By Madison King Chapter 231

Chapter 231 Cheating?

Jullan looked at the woman with a mixed expression, waiting for an answer.

Natalie deadpanned. "I really don't have it"

Apparently, no matter what question Julian asked, her answer was no.

As soon as Julian said this, his face went black as fast as the eye could see, and his old chill began to rise.

It was as if Julian had returned to his old ruthless self.

Natalie raised her eyebrows as Julian froze where he was and showed no intention of leaving.

"If Mr. Graham really likes the house, you might consider paying for it."

"The last thing I like is to take away one's love. If you want to buy it, I can give you 20% discount."

In fact, Natalie was going to say that she could just give Julian the house because she's not short of money.

But then she thought that if she gave the house away, wouldn't she just let Nik take advantage of it?

She didn't want that happen.

"If you pay the money, the house will be registered to you at once, and I will pack up and move out overnight."

Is that all right?"

The words were spoken calmly, but unexpectedly carried a hint of mockery.

She said it quietly, but with an unexpected irony..

Even if Natalie was willing to take a 20% discount, the Graham family would have to think twice about buying.

And Julian didn't really like the house. How could he not understand what she was trying to say.

"Well, I mean really, I'll sell you the house so you and Niki don't have to come here all day."

Julian's eyelids twitched. "When was Niki here?"

"You don't know? Natalie sounded surprised." She's been here as often as you have."

She reached out her hand and touched her chin, looking thoughtful." I'm sure Niki likes it, too, from how often she visits, and it would make her happy if you paid for it."

"Natalie!"

For some reason, the words coming out of Natalie's mouth made Julian uncomfortable.

Natalie was shocked when the man suddenly groaned. She was so frightened that she didn't know what to say in the middle of her sentence.

"What are you shouting about?"

She patted her chest, trying to soothe her frightened feelings.

"If you don't want to buy it, I didn't force you to buy. You don't need to be so angry, do you?"

Julian looked terrible.

"But I want to be clear, I have offered you a solution, you decided not to buy the house, so please don't bother me again, or I will really call the police."

Natalie looked serious.

Julian looked at the seriousness in Natalie's eyes. He put his tongue to his back teeth. He clenched his teeth and said, "Alright."

"Then Mr. Graham should hurry up, and I won't see you off."

Natalie was pleased with Julian's statement, "You've got to keep your word."

Then she clapped her hands and walked back to the study without speaking to the man.

Julian stared after Natalie. His eyes looked deep.

The nanny saw Natalie leave, but Julian remained frozen in his place, with no intention of leaving. She could not help asking, "Mr. Graham, shouldn't you go?"

It was because she had left the door open that Mr. Graham entered the villa, leaving her employer in a difficult situation.

If Mr. Graham wasn't willing to leave, she's really not doing enough.

And the gentleman looked handsome and rich, and she thought it was a little strange that he was hanging around in someone else's house.

With this in mind, the nanny looked at Julian with something strange in her eyes.

Julian saw the way her nanny looked at him, and he felt very angry.

When was it his turn for a nanny to see him in distress? His instinct was to glance away. But halfway through the action, he stopped again..

This was Natalie's house, after all, and she was Natalie's servant, so he was in no position to be cruel to her nanny.

"Alright." Julian looked down and picked up his clothes. "I'm leaving."

When the nanny heard Julian's willingness to go, A smile lit up her face and she was relieved. "This way."

Julian followed the nurse to the door.

As he was about to step out of the door, his eyes were caught by an object.

His pupils suddenly constricted..

A pair of men's slippers.

Julian was amazed. He didn't seem to believe what he was seeing, so he took a few more steps forward to get a better look at the shoes.

He was right. They were men's slippers.

Natalie was living with another man?!

The idea popped into Julian's head, and all he felt was anger.

He didn't even sign the divorce papers and Natalie had the nerve to bring a man home??

Wasn't she being so bold to ignore him?

After all, until he signed the divorce, papers and got the papers, he was still her husband in name.

Natalie was his wife in name and daughter-in-law of the Graham family.

How could she do such a thing?

Julian felt like he was on fire, and as if he was being cheated on.

The nanny saw Julian stop. He's staring at a pair of slippers. She's puzzled. "Mr. Graham, what's wrong? Is there anything wrong?"

His anger rose so high in his chest that Julian could no longer hear the nurse's voice and could only see the slippers.

Natalie!

His hand clenched tightly into a fist.

After a moment, he tried to calm himself down.

This might be a misunderstanding, perhaps she prepared it specifically to entertain guests or friends who came to the villa.

Julian told himself, and he calmed down a little.

He took his stiff legs and walked on.

But the next moment he saw something that put an end to his self-delusion.

They were two pairs of men's shoes, the size of which seemed large at first glance, indicating that the owner was very tall.

These shoes were on the rack, and Natalie couldn't have prepared them for guests.

Moreover, Natalie was an orphan, and these shoes couldn't belong to her family members.

Looking at those two pairs of shoes, his eyes turned a little red, and there was also a hint of malice in his -eyes.

The nanny looked at the man's appearance at the moment, not knowing why, but she felt a chill in her spine.

She trembled and spoke, "Mr. Graham, what's wrong?"

Chapter 231 Cheating?

99.89%

The only response to her was the man's anger, nothing else.

The nanny, who did not receive an answer, could only look in the direction that Julian was staring at.

Mr. Graham was looking at the shoe rack. On the top of the rack were two pairs of men's leather shoes, and there was nothing wrong with it.

"What do you think is wrong?" The nanny hesitated in her tone.

Was it because she put the shoes in the wrong position? Was the shoe rack placed in the wrong position?

Unexpectedly, wealthy people still had requirements for the placement of shoe rack?

Although she used to work as a nanny in many wealthy families and had a rough understanding of the basic requirements of wealthy people, she still had a lot to learn.

For example, now... she might need to learn about the placement of shoe racks for them?

Julian didn't answer her. Instead, he asked a question that didn't make any sense.

“Does Natalie stay here by herself?”

Although she did not know why the gentleman asked, the nurse answered, shaking her head, “Not really.”

Very good.

The veins on Natalie’s forehead burst.

Chapter One

Title: After the Divorce, CEO Realizes He's the Stand-In Lover By

Chapter 232 Please don't stay here

Julian heard the expected answer. Then he gritted his teeth and nodded, “That’s great.”

“Will you guys live together?”

It would be very comfortable for a young couple to live here.

They would live much better than staying with the Graham family, and no wonder they wanted to move out.

He finally saw through Natalie.

The nanny clearly didn’t understand Julian, so she nodded, “Yes.”

“But Mr. Spears was a bit busy lately, so he came back late in the past few days. Ms. Spears stayed at home alone.”

“Is he staying at home alone? Doesn’t she go to the laboratory?”

Good. It was very good.

She even gave up her work to stay close to other men. She stayed at home every day, and how could she know if Dr. Nancy had an invitation?

Even if the organizer had already mailed the invitation to the laboratory, Natalie probably wouldn't know.

Julian was angry as he thought of this. He gritted his teeth tightly with uncontrollable anger in his eyes.

At this moment, he was like an enraged cheetah. And the next moment, he would vent his anger.

"Umm...Umm..."

The nanny sensed something, so she said quickly, "Mr. Graham, are you not satisfied with this shoe rack?"

"I'll move it away now."

The nanny walked to the shoe rack before Julian could say anything, trying to move the shoe rack away.

But the material of this shoe rack was different. This shoe rack looked luxurious, and it also weighed heavily.

The nanny couldn't move it away alone. She tried her best and wanted to move the shoe rack away from the man.

She pulled for a long time, but the shoe rack was still in its original place.

"Well... Mr. Graham, I can't move this shoe rack away alone."

"But don't worry. I will tell Ms. Spears, asking someone to let this shoe rack away. Is that OK?"

.The nanny looked at Julian carefully after finishing her words.

Julian pressed his lips, and he was still very angry. Instead, he wanted to walk to the living room and find Natalie.

Get Boja

He frowned and turned back. Then he walked to the living room directly.

Julian was tall, and he had a pair of long legs. So it took him a few times to the living room.

The nanny ran over quickly upon seeing this.

