

The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky

Chapter 2297

Chapter 2297

"Anyway, Angus and Leon already promised to find out about the truth in three days! Let's just wait! Besides, Mister Wolf said that the Dragon Corps will continue to investigate the matter. If the Demon Lord turns out to be the culprit, we will then join forces with the Dragon Corps!" August summarized.

"Yeah. You're right! Let's just wait!" Arthur nodded and accepted August's advice.

Meanwhile, on Leon's end, he parted ways with Oliver and Abraham and drove home on his one.

In the mansion in the Heavenly Waters Estate, Leon arrived home just in time for Iris, Cynthia, and the others to return from work as well; along with them were Angus and a dozen of martial artists from the Thompsons.

Amongst the members, there were two elders and a few core members of the Thompsons.

When Angus defended Leon, he was cast out of the family and had to leave with some of his supporters.

He did not want the Thompsons to grow apart and always believed that Leon was wrongfully accused. Hence, he intended to find the true culprit behind Yonas's death to clarify any misunderstanding between Leon and Arthur, before returning to the Thompsons.

Angus did not take all members of the first bloodline with him and only brought two elders and a few core members with him to investigate the truth; should Leon need any help, Angus believed that he and the dozen skilled martial artists he brought with him would suffice.

In the living room, Angus and the others hurried over when Leon returned.

"Mister Wolf, you're finally back! How'd the investigation go?"

"I've found something. Mister Yonas died because he took a second blow to his wound. His internal circulation was destroyed because of that," Leon explained, skilfully leaving out the part where he visited the Thompson Mansion as a Dragon Guard.

"If that's the case, Fiona is our number suspect for getting Yonas killed!" Realization dawned on Angus.

If Yonas died from the second blow, it would mean that Leon was not responsible for his death, and it would be extremely odd that Fiona accused Leon when she knew that Leon was not the killer.

"That's right! However, Fiona is merely an ordinary woman. She doesn't have the strength to kill Mister Yonas. We'll have to look into her to find out who she was working with," Leon paused for a moment and asked, "Uncle Angus, how did the investigation on Fiona go?"

Leon and Angus reached an agreement that Leon would look into Yonas's death, while Angus was responsible for looking into Fiona's background.

With the investigation going both ways at the same time, it would be far more efficient.

Since Leon already found out Yonas's cause of death, it was all up to what Angus found.

"I've arranged for Yuri to look into it. It's been some time and he should be back anytime now. I wonder if he found something useful," Angus said.

Just then, Yuri's energetic shout pierced through the air as he walked in with two other martial artists from the Thompsons. "Dad, I'm back!"
