Chapter 205

Read The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky Chapter 205 – If the new sources of raw materials can be refined better and thus return to previous levels, everyone would get their performance bonuses once more. In addition, the successful production of cosmeceuticals with better effects would raise the quality of the Elegante Group's products, with their mid-to-high-end products becoming first-class luxury products!

When the company's revenue increases, the salaries, and benefits of the employees would increase accordingly, thus killing two birds with one stone!

"You may have a point, but it's very difficult to increase the refining efficiency and develop these cosmeceuticals! To be precise, saying that it's very difficult is an understatement. It's virtually impossible to do unless there's some sort of miracle!" Ariel said unhappily. She felt that talking to him was like talking to a brick wall, and nothing she said could convey the message clearly to him.

"How would you know that there won't be a miracle if you don't try it? Don't worry, I'm very confident about this, and I guarantee that there won't be any problems!" Leon patted his chest and said confidently.

If other brands could develop cosmeceuticals, there was no reason why the Elegante Group could not, especially in light of his superb medical skills! Stanley's detailed explanation earlier enlightened him on many aspects, and his confidence grew even more!

"Do you honestly think I'll believe you? You're dreaming too big!" Ariel chastised him a little angrily.

"Let's just wait and see if you don't believe me!" Leon shrugged and got onto his motorcycle.

"Sure! Show me your miracles then, boy! If you can't do it, I'm going to teach you a good lesson for wasting my time!" Ariel fumed, then got into the car and sat behind Leon, and the two left the factory together.

After getting off work, Leon rode his motorcycle to the largest herbal store and bought a lot of medicines in bags. He was preparing to develop some cosmeceuticals, and herbs were an indispensable part of it.

However, he did not need much and only bought certain herbs because it was still in the experimental stage. Once he successfully developed the cosmeceuticals, the company would have to purchase large amounts of herbs. When it came to that, he could easily source them from the Shears.

Every single detail was worked out in his mind!

He did so much for Iris!

Back at Dragonbay Villas, Iris was already home when Leon returned. Upon seeing him with plenty of stuff in various bags, Iris asked in surprise, "What's in those bags, Leon?"

"Oh, these? Just some herbs..." Leon said curtly.

Iris pondered over what he said and immediately realized what she was talking about. "Leon, Ariel already told me about your twofold plan to increase the efficiency of raw material refinement, in addition to the research and development of cosmeceuticals. Are you serious about this?"

She seemed to find it rather odd. As the company president, she was well aware of how difficult those two things were, and she also knew that it was an almost impossible task! When she first heard about it from Ariel, she thought that Leon was simply saying that on a whim.

It never occurred to her that Leon would be determined to make it work! He would only be asking for trouble if he set about doing it!

"Of course. Why wouldn't I be serious? I'm not the kind of person who speaks without thinking!" Leon said sternly. He thought to himself, 'Honestly, I'm only working this hard for you! Not for the company!

"You should just forget about it. It's too difficult! Leave it to those in the R-and-D department to do research. You're also the person in charge of cooperating with the Wick Group. It's a very task in itself, so it's best for you not to waste your effort on other stuff!"
