Chapter 281 The Twins

"Mr. Gu, do you want to be present during childbirth with Mrs. Gu?" The nurse asked.

Without any hesitation, Gu Yechen nodded, "Yes."

The nurse blinked a few times, a little surprised that Gu Yechen was willing to go in and see the bloody scene. Wasn't he the CEO of the Gu Corporation? Since this was a private hospital, the nurse had seen a lot of rich or famous women and men come over to go through labor.

Most commonly, the rich husband would choose not to enter the room, and the nurse wasn't surprised. After all, most men did not want to see the. . . scene.

The nurse was slightly surprised and forgot to react for a quick second. She cleared her throat before opening the door again, "Please follow me."

Although Xu Mengya and Gu Hanyu really wanted to enter as well, they were forced to stay outside and wait.

Gu Yechen entered the room and immediately saw He Xinyan laying on the bed with her eyes closed and sweat running down her face.

He immediately sat down in the chair next to the bed and grabbed onto her hand. Feeling the touch, He Xinyan blinked her eyes open and almost started crying when she saw Gu Yechen.

"I'm here, I'm here." Gu Yechen ran his fingers through her wet hair and held onto her hand tightly, "It is almost over, okay? You can do it." He said, although he had no clue how long this would take.

"Ah!!" He Xinyan suddenly screamed and her grip on Gu Yechen's hand tightened as the pain from below suddenly shot up to her brain again.

The nurse turned back and looked at the doctor, "I think it is time!"

The doctor bent down and took a look before nodding her head, "Okay, Mrs. Gu. We are going to start monitoring your labor, assessing your contractions and your baby's heart rate. On a scale of 1 to 10, how bad is the pain of the contraction right now?"

He Xinyan resisted the urge to say 10 right away and carefully thought about it before saying, "6.5. . . 7?"

The doctor nodded her head, "Okay. We gave you an epidural about 15 minutes ago already, and it should take another 5 minutes before it will go into full effect. For now, just try to relax and take deep breaths. Do not push for now, because that will actually make your labor harder and longer. Okay?"

He Xinyan nodded her head and closed her eyes again, tightly furrowing her eyebrows together.

The next five minutes were incredibly long for everyone inside the room, especially under Gu Yechen's impatient remarks, asking why his wife was in so much pain.

Finally, after a long time, the doctor asked for He Xinyan's pain rate again and after a few seconds of consideration, decided to start the process for labor.

She bent down and took another look at the cervix opening before walking over to He Xinyan, "Okay, Mrs. Gu. Now, I want you to start pushing. I know the epidural should be in full effect now so you might not feel the need to push, but I need you to try, okay? There might be some pain."

He Xinyan scrunched her face together and began trying to push. It hurt a lot even with the epidural and she started to scream from pain as she pushed.

This lasted for a very long time, so long that Gu Yechen had begun to sweat with her. He tried to encourage He Xinyan frequently but he himself was also extremely nervous.

Hearing her painful screams, he couldn't help but wish that he was in her position or even that she wasn't pregnant. It was fine if they didn't have kids. . . He had always known that labor was long and painful, but without experiencing it, he did not know that it would be this bad.

He couldn't bear watching He Xinyan go through this pain, and her screaming was like torture to his ears. With no one and nowhere to get rid of his anxiety and frustration, he could only scream at the nurses and doctors.

The nurses and doctors were also sweating even though it wasn't hot inside. Nothing could go wrong with this couple, or else they would definitely be in big trouble! All the workers inside this room were the best in the entire hospital, but they still couldn't help but be nervous.

The screaming and the urging to push went on for several hours, and all of the workers and Gu Yechen were getting nervous.

The doctor gulped and asked for He Xinyan to try and push hard one last time and if they still don't see the baby's head then they will have to prepare for a C-section.

"C-section?!" Gu Yechen's eyes widened and he wanted to stand up but he couldn't let go of He Xinyan's hand, "Is this all you can do?!"

He understood the negative effects of a C-section on a woman's body and he could not have his baby go through a C-section! No way!

The doctor shook in fear and walked over, bending down towards her, "Mrs. Gu, can you hear me? Can you hear me?"

He Xinyan nodded her head weakly.

"Stay awake, okay? I want you to push as hard as you can one last time. I promise this is the last one, so make it your best, okay?"

He Xinyan could barely make out what the doctor was saying, but she still nodded her head. The doctor grabbed onto He Xinyan's other hand and gulped.

"Okay, ready? One, two, three, push!"

This went on for another half an hour and He Xinyan was getting more and more tired, and she was on the verge of falling asleep when she suddenly heard a voice that sounded like it was very far away scream:

"I see the head! I see the head!"

The doctor let go of He Xinyan's hand and ran over to take a look. She immediately let out a breath of relief but then ran back over to He Xinyan again, "Mrs. Gu, Mrs. Gu! We can see the baby's head! Please, you're almost there! You can do it! Push one last time, okay?"

All He Xinyan could hear was a buzzing noise, but maybe it was her brain's natural reaction, but she tightened her muscles and tried one last time.

The nurse almost felt like crying when she saw the baby's head, "I see it! Mrs. Gu, you're almost there!"

Gu Yechen grasped on tightly to He Xinyan's hand and lifted it up to his lips, kissing it gently.

About a minute later, the room was filled with the noise of a baby crying. Then, about another minute later, the sound of another baby crying filled the room.

From outside, Gu Hanyu and Xu Mengya had been waiting for several hours already, and the two of them were also extremely nervous.

Finally, they heard the faint sound of the babies crying. Xu Mengya immediately jumped up from the chair, "Did you hear that?!"

Gu Hanyu's eyes widened and he nodded excitedly, "Yes, yes."

"Oh, I want to go in!!" Xu Mengya jumped up and down excitedly and her heart that had been resting in her lungs the entire time finally fell back down.

"It's okay. Wait, wait. We will be able to go in soon." A smile appeared on Gu Hanyu's face as he also began pacing around the room. No matter how calm and cold he seemed on the outside normally, he was also extremely excited. After all, this was his first grandchild. . . grandchildren.

Right after she heard the sound of the crying, He Xinyan immediately fell asleep without even waiting for another second to even get a chance to look at the two babies.

Gu Yechen fought the urge to cry after over 20 years of not shedding a tear, and he leaned forward, kissing He Xinyan on the forehead several times.

"You did it. . ." He ran his fingers down the side of her cheek, pushing her drenched hair to the back of her ear. After this experience, he was certain he would be extremely careful not to get her pregnant again. He definitely did not want her to suffer this pain another time.

She had to go through this for him. . . He couldn't help but feel a pain in his heart when thinking about all she had to go through for him, and this only added to the reasons why he would love her and spoil her for the rest of eternity.

"Mr. Gu, Mr. Gu! It is a boy and a girl. Do you want to take a look at them?"

Gu Yechen lifted his head up and didn't let go of He Xinyan's hand as he looked up, taking a quick glance at the two babies.

He smiled happily as he looked at the two small creatures, both whining uncontrollably.

After a few seconds, however, he turned his attention away from the kids and back to He Xinyan, who was motionless on the bed, her breathing unusually weak and soft.

Seeing that Mr. Gu didn't want to look at the babies any longer, the nurse brought them outside for their grandparents to take a look before they would have to go to the NICU because they were premature babies.

Upon seeing their grandchildren, Xu Mengya and Gu Hanyu couldn't help but jump up in excitement.

"Look, look. The girl looks like Yanyan, right? The boy looks like our Yechen!" Xu Mengya said excitedly.

Gu Hanyu chuckled, "How can you tell already? Look at them, you can't even see their features properly."

Xu Mengya scoffed, "I can tell! Oh, the two of them look so cute!"

Although they wanted to play with the baby more, the nurse had to bring the babies over to the NICU, so they were forced to just look from outside the glass window and into the NICU.

As they watched, Xu Mengya suddenly remembered something very important.

"The babies don't have names yet!"

Chapter 282 The Baby Boy

As they watched, Xu Mengya suddenly remembered something very important.

"The babies don't have names yet!"

Gu Hanyu gasped as he also noticed the problem, "Right! But. . . we should have Yechen and Xinyan name it, right?"

Xu Mengya nodded her head, "It's okay. We can wait for a little."

They looked at their two grandchildren for another few minutes before they returned to the delivery room to take a look at He Xinyan and Gu Yechen.

Gu Hanyu stayed outside and Xu Mengya walked in quietly. When she saw He Xinyan laying on the bed fast asleep with her face and hair still wet with sweat, she couldn't help but remember 27 years ago, when she had to go through the same experience.

She felt her heart soften as she walked over and sat down next to Gu Yechen.

"Ah. . ." She sighed as she glanced at her son, "You have to know that Yanyan isn't just doing this for herself, but even more, she is doing it for you. You have to always remember today. . . What she had to go through to give birth to your son and daughter. If you two ever fight or argue in the future, remember today. Remember that she risked her life to deliver your children -"

Xu Mengya's voice cracked as she spoke, and she pressed her lips together as she stared at He Xinyan, holding onto her hand. As a woman, she knew that only women could truly understand the pain and struggle women have to go through to give birth.

Although it is also their own child, what motivates them even more is the fact that they are delivering the child of the man they love. She was lucky to have a man like Gu Hanyu, who loves her so much unconditionally.

So, she had to also make it clear to Gu Yechen how he should treat Xinyan.

Seeing that his mom was getting emotional, Gu Yechen nodded his head obediently and gently reached one hand out, pushing He Xinyan's loose hair to the back of her ear.

"Don't worry, mom. I know. I will definitely treat and love her well."

Xu Mengya took a deep breath and nodded her head as her gaze turned sharp again, "Of course! If you dare bully or treat my daughter-in-law badly, I will chop your two legs off!"