“Mr. Graham, you can’t do it.” The nanny followed behind Julian and shouted, “Mr. Graham, Mr. Graham...”

If she failed in stopped this man, she would feel sorry for her salary.

But Julian ignored the nanny directly, and he just walked forward.

The nanny trotted over with all her might, and then she grabbed the corner of Julian’s suit. She tried her best to pull Julian back.

But she was just a woman. Julian still walked forward.

The nanny was anxious. She felt helpless, so she knelt in front of Julian directly. Then she grabbed Julian’s clothes with her wrinkled hands.

“Mr. Graham, please don’t go inside again. I will be in trouble if you do this.”

Julian stopped suddenly.

He lowered his head and looked at the nanny who knelt on the ground. Then he said directly, “Get out of here.”

“If you stop me again, don’t blame me for being impolite.”

The nanny knelt on the ground and begged, but Julian did not pity her. He did not wear any expression on his face, looking indifferent and cold.

But the nanny still refused to get up.

Julian frowned and felt irritable. He tried to pull the nanny away, but the nanny grabbed his clothes tightly, so he could not do anything.”

“Please leave here, please.”

“You are a successful man, and you don’t need to make trouble with a woman like me. If I don’t do my work well, I will lose my job today.”

“And Ms. Spears had made it very clear. You should leave here. But now, you refuse to leave here. What do you want to do?”

This

looked so handsome. Was he so shameless to stay here? Was he fond of this house?

The nanny thought in her heart, and she dared not to say it.

But Julian had worked in the business world for a long time, and he was good at judging other people’s minds. He got the meaning behind the nanny’s words immediately.

So he was even angrier.

But Julian lowered his head. He was a man, and he could not beat a woman.

Get B

He pulled his clothes back and gnashed his teeth. Then he said, “Get out of the way.”

“Don’t stay here anymore.” The nanny continued to say.

Julian felt a bit embarrassed. He darkened his face and walked towards the door.

Seeing that Julian had left, the nanny quickly got up from the ground. She followed the man and said, “Mr.

Graham, please take care,”

“As for the position of this shoe rack, I will tell Ms. Spears. If she agrees, I’ll immediately move the shoe rack away.”

Julian darkened his face.

In the evening, Natalie finally finished reading all the journals she had planned to study recently. She also almost finished her notes for Henry.

She sat at the desk and took a deep breath. She felt so relaxed.

She put down her pen after finishing her task. Then she got up and poured a glass of water for herself, trying to rest her brain.

But as soon as she opened the door, she saw the nanny who was standing at the door.

She was startled and said, "What's the matter? What's up?"

The nanny looked embarrassed when she saw Natalie. The nanny waved her hands and said, "Nothing. Nothing."

The nanny tried to hide her unnatural expression and said, "Ms. Spears, do you need anything? I'll help you."

Natalie walked to the sofa in the living room and sat down. "Please give me a glass of lemonade."

'Okay, I'll prepare it for you now.'

The nanny did quickly. Soon, Natalie got a glass of lemonade.

Natalie took the cup and asked casually, "Hasn't my uncle come back yet?"

"Yes." The nanny held her hands tightly and stood beside Natalie.

Natalie glanced at the nanny and sensed something. Then she put down the water cup in her hand and looked carefully at the nanny, "What do you want to say?"

'That's not a big deal. I just want to ask if you have any special requirements or habits regarding the position of shoe racks?"

."Shoe rack?" Natalie blinked. Did she hear it correctly?

“Well, that’s right.” The nanny nodded sincerely, “I’m not very familiar with this aspect. If there’s anything wrong, please tell me.”

Get Bogus

Natalie was confused. So she said, “Su Nianxi was unsure, so she spoke up and said, “What are the requirements for positioning the shoe rack? You can put it up at your will.”

“Really?” The nanny was a bit incredulous, “Why was Mr. Graham dissatisfied with the position of the shoe rack?”

“Julian? Natalie almost spat out the water in her mouth, “Is he Okay?”

If he had nothing to do, he could find something for himself. Why did he comment on the shoe rack?

It was none of his business. Why did he care about this?

“What’s more, Mr. Graham looked fierce.” The nanny was still scared when thought of Julian’s expression.

“It’s okay. He is temperamental, and you should get used to it.” Natalie put down the glass in her hand.

The nanny nodded incredulously.

Natalie stood up and was ready to wash up. Then her phone rang from the study.

Title: After the Divorce, CEO Realizes He's the Stand-In Lover By

Chapter 233 Win man’s heart again

Natalie walked into the study and picked up her phone. It was an unfamiliar number.

She frowned and pondered for a moment. She did not know if she needed to answer this call.

Due to her unique identity, few people knew her number. Thus she had never had the habit of answering calls from strangers.

When Natalie was thinking about this question, the sound of her phone disappeared gradually. Natalie lowered her head and glanced at her phone. The one on the other side hung up directly.

Did this man hang up? Natalie raised her eyebrows, and this man had made the decision for her.

So Natalie put down her phone and went to wash up. She did not take this call seriously.

Tory finished his work when Natalie finished eating and washing up. Then he walked into the living room.

“Mr. Spears, you are here.” The nanny noticed Tory at first.

Natalie also looked over.

Tory took off his coat, and it seemed that he was just from tiring work.

There was no light in his eyes. He pressed his lips and had wrinkles on his face, looking tired.

Natalie quickly stood up and walked to his uncle, “Why were you so busy every day? Did the organizer lack staff?” –

Tory smiled, “It’s such a large-scale exchange meeting. How could the organizers lack staff? They are rich and can hire enough staff.”

“Then why are you so late? Are you working for free?”

Natalie blamed, "If you hurt your body, will it not be a loss?"

Tory waved his hand and said, "Nothing. I can bear this."

But Natalie knew that her uncle was kidding with her.

Natalie knew it well. Since Tory had taken over the task from his grandfather, he would definitely want to put everything in order.

Grandpa had not attended public matters for a long time. As for this medical exchange conference, it would be a rare chance in over a decade. Some people would do something bad, so it was important to care about safety issues.

Moreover, Grandpa was getting older. Since he needed to attend this medical exchange conference, they had to take transportation and accommodation into consideration carefully.

Natalie lowered her head and kept silent. Then she changed the topic, "Uncle, haven't you eaten yet?"

"Please prepare the dinner for my uncle."

Get Bogh ***

The nanny nodded and left.

"Natalie, I want to say something to you." Tory pulled a chair and sat down.

Natalie looked up.

"Would you like to participate in this medical exchange conference?"

"What? I? Natalie raised her eyebrows.

Tory nodded and rubbed his hands. He was a little nervous, "Your grandfather happened to be here, and you can also meet him once."

You haven't seen Grandpa for so long, so you must have missed him, right Natalie tightened his heart. She thought for a while but was not ready to do this.

“Umm..” Natalie did not know what she should say. Then she saw the nanny walk over with meals. So Natalie got up and walked to the nanny.

“Uncle, let’s eat first.” Natalie put the food in front of Tory, “You must be tired after working for the whole day.”

Tory glanced at Natalie and was helpless.

Well. As long as he mentioned this to Natalie, Natalie would change the topic.

Natalie pushed the plate to Tory with a smile. Then she blinked her eyes, looking cute, “It’s all your favorite food...”

Tory smiled, and he could not blame Natalie for this. Tory took a bowl and chopsticks, “Okay, okay. I will listen to you. Let’s have dinner together.”

Julian got in the car angrily, and the atmosphere around him was extremely cold.

“Mr. Graham, where are we going now?” Joey sat in the driver’s seat and looked at Julian through the rearview mirror.

Julian darkened his face and put his hands around his breast impatiently. No one knew his think, and he also did not answer Joey’s question.

Julian looked at Mr. Graham, who was in a bad mood. He hesitated for a while and said, “Mr. Graham, Ms. Linch came to the office to find you. She was seriously injured, but she still came here. She looked so pitiful.”

“Would you like to see her?”

Niki had something on him. Even if Mr. Graham was in a bad mood, he had no way but to say.

Niki asked him to do this, so he had to do this.

Julian finally got his sense when he heard Niki’s name.

Julian frowned, and he gradually got his sense from being betrayed, “Did Niki find me? Didn’t she hurt her leg?”

