

Billionaire's Reborn Baby novel Chapter 891

Emily reached out to feel the temperature of the water. It was not cold.

Then she looked up at the top of the door. There was a black wooden board.

Before they opened the door, two young girls opened the door and came out. When they came out and saw so many people, they were shocked. Then, they covered their mouths and smiled as they came out. They looked back at Emily and the others and whispered something. The two girls laughed loudly.

"It looks very small. Is it large enough for us?" Janessa asked.

"We two won't join you," Emma said.

"I know," Janessa looked at Armando and said, "but we have so many people here."

"It's large enough." Rex led the way in, and when he entered, a waiter in a kimono came over and asked with a smile, "Do you have an appointment?"

Rex nodded. They communicated for a moment, and the waiter brought them to the hall to wait.

They pushed the door open and saw rockwork and a stream that were about half the size of the courtyard. They walked around the rockwork and followed the waiter. They passed through a cobblestone path and arrived at the hall. There were many guests who had finished enjoying the hot spring. They were wearing loose bathrobes. Some of them were watching TV and some were chatting. The waiters in kimonos were working in the hall and changing fruit plates and water cups.

"These are your keys. Go in and take a right turn to get your clothes." After the waiter handed the keys to Rex, she smiled, bowed respectfully, and said, "I wish you a good time today."

"Thank you." Rex thanked her and took the keys. Then, he took everyone to change clothes.

On the right side were the changing rooms. The men's changing room was outside, and the women's was inside. Every wardrobe had a set of bath clothes neatly placed inside.

The men's were gray and blue, while the women's were pink and white.

Just as Emily took off her clothes and was about to change into the bathrobe, Janessa looked at her in disbelief and said, "Are you going to wear this?"

Emily looked at himself. "What's wrong?"

Lord Top thought for a moment and took off her pants. Just as she took off one leg of her pants, Janessa cried out in surprise, "What the hell? What happened to your legs?"

Emily lowered her head to look at Lord Top. "Are you injured?"

"Are you allergic to something?" Emma tilted her head to look at her.

Lord Top silently put on her pants again, "I'll go out first."

"What happened to her?" Stephanie asked.

"I don't know if her legs are injured or allergic to something. I'll tell Randy about it," Emily said and was about to leave.

Christy understood what was going on after seeing Lord Top's reaction and said to Emily, "Don't!"

"Why?" Emily asked.

"What are you going to do? They had fun last night. I didn't expect Randy to be such a beast." Janessa finally understood.

They were lost for words.

When Emily and the others came out, the men had been waiting for them in their bathrobes.

"I thought you were taking a shower inside. What took you so long to change your clothes?" Ferne stood up from his seat, speechless.

"You won't be able to find a girlfriend in your life. But you still have the chance to find a boyfriend." Janessa rolled her eyes at him. Ferne was lost for words.

Lord Top had gone out to take a walk. The heating was on around the hot spring, and it was warm everywhere. She got a few ice creams and was holding them in her hands. Randy was following behind her.

"Randy!" Janessa saw Randy and shouted.

Billionaire's Reborn Baby novel Chapter 892

"What's wrong? You scared me." Randy handed the ice cream to Emily. Then, he looked back at her and said, "What's wrong? Did I do something wrong?"

Janessa grinned at him. "Can't you tell?"

Randy was confused by her words. Just as he was about to ask more questions, he saw that Lord Top's face turned red. He immediately walked over and reached out to touch her forehead. "What's wrong? Do you have a fever?"

Lord Top shook her head and said, "No."

"Then what is going on?" Randy asked.

Seeing that Lord Top was a little embarrassed, Janessa quickly smiled, "Let's go."

After they left, Lord Top looked at Randy and said, "They saw it."

"What did they see?" Randy was still confused.

Lord Top pointed at her legs.

Randy immediately understood. He coughed lightly and said, "Well, I will book a room for you later. You can have a rest. Or will you...?"

Lord Top looked at him and said, "It's fine."

Randy was shy when she said this. "Well, forget it. It doesn't matter." As he said this, he checked Lord Top's legs. There was a love bite near her ankle. Ferne quickly pulled down her trousers to cover it. Then, he pulled up her socks.

"They won't make fun with you. And they will only joke with me. Don't be angry when they laugh. It's just a joke. Don't take it seriously.

"Randy comforted her.

"I see," Lord Top nodded.

The hot spring poo! was divided into several sections. One was open in the air, and the other was in the room. After a discussion, Emily and the others chose the outdoor hot spring. They followed the guide and passed through the cobblestone path. After a few turns, they finally arrived at an open hot spring pool.

It was half the size of a swimming pool. The walls were made of black stone and they were rough, probably to prevent someone from falling. There was also a circle of railings on the east side. A stone lion stood in the middle of the water, constantly spitting out water from its mouth.

There was also an open-air hot spring pool next to them, which was set apart with a curtain. The men went to the next pool.

Emma and Janessa sat on a chair. The waiter served the fruit and they chatted while eating.

