

Billionaire's Reborn Baby novel Chapter 971

"The reports are coming out!"

Some students shouted in the corridor in terror, "Here come the results!"

"Do you think Lucy will get the first?" Tatiana poked Emily on the shoulder.

"Absolutely," Emily said as she leaned back against the table.

"Then who do you think will be the second?" Tatiana asked again.

Marley took out a mirror and was popping a new pimple under her nose, "I guess it's still Miss Second."

Miss Second was a girl in Class F. She had ranked second in several exams and no one had ever broken her record. So people gave her a nickname.

Emily was writing her notes. She had thoroughly read the summary of the key points that Lucy had given her. Then, she began to review her own mistakes.

"I guess you will rank two or three positions better. Don't worry, you've improved a lot." Tatiana comforted Emily, "If nothing goes wrong, you can get this year's progress award."

Emily nodded.

Marley poked Tatiana, "What are you talking about? Emily will definitely rank five positions higher!"

Emily smiled. The test was quite simple and she felt very relaxed when answering the questions. She did it much faster than before. Emily thought she might rank ten positions higher.

However, all the members of Class F were working hard, so Emily was not sure. She did not say anything and just smiled.

Not long after, the class teacher walked in with the test paper in his arms. He looked a little excited and his face was flushed red. As soon as he entered, he said, "Everyone in our class has made great progress. You have impressed me a lot. Our class has an average score of one point above Class E!"

Emily did not understand why he was happy about one point.

Lucy explained to Emily in a low voice, "It means that everyone in our class has one more point than the people in Class E."

Emily came to a realization and was suddenly a little surprised. Class F's results had improved a lot.

"Most importantly, one student in our class has contributed the most to our score. She is..." The class teacher looked at the students below the stage with a radiant look.

Everyone turned their eyes to Lucy.

Emily also smiled at Lucy. "Congratulations."

"Emily! She finished top in our class!" the teacher exclaimed.

The whole class was astonished.

Everyone was surprised.

"Holy shit! Emily! You're awesome!"

"First place in the fight! First place in the exam!"

"Awesome!"

Tatiana covered her mouth with her hands. Her eyes almost popped out. She looked at Emily, then at Lucy. Lucy happily clapped at Emily.

Tatiana pinched her own face and asked Marley, "Emily came as the first? Am I dreaming?"

"I heard that our class teacher was called to a meeting by the principal. I wonder what they are discussing." Jenny looked at her phone as she said, "They're likely discussing this matter. I guess the principal will ask the class teacher to prove that we make progress by ourselves."

Even Violet joined the discussion. However, when they turned around, they found that Emily was taking notes.

"Emily! You're even still taking notes! Don't you know what's going on outside?"

"Don't worry about her. I'm telling you, even if there's an earthquake, she won't move." Tatiana was already used to it.

Emily stopped writing and glanced at them. "The school will give a result. What we have to do now is wait."

Marisa blew a bubble, "That's right. Everyone, go back and sit down. Just wait patiently. There's nothing to discuss here."

"Of course, you don't have to worry about it. No one suspects that you copied others' paper," Tatiana said.

"So what if you worry about it? The principal won't listen to you." Marisa shrugged.

Tatiana was rendered speechless.

She glared at Marisa and ran to her seat.

Emily sighed. Tatiana and Marisa would quarrel every time they met.

In the afternoon, the school finally made a decision. Class F had to take the test again. Emily had already known this result, so when the class teacher walked in and informed them, she was the first to stand up.

"Sorry, I won't do it."

Billionaire's Reborn Baby novel Chapter 972

All the students in the class were shocked and then they shouted.

"Yes! We won't take the exam!"

"Why should we retake the exam? We didn't cheat!"

"The school suspects that we cheated! We refuse to take the test again!"

"Yes! Definitely not!"

"Quiet! Everyone quiet down and listen to me!" The class teacher shouted, "It's a chance to prove themselves so that others can believe that our class did not cheat!"

