

Rejecting Your Rejection

Chapter 30 Picture Perfect & Trouble

I love the way we position ourselves but I hate to trouble you we have guests.

“Morning” Dante smile when he felt her arms around his waist.

“Why didn’t you wake me, I could have help you cook,” she lays her head on his back.

“And I’m done,” he turns around his eyes wandering around her body as she just stood only in his shirt he pulls her closer taking in her scent. Then cup her face with his hands “you’ll be the death of me, now come my belle as much as you’re tempting right now but I don’t want to leave you on empty stomach,” they both laugh.

They ate their breakfast silently, he felt a kick to his leg. He look beside at her and she pretended to look elsewhere chuckling he stood up with an evil smirk on his face. When she turns to kick him he was no longer there but find him standing next to her.

“Oh no you wouldn’t” she screams at last as he pick her up and throw her to his shoulder “come on I have to eat, let me go... Dante” he runs with her in his arms then throw her on the couch in the living room. He tickle her making her laugh out loud. “Dante stopped, Dante you know sooner or later someone’s gonna walk in on us,” he pushed her hands away locking it above her head.

“So I don’t care” he winks at her.

“What if I’m you know” he gave her a confused look “come on I’m wearing nothing underneath, before you say anything remember you kinda tore my” she bit her lower lip making him smirk

“now where did my fiesty mate went to,” he got off and pull her up. She playfully pushes him and he held her right to his chest.

“Where the hell is she?” they heard the front door slammed open and someone stomping in the way.

“Daniella... Daniella” she shouted her name growling in anger. “There you are... b* how could you,” Evelyn growl at them, Dante push her at his back and growl back at Evelyn.

“Don’t you dare disrespect my mate and my pack’s luna. I don’t care whose mate are you I’ll kill you right now.” She tried to hold him back as his wolf is resurfacing and ready to rip Evelyn in to shred.

“I don’t care if you kill me, she” Evelyn point her fingers to her “she almost killed my poor nephew and you disgrace my family,” heavy footsteps were heard and in came Jem, and Cora with other five members of the pack, not all their pack lives here.

"How dare you do that to my loving nephew, you s, if you have enjoy his bed then why drag the wedding. You shameless piece of" Evelyn didn't finish as Cora slapped her, Dante on the other side is on the verge of shifting if it wasn't for Daniella.

"Cora" she called her pleading her not to but it fell on silent ear of Cora

"Your nephew is the worthless p here. He knew she was just confused but he forced her to make her decision. He is nothing but a coward and how dare you come here and yell at my brother's mate and luna in the presence of our Alpha.

Your nephew is the shameless one he knew that she didn't want to be we'd any longer but he still try to force her to do it. Go ask him again and tell him to tell you the truth that she did cancel the wedding the week before."

Cora never took a second to breathe

"what's more shameless was he beaten her and almost r her if it wasn't for Kyle and me. Men like your nephew should die," Cora finally stopped at last trying to breathe, everyone in the room were speechless including Dante.

Daniella was crying now silently "he hurt her when she cancel the wedding and this was a week before" Dante gritting his teeth while looking at Cora whose eyes went wide with her hands to her mouth realising what she just scream out loud. She look at Daniella mumbling "I'm sorry"

Dante had enough and was in rage. He make his way to Evelyn his hands went straight to her neck to strangled her "Where is he?" his voice was scary and all in Alpha mode. She didn't reply he tighten his hold "one last chance, where is he?"
