocked ditch, dirty and smelly, giving the impression that all the accumulated garbage in Los Angeles was rotting in the ditch

Even from afar, the rotten stink could be smelt.

Although Niki had a hood over her head, she could still smell a strong stink before getting off the car.

She frowned.

This smell was really unpleasant... Where were these people taking her? Were they going to kill her and bury.

her here?

As soon as this bad idea arose in Niki's mind, her whole body kept trembling

"No, no-"

Seeing that the woman was so frightened, Jaxton kicked her up in an impatient manner.
“Why are you trembling?”

“Why didn’t you tremble when you were just arrogantly cursing?”

Niki was kicked hard by the man and even rolled straight out of the car.

It happened that the rough stone hit her face. Maybe it was psychological effect, she felt that there was blood left on her face again.

No, no, her face!

Niki didn’t care if it hurt anymore, she got up from the ground in a hurry, afraid that the stone would scratch her face.

Jaxton had no intention of showing any mercy towards her. He grabbed Niki’s head and waved his hand to the men nearby.

A group of men understood their boss’s meaning right away and simply cleaned up the road ahead.

Jaxton pulled Niki into the room and threw her on the ground.

“You guys keep an eye on this girl, I’ll answer the phone.”

“Got it, boss, just go ahead.”

The man looked respectfully at Jaxton as he left. He gave Niki a cold glance and then pulled off the hood from her head.

Being blinded in the black hood for too long, Niki couldn’t adapt for a moment when she saw the sunlight all of a sudden. She instinctively narrowed her eyes.

It was about ten seconds before her vision returned to clarity.

“This woman is really pretty.” Said the man next to him, with a profound tone as he saw Niki’s hood taken off.

Someone answered.

“I wonder what it would be like to have sex with her...”

Niki blinked her eyes while a hint of humiliation flashed on her face. She was pretending not to hear.

Her hands were already tied while her mouth stuffed with towels, and she was genuflecting on the muddy ground.

Upon closer inspection, the mud was stained with speckled rust, and not far away were copper nails covered in speckled rust marks.

Was this a dilapidated factory?

Niki was a little desperate.

After the bumps along the way, she had now calmed down a bit and knew that the most important thing now was to find a way out of danger.

But who could she turn to for help?

Julian?

The first thing that came to her mind was Julian's name...

She twisted her hands to check if her phone was still there.

However, before she could make a wide move, she was seen by a ferocious man on the side.

He reached out his foot and kicked Niki at once, “Are you starting to wriggle? Can't you just wait?”

“She's got a nice ass.”

Niki lost her footing and fell to the ground.

The smooth and tender skin hit the stone once again.

The men continued to talk their bestial words. She tried to sit up, but her hands were already tied so she couldn't do it.

These stones were really dirty, so her face must not be cut...

She couldn't be... so humiliated...

Niki struggled to curl up her legs and tried her best to sit up again. But her legs were weak from the exertion.

She almost...

Just as she was about to sit up again, the man kicked her down again with an unusually playful expression.

Niki gritted her teeth while tears welled up in her eyes.

"Well, you're crying, it makes me feel like I want to protect you!"

The men next to him burst into laughter.

Niki cried harder than ever.

Waiting for Julian to rescue her? Maybe Julian wouldn't come even after she died.

He might have been fooled around by the bitch Natalie again,

Despair flashed in Niki's eyes.

No!

At this moment, Roger's men should have already captured Natalie, right?

As Niki was thinking, footsteps came to her ear.

"Why is this woman crying?" Jaxton took a cigarette from his mouth and walked in step by step.

"Such a delicate woman, she would cry as soon as we take the slightest movement.
The man next to him

chuckled.

Niki looked up with a mournful expression.

This... this man... Wasn't he Roger's subordinate?

Niki showed a shocked expression on her face, "Ooo-"

She struggled desperately to tell Jaxton that he had caught the wrong person.

But her mouth had been tightly blocked by the towel, so that she couldn't make a sound at all.

Listening to the woman's sobs, Jaxton showed a hint of impatience on his face while cleaning his ear.