"Then everyone in the school has to retake the exam together!"

"Yes! They can't treat us differently and only let our class take the exam!"

"Yes! We will also report that Class S and Class A cheated!"

"Yes! Report the cheating!"

The class teacher stood on the podium. He had already expected this kind of situation where he lost control. He originally thought that Class F had finally let him hold his head high for once, but with that rumor, other teachers all looked at him with contempt.

Class F was in chaos. The students claimed that they would not take the exam, while the class teacher fell silent. The students of the other classes also rushed over after hearing the news. They surrounded the window and wanted to know the results of their discussion.

Then, they saw an ugly girl with a mask standing up. She turned around and raised her hand slightly. The others immediately quieted down.

Everyone outside the window widened their eyes in shock.

They had never imagined that this ugly girl could make others shut up and quiet with a single gesture. She seemed to be more powerful than their class teacher.

The class teacher also felt a little surprised. He was very sure that this girl wearing a mask had some extraordinary qualities, otherwise, she would not have such a surprising appeal and influence in such a short time.

"Sorry," Emily said. Her voice was softer than her peers, but her calmness made her tone a little more indifferent. "You have made a mistake in our needs. What we want is not to prove ourselves."

She was small, and her body looked very thin in her school uniform. However, she stood straight and said word by word.

"We want fairness."

The entire F class erupted into a round of applause, followed by a wave of voices.

"Yes! What we want is fairness!"

Even the students who were peeking outside the window felt excited.

"Alright!" The class teacher said with enthusiasm, "Let's do as you say! We have to take the exam together with other classes!"

When the other students of Class F heard it, some of them immediately rushed to the podium and hugged the class teacher.

Others were all laughing under the stage.

It was very wonderful. Although they were suspected of cheating, at that moment, everyone stood side by side. They felt powerful and happy.

For the first time, they felt that being trusted was so good.

"No way. You stayed at home for a few months?" Tatiana was surprised. "Don't you want to hang out?"

Emily shook her head. "It's too hot and I don't want to go out."

"Don't lie to me. If you dare go to the amusement park again without telling us..." Tatiana made a slicing motion at her neck.

Emily was speechless.

"What amusement park?" Marley asked.

"Nothing." Tatiana closed her mouth and asked Lucy, "Lucy, what are your plans for the summer vacation?"

"At home, studying," Lucy said without raising her head.

Tatiana had nothing to say.

"Well, I guess the world of top students is hard to reach for ordinary students like us."

Marley corrected, "It's you, not us."

"Look at your report and tell me. Aren't you an ordinary student?" Tatiana asked.

Marley thought about it and said, "I'm a poor student."

Tatiana was defeated.

Jenny's followers diligently served Lucy tea and water. They also tidied up the table and the books. Emily raised her eyebrows and looked at them. She heard Tatiana and Marley bickering behind her. On the left, Violet was reading a comic book. On the platform in front of her, Jenny was carefully wiping the blackboard. In the last row of the classroom, the boys huddled together to discuss the equations.

Class F had completely changed.

It was as if they had been reborn. They astonished their teachers.

All these changes were all because of a person.

At the end of June, on the day of Emily's examination, there was a drizzle.

Vincent helped her put on her coat and checked her stationery bag. Then he hung her schoolbag on her shoulder and lowered his head to kiss her lips. "Come on."

"Alright, stay home and wait for me," Emily said as he touched his chin.

She did not know that a few minutes after she went out, Vincent received a call from Randy.

"Boss, my grandfather passed away."

When Vincent went out, he happened to encounter Lord. She just came down from upstairs. Vincent did not look at her and went straight downstairs. Rex walked with a black umbrella.

Lord went to buy breakfast. An electric bicycle was parked on the side. An old man came down to buy steamed buns. Lord glanced at the rearview mirror and saw Rex getting on the car with a bunch of flowers in his hand.

The flowers were white.

It was a chrysanthemum.

"Hey, it's your buns."