Emily took off her bathrobe before she went into the water. Lord Top went into the water with her clothes on. Emily and Janessa had watched her interview and knew about her brother. However, they forgot one thing. Lord Top was afraid of water. Before she came down, Lord Top quietly stared at the surface of the water for a moment and then went into the water slowly. Emily asked, "Are you alright?"

"It's fine." As she spoke, Lord Top closed her eyes in the hot spring pool and slowly sank herself. Just as the water touched her chin, she opened her eyes slightly. Her heartbeat wasn't messy.

The last time Lord Top had the hot spring with Janessa and the others, she had made up her mind to go into the water. Moreover, there were team members and Randy with her, and many people gave her great courage.

But this time, it was different. Probably Lord Top had completed her younger brother's dream this time, so she seemed to have overcome her fear of water.

Emily walked over and hugged her gently. "I wanted to congratulate you before, but I haven't been able to see you. You are very powerful and I admire you."

"Don't be afraid. We all have a hard time. You have us now. If you have any difficulties, just tell us." Christy also came over to hug Lord Top.

Emma and Janessa also walked to the edge of the pool and patted Lord Top's shoulder. "We're here, too."

Emma and Janessa got pregnant almost at the same time, but because they were thin, their bellies weren't bulging. However, after squatting for a while, they felt uncomfortable. They both stood up and went back to sit down.

"Thank you," Lord Top said.

"It's fine," Janessa smiled evilly at her. "Can you tell us how Randy treats you?"

Lord Top was shy.

The girls' laughter came from behind the curtain.

"What are they talking about? They seem to be happy?" Ferne asked.

"Go and take a look if you want to know about it," Randy said lazily as he sat there with his head half up.

"No. If they saw me, they would scold me as a hooligan," said Ferne as he took a slice of watermelon from the table. "Your wife is over there. Go ask her."

After he finished eating the watermelon, Ferne fell into the hot spring pool, attracting a few curses.

Randy kicked Ferne away, and Ferne screamed, "Noah, help me!"

Noah sat at the edge of the pool, closed his eyes, and ignored Ferne.

Billionaire's Reborn Baby novel Chapter 893

Trevor's skin was so fair under the water. Randy was very envious and asked how he maintained his skin. Trevor thought for a moment and said, "I haven't."

Randy, who had spent so much money on skincare every day, felt sad.

Jaquan wiped the water on his face and swam to Noah's side to sit down. He gently glanced at Noah's abdominal muscles and said with an envious look, "Your muscles are better than mine."

Noah looked up at him and then said, "Vincent is better."

Jaquan looked at Vincent, who was leaning against him. Vincent's shoulders were rested on the pool, revealing his strong chest and well-defined abdominal muscles, but Jaquan's attention was attracted by the few teeth marks on Vincent's neck.

"Vincent, what is that? Were you bit by Emily?"

Vincent touched his neck and nodded.

"Is she so fierce?" Ferne swam to his side and saw that Vincent had many marks on his back. "Vincent, you are battered."

"You don't understand." Vincent glanced at him.

Ferne was speechless.

Jaquan and Randy were both laughing.

Armando also glanced at Ferne, which seemed to be saying, "A single man is not worthy of asking this question."

"Shit! Just wait!" Ferne quickly went ashore. Then, jumped on the water again, splashing a lot of water on others. Not only Jaquan, Randy, and the others suffered, even Vincent was splashed with water.

When the water fell down his face, Vincent looked up at Ferne.

Ferne showed up from the water happily. But soon, Randy, Jaquan, and Armando came over to him.

"Help! Noah, help me!" Ferne was stripped naked by them and pressed into the water. Randy kicked his butt by the way. Trevor smiled and splashed the water over Ferne.

Noah opened his eyes to look at the chaos in front of him, then he closed his eyes again.

"By the way, Lord Top, are you going to live upstairs from now on?" Emily asked. "Then you can come to my house often in the future.

"I live downstairs." Christy raised her hand.

"That's great. I want to move over too." Janessa stopped eating and rested her chin on her hand as she looked at them.

"Great," Stephanie said. "I plan to move over too."

"It doesn't work. What if I have a boyfriend?" Stephanie said seriously, "Shall I bring him to yours? It's embarrassing when you see us making out.

"IT don't feel embarrassed at all. But you seem to be showing off." Janessa went straight to the point.

"Well, you don't have to say it out loud," Stephanie said coquettishly.

The others laughed out loud.

Lord Top and Emma couldn't help but laugh out loud.

"What the hell are they talking about? They are so happy." Ferne, who was so tired and lying beside Noah, couldn't help but ask when he heard the laughter behind the curtain. Noah glanced at him.

"What's wrong?" Ferne asked weakly.

"What else can your mouth do except speak?" Noah said disdainfully.

"I kiss," said Ferne.

"Shut up," Noah said expressionlessly.

Randy and Jaquan laughed so hard that they slapped Armando on the back. Armando was resting with his eyes closed and he was shocked by the slap. When he opened his eyes, he saw two men laughing madly.

Armando leaned towards Vincent.

"How's your work recently?" Vincent asked with concern.

"Pretty good," Armando said.

"Do you want to keep doing that?" Vincent opened his eyes, looking straight at the bamboo curtain that separated the other hot spring pool. The girl's pleasant laughter came behind the curtain. "Or do you have other thoughts?"

