

After the Divorce, CEO Realizes He's the Stand-In Lover By Madison King

Chapter 41 Being refused by Philip Johnson

With an Indifferent look on his face, Julian Graham saw that Rudy Graham put the authorization into his bag and said, "I would let the matter of the counterfeit slide. You two can go back now."

Rudy Graham snorted. Apparently, he didn't feel embarrassed to be unmasked after making up the authorization. Instead, he said with an ambiguous expression, "I haven't seen your wife for a long time."

Julian Graham frowned, "What do you want to say?"

Rudy Graham sneered, "It's just a casual remark. After all, we haven't seen each other for a long time."

i

"You don't have to see her."

Although Yvonne Graham didn't know what Rudy Graham was up to, she believed that he had his own plan. She couldn't help but cut in, "Why not? Your wife is also a member of our family. Isn't it normal for us to care for her as your family members?"

"From the bottom of my heart, I like that girl, Natalie Spears. I haven't seen her for a long time. Why don't you make an appointment with her?" Rudy Graham said with a cold smile on his face.

Julian Graham frowned. He waved his hand to Lynden Waley and said, "Send the two out."

Lynden Waley immediately walked up and made a gesture to let Rudy Graham leave. Rudy Graham stood up and said, "I want to have dinner with your wife. Is it because she doesn't want to see us, or because you have something to hide?"

Julian Graham narrowed his eyes and thought, 'I have something to hide? How ridiculous.

Julian Graham's patience was almost running out. His eyes turned from indifference to impatience. "I've decided to divorce her.”

His mother had already known about the divorce. Even if his mother didn’t agree with his divorce with Natalie Spears, he was determined to divorce her He didn’t love her at all. It was ridiculous to maintain a marriage.

without love.

No matter how much she disagreed, this result could not be changed. The divorce was set.

Since this matter could not be changed, they had to know it sooner or later.

Yvonne Graham eyes widened in shock.

He spoke out the divorce thing so easily. It was obvious that Julian Graham didn’t know that it would affect the position of CEO. Rudy Graham had a complacent smile on his face.

He took a meaningful look at Julian Graham and said, “It’s just a decision to divorce. That’s to say, you haven’t divorced yet. Let’s meet at home tomorrow to have a farewell banquet to say goodbye. What do you think?”

Julian, I’ll ask you one more time. Are you willing to give up your position?” Rudy Graham squinted at Julian Graham, who was sitting on the chair impatiently.

“Sir, please leave here as soon as possible. If you don’t leave now, we’ll call the security,” said Lynden Waley.

“If you still don’t want to, then don’t blame me for being rude!” Before Rudy Graham finished his words, several strong security guards had already stood at the door, as if they were about to attack at any time.

Seeing the security guard standing at the door, Rudy Graham swallowed the threat in his mouth and gritted his teeth, “Okay, then don’t blame me for being too cruel to you. If you lose the position of CEO, you can’t find a place to cry! Let’s go!”

Seeing so many malicious looking security guards outside the door, Yvonne Graham was so scared that she followed Rudy Graham at once.

As soon as they walked out of the door, Rudy Graham was pulled back. “What the hell are you thinking about? How could the authorization be so easily seen through? Don’t you need to be careful when you forged. it? What should we do next?”

With a cold smile on his face, Rudy Graham said, “You’ll know when we arrive at home tomorrow.”

Looking at the backs of the two, Julian Graham wondered what Rudy Graham was up to.

The assistant suddenly pushed the door open and came in, "Mr. Graham, Mr. Seth said that there was something important to tell you in your office, but you were not there. Are you going to call him in now?"

'Dylan is here?! Did he get the number of personal assistant of Philip Johnson?' Julian Graham came to his senses and said in a hurry, "Let him in."

Dylan Seth pushed the door open and came in, "I ran into your uncle and aunt as soon as I came in. Why are they here? Are they here to fight for the position of CEO again?" He felt something wrong after saying that. "I remember that they said they wouldn't come back to the Graham Group, didn't they?"

Julian Graham said, "They are just clowns. In order to compete for the position of CEO, they even forged an agreement and showed it to me."

Hearing this, Dylan Seth gave a mocking smile and said, "It's so funny."

Julian Graham watched Dylan Seth, "Let's get down to business. Have you got the phone number? This matter is more serious than you think. It's related to the future of the Graham Group."

"It's done. This is the phone number of Philip Johnson's personal assistant, but it's better for you to call in person." Dylan Seth restrained his expression and transferred the phone number to Julian Graham.

Julian Graham took the phone and glanced at Dylan Seth with satisfaction. "I'll call this number now. Don't worry."

Julian Graham dialed the number, and the phone rang, followed by an elegant female voice, "Hello, who are you looking for?"

The president of the Graham Group? Please wait a moment. I'll ask him for you," the woman replied.

There was a big round pool in the quiet mountain. The steam of the hot spring wrapped up the pool. The golden dragon heads at both ends of the hot spring were eye-catching, but the people in the pool were covered by the mist. No matter how carefully you squinted, you couldn't see clearly.

"Mr. Johnson, someone called and said that he had something important to talk to you. Do you have time?"

The man's muscles exposed in the dense water vapor were unusually smooth, with extreme wildness and unruly. Drops of water on his hair fell down on the edge of the hot spring pool. Philip Johnson stared at the emerald green mountains around him. The atmosphere in his every move and the deep eyes at the moment. made him look dispirited and beautiful. No one knew what he was thinking.

The assistant asked but didn't hear any reply. She sighed. Mr. Johnson hadn't paid attention to the company's affairs for many days. When he was free, he looked around in the mountains, which was unpredictable. She had heard by chance that Mr. Johnson was hurt because of lover. She didn't believe it at first, but looking at the current situation, she had to believe it.

Mr. Johnson had made it clear that he didn't want to talk about business, so the assistant didn't dare to ask again. She stood up and left the hot spring pool.

Julian Graham heard a rustling sound on the phone, mixed with a woman's question.

"I'm sorry. I've asked Mr. Johnson. Mr. Johnson doesn't want to talk about business, now. You can call me again in the future." The polite female voice came again.

Julian Graham frowned and pursed his thin lips. Before he could open his mouth, he heard the phone. hanging up. He frowned and put down the phone.

What does Philip Johnson mean?!

Chapter 42 Destroy the Graham Group

Standing aside, Dylan Seth barely heard what Julian Graham said. He looked up and saw that his face was obviously not good. "Philip Johnson does not agree?"

Julian Graham's dark eyes were like a deep pool with an unreadable expression.

Watching the silent Julian Graham, Dylan Seth had a general idea. He opened his mouth, but held back the words. After a while, he cursed, "How could Philip Johnson do this?"

"He think he can do that just because he has the authorization? It's so impolite to do that to others with the authorization, isn't it?"

"We have all swallow our pride..." Dylan Seth watched the increasingly gloomy face of Julian Graham and stopped saying.

After hesitating for a while, he said, "We don't have to get the authorization. We can also find scientific research talents. Although it's not as easy as the Glory Group to make medicines, we can still successfully develop the new drugs before the authorization expires."

"Where are you going to find scientific research talents?"

After hearing what Julian Graham said, Dylan Seth paused and frowned. Then he turned around and sat on the sofa in the office.

