Reckless Regrets (Book 3 of the Blue Moon Series) / FOUR |...

FOUR FEAROSTHE UNKNOWN VN

Morgan

"Morgan, I know you're hurting, but you have to calm down and think about this. Don't you trust him?" Taylor asked.

I'd been bawling my eyes out all night on Tyson's couch. I couldn't be under the same roof as Kade, not tonight. So, Taylor, being the incredible friend she is, left her husbands and her warm beds to sit with me and dry my tears.

"Yes, I trust him! I trust that he believes he's not the father, but he can't be 100% sure. He was drunk, Tay!"

"Babe, I love you to death, but please stop yelling. The twins are in the nursery asleep, and I really don't want to wake them up."

As if they heard their mom's desperate plea, one of the babies started crying, and then, because his brother was doing it, the other joined in. Taylor sighed as I wiped my face and snied.

"I'm so sorry; I'll go get them and put them back to sleep," I offered.

"I've got them, Mo, just keep doing whatever it is you're doing so I can get my wife back at some point tonight," Tyson called from down the hall.

I heard the door to the nursery open, and the wailing increase before he walked into the kitchen carrying both the chunky little guys in his arms. Looking at them made me want to break down all over again. What if I never got the chance to have a child of my own?

"They're so beautiful, Tay. Kade and I were trying to start a family and now..." The waterworks started all over again; I couldn't help myself. I heard Tyson groan in the kitchen, and I wanted to punch him in his face. He was always an ass to everyone except Taylor, even when we were kids.

"Okay, take a deep breath and calm down. I'm going to get you a glass of water. Tyson, stop being a d**k. This is a big deal, and you're acting like she's crying over a broken nail."

"He said he's not the father, and I believe him; Morgan just needs to chill the hell out."

"Tyson, I swear to God, cousin or not, if you tell me to chill one more time, I'll cut your f*****g d**k off," I yelled as I walked into the kitchen. "If you want to keep making threats, you can take your ass back home. But if you want to

I pulled her to the bed and sat next to her.

on. You trust Kade, so why are you so stressed? What good is it doing any of us?" "It's the fear of the unknown Tay. It's real, and it's crippling."

"I get it, but you're going to make yourself sick, focusing on the 'what if's.' Focus on today,

"I know we will. Thanks."

I hadn't seen Morgan since our talk early that afternoon, and I missed her so much.

Even if she was yelling and cursing my name, I'd take it as long as I could be in her presence. I needed her more than my next breath. When she walked into the room, I breathed a sigh of relief; that was until I saw her swollen red eyes and tear-stained face.

"Tyson told us what happened at the meeting. If you leave, I won't be the Beta Female anymore, will I?"

"Sugar Bear, why have you been crying? Nothing is going to happen to us," I said as I took

"When Matt becomes Beta, Taylor then becomes the Beta Female. Since she's also Tyson's mate, there won't be a Gamma Female in place. You would still be a member of the pack, but you'll no longer hold a rank."

"I want to go look at the houses we have available tomorrow. I need to be prepared," Morgan said.

"I do! If you leave, I'm leaving too. I can't stay in this house; it reminds me too much of you.

In all honesty, I don't even know if I can stay in the pack village either. Maybe I need to look

I walked over and wrapped her in my arms. "Does this mean we can make a baby now?"

"Absolutely not. That's still on hold until those test results come back." "Fine. But we can still practice, though, can't we?"

She laughed and shook her head. "I'll let the professionals handle that, but thanks for the offer."

Once we were in bed, I pulled her close and ran my ngers along her cheeks, playing connect the dots with her freckles. I don't think there was one night since I'd found her that I hadn't done this. It was our ritual, and it soothed us both. Within minutes, I felt her body completely relax and knew she was asleep, but I couldn't follow along.

Why was it that the past just couldn't stay in its place? I'd ultimately left all the bullshit behind, all of the games and the lies. And now one drunken night was going to try and take all that I'd built away from me. Take Morgan away.

Everyone else may have their doubts, but I have none. The only woman who will ever be my wife and carry my last name, or carry my child is right here in my arms. I'd die before I let anyone else take that from her.