Get Boy

Why didn’t she take care of herself in the apartment? Why did she come to the hospital?

“Ms. Lynch came to see you, but you were busy with the invitation, so she didn’t bother you.”

Joey glanced at Julian as he said. It seemed that Julian would not visit Niki in the apartment.

So he decided to help Niki again. “Yesterday, Ms. Lynch looked pitiful when she came to the company. I also advised her to go back and have a rest well, but she still wanted to see you.”

“People all wanted to see their beloved ones when they were injured. But you were too busy, and Ms. Lynch.

had no friends in Los Angeles, so she just wanted to see you.”

Sure enough, Julian changed his expression after hearing this.

He lowered his eyes and was regretful. Then he said, “Let’s go to the apartment.”

Since something wrong had happened to Niki, he did not visit her once.

Julian recalled that day when Niki got off the car with wounds on her legs. She was crying, looking pitiful.

Although she lied to him, she was injured. So he needed to visit her.

“Yes!” Joey smiled after hearing Julian’s words. He nodded and immediately started the engine.

Then he lowered his head and sent a message to Niki in advance as he drove.

“Mr. Graham is going to the apartment.”

After confirming that Niki had gotten the message, Joey immediately put away his phone and drove to the apartment.

A few moments later, Julian arrived at the apartment.

The doorbell rang, and Gina quickly put down her bandage. She got up and opened the door, “Mr. Graham, please come in.”

Julian nodded expressionlessly. But as soon as he walked into the room, he smelled the strong smell of alcohol disinfectant, which was quite pungent.

He looked around and saw Niki, who was sitting on the sofa. Niki put her injured foot on a square solid wooden stool with some unused bandages, medicine, and other things next to her.

The atmosphere in the room was terrible. Niki sat there, looking pitiful.

“Julian, why are you here suddenly?”

Niki was happy when she saw Julian. She felt flattered. She even wanted to stand up from the sofa and greet Julian.

Julian guessed Niki’s mind and wanted to stop her, “You hurt your legs, and just sit there.”

But it was obviously too late. Niki got up and stumbled. But the next moment, something blocked her, and she fell to the ground suddenly, “Ah...”

Niki yelled.

Julian strode forward and held Niki in his arms.

He grabbed Niki's soft waist and pulled her into his arms in the next second.

Niki leaned against Julian's arms. From this angle, she could see Julian's perfect jawline.

The atmosphere became ambiguous. Niki sneered. Sure enough, she could win this man's heart soon or later.

Title: After the Divorce, CEO Realizes He's the Stand-In Lover By

Chapter 234 Can't go back to the past

Joey stood behind, watching the flirtatious interaction between Niki and Julian, with a satisfied expression.

Everything was as planned by Niki, and he was able to complete the task.

Niki nestled in the man's arms, tentatively extending her hands to encircle the man's strong waist. Julian felt her movements and froze.

But the man didn't say anything to stop it. Niki smiled. Since he didn't refuse, she would take it as acquiescence.

She boldly extended her arms and tightly wrapped them around Julian's waist, feeling his scorching heat which carried thick hormones.

This felt really good.

www

Niki closed her eyes with satisfaction and carefully felt the warmth and touch from the man.

Just as she was intoxicated, a slightly cold voice from Julian came to her ear, "Let me go."

“Ah?” She suddenly opened her eyes.

Niki found herself at the edge of the sofa, and Julian stood in front of it, looking at her coldly.

“Okay...” Niki pursed her lips and quickly released her arms, but her expression still showed a hint of reluctance.

At this moment, she had never hated the small living room of this apartment so much that he walked to the sofa so quickly.

She hadn't experienced enough yet.....

When Julian saw the woman finally release her hand, he slowly bent down and gently placed her on the sofa to avoid touching the woman's injured leg.

During the process of lowering, Niki's hair accidentally ran across his neck, and a charming fragrance swept over him.

A fragrant fragrance came through the nose, directly seeping into the man's mind.

This fragrance... was his favorite when he was with Niki a few years ago.

All kinds of memories from the past, accompanied by this fragrance, flooded into Julian's mind, and he was moved momentarily.

The woman raised her head and looked at Julian with anticipation.

Her sparkling eyes captured any slight change on the man's face.

She specially wore this fragrance to remind Julian of their past.

Since Julian was able to divorce Natalie for her sake, she didn't believe that past memories can't move the man in front of her.

Sure enough, Julian was a bit stunned.

She keenly captured the fleeting movement on the man's face, although it was short, it was indeed there, indicating that the man had softened his heart.

Plan achieved!

Niki showed a bright smile and she reached out to embrace Julian.

But the next second, she was directly pushed out by the man.

"Sit still and don't move around." The man's voice was cold.

Niki's outstretched hand paused in the air, and she sat on the sofa in amazement with an awkward expression.

How could Julian have the heart to push her away?

Niki was puzzled... was he still angry?

It's been so long since she lied, and Julian hadn't forgiven her yet??

Was this different from what she planned?? In the past, as long as she had patience to coax men and then showed her pity, she could completely seek their forgiveness.....

How come this time... she had already been kidnapped and her leg had been injured so badly, how could

Julian not be at all soft hearted?

Niki was puzzled and couldn't figure out where the problem lay.

After Julian put the woman down, he stood aside and kept a certain distance from Niki.

Niki looked up.

Julian stood in front of her, but it seemed as if he was so far away from her as if there was an insurmountable chasm in the middle.

The man was clearly in front of her, but he had become so distant that she couldn't understand.

Niki's mood was quite complicated.

Perhaps she made the wrong choice that day... she shouldn't have chosen to deceive this man.

Now, the relationship between her and Julian cannot go back to the past.....

"Gina, Miss Linch's wound has already oozed blood, can't you see it?"

Julian stood straight and turned his head to look at Gina, who was stood in the corner and motionless.

"saw it, I saw it. I'll bandage Miss Linch now." Gina heard it and hurriedly rushed forward with a flustered expression.

Before Julian came, Niki had already told her not to disturb her and Mr. Graham. So she always stood obediently aside, not daring to disturb them.

Although Gina walked forward, she still hesitated in her heart.

She glanced at Niki sitting on the sofa with some embarrassment.

Niki was rejected by Julian in front of assistant and nanny, and she was already very agitated, even with a hint of shame.

After seeing Gina's gaze, she nodded impatiently, indicating that she would follow Julian's arrangement.

Gina understood and quickly picked up the bandage on the table, then squatted down to bandage Niki.

Julian lowered his eyes, and the crimson wounds on the woman's fair legs were particularly striking.

The wound was red and swollen, constantly oozing blood, making it particularly shocking.

Niki's legs were already slender, so although the wound was not large, it appeared large and prominent on her legs, occupying half of her legs, which was particularly frightening.

Julian stared at Niki's bleeding wound, his cold face making people wonder what he was thinking.

"Your leg is seriously injured, don't go out and run around."

Niki quickly said, "But I miss you... I'm staying alone in the apartment, and I always feel bored."

"Niki wants to be with Julian, and besides, Niki is not afraid of pain. Compared to seeing Julian, this pain is nothing at all."

"That's not good either." The man frowned tightly.

www

Niki continued to act coquettishly, "But Niki stays in the apartment and can't go anywhere. It's really boring."

Julian still had a serious face, obviously not touched by Niki's coquettish behavior in his heart.

"The company is very busy."

Niki stopped talking, feeling quite embarrassed.

But she still seemed unwilling, so she continued to speak.

‘Since Julian won’t let me go to the company to find you, Niki won’t go…….’

“But other girls can go shopping, or travel... Niki can’t go anywhere.”

Julian didn’t speak.

After a while, Julian looked at Gina squatting on the ground and said, “Has the doctor said how long this wound will heal?”

“Um... it takes about a month to fully recover,” Gina hesitated with a bandage in her hand before answering.

Julian frowned and said, “A month?”

“Yes... yes.”

Get Botus

After hearing the answer, Julian didn’t say much and waved directly to his assistant, “Joey, come here.”

Joey was confused, so he walked forward obediently with a hint of fear.

“Mr. Graham, I’m here. What can I do for you?”

Julian stared sharply at Niki’s wound and said,

“You go to Graham family and tell mother to bring the Spears family medicine she recently bought at the auction.”