Julian Graham glanced at Dylan Seth, "Get out."

Dylan curled his lips and thought, 'What a cruel man Julian Graham is! He is as indifferent as ever. He will throw me away if I am useless.'

But he didn't say anything more. He knew what kind of person Julian Graham was after all these years. "Don't exhaust yourself. Take care of yourself."

Dylan Seth closed the door, and the depression on Julian Graham completely emerged.

Julian Graham picked up the cigarette on the table and lit it with a lighter. The sparkles of fire appeared on his fingertips.

Watching the flickering cigarette in his hand, Julian Graham put it into his mouth, but he didn't smoke at all. He placed it on the edge of the ashtray. He watched the cigarette burning into ashes and broken into pieces. He suddenly broke the cigarette.

Was the Graham Group going to be destroyed by him?

In the spacious and luxurious office, foggy lights and hazy smoke of cigarette filled the room.

The next morning, the sun shone in from the window. Lying on the bed, Natalie Spears suddenly woke up When she heard the ringing of her phone.

"Me..." the man's low voice came through. Although it was only one word, she immediately knew who it was.

"Disturb my dreams in the early morning? Are you okay? Let's talk about the things later." After saying that, Natalie Spears put her finger on the hanging button.

"No, no, no. I have something to talk to you." The man's voice was obviously much lower.

"I called you that day, but you turned off your phone. Do you know how important it was? How embarrassed I was when the phone was not connected?"

Philip Johnson chuckled, "You still have an awkward time? It's really hard to see. Let me guess, are you in front of Julian Graham at that time?"

When Natalie Spears heard the name of Julian Graham, she immediately thought of the scene that she was stopped downstairs that day. She was completely awake. "Don't mention him to me. We are going to divorce. I have signed the divorce agreement, waiting him to sign it."

Speaking of this, she remembered that her divorce agreement hadn't been sent out yet...

'What's wrong with Julian Graham? Why didn't he accept the divorce agreement? Did he think that she came to find him because she did not want to divorce?

Natalie Spears thought it over and found that this reason made sense.

Philip Johnson nodded, "That's good. Welcome back to your single life as soon as possible. When I come back, I'll hold a celebration for you."

"Wait for you come back? When can you come back? It's all just pie in the sky." Natalie Spears said, "By the way, where are you? Why can't you get through to me?"

Philip Johnson laughed, "When did I give you the pie in the sky? You didn't let me contact you for three years because of the Graham family. I just went out for a short time, but you complained about me."

Natalie Spears curled her lip, "Cut the crap. What are you calling for?"

Philip Johnson cleared his throat and said, "I think Ryan has told you about the new drug development in our company."

Natalie Spears raised her eyebrows and said, "I'm going to have a look, but is it so urgent? Why do you call me in person?"

"Don't be so sarcastic. As long as you are willing to go, please go as soon as possible. If there is nothing else,

I will hang up."

Philip Johnson hung up the phone.

She sighed and got up from the bed.

She took out her cell phone and dialed Ryan Swan's number, "Ryan, are you in the company today? I'm going to the company's lab to see the development of new drugs this morning."

"I'm in the company now. Shall I pick you up or wait for you downstairs?"

Chanter 47 Testroy the Graham Crave.

57774

"Wait for me downstairs. Oh, by the way, I'll go through the back door. Try to wait for me at the back door."

After packing up, Natalie Spears drove to the door of the Glory Group, where Ryan Swan had been waiting for her for a long time.

"Good morning. Have you had breakfast?" said Natalie Spears.

"Yes, I have," said Ryan Swan in a nervous tone, touching his head.

Natalie Spears nodded. She could tell that he was nervous.

The reason why she came here was that she wanted to get closer to him. After all, they had to work in the same lab in the future. The tension between them was not good for their health or doing scientific research.

She sighed. She had to take it slow...

"Let's go," said Natalie Spears with a smile.

Hearing this, Ryan Swan nodded and walked ahead.

When Natalie Spears was walking, her phone vibrated. She took it out and saw a message from Linda Mills.

"Nana, have you had dinner? Come to our house when you are free."

A warm smile was added at the end of the message.

She frowned. Since Niki Linch stirred up trouble in the Graham's house, Linda Mills had been sending her messages these days. At the beginning, she still had a reply, but later she didn't reply anymore.

After reading the message, Natalie Spears put her phone back to her pocket. She had made it clear that she would divorce with Julian Graham, but seeing what Linda Mills had done these days, it was obvious that she didn't accept it

"Doctor, what's wrong?" asked Ryan Swan cautiously as he turned around and saw her frown.

Hearing this, Natalie Spears looked up and shook her head, "Nothing."

The two of them came to the door of the lab.

Ryan Swan followed her in subconsciously, but this time he was stopped by Natalie Spears. She waved at him and said, "Don't follow me. I can't show my identity. Once you enter, my identity may be exposed."

In the Glory Group, no one had seen the chief expert except him and Mr. Johnson.

Hearing this, Ryan Swan stopped and nodded. He almost forgot it. In the past, many scientific research talents in New York had been involved in a commercial war, and they had been maliciously attacked and even lost their lives. Although it did not happen in Los Angeles, once the identity of Natalie Spears was revealed, it would inevitably be envied by their peers.

Natalie Spears pulled the mask to cover her nose and wear the experimental cap. After making sure that no one could see her appearance, she walked into the lab.

Chapter 43 Do you really know how to make medicine?

In the lab, there were more than a dozen fellows in white lab clothes, each holding a variety of pharmaceutical equipment and being busy with their own work. They seemed to be in a hurry. It seemed that everyone's eyebrows were covered with a lot of depression.

With a painful look on his face, a research fellow who was holding the extract liquid poured the yellow or not liquid into the abandoned pool. "Why did I fail again? When did it come to an end?"

Another man echoed, "We've been working overtime for a month, but our research was wrong. We've been following the steps of Doctor Brown. Why do we always fail? Is Doctor Brown's plan okay?"

"If we can't develop this medicine, we will be scolded all the time. After Mr. Johnson comes back, if we can't develop it, we will probably be fired!" One of the research fellows said.

“Keep your voice down. Be careful not to be heard by Doctor Brown when he comes. You will be in trouble.” The person next to him reminded him.

As soon as he finished speaking, the door of the lab was opened and Natalie Spears came in. Hearing the sound, the fellows raised their eyes and saw a woman in lab clothes with a mask on her face. They could only see her beautiful eyes. Although she wore a mask, she looked very beautiful at a glance.

They just took a look at her and took a deep breath and then they lowered their heads and continued to develop the medicine.

There were always people who came to the lab to send all kinds of medicine and research materials. They thought that this person was also here to send materials. They were not surprised at all. The top priority now was to develop the medicine, or they would lose their jobs.

Natalie Spears took a look at this lab. The lab was the same as it was three years ago. It was even the same.

as the one she had stayed in the university.

It was just because it looked like the laboratory in the university. She had never come to the lab of the Glory Group since the accident happened to Henry Graham. Instead, she had built a small laboratory at home.

She couldn't stay with Henry Graham in the lab all day long and didn't even have time to eat. Henry Graham always accompanied her, and even taught himself how to make medicine during company.

He said that he just wanted to get involved in her world. He wanted to feel the joy and pain of her medicine making process, and wanted to feel all kinds of wonderful things with her.