The boss shouted for a long time before Lord came back to her senses and paid.

She stood at the intersection in a daze for a while, then took out her phone and called Randy. Randy answered the phone after a long time.

Both of them were on the phone, and neither of them spoke first.

"Where's Grandfather?" Lord asked.

Randy's breathing came through. After a long breath, there was a slight trembling sound of breathing. Lord could feel his pain and sadness through his breathing.

"I'll be right there." After she hung up the phone, Lord quickly ran home and changed into a black suit. Then she called a car and said, "To City Y."

After sitting in, she saw that it was Guard D.

Lord was a little surprised, "Why are you here?" She looked around, "Where is the driver?"

"A week?" Rollo raised his voice in surprise, "Where are you going?"

"Thank you." Lord hung up the phone, then turned off her phone and closed her eyes.

Carl passed away at three in the morning.

Randy had been by Carl's side since nine o'clock last night. He had been holding Carl's hand and kneeling by the bedside. When dawn broke, his parents pulled him out.

Jen said to Randy, "You go eat first. We're here."

"I'll take care of it," Randy shook his head and said, "We had a deal."

Carl's funeral was handled by Randy, including cancellation and cremation. He was busy on his own. Randy never shed a single tear from beginning to end.

Until Vincent and Lord appeared in front of him at the same time, tears fell.

Lord rushed up and hugged him.

Randy cried and said, "My grandfather is dead..."

Billionaire's Reborn Baby novel Chapter 974

Emily had just entered the examination room of Class S. Then she found that the students around her were a little strange.

They put on an act and walked up to the platform, coughed a few times, and said to the audience, "Well. It's nothing special."

Yes, there was no difference.

Ignoring the full marks on the wall, the mathematics test paper, the various awards, and the banner, it was indeed no different from Class F. After all, the classroom was the same. Class S's classroom was cleaner than Class F. Maybe it was a psychological effect.

It was the first time for Class F to take the exam in Class S. Everyone was very nervous and excited. They would go to the platform or go to the window to see what was different about the scenery outside.

Class S was on the fourth floor. Class F was on the first floor.

Moreover, it was still early to leave for the exam. The students of Class S went downstairs early. Tatiana said that this must be a conspiracy. Marley believed it without a doubt. They examined every corner of the classroom in a daze, including the trash can.

Emily sat on a table, playing with her stationery bag in boredom. The supervising teacher entered the examination room ahead of time. He read the rules of the examination to everyone and then began to check if everyone had any mobile phones or other cheating tools.

They braced themselves for embarrassment. For example, they would be searched insultingly and even stared at with all kinds of suspicion. As a result, the teacher in Class S was unexpectedly calm. He just casually swept through the examinees present and then began to write down the time of the examination on the blackboard, waiting for the broadcast.

The students of Class F looked at each other, but none of them could lower their guard.

There were more students in Class F than in Class S. Therefore, some of them took the exam in Class A next door. However, the situation was the same.

Nothing happened to them. The teachers just looked at the time of the examination and prepared to open the test bag. Then, they began to read the rules of the examination.

Everything was normal.

In the middle of the exam, a few dean teachers came over to check. They stood at the door. Then they pointed at Emily and said, "Can you come out for a moment?"

Emily was answering the questions. She did not know the teacher was talking to her.

Until a teacher walked up to her and tapped her desk with a finger did she notice the directors.

"The director asked you to go out for a while."

Emily was a little confused. "Why?"

Her test paper was taken by the teachers of various subjects to appreciate. Some speculated that she was copying, others admired her handwriting, and others watched her essay with relish. Some people took her math paper and said that this person was very organized. The draft paper was very clean. It was neat and beautiful, like a painting.

What really let Class S's teacher notice Emily was another thing. A while ago, Jemma said that she was beaten by Emily.

He had seen the entire process of Emily dealing with Jemma's parents. She was so calm that was not like a child.

Just like this moment.

A few dean teachers stood in front of her. She could remain calm and replied, "Wait for me to finish this question."