Gu Yechen chuckled softly, "You will never have the chance to!"

Xu Mengya scoffed and stood up, "I hope so! Oh, and your two children don't even have names yet! You can wait until Xinyan wakes up and hurry and pick names for them. Let us know what you two pick as well. Ah, I am so tired! I'm going to go get some sleep. I'll be back tomorrow, okay?"

Gu Yechen nodded his head, "Okay. You and dad should go back and get some sleep. I'll stay here with Xinyan."

Xu Mengya nodded her head and took one last look at He Xinyan before turning around and walking out of the room.

When He Xinyan woke up, it was already the next day. Gu Yechen was still inside the room, and he hadn't fallen asleep the entire night.

"You're awake!" He said excitedly when he saw He Xinyan open her eyes, "How are you feeling? Are you still tired? Hungry? Thirsty?"

He Xinyan smiled weakly and shook her head, "Babies. . ."

Gu Yechen blinked a few times before understanding her and he smiled gently, grabbing onto her hand, "Don't worry about them. Both the girl and boy are healthy. They are resting in the NICU right now."

He Xinyan let out a breath of relief and nodded her head. She still felt incredibly tired and even blinking was like an exercise.

She had always been scared of giving birth since she was a child, and indeed, it was worse than she had imagined. Ah, being a woman was tough. . .

"Oh yeah! They don't have names yet. Mom said that we can choose the names for them. What do you want to name them?"

He Xinyan closed her eyes and thought for a few seconds, "I don't know. . . How about you give one of them a name and mom and dad name the other one?"

Gu Yechen nodded her head, "Okay, okay. Let me think. . ."

He thought for a few seconds and when he had an idea, he looked up to see that He Xinyan had fallen asleep again.

Slowly, he reached for his phone and texted Xu Mengya:

'Xinyan said that you two can choose a name for one of the twins. Do you want the girl or the boy?'

At once, Xu Mengya replied: 'Girl!'

Gu Yechen pursed his lips out slightly and frowned before replying gravely: 'Okay.'

He had actually wanted to name the girl as well, but since he had given the opportunity to choose to his mom, he couldn't take back his words anymore.

'How about the girl can have He as a surname, and the girl can have Gu?'

Gu Yechen looked down at his phone and read the message quickly before replying, 'Okay.'

The next time He Xinyan woke up was the next day, and she had much more energy the second time. However, the true reason why she woke up was no other than for food.

Gu Yechen had his head laid down next to He Xinyan's hand with his eyes closed. He Xinyan thought he was asleep so she didn't move or ask for food even though she was very hungry.

However, a few seconds later, Gu Yechen suddenly opened his eyes and sat back up.

"You're awake?" She asked, her voice still soft and weak.

Gu Yechen's eyes widened slightly and he immediately sat up straighter, "Yes, yes, I'm always awake. When did you wake up? Are you hungry? Thirsty? Does it still hurt anywhere? Should I go call the doctor?"

He Xinyan smiled softly and shook her head, "There is no need. I am a little hungry."

Gu Yechen nodded his head and turned around, grabbing the insulated container. When he opened it, the delicious smell of chicken soup immediately spread inside the large hospital room.

He Xinyan pushed herself up on the bed and looked longingly at the soup.

"The doctor said that you can only eat lighter foods like soup, fruits, vegetables, and drink more water."

He Xinyan pursed her lips out slightly and frowned as she watched Gu Yechen gently blow on the soup, "When can I start eating other foods?"

"Like?" Gu Yechen raised one eyebrow amusedly.

"Fried chicken, pasta, fried rice, pizza, cake. . ." He Xinyan licked her lips as she thought. She wasn't able to eat very well the weeks before delivery, but now, all her cravings were back. She couldn't wait anymore!

"Listen to the doctor. Soon, okay? I promise. For now, let's just eat what the doctor said. Here," Gu Yechen held up the spoon and carefully brought it up to He Xinyan's lips.

One by one, she quickly finished the entire tub but she still was hungry, "Is there no more?"

Gu Yechen reached for the basket of fruits on the table, "Do you want some oranges?"

He Xinyan nodded her head excitedly.

Gu Yechen began peeling the orange, and as he did, the door opened and Xu Mengya walked in.

"Yanyan, you're awake! Look who I brought." In her arms, there was a small baby that was fast asleep.

He Xinyan has not seen her babies yet since delivery, so she was still very excited when she saw the small baby. Her heartbeat sped up as she reached out a little awkwardly and carefully took the baby from Xu Mengya and into her own arms.

Although she had read several books about how to take care of babies, she seemed to have suddenly forgotten everything as she stiffly held the tiny baby.

Fortunately, the baby did not wake up and began crying and continued to sleep soundly. He Xinyan giggled softly as she looked down at the baby boy.

With his eyes closed, she couldn't tell who his eyes looked like, but his thin lips looked like Gu Yechen and his nose also resembled Gu Yechen.

"I can already tell when he grows up, there will be flocks of girls chasing after him," He Xinyan said excitedly.

Xu Mengya chuckled, "Of course! I still remember when Gu Yechen was in high school and college. All those girls secretly liked him, but with his cold and stone face, of course no one dared to say!"

He Xinyan narrowed her eyes and glanced over at Gu Yechen, who awkwardly cleared his throat.

"How come I never heard of all your admirers?"

Gu Yechen blinked a few times, "They are all irrelevant, so of course I never tell you of them! Madam Xu, what are you talking about?!"

Xu Mengya chuckled and shrugged, "I'm just saying the truth! But Yanyan, don't worry, that stupid guy indeed never cared about any of his admirers. They were all mercilessly rejected!"

Of course He Xinyan knew about how Gu Yechen treated all girls, except her. So, she wasn't actually worried or jealous.

Then, the little boy suddenly opened his round eyes that really looked like He Xinyan's pure eyes. She thought he was going to start crying, but the room stayed silent.

Instead, the little boy looked up innocently at his mom, sucking on his thumb quietly. The more He Xinyan looked at him, the more she liked him.

"My baby son is so cute!" She exclaimed as she gently rocked him back and forth.

She blinked a few times before glancing over at Gu Yechen, "Does he have a name yet? What are we going to name him?"

--- IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

And here comes the important announcement!! My new and third novel is coming!!! This time it is official hahaha I promise ^o^ I plan to release it on 6/6, which should be in 4 days!! Please look forward to it :) It is a contemporary romance novel and I am very excited about it. Love you

Chapter 283 He Yulan

She blinked a few times before glancing over at Gu Yechen, "Does he have a name yet? What are we going to name him?"

The baby boy giggled softly and began smiling as he looked up at his mommy.

"Aw. . ." He Xinyan gently tickled his face with a motherly smile. In the past, she never thought she liked kids and would be a good mother, but in front of her little baby, the love in her eyes couldn't help but spill out.

Seeing the lovely scene, Xu Mengya quietly left to retrieve the baby girl as well.

"You can give him a name," Gu Yechen proposed, giving the task to her.

"I can?" He Xinyan thought for several seconds before saying softly, "Gu. . . Gu Anping*. . . How about that?"

"Gu Anping," Gu Yechen repeated, "That is a good name."

Gu Anping giggled softly in He Xinyan's embrace, making her smile, "Yes, see! Even little Pingping likes it! I want him to be safe and happy for his entire life!"

She bent down and kissed him on his small and soft cheek, and he giggled louder.

Then, Xu Mengya walked in holding the other baby, "Yanyan, don't only play with your son. Look, this is your daughter!"

He Xinyan handed Gu Anping to Gu Yechen and took over the baby girl, a little less awkward this time after having experience.

The baby girl was awake and she was also sucking on her thumb without crying. She had large round eyes like He Xinyan, and a nose that resembled her mom.

Her mouth was both like He Xinyan and Gu Yechen, as it wasn't clear because she was sucking on her thumb.

"Aw. . ." He Xinyan's eyes softened as she looked at the little baby she went through so much pain and effort to deliver into this world, and she gently rocked her.

"Does she have a name yet?"

Xu Mengya walked over and said softly, "Hanyu and I thought about it, and we came up with a few."

"What is it?"

Xu Mengya reached into her bag and pulled out a small sheet of paper. She then cleared her throat and stood up straighter, almost like she was getting ready to recite a speech, "He Yitong, He Yulan, He Xinyu, He Yichun, He Feixin, He Yaxin, He -"

"Mom, that is a few?!" Gu Yechen raised one eyebrow and glared at Xu Mengya, who pursed her lips out unhappily.

"Yeah, there's more. He -"

"Okay, okay. How are we supposed to choose with this many?"

He Xinyan chuckled, "Mom, you can choose."

To be honest, she wasn't even paying attention to Xu Mengya's list as she was so focused on playing with the little baby. She had always known that her baby with Gu Yechen would be the cutest baby in the entire world!

After all, no matter whose genes the babies got, it would most likely be good. Yes, she was just that confident in Gu Yechen and herself!

As a few days old baby, He Xinyan could already tell that when she grew up, she would become a beautiful woman with boys chasing after her!

That would be very dangerous! It was a scary world out there. She would have to make sure to protect her baby girl. . . Well, Gu Yechen would probably be able to figure that out.

"Then, how about. . . He Yulan?" It took a long time for Xu Mengya to finally make a decision as she looked at her long list.

"He Yulan. . ." Gu Yechen repeated.

"I think it's good," He Xinyan smiled as she looked down at the baby, who had closed her eyes, "Lanlan. . ."

Gu Yechen nodded his head, "Then Yulan she is."

He Xinyan stayed in the hospital for another few weeks since she had a hard time during labor and the hospital did not want any possible accidents happening to her, because they would be blamed for anything.