But he didn't know that all the romance and beauty, joy and pain in her world were born for him. He just needed to stand there...

She seemed to see the broken falling sun again...

“Just put the materials on the table over there.” One of the fellows said when he saw Natalie Spears.

Natalie Spears came to her senses and answered, “Okay.”

It was not until she walked over that she realized what had happened. She raised her eyes and saw that the research fellow lowered his head again to do his own thing. Natalie Spears returned to her usual calm and then browsed through the data results on the test table.

The medicine that the Glory Group was developing was about lung cancer. The rate of cancer attack and death had always been the highest 75% to 80% of them were non-small cell lung cancer. It was very difficult to develop a medicine that could perfectly apply to medium and late stage non-small cell lung cancer.

As Natalie Spears swept over them one by one, many of the plates on the table were half open. The bacteria in some plates were lush, while some were only little. Piles of abandoned semi-finished products were piled beside the laboratory. One could tell how many times they had failed before from the abandoned semi-finished products.

Natalie Spears took out a failed semi-finished product and observed it under a special microscope. Then she took the densely packed data sheets on the table.

She carefully looked at the data sheet and the semi-finished product... She knew why they failed!

The Glory Group's proposal was still the same as before, and the whole plan was based on the western concept of pharmacy. The main body of the proposal was made of two kinds of ingredients, gemcitabine and cisplatin. She found the problem when she saw the proportion of the two.

"It failed again!" The research fellow next to him cursed, and then poured the newly developed drug into the abandoned pool.

"Let me do it," said Natalie Spears, looking at the painful and irritable research fellow in front of her.

Hearing the voice, the research raised his eyes and glanced at her. "You? What are you doing here? Don't you think I'm not annoying enough? Don't cause any trouble. Go out as soon as possible after the delivery. Don't waste time here."

Hearing the noise, all the other fellows raised their heads and said, "Yes. Go out quickly. Don't make trouble for us."

Natalie Spears were calm. "I'm not kidding."

They burst into laughter, “Do you know what it is? Have you ever been to university?”

They had worked in the Glory Group for so many years, but they had never seen such a crazy person. There was no problem with being arrogant. The problem was that if a person who overestimated himself or herself was so arrogant, they would feel this person extremely ridiculous.

Natalie Spears raised her eyebrows. She didn’t want to say anything more. She stepped forward and wanted to pick up the bottle. An elder man next to her reminded her, “Little girl, we’re not joking. The development of this medicine is related to our job. No one can bear it if anything goes wrong. Don’t cause any trouble here.”

Before she could get the bottle, the bottle was grabbed by someone.

Nick Smith held the bottle and sneered, “That’s right. It’s very dangerous to operate these lab equipment and medicines. If anything happens, you will be scared to cry. Sometimes, it will explode, and if it’s serious, it will directly blow up your face!”

“You can do whatever you want as long as you have the ability. Don’t try to make fun of us just because we have high salary. Think about your education background first. Do you have any knowledge reserve?”

Hearing this, a faint smile appeared on the corner of Natalie’s mouth. “Really?”

It was normal that they didn’t trust her. After all, they had never seen her before, and she didn’t confess the identity of the chief expert. Although some people were not friendly, there were also people who reminded her of the danger. These reactions were normal.

Glancing at Nick Smith, who was holding a bottle of reagent in his hand, Natalie Spears said, “You have the C2N14 in your hand, and you are standing in front of such a dazzling sun. The consequences are obvious. It will blow up your face.”

Hearing this, Nick Smith’s heart skipped a beat. He turned his head to watch the bottle in his hand. It was really C2N14! He just grabbed the bottle and didn’t see anything in it.

“Who is so careless to put the C2N14 in this place?” He immediately put it back.

“Do you really know how to make medicine?”

Chapter 44 Natalie was photographed

“Let me have a try.” said Natalie in a firm tone.

Nick still didn't trust her, "Although you know pharmacy, this medicine is very difficult for us to make, even the doctor can't do it. Can you handle it?"

"How can I know if I don't give it a try?" said Natalie with a smile.

"Okay, just let her have a try." the research fellow next to her gloated, waiting to see her failure.

Nick moved aside from the table with doubt. Without hesitating, Natalie walked up to the table and picked up all kinds of materials on it, starting to develop the medicine. The surrounding research workers watched with disdain as she expertly extracted, sterilized, and cut the medicine materials.

As time went by, the last step of pharmacy was reached. When the last material was added, the vessel underwent a very obvious change. Then Natalie took off the test glasses and said, "It's okay."

Nick sneered, "Have you finished? Are you kidding me?" he had just carefully watched her steps. The proportion of the two main materials was completely wrong, and it was a huge mistake.

Without saying anything, Natalie took the laboratory mouse beside her and injected the developed medicine into the body of the mouse. Then she said, "Check the data of the rat later."

Nick still had a little belief before, but when he saw that the proportion was completely wrong, he no longer believed her. He didn't bother to pay attention to Natalie and went straight back to his original position. "You can leave now. You can have a dream, but you can't be too impractical."

Natalie pursed her lips and didn't care about Nick's words at all. While the medicine was still reacting, she took out her mobile phone from her pocket and saw that Linda had sent several more messages.

After taking good care of Linda for the past three years, she treated her as her mother from the bottom of her heart. Although she didn't want to disappoint her, she couldn't go on like this.

After reading it carefully, she patiently found Julian's number and sent a message.

"When do you plan to sign it?"

The message was sent successfully. She put the phone back to her pocket.

Natalie stood quietly aside, waiting for the reaction of the medicine. The surrounding researchers also returned to their seats, totally ignored her.

After a long time, Natalie put the mouse into the observation box and carefully recorded all the data.

She handed the data sheet to Nick and said, "Take a look."

Nick sneered, "You should just give up, your proportion is wrong. No matter how hard you try, you won't succeed."

Then he looked down at the data sheet in his hand? Then he was stunned. 'How could?!' thought him.

He ran to the observation box with a big stride, checked all the data carefully, and murmured, "The tumor has absorbed all of them..."

He looked up at Natalie again, his eyes full of surprise, "You actually succeeded?"

Hearing the sound, the research fellow next to him looked over and asked, "Did you succeed?"

They trotted over and squeezed in front of Nick, looking at the data sheet in shock.

Natalie said calmly, "There is a big problem with your proportion. It will be better if you add some other medicine."

Thinking of what he had just said about her wrong proportion, Nick stammered, "Who... Who the hell are you?"

Even Dr. Brown couldn't develop this medicine. She just came to have a look and found out the proportion problem. Moreover, the semi finished product developed by her was very good, and it only need a simple processing would be able to flow into the market.

Who the hell was she? As long as she had the strength, she must have an extraordinary identity.

"Just call me Nancy."

Natalie couldn't tell her real name, so she just made a fake name 'Nancy'. It was a simple name, which was often called by Henry in the lab. It carried the memory of this lab.

“Nancy...” Nick stammered.

“I’m so sorry. ... I didn’t recognize you. Please don’t tell me.”

“It’s okay. I can understand.”

She finished her task today.

Without saying anything more, Natalie picked up her bag and walked out, leaving behind the shocked group.

of fellows standing still.

Seeing that Natalie turned around and left, Nick took out his phone and took a picture of her back.