The medicine that was bought at the auction, although at a high price, was from the Spears family in New York and was specifically designed to treat this type of wound which will heal in a few days.

“Now? “Asked Joey.

“Well, hurry up and go back.”

“Gina, don’t wrap it up now. Use that medicine for Niki later. It will heal faster.”

Niki was originally a bit down, but when she heard the man’s words, she looked up in surprise.

Title: After the Divorce, CEO Realizes He's the Stand-In Lover By

Chapter 235 No way back

“Julian... is that medicine very expensive? Is it really for Niki?” Niki seemed to be a bit incredulous.

This man said so tough that she thought he wouldn’t mind her anymore.

Unexpectedly, Julian was willing to use the Spears family medicine for herself.

She wondered how could their years of love disappear suddenly..... it turned out that he still gave her medicine. Niki thought to herself.

*Julian, are you really willing to give me the medicine? That medicine must be very precious.”

Niki seemed very incredulous, so she asked again,

Upon hearing the sound, Julian lowered his head and looked at Niki, who had a flattered expression on her face.

The woman’s eyes flickered with surprise.

It’s like an unpopular child suddenly receiving precious candy from parents, with unconcealed joy.

He felt sympathy and irresistible to give her all the candy in his hand.

He moved his eyes slightly and pursed his lips, “Yes, for you.”

After receiving a positive answer, Niki was over the moon. "Thank you, Julian, you are so kind to Niki!"

Because she was too excited, she almost fell off the sofa.

The man saw her movements and made a reminder, "Sit tight."

"Okay," Niki cleverly replied, looking at Julian as if she were looking at the gods, with admiration in her eyes.

But after a moment, she seemed to suddenly remember something sad, and her expression became somewhat sad.

Julian noticed a change in her expression and said, "What's the matter?"

Although he didn't know why Niki suddenly felt a little sad, he still expressed concern.

"After applying this medicine, your legs will recover in a few days. This way, you can go shopping without feeling bored."

"Julian..."

Niki furrowed her brows slightly, her eyes also filled with sadness, and her tone was filled with grievances and self-blame.

"Niki made Julian angry and didn't deserve such a good medicine....."

"Julian, you'd better take it away..." she gritted her teeth and said this sentence cruelly.

Julian frowned.

You have

"You have to use it, it's a command."

Niki pinched her sleeve and wanted to say something more, "But... but....."

She mumbled for a long time, but didn't say anything.

Previously, when Julian saw Niki like this, his heart must have softened long ago.

No matter what Niki said, as long as it's harmless, he will definitely do it according to her.

But now when he saw her pulling her sleeves, wanting to cry but not crying, mumbling....

For the first time, Julian's heart was filled with boredom, even with disgust.

He furrowed his brow subconsciously.

Julian remained motionless, looking coldly at Niki, feeling sad alone.

He remained silent and no longer tried to coax her like before. Instead, he looked like a stranger standing out.

Niki mumbled for a while, but didn't see Julian speak up to coax her like before. She was so anxious that she couldn't bear it.

She waited but didn't hear the man's words, she could only quietly lift her eyes and catch a glimpse of Julian's face.

How could Julian seem like nothing happened? Not moving?

Didn't he see that she was about to cry?

This... this shouldn't be.....

Niki was already a bit disappointed, but now it's almost desperate.

If Julian didn't answer, she won't be able to continue acting in this play.

Niki could only summon up courage, force up a smile, and retract her words.

She wiped away the 'non-existent tears', bit her lips, and said nothing more, but shifted the topic elsewhere.

"Julian, Niki went to see you the other day, but you were not there. Where did you go, Julian?"

Julian turned his head and saw that Niki no longer looked like that. His face softened slightly.

There's nothing to hide about the invitation, so he said, "I found the organizer of the medical exchange conference to request the invitation."

"I have already reached an agreement with the organizer, only waiting for the delivery, but on the way, the Ward family used a shady means to take away the invitation."

Niki was startled in her heart.

The Ward family? Could it be Roger?

But she didn't show any signs on her face, but instead put on a very disgusted look,

"I have long heard that the Ward family has always been secretive in their affairs, and they do some shameful things. I didn't expect it to be true."

"Our family has always been righteous and disliked such despicable people the most."

Julian was definitely unhappy when the Ward family took away the invitation. She had to speak according to his wishes.

"Not only our family, but also the Graham family, who are first-class in Los Angeles, never like such despicable people, right?"

After saying this, Niki looked up at Julian as if begging for praise.

Julian sat in a chair, but had little reaction to Niki's words.

"In the business world, everything is possible," he said simply.

Since ancient times, wherever there were people, there had been struggle.

www

In this world, there were all kinds of deceit, pretending to face others and stabbing them in the dark,

Moreover, in the business world where money was involved, everything can be done for the sake of money.

Previously, Graham Group was managed by his father, and when his father was tired, Henry took over.

So even though Julian had commercial talent, he did not involve in it directly, so he didn't feel it.

But since his father and Henry left, he took over the Graham Group and made every effort to rescue the company from the crisis.

After that, he had a thorough understanding in his heart.

The man had no expression on his face and his tone was also very light.

"In business, using any means is the Ward family's choice, and it is inevitable."

They all crawled out of the mud pit, and he also played tricks, even more ruthless and vicious than the Ward family.

It's just about competing.

No one had been more powerful than Graham family in Los Angeles, and Roger's actions were just seeking his own death.

"So did Julian finally take the invitation? How did the Ward family end up?" Niki asked again.

She still cared Roger in her heart.

After all, Roger was also considered her back-up plan. If Jullan changed his mind and abandoned her, she can also have a place to go.

“The Ward family is on the decline, and it can no longer come back in Los Angeles. I’m afraid Roger is now struggling to protect himself.”

“Really?” Exclaimed Niki in surprise.

What’s going on?!

If Roger failed, she would have no way back!

The current Julian had become difficult for her to understand, not to mention that she angered him a few days ago, and all kinds of signs indicated that she and Julian cannot go back to their past.

If that bitch Natalie played tricks again, she might end up on the streets. How could Roger fail?!

Niki’s heart was complex, and her face was pale.

Julian heard her exclamation and turned his head thoughtfully to look at her.

“What? Do you still know someone from the Ward family?”

“Or do you know Roger? ” The man’s voice was cold.

As soon as this sentence was uttered, it happened to be what Niki didn’t want to hear.

Her face suddenly turned pale and she repeatedly waved her hand, “How could it be? How could it be.”

“Niki has nothing to do with the Ward family, and doesn’t know Roger.”

She said urgently. “And Niki hates these despicable people from the Ward family the most. How could I possibly make friends with the Ward family.”

Julian listened to Niki's eager concealment, glanced at her, and said in a light tone,

"It's nothing. Why are you in such a hurry? Your face is pale."

Niki was so scared that she quickly touched her face with her hand, "No, no....."

Julian turned his head to look at the nanny beside him and said, "Gina, do you think Niki's face has turned pale?"

Gina glanced and was about to speak when Niki quickly stopped her.

She thought quickly, and after a while, she whispered, "Niki is born this way..."

"No... no... it's not because of Ward family."

"Julian, don't misunderstand."

Chapter 236 I have my own judgment

Julian's expression was somewhat thoughtful, "Really?"

Niki nodded urgently, "Of course."

*Julian, you didn't come to the apartment to see Niki for so many days. You even forgot Niki's skin color."

She said as if she was very aggrieved.

"Niki already looks pale, and has an accident. With such a big wound, I shed so much blood every day....."

"If I had lost too much blood, I would have turned pale. Niki's pale face at the moment is all because the wound is bleeding too much.”

“Julian really doesn’t care about Niki at all.” Niki was very sad.

Julian’s face remained cold, his eyes fixed on her tightly, as if he wanted to see through the woman in front of him.

Niki was flustered in her heart, but she showed tough on her face, not afraid at all, and even blamed Julian for everything.

The two of them stared at each other for a long time, but ultimately Julian was defeated. He withdrew his gaze.

The man said coldly, “That’s good.”

The woman quickly swore to the sky, “Don’t worry, Julian. Niki has stayed obediently by your side, and I hardly know anyone in Los Angeles.”