Soon, He Xinyan got Xu Mengya to sneak in snacks and savory foods for her while Gu Yechen was at work, and of course. . . Smart Gu Yechen eventually figured it out, but he did not get mad at He Xinyan and instead told her to just tell him if she ever wanted to eat anything.

Almost three weeks later, He Xinyan was finally able to leave, fully recovered.

They returned home, the four of them, and walked up to the second floor of the mansion, where Gu Yechen had already prepared the babies' room.

There was one room for the two babies right now since they were still young, and it was designed in a very childish manner.

There were cute drawings on the pink and blue walls, and the room was filled with toys of every kind.

"Did you receive this treatment when you were a baby too?" He Xinyan asked.

"No, I just had books."

". . ." Maybe they should just give the kids books as well. He Xinyan was beginning to doubt if the children would be like Gu Yechen when they grew up if they had this lifestyle.

The night when they returned home, He Xinyan and Gu Yechen finally went to sleep in their own room together after a long time.

Gu Yechen went to take a shower and He Xinyan dried her hair and got ready to bed. She entered the closet to change into her pajamas, and as she did, the sight scared her.

She furrowed her eyebrows together as she stared at her reflection in the mirror.

The wrinkles on her stomach, the sagging skin, the fat that she had accumulated, the uneven skin tone. . . He Xinyan gulped as she felt her heart drop slightly.

Slowly, she turned around once, staring at herself in the mirror with her lips tightly pressed together.

In the past and even during pregnancy, she had never worried about her looks or body ever. She had a very fast metabolism, and was always able to eat a lot without gaining a lot of weight or fat.

Her skin was also very even and pale, and she had always been very proud of her skin and body.

When she saw herself in the mirror after pregnancy, He Xinyan couldn't help but feel scared as her greatest confidence in the past disappeared.

She placed one hand onto the side of her waist and ran her fingers down that area of her skin slowly.

Unable to continue looking at it, she quickly put on her pajamas and ran out of the closet and onto the bed.

When Gu Yechen walked out of the shower, he saw He Xinyan laying on the bed with her blanket over her head. He thought she was asleep already, so he quietly closed the lights and got onto the bed.

It has been quite a long time since the two of them were able to comfortably sleep on the same bed, and Gu Yechen immediately pulled He Xinyan into his embrace. He then gently kissed her on the forehead and then closed his eyes to sleep.

Meanwhile, He Xinyan wasn't actually asleep yet.

She tried to keep her breathing soft and her body still as she closed her eyes and took in the familiar smell of Gu Yechen's body next to her.

In a few minutes, Gu Yechen fell asleep and she slowly opened her eyes in the darkness.

She tilted her head up slightly and looked at Gu Yechen, who was fast asleep. Very slowly and softly, she lifted one hand up and placed it onto his chest.

The entire nation wanted to marry this man. . . He was tall, handsome, rich, successful, came from a good family, cool, and everything good. He was perfect.

But was she still good enough for him? Was she ever good enough for him?

He Xinyan closed her eyes and looked down, burying her head deep into Gu Yechen's chest. She had been really emotional when she was pregnant, and she thought it would quickly go away after giving birth.

However, now it seems like it just got worse!

He Xinyan shook her head softly and tried to push all thoughts aside and go to sleep. However, they kept coming back to haunt her and it took over an hour before she finally fell asleep.

A few minutes after she fell asleep, the silence of the night was broken.

"Wahh!!! Wah!"

Gu Yechen woke up quickly after He Xinyan did, since she wasn't fast asleep anyway. She frustratingly rubbed her eyes and sat up on the bed, looking around.

Then, the room lit up as Gu Yechen opened the lamp on the table.

"You continue to sleep. I'll go check on the babies." Gu Yechen turned around and kissed He Xinyan on the forehead before leaving the room to go check on the crying babies.

He left the room and He Xinyan laid back down on the bed, closing her eyes. A few minutes later, the crying finally stopped and her eyebrows which were tightly knit together loosened.

For the next few minutes, Gu Yechen did not return to the room.

He Xinyan sat up on the bed again, a little worried and anxious about why Gu Yechen still hasn't returned yet, even though she did not know why she was feeling this way.

Just as she was about to get up and look, the door opened and Gu Yechen walked in.

--- Note:

hello readers ~

I am not a mom and have never even been in a romantic relationship all my life :) but I think that postpartum depression or depression after giving birth is quite common amongst women. And, our amazing FL Yanyan is going through it too. I want to take this opportunity to just let all women know that it doesn't matter how you look or feel after pregnancy, but you are still just as beautiful as you were before! Let's see how our Chenchen will deal with his wife now ^o^

Note: The word "ping'an" in Chinese means safe. Therefore, the name "Anping" has a meaning of living his life safely and happily :)

Chapter 284 Visitors

He Xinyan sat up on the bed again, a little worried and anxious about why Gu Yechen still hasn't returned yet, even though she did not know why she was feeling this way.

Just as she was about to get up and look, the door opened and Gu Yechen walked in.

"What took so long?" She asked with a little annoyed tone in her voice.

Gu Yechen blinked a few times and walked over, closing the lamplight and getting onto the bed, "I was just checking to make sure the babies were fully asleep. Why aren't you asleep yet? Come on, let's go to sleep."

They laid down on the bed with He Xinyan inside Gu Yechen's embrace, and she slowly closed her eyes.

"Should we hire a nanny?" Gu Yechen asked, "I don't want you to be so tired after just giving birth. The nanny can take care of the babies."

He Xinyan immediately shook her head, "It's okay. I can take care of the babies, and I'm sure mom will also want to come over to see the babies often."

"Okay." Gu Yechen smiled and gently patted He Xinyan on the back, "It's late. Let's go to sleep."

This time, they both fell asleep quickly and there wasn't any disruption through the rest of the night.

---

The next morning, the two of them woke up from the sound of crying again.

"Wah! Wah!"

He Xinyan sighed as she got out of bed and walked over to the baby room. Gu Yechen also quickly followed.

He Xinyan's expression softened slightly as she entered the room and lifted up the baby girl, rocking her softly, "Lanlan, what's wrong? Why are you crying?"

The baby continued to cry as she scrunched her tiny face up.

"See, your brother isn't crying? Why are you crying?" He Xinyan smiled as she tried to cheer up He Yulan, but she continued to cry.

"Yechen, why is she crying?" He Xinyan walked over to Gu Yechen, "Do you think she's hungry? Or did she poop?"

Gu Yechen took the baby from He Xinyan and gently swayed her, "I fed them formula last night. I'll go get some more?"

Just as he was about to hand the baby back to He Xinyan, she suddenly stopped crying as she blinked her large round eyes up at Gu Yechen.

Gu Yechen raised one eyebrow and the two of them were both silent for a second before a smile appeared on Gu Yechen's face.

"Lanlan stopped crying!" He chuckled and leaned down, kissing He Yulan on her small forehead, which caused her to giggle.

"I'll go get some formula just in case they are hungry," Gu Yechen said as he walked out the room quickly and down the stairs to get more food for the babies.

Inside the room, He Xinyan frowned slightly as she walked over to the girl and lifted her up. She did not cry anymore, and instead looked up at He Xinyan with round, sparkling eyes.

He Xinyan smiled softly with a hint of sadness, "You little baby. You like your daddy more than me, huh?"

He Yulan giggled softly and moved around a little in He Xinyan's arms.

Gu Yechen returned with the bottles and he fed He Yulan while He Xinyan walked over to Gu Anping, who was also awake, and gave him the formula.

For the rest of the day, Gu Yechen and He Xinyan both researched basic information about taking care of a baby.

Although they could very well just hire people to do it all for them, they both wanted to experience the joy and the annoyance of being parents.

After all, Gu Yechen had sworn that Gu Anping and He Yulan would be their only children. After watching her experience the pain once, there was no way he would let his beloved baby go through labor again.

He Xinyan also agreed since she also did not want to have to go through labor again. And, two kids was a perfect amount! One boy and one girl, it was absolutely perfect!

Xu Mengya and Gu Hanyu also came to visit during the day, and they brought several tubs of toys to add to the room.

They stayed and played with the babies for several hours, and this was the first time He Xinyan had seen Gu Hanyu so happy and cheerful.

He usually wore a cold or straight expression without any emotion, but everyone had a soft spot. For Gu Hanyu, it was probably only Xu Mengya and his grandchildren.

While Gu Yechen went to finish up some work, He Xinyan joined Xu Mengya and Gu Hanyu in playing with the two little babies.

They rarely cried in comparison to other babies their age, and they were quite obedient for little babies.

Xu Mengya said that Gu Yechen also rarely cried when he was a baby, and they must have taken the trait of not crying from their dad.

He Xinyan did not know if she was a baby that cried often, and she had no one to ask anymore.

Gu Hanyu went downstairs to mix up some more formula for the two babies, and He Xinyan, Xu Mengya, and the two babies were left in the room.

Gu Anping and He Yulan got along very well with each other, and from a young age, Gu Anping already knew instinctively to take care of his little sister. He would play with some toys and then crawl over to He Yulan to show her the toy.

He Xinyan watched with a smile and reached over to grab another toy and gave it to Anping.

As they watched them play, He Xinyan finally decided to softly ask Xu Mengya, "Mom. . ."

"Yeah?" Xu Mengya looked up with a smile and asked.

"After you gave birth, did your skin also. . . get loose?" He Xinyan asked cautiously.

Xu Mengya blinked a few times and looked over at He Xinyan before she smiled, "Most women do, Yanyan. I was very lucky and it wasn't too bad. I definitely did have some wrinkles and saggy skin, but it disappeared in a few days. Don't worry about it."