Seeing that his boss was impatient, the man next to him slapped Niki right away, 'Shut up, be quiet!'

A scarlet palm print appeared on the woman's face at once.

Jaxton was holding a cigarette and staring at the woman kneeling on the ground with no expression, as if looking at a toy.

"Boss, sit down, please."

The person next to him got a chair for Jaxton in good time. Then Jaxton glanced at the person and praised him, "You are really sensible."

He took the opportunity to sit down.

Niki gritted her teeth and stared at Jaxton who was showing his carefree demeanor.

Get

He got the wrong person!

How could this person be so foolish!

At the moment, Niki had a really complex feeling, and fear had been replaced by anger.

After working hard to plan for so long, she replaced Natalie to suffer in the end?!

These should have been suffered all by Natalie!

Those stones should also have scratched Natalie's face!

The smoke filled up little by little while Jaxton tilted his eyes to glance at her.

"Why is this woman's gaze so fierce."

"It seems that she has a strong personality"

Niki clenched on the towel, with hatred in her eyes that was about to burst out.

"Well, now she looks just like before when she was arrogant!"

Jaxton became interested in her at once.

“Come break her leg and see how arrogant she is!”

Jaxton stopped smoking the cigarette in his mouth and threw it on the ground, stomping hard on the cigarette end with his feet

“Break her leg? The man next to him hesitated and didn’t dare to move.

Jaxton raised his eyebrows. “What’s wrong? You’re quite compassionate towards fragile girls.”

He gave that guy a punch. “You dare not? Don’t you look like yourself when you see a beauty?”

“No, I must dare to do it.”

A smile appeared on the man’s face, ‘But if we break her leg, is it okay to report to Mr. Ward?’

Jaxton continued to clean his ears. “Don’t worry about Mr. Ward, I’ll handle it.” He said in a casual tone.

*Don’t you want to avenge our brothers lying in the hospital?”

This woman had caused him to lose two men, but she was still so arrogant and looked down on everything.

He had to break her leg and show her who was in charge of the world.

“Revenge!”

Hearing Jaxton’s words, a man next to him picked up a steel rod and walked towards Niki without any hesitation.

The steel rod was dragged on the ground and rattled.

Niki’s eyes widened.

Get Bogos

Ho

She struggled in despair, “No, please-”

But no one heard this, only the woman’s whimpering sound fell into their ears,

“No! If you break my leg. Mr. Ward will definitely punish you all!” Her sharp voice turned into a whimper.

But no one cared.

As the man’s steel rod fell fiercely, blood gushed out.

Countless streams of blood flowed down the woman’s pants without stopping.

Chapter 218 Rescue from a stranger

Niki stared at her legs in astonishment. Crimson blood trickling out from the wound, which pierced her eyes.

“Legs, my legs-” She stared at her own legs with her eyes widening, unable to believe it for a moment.

Soon, the pain spread and a piercing pain pierced into her heart.

It hurt so much.

She was pampered in her daily life without doing any physical work or being injured. How could she have experienced this kind of pain?

It hurt too much.

Tears flowed out with pain, and Niki could only shout helplessly, ‘Please, please let go of me, my legs, my legs...’

Nobody would hear.

The fiercer she cried, the more pitiful the expression on her face, while Jaxton smiled brightly.

He found it interesting to trample on her self-esteem.

Niki just heard the laughter from the men around her. “Boss, we vent our anger now!”

Jaxton curled his lips, with a bright smile on his face and also in his eyes.

He lit another cigarette again, and the smoke enveloped him as the men walked towards her with a sly smile.

The smile fell into Niki’s eyes like demons from hell, making her body tremble uncontrollably and wanting to escape.

She no longer cared about the pain in her legs and desperately retreated, wanting to break free from the shackle of this demon.

“No, no-”

But how could she possibly get rid of Jaxton since she dragged a broken leg and crawled on the ground in such a mess?

Jaxton grabbed the woman’s bleeding legs to pulled her back without mercy.

Blood flowing from the legs and formed a perfect arc in a sinuous shape.