Class S's head teacher had already confirmed that Emily did not cheat. Because from the moment the exam began, his gaze fixed on Emily without a trace. He wanted to see how she got first place. However, Emily kept answering the questions. Every question had a solution step. It was clear and orderly.

Emily finished calculating the questions, wrote the answer on the answer card, then stood up, looked at the teaching director in front of her, and said, "Let's go out and talk. Don't affect others."

As she spoke, she turned to everyone and said, "Take a good examination."

The other students nodded heavily and then continued with the exam.

Billionaire's Reborn Baby novel Chapter 975

Tatiana and Marley still looked at Emily worriedly. Emily smiled at them through the mask. After that, they lowered their heads to continue their tests.

The class teacher of Class S felt that something was wrong. It was not until he walked out of the classroom that he found that the students of Class F, the most difficult students in school, were so meek in front of Emily.

Along the corridor, the scene was seen by the candidates of Class A and Class B. They were making a fuss and shouting, "The top one in Class F is cheating! I saw the director catch her!"

The others were also excited, "Really?"

"Be quiet!" The Invigilator shouted. After shouting, he walked to the door and took a look. He wanted to know if Emily had cheated or not.

Emily was taken to the corner of the corridor. The dean looked at her and said, "Take off the mask."

Emily took out a new mask from her pocket and handed it to the director, "Check this first."

The directors checked it and handed it over after confirming that there were no problems.

Emily changed her new mask. Then she handed the old one to the director.

The director stared at the mask for a while and did not find anything special. Then, he handed it to Emily. "OK. Go back to the exam."

Emily stood there. She looked at the director and said, "Someone in our class is cheating."

The directors were shocked, "How did he get away with cheating?"

"Please come with me," Emily said as she walked to the examination room. She pointed at Tatiana and said, "Look at her long sleeves. There must be something strange."

The director immediately walked over and pulled Tatiana's arm up. Tatiana was shocked and shouted. The director pulled her sleeve. There was nothing inside.

Emily said regretfully, "Well. There was nothing on her sleeve. Look at her." Emily then pointed at Marley, "She keeps looking down. There must be something in the shoes."

Although Marley did not know what Emily was up to, she quickly took off her shoes and put her feet aside obediently when she saw that the director was rushing toward her.

They looked down and checked, but there was nothing.

"How could that be?" Emily seemed to be very annoyed. She pointed to a boy and said, "He must be a copier."

The faces of the directors turned pale.

The class teacher said, "How can you talk to the class teacher like that?"

Emily looked at the teachers and said, "Our class is to prove that we did not cheat and participate in this examination. However, you did not protect our examination environment. You came to check me and suspected that I cheated with a mask. So what's the result? You did not find anything. Do you owe me an apology? I just pointed to two students casually, and you searched without saying a word. When I said to check the candidates in Class S, you said no, right? Why? We don't deserve it?"

After that, all the students stood up.

The class teacher of Class S did not expect Emily's reaction. It would be fine if he only suspected Emily. At most, he would let Emily make a fool of herself. Right now, she connected the thing to Class F. Therefore, the director would have to explain it to all students of Class F.

They looked at the students who stood up and shouted, "What are you going to do? Sit down! Continue the exam!"

"Exam?" A student shouted, "You don't respect us at all. Why are we going testing?"

"That's right! You frisked us at will. What are the results? Why do you suspect our class? I even suspect that someone from Class S cheated!"

"That's right. Why don't you check Class S?"

Billionaire's Reborn Baby novel Chapter 976

The director shouted on stage, "What are you doing? Do you still want to take the exam?"

"Yes, but we want fairness." Emily looked at the director and said, "You have broken the fair system. Therefore, I suggest the teachers should check Class S."

"Yes! Fair! We want a fair!"

"Fair! Fair!"

"Fair! Fair!"

"Fair! Fair!"

"Fair! Fair!"

