Chapter 224

Read The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky Chapter 224 – “Don't question things that don't concern you! Just do as you're told!” Guido said unhappily.

“I...” Stanley looked incredibly distraught. After that, he clenched his teeth and said, “Mister Boyd, I'm sorry, but I can't do something like that!”

Guido had a cold look in his eyes, “You're not doing it?”

“Fine, then tidy up your things and get lost! You don't have to come to work anymore!”

“What? How could you do that?! Mister Boyd, I've been at the company for almost ten years, I...” Stanley was shocked. He wanted to say something but was interrupted by Guido before he could finish.

“Do what you're told or get lost! You can make the choice yourself!” Guido said coldly.

“But...”

“There are no buts!”

“You should've seen the announcement from human resources, right? You've been helping Mister Wolf out the past few days. No matter what, you've put in a lot of work, yet you haven't gotten any rewards at all! Why would you lose your job for a shameless and petty man like that?!” Guido said with a mocking smile.

Stanley gaped as he fell into silence.

Just like Guido said, he was a little unhappy that Leon took all the credit.

However, he was a man of principles.

There was no way he could do something like that to harm Leon. It was too despicable!

the “Mister Wallace, I'm giving you one last chance! Either you do it, or you leave. You'd better think about it! Of course, let me make things clear. Don't even think about reporting this to Mister Wolf. If you do so, higher-ups will figure out a way to have you killed!” Guido coldly threatened.

“I...” Stanley felt hopeless.

As part of middle management within the company, his salary and benefits have always been quite good.

If he left the company, it would be hard for him to find a good job or even a decent job at almost forty years of age!

That was not something he could accept!

His son just got into university and would need quite a lot in schooling fees and living expenses.

Just thinking about that caused him to hesitate!

“I'll do it!” Stanley clenched his teeth, and still had to bow his head to reality in the end!

In the next two days, the factory started to move into producing high-end cosmetic products for cooperation. with the Wick Group, preparing to provide them to the Wick Group.

It was the company's first batch of high-end cosmetics, and it was the first time they were providing their products to the Wick Group.

To prevent any unexpected problems, Leon and Ariel were in the factory overseeing the process.

While Ariel was not around, Guido handed a document to Leon, “Mister Wolf, the first batch of products. finished. Please sign here. If there are no problems, we can start sending them to the Wick Group.”

Guido gave the document to Leon with a smile.

Leon was not versed in what went into cosmetic products at all. He gave it a once over but did not understand much.

“Mister Wallace, is there anything wrong with this?” Leon handed Stanley the document.

Stanley's expression changed as he took the document and read through it. He forced out a smile, “Mister Wolf, I've given it a brief look. There shouldn't be any problems.”