Then he sent it to a small group of medical community’s sharing and communication forum, with supporting words.

“Hi, everyone. I’m a researcher of the Glory group! Today I’ve met a pharmaceutical expert! She’s so awesome!

She had solved the company’s problems that we haven’t solved these days so easily! She’s really awesome!

I’ve never seen this outstanding pharmacy! For some reason, I didn’t dare to ask for this expert’s number.

However, I took a picture of her. Have you guys ever seen her?”

Because Nick had also released a lot of scientific research achievements every day, which could be regarded as a relatively successful research fellow, and he was a little popular in the forum.

The post soon became popular, and there were a lot of comments below.

‘Did this expert say her name?’

Nick read the comment and replied decisively, “She said her name is Nancy.” then he added a helpless expression.

Everyone knew that since she chose not to tell him her last name, she didn’t want to reveal her real name.

‘Just a name Nancy? Where are you going to find her? You’d better resign yourself to that.’ replied by that medical e-friend.

Nick sighed helplessly and read many comments patiently, but there was no useful message at all. He put the phone back to his pocket.

But just as he put his phone back, a new comment was released.

“There is a rumor that the New Bleomycin Drug that the Glory group authorized to the Graham group seems to be developed by Nancy.”

At the same time, Julian was sitting in his office and reading all kinds of documents. He looked very calm, but only he knew his current mood.

It is difficult to solve the problem of authorization now.

It was very uncomfortable for him of things out of control.

He hated this feeling.

The last time he had this feeling was when Natalie accepted the divorce calmly.

Thinking of this, his cold face showed disgust.

A message ringtones came through the phone. He pressed his chin with his finger and opened the message bar of the phone impatiently.

It was a message from Natalie.

He threw the phone back on the table as soon as he saw her name, and more disgust appeared in his irritable and cold eyes.

“Why is she so annoying?’ He thought that the reason she left that day is that she wanted to be optimistic about their divorce, but he didn’t expect that she still didn’t want to leave him. She should know that it was useless to keep pestering a person who didn’t love her.

There was a sudden knock on the door.

Julian said coldly, "Come in."

Dylan trotted in and said, "We have found something about authorization!"

Hearing this, Julian looked up abruptly, "Make it clear."

The authorization actually had some clues?

Dylan took out his phone and turned to a screenshot, "This is a screenshot of the medical exchange forum. Look at this post. The key point is the following comments."

Julian took the phone and looked at it for a while. Then he said in a low voice, "Nancy..."

"Is it reliable?"

"It must be reliable. I asked my friend to keep an eye on it. If you don't believe me, we can check the IP address of this person and ask him directly."

Julian pressed his slender fingers against the table with a deep look on his face.

Chapter 45 Attending the banquet of the Graham family

When Natalie opened the door and came out of the lab, she saw that Ryan was sitting on the chair outside. His whole body was lying inside slightly, but his head was slightly tilted to the outside. He was over 1.8 meters tall and sitting on the slightly smaller chair, which made him somewhat cute.

Natalie slowly approached him in a low voice. With his lips slightly closed, and his eyelashes trembled from time to time.

She thought that Ryan would go to do his own work after she entered the lab, but she didn't expect that he would wait for her at the door of the lab. she had been in the lab for a long time, but he had been sitting there obediently....

Natalie didn't know whether she should say that Ryan was too sincere or too stupid.

She looked at the man sleeping on the chair and sighed. She couldn't let him sleep all the time. It must be very uncomfortable to be confined to a small chair.

She gently touched his shoulder. He had a light sleep. Almost as soon as she touched his shoulder, he suddenly woke up.

“How’s it going, doctor?”. Because he has just woken up, he was a little dull.

“Everything has been solved.” when Natalie saw that Ryan had woken up, she straightened up and took off the mask on her face as she walked.

“That’s good. I’ll talk to the company later. They must be very happy!”

He knew that doctor call do it! And it was solved so soon!

Natalie turned her head and glanced at Ryan, who was following her closely. The corners of her mouth lifted into a smile. “You don’t have to follow me. You can just do your job.”

Ryan scratched his head and said, “I’ll walk you downstairs.”

It was not easy for him to see doctor. He just wanted to stay a little longer. Maybe when doctor went to the new lab, she would call him come to the new lab again, but he didn’t know why he just didn’t want doctor to leave.

Seeing that Ryan was so persistent, Natalie didn’t say anything more. She pressed the elevator button, and Ryan followed her and carefully stood beside her.

The two walked to the car side by side.

“Here I am. You really don’t have to send me back, do you?” said Natalie with a smile on her face.

“No... I won’t.” hearing the ridicule in her words, Ryan felt a little embarrassed.

Then I’ll go first... Goodbye, doctor.” after taking a last look at Natalie, Ryan turned around and was about to leave.

“Don’t move. I want to give you something.” Natalie stopped him when she saw that he was about to leave.

She opened the door and took out a well wrapped medicine bottle.

“This is for you. I’ve already prepared it for you. I’ve been too busy to remember it recently.” Natalie handed the small drug bottle to Ryan.

“It’s for me?” Ryan was surprised and even a little flattered.

“Don’t you have a stomachache? This is specially developed by me. Try it. If it doesn’t work, I’ll take it back to adjust.”

Before she married into the Graham family, Ryan was her assistant and had been doing experiments with her.

She knew what she was like when she was doing experiments. As long as she started the experiment, she would care nothing but experiment. She wouldn’t eat, drink water or even sleep at the critical moment.

Ryan had been doing experiments with her all the time. Unconsciously, he looked like her. If he didn’t finish the experiment, he wouldn’t eat, and his stomach gradually became sick.

But all these were told by Philip... If he didn’t tell her, she wouldn’t know at all. She was insensitive to the outside world when she did experiments.

“Okay, doctor’s work will definitely be useful.” Ryan took the bottle.

The doctor actually knew that he had stomach illness? He had always thought that he had concealed it well, and had never shown it

“I’m leaving.” Natalie, who had already sat in the car. Seeing that Ryan was a little stunned, she waved at him.

Natalie’s car disappeared in front of Ryan. He looked down at the small bottle of the medicine and slowly clenched it.

After waving goodbye to Ryan, Natalie was about to go home directly, but she received a call again.

She took out her phone and looked at the number. It was Linda,

She prayed in her heart that Linda didn’t call to persuade her not to divorce.

In fact, if Niki hadn’t made the matter known to the Graham family or to Linda that day, Linda wouldn’t have contacted her frequently all of a sudden. She inexplicably felt that there was a reason for Niki to do so.

She sighed and answered the phone, "Auntie, I'm Nana. Why did you call me? What's wrong? Are you again?"

"I'm fine. I've been in good health recently." Linda said in a soft voice.

'Did she really come to persuade her?' thought Natalie.

Nana, how are you doing recently? What are you doing? I miss you."

sick

"I've been living a good life recently. You don't need to worry about me." answered Natalie, trying to avoid the topic of divorce. She tried her best to be as cold as possible. If she still talked to Linda as gently as before, she might inadvertently give her a psychological hint, which would make her feel that she still had a attachment to the Graham family.

"Well... I want to ask if you are free tomorrow..." Linda asked cautiously.

"Auntie, I'm very busy tomorrow. I really don't have time." Natalie refused without hesitation.