He Xinyan nodded her head and went back to playing with the kids.

Xu Mengya and Gu Hanyu stayed and Gu Hanyu made lunch today. He Xinyan even heard him humming inside the kitchen when she walked past, and she told Xu Mengya, who was equally surprised.

She said that he wasn't even this happy when Gu Yechen or Gu Yebei was born!

The five of them sat down to each lunch. . . Yes, you read it correctly. Five.

At around 11 A.M., Gu Yebei arrived to visit his nephew and niece and also shamelessly get a free meal.

He went upstairs and played with Gu Anping and He Yulan for a very long time before he finally came down to eat lunch.

He Xinyan was in a much better mood while eating, especially since Gu Hanyu cooked a ton of different dishes and each of them was very delicious.

After eating, Gu Yebei was forced to go wash the dishes and the rest of them returned to the second floor to feed the babies and play with them.

It took about half an hour before Gu Yebei finished his task and he ran back up the stairs.

"Where's my niece?" He asked with a frown as he walked in.

Everyone looked towards Gu Yechen, who didn't seem to care.

In the end, the two of them ended up "fighting" over He Yulan as He Xinyan and Xu Mengya went to go play with Gu Anping.

---

When they left, it was nighttime already and they had eaten dinner together.

The two little babies had gone to sleep and they closed the door before returning to their room.

He Xinyan took a shower first and then went out to do her skincare routine as Gu Yechen went to take a shower.

Then, she entered the closet again the change, this time avoiding looking at herself in the mirror. However, she still couldn't resist the temptation, and she ended up taking a quick glance.

It seemed to have gotten worst from yesterday, or maybe it was just her eyes and brain playing tricks on her. Just from looking at it, He Xinyan couldn't help but feel disgusted about herself, and she tightly bit her lips as she quickly put on her pajamas.

Then, she walked over and crawled onto the bed.

A few minutes later, Gu Yechen walked out of the shower with only a towel wrapped around his lower body.

He walked over and sat down on the other side of the bed. After making sure she wasn't asleep, he bent down and kissed her on the cheek, "Baby. . ."

He Xinyan blinked her eyes open and turned around, laying on her back. Taking this opportunity, Gu Yechen turned his body around so he was right on top of her, and the next second, He Xinyan felt the familiar taste and feeling on her lips.

"Mm. . ." Her eyes widened in surprise as her hands grasping the blanket tightened. Due to her pregnancy, it had been a very long time since they last had. . . "exercise" together.

It was natural that he was very "hungry". . . He Xinyan blinked a few times before returning the kiss. To be honest, she was also looking forward to it. After all, it had been a long time for her as well.

Noticing that she was returning his affection, he reached down and began unbuttoning the buttons on He Xinyan's pajama shirt.

However, before he even reached the third button, He Xinyan suddenly grabbed onto his hand and pulled away, "Stop -"

--- IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

And here comes the important announcement!! My new and third novel is coming!!! This time it is official hahaha I promise ^o^ I plan to release it on 6/6, which should be in 2 days!! Please look forward to it :)

It is a contemporary romance novel and I am very excited about it.

Love you

Chapter 285 What's Wrong

However, before he even reached the third button, He Xinyan suddenly grabbed onto his hand and pulled away, "Stop -"

Gu Yechen looked up as his hands froze, "What's the matter?"

He Xinyan turned her head around a little embarrassedly and gulped, "I'm. . . I'm a little tired today. Let's. . ."

However, of course Gu Yechen knew his wife well enough to know that something was wrong.

He turned his body around so he was laying down next to her instead of on top, and he wrapped his arm around her waist, pulling her in closer to him.

"I noticed that you haven't been in a very good mood recently. . . Baby, tell me what's wrong." He ran his fingers through her hair softly.

He Xinyan pressed her lips together and didn't say anything for a few seconds. Gu Yechen thought she didn't want to respond and he was very patient as he waited.

However, a few seconds later, he suddenly heard a soft whining or moaning sound, and he furrowed his eyebrows together. He lifted his head up slightly but since it was dark and she had her face buried in her pillow, he still couldn't see clearly.

He turned her around so she was facing him, and his guess was confirmed. His face immediately darkened as he lifted his hand up and gently wiped her face.

"Baby, why are you crying? It's okay. . . Tell me what's wrong." This was one of the few times he had ever seen her cry, and it wasn't because she was crying in pain underneath him. She was actually sad. . .

Originally, He Xinyan didn't even feel like crying and she didn't know why she was, but after Gu Yechen's questioning, her soft crying immediately turned into sobbing.

She grasped onto his shirt and buried her head into his bare chest. Gu Yechen frowned at her sudden reaction, and he gently patted her on the back, unsure of what to do or how to react.

He felt his chest get wet but he didn't care. It took several minutes before He Xinyan was finally able to control her tears. Her breathing was still very fast and uneven as she forcefully wiped her eyes and fast with her hands.

Gu Yechen's heart ached with pain as he grabbed onto her hand and gently asked her again, "Baby, do you want to tell me what's wrong? Why are you sad?"

He Xinyan thought that her issues and the reason were kind of stupid, and she didn't know if she should tell him or not.

However, under his consistent persuasion, she finally sat up on the bed and opened the lamplight on the nightstand.

Gu Yechen sat up too, looking at her worriedly.

Hesitantly, He Xinyan slowly unbuttoned the rest of her shirt. When she reached her chest, Gu Yechen gulped and looked down to prevent himself from doing anything he shouldn't during this situation.

She quickly revealed the rest of her upper body, and when she looked down at herself, she closed her eyes in shame.

Gu Yechen looked up, a little confused about what she was doing, "What's wrong?"

He Xinyan looked up, "Look at. . . me."

She placed one hand onto the skin at her waist area, and when she could feel the wrinkles and saggy skin, she immediately pulled away, almost like she had touched something burning.

Gu Yechen looked down at her waist area and didn't seem bothered at all by it. It took a moment before he realized why He Xinyan was feeling upset, "Are you. . . upset about this?"

He asked as he placed his hand onto her waist, causing her to flinch slightly.

She slowly nodded her head, "It looks disgusting! Look at me. . . I - I hate it."

She took a deep breath as tears began flowing down her face again. Just looking at her body now made her feel upset and self-conscious.

Gu Yechen pulled her in and gently patted her on the back of her head, feeling her tears run down his back. Feeling the softness of her chest against his skin made him a little "uncomfortable", but he forced himself to pay attention to the situation at hand.

"Baby, you do not look disgusting. I think you might be going through postpartum depression."

"Postpartum depression?" He Xinyan wiped her face and thought about that possibility, "But look at my body. . . I -"

Gu Yechen could understand. Especially for a woman who had a great figure her entire life. . . Suddenly, because of a pregnancy, it was all ruined. Anyone would be upset!

He felt his heart twist up in pain at the thought that she had gone through the pregnancy to give birth to his kids, and she was also suffering through this now partially because of him.

He pulled away and looked at her firmly, "He Xinyan, you do not look disgusting. I promise you. . . I will find a doctor tomorrow to help you, okay? I promise it will go away. Don't think too much about it. You look perfect either way."

He Xinyan shook her head, "I don -"

"No, you always do in my eyes. And that is all that matters, right?"

He Xinyan took in a deep breath and looked up at him a little suspiciously, like a scared kitten. He smiled gently and placed his hand onto the back of her head, pulling her in.

The kiss soon went deeper and he pushed her back down onto the bed, positioning himself on top of her. Without waiting, he threw the towel around his lower body onto the ground and removed the rest of her clothes as well.

Tonight, He Xinyan noticed that he was unusually gentle, unlike all the other nights together.

It made her feel better.

---

The next morning, He Xinyan woke up quite late as the babies didn't cry like yesterday. When she did, she noticed that Gu Yechen was still next to her.

"You have work today. . . Why are you still here?"

Gu Yechen smiled and gently kissed her on the forehead, saying in between the moments of affection, "I'm going to stay home today. We can go to the doctor together, okay?"

He Xinyan frowned slightly, "I don't want to go to the doctor."

"Don't worry. . . She will be able to help. I don't really care about it, because I think you are even more beautiful than before, and you are perfect just the way you are. Those marks are there because of me and the kids. However, if you want to, I'm sure we can get rid of them."

". . . You really feel that way?" He Xinyan asked, placing one hand onto her stomach. She did hate those wrinkles as well, but even more, she was scared that Gu Yechen would dislike her for them.

Gu Yechen blinked a few times, "Of course!"

He Xinyan felt a sour feeling grow in her nose, and she looked down with a smile on her face, "Let's not go to the doctor then. They are marks for what I went through for my babies. . . I shouldn't be ashamed of them."

Gu Yechen smiled and rubbed her messy hair, "My baby is always right!"

He hugged her tightly, "Don't think like that again in the future, okay? You are beautiful, okay?" He raised one eyebrow as he said seriously, getting a little angry that she thought that way.

He Xinyan stuck her tongue out playfully and nodded, "Okay, okay!"

She looked out the window and thought that the sunlight looked brighter today. . .

"As a punishment. . ." Gu Yechen was suddenly on top of her again, and before she could react or resist, he had begun -

Gu Yechen was very annoyed at the kids because they started crying about half an hour later after they started. He was forced to finish earlier because of them, and when he walked into the room to see why they were crying, they began crying even louder from his scary expression.

He Xinyan walked in after putting on a bathrobe, and she picked up Gu Anping, gently rocking him in her arms.

Gu Yechen glared at Gu Anping unhappily and Gu Anping looked up at his dad. He soon stopped crying, and after he did, he looked up and shot his dad a grim smile.

