Chapter 1071 Decision

Little Bunny hung up the phone. Tanya followed her, asking, "Why didn't you go in just now?" She wished Little Bunny had gone in and slapped Caroline.

It was obvious that Caroline was trying to seduce Theodore, who was pursuing Little Bunny now. "What's the point of going in?" Little Bunny said. "Theodore is so fickle. Can you guarantee that he will give up Caroline for me?"

Tanya gritted her teeth at the thought of originally planning to use Theodore to get rid of Caroline. Now that Caroline and Theodore seemed to get on well together, things became more difficult for them now. The more Tanya thought about it, the angrier she got. She could only take out her phone and distract herself from her anger. Then, she saw a message pop up from someone she followed on Twitter.

Tanya clicked on Caroline's Twitter page and saw a newly posted video.

"Miss Little Bunny, Caroline clarified on Twitter that there was just a misunderstanding between you two."

Little Bunny's eyes flickered slightly as Tanya played the video for them both.

In it, Caroline looked upset with red eyes and took several deep breaths before saying, "I don't know why everyone is talking about her like this, things are not as they seem. We have a good relationship. That was just a misunderstanding between the two of us, even best friends can argue sometimes, right? But there isn't anything like what people are describing between us. I won't allow anyone to talk badly about Little Bunny, she's always been my most grateful person and my best friend."

Then Caroline bowed deeply towards the camera with that said.

Although it seemed like an explanation for Little Bunny all along with how much concern was shown by Caroline during this speech, no proof or reply regarding the news which exposed Little Bunny earlier was given. Caroline evaded her lies, including Little Bunny slapping and hurting her on purpose, and gave her all the business resources.

Instead of addressing these issues head-on though, Caroline chose only to talk about their friendship, which made some people wonder whether Caroline felt pressured into explaining things to Little Bunny. After all, Little Bunny's news was taken down in such a short time, and all those who spoke ill of Little Bunny were banned. This means someone behind Little Bunny was very powerful, and Caroline couldn't afford to offend them. That was why she had to come out and speak well of Little Bunny. That made sense.

As soon as the video was posted. Caroline's fan base had increased by several million, directly. And it had once again become a hot topic.

Tanya got agitated again and complained, "What a bitch! She set you up! And now she's still playing innocent and even using you to gain attention. I wished I can SLAP her hard in the face now!"

Little Bunny was incensed too. Although the incident had just passed like this. No matter how the outside world speculated, Little Bunny's endorsement of TV dramas and variety shows had all been preserved. However, there was still a suppressed anger in her heart.

All of this was led by Caroline. She didn't believe Caroline wouldn't do it again in the future. This time Caroline didn't push her to a dead end. What about next time?! If she no longer had a relationship with Theodore, would Caroline let her off the hook?

The only way Little Bunny could think of to protect herself was to expose Caroline's true identity and ruin her reputation.

She then picked up that business card and said, "Tanya, I want to take a walk alone."

Tanya kept ranting in anger without thinking too much. She thought Little Bunny was going to clear her head outside.

"Okay, I'll go to the homestay and wait for you."

Tanya left.

Little Bunny finally took out her phone with the slightest hesitation. She didn't want herself to retreat at this moment.

"When?" asked she.

"You can do it now. Where are you? I'll come pick you up." Said the man on the other end in a confident voice.

It seemed that he had known Little Bunny would come to him in the end.

"I'll send you my location."

"Coming soon."

Little Bunny hung up the phone.

In the end, she took this step forward. The same thing had already happened between her and Theodore. At that time, she was only deceiving herself into thinking she wasn't voluntarily having sex with him. She wouldn't sell her body for fame or money. But now, what difference did it make? It hadn't been clean for a long time. What was she being so reserved about again? That had been an unspoken rule in this circle.

After a while, a black car pulled up in front of Little Bunny.

The car window was opened, and there came Louie's voice.

"Get in the car."

Little Bunny sat down apathetically.

"How can I make sure that, if I do everything you want, you'll give that video to me?" asked Little Bunny in the car.

"It has no value to me, I don't need to keep it," Louie said with a smile.