Linda understood what she meant, but she had to go on, "The Graham family will hold a banquet tomorrow to celebrate Grandpa's recovery from a serious illness. He asked you to come... You know that grandpa has just recovered, and I can't make him angry anymore, right?"

"After all, grandpa doesn't know that you are going to divorce with Julian. As his mother, it's not easy for me to tell him on this good day..."

Natalie listened quietly without saying anything.

Seeing that Natalie didn't say anything, Linda sighed, "Grandpa made only one request. Nana, for my sake, can you come to see grandpa tomorrow?"

"What's more, it's better for you to tell Grandpa in person what happened between you and Julian at the banquet than me. After all, telling grandpa on the spot is easier for him to accept than he was told by me. I'm afraid that grandpa will be angry after hearing the news...After all, he has just recovered."

Pursing her lips, Natalie was a little hesitant.

Indeed, she hadn't told grandpa Graham about her divorce with Julian.

"I..." she opened her mouth and hesitated.

"Nana, I know you've made up your mind to divorce. You just need to make it clear to grandpa this time. I respect your choice and won't persuade you anymore." said Linda.

Natalie's eyelashes trembled.

Then she should tell Grandpa in person? The old man had just recovered from a serious illness and suddenly heard about his grandson's divorce. Maybe he really couldn't accept it?

Julian would definitely go with them. This time, she would bring the divorce agreement with her. After making it clear to grandpa, she would ask Julian to sign it in front of him.

In this way, there would be no connection between them anymore.

Chapter 46 Grandpa Graham was angry

"Nana, have you made up your mind?" Linda held her phone and was a little nervous as she hadn't heard anything from Natalie for a long time.

"Yes... I've made up my mind... I'll go there tomorrow and make it clear to Grandpa face to face. Please send me the specific time." Natalie hesitated in her heart and said slowly after careful consideration for a while.

After thinking it over, she thought it was a good plan for her to come to attend this party.

However, she had to see Julian again.

Fortunately, Grandpa Graham would not invite Niki, or she would feel uncomfortable to see Niki again.

"Okay, I know you are kind-hearted, Nana. You have been loving the Graham family all these years, and you won't refuse me." Linda said in an excited tone.

Unlike Niki, who looked pure but only cared about money and didn't care about the life or death of the Graham family at all.

"Send me the time of party. If there's nothing else, I'll hang up." Natalie controlled her tone and looked a little cold.

"Okay, see you tomorrow, Nana." said Linda in a soft voice. She didn't mind the tone of Natalie, and her heart was full of joy.

The next evening, the sun quietly set, leaving only the dark sky. The night wind blew over the golden building, and there was an intoxicated scene on balcony.

In the hall of the Graham family, people in gorgeous dresses were greeting each other in the soft light..

Sitting in the room, Grandpa Graham looked dignified. "Why hasn't Julian come yet?"

He had already told him about today's party, but he didn't show up even if it was time! Most of the guests outside had come. He was really unruly.

"Julian is busy with his work. He might be late if he really has something to deal with. Father, you has just recovered. Don't be angry. Take care of yourself."

Mr. Graham snorted, "Busy with his work? Why did he arranged it well early? I've told him about today's party a long time ago, but he is still late!"

"Obviously, he doesn't take my words seriously at all. I guess he doesn't care about me anymore!"

As he spoke, he stood up and glanced at the guests downstairs. He looked around carefully and frowned again.

"Why didn't Natalie come?"

Since he was sick and lived upstairs, he hadn't seen his granddaughter in law for a long time, and his grandson had only come to see him for several times.

Since Natalie married into the Graham family, she had done everything well as the young Mrs. Graham. She could meet his needs at any time, and she always took care of him.

But this time, she didn't even come to look at him and cared about his illness.

He was very angry, but he was too embarrassed to say it out because of his dignity and prestige. Today, he specially invited all the rich and powerful clans in LA, and he also wanted to take this opportunity to remind his grandson and granddaughter in law.

Hearing that Mr. Graham asked about Natalie, Linda smiled awkwardly. "I guess she's on the way. She'll be there soon."

Before she could finish her words, the door was opened.

Rudy and Yvonne walked in. The two of them were well dressed. Obviously, they were specially dressed.

Mr. Graham thought it was Julian. He looked up and saw the two people in front of him.

"Father, we are here to see you." Rudy sat down beside Grandpa Graham and smiled obsequiously.

"Dad, why do you lose so much weight? You must have suffered a lot these days." said Yvonne, sitting beside Grandpa Graham. Her tone was full of pity.

Ignoring Rudy, Grandpa Graham looked at Yvonne and said, "It's not a big deal. It's just a trifle."

Seeing that Grandpa Graham ignored him, Rudy sat aside awkwardly.

He glanced around the room and didn't see Julian. He just came upstairs and didn't find Julian either. Hasn't he come yet?

"Dad, hasn't Julian come yet?" Rudy asked.

"I don't know what he is doing. He hasn't come yet!"

Rudy thought of something and said slowly, "He must be busy with the company's affairs. There are many and urgent things in the company recently, so it's difficult for him to come in time."

Hearing this, Grandpa Graham frowned, "What happened in the company? Why is Julian so busy?"

Rudy sighed, "Now there are rumors that the Graham company is going to go bankrupt..."

Hearing this, Mr. Graham became more anxious, "What the hell is going on? Make it clear!"

He had just been sick for a while. How could such a big thing happen in the company? Why didn't Julian tell him that the company had gone bankrupt?

Seeing that Grandpa Graham was obviously angry, Rudy calmed down and cleared his throat. "It's... not complicated. It's just what happened recently."

"Our company invested most of the money in the pharmacy, didn't we? Something went wrong with Julian's work and accidentally caused the clinical trials of the most invested medicine to go wrong. Now it will take two or three years to develop a new one."

Hearing this, Mr. Graham was not angry at all. "How can the pharmacy not fail? Julian is still young. He won't make such a mistake when he is older."

"How can it be said that the Graham family has gone bankrupt? These people just don't want the Graham family to be good!" said Grandpa Graham, and he was a little excited.

Rudy sneered, "I thought the same at the beginning. I think it's normal for Julian to make a small mistake. Losing several billion is just to accumulate experience."

"But the failure of this pharmacy has something to do with New Bleomycin Drug."

"What do you mean?"

"The New Bleomycin Drug has always been the main drug of our company. Dad, you know that this drug has always been authorized by the Glory group, but the license expires in a year. According the plan I gave to Julian, once the new drug of the Graham group is developed, it will replace the New Bleomycin Drug directly. However, the development of the new drug failed this time, it directly leads to a dead end."

"A year later, the Graham group was forced to stop the production of our main medicine, New Bleomycin Drug, and the new drugs could not be produced. What do you think about the development of the Graham group in the future?"

Hearing this, Mr. Graham frowned and raised his voice, "Really? Why didn't Julian tell me such a big thing?"

Rudy sneered, "How dare he tell you? If he tells you, he will be scolded by you!"

"I've said that Julian is too young to hold such a responsible position. You haven't listen to me and give this position to him. Now, what should the Graham group do in the future?"

Rudy said worriedly, his face full of concern.

It didn't know if he was worried about the development of the Graham group in the future or the loss of so much money.