“This woman still has the strength to crawl? Didn’t you just hit hard enough?” Jaxton said with a hint in his tone.

The men around him naturally understood his meaning.

Then hit her a few more times for fear that this woman crawling around and annoying us.”

As he spoke, he glanced at the woman lying on the ground like garbage.

The man picked up the steel rod again.

The steel rod with rust had already been stained with blood that hit the woman for the first time, mixed with stink smell of rust that was scaring.

Niki’s eyes widened.

“Please let me go. I’ll give you everything you want, I can give you anything. Please.”

“Everything is fine”

At this moment, fear had already occupied her mind, and she had long ignored her self esteem.

She just wanted to beg Jaxton to let her go with all her heart.

The steel rod fell for the second time

The warm blood rushed out like a spring, staining the ground red in a flash... It was quite bloody.

The pain this time was several times greater than the first time, while Niki's forehead oozed sweat, even causing her to faint in an instant.

She couldn't move anymore.

Because it really hurt.

She lay on the ground without struggle, letting the pain sweep through her body.

"It seems that she has been completely well-behaved this time, she looks really pathetic."

"Boss, shall I continue to hit her?" The man with a steel rod asked Jaxton.

Jaxton took a puff of smoke and puffed out a smoke circle in the air, without giving an answer.

He looked down at Niki lying motionless on the ground, as if looking at his own spoils.

But when he saw that his spoils were no longer moving like broken dolls, he lost his interest.

This woman was so arrogant at the clinic meeting, but now she was lifeless. She was not that noble as he thought.

Boring.

He lowered his head and spat a cigarette at the woman. "Whatever, if anyone hasn't vent his anger yet, he can hit a few more times."

"Just don't kill her."

"Wait until you have completely calmed down, then call Mr. Ward and ask him to take her away."

"Got it." The men next to him laughed and were all eager to have a try.

In their eyes, Niki was just a woman who was cruelly oppressed by them.

“Who want to be the first?” Exclaimed a burly man.

“I’ll be the first.” A group of voices vied with each other.

Niki listened to the sound in her ear, lying motionless on the ground as if she was died.

Only the tears in her eyes could tell that she was still alive.

She couldn’t break free anymore.

Someone picked up the steel rod again.

After experiencing the pain of the first two times, Niki had become somewhat numb.
She didn’t even blink her eyes and just looked at the steel rod like that.

Just as she thought the pain would come again, the sound of fighting came to her ears.

“Boss, something happened to us, there’s been a sneak attack!”

She turned her head to have a look.

About a dozen bodyguards rushed in, each with weapons in hands and serious expression.

“Where did you come from?!” Jaxton and his men were not to be trifled with. Seeing someone coming to their territory, they didn’t even think about it and rolled up their sleeves to start fighting.

The two groups of people clearly have received professional training, each with agile skills. Once they engaged, it felt like a fighting scene in a martial arts film.

For a moment, Niki felt dizzy and her expression was both startled and shocked.

She watched them for a moment before she realized it. Then she blinked her eyes, and the tension in her eyes finally relaxed a bit.

Julian came to save her??

She was first excited, then felt aggrieved.

She had already suffered such great injustice, how did Julian come to save her until now?

Niki was dissatisfied in her heart.

But on second thought, it seemed that Julian still loved her, at least he was willing to come and save her.

If only she could live!

Hopes of rescue emerged, and Niki struggled to sit up.

She must seize every opportunity to escape and leave these demons right away.

But just as she was about to sit up, there was a commotion around her since Jaxton grabbed her.

Jaxton first reached out his fist and fiercely punched the bodyguard. Taking advantage of the person who didn't notice him, he flipped back and came to Niki.

"Want to escape?"

"You can't."

He grabbed Niki's wrist and released his other hand to deal with the difficult bodyguards.

He couldn't bear it anymore, so he picked up the steel rod on the ground and swung it at the bodyguards.

Niki was forcibly dragged away by the man, while her ears filled with screams, shouts of killing, and the sound of combat at close quarters

She closed her eyes in pain.