Gu Yechen furrowed his eyebrows together and thought that his son had done it on purpose! He purposely didn't want his dad to spend private time with his mom! That tiny devil!

He clenched his fists together and walked over to the crib to go play with his little princess.

After both of the babies had stopped crying, He Xinyan and Gu Yechen returned to their room. Gu Yechen was insistent on getting some "morning exercise" in again, but He Xinyan pushed him away by saying that she was hungry and it was late.

In the end, Gu Yechen didn't get his meal and instead had to go downstairs to go make brunch. Poor Gu Yechen!

He Xinyan took a minute looking at her body again in the mirror before going down to eat. She ran her fingers down the wrinkles with a straight expression.

Although she still felt very upset about it, she looked at it from a different light now. These "scars" came from being a mother. In exchange for her two beautiful children, she had these scars.

She shouldn't be ashamed of them. . . However, that didn't stop her from wanting to get rid of them! He Xinyan flipped through all of her skincare products and decided that it was time to go shopping!

Chapter 286 Brother Help Me

He Xinyan flipped through all of her skincare products and decided that it was time to go shopping!

After eating lunch, He Xinyan and Gu Yechen left the house with the two babies and arrived at the shopping mall. They each pushed a stroller and the other people inside the shopping mall all turned around to look at the breathtaking couple and cute kids.

They entered the shopping mall and first visited a baby shop, where they basically bought the entire shop. Gu Yechen bought a ton of girl clothes and girly times, completely ignoring the fact that he had another kid.

He Xinyan got mad at Gu Yechen for being so partial towards He Yulan, so she ended up buying everything for the little boy.

When they walked out, there were so many bags that Gu Yechen ended up having the manager of the shop ship the bags to their house since they couldn't possibly carry so many things.

After, they entered the most famous but expensive skincare shop in the entire country. As Gu Yechen played around with the two kids, He Xinyan went to look for possible products to help with the wrinkles and saggy skin.

A worker walked over and they talked for a while, and she recommended many products to her.

She picked out several products and after paying for them, she walked over to where Gu Yechen was seated and sat down next to him.

"Hmph! With the babies here now, you don't even shop with me anymore. You just play with the babies!" She said a little sourly, although she wasn't actually mad or jealous on the inside.

Gu Yechen smiled and kissed her, "Okay, I'm sorry, my little baby. Let's keep shopping, okay? You can buy whatever you want."

He Xinyan chuckled, "Hm. . . then I want something to eat!"

Gu Yechen stood up and pushed both strollers, one in each hand, "Okay, let's go."

However, before they could even leave the store, Gu Yechen received a call. He glanced at it and saw it was Gu Yebei. At once, he rejected the call but a few seconds later, it came again.

He annoyingly picked up the call, "What?"

"Brother! Help me!"

An hour later, He Xinyan, Gu Yechen, and the two kids returned home, where Xu Mengya and Gu Hanyu were already there waiting for them.

They were standing outside the door and the six of them walked in. After putting the babies back into their cribs and to sleep, He Xinyan returned downstairs with her eyebrows tightly furrowed together.

"What happened?"

"You got a call too?" Gu Yechen asked his dad as he moved over so He Xinyan could sit down next to him.

Gu Hanyu nodded his head, "I already looked into the phone number, but it seems to be an empty number. I couldn't find who was behind it."

He Xinyan frowned, "What exactly did the caller say?"

Gu Yechen thought back and knit his eyebrows together, "So first, Yebei picked up. He told me to help him and then the caller took the phone away from him. The caller is probably using a voice-altering device so I can't be sure whether it is a boy or a girl. He said. . ."

Gu Yechen narrowed his eyes, "He said Gu Yebei is in his hands and that he could kill Yebei any moment."

"Oh!" Xu Mengya put one hand over her mouth as she closed her eyes. Gu Hanyu immediately wrapped his arm around Xu Mengya's and gently comforted her.

"What does he want?" Gu Hanyu asked.

"He said he wants in exchange all of my stocks of the Gu Corporation. . ."

"All of your stocks?!" Xu Mengya's eyes widened, "If you give him all of your stocks, he will be the biggest shareholder!"

He Xinyan frowned, "That is probably that person's plan."

Gu Yechen nodded his head in agreement.

The four of them fell into silence until suddenly, it was broken as a baby began crying from upstairs. He Xinyan knit her eyebrows together a little frustratingly and stood up.

"I'll go."

Gu Yechen immediately stood up, also a little annoyed. Being a parent wasn't easy, "It's okay, I can go."

He Xinyan smiled and shook her head, "It's okay. You three discuss what to do."

Then, she turned around and walked away towards the stairs. Even if she was married to Gu Yechen. She technically still wasn't truly "related" to the Gu family. In this type of situation, it was best for her to not get too ahead of herself.

She slowly walked up the stairs, both worried for Gu Yebei and wondering who it was that had such courage to kidnap the son of the Gu family.

It turns out Gu Anping had started crying, which was quite rare since he rarely cried unless he was very hungry or had dirtied his diapers.

She smiled as she picked him up and gently rocked him, "Why? Do you also sense that your uncle is in danger, so you are crying?"

She sat down and continued to play with him until he finally stopped crying. Then, slowly he fell asleep again.

She gently put him back into his crib and looked over at his sister, who had woken up as well from the crying but wasn't crying herself.

He Xinyan smiled and gently tickled her, causing her to giggle.

"You seem in a good mood. You aren't worried about your uncle?"

She giggled some more. He Xinyan smiled at her and lifted her up, gently rocking her to sleep as well so she wouldn't start crying later. Then, she exited the room and went back down the stairs.

On the way down the stairs, she heard the sound of the three of them talking, but she couldn't hear exactly what they were talking about.

When she returned to the living room, she heard Gu Yechen say, "No -"

However, upon hearing her footsteps, he immediately stopped talking and looked back at her.

"What happened?"

"Pingping was crying. What are you guys talking about?" She sat down next to him and leaned over to his body.

"Nothing. We are just discussing what to do."

He Xinyan could tell that he was keeping something from her, but she didn't ask him or press him about what it was since he didn't want to let her know.

"So -" He Xinyan opened her mouth to speak but suddenly, a phone rang.

Gu Yechen looked down and saw it was his phone.

The phone number on the screen was from an unknown caller.

"Hurry, hurry!" Xu Mengya said, leaning forward as they had all guessed who was calling.

Gu Yechen picked up the phone and put it on speaker mode, "Who are you?" He said coldly.

The other side of the phone chuckled, and the sound was a little distorted since he was using a voice changer, "You don't need to know that. If you want your brother back, I want to see an agreement with your signature on it to give me all of your shares of the Gu Corporation. I will be generous and give you two days to decide. After that, your brother. . . dead."

Gu Yechen's face darkened, "Do you know who you are messing with? I can find you easily and slice you up into eight pieces!"

The other end did not get scared by Gu Yechen's threat and instead laughed, "You can try. However, your brother will be dead by then, and -"

"Gu Yechen, don't do it!" Suddenly, there was a slightly muffled screen from what seemed like a distance away, but it was clear it was Gu Yebei.

"Don't give him -" Then, his voice was cut off.

"Who are you?!" This time, Gu Hanyu spoke.

Hearing the different voice, the other end of the phone paused for a few seconds before he replied, "This must be Gu Hanyu. . . hahaha!"

He chuckled, "How about this? I'll be nice and give you guys a hint. . . Do you remember Gu Hanwu?"

Gu Hanyu's expression immediately changed upon hearing that name.

"He is my dad."

Beep! Beep! Beep!

The person had hung up the call.

Noticing the change in his dad, Gu Yechen immediately asked, "Who is Gu Hanyu?"

"Gu Hanwu. . ." Gu Hanyu repeated.

Xu Mengya also furrowed her eyebrows together in confusion, "Gu Hanwu. Why does he have the same two words in his name as you three brothers? Is he also part of the Gu family?"

Gu Yechen also noticed this and it made him even more suspicious.

Gu Hanyu did not respond to them as he seemed deep in thought, occasionally furrowing his eyebrows together and then frowning, almost like he was confused about something.

Gu Yechen remembered how the caller had given him two days, "Dad, we don't have time to waste. You have to tell us. Who is Gu Hanwu?"

Gu Hanyu finally looked up and he scanned the three of them. There were several more seconds of silence, and finally, he opened his mouth.

"Gu Hanwu. . . He is my brother. My older brother."

Reborn To Love #Chapter 287 Gu Hanwu - Read Reborn To Love Chapter 287 Gu Hanwu

Chapter 287 Gu Hanwu

"Gu Hanwu. . . He is my brother. My older brother."

He Xinyan and Xu Mengya gasped and Gu Yechen also frowned. Wasn't Gu Hanyu the oldest son of his generation in the Gu family? There were three brothers. . . right?

There was more silence and the three of them waited patiently before Gu Hanyu finally opened his mouth. This was the first time He Xinyan had seen him like this. She couldn't tell if he was shocked, scared, worried, surprised, or maybe all of them?

"Gu Hanwu. . ." Gu Hanyu looked up, "I am not actually the eldest son. My father gave birth to another son before me, and he was always supposed to inherit the Gu Corporation and everything. He was four years older than me, and my parents always paid attention to him, since he was the heir."

Gu Hanyu shrugged and then frowned, "Mengya, you should know about this. When this happened, you were already pregnant with Yechen."

Xu Mengya's mouth fell open as she thought back hard, "Was I? What happened. . ."

Gu Hanyu sighed, "I would say he was stupid. . . but I would also say he wasn't stupid. Hanwu chose to marry a girl named Wu Yin, who came from a poor family. My parents refused but he decided to get married privately before my parents could stop him."