Hearing this, Grandpa Graham's face turned ghastly pale, and his hands couldn't help shaking. "This... This bastard..." he was too excited to say the rest of the words, choking in his mouth for a long time.

"Dad, take care of yourself! Calm down!" said Yvonne.

Then she turned to look at Rudy, pretending to be angry, "Dad has just recovered. Why do you mention it?"

"Julian's position was given by my father. He must have his own reason, right?"

Chapt

Chapter 47 Why are you so shameless?

Hearing this, Rudy patted his head and said with regret, "Yes, you're right. I was thoughtless. Dad has just recovered, so I shouldn't have mentioned it in front of him to make him angry, let alone destroy the atmosphere on this good day"

"At that time, I gave the position to Julian was because I thought he must have potential and ability." Rudy showed an expression that he believed in Grandpa Graham's foresight.

Grandpa Graham's face was still livid and he couldn't speak for a long time.

Standing aside, Linda was shocked by what the two guys said.

The Graham group was on the verge of bankruptcy? It is going to repeat the past? Hearing this, Linda felt out of breath.

Rudy bent over and patted on Grandpa Graham's back, "Alas, I'm just too worried about the future of the Graham family. I don't want to see the Graham family decline in my generation, and I just say it out so quickly without thinking."

"But the Graham group is facing such a serious challenge now. If we still don't change anything, it will really be over." with a sidelong glance at Grandpa Graham, Rudy said meaningfully, "Julian is still too young."

Yvonne nodded to cooperate him.

Although Linda was flustered, she understood what Rudy meant.

She tried hard to hold back her emotions and asked, "Rudy, what do you mean?"

Rudy looked at Linda and said, "Since my father chose Julian to be the president at that time, he naturally think he was capable. But now that such a thing happened, do you think he is capable or not?"

Linda was silent.

Rudy turned to Grandpa Graham, "Dad, what do you think?"

With his mouth trembling, Grandpa Graham didn't answer Rudy's question. He just said intermittently, "Give me a glass of... Water."

Linda quickly took the teacup from the table and handed it to his mouth.

He took a few sips of tea with his mouth trembling.

Seeing that Grandpa Graham didn't answer his question, Rudy opened his mouth and wanted to say more, but the door of the room was suddenly opened.

A cold man pushed the door open and walked in. His cold face matched with the dark black suit, making people feel very alienated.

Linda looked up and was happy to see the man. "Julian, you're finally here!"

He looked around and saw Rudy and Yvonne sitting next to his grandfather. His eyes became sharp.

He went straight to Grandpa Graham, who was sitting on the chair, and said, "Grandpa, I'm late because I have something to deal with in the company recently."

Rudy snorted.

With a complicated look on his face, Grandpa Graham said, "What's so important in the company that makes you, who has never been late let us waited for so long?"

Julian looked down and said indifferently, "It's not a big deal."

Rudy said sarcastically, "Not a big deal? I think you'd better tell us the truth. You don't have to hide it from us. After all, we are family."

Hearing this, Julian understood that Rudy must have told his grandfather about the company's affairs and probably said something bad about him.

He didn't look at Rudy at all. He just turned around, picked up a cup of tea on the table and sat on a chair aside.

Rudy was ignored by him. He clenched his fists and said, "Hiding it from us will only make things worse. Do you think you can take the responsibility?"

Grandpa Graham looked at Julian seriously.

Linda was also flustered. She said in a hurry, "Julian, if there's something wrong, just tell us. It's easy to solve it when we get together."

She couldn't wait for Grandpa Graham to blame him..

Julian didn't say anything. He put his slender fingers on the lid of the dark brown teapot, looking indifferent and calm.

After taking a few sips of tea, he put down the cup and asked, "Do you mean the development of the medicine or authorization?"

"Both of them of course!" Rudy snapped, "The Graham group will be destroyed by you because of the failure in the development of the medicine and the expired authorization!"

Julian raised his eyelids and said indifferently, "The company has indeed encountered these things recently."

Hearing this, Linda almost collapsed on the chair, and Grandpa Graham's face also showed anger.

However, Julian was still as calm as before. "But I can deal with all these things. I promise you that the Graham group will never repeat the same mistake."

Linda glanced at Grandpa Graham and said, "Julian, don't be so stubborn. If you can't solve the problem, just tell us. We will help you." she always felt that her son was trying to be strong.

I've found more talented people in medicine research and development. I've invited a famous doctor San Black to help us. I think you've heard about him."

Rudy narrowed his eyes. He didn't expect that Julian could invite Sam to help him?

I've also found the doctor who made the New Bleomycin Drug. I'll get the authorization soon."

"Really? It's true?" Linda looked at Julian.

"Don't worry. Since Grandpa gave me the position of CEO, I will definitely make the Graham group develop better. It's not your turn to teach me to do things." said Julian, glancing coldly at Rudy.

Grandpa Graham sighed and his expression softened, "It's good that you know what to do."

Linda felt relieved. She stood up and sat beside Julian.

She then looked at her watch on her wrist and said, "It's getting late. There are so many guests waiting downstairs. Let's go downstairs."

"My granddaughter in law hasn't come yet." said Grandpa Graham.

Natalie will come? Julian's calm and indifferent face changed a little, and his eyes became disgusted in an instant.

Why did she come? They are going to have a divorce, but she still want to come to the Party of the Graham family? She is so shameless?!

Rudy's silent expression suddenly came to his senses when he heard the words 'his granddaughter in law'. With a cold smile on his face, he said, "It turns out that Natalie is also invited today."

He looked at Grandpa Graham and said, "Dad, don't wait for her. Natalie won't come.

"Why?" asked Grandpa Graham in confusion

Rudy sneered, "Julian is going to divorce her."

"What?" Grandpa Graham looked at Julian and asked, "When did it happen?"

"We made a decision a long time ago, the divorce agreement has been drawn up, and we are about to sign it."

Julian's voice was calm.

He didn't intend to hide it from his grandfather. He just wanted to tell his grandfather after the official divorce. It didn't matter if Rudy told him in advance.

When Rudy heard that Julian didn't deny it, a trace of complacency flashed through his eyes.

Hearing this, Grandpa Graham's anger rose in his heart, "How could you not tell me such a big thing?"

"You are not in good health, and I don't want you to worry about me any more." said Julian.

"But I am much more worried about you now! You've made a decision of divorce by yourself. You really want to do it without telling me?" said Grandpa Graham loudly.

"Even if I don't mention it today, I will say it in the future." said Julian calmly. He really didn't expect that his grandpa would react so fiercely.

Chapter 48 Julian decided not to divorce

Rudy thought to himself, 'let's see how you would do.'.

"Dad, I think it's better for Julian to let out the position of CEO."

*Julian's in a lot of trouble, company and divorce. He can't take the responsibility." he stressed the word, divorce, deliberately.

The reason why his father gave the position to Julian was mainly because of Natalie. Now that they were going to divorce, he should let it out.

Although he didn't understand why it's Natalie, it didn't affect him to do this shit.

With anger on his face, Lord Graham said, "then who should be given this position? Is there any other person except for Julian?"

Rudy was overjoyed and said, "I think I am quite experienced..."

"I used to run a medical company. Don't you know that? Although it is not as good as the Graham Group, it is also famous in LA,"

Lord Graham finally understood why he came here today. It turned out that he came for the position of CEO.