Just when they ran outside, a dozen more bodyguards appeared in front of Jaxton, each with a ferocious demeanor, looking even more difficult to deal with than those inside.

"Damn it!"

Jaxton cursed.

Before he could react, the bodyguards all rushed up.

Even if Jaxton was much more powerful, it was still really laborious to fight against more than ten masters on his own.

Not to mention he was still holding Niki who was a weak woman in his hand.

“Puff-“Jaxton was punched on the back and spat out blood.

He turned around to fight back, but was kicked in the leg again and couldn't help but kneel down.

“Come here, hurry up!”

Niki heard a female voice

She looked up and saw a woman sitting in a car not far away, waving to her in anxiety,

Who was this?

Niki didn't know her.

She was stunned.

Shouldn't it be Julian who came to save her? Who was this woman? She had never seen her at Graham's house

Didn't Julian come to save her?

“Hurry up!” Said the woman as she saw Niki getting a little confused. Her expression became even more anxious, “If you don't come here, it will be too late!”

Upon hearing this, Niki didn't have time to think much. As Jaxton was entangled by a group of bodyguards and couldn't get away, she took a step and ran towards the car at a high speed.

She could no longer care about the pain in her legs, it was crucial to save her life.

Even if she climbed over, she had to do it.

Chapter 219 Miss Turner

Niki stumbled towards the car.

Seeing that the woman slipped out from under his own scrutiny, Jaxton fought against them with more strength and wanted to chase her in a hurry.

If the woman who was finally caught just ran away like this, how could he explain it to Mr. Ward?

But the few bodyguards behind him were really difficult to deal with.

They were just pestering Jaxton like this, but they didn't take any action. It was obvious that they were trying to drag on time.

He couldn't even get rid of them..

Just as he solved that one, there would be another one came back, they were like glue that was difficult to get rid of.

Jaxton could only watch her helplessly as Niki ran towards the car.

Niki dragged her injured leg and left blood on the ground, walking step by step towards the car.

The young woman sitting in the car felt really distressed when she saw her appearance.

When there was still about twenty meters left, she couldn't help but jump down to pick up Niki.

Just as she was about to get up, she was stopped by the bodyguard in the car.

"Miss Turner, it's too dangerous outside for you to go."

"But she was so pathetic." The woman said in an anxious tone and was eager to pick up Niki right away.

"It's okay, nothing bad will happen to her. Please sit down first."

However, the woman clearly didn't want to sit in the seat and insisted on getting off to pick up Niki. "Her leg's hurt and it's bleeding. She can't walk fast."

The bodyguard said in a dissuasive tone.

"It is really dangerous for you to rescue someone here all of a sudden. If you were injured here, we wouldn't be able to explain it to your father."

“Just sit here.”

“With so many bodyguards from the Turner family over there, she will definitely be fine. If something happens to you, we have no way to explain it once we returned home.”

Upon hearing this, the woman shrunk back a bit, although there was eagerness in her eyes.

Originally, her father asked her to go to a clinical meeting to deliver some documents to Tory.

The relationship between the Turner family and the Spears family in New York was quite good.

Moreover, the Turner family and the Spears family had comparable power, and if they cooperated well, they would achieve win-win results.

She didn't want to go at first, but her father said that as long as she went, he would buy the roadster she wanted.

This was an opportunity to get the car she'd always dreamed of for nothing, it was a chance that would never come back.

And it happened that she was in Los Angeles, so why not do this along the way?

Then she agreed.

But before she even got there, she saw this girl being dragged into a car by a group of vicious men.

This was kidnapping!

How could she bear such a crime since she hated evil?

Forthright and righteous by nature, she would not tolerate such a thing under her nose.

Without thinking, she ignored the block of Uncle Terry and bodyguard and ordered to save her.

They followed this group of people all the way to this dilapidated factory, but in the end, they were a few steps late... The poor girl was still injured in the leg by those men.

Lara fixed her eyes on Niki, in case anything else happened to her.

Finally, Niki walked to the car.

“Uncle Turner, you can get off to pick her up. She won’t be able to get on because of her weak legs.”