The others all shouted. The director and class teacher could not stop them. One of the directors said, "OK. Do you want the fair? Let's go investigate Class S."

Emily quickly returned to her seat and said, "OK. Let's take the exam."

The directors had never seen a student change his face so quickly. They were almost angered to death. However, they must deliver. They walked to Class F and prepared to check on the group of students in Class S.

After the first exam, Emily leaned on the table to rest.

The table was reversed. Someone was taking things out of the table hole. She thought it was Tatiana, reached out, and grabbed forward, touching a hand.

Unlike a girl's hand, this hand was a little big, with protruding joints, and a little hot.

Emily looked up from the table and saw David's shocked face. David looked at her with a red face. He thought, 'Emily takes the initiative to grab my hand.'

There was silence.

Tatiana shouted, "Emily! What are you doing?"

Emily thought, 'I did nothing.'

She released her grip. Then she looked at David and asked, "What are you doing?"

"I want to get the cup." David took out his cup from the table and drank some water.

Emily glanced at him and then realized, "Is this your table?"

"Yes." David lowered his head, the back of his ears completely red.

Emily did not know what to say for a moment. She could only say, "What a coincidence."

"It's not a coincidence." David looked up at her and said, "According to your ranking, I specially put the table here."

Emily said nothing.

Emily thought, 'Could it be that what I said at that time was not enough?'

"Those directors went over because of you. They did not expect that they would catch copiers. You are amazing!" Marley quickly came over and massaged Emily's shoulders, "I admire you so much!"

Lucy said with a smile, "In general, there are almost no teachers to check Class A, B, and C. Because people think good students don't cheat."

"Marisa! You weren't sleeping during the exam, were you?" Tatiana suddenly glanced at Marisa in the back seat. She was still asleep.

Marisa rubbed her eyes when she heard the voice. "No," she said.

"Have you finished your paper?" Tatiana said, "Don't pull down our average."

Marisa thought about it and said, "It seems that there are two questions..."

"There are two questions that you haven't done" Tatiana's eyes opened widely. She suddenly thought of something and said, "That's fine. Even if you do it, you might not be able to get any points."

"No." Marisa shook her head, "I did two questions in total."

Tatiana was speechless.

Lucy was speechless.

Marley was speechless.

Emily was speechless.

After finishing her test, Emily walked out. Jenny walked over and knocked on Emily's elbow. Before Emily said something, Jenny stuffed a note into her hand.

Emily entered the bathroom and opened the note.

The note said, "The two who cheated on the exam will wait for you on your way home."

Emily thought that it was two boys who cheated on the exam. But it turned out to be two girls.

And the two boys once yelled at Tatiana on the basketball court.

Emily was Tatiana's friend. So the two girls would not let Emily get away easily. The two girls stood at the school gate, staring at Emily as if they wanted to devour her alive.

What confused Emily most was a group of boys from class S in front of the two girls. Those boys once fought with the boys from class F and they were also staring at Emily angrily.

Marisa put her hand on Emily's shoulder and said in a low voice, "I will walk you home. If they follow up, I will shout for help. They dare not punch people in public."

Lucy looked at those boys in fear. She murmured, "Emily, should we tell the teacher about this?"

Emily looked back at the two girls and then shifted her gaze at the boys. She shrugged and said, "No need. Let's go."

"Emily..." Lucy hesitated, scared, and said, "Why are you walking to the alley?"

Emily had turned around, waiting for the group of people to follow up. She said casually, "The fight will begin in the alley."

Lucy didn't know what to say.

Marisa was worried about Emily.

The two girls had already walked over with their eyes red.

"You ugly monster! It's you. I wouldn't have made such a fool without you!!" one of the girls said as she pointed at Emily.

"Yes! It's all because of you!" another girl also walked over and pointed at Emily furiously, "Ugly monster, you fooled us, so we are not done with this."

"Yes! We will not let you leave easily," another girl said.

The two girls turned to glare at Lucy and Marisa and snapped, "It's none of your business. You two can leave now!"

