Chapter 228

Read The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky Chapter 228 – “Miss Young, I know that isobutylparaben is an illegal substance, but since Mister Wolf developed the new cosmetics, he's been completely in charge of the production. Furthermore, everything in the production line was strictly done following his wishes. I had no right to interfere. Furthermore, I gave the document over to Mister Wolf before the products were sent out. He signed off on it,” Guido took out the document for everyone to see, and they quickly saw that Leon signed it.

“Mister Wolf, the proof is right there! The workers on the production line were all working under your orders. They added isobutylparaben under your mistaken instructions! What do you have to say about that?!” Ashwin said with a cold smile.

Before Leon could even respond, Ariel stood up and said, “Mister Mercer, before the matter has been investigated, you don't have to be so quick to pin the blame on Leon!”

Saying that Ariel shot a sharp look at Stanley, “Mister Wallace, you're the workshop manager overseeing the production line! Even if the workers accidentally added isobutylparaben, could you not have known anything?!”

“That...”

Stanley clenched his teeth as he said stubbornly, “Miss Summers, for the last two days, I've been looking after the increase in efficiency of the raw materials. Both you and Mister Wolf have been in charge of the production. I don't know anything.”

“Is that so? Why don't I believe you at all?!” Ariel laughed.

If Stanley was an idiot, he might not have noticed anything strange at all.

However, she knew that Stanley's abilities were quite good. There was no way something so drastic would escape Stanley's eyes!

“Miss Summers, are you planning on finding a scapegoat for Mister Wolf?!” Ashwin said unhappily.

When he saw that Ariel still wanted to argue, Leon pulled at Ariel's arm, sighing as he said, “Ariel, it's fine. Thank you for thinking about me, but this thing was caused because of my mistake in the first place. I'm willing to shoulder it myself, you don't have to try and find any excuses for me...”

“What excuses, you idiot?!” Ariel was furious. She worked with rotten teammates before, but not as bad as Leon!

She felt like she was a saint for not dying from anger at Leon.

“Leon, is there something wrong with your head?! Someone's trying to sabotage you here. Do you not see it?!” Ariel berated him.

“Someone's trying to harm me? Surely not!” Leon looked at Ariel in shock and confusion.

“How could it not be possible?! Just think about it. Such a huge problem appeared in the production, but Mister Boyd and Mister Wallace both don't know anything about it. They've pushed any responsibility away! They even had you sign the documents while I was not around. Don't you think those are just too coincidental?” Ariel let out a cold scoff.

“It does sound quite unusual!” Leon's expression changed.

He thought that he was the one who caused the company massive losses, but after Ariel's explanation, he finally realized that something was strange.

“Ariel, who do you think is trying to sabotage Leon?!” Iris's expression turned serious.

“I don't know the details, but there's something I'm sure of. There's no way Mister Wallace isn't involved!” Ariel pointed right at Stanley and said confidently.

“Mister Wallace? I don't have any grudges against him. Why would he try to sabotage me for no reason?”