"I'll take a video as evidence." Little Bunny said, taking out their phone.

Louie was somewhat displeased with her words and said, "Aren't you afraid the words get out that you slept with me?"

"As long as neither of us reneges, there's nothing to be afraid of," Little Bunny said frankly. "If you can't do it, I'll ruin your reputation and use this video to sue you."

Louie didn't expect it, but Little Bunny was surprisingly tough. Usually, she looked weak and vulnerable, making people think she was an easy target.

He nodded and said, "Alright, if you want, go ahead."

She kept the camera on him and began, "I promise to sleep with you, but after that, you should give me the video, which proves that it's Caroline who asked me to slap her."

"Deal."

He never even thought about not giving it to her, since he only wanted to have sex with Little Bunny.

Little Bunny sent the video to Tanya.

"You can't give that video to anyone else, including my manager. And if we gotta delete that video, I'll let you know."

Since she was afraid that Louie would delete this video from her phone later, she sent it to her assistant, Tanya, in advance. Tanya was the person she trusted the most.

When Tanya saw the video, she was completely shocked, feeling like Little Bunny was being unfair to her. After all, that man's appearance and status were not even worthy enough to shine Theodore's shoes.

Chapter 1072 Regret

Tanya felt that her phone was hot to the touch. However, due to Little Bunny's instructions, she naturally dared not tell anybody else. If it weren't for the unclear relationship between Theodore and Caroline, Little Bunny wouldn't have gone to that creepy man.

The thought of Little Bunny sleeping with that disgusting-looking man made Tanya feel uncomfortable. Just when she was feeling all tangled up and distressed, someone's voice took her aback.

"Where is Little Bunny?" Theodore's voice suddenly came from behind.

Tanya was so scared that she shook her hand and dropped her phone directly on the ground.

She had just returned to the homestay and gotten Little Bunny's message. She was so engrossed that she didn't even notice when Theodore appeared behind her. When her phone fell to the ground, the conversation between her and Little Bunny was still displayed on the screen. Tanya picked up her phone in a hurry. But Theodore had gotten the phone from the ground faster than she did.

He had seen Little Bunny's name on the screen.

Tanya's face turned pale with fright.

Whatever Theodore's current relationship with Caroline was, no man could handle being cuckolded.

At that moment, Tanya saw Theodore click on the video. Theodore's face turned livid instantly.

Tanya was so scared that she had the urge to snatch the phone away, but she managed to hold back.

Then, Theodore erupted into fury. He used her phone and dialed Little Bunny's number, his hands shivering slightly while grasping the phone. There was no response.

Theodore's face darkened.

Little Bunny, who was sitting in the car at the moment, also had an unpleasant expression on his face.

"I'll give it back to you once I'm done," Louie said as he parked the car in a secluded spot.

There were only two homestays here. With so many people, it was impossible to do it inside the room. So he decided to do it in the car.

Seeing Louie driving the car to this location, Little Bunny knew what he was thinking about.

For her, it was all the same wherever they go. At least, they could finish it earlier in the car.

Little Bunny looked cold, watching him shut off her phone and casually toss it into the driver's compartment. She didn't say anything, since she didn't want to waste time.

Louie got out of the driver's seat and said, "Go to the back seat."

The back seat was more spacious.

Little Bunny gritted her teeth and followed him off the car.

And then they got in the car again. Louie was excited. Over the years, he had slept with several female celebrities, who were all obscure. Little Bunny was the most popular role in their sex fantasies. Little Bunny was considered the most adorable one when she wore no make-up on the set. And she got a perfect figure with nice curves.

Louie couldn't hold back the desire for her any more and he tugged her into his embrace rudely.

Little Bunny felt disgusted inside. However, she was silently bearing it all, allowing Louie to touch her body constantly. He was breathing harder and harder, kissing her cheeks and neck non-stop.

She evaded his kiss when he approached her lips. Louie did not force her. What he wanted most now was of course to bonk her and he didn't want to waste time doing too many other things. He didn't think it would be a difficult thing to kiss those cute lips afterwards.

Louie got a big sexual thrill, while Little Bunny had already endured to the extreme. She regretted it. She thought she could bear her disgust while being touched by the man in front of her since she had made it through after sleeping with Theodore several times.