An old man stopped and turned his head as he heard the sound.

He glanced at Niki.

The woman’s hair was messy while her clothes were muddy, and her pants were covered in blood. She was totally in a mess

They didn’t even know who this woman was, there was no need to save her...

And seeing this woman in such a miserable state, she must have offended someone.

They didn’t know who they might end up offending by stepping in to save her.

He sighed.

“Miss Turner, you are just too kind.” The man said in a helpless tone.

“Hurry up, Uncle Turner, you’re the best!” Lara grabbed Uncle Turner’s arm and said in a tone of pity.

“We’ve already come here, let’s just follow through on a good deed. And you know how pathetic she is since she is treated like this at an age similar to mine. She’s really a poor girl.”

Poor?

There must be a reason for her to be poor

Miss Turner was just too kind, she couldn’t take people at face value

Uncle Turner, if you don’t get off, I do it myself Lara pulled open the door to get off

“Well-

Uncle Turner stopped her and then sighed again.

Ti go. Miss Turner Please sit down right away

She could only be spoiled since she was Miss Turner

Uncle Turner got off the car and went to help Niki.

Seeing that someone getting off the car to help her. Niki showed her gratitude in a hurry. "Thank you

Hearing the woman's moan by his ear, Uncle Turner turned his head and took out the towel from Nike's mouth

After being confined for so long and the towel on her mouth was suddenly taken off, Niki felt like her chin was about to dislocate.

"Thank you!" She thanked him at once with a tone in sincere gratitude

She was taken into the car by Uncle Turner successfully

After getting into the car, Niki viewed the woman's face in front of her in detail

It was a really beautiful face

Quite pretty

That kind of beauty was different from her purity, but an ultimate charm

The woman had thick and smooth long hair, fair skin, and those seductive and slanted eyes were really

captivating

The crimson lips demonstrated a graceful and charming appearance.

"Uncle Turner, drive the car, hurry up! Uncle Turner had just sat up when he heard Miss Turner's tone of anxiety

"Got it, let's go."

Although he promised in a relax tone, Uncle Turner gave Niki a wary glance in the rearview mirror and then gave the bodyguard a hint

The bodyguard understood

He leaned over to Lara at once and prepared himself to prevent this embarrassed woman from attacking Miss Turner

Chapter 219

Niki pursed her lips.

She was not stupid. She could see the hostility of the bodyguard towards her,

She turned her head to look at Lara.

Suddenly, she felt a bit wary. Since she had never seen this woman before.

Why did she save her? Would she escape to another hell?

At the clinical meeting.

As Natalie's expectations, she sat at a nearby booth and watched the crowds.

It wasn't until dark that the crowd thinned.

And Julian stood there, without getting in line from day to night.

She raised her eyebrows and watched Julian freeze in the cold wind.

"Mr. Graham, would you like to drink some water?"

Joey stood with Julian for a whole day like this, but the wind outside was so strong that even he couldn't bear it.

"No."

Julian waved his hand.

Joey retracted his hand holding the water.

"Are you hungry or not? Would you like me to buy dinner for you?" Joey asked again.

"No." He gave the same answer.

Staring at the CEO who was standing straight, he hesitated to say something.

There were so many doctors in Graham's family, why did he have to queue with so many people?

It was already dark now, and he hadn't lined up yet... Wasn't it a pain in the ass??

Just as he was muttering in his mind, Julian waved at him..

Joey showed a smile on his face right away as he ran over. "What's the matter, Mr. Graham? Are you a bit hungry? I'll go get dinner."

"I'm not hungry." Julian's face remained expressionless.

"So what do you mean?" Joey couldn't understand.

"Go to the Sunny Restaurant to order some dishes and give one to each doctor at the clinical meeting."

"Order the best dish from the Sunny Restaurant for Doctor Spears and Natalie."

Get Bogat

"What?" Joey blinked and didn't understand what Mr. Graham was going to do.

That was the Sunny Restaurant, the dishes there were super expensive.

Even he hadn't eaten the dish there, and Mr. Graham wanted to order one for each doctor?