Julian didn’t speak any more, and somewhat believed her.

Niki breathed a long sigh of relief when she saw that she had escaped a disaster.

She forced herself to temporarily put Roger’s matter aside.

It’s better to focus on dealing with Julian now, so as not to accidentally say the wrong thing again and make the man’s impression of her worse.

That way, she’s really doomed.

“What about the invitation?”

Julian lowered his eyes and said, “Still trying to figure out a way.”

Niki's eyes turned and suddenly remembered someone.

"As Dr. Nancy's assistant, Natalie must have invitation, right?"

As soon as Niki said this, she felt from the bottom of her heart that it was very reasonable.

How could Dr. Nancy not be invited by a medical exchange conference? It's so easy.

Natalie must have!

Even if Dr. Nancy didn't receive the Invitation, as long as she asked for it, the organizers would definitely hurry to invite her.

After all, Dr. Nancy's participation was only beneficial to the organizers and not detrimental.

Niki was quite excited. "Julian, why don't you go find Natalie and ask for it? She loves you so much and will definitely give it to you."

Julian looked up at her.

The expression on his face was very cold. He didn't show any fluctuation to her proposed idea.

Niki was puzzled and said, "Julian, are you unwilling to go find Natalie?"

"Or do you think that invitation is too precious for Natalie to give you so generously?"

Seeing Julian not answering. Niki seemed very anxious.

"Julian, don't worry, Natalie loves you so deeply. You don't need to consider about it, she will definitely give you."

She said sincerely.

She just wanted to praise Natalie!

The more she praised Natalie, the worse Natalie will fall!

As long as Natalie cannot accomplish this, her image in Julian's heart will only worsen, even reaching the conclusion that she did not love Julian at all.

Can Julian tolerate this?

"If Julian doesn't want to go, how about I help Julian ask Natalie for it?"

"Although Natalie didn't like Niki and even hated me, I am willing to go to find her for Julian. At most, Natalie would scold me severely. It doesn't matter."

"Compared to being mocked by Natalie, it must still be Grandpa Graham's life that matters. I will definitely help Julian do it....."

The woman kept chattering incessantly, but did not notice the man's increasingly ugly expression.

"Moreover, Natalie was deeply concerned about grandpa. Last time, she personally performed surgery on Grandpa Graham. Her affection for the Graham family must be invaluable."

"Shut up." Julian finally couldn't contain his anger.

.He didn't want to hear Natalie's name.

Upon hearing Natalie's name, Julian's mind was filled with the two pairs of men's leather shoes in Greenlife Villa.

Although the leather shoes were dark black and didn't look garnish at all, he felt incredibly eye-catching.

She cohabited with other men without authorization, completely disregarding etiquette, righteousness, and shame.

Her identity was not only Graham family's daughter-in-law, but also his wife!

Moreover, Natalie had already firmly stated that she did not have an invitation and mercilessly refused his request.

Did Natalie deeply love him with such behavior? She didn't care about him at all?!

Julian's temples jumped suddenly, and his mind was buzzing.

"What... what's the matter?" Niki was suddenly scolded, and she was puzzled. "Did Niki say the wrong thing?"

Niki's eyes rolled, as if she understood something. She inferred, "Or... Julian, have you already contacted

Natalie?"

Julian nodded with a gloomy face.

Sure enough, she should have thought of Julian being much smarter than her.

Even the way she could think of it, Julian must have already thought of it.

Since he had already contacted Natalie...

With Natalie's ruthless and shameless personality, she wished she could stay in Graham family forever.

Even if Julian didn't ask, she would definitely give him.

But Julian's expression showed that he didn't get the invitation.

"Is Natalie actually unwilling to give it?"

Niki's expression was surprised.

“If Niki had an invitation, even if there were many difficulties and obstacles on the way, I would definitely send

It to Graham family. After all, this matter concerns Grandpa’s life.”

“How could Natalie refuse to give it?! How could she do this?”

“I wish that I could give my life to Grandpa Graham, but Natalie didn’t even want to give an invitation?”

After Niki finished speaking, she glanced at Julian.

She was so good at mocking others while praising herself.

Julian tried to calm down, “Natalie said she didn’t have an invitation.”

1

“Natalie didn’t have an invitation?”

Niki exclaimed again, with an exaggerated expression.

Get Bo

“How could she not have it? She definitely has an invitation, just doesn’t want to give it.....

“Natalie has been living in Graham family for so long, and Grandpa Graham can also be considered her grandfather. How could she be so cruel?!”

Niki was first surprised, then excited, as if she was moral, and was very disdainful of Natalie’s behavior.

“How could she be so cruel? It’s really beyond Niki’s expectation.....

Julian heard this but still didn’t respond.

In the past, when he heard Niki’s words, he must have already believed Niki’s words, felt that Natalie was deceiving him, and even angrily went to find Natalie.

Such impulsive and blindly believing behavior had unjustly wronged Natalie many times.

But now, just like the story of “The Little Boy Who Cried Wolf”, Julian no longer had 100% trust in Niki’s words.

He picked up the tea cup and took a sip of the tea.

He turned a blind eye to Niki’s strong accusations.

“I have my own judgment on whether Natalie has deceived me or not.”

“You should focus on recuperating.”

He was angry with Natalie for what she had done, but he still had to be clear about right and wrong.

He couldn’t convict Natalie just because of Niki’s words.

Niki was unwilling and wanted to say, “Natalie, she.....

But when she looked up and saw Julian’s resolute attitude, she could only give up.

What kind of love potion did Natalie, that little slut, give Julian? Why should Julian speak for her?

This was the first time?!

Niki gritted her teeth in anger.

Chapter 237 Losing everything

Get B

After being rebuked by Julian many times, Niki obediently closed her mouth and said nothing more.

She really felt like she can’t understand the man in front of her anymore.

On the other side, Julian, due to Natalie’s cohabitation with other men, was already furious and had nowhere to vent.

Visiting Niki in the apartment was all out of the remaining guilt and sympathy in his heart.....

Therefore, at this moment, he remained silent, his face tense, and thinking.

The atmosphere temporarily froze.

Both the man and woman had their own thoughts, but they did not feel embarrassed.

But Gina, who was standing on the side, felt very flustered. She looked at the two of them who were silent.

and her forehead was sweating.

The two of them were deadlocked. In the end, it was her who would suffer.

Gina felt helpless and wanted to speak up to ease the atmosphere.

“Well... Mr. Graham, have you finished drinking your tea? Let me go and pour you a cup of tea.”

As she spoke, Gina came to Julian’s side and wanted to pick up the teacup. She looked down and found that the water in the teacup seemed as if it had not been touched.

She sweated again and awkwardly changed her mouth, “This tea is cold and not good to drink. I’ll help you.

refill it.

Julian gave her a cold glance.

Very good, even the tea cup was green.

The man was irritated in his heart.

It seemed as if he was too lazy to speak, and as if he was feeling bored, he stood up and wanted to walk towards the balcony to get some air.

This apartment was carefully selected by Niki upon her return, in accordance with her requirements.

The entire apartment was located in the center of Los Angeles, and the housing price was naturally high.

The transportation was very convenient, and the surrounding areas were also extremely bustling.

Graham house pursued tranquility and detachment, while this apartment, on the other hand, exuded luxury and prosperity everywhere.

-In addition, Niki herself loved beautiful items such as jewelry, so after she moved in, she added many precious items to this apartment, which further revealed the luxury of the entire house.

Looking out of the window, the neon lights in the commercial area were pieced together, looked unreal. The traffic on the road was very bustling.

Julian, who was already bored, felt even more agitated when he saw the dazzling scenery outside the window.

He frowned and dismissed the idea of going to the balcony.

At this moment, he missed the quiet and indifferent place in Graham house.....

Sitting on the chair for a long time, Julian didn't see Joey come back from fetching medicine.

Did it take so long to fetch medicine?

Julian's fingers curled up, and his whole body showed impatience, as everyone could see that he was in a very bad mood.

After waiting for about half an hour, the knocking at the door finally rang.

Gina quickly went to open the door to prevent the awkward atmosphere from continuing.

Joey brought the medicine into the room, over,” he said.

with a chill all over him. “President, the medicine has been brought

“Why did it take so long to fetch a medicine? Did you fall asleep?”