"I'll keep doing it for another two years. When my skills have improved, I plan to open the biggest museum in City Y." Armando said with a frown, "It's just that I feel guilty for the current boss."

"When the time comes, you can get the men with you," Vincent said lightly and reassuringly. "The world is changing. You have to keep up with the times."

"Yes." Armando relaxed a little when he heard that.

Billionaire's Reborn Baby novel Chapter 894

"Vincent, what do you think of me? What can I do?" Randy asked.

"And me." Jaquan also moved over.

Ferne quickly moved closer to Vincent. "And me. What do you think I can do?"

"Don't do anything. Just listen to Noah and shut up." Vincent frowned.

Ferne dared not answer back.

Randy and others laughed out loud. Even Noah wore a faint smile.

The wooden door suddenly opened. They thought it was a waiter, so they looked up. Unexpectedly, a group of girls in bath clothes walked in. The first few girls directly took off their bath clothes, revealing their sexy swimsuits.

"Sorry, we're in the wrong place." The girl walking ahead hurriedly put on her bathrobe, but she quickly swept across the men in the hot spring pool, and finally, she fixed on Vincent. The girl then said to Vincent sweetly, "I'm sorry."

Then the girls left and closed the door.

Jaquan washed his face and said, "I don't believe they would make a mistake? They must have come here deliberately."

"Didn't you see her staring straight at Vincent?" Randy shook his head and said.

"Ferne, why didn't you say anything?" They found that the most active Ferne did not comment. They turned over and saw Ferne turn his back against them.

Hearing Randy say to him, Ferne said embarrassingly, "I... I didn't wear a bathrobe."

Everyone felt speechless.

Then they burst into laughter. Janessa shouted through the curtain, "What are you laughing about?"

"Nothing. Do you want to go out?" Armando asked.

"Sure.

“ As soon as Janessa came out, Emma came out as well.

Armando and Jaquan quickly put on their bathrobe and carefully took Janessa and Emma out.

Not long after, Lord Top, Stephanie, and Christy left one after another.

Emily was a bit sleepy for lying in the hot spring pool for too long. She struggled to keep herself awake and climbed out of the hot spring. She was wet and wanted to wipe herself with a towel. Then she heard footsteps coming from the other side. Emily looked up and saw that Vincent was walking in with his head lowered, his hair wet.

“Yes.” Vincent walked over, took her towel, and helped her wipe the water droplets on her back. His index finger gently slid over a thin belt on her neck. "When did you buy it?"

Emily forgot that she was wearing the swimsuit that Stephanie had bought. She covered her heart with THE towel and took the bathrobe with her other hand. "Stephanie gave it to me."

“Guard B: Are you stupid? What's the good of watching the bathrobe? We want to see the little giant's swimsuit!"

“Guard D: I have recorded what you just said.”

The guards were shocked.

The assistant was speechless.

Janessa and the others played cards in the hall for more than half an hour before Emily and Vincent came back.

“What are you doing for so long?” Janessa asked with a smile. "Did you do something behind our backs?"

Emily rubbed her ears that had been sucked numb.

Vincent took her directly to the room that Rex had already booked. "We need to rest now."

Vincent then threw the key to Rex, asked him to take the clothes from Emily's wardrobe, and then took Emily to the room.

Janessa's voice came from behind Vincent. "Come back in an hour. Otherwise, I will look down on you."

Emily was shy.

After entering the room, Emily changed out of her soaked swimsuit. Vincent wiped the water drops off her and put a blanket on her. Then he carried her to bed. "Just sleep like this. Get changed when you wake up."

"Yes." Emily was so sleepy that she fell asleep soon lying in Vincent's arms.

Vincent looked down at her sleeping posture and kissed her on the lips.

Emily responded to him unconsciously in her sleep as if she did it out of her instinct.

Vincent's eyes darkened and he lifted the blanket.

At eight o'clock in the evening, Rex went to the door and asked them to have dinner. Emily then woke up. Her body was covered with marks, and the bathrobe could not cover the love bites. She stared at Vincent with annoyance, but Vincent was also looking in the mirror, rubbing a new tooth mark on his neck.

Emily snorted at him, "You are a liar. You promised to let me rest."

Without waiting for Vincent to answer, Emily angrily opened the door and went out.

Billionaire's Reborn Baby novel Chapter 895

Janessa, Emma, and a few others were sitting on a long black wooden table in the restaurant. Everyone was sitting cross-legged on a round cushion. There were more than ten men and women, who were chatting and laughing, sitting opposite them.

When Emily and Vincent arrived, a group of people looked at them.

Someone gasped. It was hard to tell whether it was because of Emily's beauty, or because of Vincent's aura.

Emily wore a pink bathrobe and a small white scarf around her neck, making her even fairer. Her eyes were dark and watery, her mouth was small, and her lips were cute. She was like an elf who had accidentally entered the human world. She was so beautiful that people could not look away.