He wanted to become one of these doctors for a moment.

"Go." The man's cold gaze swept over, and with just one word, Joey knew that Mr. Graham had run out of patience.

"Got it, I'm going now!"

Chapter 220 Julian was ruthlessly rejected.

Joey trotted and drove to buy something to eat, leaving Julian standing in place.

Julian waited for a while longer, and the people before him finally finished their appointment with the doctor.

Tory sat on the chair, after seeing so many patients, and not having lunch, he was already a bit tired.

"Hello, Dr. Spears," Julian's polite voice came into his ear.

Upon hearing the patient's voice, Tory subconsciously adjusted his state and raised his eyes, "Hello, How can

I help? Can you briefly describe your symptoms first?"

However, when he noticed the man's face, he froze.

Julian?!

The man immediately changed his face; from just being amiable to expressionless, even with resistance.

Tory instinctively looked at Natalie. Why did Natalie bring this man? Didn't she know he didn't want to see Julian?

Besides, this medical meeting had nothing to do with the Graham family. What was Julian doing there?

Natalie met Tory's gaze and innocently shook her head.

She eyed him to show that it wasn't her idea to let Julian go there.

"Dr. Spears?", seeing Tory's puzzled expression, Julian tentatively asked again.

Tory could only retract his gaze, and his tone was not very friendly. "Why are you here? What's the matter?"

Julian recognized Tory's dislike and politely replied, "I'm not ill."

Tory's eyes suddenly widened. 'Since you're not ill, why are you here to compete for a slot with those people who couldn't afford to see a doctor?"

Was it rich people's game for fun?

"What are you doing here if you're not ill? Next one, please!"

As he spoke, he waved to call out to the next patient.

"Wait, Dr. Spears. Please, give me a second. I came to ask you about the divine doctor from the Spears family. Julian quickly blocked Tory's movements.

"The divine doctor of the Spears family?"

Julian nodded earnestly.

Before, he had asked Dylan to inquire about the whereabouts of the divine doctor of the Spears family, but even though Dylan used all his connections and even personally went to New York, he didn't get about any whereabouts of the divine doctor of the Spears family.

The Spears family had done a great job in this aspect.

There was no news of the divine doctor of the Spears family on the market at all. He had already added.

nearly one billion dollars to look for the miraculous doctor on the black market, but still, there was no good news.

He couldn't watch his grandfather's condition worsen so he could only wait in the cold wind for a whole day to see Dr. Spears and seek some news from him about the divine doctor of the Spears family.

"I've stood in the cold wind all day today to see you, hoping to ask for some information on the whereabouts of the divine doctor of the Spears family to save a life."

Julian's expression was full of sincerity, which was rare to be seen.

He even shed his usual inhumane coldness, just to save his grandfather's life.

"Did you stand all day?" Tory's eyes flashed a hint of distrust.

He looked up at the arrogant CEO of Graham Group, who didn't seem unlikely to do such a thing.

"Yes, I did."

Julian spoke sincerely every word, afraid that Tory wouldn't believe him. He looked at the patients behind him.

and said, "They can all testify it for me."

Tory snorted coldly.

He didn't show he believed him, nor did he say he didn't believe him.

"As a doctor, you certainly can't bear to watch the patient's life gradually disappear in front of you and you can't do anything about it, right?"

"As long as you tell me where I can find the divine doctor of the Spears family, whatever you want the Graham family will satisfy you," the man said confidently.

Tory continued to snort coldly.

'Oh, come off it. It's no use to request anything from the Graham family. It's worthless at all to me."

'Only the silly girl, Natalie, treats the Graham family as a treasure."

"How can you be so sure that I have news of the divine doctor of the Spears family?" Tory looked aloofly at Julian, his eyes full of dislike.

Before Julian could speak, he continued impatiently. "Off you go. If you want to inquire about the divine doctor of the Spears family, you've come to the wrong place. I don't have any news about the divine doctor of the Spears family here."

Julian wanted to say something more.

But Tory stood up and rushed him straight out, "Hurry up, there are so many patients waiting."