Julian’s words were not serious, but they exuded a strong sense of authority.

Joey quickly lowered his head and said, “It’s my problem.”

“I had some trouble with Mrs. Graham while picking up the medicine at Graham house, so I came a bit late.”

Julian raised his eyebrows and said, “Did mother embarrass you?”

Joey quickly shook his head and denied, “It’s not...” It’s taboo to say something bad about president’s mother.

But obviously, the man realized it. He knew very well what his mother was like, “Is she unwilling to give?”

“Yes...” Joey answered.

Niki raised her ears and listened carefully to their conversation.

Linda disliked her so much that naturally cannot be willing to give her the precious medicine of the Spears family.

But so what?

Wasn’t this medicine still in her hands!

As long as she held Julian in her hand, she won’t leave him no matter what Linda did.

-Niki thought again, and she had another idea in her heart. She took a deep breath and planned to flirt with Julian again.

She wanted to finally test the mind of the man.

When Julian heard Joey's answer, he didn't say anything, just nodded and said,

"Use it for Miss Linch." He gestured to Gina to get the medicine.

Joey quickly took the medicine out of the ice bag and stuffed it into the nanny's hand.

Gina took the medicine and immediately squatted down to apply it to the woman.

Niki suddenly withdrew her legs and refused to let Gina touch them.

"Miss Linch? I'll apply the medicine for you. Can you slightly move your leg forward. I am old and can't reach it."

Niki seemed to be giving up on herself and mentioned her previous words again, "I don't deserve to use such good medicine."

"Why don't you deserve it? This medicine should be given to a beautiful lady like you.....

Π

"Niki deceived Julian... Niki deserves to die for my crimes, and I really don't deserve to use this medicine."

The nanny didn't know what to do, "Well....."

Julian saw Niki's appearance and was annoyed.

He said reluctantly, "This medicine is not expensive, no matter how expensive it is, it's not as expensive as your legs. Hurry up and use it."

But Niki didn't do as he say.

She seemed to be proud of his indulgence and said, "No, Niki doesn't deserve such expensive medicine."

Julian frowned.

But Niki suddenly turned around and said, "If Julian forgives Niki, Niki will use this medicine....."

She wondered whether Julian would forgive her.

The moment when the word 'forgive' came out of Niki's mouth, the atmosphere in the room suddenly changed.

This sounded like a threat.

Julian seemed to be irritated, and the amiable expression on his face instantly disappeared.

The man only said, "If you want your leg to remain injured, then it's up to you.

Then he got out immediately.

"Julian..." Niki suddenly panicked, and she quickly got up to retrieve the man.

-But it was already too late, and even if she knelt on the ground, she couldn't make the man return.

Joey glanced at Niki and wanted to persuade her, but as he watched the president's hurried pace, he couldn't help but sigh, "Alas....."

If Niki obediently listened to Mr. Graham, she would get everything she wanted. Perhaps she would be the president's wife now.

When Julian just came in, the atmosphere between the two of them was sweet. As long as she played coquettish appropriately, the president's anger would definitely almost dissipate.

Why didn't she know where to stop? Weren't all her efforts in vain?!

One careless move led to a complete loss.

What's Niki doing?

After Mr. Graham was angered, the current situation no longer allowed Joey delay.

He gritted his teeth and gave Niki a final glance before taking a step to chase him out.

Niki fell to the ground and looked at the deserted doorway, gritting her teeth.

Gina quickly went to help, "Miss Linch, get up quickly, it's cold sitting on the ground."

"Get out!

Niki shook away Gina's arm and pushed her several meters away.

"Miss Linch, your medicine has not been applied yet... This medicine is so precious, can I apply it for your first? "

"Get out! Can't you hear me?" Niki roared, her hand tightly grasping the carpet on the ground, as if she was about to crush it.

Outside the apartment, Julian got into the car with a gloomy expression on his face.

This time, he was even more angry than when he just found out from Natalie that he had been cuckolded.

His face didn't look good, and everyone could see that Mr. Graham was in a very bad mood.

Joey saw that Mr. Graham was always really angry, and he dared not speak again.

He can only curl up in the driver's seat and try to be invisible as much as possible, afraid that his breathing will make the boss unhappy.

Title: After the Divorce, CEO Realizes He's the Stand-In Lover By

Chapter 238 Encounter again

It had been almost a week since Julian's last visit to Greenlife Villa, and Natalie hadn't seen him or received any news from him.

As for whether Julian had received the invitation, Natalie didn't know, and she didn't really care.

If something comes too easily, it's unlikely to be valued.

The same goes for authorizations and invitations.

She spent her days alone at home, flipping through the latest medical journals, sipping tea, and occasionally, when inspiration struck, conducting interesting experiments and writing about them herself. She enjoyed the freedom and solitude.

Today, her plan was to buy a new car.

The previous one had been considered totaled after that chase, and she had no interest in repairing it. It made more sense to simply buy a new one.

She had actually planned to buy a car the day after it was declared totaled, but then her uncle's medical.

conference had come up suddenly, forcing her to postpone her car-buying plans.

“Nana, up so early today?” Tory sat at the table, eating breakfast, with a curious look on his face.

Tory had been extremely busy these days, coming and going all the time. If Natalie hadn’t woken up early specifically to buy a car, she might not have seen him at all.

“Are you going to the lab to see that kid, Ryan?” he asked, his voice full of interest.

Natalie shook her head. “Today, I’m going to buy a car, not go to the lab.”

Upon hearing this, a clear disappointment flashed across Tory’s face. “I thought you were going to see Ryan.”

Natalie chuckled. “You seem more eager to see Ryan than I am. He’s always in the lab, so if you want to find him, you can go anytime.”

Tory glanced behind him, where the nanny was busy preparing food. He lowered his voice and whispered, “I miss the delicious dishes Ryan used to make.”

Natalie raised an eyebrow and smiled mischievously.

She leaned closer to Tory, following her uncle’s playful manner. “Oh, so you’re implying that you find the food cooked by the nanny I hired not tasty?”

Just as the words left her mouth, the nanny happened to bring Natalie’s plate.

“Eek!” Tory looked up at the nanny, who had suddenly approached, feeling a bit guilty.

-10 Oh no, Auntie, your cooking is delicious! I even have multiple servings!” he said loudly, deliberately making sure the nanny heard.

The nanny didn't catch Natalie's teasing, but she did hear Tory's praise.

Get Boy

She squinted her eyes, with a smile on her face. "As long as Mr. Spears enjoys it!"

It was obvious that she was genuinely happy.

Tory also smiled, saying, "Having a nanny with such great skills is Nana's lucky charm."

Natalie shook her head as she watched them.

The nanny's cooking skills were definitely not bad, but after tasting Ryan's dishes, they did seem to pale in comparison.

But if you looked around the entire LA, how many people had Ryan's level of cooking skill?

After finishing her meal, Natalie headed to the car dealership.

This place specialized in selling various luxury cars and was off-limits to those without money or status.

Inside, there were rows upon rows of luxurious cars, with sleek bodies, stylish designs, and a dazzling array of options, leaving one mesmerized,

As soon as she walked in, a salesperson immediately greeted her, saying, "Miss, this way, please."

Natalie nodded.

"What type of car are you interested in today, Miss? I can help you with some recommendations," the salesperson asked in a polite tone.

Natalie waved her hand. "I'll just look around on my own, no need to trouble you."

However, these words seemed to take on a different meaning in the salesperson's ears.

She couldn't help but size up Natalie, who had a beautiful face, and could even be described as stunning.

Perhaps it was because the indoor temperature was high, she had taken off her white down jacket upon entering and was wearing a cream-colored cashmere dress underneath.

The dress was form-fitting with a small V-neck, and without the cover of the down jacket, it accentuated her slender waist, prominent curves, and exuded feminine charm.

Though this lady was beautiful, the salesperson couldn't see the value of the clothes on her. She didn't look like someone wearing extravagant designer brands at all.

Combined with Natalie's earlier remark of "I'll just look around on my own," the salesperson had a pretty clear Idea in her mind.

Most likely, she was just a broke loser who couldn't afford to buy a car and was here to satisfy her eyes.