But, she regretted it now.

Perhaps it was because she had been too long since she had sex with a man. She had forgotten how sickening it was when she was touched by a man.

She decided to give up. Though somewhat reluctant, she was more unwilling to sell her body and soul like this.

She wondered if she compromised this time around, she would compromise more in the future, for a character, for an endorsement, or a show.

Because she refused to sleep with someone, she once had a big argument with her manager.

Fortunately, she worked hard on her acting and was obedient in every aspect except for sleeping with someone. Her manager gradually changed his opinion of her and gave her more opportunities.

She didn't think it was worth sacrificing herself to fight against Caroline.

Little Bunny pushed Louie away abruptly.

Being rejected in an extremely excited state, Louie turned livid.

"I want to quit." Little Bunny said, "Our deal ends here."

Little Bunny sorted out her clothes and then opened the car door, ready to get out. But she was tightly shackled by him the next second. Louie pressed her underneath his body and called out, "That ain't up to you. You can't leave now. Little Bunny, don't annoy me."

"Let go of me!"

"How can I let you go, huh? Do you know how long I've been tempted by you? If I missed you today, I would regret it for the rest of my life."

"I'll sue you for rape!"

Chapter 1073 An Intimidating Man

"Sue me? Do you think you can earn a good reputation when you sue me? Little Bunny, you are an actress, and you are pure in the eyes of others. If they know you sleep with me, what do you think they will think of you? I know best about you whores in the showbiz. They do shady things secretly, but they pretend to be noble. You are afraid of being exposed when you die! If you can do it, I won't stop you. You can sue me and destroy yourself by the way!"

Louie didn't think that Little Bunny had the guts to sue him. He had been working in the circle for so many years, and he had seen too much of the shady things that went on behind the scenes.

Once it was done, Little Bunny would suck it up in the end, rather than sue him as she threatened. That was what Louie predicted.

Then, he became even more reckless. Louie stripped her clothes off.

She glared at that man with shock and fear. She was unable to break free from the brute force of him right now.

"Louie, I will sue you!" she threatened.

If Louie continued to force her, she would sue him even at the cost of her performing career.

"Do it!" Louie sneered, "I can sit in jail for a few years if I can have sex with you!"

As the words fell from his lips, he took off his pants.

He was approaching. Tears kept falling from the corners of Little Bunny's eyes.

On the other side, Little Bunny hung up on his phone call, and when he tried calling again, Little Bunny simply turned off her phone. Theodore angrily threw his phone directly onto the ground. The phone shattered into pieces. Tanya dared not to breathe a word beside him. If Little Bunny appeared right there in front of him, she would be in great danger.

Being silent for a little while, Theodore suddenly took out his phone. In an instant, Theodore's turned indifferent and calm.

"Manuel, please help me to locate Little Bunny according to her last call, at least 50 meters around her."

"Okay." Manuel answered on the other end and asked, "Did something happen to her?"

"Hmm."

"Is it serious?"

"Serious to me."

"What about her?"

"She's fine."

Theodore hung up the phone directly. Manuel could also sense Theodore's emotions. When Theodore was generally serious, it meant that the matter at hand was not a small one.

Manuel quickly took out a specialized computer and began accessing the signal system to locate Little Bunny's phone, and signal source, and determine the base station location. Using the frequency band, he was able to pinpoint her exact location. He sent it to Theodore and said, "Within ten meters."

When Theodore received the message, he had already driven out in his car.

It should be a ten-minute journey from there. In ten minutes, anything could happen.

Moreover, it had taken five minutes from the moment he called Manuel to when he sent the message back.

Theodore was driving with a long face. He was driving recklessly on this poorly maintained rural road at a high speed.

Tanya watched as Theodore's car drove away. Somehow, she felt that Theodore cared a lot about Little Bunny. It was not about a guy's possessiveness or pride; instead, that was about love. Tanya started worrying that Theodore would retaliate against Little Bunny if everything had happened.

She now just hoped that there was a way to reverse what had been done.

Little Bunny kicked the man away. Due to sharp pain, Louie got off her while covering his private part.