Vincent, who was standing next to Emily, was wearing a gray bathrobe. He was obviously wearing the same bathrobe as everyone else, but he looked more powerful. His eyebrows were slightly raised, his eyes were dark and deep, and his nose was straight. His jaw was smooth and delicate. His thin lips were slightly pursed, and he looked so handsome.

"Come over!" Janessa waved her hand. There were still two seats in the middle, and they were obviously left for Emily and Vincent.

Emily walked over slowly, ignoring Vincent who was behind her. When she got to the seat, she sat down and picked up her spoon to eat. Vincent sat beside her and reminded her, "Eat some soup first."

Emily whispered to him, "It's none of your business."

Vincent curled his lips and did not speak.

Emily sat on the left side of Janessa. Seeing that Emily was not looking good, Janessa could not help but come over and ask, "What's going on? Did you two quarrel?"

"No." Emily shook her head as she ate.

"The weather is so hot, why are you still wearing a scarf?" Janessa looked at Emily's neck and said, "There's no need to hide it. Everyone has already known it.

It doesn't matter if you wear a scarf or not."

Emily was speechless.

After a while, seeing that Emily had no intention of taking off her scarf, Janessa covered her mouth with her hand and said, "Take it off. Let me see how rude he is."

"Well, this is for you." A long-haired girl stood in front of Vincent's desk shyly. She held a bottle of drink in her hand. It was not soda but a drink sold by the hot spring restaurant to replenish energy. It was a little sweet and not expensive, costing seven or eight per bottle.

However, the important point was not the drink, but the girl's behavior. This was a kind of flirting. It happened every day in the hot springs. It was either a man trying to hit on a woman or a woman trying to hit on a man.

The girl was pretty. She had light makeup on her face and her eyelashes were brushed. Her lips were slightly pink. She was probably a little nervous since she bit her lips slightly.

Jaquan, Randy, and the others recognized the girl as the one who entered their hot spring pool this afternoon. They could not help but look at each other and smile. As expected, she had taken a fancy to their boss.

Vincent did not take the drink. The girl was a little embarrassed to be stared at by so many people. The hand that she held the drink was trembling.

The girl immediately looked at her gratefully, then she timidly looked at Vincent and asked, "Then what does he like to drink?"
"Tea, anything is fine," Emily said.

Vincent was speechless.

He showed a dark face.

The others all said nothing.

After the long-haired girl left, Janessa covered her mouth and laughed loudly, "She actually believed it!"

"Yes." Emily chewed the beans in her mouth and added, "She said that she would make a cup of tea for you later."

"What's wrong with you? Are you helping your man find a mistress?" Janessa asked.

"No." Emily looked at the long-haired girl sitting back in her seat. Emily showed a happy smile and said, "It was so awkward since everyone ignored her."

"So you sold your man?" Janessa could not understand.

Emily said with anger, "I don't care about him."

Vincent gently reached out to hold Emily's left hand under the table.

"You are now my elder now, Mr. Vincent. Please behave yourself," Emily said as she shook off his hand.

Vincent didn't know what to say.

Billionaire's Reborn Baby novel Chapter 896

After the meal, everyone moved from the dining area to the entertainment area. The rest area was very vast. Or it seemed larger because there were few people coming to the hot spring that day. In short, even after the group of them entered, the entire rest area looked very empty.

As soon as Stephanie came in, she took off her sunglasses and mask and lay on the wooden floor with her limbs stretched out. During Stephanie's outing that day, she would put on her sunglasses and masks from time to time. Stephanie was worried that she would be recognized when she ate because she took off the mask. Therefore, Stephanie wore sunglasses even when she ate. Although the food was quite good, Stephanie still felt slightly regretful that she couldn't experience freedom completely.

Lord Top came over and handed Stephanie a bottle of warm milk. The milk was from Randy. Randy asked Lord Top to distribute it to everyone later.

Stephanie thanked Lord Top and asked, "Where are they?"

"They are at the back." After saying that, Lord Top found a place to sit down cross-legged. Lord Top was wearing a jumper and her hair was very short. If it wasn't for knowing that Lord Top was a girl, Stephanie wouldn't have been able to tell at all.

"I heard that you are very good at playing games. Do you have time to teach me?" Stephanie asked.

"Alright." Lord Top paused before answering.

Since the end of the game, Lord Top hadn't touched the keyboard and mouse. Her heart was surging with endless longing at the mention of gaming.

Ferne and the others had left early. Emily was not full yet. Vincent was sitting there with her after eating. Vincent took a tissue to wipe Emily's mouth. Seeing that Emily was eating non-stop, Vincent picked up his cup of warm soup and brought it to her mouth. "Drink some soup before eating."

This time, Emily did not play shy and drank straight from his hand.

As Emily finished drinking, the long-haired girl came over with a cup of tea.

"This is for you." The long-haired girl directly placed the tea in front of Vincent and looked at him wishfully.

Janessa had already reached the door. Seeing this scene, Janessa quickly pulled Christy and Emma to the door to eavesdrop.

The long-haired girl stood there for a long time, but Vincent had no intention of responding to her. The girl could not help but become anxious. "Have a taste.

After a while, seeing that Emily had no intention of taking off her scarf, Janessa covered her mouth with her hand and said, "Take it off. Let me see how rude he is."

