Ex-Husband Wants Badly to Resume Their Marriage Chapter 35

Married to Jameson for Long No way!

Jameson made a call and said coldly, "Contact Lumiere Jewelry and ask about Sharon's penalty."

"Got it."

A few minutes later, Jameson got a call from Jacob.

"The boss of Lumiere Jewelry signed the contract with Ms. Allyson in person. He is the only one who knows the details of the contract and the penalty."

And Lumiere Jewelry's boss was on vacation in Greece now.

Jameson picked up his clothes and stood up, "Book me the earliest flight ticket to Greece."

Jacob hurried to book the ticket.

Ten minutes ago, Jameson was angry because Jacob mentioned Lumiere Jewelry after their cooperation had ended years ago.

And now, it seemed that he couldn't wait one more minute to go to see the boss of Lumiere Jewelry.

A week later, Sharon was discharged from the hospital.

She had been healed several days ago, but Tiffany and Ruben insisted that she stay at hospital for a few more days.

Lying on the bed, she felt like losing feeling in her limbs.

To Sharon's surprise, Martin showed up when she was discharged from the hospital.

Tiffany took Ruben away and left Martin and Sharon alone.

After a few seconds of silence, Sharon raised her head and said, "Thank you for your help."

Martin said, "Sharon, you never have to thank me. I'm willing to do these for you"

Sharon took a deep breath and felt even more awkward.

She didn't want to face him anymore, "If there's nothing else, I'll..."

"Sharon, I have something to tell you."

"Do you know who sponsored the Emerging Designer Competition three years ago?"

Just as Sharon was about to speak, Martin continued, "The sponsor is only a subsidiary company. Its parent company is the Proctor Group."

Hearing this, Sharon was stunned for a moment, "What do you mean?"

"I heard that you went to Mr.Shawn then and proposed to exchange the scholarship for money.Mr.Shawn agreed and tried to help you out.But he got rejected.In other words, it was Jameson who turned you down."

It took Sharon a few minutes before she accepted the truth that Jameson was the one who criticized her for not having a dream.

She smiled faintly and said, "So what? It was three years ago.Besides, Jameson didn't owe me anything.It's acceptable that he refused my proposal back then."

Martin's eyes reddened while he was holding her shoulders.

"Sharon, if it weren't for him, you wouldn't have undergone those hardships.We could have..."

Sharon removed his hands away and said, "Martin, perhaps I haven't made myself clear.I would not get married with you even if Jameson didn't marry me."

"Why?"

"I was so naive that I overlooked the gap between us."

Martin frowned, "Sharon, that's not a problem."

Sharon said, "It is, and it can't be solved.If I hadn't got married to Jameson, I would have hope for life.After I got married to him, I realized that the story of rags to riches was not as simple as I had imagined.I don't want to be ridiculed by others anymore."

"That's because he doesn't love you.If he loves you, he won't stand by and watch them bully you."

Sharon didn't know what to say.

Although it was true, she felt bitter to hear someone point it out directly.

Just as Sharon was about to speak, a figure rushed over and slapped Sharon on the face, "Sharon, don't you have any shame?"

In an instant, Sharon smelled blood in her mouth.

Sharon stopped the bleeding with the tip of her tongue.

She raised her hand and slapped back.

Erica probably did not expect that Sharon would slap her back.

She was stunned for a moment before getting prepared to slap Sharon once more.

She was about to take a move, but got stopped by Martin.

"Erica, stop!"

Martin warned her.

"Martin, she hit me! Didn't you see it?"

Sharon said coldly, "You started it."

“Sharon, I’ve told you that I love Martin! Yet you keep seducing him.You asked for it!”

Erica’s face turned red.

Before she hit Sharon again, she got stopped by Martin.

Martin pursed his lips and said, “Erica, let me tell you again.We are never a couple.’;

“That’s not up to you! Our parents have agreed on our marriage.You have to marry me!”

Ever since returning home, Erica had been chasing after Martin every day.

Martin was extremely annoyed with her.

Martin’s parents did not like Erica, but they somehow agreed to the marriage.

Erica was so excited that she assumed that they were bound to get married.

She became clingier.

Sharon ignored her and said to Martin, “I’ll leave now.”

“Sharon...”

Seeing her walk away, Martin lowered his head.

He couldn’t even handle the mess right now.

How could he ask her to stay? Erica held his arm and said, “Martin, let’s go shopping.I ordered a bag a few days ago.It should be delivered by now....”

“Erica, you’re a girl.I don’t want to make it difficult for you.But I don’t like you and won’t marry you.Be nice with Sharon, or I will be sorry, Martin said coldly, letting go of her hand.

Erica glared at him and said with resentment, “You reject me because of Sharon, right? It’s all because of her.If it weren’t for her, you....If only I had pushed her harder so that she could die!”

Martin frowned, “What did you do to Sharon?”

Hearing this, Erica became somewhat panicked.

She knew that she had said something wrong.

She pushed Martin aside and said, “No! I didn’t do anything to her.That bi*ch deserved to get hurt! She got married to my cousin before and comes to seduce you now.I’ll show her no mercy!”

Then Erica quickly ran away.

Martin stood on the spot, his hands hanging by his sides.

He slowly clenched his fists.

On the way back, Sharon leaned against the car window and looked outside.

Her expression was gloomy.

No one knew what was in her mind.

Tiffany wanted to break the ice several times but was stopped by Ruben.

They'd better leave her alone.

Just as Sharon told Martin, Jameson did not owe her anything.

There was nothing wrong that he refused her request.

Even though she kept telling herself that she couldn't decide for Jameson, she was overwhelmed now.

Her request wasn't improper.

She had won the first place in the competition and she deserved the prize.

Since she couldn't make it to Paris, she definitely should fight for what she really needed.

How could he belittle her mercilessly, criticizing her for having no dreams? If it weren't for the cruel reality, everyone would have his or her dream fulfilled.

She had been married to Jameson for long and knew that he was unkind and cold-blooded. So, she never asked him for much.