Little Bunny took the opportunity to get off the car, while her clothes had been stripped down. She kept running towards the road.

Louie saw her run away. He endured the severe pain in his body and went straight back to the driver's seat from the back seat and then stepped on the gas pedal and drove to chase after Little Bunny.

She heard the sound of the sedan and it sped up a bit. No matter how fast she ran, she couldn't outrun a car. Just as she was about to be caught by the car chasing after her, a black car was heading fast in her direction.

Little Bunny went forward to stop the black car for help.

In the car, Theodore stared at Little Bunny in front of him. He saw the tattered and loose clothes hanging on her body. And her hair was shaggy. And he found the car that was chasing after her.

So, the man in the car opposite was the one who had a relationship with Little Bunny.

Theodore stepped on the accelerator and went straight to the floor.

Little Bunny was frightened by the black car, which showed no sign to stop.

She quickly dodged away. She was certainly more afraid of death. And there was also a sense of disappointment in her heart. She might not be able to escape on her own.

Right at that moment, a loud noise sounded in her ear. The black car hit the car behind her directly.

Two cars collided with each other violently. The airbags of both cars had deployed. The fronts of the cars were severely damaged. Little Bunny was so scared that she froze in place.

Then, she saw Theodore, who was bleeding after getting off the black car.

He didn't walk over to her, but he was approaching Louie's car. Theodore opened the car door by brute force. Due to the high-impact collision, Louie was in a daze in the car.

When he woke up from his daze, he saw a bleeding man appear in front of him. Theodore's face was intimidating.

Louie was tense all over. But he was squeezed by the deformed car and unable to move.

With bare hands, Theodore open the locked car door...

Chapter 1074 Do You Feel Guilty?

Theodore forcefully pulled open the car door with a sudden jerk. The force of pulling open the car door made the sedan seem to shake a few times. Louie sat in the car, staring in horror at Theodore's terrifying appearance, trembling and unable to speak.

Theodore pulled him out of the car. Louie was in pain all over his body due to the collision, feeling like his body was falling apart as Theodore was tugging him out.

"Where did you touch her?" Theodore asked him in a cold-blooded, indifferent yet unusually calm voice. Louie was so scared that he shook his head quickly and finally made a sound, "No, I didn't touch her. Ah!"

Punched down by Theodore's fist, his bloody face receive another severe blow. He couldn't even see the man before his eyes, only feeling the eerie and terrifying gaze fixed on him. Just before he had a chance to regain his senses, Theodore suddenly grabbed his hand, which had countless bruises and wounds.

"Have you touched her?"

Louie shook his head instinctively. Terror had made him feel as if his soul has been detached from his body. Never had he expected that he would anger Theodore. He only knew that Little Bunny was now being fostered by Theodore. And sleeping with Theodore's woman made him thrilled.

Now it was too late to regret. He wished he hadn't even looked for Little Bunny. He couldn't even imagine what Theodore would do to him.

Louie suddenly felt a sharp pain in both hands. His fingers were almost broken. He could pass out at any moment. But sadly, he had been conscious.

Theodore released the grip on his hand. Louie's hands dropped to his sides lifelessly. All his fingers had been dislocated.

There was no trace of restraint on Theodore's face.

His gaze fell on Louie's crotch. Although Louie had managed to put on his pants, due to the urgency, the zipper was not pulled up.

"Have you used it?"

Louie's vision was blurred by tears and perhaps blood. The only feeling he had was eerie and terrifying. The man in front of him was too terrifying.

Theodore stood up from the ground and looked down at the man who had slumped down on the floor, with his back leaning against the car.

Theodore's dark leather shoes were stained with Louie's blood. Suddenly, he kicked Louie in the groin hard. A piercing scream sounded in the air. Theodore remained indifferent as he looked at the man on the ground. Then he withdrew his leg slowly. Louie's crotch was bleeding. However, Theodore had been remaining a frigid face. Then he turned around and left.

Little Bunny looked at Theodore in shock. She dared not make any move or breathe a word. She had never seen Theodore's terrifying and bloody side like this before. She saw how he beat Louie without mercy.

