

The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky

Chapter 210

Read The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky Chapter 210 – “How long has it been since then without any signs of progress or updates from your end? Are you trying to stop others from succeeding in what you have failed to do? That's some desperado logic you have there!”

“How dare you make such accusations? Who said that our R-and-D department has no results to show? We've made breakthroughs since the approval of funding and we'll be able to develop high-end cosmeceuticals soon!” George became red with rage.

“How soon is soon? A month? A year!” Ariel scoffed.

George was irritated. “It won't take that long. I can give you a guarantee that our R-and-D department will be able to launch three different cosmeceuticals within a week!”

“A week? Really!” Everyone was taken aback. No one expected that the R-and-D department would finally have something to show after months and months of practically zero achievements!

“That's great news!”

“I didn't expect Mister Proctor to drop that big of a revelation out of nowhere!”

“Indeed. Our company is currently focusing on the higher spectrum of mid-end cosmetics, but if our research helps us to produce better-working cosmeceuticals, we might just be able to penetrate the high-end market!”

“That's not all. The sales channel controlled by the Wick Group is originally the high-end cosmetics market. Once our company reaches that standard, we'll have limitless potential for future development!”

Everyone was overjoyed and could not help themselves from giving George a thumbs-up and heaping praise on them. Upon hearing everyone's compliments, George had a smug smile on his face and was even prouder as he puffed his stomach out. “If you don't believe me, I'll give you my written word that our R-and-D department will launch the cosmeceuticals within a week. I'm a man of my word!”

George then continued, “I have a request, however. Mister Wolf must not be allowed to interfere in the affairs of our R-and-D department. We don't need a layman to tell us what to do!”

“This...” Iris was starting to feel convinced. Developing high-end cosmeceuticals could bring immense benefits to the company, and it was something she always aimed to do. However, she already promised Leon. that she would let Leon try her best, which would make things awkward between her and Leon if she were to backtrack on her promise!

Ashwin's practically burst into a gleeful smile when he saw that scene. He was well aware of the importance of high-end cosmeceuticals to the company's development, and he believes that Iris would eventually come to a compromise!

The result was just as Ashwin expected—Iris hesitated for a moment and turned her gaze to Leon.

“Leon, since the R-and-D department has achieved good results, perhaps you can just leave it to them?” Iris asked a little hesitantly. Compared to the professionals in that department, she felt that it would be difficult to rely on Leon and she did not want Leon to waste his energy in vain.

“No! Launching three different cosmeceuticals in a week isn't enough! Miss Young, I can assure you that I'll develop at least ten different cosmeceuticals in the same time frame!” Leon said sincerely.

Audible gasps could be heard as soon as Leon made that statement. Everyone was shocked, and an immediate uproar ensued.

“Ten cosmeceuticals in one week?”

“Mister Wolf, do you think this is child's play? You can't be serious!”

“Exactly! It's incredibly difficult for a company to develop new products because doing so requires careful analysis and repeated experiments. It's not as easy as you think it is!”

“Would it kill you not to bluff and brag, Mister Wolf?”

Everyone voiced their opinions and ridiculed Leon while looking at him with contempt.