He turned to look at Xu Mengya, "When we got married, it was about the same time when he secretly got married. Remember? When you first visited the Gu mansion, the atmosphere was quite tense because of that."

Xu Mengya wasn't the type to remember things for a very long time, and she had long forgotten about this as it happened over 20 years ago.

"Maybe. . . You know me! I have a horrible memory."

Gu Hanyu smiled gently and rubbed her head before continuing, "That was also why my mom agreed on our marriage so easily. Technically, she didn't really agree. She didn't care. My parents were so caught up in their eldest son's marriage, so they didn't and couldn't care or interfere with my marriage."

"Plus, I wasn't the heir back then so it didn't really matter who I married. So, Gu Hanwu married Wu Yin, and she came from the rural side of the country. Overall, she was very poor. Her parents also weren't simple people. Her dad was a drunkard and her mom was a prostitute. Overall, she came from a horrible family. It is natural that my parents wouldn't allow that marriage."

He Xinyan listened intently and her eyes widened slightly upon hearing about the woman's family. She wasn't surprised that the Gu family didn't support Gu Hanwu's marriage.

Even in a smaller family like the He family, if she had married someone from the rural area with a drunkard dad and prostitute mom, the He family would definitely disagree. Furthermore, it was the Gu family! Of course they couldn't allow this marriage to take place.

"However, my brother really loved her. She wasn't a bad person, but her background is just way too unfit for a family like the Gu family. You know my parents, especially my mom. My mom made it very difficult for Wu Yin, and my brother was unhappy. In the end, he. . ."

Wu Hanyu sighed and shook his head slightly, "He gave up his position in the company and even his position in the Gu family and everything he was supposed to inherit for that girl. When he announced that, my parents were obviously furious. So, they kicked him out of the family."

Xu Mengya gasped and placed one hand over her mouth. Some memories were slowly coming back but she still didn't remember the details as it was too long ago.

"Even now, Gu Hanwu's name isn't on the Gu family's family tree. Because he left, I got the position as the heir."

He turned to look at Xu Mengya, "You were also pregnant with Yechen by that time, and the doctor had said it was a boy, so my parents decided to make me the heir."

He Xinyan did not know whether she should be surprised or not surprised about this. After all, the Gu family was the most powerful family in the country, it wasn't very surprising that they had a deeper story behind who was the heir and the family relationships.

However, this was still very surprising! There was another secret son of the Gu family that was supposed to inherit everything?!

She found it quite touching how he gave up everything he had his entire life for a woman, and as a woman, she naturally supported him. However, at the same time, He Xinyan couldn't help but think it was a little stupid as well.

Even though she would also hope that Gu Yechen would do the same for her, it was quite a selfish thought. After all, when comparing love to bread, most people would choose bread.

A marriage or any romantic relationship without any money would most likely not stay strong for long. Many problems would arise. . . Even if it was supposedly "true love".

It was a very touching and a very brave decision to make, but He Xinyan also couldn't help but wonder where the two of them were now. . . Did he ever regret his decision?

"I kept in touch with him for a while, but my dad found out and I lost contact with him. . ."

"So you and Gu Hanwu had a close relationship?" Gu Yechen asked.

"I was closer with him than my two other brothers. . ."

"Oh," He Xinyan exclaimed. From Gu Hanyu's original reaction, she had thought that they were enemies or something.

"So that person said he is Gu Hanwu's son. . ." He Xinyan furrowed her eyebrows together, "So he had a son with Wu Yin."

She did not know exactly why, but the name Wu Yin sounded weirdly familiar. Maybe she had seen it somewhere in a book or a drama.

"I'm not sure. They probably had children." Gu Hanyu sighed and shook his head, "It has been so long since I last heard of his name. . . I almost forgot that he existed."

He Xinyan turned towards Gu Yechen, "Why don't you try and call that number again?"

Gu Yechen pulled out his phone obediently and dialed the number again. However, there was just a consistent beeping noise and it said the number did not exist.

Gu Yechen knit his eyebrows together and made another call to Chen Xiao, "I want you to find who is behind the number XXX-XXX-XXXX right away, and where Gu Yebei was for the past few days. Who he met and everything he did."

"He didn't give you the address of where you would meet, right?" Gu Hanyu asked.

Gu Yechen shook his head, "No. . . He said we have two days, so he would probably give it to us on the last day. And it -"

Suddenly, there was the sound of a doorbell ringing.

Xu Mengya jumped up from the sound and immediately ran over, "I called Minger over. She should know about this too."

He Xinyan had completely forgotten about it and she also stood up. Minger would probably be worried if she heard about this.

Wu Minger walked in, confused about why she had been called over.

"You haven't been with Yebei?"

Wu Minger shook her head, "He told me he had some work to do, and he hasn't contacted me in the last few days."

The four of them exchanged glances and in the end, Gu Yechen ended up telling her about the news since He Xinyan and Xu Mengya couldn't say it.

Wu Minger almost burst into tears when she heard that they were going to kill Gu Yebei, and He Xinyan ended up having to comfort her for several minutes.

She could tell that Wu Minger was trying to stop herself from stating her opinion. . . Because obviously, for her, she would most likely ask Gu Yechen to just give up his shares in order to save Gu Yebei.

It was a little selfish, but everyone had what they cared about most, and it was natural for Wu Minger to want to save Gu Yebei.

And to be honest, they were all considering it. Even if the money was important, was it more important than their family member's life?

However, they still had to try.

Gu Yechen stood up and sighed, "There is no purpose in having all of us here. Go home and we can all think about it. . . There must be a way to find him and get him out."

"What if we call the police?" Xu Mengya suggested.

Gu Yechen furrowed his eyebrows together as he didn't really trust the police, "We don't know how powerful or clever he is. If we call the police and he realizes, then he might get mad and just. . . kill Gu Yebei."

Xu Mengya put one hand over her mouth upon hearing that.

"It would be a risk. . . It depends on whether we want to take the risk or not."

Then suddenly, Gu Yechen received a notification and he picked up his phone from the table. The next second, he tightly knit his eyebrows together and frowned.

"What is it?" He Xinyan asked.

He showed her his phone and at once, her mouth fell open in both shock and disbelief.

"This - How. . ."

Everyone curiously looked up at the phone and He Xinyan handed it to Xu Mengya to take a look. As the phone went around to everyone, the room fell silent.

On the phone screen, it was open to his messages and Gu Yechen had just received a new message from an unknown number.

'Unknown: Don't think about calling the police. . . I know everything.'

Chapter 288 Wu Yin

On the phone screen, it was open to his messages and Gu Yechen had just received a new message from an unknown number.

'Unknown: Don't think about calling the police. . . I know everything.'

"How. . ." He Xinyan put one hand up to her mouth, "How did he know? There is no way it was a coincidence. . . We were just talking about it."

Finally, Gu Yechen decided to have his parents and Wu Minger all leave. It wasn't helping that they were all gathered here.

After they left, He Xinyan fell back down onto the couch deep in thought.

Why Gu Yebei? Why did they capture Gu Yebei. If they had the strength and power to capture Gu Yebei, why didn't they just capture Xu Mengya or Gu Hanyu. . . Or even Gu Yechen?

Questions flooded her brain until Gu Yechen returned and sat down next to her, "Don't worry about it too much. We will figure something out. Plus. . . I don't think his actual goal is to kill Gu Yebei. That person wouldn't murder someone easily."

He Xinyan nodded her head, "Minger must be so worried and scared right now. . ."

Gu Yechen furrowed his eyebrows together but didn't say anything.

The rest of the day went by smoothly but anxiously as the two of them ate dinner and went to bed early. Chen Xiao had returned and said that no one was registered under the number.

Gu Yebei apparently had gone to work to shoot a commercial, and he entered his private changing room alone. When his assistant entered a few minutes later, the room was empty. And then, he was gone.

When they went to go check the security cameras, apparently they were broken since Gu Yebei arrived and the entire time after Gu Yebei arrived, the security cameras weren't recording.

Whoever was behind the kidnap was obviously professional. . . and very professional. Even Gu Yechen couldn't find out who had taken Gu Yebei or why Gu Yebei left. Whoever had entered Gu Yebei's room had meticulously hid from every single camera in the entire warehouse and surpassed the security guards.

Unless it was a worker in the crew of someone familiar with the site. . .

On the bed, He Xinyan closed her eyes as she leaned back, deep in thought. A few seconds later, she felt the other side of the bed lower and she looked up to see Gu Yechen sit down on the bed.

She smiled and put the pillow down before laying down on the bed. He closed the lamp and the room went into darkness.

Then, He Xinyan felt a pair of strong arms wrap around her waist, and she turned around, facing Gu Yechen. It took a few seconds before her eyes were able to focus on his face, and she smiled at him. Although normally, Gu Yechen treated Gu Yebei coldly, in the end, they were biological brothers.

Although he didn't show it, she could tell that he must be worried.

"If nothing works. . . Maybe you should just give your shares to him. After all, no matter how important money and power are, it still isn't as important as your family."

Gu Yechen looked down at He Xinyan and stared at her for a few seconds before he leaned forward, placing one hand on her cheek and. . . kissed her.

He Xinyan's eyes widened slightly in surprise. The situation right now wasn't very suitable for kissing. . .

However, she did not know what he was thinking, so she slowly began to return the kiss. Luckily, Gu Yechen didn't go any further and he pulled away after a minute.

"Don't worry. I won't give away the stocks. . ." Gu Yechen smiled gently, "I promised you a good life, and we finally have a full family now with Pingping and Lanlan."

He Xinyan understood what he was worried about, and he smiled, "I trust you. . . Don't ruin your family relationships for me. It's not worth it. Plus, money can always come back. And, I have the He Corporation too!"

