Chapter 3 Chapter 3 Disappointed In Him

••• Charlotte's POV •••

My eyes widened in disbelief. I couldn't believe that Hayden would do this to his own mate.

I struggled as the guards pulled me toward the door. Once outside, they pushed down my shoulders. As a future Alpha, my strength was not ordinary. I could withstand their forces and kept standing upright.

Hayden was looking at me with cold eyes and not saying anything. Seeing that the guards could not make me kneel, he came to us and kicked the back of my knees.

I was shocked and wasn't prepared for it. My knees buckled under me, and he successfully made me kneel on the ground with his kick.

"Kneel here and think of what you have done," he said coldly before telling the guards to ensure I kept kneeling. He then turned around and entered the house once again, slamming the door shut behind him.

The guards kept their hands on my shoulders, pushing me down and disabling me to stand up.

This was the first time in my life I felt so humiliated, and the one who humiliated me was my own mate.

I felt rage course through every nerve of my body. I couldn't believe my mate was so heartless.

"Fucking bastard," Lexi cursed.

I agreed with her. Hayden was a fucking bastard.

The wind blowing strongly around me didn't help. I felt so cold that my body shivered until my teeth chattered. I hadn't changed from my wet clothes, and my wounds hadn't been cleaned and bandaged.

After Goddess knew how many hours of kneeling, Hayden finally came out.

“Hayden, I-” I still had hopes that he would listen to me, but his next words wiped away all my hopes.

“Have you thought about what you have done? Are you ready to apologize to Sofia?” he cut off my words coldly.

“Hayden, is this how you treat your mate?” I asked through gritted teeth.

“Mate?” he laughed. “Do you think I care about you being my mate? For me, a mate is just a stepping stone to become stronger. An Alpha needs a Luna to make them and their packs stronger,” he said coldly.

I gasped and felt all my blood drained from my body. “You.. You never care about me? You never love me?”

“Love?” he sneered and looked at me as if I was a clown. “I only claimed you as my mate and married you to save the trouble of my pack not having a Luna.”

I looked at him and felt my heart breaking. Three years.. Three years of being his mate and his Luna. Three years of trying hard to be the perfect Luna for him. And that was all I was to him? A mean to save trouble and a stepping stone to become stronger?

“Are you willing to admit your mistake?” he asked impatiently.

I lifted my chin stubbornly. “NEVER!”

“Then kneel until you admit your mistake,” he spat and turned back to go into the house again.

“Alpha.” Suddenly Beta Noah appeared. “Sofia is awake, and she’s been crying non-stop.”

“What? Has the doctor seen her yet?” Hayden asked anxiously.

“She’s hysterical and did not let anyone come near her,” Beta Noah reported.

“Alright, I’ll go to the hospital now,” Hayden said.

He then turned to me and said, "Don't make any trouble anymore, or you'll know the consequences."

After warning me, he left in a hurry with Beta Noah. The two guards followed them as they were Hayden's personal guards.

I let out a bitter laugh. How stupid was I to think that mates should fall in love with each other?

After hearing his words, I had no hopes for Hayden anymore. All I felt was disappointment.

I tried to stand up despite my legs being numb from kneeling for too long. I reached out and touched the walls for support and walked slowly toward our bedroom.

"Are you going to leave that bastard?" Lexi asked as I was changing my clothes.

"Yes. Is it okay with you?" I asked her. I knew severing the matebond hurt so much for me, but especially for Lexi. I didn't know how it'd affect Lexi.

"I'd rather you leave him than stay mated with him," Lexi growled.

"Won't it affect you?" I asked.

"It will. It will hurt for a while, but I'll manage. I want you to be happy, Charlotte," she said.

Her words nearly made me cry. Lexi was the only one who cared for me in the three years of being married to Hayden.

"Alright, don't cry now," she tried to comfort me. "What's your next plan?"

"Leave here and go back to the Moon Crest Pack," I told her and began packing my stuff.

"Good," she said, and I could feel how proud she was of me for taking this bold action.

After I finished packing, I dragged my suitcase and went out without anyone noticing. Everyone was either busy cooking nutritious meals for Sofia in the kitchen or going to the hospital to take care of her.

How ironic, I thought. He let everyone take care of someone who wasn't his mate, while no one cared for his mate who was injured.

Looking at the starless night sky, I felt tears stinging my eyes again. Three years of trying to be his perfect mate went down the drain because of another female.

I began walking toward the pack's border while dragging my suitcase.

The wind began to howl, and I shivered again because of the cold.

"Charlotte, don't you want to go to the hospital to get your wounds treated first?" Lexi asked anxiously.

"And meet those bitches? No, thank you," I answered, and Lexi stopped talking.

The more I walked, the weaker I felt. My breathing became heavier, my wounds began to throb, and I felt my vision begin to blur.

"Charlotte, let's go to the hospital first," Lexi's anxious voice sounded in my mind.

My body swayed, and I fell to the ground, feeling all my energy drained. I couldn't even move an inch of my body. I felt darkness start to pull me in.

What should I do?

An image popped into my mind, and I struggled mightily to open up a mindlink I hadn't used for the last three years.

"Charlotte?" a man asked in disbelief once our mindlink opened up.

"Leo... Help me... Pick me up... at... the... Red... Claw... Pack's... border," I said with much difficulty before succumbing to the darkness.