The salesperson instantly lost interest in providing any further assistance.

Her gaze was so obvious that Natalie knew exactly what she was thinking.

But she didn't care, let her think whatever she wanted.

It just meant that she could browse more freely.

Coincidentally, another customer arrived at the door.

The person was wearing a small western-style dress, a heavyweight silk fabric in a light yellow shade, with a high neck, a cinched waist, and floor-length sleeves.

The salesperson took just one glance and knew that the dress belonged to the latest collection of an international luxury brand and had a hefty price tag.

Moreover, the woman was carrying a limited edition international designer handbag, exuding an aura of wealth.

Two tall bodyguards dressed in black suits stood behind them. Anyone could tell that this person was a walking money tree.

Without a second thought, the salesperson left Natalie and headed straight for the woman at the door.

If she was too late, someone else would snatch this golden opportunity!

Lara walked into the store.

She came to buy the car she had been longing for.

Her father had promised her that if she delivered the documents to Tory, he would pay for the car she wanted.

Just today, her father had transferred the money into her account, and she couldn't wait to buy the car.

"Miss, please come in," the salesperson extended their arm, leading Lara inside.

"Do you have any preferred car models? I can help you with some recommendations."

"No need," Lara waved her hand. "I've already picked out the car."

Her hand reached into her bag and pulled out a black card, handing it directly to the salesperson. "Here's the card. I want the one over there."

Lara raised her chin, looking at the car in the distance.

The salesperson followed her gaze and was first startled, then overjoyed.

"Alright, please wait here. I'll go process the paperwork for you right away."

That car was worth a fortune!

“Thank you.”

The salesperson had a smile on their face, even walking with a hint of excitement.

-The surrounding salespeople couldn't help but feel envious, and for a moment, all eyes were focused on Lara, who was sitting on the sofa with her legs crossed.

Natalie was no exception.

She glanced at the woman sitting in the middle. She looked somewhat familiar.

But it was just a sense of familiarity. Natalie couldn't be bothered to think about who she might be. She simply withdrew her gaze and lowered her head to study the cars.

Meanwhile, on the other side, when the woman saw Lara sitting on the sofa, her face lit up with excitement.

She picked up her pace and walked towards Lara.

However, perhaps due to her leg injury, she wasn't walking fast and slowly made her way to the front of the sofa.

“Miss... Miss Turner?”

Lara looked up at the voice and, upon recognizing the person, a hint of surprise flashed across her face.

“Niki?”

Niki nodded eagerly. “Miss Turner, do you still remember me?”

When they were in the car before, Lara was too frightened to pay much attention to Niki.

Looking at Miss Turner today, she was dressed exceptionally well. Also, for entering this kind of occasion, she must be a person of high status.

Since her backup plan fell through, maybe she could make a move on Miss Turner?

Both of them were wealthy individuals who would definitely be able to help each other in the future.

Lara nodded repeatedly, "How could I forget? Is your injury getting better?"

Niki grinned and said, with a gentle smile, I'm much better now. Look, I can even walk on the ground."

"Julian let me use the Spears family's medicine!"

"The Spears family's medicine?" Lara suddenly realized, "No wonder you recovered so quickly. The Spears family's medicine is indeed effective."

"When I went to deliver something to Mr. Spears, he also gave me a few bottles of medicine."

Niki was surprised, raising an eyebrow. "Miss Turner, you know the Spears family too?"

Title: After the Divorce, CEO Realizes He's the Stand-In Lover By

Chapter 239 Having a plan

Lara nodded and said, "Well, not exactly. It's just that my father is familiar with the Spears family."

When Niki heard this, her heart fluttered.

Her father was familiar with the Spears family, so they must also be one of the top families in New York.

If she could win the trust of Lara, her trip wouldn't be in vain.

Her eyes rolled slightly, and she went on planning in her mind. But as she was about to speak, she was interrupted by Lara.

“Even though you were treated with Spears’ medication, you still need to be careful and try not to move around.”

Lara was gentle and obviously she was a woman with a pure mind and had experienced less.

Her eyes were full of concern, not hypocritical at all.

Niki nodded. ‘Okay, I’ll be careful. Thank you, Miss Turner.’

She wanted to say something more, but the salesperson in the store walked up to Lara first.

Niki was originally standing in front of Lara, but the salesperson pushed her aside.

A slight pain came from her shoulder, and Niki’s face immediately became grim.

“Miss Turner, have you been waiting a long time? Let me get you some coffee.”

“This is a fancy coffee from New York. We don’t usually offer it.”

The salesperson didn’t care about Niki at all, and she was all focused on the wealthy person in front of her.

As she spoke, she brought a pot of coffee in her hand and poured it into a cup on the table. The aroma of the coffee curled up and the mist filled the air.

Lara nodded and said politely, “Thank you.”

“You’re welcome. Miss Turner, if you need anything else, just tell me and I will help you with everything.”

Niki stood aside, silently looking at the salesperson's face and gritting, her teeth about to break.

This flattering look really made her sick.

If it weren't for Julian's recent displeasure to her, so she didn't dare to use his Centurion Card given by Julian, she would be able to afford any car in this store.

"How dare you ignore me?"

"When I get Julian back, you'll kiss my ass." Niki thought..

Niki lowered her head, feeling resentful. Suddenly, a sweet female voice came to her ear, calling her back.

"Miss Linch, you just got injured and shouldn't stand for long. Why don't you sit down and have some coffee 100?"

Niki looked up and Lara was waving sincerely to her.

She quickly put on an innocent look, with endless gratitude in her eyes.

"Thank you very much, Miss Turner."

The salesperson hesitated a bit and said, "This is... A VIP seat."

Upon hearing this, Niki felt quite flustered and said, "Sorry, I might as well not sit on it."

But Lara pulled her over and said, "It's okay. Just sit there. What do they get all these rules?"

"But she said it was for a VIP. I'm not a VIP after all... I think I'll just stand."

Niki was bashful and looking very scared.

Lara gave her a comforting look and said frankly, "If this young lady doesn't sit, I won't buy the car."

Upon hearing this, the salesperson felt nervous. She shut up and poured a cup of coffee from the pot for Niki.

“Please.”

Niki took the cup of coffee with a smile on her face, but her heart was full of contempt.

On the other side, Natalie walked around carefully and got a general idea of the car configuration in the shop.

She had her eyes on two cars, with comparable configurations and styles, and she couldn't make up her mind.

She was torn about which car to buy.

After much thought, she decided to buy both, and she would give one to Tory.

She raised her hand to call out for sales, but as soon as she turned her head, she saw the sales stand loosely, but their eyes were fixed at the center.

Natalie was confused.

Her gaze followed, and there sat two women, talking and laughing, with a cheerful atmosphere around them.

Natalie didn't know what's so interesting about this.

She waved her hand and gestured for.

nearest salesperson to come over. “Hello, I want to buy a car.”

west salesperson to come or want to by car

.The salesperson came at the voice, and although she answered promptly, she was not enthusiastic at all.

“Which one do you want?”

She looked rather listless.

Natalie pointed to the car in the distance and said, "That one."

"Hmm?"

"You mean the silver white one?" The salesperson suddenly regained her energy. Her eyelids twitched wildly, and she was clearly surprised.

"Yeah." Natalie nodded and took out a card, saying with a faint tone, "Here."

The light in salesperson's eyes changed from indifference to excitement. "All right, I'll take care of the formalities."

Just now, when she saw that Amy got such a big order, she was so jealous that she felt so anxious.

Now she was thanking Heaven for also giving her a big order.

The salesperson had thought Natalie couldn't afford a car, because though she was pretty, she was dressed in ordinary clothes. But unexpectedly, she was also a wealthy person.

It was the truth that the richer the person, the lower their profile.

She was holding the card given by Natalie in her hand and was about to leave.

But Natalie stopped her, "Wait, I want the black car over there, too."

The salesperson was stunned at first, and then followed her fingers...

However, her excitement was somewhat extinguished.

"Miss, this car was booked just a few minutes ago."

She looked calm and polite, but inside her heart she felt that she had been scratched by a cat. If it weren't for Lara who ordered it, she could have sold two top luxury cars today!