"Well, this is for you." A long-haired girl stood in front of Vincent's desk shyly. She held a bottle of drink in her hand. It was not soda but a drink sold by the hot spring restaurant to replenish energy. It was a little sweet and not expensive, costing seven or eight per bottle.

However, the important point was not the drink, but the girl's behavior. This was a kind of flirting. It happened every day in the hot springs. It was either a man trying to hit on a woman or a woman trying to hit on a man.

The girl was pretty. She had light makeup on her face and her eyelashes were brushed. Her lips were slightly pink. She was probably a little nervous since she bit her lips slightly.

Jaquan, Randy, and the others recognized the girl as the one who entered their hot spring pool this afternoon. They could not help but look at each other and smile. As expected, she had taken a fancy to their boss.

Vincent did not take the drink. The girl was a little embarrassed to be stared at by so many people. The hand that she held the drink was trembling.

The girl immediately looked at her gratefully, then she timidly looked at Vincent and asked, "Then what does he like to drink?"

"Tea, anything is fine," Emily said.

Vincent, who was eating, stopped. Ferne and the others also stopped eating.

Vincent was speechless.

He showed a dark face.

The others all said nothing.

After the long-haired girl left, Janessa covered her mouth and laughed loudly, "She actually believed it!"

"Yes." Emily chewed the beans in her mouth and added, "She said that she would make a cup of tea for you later."

"What's wrong with you? Are you helping your man find a mistress?" Janessa asked.

"No." Emily looked at the long-haired girl sitting back in her seat. Emily showed a happy smile and said, "It was so awkward since everyone ignored her."

"So you sold your man?" Janessa could not understand.

Emily said with anger, "I don't care about him."

Vincent gently reached out to hold Emily's left hand under the table.

"You are now my elder now, Mr. Vincent. Please behave yourself," Emily said as she shook off his hand.

Vincent didn't know what to say.

Billionaire's Reborn Baby novel Chapter 897

The long-haired girl looked at Emily and said, "Do your parents know about this? This is wrong!"

Emily knew that the girl had misunderstood, but Emily did not explain. She just smiled, "What's wrong?"

The long-haired girl looked at Emily and said, "You must break up with him now! You two don't fit! Even if we ignore your social status, you are too young to be with him."

Emily found it funny, "What about you then? Are you the one for him?"

The long-haired girl blushed a little, but she still insisted, "Anyway, you two don't fit! Your relationship will never last long."

"Why?" Emily asked.

Vincent frowned in disgust the moment he saw the long-haired girl. His patience ran out as the conversation between Emily and the girl went on. He looked at the long-haired girl and said directly, "You misunderstood. I am not her uncle. I am just a toy boy that she keeps by her side."

The long-haired girl was shocked.

Including the other girls standing behind her and Ferne, they never thought that Vincent would say anything like that. It was beyond everyone's imagination.

Emily's eyes were wide open. Just as Rex drove over, Vincent took a few steps to open the car door and said to Emily, "Please get in the car, Madam."

Emily coughed lightly and got into the car holding Vincent's hand.

The long-haired girl watched the luxury car leave, and Vincent's deep and pleasant voice seemed to be still echoing in the air.

A toy boy?

Janessa, Stephanie, and the others held back their laughter as hard as they could. When they got inside the car, the laughter burst out.

"A toy boy! Toy boy!"

"What was Mr. Vincent thinking about? He looks nothing like a toy boy at all!"

"Randy could be called that way, I guess."

"No! Trevor, not Randy!"

"Now we're talking! Trevor can make a perfect toy boy!"

Christy's voice came suddenly, "I'm still here, guys."

He pointed the tip of his nose at Emily's and asked, "What do you need me to do, then? I'll do anything to drive away my dear wife's anger."

"Keep your voice down! Rex and the others can hear you!" she whispered. Suddenly, she felt that her palm was licked. Emily retracted her hand in a hurry. Vincent came over to kiss her again. Emily had nowhere to dodge it. She was kissed so hard that she could hardly breathe. She stuttered, "I'm not angry now, really!"

"I think the hurt will be gone if you kiss me," said Vincent. He was leaning against the back seat. It was dark in the car, and the neon lights outside fell on his face like drops of water. Vincent's beautiful eyes shone under the dim light, giving away a vibe of temptation.

Emily felt that Vincent must be lying to her, but she also felt that Vincent rarely joked about his legs. She leaned forward and kissed him.

"Well..."

The viewing platform was on a tower. They took the elevator up. Through the transparent glass, they looked at the lights below.

Everyone couldn't help but utter, "I feel so small now!"

The long neon lights extended along the road to the far, connecting the horizon and the sky. After coming out of the elevator, everyone looked up at the vast starry sky above.

"So beautiful" Stephanie took out her phone and took a picture.

Janessa looked up and muttered, "Should've carried my camera along."

Christy, on the other hand, looked at the sky with a calm expression. She seemed to be distracted and her gaze was empty. No one knew what she was thinking about. Trevor held her hand. Christy tilted her head to look at him and smiled at him. They looked up at the sky together.