Julian, a tall man of 72 inches or so, was pushed out of the room by Tory.

"Yeah, yeah. We're still waiting to see Dr. Spears." Some people said in the queue.

"Don't waste the doctor's time if you're not here for some medical advice."

In the eyes of these people, the man in front of them may look noble and handsome.

But that was all, nothing more.

They only knew that this person seemed rich, but they had no idea of what identity Julian was, so they naturally have no fear in their hearts.

All they wanted was just to queue up soon and finish the medical appointment quickly. As for who this person was, it wasn't their business as long as he didn't delay their appointments.

Listening to the dissatisfied voices from behind, the man felt a bit awkward for a moment.

Julian stood in the same place, actually a bit confused.

Since he was a young boy, he had never been so rejected by anyone, let alone scolded by so many people to let him go quickly.

Natalie naturally heard the noise and turned her head to look over.

Unlike usual days, the man with a dignified demeanour stood in the crowd like this, showing a bit helpless.

That was interesting.

Natalie hooked her lips.

The president of Graham Group was ruthlessly rejected by Natalie's uncle.

She didn't have the slightest intention of going up to handle the situation, but instead quietly watched with a posture of a theatregoer.

The noises of criticising and complaining behind him continued, and Julian was already a bit embarrassed and annoyed.

But he couldn't do anything about it because he went there for help and needed to behave himself.

Since what Tory said may save his grandpa's life, he could only endure the criticism and complaints.

After a moment, Mr. Graham, who struggled in his heart, made a decision.

"Okay, fine," the man said slowly, and then took a step and left the queue.

Natalie raised her eyebrows and looked at the man's back, smiling.

As soon as Julian walked out of the queue, Joey trotted over all the way.

*Sir, the meal is ready."

Behind him, an extended version of a luxury car was filled with various luxurious packaged food, with a fragrant aroma.

Julian had just experienced frustration, so he was not in the mood to speak now

He only glanced up and casually said, "I see, send someone to deliver it."

"Yes, sir."

However, before Joey could remove the take-away food from the car, the roar of a car came into their ears.

Another extended version of a luxury car, filled with colourful flavorful food, drove by.

It was Ryan that was sitting in the driver's seat.

Ryan got off the car.

He met Julian's eyes.

Niki got into the car. Although she briefly escaped the abuse and treatment of Jaxton's gang, she remained vigilant and did not relax her mind.

She cautiously moved towards the corner.

Lara was a straightforward person. She noticed Niki's movements and without thinking, she immediately spoke up. "Are you afraid of us?"

Upon hearing this question, Niki pinched the corner of her clothes and didn't speak.

It was the best choice for her to remain silent before knowing the identity of the woman facing her.

But the girl's expression plus her pinching her clothes and not speaking fell into Lara's eyes, she was looking pitiful. Lara felt sorry for Niki's suffering.

"Do you know who these kidnappers are? Have you offended anyone before?"

Upon hearing this, Niki naturally felt a tremor in her heart.

How could she admit that she not only knew these people but also was the mastermind of this kidnapping?

"I don't know them..." Niki shook her head, looking very scared.

Lara felt even more distressed for her.

She waved her hand and spoke with assurance.

"Don't be afraid, I will avenge you for all the treatment you've suffered today! I will help you investigate this matter and uncover it.”

After Lara finished speaking, she turned around and said, “Uncle Terry, turn around.”

“Miss... do you want to go back?” Said Uncle Terry in a worried tone.

“Hurry up and turn around!” Lara commanded decisively. Once she decided to do something, no one could change her mind.

Their car returned to the abandoned factory. And after a lot of fighting, due to the advantage of the number of people, Jaxton and his gang quickly lost out.

They were cornered to the stinky ditch full of garbage.

“Say it. Who instructed you to kidnap the girl!” Lara stood aside with a serious tone.

How come Jaxton tell the truth?

He knelt on the ground without saying a word.

“You don’t want to say it, right? If you don’t say it, you’ll all be drowned in the stinky ditch behind you!”

The woman’s eyebrows furrowed and her tone became more serious.