"We will stay!" Lucy kept her back straight, though she was scared. She added, "Emily is our friend. We will not leave her alone!"

Marisa didn't say anything, just looking at the group of boys behind the two girls warily.

Marisa knew that the two girls were no match for Emily. But the group of boys was too much for Emily to handle. But Emily seemed unwilling to tell the teacher about this, let alone call the police.

Marisa didn't know what Emily was thinking about. She chose to wait and see what would happen. And she believed that Emily would not lose.

Emily was staring at the boys. After those boys walked over, Emily looked up and asked, "Are you here to take revenge on me for your classmates?"

Boy B said, "By the way, don't say 'ugly' again. You are not pretty, so why do you criticize others' appearance?"

Boy C added, "We never called you an ugly monster."

"Don't mess up with Emily. We can let you go today. But if you do this again, I will tell the teacher to punish you two."

Boy D said, "Right. You might be driven out of the school. Aren't you afraid?"

These boys had said what they wanted to say. The two girls felt so aggrieved that they cried. They glared at Emily and they ran away with tears.

Emily didn't know what to say.

She looked at the group of boys and asked in confusion, "What are you doing?"

These boys scratched their heads and said, "We just want to help you. The two girls wanted to bully you."

Emily was rendered speechless again.

Marisa nudged Emily's arm and said with a smile, "I thought that you just knew David. But it seems that the whole class supports you."

Emily smiled wryly.

Billionaire's Reborn Baby novel Chapter 978

Although Lucy had no idea what was going on, she relaxed after making sure that these boys were on Emily's side.

"Since you are fine, we can leave now," one of the boys said. Then the boys waved at Emile and left.

Emily still stood where she was, thinking about why these boys wanted to help her. She was wondering if she had gotten something on them.

"You must tell me why they want to help you?" Marisa asked, raising her eyebrows.

Emile shook her head and said, "I don't know."

Marisa thought for a while. Then she covered her mouth with her hand and said, "You punched them but they didn't blame you. Instead, they want to protect you. Maybe they are..."

Emily didn't know what Marisa referred to.

Marisa said in a low voice, "M." Actually, Marisa referred to masochism.

But Emily still couldn't get Marisa's point. Marisa took out her phone and searched for the word online.

After Emily saw the word, her face darkened.

Lucy leaned over and saw the word. Her face also darkened.

Lucy blushed.

Emily was rendered speechless.

After returning home, Emily was told that Carl had passed away.

Vincent wasn't home yet. It was not the right time for him to show up there. After Vincent paid tribute to Carl, he went to the Scavo's.

Rolando looked much older than before. He was looking at the photos he and his old friends took when they were fishing. Then he sighed and wiped the tears on his face. He said, "Vincent, people get old and die all the time. It's just a matter of time. I don't know how long I will live."

"Don't say that. You should enjoy the rest of your life and leave no regrets," Vincent comforted.

"Well, I have one wish," Rolando said after a hesitation.

"What is it?" Vincent asked.

"Forget about it. We can talk about it in a few years," Rolando said as he waved his hand.

Vincent understood what Rolando wanted to say. He held Rolando's hand, wanting to say something. But he didn't say it. Instead, he only said, "Take care of yourself."

After coming out, Rex asked gently, "Mr. Vincent, don't you want your own children?"

Vincent stood in the darkness as if he was invisible.

"It's not time to talk about it yet," Vincent said after a while. His voice was low.

"Your child will not experience what you had experienced when you were young. We are safe in Happisland City. Mr. Rolando wants you to have your own family. It is time to solve your problem," Rex said.

Vincent remained silent. After standing in the cold wind for a while, he received Emily's call.

"Hello, Mr. Vincent? Are you with Randy?" Emily said softly.

Lord Top opened the door, walked in, and put the food on the chair. She carried the chair over, bent down, and scooped some rice, trying to feed Randy.

"Captain Randy, you need to eat," Lord Top said.

