

Chapter 24

Wendy observed the entire exchange. She also noticed that many online comments were false. They claimed that Lindsay was clinging to Justin and that he was fed up with her and wanted to get rid of her, calling her a leech.

But from what she had just witnessed, it was clear that Lindsay was the one avoiding Justin and initiating the breakup. If she hadn't been there, Justin might have tried to stop Lindsay forcefully.

The reality was the complete opposite of the online rumors.

Back in their room, Lindsay didn't mention Justin. Although Wendy was curious, she didn't ask because it was a private matter.

The next morning, Lindsay got up early and went to the courtyard to practice martial arts.

When the production crew arrived, they saw her finishing the last segment of her routine.

Adam, who was familiar with Lindsay because she had once saved his wife, smiled and asked, "You're up early practicing martial arts. Why didn't you wait until the live stream started?" 1

The routine Lindsay had just performed was a blend of strength and grace. It looked quite impressive.

Anyone knowledgeable would recognize that it wasn't just a routine learned in a couple of months. If she had done it during the live stream, it would likely attract many enthusiasts.

Lindsay smiled. "Talent will always shine through."

Today was only the second day of the live stream, and many people still held negative opinions about her. There was no need to rush to stand out; too much could backfire.

Adam hadn't expected Lindsay to be so composed. "You've got a great attitude."

Anyone else might have waited for the live stream to start before practicing, seeking attention.

"Can we start the live stream a bit earlier when you're doing your martial arts in a couple of days?" Adam asked. He thought for a moment and added, "Or maybe we can record a video of you tomorrow while you're practicing and release it first."

This way, it would not only help Lindsay leave a stronger impression on the audience but also attract more viewers and increase the show's popularity.

Lindsay naturally wouldn't refuse the director's kind offer, "Sure, thank you, Mr. Barker."

Hearing their conversation, a few members of the production team who had followed in realized that Adam and Lindsay knew each other and that he was looking out for her. Their attitude towards Lindsay became more respectful.

At that moment, other guests began to come out of their rooms to wash up.

With no phones or other entertainment, everyone was forced to sleep early and thus woke up early as well.

The live stream resumed at 7:30 AM.

Elric looked at his three teammates and asked, "Are we having breakfast today?"

Lindsay checked the time, "Let's go help with picking peaches. Maybe we can get breakfast while we're there."

"Today, we can trade for some food and then make breakfast ourselves," she continued. They had already brought back four dishes from Adam's house yesterday and didn't want to ask for more.

Elric and the others agreed, "That sounds good."

Waking up so early, they would definitely get hungry soon, and especially with work ahead, they wouldn't last long without breakfast.

The four of them were just about to head out when the other team emerged from their rooms.

Alex looked at Elric and asked, "Are you heading out to find work?"

He added, "We asked dozens of households yesterday, so finding work today should be much easier for us."

This implied they had a head start in securing tasks, given that Elric's team was just getting started.

Elric, however, replied smugly, "We're not going to look for work. We've already arranged it. We're heading directly to the job."

Hearing this, Alex and his team looked surprised.

Chapter 24

Alex asked, "When did you find work?"

Eric replied, "Yesterday, thanks to Linds. She found the opportunities and led us to them."

He continued boastfully, "And it's not just today. We've secured work for the entire week, so we don't have to worry about food and drink."

Alex couldn't believe it. "You've already arranged a week's worth of work? Seriously?"

SURPRISE GIFT: 100 BONUS FREE FOR YOU

GET IT

Comments

Support