He Xinyan reached her arm up and placed it onto one side of his face, "As long as I'm with you, it doesn't matter. We can get through it together."

Gu Yechen stared at her with a straight expression before slowly nodding his head, "Let's go to sleep."

He Xinyan nodded and closed her eyes, ". . . I love you."

"I love you too."

---

On the next day, He Xinyan woke up early in the morning. When she looked over, she saw that Gu Yechen wasn't there.

She closed her eyes again and thought about everything that had happened yesterday..

Gu Hanwu. . . Wu Yin. . .

Suddenly, He Xinyan's eyes burst open. Wu Yin! No wonder that name sounded familiar. Wu Minger's mom had the same name.

Since she had been friends with Wu Minger since they were kids, she often went to Wu Minger's house and ate meals with her family.

He Xinyan didn't know whether that was a coincidence or not. She thought about it and concluded that it was.

After all, there was no way Wu Minger's father was Gu Hanwu. She had met Wu Minger's father once before he died from an accident, and she still remembered that his last name was Qin.

And, he worked in a small restaurant and had a very pleasant personality. There was no way he was Gu Hanwu.

And, Wu Minger also did not have any unusual reaction yesterday upon hearing about the news. If she was the one behind it, there was no way she would be that natural.

Besides that, when they had received the call from the person behind it, Wu Minger was right next to them. So she couldn't have been making the call. Plus, why would she kidnap Gu Yebei?

He Xinyan sat up on the bed and rested her head on her elbows. Wu Minger had an older brother. . . Her older brother was very nice to her as well and had always treated her like his younger sister.

He Xinyan shook her head and pushed this drastic thought to the back of her head. What was she thinking? This was practically impossible. Ah, maybe overthinking is another side effect of pregnancy.

She got out of bed and quickly washed her face before going over to see her two babies. They were still asleep so she didn't wake them up and instead went downstairs to see Gu Yechen cooking in the kitchen.

She ran over and hugged him from behind, "Breakfast?"

He smiled as he tilted his head slightly, "Good morning, baby! Sit down. Breakfast is almost ready."

Both of them were trying to stay happy and optimistic and not mention the ongoing situation, and He Xinyan went along with it.

She sat down at the table and a few minutes later, they were eating breakfast together.

Halfway through the meal, He Xinyan finally decided to bring it up even though she tried to convince herself that she was just overthinking.

"Um. . . I just thought of something but. . ." She looked up and put down her fork, "I remembered that Wu Minger's mother's name is Wu Yin. It's probably just a coincidence! But. . . I just thought it was kind of cool."

Gu Yechen blinked a few times and narrowed her eyes, "It probably isn't a coincidence."

He Xinyan frowned, "What?"

"Yesterday, I already noticed that Wu Minger was a little off."

He Xinyan's mouth fell open as she leaned forward, "Are you overthinking? How?"

Gu Yechen sighed, "Maybe I am because I thought about it overnight and it doesn't make sense. . . Why Wu Minger would do it. . . If my dad and Gu Hanwu's relationship was good, why would they do this? Why would Gu Hanwu allow his kids to do this?"

He Xinyan nodded her head but then pressed her lips together, "Wu Minger's dad. . . died many years ago."

Gu Yechen's eyes shot up, "What?!"

He Xinyan stayed silent for a few seconds and the more she thought about it, the more suspicious she got, "Minger. . . She also has an older brother called Chenxi - Wu Chenxi."

Gu Yechen tilted his head slightly and shook his head, "It isn't good to do all this guessing. Why don't you call her? We can talk to her face to face."

He Xinyan nodded her head and pulled out her phone. She dialed Wu Minger's phone number and waited. . . And waited. . .

"She isn't there. Maybe she is still asleep."

Gu Yechen thought for a few seconds, "Do you want to go visit her after you finish your breakfast?"

He Xinyan immediately nodded her head and stood up, "I'm done. We can go now."

As Gu Yechen also stood up, his phone suddenly rang.

'Unknown: I'm here to kindly remind you. Your decision needs to be made by tonight. I will send you the address one hour before the meeting time. I want you to bring the signed contract with you and place it where I tell you to. I will know if you play any tricks. If you don't come alone, if you play tricks with the contract, if you don't come. . . your beloved brother will die.'

Chapter 289 Last Countdown

'Unknown: I'm here to kindly remind you. Your decision needs to be made by tonight. I will send you the address one hour before the meeting time. I want you to bring the signed contract with you and place it where I tell you to. I will know if you play any tricks. If you don't come alone, if you play tricks with the contract, if you don't come. . . your beloved brother will die.'

He Xinyan looked over and widened her eyes, "Wasn't it two days?"

Gu Yechen also narrowed his eyes with a sigh, "He probably meant two days as in yesterday was the first day."

He Xinyan felt her heartbeat speed up and she grabbed onto Gu Yechen's arm, "Let's go. We don't have much time."

Although she still didn't and couldn't believe that Wu Minger had anything to do with it, this was their only hint right now. They had to try. . .

---

Half an hour later, they arrived at the Wu family's house.

He Xinyan had come here often as a kid and as an adult, and she immediately knew where to go. They rode the elevator up to the 7th floor and He Xinyan got out, calling Wu Minger again.

Once again, no one picked up.

On the way here, Gu Yechen had called Chen Xiao to find out where Wu Minger was and track her. There was still no response yet, which only made the two of them more anxious.

He Xinyan obviously wanted to believe that Wu Minger wasn't behind it, but so far. . . There were too many coincidences. Her mother's name was Wu Yin, she had a brother, her father. . . died, and according to Gu Yechen, she was acting a little unusually yesterday.

He Xinyan rang the doorbell as she hung up the call because no one was answering. They waited several seconds before she pressed the bell a second time.

Over a minute had passed and they didn't hear anything.

"No one's home."

"Do you know if her mom has a job?"

He Xinyan furrowed her eyebrows together, "No, she doesn't. But I do know what company her brother works in."

At once, they were on their way to Wu Minger's brother's company. It took another half an hour for them to arrive, even if Gu Yechen was driving way faster than the speed limit.

The two of them ran into the company and asked the front desk, who refused to tell since they were "outsiders".

But, Gu Yechen being Gu Yechen - He obviously had the company's CEO's phone number. A few minutes later, the CEO himself had come down to the front desk running.

When he saw Gu Yechen, his eyes lit up and ran over, stretching his arm out as he leaned forward, "President Gu! What honor do I have for you to visit my company? How may I help you?"

Gu Yechen didn't bother to shake his hand as he knit his eyebrows together, "Do you have a worker here named Wu Chenxi?"

The CEO obviously didn't know every single worker in his company, and he immediately turned to the front desk worker, "Hurry up and search!"

The front desk worker had no clue that the man she had rejected was actually the famous Gu Yechen. With her hands shaking, she quickly searched up the name Wu Chenxi in the company's system and stuttered, "Yes, he works in the engineering department."

"Did he come to work today?"

The front desk worker quickly clicked a few more times, "Um. . . No. He wasn't here yesterday or today."

He Xinyan's eyes widened slightly as she looked up at Gu Yechen, who also looked back at her.

"Mr. Gu, may I ask why you are looking for this. . . Wu Chenxi?" The CEO asked cautiously.

Without getting any reply, Gu Yechen grabbed onto He Xinyan and they left the company, leaving the CEO in disappointment and confusion.

"Why don't you send her a message?"

He Xinyan pulled out her phone and opened up her messages:

'Minger, where are you?! I have something very important to ask you about. Please call me or tell me where you are!'

They entered the car and waited for a while, but there was still no response. It was already after lunchtime by now, and they both did not know when "afternoon" meant.

Suddenly, there was the ringing of a phone call and He Xinyan excitedly lifted her phone up to find that it wasn't her phone.

"It's yours," she said.

Gu Yechen looked at the screen and picked up the call:

"Yechen, did you figure anything out? We only have two more days left," Xu Mengya's worried voice entered the car.

Gu Yechen sighed, "We only have one more day left."

"What do you mean?!"

"The person meant two days as yesterday was the first day already."

There was a gasp and then a soft shriek, "Yechen, what are you going to do? I. . . I - Why don't you just. . . Ah, I don't know!"

Gu Yechen lifted his arm up and pinched the area of skin in between his eyebrows, "Don't worry. I will figure something out. I'm going to hang up. Bye."

Then, he hung up and closed his eyes.

He Xinyan sighed and looked out the car window, "What if we just. . . call the police?"

"It would be a risk," Gu Yechen stated softly. To be honest, he didn't really trust the police much. When he had been kidnapped by Yi Qiansi as a kid, the police were of no use.

Apparently, all of the police stations in Country Z and Country X were notified of his kidnap, and none of them were able to do anything. Even in the end, he had escaped on his own and ran into the Gu family's bodyguards, not the police.

He Xinyan nodded her head, "Or maybe. . . You should get the contract ready. Just in case. . ."

Gu Yechen didn't say anything for several seconds before finally sending Chen Xiao a message, "Did you find anything yet?"

A second later, he got a reply, "The last time Wu Minger was seen was after she left your house and returned to her own. She hasn't been seen leaving her apartment since then."

Gu Yechen frowned, "Does Wu Minger live with her mom?"

He Xinyan nodded her head, "Yes, she still does. . . Well, sometimes, she would go live with Yebei."

Gu Yechen then quickly texted Chen Xiao to get the contract ready before starting the car, "Let's go to Yebei's house."

Almost three hours later, they had searched Gu Yebei's entire house and did not find any signs of anyone or anything unusual.

Gu Yechen had a key to his brother's house but rarely used it, so they had to return to their house first to retrieve the key and then go to Gu Yebei's house.

When they returned to their car, Gu Yechen received two notifications.