"I'll show you where Capricorn is. Over there, see?" Randy stood beside Lord Top and said to her.

The Lord Top glanced at Randy and said, "Captain, that is Ursa Minor in the Northern constellation."

Randy was embarrassed, "You know about constellations?"

"A little," said Lord Top.

Randy thought about it and said, "Is there anything you don't know about? I can make other things up right now."

"Seriously?"

Emily looked at the sky for a long time. Vincent asked, "Is it different from what you usually see?"

"I don't know, but I feel different now," said Emily as she held Vincent's hand.

Vincent put the coat on Emily's shoulder and hugged her, "What do you feel?"

Emily leaned back onto Vincent's chest and looked up at the sky. Her voice was very soft, "The world is beautiful, so is my mood."

"What about the old days?" asked Vincent.

Emily looked at the sky and thought for a long time before she spoke, "I would think about which star is my mother and which is my father. I thought so every time I looked at the sky. I forget how beautiful the starry sky is."

Vincent hugged her tight

Ferne's scream came, "Holy cow!"

Billionaire's Reborn Baby novel Chapter 898

Everyone turned around and saw Noah pressing down on the phone he snatched from Ferne.

Janessa asked, "What are you doing?"

"My phone! Help me! He snatched my phone!" Ferne howled.

Noah clicked into the photo album. Just as he was about to delete the photos, Noah saw he was looking up at the starry sky, his eyes filled with sorrow.

Noah never knew that he had such an expression when looking at the sky.

When Noah was in a daze, Ferne snatched the phone from him and ran.

"Delete it!" Noah chased after Ferne again.

"No!" Ferne curled his lips.

"I'll say it again. Delete it!" Noah said with a cold face.

"Come and get it." Ferne pulled his jeans open and threw his phone inside.

Noah was speechless.

The others burst into laughter.

Under the vast and quiet starry sky, everyone was happy.

There were thousands of stars in the sky, and the world was full of joy.

...

At the end of February, Stephanie returned to her hometown.

Emily bought a lot of things to follow Stephanie. Vincent sat next to her, looking at the latest stock market with a tablet. Rex asked in front, "Mr. Vincent, do you want a blanket?"

Vincent turned his head and found that Emily had fallen asleep on his shoulder.

Vincent took the blanket and covered it on Emily's legs, then wrapped his arms around her neck to adjust her to a comfortable position before he continued to look at the tablet.

Stephanie sat in the front passenger seat and looked at them with envy. She secretly took a photo and sent it to a group chat.

"Stephanie: I'm so envious of them."

"Janessa: Me too."

"Christy: Vincent IS really handsome."

Trevor was speechless.

“Janessa: Trevor is jealous.”

Christy and Trevor then did not reply. After half an hour, Trevor went online and sent a message. "Yes, a little."

Janessa couldn't help but ask, "What did you do to Christy?"

Christy was speechless.

ten 1 else rae

“Randy: Wow, it's so exciting early in the morning.”

Stephanie felt dizzy at looking at her phone, so she stuffed her phone into her bag and leaned against the back of the chair, not saying a word. When she arrived at the destination, she felt a little stuffy. She went into the room and lay on the bed. Harold was not around. Spencer came out when he heard the noise.

Emily slept for a while. When she woke up, she was full of energy. She held Vincent's hand and walked in to greet Spencer. Then she watched Rex bring in the things he bought.

“I said don’t buy me anything. You like to give me things, but I'm old and I can’t use the things you bought, nor can I eat all of them. Don't spend money on it in the future,” Spencer said with a frown.

“It's a token of our regard,” Emily said as she looked at Stephanie's room. “She seems to get carsick. I'll go and see her. “Alright.” Spencer pointed to the grass at the door and said, "Pull that out and let her smell it. You..." He turned to look at Vincent and said, "Come in with me."

Vincent rubbed Emily's head and followed Spencer into the room.

Emily walked to the door to pluck a leaf. She put it to her nose and smelled it. There was a refreshing minty smell. She took the leaf and knocked on Stephanie's room.

“Come in,” Stephanie said weakly.

Emily pushed open the door and went in, then she put the leaf to Stephanie's nose. "Mr. Spencer asked you to smell this."

"Thank you." Stephanie took it and placed it on her nose. "I can't look at my phone in the car, or I'll have a headache."

"Didn't Spencer take you to the hospital?" Emily asked.

Stephanie closed her eyes and said, "If I don't look at my phone in the car, I'll be fine."

"It's just car sickness. I'll be fine after resting for a while." After a pause, she opened her eyes and sniffed the leaf. "It smells good."

"Well, have some rest." Emily took a small blanket and covered Stephanie's stomach.

Stephanie opened her eyes and smiled at Emily, "I'll take some rest."

Emily sat for a while. After Stephanie fell asleep, Emily came out lightly. Rex squatted under a tree to eat fruit. When he saw Emily come out, he stretched out his hand to ask if she wanted to have some.

Emily shook her head.

There were many more wood products in the courtyard, such as teacups and cushions, well lid, and small wooden sticks. And there was a row of newly made fences around the trees. It could be seen that the producer was particularly skillful.