“What do you think?”

Julian sneered.

Lord Graham didn't say anything. He looked at Julian and said, “can I have a word!”

He stood up and walked slowly to the door. A servant beside him opened the door for him.

Julian glanced at Rudy without any emotion, stood up and followed Lord Graham.

Holding Rudy's hand, Yvonne asked in a low voice, “what does this mean? Just call him out?”

Rudy made it so clear just now. It was not supposed to be like this.

Rudy narrowed his eyes and looked at the backs of them, without answering.

He couldn't figure out what Dad was thinking. He was such a good candidate. Why didn't Dad answer?!

Dad must be comforting Julian, right? After all, he might not accept the fact that the position was taken away all of a sudden!

Thinking of this, Rudy was relieved. He leaned back on the chair and looked relaxed.

Then he just needed to wait quietly!

Lord Graham sat on the sofa with a dignified look, and Julian sat down beside him.

“You can't divorce Natalie.” said Lord Graham with irresistible authority.

Julian frowned, “why?”

“There is no reason. You can't do that.”

Julian was a bit angry. “Why that? What do you mean?”

Your uncle, Rudy, he is here for the position of CEO.”

“He doesn't deserve it,” said Julian firmly.

“Of course. But if he gets ahold of it, you have to bear consequences of being questioned.”

Julian didn't say anything.

Looking at Julian, Lord Graham continued, “as long as you don’t divorce with Natalie, we Graham will have an heir, and you will still be the CEO.”

Julian raised his head abruptly.

“You threatening me?” his eyes darkened.

“Just a choice. You can make it by yourself.” Lord Graham didn’t say anything more.

He looked at Julian quietly.

With a complicated look, Julian was lost.

Obviously. He knew him. He knew there is no room for negotiation as well.

Divorce her or not? His eyes narrowed.

It was impossible for him not to divorce her. But he could accept that not divorcing her for the moment.

He had got his own people over the years. He would have a voice right here as long as he could solve the New Bleomycin business.

He would no longer be forced by this ridiculous marriage...

Obviously, he could not go against his grandfather at the moment, otherwise he might lose all of it.

Looking at Lord Graham, Julian said in a low voice, “I promise you.”

Hearing this, Lord Graham nodded and said, “then keep your words.”

“Well, Let’s go.” Lord Graham stood up.

Julian stepped forward and held him.

The door was opened and they came in.

Rudy looked at them, “Dad, have you made up your mind?”

It’s impossible for you to get it, understood?” said Lord Graham impatiently.

Rudy got irritated in an instant. “What? How can Julian be better than me? You just hand company to this little.shit not even me?”

Standing outside the door, Natalie listened.

It seemed she should not be here. The conversation inside must be very intense. She was no longer a member of the Graham. Should she come in?

It seemed inappropriate to go in now

Lord Graham nodded, "since I didn't offer you the position then, it's impossible to offer it today too." there was no room for negotiation.

Rudy was so angry that he rushed to Lord Graham.

Julian reminded him, "security is here."

Rudy gritted his teeth and squeezed out, "The Graham Group will be destroyed by you one day."

Standing straight in front of Rudy, Julian sneered, "will the Graham Group be destroyed by me? Let's see."

"Miss Spears..." Lily's voice came from outside.

"Lily?" Natalie spoke out. Why would Lily go upstairs and see her at that point? She had to go in now.

"Miss Spears, why not come in? Lord Graham has been waiting for you for a long time." Lily said warmly and was about to open the door.

"I'll come in later..." seeing Lily was about to open the door, Natalie hurried forward to stop her.

She didn't want to bother it. She didn't care who was the CEO.

Lily was stopped, confused but saying nothing.

But the door was suddenly opened from inside. Before Natalie could do anything, her eyes were caught by his.

Julian looked at the woman in front of him, wearing a pure white dress today, with her long hair hanging down loosely. She looked elegant.

Julian sneered, imitating Niki?

Chapter 49 Graham family banquet

The familiar face appeared in front of her. She was shocked and took a few steps back.

She clearly saw that his eyes swept over her from top to bottom, lingering on her white dress for about three seconds before his eyes became cold. He turned around and went back to original position, leaving her standing there.

She was confused, but didn't care why his eyes suddenly became cold. She looked into the room.

Rudy was about to say something, but after a sound came from outside, Julian directly passed him and opened the door, leaving him standing there alone. His calm made him feel being shamed.

Obviously, Julian didn't take it seriously at all. He was the only one who was like a clown.

He got even angrier, but Julian's departure prevented him from venting his anger. He swallowed the rest of his words.

When Natalie looked in, she saw Lord Graham sitting in the main seat. Red-faced Rudy stood to one side.

She walked in.

Before she stepped into the room, Rudy, with a gloomy face, strode out of the room.

"Rudy, where are you going? The banquet hasn't started yet." when Linda saw the angry Rudy walk out without saying a word, she said in a hurry.

Although she disliked Rudy, as the wife of the Graham family, she had to pretend to be righteous and care about Rudy, her elder.

"Leave him alone!" said Lord Graham expressionlessly.

This son got not only the wrong business but also wrong-minded. He got nothing from good traditions of the Graham family. He's going to ruin the whole family if he got the power.

There was only one person who could be called the most talented person in Lord Graham's heart, and that was Henry.

Thinking of him, Lord Graham couldn't help feeling heartbroken..... In his eyes, Harry was obviously the best choice for the president of the Graham group.

Although Julian was not that capable as Henry, Lord Graham had no other choice but Julian.

This was also the reason why he rejected Rudy without any hesitation, regardless of their relationship.

Hearing what Lord Graham said, Linda didn't pretend anymore. Instead, she walked straight to Natalie,

"Natalie, you're finally here!"

Natalie pursed her lips and said apologetically, "I'm sorry. I was delayed by something on my way."

Linda was very happy that the Natalie was willing to come today. She had thought that Natalie hadn't turn up for such a long time because she was not willing coming. She was finally relieved when she saw Natalie.

"It's okay. Come in and have a seat."

Instead of sitting down, she turned to Lord Graham and said, "Grandpa, I'm late today. I'm sorry for keeping you waiting. I'm sorry."

She apologized for being late out of habit.

Lord Graham said happily, "it doesn't matter. Just sit down. I'm glad you're here." then he pointed to the seat next to Julian.

Looking in the direction pointed by Lord Graham, she frowned.

She came here for divorcing with Julian. She didn't want to get involved with him too much.

The Natalie glanced at the seat beside Linda. When she was about to sit down, she thought it was better to say something clearly.

She didn't want grandfather to ask her why she didn't sit with Julian.

Julian noticed the unwillingness in the eyes of the Natalie.

He saw that Natalie turned towards his mother and was about to walk over there, but she stopped for some reason. Julian raised his eyebrows and flashed an imperceptible sneer.

Since she had come to the Graham today, why did she pretend? She pretended that she didn't want to sit next to him. Obviously, she had taken advantage of him. She was just daydreaming.

Since she pretended not to want to sit next to him, he would satisfy her.

Julian stood up directly, glanced Natalie, looked straight at Lord Graham and said indifferently, "Grandpa, don't let her sit here."

"Since she's here, let's go. The guests downstairs have been waiting for a long time."