That was two top luxury cars! She could live for more than ten years just by percentage!

"It's booked? Is there only one?" Asked Natalie.

The salesperson, dressed in a professional suit, nodded and pointed to the person in the center. "That lady booked it."

Natalie looked over again. She had just met the person sitting on the left, and as for the person sitting on the right...

He felt somewhat familiar.

She took a careful look and saw that she was Niki.

"Would you like to go and see some other cars? There are many cars with good configurations here." The salesperson wanted to try again.

After all, one more car, one more share of money.

Natalie waved her hand and said, "No, thanks."

The salesperson twitched her mouth and wanted to say something else, but after thinking about it, she didn't say anything

She had been working in the sales field for so long, knowing that the customer in front of her was dressed in low-key attire and clearly had no flamboyant character, so she definitely didn't like others pestering her to buy things.

"Well... Would you like to sit over there and take a break? I'll get you some coffee."

Natalie looked over there.

She didn't get it wrong.

It was Niki,

Upon seeing Niki sitting there, she didn't want to go at all, although she was tired and felt like sitting.

Niki was sitting there, and how could she possibly go?

Based on Niki's hatred towards her, as long as she went over there, Niki would definitely do something to harm her.

Although she was not afraid of Niki, it was better to save trouble.

"No..."

Natalie waved her hand and said, "Go ahead and do the formalities. I'll take a look around."

The salesperson nodded and left.

Natalie's gaze turned towards the center, and she had already remembered who the woman next to Niki was. She had sent documents to the medical meeting before.

"How did Niki know her?" Natalie wondered.

Natalie frowned and slowly approached them.

Niki didn't notice Natalie's arrival at all.

She sat next to Lara, picked up a cup of coffee, and took a sip. "Miss Turner, since you know the Spears family..."

Her tone was slow but persuasive. "Do you know that divine doctor of the Spears family will attend the medical exchange conference in Chicago?"

Upon hearing the divine doctor of the Spears family, Natalie stopped.

She had dealt with Niki so many times and knew that Niki must get a plan when she looked like this.

Natalie wondered what she was going to do.

Chapter 240 Sadfishing

Natalie didn't want to eavesdrop on Niki, but as soon as Niki mentioned the divine doctor of the Spears family, her footsteps unconsciously stopped.

She didn't care what Niki tried to do to her.

Even if she were to stir up the sky, Natalie wouldn't take any notice.

But this time it was different. Niki mentioned her grandfather.

Niki even dared to harm Julian's grandfather try to kill him.

Based on the hatred Niki had towards her, if she wanted to take action against Natalie's grandfather, she would be even more ruthless than before. So Natalie could not ignore this.

Natalie's heart trembled as she slowed down and silently walked behind the two of them to avoid Niki discovering herself,

It was about her grandfather, and she had to be cautious.

Fortunately, Niki and Lara both looked ahead and did not notice her approaching behind them.

Niki's face remained calm and she spread out the topic. "I heard that the medical exchange conference in Chicago is held in a very luxurious place.”

Lara didn't have much emotion on her face, nodded and said, “Of course I know.”

Then she added, “Everyone in New York knows about the event the divine doctor of the Spears family is attending. Many people rush to go.”

Niki's Eyelid flutter slightly, and she agreed, “Yeah.”

She continued speaking as if unintentionally, “There are really many people rushing to go, otherwise Julian wouldn't have missed the invitation.”

She accentuated the last part of the sentence.

But Lara didn't seem to hear her words, and her eyes were attracted by the exquisite Dim sum on the table.

On the small plate were some pink cakes, with a delicate design, like a lovely little rabbit.

Lara smiled, and she reached out for it.

“It looks good. You see, the little rabbit.” She picked up a piece of cake and ate it.

“It tastes good too.”

Halfway through Niki's words, she looked at Lara's innocent expression as she picked up the cake.

Her words were swallowed and choked, stuck in her mouth and unable to be spoken.

Seeing Lara's innocent and sincere look, Niki couldn't say what I had planned.

Niki could only watch awkwardly as Lara tasted the cake.

Lara noticed her gaze and swallowed the cake in her mouth.

“Miss Linch, would you like to have one?” Lara picked up another piece of cake from the plate and handed it to Niki.

She noticed that Niki’s eyebrows were slightly twisted, and she seemed to be hesitant to speak. Lara thought it should be that she wanted to eat some cake.

Lara felt that he shouldn’t have been wrong.

Niki looked at Lara’s friendly face and forced a smile. She waved her hand and said, “No, thanks.”

“Try one, it’s pretty good.”

Lara still insisted on passing the cake to Niki.

But Niki waved her hand and was unwilling to take it.

There were a lot of things to deal with, and she just annoyed Julian. She was not in the mood for cake..

Lara looked at the rejected cake and lowered her eyes, her eyelashes trembling. She thought, “I mistook her?”

“Niki doesn’t want to eat cakes?”

“Forget it. I’m not gonna push her.”

“I’ll eat them myself.”

Lara picked up another piece of cake and ate it with her lips closed.

Natalie stood behind, smiling.

She laughed at Niki inwardly.

Niki had a clever mouth that could turn black into white. As long as she spoke, that person who listened would be fooled around.

But Lara did not answer her words at all.

No matter what she said, Lara wouldn't take her word, so she couldn't carry out his deception.

Natalie only felt funny standing behind.

After Lara finished eating the cake in her mouth, Niki thought for a moment, and bit the bullet to speak.

"Julian even went to the organizer a few days ago to get an invitation for the medical exchange conference."

"Hmm? And then what?" Lara looked at her.

"Poor Julian, he spared no effort and paid over hundreds of millions of dollars for a contract, but he was deceived by the organizer!"

Niki was filled with indignation and was very angry.

"What?" Lara also widened her eyes.

She didn't seem to believe it. "Are you saying that the organizer cheated Julian's for a contract?"

Lara finally had a reaction and Niki was satisfied with it. She nodded heavily and said, "Yes! Absolutely!"

"As you know, the Graham family was weak due to authorization, and even faced bankruptcy."

"Although authorized now, it is still in the recovery stage, and every penny is very important for the Graham family."

The more she spoke, the angrier she became.

“But the organizer cheated out such a big contract. It’s a fatal blow to the Graham family!”

Lara’s eyes were widened.

“Um... Why did the organizers do this to his family?”

Niki put on an understanding look and said, “I believe the organizers are not targeting the Graham family.

Perhaps it was because the invitation had already been taken by another wealthy family, so they couldn’t help but regret it.”

“But Julian has done nothing wrong...”

Before she could finish her sniveling words, Lara angrily exclaimed, “How could they do this?!”

“Aren’t they throwing their weight around? Although the Graham family is not that powerful, they can’t bully you like this!”

Lara would not tolerate any injustice and was born with a sense of justice.

She saw Niki tied up before. Although she didn’t know her, she disregarded the butler’s obstruction and decided to go and save her.

When she heard about this today, her heart was filled with indignation.

It was this characteristic of her that Niki had grasped. Seeing Lara angry, she was satisfied in her heart.

“The Graham family has no status in New York, and being bullied is common. I’m long been used to it.”

“It’s just that Grandpa Graham...” Niki mentioned Grandpa Graham, and it seemed that tears were coming out of her eyes.

Lara hurriedly handed over a tissue and said, “Don’t cry Miss Linch. Take it easy.”

“Did you mention Grandpa Graham? Does this have anything to do with him?”

-Niki took the tissue and sniffled. “Grandpa Graham has been lying in bed for many days... He has been sick and doctors couldn’t cure it.”

*Julian also hired a doctor from the Spears family. You know, the one who held the clinic meeting, but he couldn’t cure Grandpa Graham.”

“The only one who can save Grandpa Graham now is the divine doctor of the Spears family.”

“But he’s not someone that we can meet. The status of the Spears family and the Graham family are different. Finally there is an exchange conference, and we wanted to seek the divine doctor, but the organizer tricked us!”

“Miss Turner, why are we so miserable?”

Niki was crying her eyes out.

Natalie stood behind, listening to Niki’s one lie after another, and her heart was filled with sarcasm.

It was herself that made Grandpa Graham become like this, but now Niki described herself as a great person who cared about her family?!

She was so good at calling white black.
