

The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky

Chapter 2406

Chapter 2406

"Mister Jubert, you are too kind. I just got lucky," Leon said with a smile.

"Lucky? Leon, you're being far too modest! You killed four out of the eight criminals on the list. Luck alone won't accomplish that!" Alfred said.

"Mister Glasbey, what did you just say? Mister Wolf killed four out of the eight criminals on the list? Am- Am I hearing you correctly?" Zach froze in shock.

The others from the central region stared at Alfred in bewilderment as well.

"You heard right! Mister Jubert, apart from the Demon Lord, Leon also killed the Poisonwielder, Asmodeus, and the Scarlet Thief," Alfred explained and briefly recounted the previous events.

"What?! I see!" Despite their shock, realization dawned on them.

The Dragon Corp in the central region made a few announcements, praising their counterpart in the southern region effort, upon receiving news about the deaths of the Poisonwielder, Asmodeus, and the Scarlet Thief.

They all thought that this was accomplished by the Dragon Guards from the southern region and that the three criminals were eliminated by joined effort.

To their bewilderment, the person who killed the three criminals was Leon. On top of that, he did so all by himself and simply allowed the others to take the credit because he wished to keep his head low.

"Very well! Mister Wolf, you're indeed a hero! It's truly a pleasure to meet you today!" Zach laughed.

Though the Poisonwielder, Asmodeus, and the Scarlet Thief were hardly comparable to the Demon Lord, all criminals on the list were cunning and hard to track.

The fact that Leon managed to hunt down four of them was a miracle.

Zach was both shocked and impressed by Leon's talent.

"That's right!"

"Mister Wolf, how great of you to work for our community at such a young age!"

"You're a role model for US all!"

The others from the central region praised him as they studied Leon with respect.

Individuals on the criminal lists were all infamous, vicious sinners.

Leon was capable of killing four criminals, which not only proved himself a powerful martial artist but also a hero for their community.

Furthermore, despite the greatness he accomplished, he did not intend to take credit for it at all. Such talent and mentality were enough to earn their respect.

After that, Alfred changed the subject. "Mister Jubert, Leon has been badly injured. Let's return to the Dragon Corps and let him rest."

"Sure! Mister Wolf, we won't overstay our welcome, then! If you ever have the chance to visit the central region, please notify me so we can have a good talk," Zach said sincerely.

Upon learning what Leon was capable of, he was eager to befriend Leon. However, since Leon was indeed injured and needed rest, Zach could only give up for now.

However, should Leon visit the central region, he would take the opportunity to get familiar with Leon.