Emily sized it up for a moment and was attracted by a small wooden token hanging on the tree. There were also words faintly engraved on it. She was about to see what that was when her phone rang.

Vincent took the blanket and covered it on Emily's legs, then wrapped his arms around her neck to adjust her to a comfortable position before he continued to look at the tablet.

Stephanie sat in the front passenger seat and looked at them with envy. She secretly took a photo and sent it to a group chat.

"Stephanie: I'm so envious of them."

"Janessa: Me too."

"Christy: Vincent IS really handsome."

Trevor was speechless.

"Janessa: Trevor is jealous."

Christy and Trevor then did not reply. After half an hour, Trevor went online and sent a message. "Yes, a little."

Janessa couldn't help but ask, "What did you do to Christy?"

Christy was speechless.

ten 1 else rae

"Randy: Wow, it's so exciting early in the morning."

Stephanie felt dizzy at looking at her phone, so she stuffed her phone into her bag and leaned against the back of the chair, not saying a word. When she arrived at the destination, she felt a little stuffy. She went into the room and lay on the bed. Harold was not around. Spencer came out when he heard the noise.

Emily slept for a while. When she woke up, she was full of energy. She held Vincent's hand and walked in to greet Spencer. Then she watched Rex bring in the things he bought.

"I said don't buy me anything. You like to give me things, but I'm old and I can't use the things you bought, nor can I eat all of them. Don't spend money on it in the future," Spencer said with a frown.

"It's a token of our regard," Emily said as she looked at Stephanie's room.

"She seems to get carsick. I'll go and see her.

"Alright." Spencer pointed to the grass at the door and said, "Pull that out and let her smell it. You..." He turned to look at Vincent and said, "Come in with me."

Vincent rubbed Emily's head and followed Spencer into the room.

Emily walked to the door to pluck a leaf. She put it to her nose and smelled it. There was a refreshing minty smell. She took the leaf and knocked on Stephanie's room.

"Come in," Stephanie said weakly.

Emily pushed open the door and went in, then she put the leaf to Stephanie's nose. "Mr. Spencer asked you to smell this."

"Thank you." Stephanie took it and placed it on her nose. "I can't look at my phone in the car, or I'll have a headache."

"Didn't Spencer take you to the hospital?" Emily asked.

Stephanie closed her eyes and said, "If I don't look at my phone in the car, I'll be fine.

It's just car sickness. I'll be fine after resting for a while." After a pause, she opened her eyes and sniffed the leaf. "It smells good.

"Well, have some rest." Emily took a small blanket and covered Stephanie's stomach.

Stephanie opened her eyes and smiled at Emily, "I'll take some rest."

Emily sat for a while. After Stephanie fell asleep, Emily came out lightly. Rex squatted under a tree to eat fruit. When he saw Emily come out, he stretched out his hand to ask if she wanted to have some.

Emily shook her head.

There were many more wood products in the courtyard, such as teacups and cushions, well lid, and small wooden sticks. And there was a row of newly made fences around the trees. It could be seen that the producer was particularly skillful.

Emily sized it up for a moment and was attracted by a small wooden token hanging on the tree. There were also words faintly engraved on it. She was about to see what that was when her phone rang.

Billionaire's Reborn Baby novel Chapter 899

It was Eliot. He called to ask if Emily was sick. Eliot saw the photo in the group chat. He saw Emily's face was a bit pale and that Emily was lying in Vincent's arms. Thus he wondered if Emily was sick.

"No, I was just tired. I was asleep then," Emily explained softly.

"I see. Take care of yourself," Eliot said.

When Eliot was about to hang up, Emily asked him about the company. Then the two chatted for another ten minutes before hanging up.

When Emily put down her phone and turned around, she saw Rex cooking dinner in the kitchen. Emily was glad that they had bought the vacuum-packed food. All they needed to do was heat it up.

When Spencer and Vincent came out of the rooms, they saw a roast goose and other dishes on the table.

"It smells so good," Stephanie went out and said.

Stephanie narrowed her eyes and sniff the aroma at the door.

"Hurry up to wash your face," Spencer said, slightly annoyed. "How can you make the guests wait for you?"

"You guys eat first." Stephanie yawned and said, "I got up quite early this morning and didn't sleep well last night. I'm not quite hungry now."

Emily put a chicken leg into Stephanie's plate and smiled. "Hurry up. If you don't come, I will eat your chicken leg."

"Wait!" Stephanie rushed to the bathroom.

The people all laughed.

Vincent looked a little better, but his lips were still quite pale. Vincent wasn't interested in the sumptuous meal at all. He picked up his spoon and started to eat a bowl of porridge.

Emily knew that Vincent didn't want to eat, so she poured a cup of water and handed it to Vincent.

"Go back to your room to have a rest when we finish the dinner. We can go back home a bit later," Emily said.

Vincent took the water, took a sip, and said, "Don't worry, I'm okay."

Emily and Vincent left in the early evening.

After the car went away, Harold came out from one side of the road. He stood there, staring at the car for a few seconds, and walked back.

"Why have you gone to work again?" Stephanie sighed as she saw Harold coming back with his face covered in dirt. "Why do you have to work so hard every day? It's not that I have no income. Moreover, I've opened a Relax Room in Happisland City. Someone donated more than 100, 000 yuan on the first day."