"I don't want to eat anything." Randy shook his head.

"Captain, you said that you wanted me to feed you like this? Here I am. I will do it." Lord Top raised the spoon in front of Randy's mouth.

Randy thought of the time when Carl went to travel and cried again.

He ate the rice on the spoon and chewed hard.

Lord Top wiped away Randy's tears and scooped some meat and vegetables. Lord Top kept wiping Randy's tears while she fed him. After half an hour later, she went to the kitchen with empty plates.

"Has he eaten all of this?" Jen said in surprise.

Lord Top nodded.

"Where is he?" Jen asked.

Lord Top pointed outside and said, "He went to mourn for Carl."

"Randy didn't sleep last night. Why doesn't he take care of himself?" Jen was worried about Randy.

"Don't worry. I will accompany him," Lord Top said and then walked out.

Billionaire's Reborn Baby novel Chapter 979

When the members of the Seven Young Masters heard the news of Master Geller's death, they all rushed over and knelt.

They never thought that the old man, who looked very humorous and optimistic, would leave the world without a word.

The few of them nodded silently when they saw Lord Top. Even though they really wanted to hug Lord Top, they restrained themselves.

Before they left, everyone said to Lord Top:

"Lord Top, please take care of Captain Randy."

"Well." Lord Top watched them and then knelt down with Randy in front of the grave.

It was very quiet at night.

Randy suddenly said, "My grandfather used to dislike me playing games. He thought that I was wasting time when I played games. I had lost his face."

Lord Top reached out to hold his hand.

"Every time I go back, I have to quarrel with him. My parents often have quarrels too. So, I really hate going home, and I simply won't go back. Year after year, they compromised. I always go back during the New Year, and I'm in the base at other times. Otherwise, I go to find Ferne and other friends. I have friends and team members. So, I live a good life..."

"In recent years, I have become thoughtful. I have noticed a lot of things that I had never noticed before. My grandfather is already old. He usually dyed his hair, but his hair grew all white quickly. He doesn't tell me that he is sick and allows me to play games. He even supports me and becomes my fan. He clearly could not understand it but he still looks at my ID for a long time every time, as if he was watching me through the screen..."

"Do you know?" Randy looked at Lord Top with tears on his face, "I regret that I haven't treated him better when he was alive. I have said a lot of harsh words. I regret it..."

Lord Top Lord wiped his tears, then reached out and hugged him.

"I regret it..." Randy cried again and again, "I regret it..."

When Emily got out of the car, she saw Randy sleeping on Lord Top's leg.

Emily held the white chrysanthemum and gently placed it in front of the grave, then knelt down and kowtowed before looking at Lord Top and asking, "Are you alright?"

Lord Top nodded and then looked down at the sleeping Randy.

He hadn't been able to rest for two days. He had just fallen to the ground from exhaustion. Lord Top carried him so that he could sleep better.

She knew that he was unwilling to leave this place, so she did not bring him back to his room, but accompanied him.

Emily was a little surprised, "This is Mr. Peck?"

"You have good eyesight." Mr. Rolando laughed, "Among us, only he and Carl were the most handsome."

"You are also very handsome," Emily said obediently.

"Time flies. We are all old in the blink of an eye," Mr. Rolando said with a smile.

Mr. Rolando talked about how they met each other in the past, how they became brothers, what kind of disputes they had later, and how they become reconciled.

Emily listened carefully, and an image seemed to appear. Mr. Rolando was very young in the image. Beside him was the young Carl, Peck, Benson...

Just like Mr. Vincent, Mr. Ferne, and Randy, they were chatting and laughing together. Before going to sleep, Mr. Rolando patted Emily's hand and said, "Don't worry, I am in good health. At least I can live for another five or six years. I still have to compete with those old men whose great-grandson is the most handsome."

Emily smiled and promised, "Well, our great-grandson will definitely be the most handsome."

Mr. Rolando smiled, but he turned back to wipe his tears. Of course, he did not dare to say it. He was worried that Vincent would be concerned about the past and was not willing to have children.