She thought it was her turn to be retaliated against by Theodore.

She just watched as he walked towards her step by step, with steady strides. It was hard to tell, but he just had a car accident. She even felt like the blood on him wasn't his.

Little Bunny was tense with fear, shivering all over. But she dared not scream, nor did she dare to run. She was now prey targeted by him, with crueller ways expecting her.

Little Bunny clenched her jaw.

When Theodore stood just one step away from her, he stopped while staring at her, who looked dishevelled and unkempt. She looked so scared that her face turned pale.

Theodore raised his hand. Meanwhile, Little Bunny closed her eyes. She felt that Theodore would slap her in the face. She could even imagine how much it would hurt.

However, she felt Theodore's fingers on her cheek. He moved gently. But Theodore's unusual behaviour frightened her even more, causing her to tremble uncontrollably. She had no idea what Theodore was going to do.

"Little Bunny, I always thought that I didn't care about these things." He suddenly spoke up.

She opened her eyes and stared straight ahead at him, yet she was still trembling.

"I have slept with too many women. Sexual relationships are just ordinary things to me, and I don't feel that they require any moral constraints. It's all about mutual consent and pleasure, so why should so many people treat it with strange eyes?" said Theodore.

Little Bunny didn't know what he wanted to express. Nor did she know what he would do at the moment.

She only felt uncomfortable, dominated by terror.

"But I just found I was wrong. I care about it. It's infuriating. I-I..." he looked into her eyes and continued, "It annoyed me so much, to know you slept with another guy."

Little Bunny was biting her lip nervously. She was so afraid of Theodore at this moment.

"I was thinking in the car, what would happen if I caught you two having sex? However, I found that I can't even think about it, I may not accept it, but I don't know what I would do if I caught that picture, kill him, kill you, and then kill myself."

"Do you feel guilty?" Theodore suddenly changed the subject.

Little Bunny's eyes flickered slightly.

"When you're having sex with him, are you guilty?"

Little Bunny didn't know how to answer, for fear that if she said the wrong things, Theodore would kill her.

Chapter 1075 Don't Do This Again

A sudden standoff between the two of them made the atmosphere even more tense.

Little Bunny trembled even more violently out of control.

"However, I found myself feeling guilty." Theodore suddenly spoke up when he didn't receive a response from her.

That left Little Bunny completely unaware of what he meant.

"I feel guilty for sleeping with so many women in the past," Theodore said. "I feel like I'm not clean anymore. It's like if you slept with other men today, you wouldn't be clean either."

Overwhelmed by fear, she hadn't told him yet that she didn't have sex with Louie. She even felt that if she could say it, Theodore wouldn't believe it anyway.

"I've never thought that way, but now it seems to have deeply engraved itself inside me." Theodore's voice was as cold as ice.

Little Bunny didn't expect that it would have such a big impact on Theodore this time.

Was it because Theodore had never been cheated on like this before?

And, she indeed regretted having agreed to Louie's requirement, partly because of the way Theodore went on about it.

But regret changed nothing.

If Theodore took his revenge on her, she could only accept them all.

"Don't do this again." Theodore suddenly spoke up.

With that said, his fingers left her cheek. His oppression towards her had decreased a lot. But she still dared not make any rash moves. She watched as Theodore took off his clothes, a casual jacket, and put it on her. Underneath the jacket, there was a white T-shirt, which had been soaked by his blood.

Little Bunny's heart fluttered. It seemed possible to feel his body temperature from the jacket.

"Put it on,"

Little Bunny quickly regained consciousness. The strange feeling that just occurred inside her at the last second, she thought, might be nothing but an illusion.

She quickly put on Theodore's Jacket, which was oversize for her. The jacket right covered her thighs.

Little Bunny watched Theodore's back as he sat back in the driver's seat. But he didn't drive away. She hesitated for a moment but then walked towards the car.

Only after she sat in the passenger seat, Theodore stepped on the accelerator. The car, which was deformed from the impact of the collision, was still able to drive normally.

Little Bunny was still silent, while Theodore drove the car with a calm expression. He was not as terrifying as he had been just now, but he didn't seem friendly either.

