

The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky

Chapter 1948

Chapter 1948

"What? You don't have any?"

Leon was shocked to hear that. After that, his heart sank.

He put all his hopes on the Scammells to have what he needed!

Yet, he never would have expected that the Scammells would not have a Ganoderma that was about five hundred years old.

It caught him a bit off guard!

Of course, it put him in a very dangerous spot!

The five-hundred-year Ganoderma was the main ingredient needed to cure Darius, it was incredibly important, and could not be replaced with anything else!

The Scammells did not have a five-hundred-year Ganoderma. No matter how skilled he was, he would not be able to cure Darius!

"Leon, even though the Scammells don't have a five-hundred-year Ganoderma, we have one that's over three hundred years old. Will that do?" Damian said after some thought.

"Three hundred years? The effects might not be strong enough! Whatever, it's better than nothing! Uncle, help me prepare that and the other materials. I'll go right over!" Leon said after some thought.

Since there were no five-hundred-year Ganodermas, he was forced to take a step back and try with the three-hundred-year-one.

He had no other choice!

"Yes, alright, I'll prepare them right away,' Damian answered before hanging up.

"Leon, what is it? Are there any problems with the materials?" Iris asked curiously when she saw Leon's expression.

"Yes, the Scammells don't have a five-hundred-year Ganoderma and only have one that's over three hundred years old. Its effects will be a lot worse, " Leon said with a sigh.

"Then, how confident are you in treating Mister Hughes?' Iris asked.

"If it was a five-hundred-year Ganoderma, I would be fifty or sixty percent confident! However, I'm not even thirty percent confident at the moment," Leon said helplessly.

"It's that bad? Then isn't Mister Hughes in a lot of danger?" Iris was shocked.

"Yes, it's all down to fate now!" Leon said wryly.

Before this, every time he treated someone, he would at least be sixty or seventy percent confident.

However, this time, he was not confident at all!

"How could this be?"

Snow paled at that. She bit her lips and her eyes started to water.

"Snow, what's wrong?"

Leon was curious about Snow acting so strangely.

"Leon, I'm sorry. It's all my fault. I burdened you," Snow could no longer suppress the guilt in her heart. She suddenly leaped into Leon's arms and started to cry.

"What?"

Leon never expected that Snow would ever suddenly embrace him like that. He was surprised, and had his hands up in the air, not knowing what to do!

Right after that, he quickly reacted. He patted Snow on the shoulder and consoled her, "Snow, this has nothing to do with you. There's no need to blame yourself!"

"No, this has everything to do with me. If I knew this would happen, I'd have just killed Gordon with the poisoned needle before this!" Snow said as she cried.

She had her chance to kill Gordon, but since Gordon was her ex-boyfriend, she had a moment of kindness and let Gordon off.

It ended up causing all of this to happen, and Leon ended up shouldering the blame!

If Leon was able to cure Darius, then everything would be simple!

However, due to the materials, Leon had a very low chance of curing Darius!

If Leon failed to cure Darius, and the Hughes pressed the matter, things would not end well for Snow and Leon!

It was no exaggeration to say that her moment of kindness dragged Leon down with her!

It was obvious how much she blamed herself at that moment!