Billionaire's Reborn Baby novel Chapter 980

Emily was half an hour late for the exam the next day.

She had planned to come back last night, but because Randy contacted the priest to pray for Master Geller that night, she and Vincent went back for a long time.

It was not until early in the morning that she came out. Worried that she was not asleep enough, Vincent asked her to go into the car early to rest, but Emily could not sleep, and only looked out the window.

Ferne and Noah stood side by side, both of them talking to Randy. Randy was in a good mood, but his eyes turned red. Lord Top had been holding his hand.

Christy and Trevor were across from each other. They remained silent. However, both of them looked worried. Randy forced a comforting smile at them. He seemed to show that he was fine. Then, he turned around and walked inside.

Jaquan and Armando also came over. Because Emma and Janessa were pregnant, they did not come. They were worried that they would get into trouble, so each of them made something and asked Jaquan and Armando to send it over.

Randy took the item and bowed his head in thanks.

Jaquan patted him on the shoulder.

"My condolences," Armando said to Randy.

In the middle of the night, Emily was sleeping in the carriage very uneasily. She had been dreaming, and her dreams were constantly changing. In her dreams, she walked in the firelight for a while, then knelt in front of the grave. Finally, she saw herself sink into the pool with her own eyes...

She woke up panting and the sky was already bright.

The car stopped at the entrance of the school. She looked at the time, and the remaining sleepiness instantly disappeared, "Why don't you wake me up?"

She quickly found a tissue to wipe her face. When she looked up, she saw a breakfast and her schoolbag neatly placed on the side.

Vincent handed the breakfast to her, "Eat the breakfast first. I'm afraid you won't be able to sleep well. You might fall asleep halfway through the exam, so I might as well let you sleep a little more."

Emily didn't have time to shout. She quickly grabbed the sandwich and took a bite. Then, she drank the warm milk.

Her mouth was stuffed full, and she asked in a muffled voice, "Where ... is my school uniform?"

Vincent shook off the school uniform in his hand and gave her, "Eat food, I'll help you."

Emily stretched her arm and drank a mouthful of milk. Then she picked up her schoolbag and the rest of the sandwich, opened the car door, and rushed out.

"Mask," Vincent reminded.

Emily took the mask he handed over and put it on before leaving.

In the end, she heard Vincent shout, "Pants."

Emily looked down and saw that the pants had not been worn.

She rushed over to take the pants and was about to run when a car stopped by the side. Marisa got out of the car and chewed on her gum. She looked tired. She rubbed her eyes and was about to leave when she suddenly saw Emily, "Hey, why haven't you ... gone to school?"

As she spoke, she walked over and looked inside through the door, "Hello, Mr. Scavo."

Vincent was right. Emily had just sat down for the exam and was already sleepy. This was an English exam and the hearing part had already passed. She and Marisa had not caught up.

Marisa was a person who always handed in blank examination papers, so it naturally didn't affect her.

But Emily lost the twenty points of hearing part, which meant that her grade would be less than others.

Lucy and Tatiana heaved a sigh of relief when they saw her come in. Everyone thought that something had happened to her and that she would not be coming today.

Even the class teacher of Class S thought that she was not coming today, but she still came and began to answer the questions seriously after sitting down.

There were only fifteen minutes left before the exam was over, and a sound came from Emily's table.

As soon as the others looked up, they saw Emily fall asleep on the table.

"..."

Class S's class teacher came over to take a look, but Emily's entire head was blocking the test paper. It was hard for him to tell whether Emily had finished answering the questions or not. He just knocked on the table and reminded me, "Well, there are only 15 minutes left for the test."

Emily was so sleepy that she struggled to open her eyes. Seeing that it was the class teacher of Class S, she smiled at him, then patted her face and sat up.

Only then did the class teacher see that she hadn't finished the composition part, and the reading comprehension part was only halfway done.

However, there were only fifteen minutes left.