Theodore dialled a number and began, "According to the location, find someone to pull him away. If you can't save him, just cremate him."

Then he hung up the phone.

Little Bunny was still hiding the terror inside. Appointed to his present position, a human life seemed not to matter to him anymore.

Later, the car stopped in front of the inn. Tanya and Samson were both anxiously waiting at the door.

After Theodore left in a frenzy, both of them had no idea where he went and were constantly worried.

Finally, they saw him driving back. Besides, the front of his car was badly deformed.

Samson quickly opened the car door for Theodore. And the next second, he was startled by the wounds on Theodore.

"I'll call the doctor to come over right away." Samson made a quick decision.

"No, it's just a minor skin injury." Theodore stopped him and ordered coldly, "Go buy me an emergency contraceptive pill!"

Samson froze in place.

Theodore walked straight to his room without explaining anything. Little Bunny was being helped off the car by Tanya at the moment. Tanya also looked nervous, unsure of what had happened, but she didn't dare to ask.

"Hurry up!" said Theodore. He was waiting for Little Bunny.

She was startled for a second when she heard his voice. Tanya also noticed her fear for him naturally and thus looked at Little Bunny asking if she should call the police.

Little Bunny shook her head.

What was the use of calling the police?

Moreover, Theodore didn't do anything to her.

As Little Bunny walked inside the room, Theodore slammed the door shut.

"Go take a shower," Theodore instructed.

She quickly walked into the bathroom. At this moment, she simply wanted to avoid him, in case he would kill her when he lost his mind.

In the bathroom, Little Bunny took off the clothes and found bruises all over her body, which had been left as she was struggling to break free from Louie's shackle.

Though she couldn't bear to see Theodore's revenge on that man, there seemed to be a bit of relief inside her. She also felt that she was contradictory.

Little Bunny took a deep breath and slowly relaxed herself.

Just as she prepared to walk towards the shower, the bathroom door was pushed open.

Theodore appeared in front of her, staring at her naked body. He saw those bruises on her, which were considered marks of love between her and another man.

That was the first time for him there was no desire for love, only anger. Theodore was almost swallowed up by his unexpressed anger.

"Wash out yourself."

With that said, he turned around and walked away again.

Since Theodore did nothing to her, Little Bunny felt a surge of indescribable emotions in her heart. She had a vague feeling that Theodore was not just playing around with her. She believed that there would be no emotional attachment to Theodore. She probably couldn't convince herself and was unlikely to fall in love with him.

Since he cares about her, she was just wondering if she could rely on him this time around.

Why couldn't she borrow Theodore's power to deal with Caroline?

All the worries and reluctance to let Theodore help her before were simply because she didn't want to get involved with him. If possible, she wanted to stay far away from him. But now, since she couldn't escape, there was no point in worrying anymore.

Chapter 1076 Help Him Take a Shower

Little Bunny took a long time to take a bath. She washed several times, wanting desperately to erase anything marks Louie left on her body. Even though they didn't do the final step, she still felt disgusted. She had been washing for a long time.

Finally, Little Bunny walked out wearing a bathrobe.

Theodore was treating his wounds in the room with Samson's help.

Theodore only wore boxer shorts. Samson carefully helped him clean the wound. His wounds were covered with numerous small bumps. Fortunately, they were all just external injuries. After applying the medication, they should heal quickly. However, in the eyes of Little Bunny, Theodore was seriously injured. He should go to the hospital. But she dared not speak or make any other move. She just sat obediently on the sofa beside Theodore, waiting for him to finish treating the wound.

Theodore suddenly said, "Put on your clothes."

Little Bunny was startled. She lowered her head and looked at the bathrobe she was wearing. Since she knew Theodore was in the room, she deliberately wrapped herself tightly to make sure that everything except her neck and ankles was covered before coming out.

However, Theodore demanded it so. Samson's hands slightly trembled as he helped Theodore treat his wound. Fortunately, he hadn't lifted his head to take a glance at Little Bunny. Otherwise, he was afraid that Theodore would gouge his eyes out. He shivered as he gave Theodore his medicine, knowing that Theodore was not in the mood today. Having been working with Theodore for so many years, he had never seen him so irritable before. To be precise, it was Theodore's temperament of not being explosive or venting his anger that made him terrifying.

