

The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky

Chapter 2077

Chapter 2077

"Tsk, you're making a fool out of yourself!" Rodney sneered when he sensed Roanne's attack surging toward him. Then, with a nimble leap, he stepped forward and unleashed a surge of power, sending it barreling straight toward Roanne!

"Mister Spears is indeed a man at the Initial Emperor State, there's no doubt about that! I wonder if Miss Thompson can defeat him?" by this moment, the audience could already sense Rodney and Roanne's aura; they were at the Initial Emperor State and the Intermediate Emperor State respectively!

If Roanne could successfully take his attack in stride or perhaps even defeat him, this would prove that she truly attained the Intermediate Emperor State!

On the contrary, if she failed to do so, it would prove that this was all just a part of Leon and the Thompsons' hoax!

Meanwhile, onstage, Roanne remembered what Leon told her shortly before the fight, and since she did not have any experience at all in fighting, she was careful to avoid meeting Rodney head-on.

Therefore, to err on the side of caution, she did not choose to meet him in the middle and instead leaped to one side to dodge him.

All of a sudden, something changed!

A surge of powerful energy erupted from Rodney's fist, then barreled straight toward Roanne without warning!

"What's going on?" Roanne was stunned by this. She never once imagined that Roanne would ambush her out of nowhere, and this took her by surprise!

With that, she angled her body to one side, trying to dodge this deadly attack!

Unfortunately, Rodney's attack was so powerful and came at such speed that no matter how hard she tried, she could not evade it entirely. Even after dodging as much as she could, the final tendrils of his power still managed to catch her.

"Thud!"

With a deafening slam, Roanne's entire body was flung off the stage, landing in a crumpled heap on the ground.

As soon as she made her landing, a metallic taste filled her mouth, and a drop of blood seeped out of the corner of her lip. It was clear that she suffered some internal injuries.

Fortunately, she dodged the majority of his attack; if she chose to counter him, there was no doubt that she would have suffered even more serious injuries than this!

"Did Rodney manage to defeat Roanne in just one attack? How's this possible?" Angus, Yuri, and the rest of the Thompsons could not believe their eyes!

They all witnessed with their own two eyes that Leon successfully helped Roanne attain the Intermediate Emperor State, which was even more powerful than Rodney, who was only in the Initial Emperor State.

However, now, Rodney did not only manage to defeat an opponent that was much more powerful than he was, he even managed to do so with just one blow!

This was unbelievable!

One could only imagine their shock at this!

However, the Thompsons were not the only ones shocked by this; even Leon and the rest of the audience watching this were utterly astounded.

It was clear that none of them ever expected Roanne to be defeated so easily!

"Roanne, are you okay?" Leon and Cynthia scampered below the stage to help Roanne up.

Angus, Yuri, and the rest followed suit. They all surrounded her, concerned about her injuries.

"I'm fine. I suffered some minor injuries, that's all," Roanne said, shaking her head. Apart from looking a little pale, she appeared to be fine.

"That's great to hear!" Angus and Leon sighed in relief.
