

The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky

Chapter 1901

Chapter 1901

"How powerful!" The guard who captured Iris gaped.

Like his companion, he could tell that Leon was in the Peak Overlord State at best, yet Leon somehow managed to defeat the other guard easily.

After listening to what Seth's said, the remaining guard realized that Leon only managed to win with the help of the tool.

"It's your turn, now!" Seeing how Iris was captured, Leon dared not to wait another moment and darted toward the other guard at the speed of lightning.

"Kid, don't you move! Stop, or I'll destroy this woman!" The guard already knew Leon had a powerful defensive tool and instantly switched strategy to hold Iris hostage instead.

"Damn it!" Leon's expression darkened as he withdrew his spiritual energy.

Refusing to stand idly by, Leon turned and grabbed Seth, before flinging him toward the guard like a weapon.

He took a step forward and lunged himself at Seth once again, trying to use him as bait to prevent the other guards from attacking Iris.

If the guard refused to give up on attacking Iris, Leon could still capture Seth and use him to exchange hostages.

"How dare you?!" The guard was stunned. He did not know what Leon was planning but knew that he could not allow Leon to capture Seth or Iris would lose her value as leverage against Leon.

The guard had no choice but to let go of Iris and caught Seth with one arm, all the while launching another attack at Leon with another hand.

He knew that Leon had a defensive tool, but could only pray that the attack would be sufficient to force Leon into maintaining distance.

That way, he could rescue Leon while keeping Iris hostage, and Leon would not stand a chance in fighting back.

However, the reality shattered his hope.

Leon waited for this exact moment and immediately blocked the attack with the Mirror of Sovereign.

"Baam!"

The guard's power slammed against Leon's chest and since he was also in the Initial Emperor State as well, the attack did not affect Leon at all.

"Die!" Leon roared and launched a Double Attack at the guard and Seth.

The guard was prepared and immediately backed away while dragging Seth along in the hope of shaking Leon with speed.

However, he was slowed down by Seth and the combination of Leon's true and spiritual power was far too unpredictable.

The guard never expected Leon to launch yet another attack so soon after the first one and though he managed to dodge the first wave of spiritual energy, Leon's second wave of true energy still managed to hit its target.