The first one was from Chen Xiao. He had delivered the contract to their house and left it inside Gu Yechen's private office.

The second one. . .

'Unknown: The address is the second warehouse on Second Yulin Street. You should see a chair when you walk inside. I want you to put the signed contract on the chair and then exit the warehouse and return to your car. Then, stay in your car until I tell you to get out again. I expect to see you there within two hours. Understand?'

Gu Yechen slammed his fist onto the steering wheel after reading the message and closed his eyes. Once he gave his shares away, his position inside the company was basically also gone.

Even if the other shareholders and board members respected him, without any shares, he basically had no power.

And. . . If the person behind this was actually Gu Hanwu's son, then he was technically also a descendant of the Gu family. He could very well use the shares and climb up onto his spot in the Gu Corporation.

Then, the Gu Corporation wouldn't belong to him anymore.

Gu Yechen tapped his foot onto the gas pedal. Would that person actually kill Gu Yebei? If he did, then that would be murder. If they caught him, then he would be put to jail.

However, he couldn't risk it. He couldn't put his brother's life on the line and risk the possibility that the person wouldn't actually kill someone. What if he would?

He Xinyan read the message and took a deep breath before unbuckling her seatbelt, "Ye Chen, listen to me."

Gu Ye Chen looked up at He Xinyan and tried to maintain a calm expression on his face, "Yes, baby. What is it?"

He Xinyan grinned, "You go home and get the contract and go over to the address the person gave to you. Try to be as slow as possible. Even if you show up, stay in the car for a bit and don't put the contract onto the chair until the last minute if you can."

"I'll go and try to find Wu Minger or Wu Yin. . ." He Xinyan did not have much confidence that she would be able to locate them since they had been trying for the entire day, but this was their only hope now.

"Understand?"

Gu Ye Chen stared at his wife for a few seconds before nodding.

He Xinyan leaned forward and kissed Gu Ye Chen quickly on the lips before getting out of the car and closing the door.

Chapter 290 The Truth

He Xinyan leaned forward and kissed Gu Ye Chen quickly on the lips before getting out of the car and closing the door.

Then, she waved goodbye to him and walked over to the sidewalk near the street. She got in a taxi and drove away.

Gu Ye Chen pressed his lips together before also starting the car. Two hours. . . Even if he was supposed to take his time, he still had to be quick.

He slammed his feet onto the gas pedal and began driving back to his house.

---

Half an hour later, He Xinyan arrived at the Wu family's apartment once again.

She ran up the stairs to the 7th floor a little out of breath and rang the doorbell.

"Mrs. Wu, are you home? Wu Minger, are you in there?!" She knocked aggressively on the door to ensure that they could hear, "Minger! It's me, Xinyan! Brother Chenxi, are you home?"

She knocked and rang the doorbell for several minutes before there was no reply. She had called Wu Minger twice by now and still, there was no answer.

She opened up her phone and saw that it was 5 already. There was only a little over an hour left. Gu Yechen was most likely on his way already. . .

She couldn't stay here because it was obvious she was getting nowhere, so He Xinyan reluctantly rang the doorbell one last time before walking away.

At the elevators, she closed her eyes as she waited for the elevator to arrive, gripping onto her phone tightly. Was there really no way?

Would that person actually find out if they called the police? Or. . . if they brought people with them to the meeting location. Would he actually kill Gu Yebei?

This was a psychological game. They could very well bring the police or other people with them to the meeting location and bet that the person wouldn't actually want to become a murderer. However, they did not know how high of a possibility there was that this bet was going to work.

They did not know who the person was, what he was like, if he had a record of kidnapping people before, or really anything about him. . . or even, her.

If they lost the bet, then Gu Yebei was dead.

It wasn't a very safe or cheap bet.

There was a ding that signified that the elevator had arrived, and He Xinyan opened her eyes. The elevator slowly opened and she saw that there was a person inside.

She didn't care much as she took a step forward, but she immediately froze when she saw who was inside.

"Auntie Wu?!" She exclaimed in surprise as she looked at Wu Yin from top to bottom. She was holding two plastic bags, one in each hand.

They weren't closed, so she could see that they were filled with vegetables and other food. It was evident that Wu Yin had gone to the supermarket.

Wu Yin also gasped in surprise upon seeing He Xinyan, "Yanyan?!"

He Xinyan did not know how to take Wu Yin's reaction. Was it a gasp of shock, or was it just a natural surprise to see someone at your house?

"Yanyan, what are you doing here? Oh, I haven't seen you in so long! Why don't you come over to our house to play with Minger anymore?" Wu Yin stepped out of the elevator, dropped the two bags onto the ground, and pulled He Xinyan into her embrace.

He Xinyan blinked a few times in surprise. Slowly and hesitantly, she returned the hug and smiled softly, "Auntie Wu, where were you? I came to find you this morning but no one was home. And Minger wasn't home and wouldn't answer my calls either. . . Where is everyone?"

Wu Yin pulled away and furrowed her eyebrows together, "This morning? What time? In the morning, I went out to the park to exercise with the other people, and after, we went to go get coffee together. Maybe that was why I wasn't home."

He Xinyan raised one eyebrow and nodded after looking into Wu Yin's genuine eyes. She knew Wu Yin. Auntie Wu was a very innocent and pleasant old lady, and definitely very nice.

Since she became friends with Wu Minger, Wu Yin had treated her like her own daughter. Especially after hearing that her biological mom had died, Wu Yin was even more welcoming towards her.

He Xinyan would not and did not believe that Wu Yin had anything to do with this.

However, she still had to check.

"Auntie Wu -"

"Come on, let's go inside first. Oh, I haven't seen you in so long. Why don't you stay for dinner tonight?" Wu Yin picked up the bags and wrapped her arm around He Xinyan's elbow, pulling her inside.

He Xinyan followed her into the apartment room, but she knew that there wasn't much time, "I won't have time to eat dinner with you today, Auntie Wu. However, I'll definitely come by soon!"

Wu Yin frowned a little disappointedly but nodded her head as they walked over to the dining table and sat down.

"I'll go get you some tea," Wu Yin said, turning around to enter the kitchen, but He Xinyan quickly stopped her.

"Auntie Wu, I'm actually here today to ask you something very important. I don't have much time." She said this very seriously, and Wu Yin immediately noticed. She sat back down and folded her hands together on the table.

"Yes Yanyan, what is it?"

He Xinyan gulped before cautiously asking, "Auntie Wu, do you. . . perhaps. . . know Gu Hanwu?"

At once, Wu Yin's face changed.

Noticing this, He Xinyan's heart dropped. No way. . . There was no way Wu Minger and Wu Chenxi had something to do with this.

Wu Minger. . . Why would she kidnap Gu Yebei? They were dating! Unless, she had dated Gu Yebei in the very beginning because of this. No way! He Xinyan shook her head as she tightly knit her eyebrows together.

"Auntie Wu, please answer me. You know Gu Hanwu, right?"

Wu Yin closed her eyes for a few seconds before opening them again, hiding her emotions with a smile, "Yanyan, what are you talking about? I don't know any Gu Hanwu."

He Xinyan's face darkened as she pushed aside all emotions and relations because there really wasn't much time left, "Wu Yin. . . Your husband. You don't know your husband?"

Wu Yin was slightly taken aback by He Xinyan calling her by her real name and not Auntie Wu, and she looked down uncomfortably.

"Xinyan, I do not know what you are talking about. Please -"

"Auntie Wu, I don't mean to disrespect you or talk to you about anything you don't like to talk about, but this is very serious. I need to know. You were the woman that Gu Hanwu married, right? It was for you that Gu Hanwu left the Gu family, right?"

Wu Yin looked up with pain in her eyes as she dug her nails deep into the skin of her other hand, "Xinyan, how do you know about this? Why are you telling me about this?"

He Xinyan let out a breath of. . . not relief after hearing Wu Yin admit this, and she pressed her lips together tightly, "Where have Wu Minger and Wu Chenxi been these past few days?"

"Why are you suddenly changing the topic now? Tell me, how -"

"Auntie Wu, I need you to tell me. Where have they been? Please."

Wu Yin frowned slightly, "I don't know. Chenxi has been going to work during the day like usual. Minger. . . She hasn't been coming back recently either. They are probably both busy."

He Xinyan shook her head, "Wu Yin, do you know that they kidnapped Gu Yebei, Gu Hanwu's nephew? Gu Hanyu's second son?"

Wu Yin's eyes widened slightly as she tilted her head in confusion, "What?! Chenxi and Minger? Kidnap Hanyu's son."

She chuckled, "They don't even know that they are part of the Gu family. We haven't been in contact with anyone from the Gu family in years already. That isn't possible."

He Xinyan gulped, "So you don't know?"

"What do you mean?" Wu Yin narrowed her eyes before saying softly, "Xinyan, is this really true?"

He Xinyan slowly nodded her head, "They threatened my husband, Gu Yechen, to kill Gu Yebei if my husband doesn't give them all his shares to the Gu Corporation. I also don't know what they are up to, but. . . but my husband is on his way right now, and -"

Wu Yin shook her head, "How do they know about this? They shouldn't. . . Hanwu and I have never told them anything about the Gu family."

He Xinyan stood up from her chair and walked over to Wu Yin, "I also don't know, but please. . . Auntie Wu, you have to come with me now. You can go ask them when you go find them, okay? Gu Yebei. . . he is innocent. We are all innocent."

Wu Yin looked up at He Xinyan, her eyes slightly red and disbelief written all over her face. It was clear that she still didn't and couldn't really believe that her kids were doing something like this.

Finally, she stood up and sighed, "I'll go with you. . ."

She had to see if this was true for herself.