Samson continued to take his medicine seriously.

Little Bunny quickly pulled out a set of clothes from the nearby luggage and went back to the bathroom. Theodore's demands were not to be disobeyed. After changing into a conservative set of home clothes, she finally emerged from the bathroom and sat on the sofa, waiting patiently for Theodore to finish treating his wound.

She had been sitting there without saying anything or looking at her phone for nearly 2 hours. Samson finally finished treating all of Theodore's wounds.

"Sir, I suggest you don't take a shower, those wounds are exposed, and some are deep, it will easily get infected with water. And please avoid strenuous activity, like sex..."

Samson couldn't finish his words halfway through.

"I'll go out first," Samson said respectfully as he left.

There are only two people left in the room, Theodore and Little Bunny.

Little Bunny was getting nervous again. Being alone with Theodore made one involuntarily afraid. His cruel appearance today would probably be engraved in her mind for a lifetime.

Just like in the old days, she remembered well the day when Theodore took her out and made her wait outside while he was having sex with another woman. She could never forget that.

Tense all over, she didn't even dare to look at him. But she could feel that Theodore got up from the bed and walked over to her step by step.

Little Bunny bit down on her lip. But then Theodore walked into the bathroom.

Then, she heard the sound of a shower. Little Bunny was startled.

Didn't Samson just say that he couldn't take a shower?

She quickly got up and walked into the bathroom. She didn't know why she had this impulse, but she just went straight in.

Theodore didn't close the door. And she saw him take off his shorts and walk over under the showerhead.

"Theodore,"

Theodore frowned.

"Didn't Samson just say that you can't take a bath?"

Now, there were blood stains all over him. He would get crazy if he wasn't allowed to take a shower.

"Let me help you wipe your body, okay?" Little Bunny said, "I promise to clean you up. Don't go touching the water like that."

Theodore looked at her with surprise. What happened today made him suddenly feel that Little Bunny might not love him as much as he thought, since she was willing to sleep with another guy instead of coming to him for help. He couldn't describe his emotions in words. But now Little Bunny seemed to worry about him, which made him somewhat confused.

"Forget it." He told himself. He was never a person with complicated thoughts. He didn't want to ponder over what she was thinking anymore, and he only knew what he wanted.

“Come on over.” Said he.

Little Bunny took a deep breath. She thought Theodore would refuse based on his current attitude towards her. Even if he didn't reject her, his attitude towards her probably wouldn't be very nice. To her surprise, Theodore didn't yell at her.

She walked towards Theodore. Since she had already made up her mind to rely on him. She would do what she should do, even though there might be inner resistance. After all, Theodore's injuries were still partly caused by her.

Little Bunny turned off the shower and turned on the faucet on the washstand. After the water temperature from the faucet was suitable, she picked up a clean towel and wet it. Then she used the damp towel to wipe Theodore's body little by little.

There were lots of blood stains and dirt on him. Although Theodore was not clean in terms of sexual relationships, he was fond of taking baths.

Little Bunny cleaned his face. She had to get on her toes for Theodore was tall.

Theodore seemed to have noticed it too. He suddenly reached out and picked her up in one swift motion.

Little Bunny was frightened. Then she was put on the bathroom sink. She looked at Theodore with lingering fear. Theodore's arm strength was truly amazing. She was lifted by him, like a child in his arms. It was not surprising to think about Theodore's strength when dealing with Louie at that time.

Little Bunny was sitting on the sink, and Theodore lowered his head so that she could easily wipe. There were also many wounds on the cheeks. She had never seen Theodore up close like this before. She didn't want to observe him like this before.

Looking at his face so seriously at this moment, she noticed that there were some subtle scars on his face, which were very small and light but could be seen up close.

She once thought that Theodore was a carefree playboy. Now I realized that he seemed to have a tough side too. Little Bunny was thinking while carefully wiping his face.

Try to avoid touching his wound as much as possible.

At that moment, she felt Theodore's gaze. Her eyes flickered and met his, locking in a gaze.
