

Chapter 7

Amanda's POV

Dream

I was walking with a little boy that looked a lot like.....Joshua? How is that possible.

"Daddy" the boy called out looking behind him. I was smiling for some reason I don't know why I was so happy.

"Hey honey" Joshua said kissing, my cheek. I was suppose to be disgusted by his but I wasn't for some reason.

"Hey handsome" I replied hugging him.

"Daddy look what I found " the little boy said holding Joshua by that hand then dragging him to.....the place where I le my warning.

I rushed over there as Joshua turned to me with an angry expression written clearly on his face.

"What is that!" he barked at me. I don't know why but I took a step back.

"Im..sorry I didn't tell you" I said holding my head down in shame as tears rolled down my eyes.

"Don't give those fake sadness tears why the fuck didn't you tell me you were her" he screamed again now pushing me down. I don't know why but I was scared right then and there.

"No daddy" Joshua silenced the boy by ripping his head of then throwing it at the mark I le .

"This is what you wanted isn't it...I'll make you pay for killing my parents starting with your child" he said smiling evilly as he pulled out a dagger.

I looked down to see if I waspregnant. How....why is this happening now.

"Joshua calm down...please don't hurt her" I begged him as he neared my stomach he only laughed and said "That's exactly what my father said ".

Everything went black until I was tied up again by Liam and this time he had a dagger in his hand wait...I was still pregnant.

"Amanda have you decided it's in either marry me our die" he laughed trailing along my stomach with the dagger.

"No please dont..please" I begged him trying to free myself. For the first time in forever I felt helpless.

"Wrong answer" he said then stabbed me in the stomach drawing a line straight down to me chest then he stopped.

I screamed in pain as he cut out more and more of my stomach until he finally reached the premature baby.

"Please don't do this" I begged screaming again as he parted the two halves of my stomach he knew this wouldn't kill me nothing n kill a reaper other than a angels sword straight through the heart and skull.

"Ah ah ah..shh the bady is here you wouldn't want to wake her would you." he asked laughing as her pulled it out of me.

"Hush now final chance marry me or you die?" he asked picking up a larger sword but with gloves. My eyes widened as I realized what he was going to do. I waited for impact but it never came instead I was greeted to a person screaming "Where losing her!"

I tried opening my eyes but nothing. All I could hear was the doctors endless arguing over whether I'll live or die.

Samantha POV

As soon as I got back from my mission I received a call from the hospital. I wonder why? Beats me.

"Hello?" I asked then sitting down in the living room turing on the TV.

"Uh it this Samantha Walker?" the person on the other line asked.

"Yeah it is" I said now watching SpongeBob.

"Uh we have a bit of a misunderstanding at the hospital it seems that- " I cut her o with laugh this is the part where SpongeBob said "You like krabby patties don't you Squidward".

"This isn't a joke miss Walker it seems your friend has been met in a car accident and is now battling for life" the person said completely serious. Wait which friend.

"Who is it?" I asked jumping up I was still in my assassin uniform.

"Amanda Black she was spotted about fi y kilometers away from town-" I didn't let her finish I just dashed through the door.

Unknown POV

"I'm telling you we got the wrong person she's the heir to a multimillionaire company. How the fuck is she supposed to be Satan's Spawn?" a rough voice asked.

"It's her I know it but how did she stated hidden?" another voice asked. I readied my guns then stepped out of here shadows blowing of my nails.

"Who are you" he first voice said it was a guy who looked like he was in his mid forties the other guy was in his early thirties.

"Oh...I had company. I'm so sorry to inturptions little convo but I heard someone say 'Satan's Spawn' and I need intel. Talk or die" I said pointing the gun at them.

"Again I ask you are you?" guy number two asked.

"I'm someone you call.....Death's whisperer" I told them as they instantly tensed there eyes held clear knowing what I could do.

"Uh...we where just. Wait a minute we didn't say anything about Satan's Spawn" guy number one said.

"Ding. Ding. And we have a winner but too bad wrong answer" was all I said before shooting his straight in the head.

"You..killed him" guy number two said looking at his fallen comrade.

"I know. If you don't want to end up the same way start talking. Now!" I sneered pulling back the trigger. But only silence filled the air.

"Leave him alone" a girls voice brought me back. I looked to see a girl about my age dressed in all black wih a cloth wrapped around her mouth with a D with a T through it said holding a gun similar to mine.

"And why should I?" I asked amused she was good looking but she wasn't my type she was my target.

"I don't know who the fuck you are but your in my way and trust me you wouldn't want to be on my bad side" she told me now reappearing behind guy number two.

"Who are you?" I asked her she only rolled her eyes while breaking the guys neck killing him. Dusting of her hands she smirked at me.

I was caught of guard when she pinned me down holding a gun to my head. How did she move so fast.

"Your worst nightmare...now tell me everything you know about the Devil's trio " she stated.

I took in a deep breath knowing there was no escape.

Samantha's POV

He took a deep breath then did something unexpected he took his gun and shot him self.

"Fuck" I swore dropping his lifeless body his heart beat was faint he was going to die any minute now and where to far from the town to call for help.

"You bitch!" I yelled stomping around.

"I fucked up real bad. Why the hell did you kill your self for you bastard?!" I screamed at his still lifeless body. I glanced at the kill who I killed his heartbeat was faint but still there. He's not dead.

"What do you know about the Devil's trio?" I asked him holding the gun to his head.

"I only know there the most wanted persons in the world and they work alone. There here in and.....there planing to go a er the Alphas of the nearest pack we where there to stop them please don't kill me!!" the guy screamed telling me everything.

"Thank you for your cooperation you may go with your colleague" I said playing with my gun. He picked up his friend and started hoping away.

"Uh...how could I forget I can't risk you telling everyone you saw me sooo..." I trailed o . He looked at me with wide eyes.

A gun shot echoed through the woods as all near by birds and ani,all flew away in fear. I blew o the steam coming from the gun. My job here is done. Turing on my heal I walked away as if nothing happened leaving three dead bodies behind me or so I thought.

Hello there!!!

Hi guys! Are you excited it's Christmas. Well if you aren't the Fuck you because I am this is so exciting like seriously who dosen't like Christmas.