Hearing this, Lord Graham realized that guests waiting downstairs. He nodded and said, "then let's go."

After saying that, he stood up and walked out.

Linda also stood up and looked at Natalie. "Natalie, let's go."

Before she could finish her words, she pursed her lips and hummed quietly.

Then she would find an opportunity to make it clear to Grandpa at the banquet. Anyway, she would wait.

Natalie was about to go downstairs, following Linda who was in an elegant black dress.

However, Linda reached out her hand to hold Julian.

Julian tried his best to hold back his disgust. After all, he had just promised grandfather not to divorce. He walked beside her coldly.

Natalie sighed and quietly stood far away from Julian.

However, the stairs of the Graham were a little narrow. Looking up from the downstairs, they standing on the stairs seemed to be very close.

"Lord Graham has come downstairs!" the guests downstairs saw Lord Graham go downstairs, and they all walked up, with more or less flattering expressions on their faces.

Many guests also saw Julian and Natalie behind Lord Graham. One was cold and noble, and the other was elegant and pure. They were obviously a perfect match.

“Mr. and Mrs. Graham are here too. They love each other so much.”

“What a perfect couple!”

They heard that.

Hearing these compliments, a sarcastic smile appeared on her face.

Love? They just used this word to describe them? Natalie thought it was funny.

Hearing this, the look on Julian’s face became even colder. He quickened his pace and walked downstairs with a gloomy face, leaving her behind.

Looking at Julian quickly walking downstairs, Linda sighed.

Chapter 50 A seemingly united couple

“I can’t thank you enough for coming to this banquet of the Graham family today.” Lord Graham stood on the lavish stage at the front and addressed all the guests.

Standing aside and listening quietly, Natalie was considering how to speak to Lord Graham later.

Julian stood beside her with a glass of champagne, looking indifferent and alienated.

The obvious look of indifference.....

Looking at the two of them, Linda glanced at Natalie calmly and pulled Julian over,” Julian, I have something to tell you.”

She originally planned to invite Nana to the party and take the opportunity to pull together the relationship between Julian and her, after all, Nana loved Julian so much, if not Nikki would not be so determined to divorce.

But now it seemed that he didn’t give Nana any chance.

Julian frowned, “go ahead.”

Linda pulled Julian aside, “These words cannot be said in front of so many people.”

The two of them avoided the crowd and came to a corner of the banquet hall.

“What do you want to say?”

After thinking for a while, Linda said, "I invited Nana here today."

Ian's face twitched slightly, surprisingly, Natalie did not come of her own accord?

"Originally Nana was reluctant to come, I found an excuse to let her come."

"I'm not blaming you. You really hurt Nana's heart. Nana had tried her best and loved you so much in the past three years. Have you ever thought about Nana's feelings by bringing Niki to her without saying a word?"

How could Natalie not be willing to come? She had pestered him several times before. How could she let go.

of this opportunity?

She was good at acting in front of his mother. No wonder his mother liked her so much. He didn't even know what she had said to make his mother so hostile to Niki.

"What excuse did you find to make her come here?" Julian asked coldly Hearing this, Linda thought of the reason she persuaded Nana to come. "I persuaded Nana to speak to Lord in person about her divorce with you, after all, Grandpa has just recovered, and he may not be able to bear hearing about the divorce suddenly."

Nana speaks softly and gently, and is very good at comforting people, if she says it to Lord in person, she will have a good idea of what to say to make him less angry."

Julian listened expressionlessly.

"Who knew Rudy would just blurt it out and make Lord furious; I don't know where he knew about it."

"What did your grandfather say when he was angry? Linda asked.

Julian pursed his lips and said, "I promise grandpa that I won't divorce."

He didn't want to hide it from his mother. Since he had promised, even if he did not say, grandfather will certainly also tell his mother.

Hearing this, Linda was overjoyed. "Really? That's great... That's so good."

Then Julian will definitely not marry Niki, and Niki will not be able to step into the Graham family's door, Nana will be very happy to hear this news.

Wait? Nana didn't know the news yet. she's most likely preparing how to talk to Lord.....

Julian, since you have decided not to divorce Nana, please tell her. She may be still thinking about how to talk to Lord.”

She would talk to grandpa? How could she? It was just an excuse to come to the Graham family banquet.

But Julian didn’t say it out. He nodded, not wanting his mother to worry too much. “Don’t worry. I’ll make it clear to Natalie.”

“Yes, that’s right, go on then.”

Julian suddenly realized something? Linda felt relieved and elated.

“No, Julian, you just stand here, I’ll call Nana over, and you can tell her yourself.” Linda was so excited that she couldn’t wait for Nana to hear the good news too.

She must be very happy.

Julian’s eyes were slightly lowered, and his face was so expressionless that it was impossible to tell what he was thinking, “Well, you can call her over.”

Natalie heard Linda say that Julian was waiting for her outside, her heart was shocked, Julian took the initiative to find her, there must be nothing good.

When she met Linda’s eager eyes, she had to go out.

The Graham House was built by a hill, and the view from the courtyard outside the door was mesmerizing. The night fell, and the stars were shining. The moon was as bright as water. The man in a suit stood alone in the moonlight, and the moonlight fell on his shoulder, making him more alienated.

Natalie walked up to the man and looked at the familiar face, “What is the matter?”

Looking at Natalie, Julian sneered, “I heard from my mother that you came to talk to grandpa about the divorce.”

Natalie nodded lightly, “Yeah.”

“Then why haven’t you said anything by now?”

Natalie pursed her lips, “There was really something that took some time, and just when I wanted to talk, grandpa stood up and went downstairs.”

Julian's eyes were even colder. "Are you sure you didn't mean to be late to buy time? To find a reasonable excuse not wanting to talk to grandpa about the divorce?"

Natalie frowned, you think too much"

Julian looked like he obviously thought she didn't want to get a divorce, and it was useless for her to say more.

"Wait here."

Natalie walked to the car parked in the yard of the Graham family and took out the signed divorce agreement.

She handed the divorce agreement to Julian, "you won't believe it no matter how much I say. I've already signed it. Sign it."

Julian took the agreement with an unchanged face, he did not believe that Natalie would sign it so easily.

He opened the agreement and glanced at the name of Natalie. His eyes froze. Did she really sign it?

"I really want a divorce. Sign it quickly. If you sign it, I will have nothing to do with the Graham family anymore." said Natalie in a calm tone.

Julian squinted.

He had promised his grandfather not to divorce Natalie, although it was only temporary.

But Natalie really signed it?! Did she instigate his grandpa to threaten him? Did she know that she wouldn't divorce? Otherwise, how could she sign it so calmly?

Julian had mixed feelings.

"I don't have a pen with me." after thinking for a while, Julian said in a low voice. Apparently, he didn't want to sign it now.

...

Natalie looked complicated.

No pen? She didn't want to put it off. She had to find a pen for him now.

“I have it in my car. I’ll get it for you.” said Natalie, raising her eyebrows. Then she was about to walk into the car to get a pen.

Julian’s face tightened as he heard this and reached out to stop her, “Wait a minute.”

He looked into the Graham house, “Grandpa’s speech is over, I’ll sign it when the banquet is over.”

What??? Why not sign now, what was Julian waiting for, Natalie wondered.

When she was about to refuse, the man had already walked into the house.