Harold didn't refute. He took off his clothes, went into the bathroom, and took a shower. Then he changed into clean clothes and went out.

"Don't go to work tomorrow. Just take a leave." Spencer came out with a thin blade in his hand. "Come into my room after dinner," he ordered.

"Wendy," Harold said with an embarrassed look.

Stephanie was shocked. Spencer used to call Stephanie Wendy when she just returned home. However, Stephanie had got used to being called Stephanie, so when she was called Wendy, she didn't respond at all. Thus Spencer had no choice but to call her Stephanie, and since then no one had called Stephanie her previous name.

Thus it was the first time after so many years that Stephanie had heard others call her Wendy.

"What's wrong? Don't you like it?" Stephanie regained her composure and asked Harold.

Harold glanced at the swimming trunks in his hand and pushed Stephanie out of the room. "Thank you."

"Remember to try it on." Stephanie reminded Harold. "If it doesn't fit, we can get it changed."

Harold closed the door without expression.

Stephanie touched her nose. Spencer went out of the room and asked, "What's wrong? Did you make him unhappy again?"

"Hey grandpa, what are you talking about? How did I make him unhappy?" Stephanie said in annoyance. "I gave him a present, and he's extremely happy."

"So he drove you out happily," Spencer said mockingly.

Stephanie was rendered speechless.□□□□□□□□□□

Billionaire's Reborn Baby novel Chapter 900

At the beginning of March, the results of Fine Arts Education Research, which Emily had participated in before, were out.

She won third place.

Emily was watching the live broadcast of the awards ceremony on TV. Vincent held her and they sat on the sofa together. Christy and Trevor were next to them. Ferne sat on the carpet and Noah was leaning against the sofa.

The award was issued from tenth place. Emily was enjoying the work of tenth place while eating potato chips. It was a scenic painting. The painter was quite skilled. Emily could tell that the artist was outstanding.

"What?" Christy called out when the work of ninth place was displayed.

"Holy shit, are they Emily and Vincent?" Ferne looked at Emily.

In the painting, there was a young and beautiful girl. She pouted and looked at the man sitting on the side lovingly, and the man was feeding her meat dotingly.

The man's jawline was perfect, and his facial features were sharp, but his eyes were gentle. His slender fingers were forking a piece of meat.

It was a vivid painting.

Emily looked at the painting and thought of a girl who had asked Emily before. "Can I draw a picture of you two?"

"Vincent," she leaned back and said, "You have to buy this painting."

Vincent rubbed the top of her head and nodded.

"Do you know the one who drew the painting?" Randy asked in surprise.

"Sort of," Emily thought for a while and said, "she is Doctor Mueller's friend."

"Emily, she doesn't draw as well as you do, but this painting looks especially good because you are in it."

"Thank you," Emily smiled.

"What a bootlicker!" Noah said nonchalantly.

"Fuck you! Do I look like a bootlicker?" Ferne turned his head.

Noah glanced at him.

"I agree with Noah." Christy nodded.

Ferne was lost for words.

They joked and chatted for a while. It was time for third place. In front of the camera was a painting about a meter long. Under the long stairs leading to heaven, a little girl stood on the road. Behind her were her parents. She walked in the direction of the stairs, from a girl to a woman. At first, her parents were on the road with her. In the end, only she and her lover were left.

"You won the prize. What reward do you want?" Vincent looked at her and asked.

Emily stopped pinching his chin and turned to pinch his earlobes. Then she lowered her head and whispered into his ear, "I haven't thought of the reward yet. Now, I just want to kiss you."

Vincent smiled as he held the back of her head with one hand and kissed her lips.

...

After Emily fell asleep, Vincent sat in the study and looked at a document that Rex had handed to him.

Recently, he started a company in Happisland City in the name of Emily. He was still in the process of preparing all kinds of matters. Only Rex was busy running errands for him. Vincent only had time to deal with the pressing problems at night.

"The venue can only be renovated in half a month. The personnel department and marketing department are recruiting people and the employees will be able to take office next month. I will let the personnel department recruit people for the planning department and the information department. Also, I think that with Mr. Trevor here, we can save the expenses of the information department..." Rex looked at Vincent and said.

Vincent listened quietly and opened a document in his hand. The Scavo family was doing traditional business such as real estate and shopping malls, but Vincent ran an electronic business.

The future was about to be the era of information data. The sales of the Scavo family's in the past few years had been slightly lower than online sales. Vincent had planned to start a company and hire employees to study online customers. However, his plan had been disrupted last year, so he couldn't continue his plan until now.

"It's not necessary," Vincent looked at the document in his hand and threw it to the side, "Trevor has been very busy recently."

Last time, Trevor came to visit and focused on his computer on the sofa. Emily was very envious. She also had computer classes in her school, but she was slow, so she was so jealous of Trevor because Trevor couldn't type without looking at the keyboard. When Trevor controlled the Eleven to sit in front of the computer and type, Emily was shocked and excited. So, she had become Trevor's student since that day.□□□□□