

The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky

Chapter 2417

Chapter 2417

"I see," Angus instantly understood that Leon did not wish to become the next Southern Boss out of concern that it would affect the future development of Elegante Group and Cynthion Group.

Indeed, the two firms had great potential and Leon was meant to achieve greatness through them.

If he replaced the Southern Boss, he would be bound to the southern region, which was hardly beneficial for him.

"It's fine! Mister Wolf, I have a solution for you!" Arthur said.

"What is it?" Leon looked at Arthur in confusion.

"According to what I know, you have two subordinates who are in the Almighty State. You can pick one of them to replace the Southern Boss! That way, you won't be bound to the southern region and you can control the underground community through them! You can kill two birds with one stone!" Arthur smiled.

After the battle with the Southern Boss, he got to know Henry and Chandler, so he suggested that Leon pick one of them to take control. That way, all issues could be resolved.

"Well," Leon felt struck and tempted by Arthur's suggestion.

Though the underground community included power from all different backgrounds, their activities danced around the grey area and were mostly legal. Whoever took charge of the community would have great resources at their disposal.

Leon and the Thompsons went through a lot of hardship before they finally took the Southern Boss and the Spears down. If the Thompsons were willing to take over the Southern Boss's influence, Leon did not mind letting them enjoy the benefit that would come with that.

However, the Thompsons were reluctant to get involved and if Leon arranged for another family to replace the Southern Boss, it would be unfair to him and the Thompsons.

Hence, preparing Henry or Chandler for the role to see if they could keep the underground community in check in his place would be a great solution.

However, upon careful consideration, he gave up on the idea.

He only recruited Henry and Chandler because he needed to resolve the security crisis for the Elegante Group and Cynthion Group, and also to protect Iris, Cynthia, Snow, and Ruth.

Henry was in charge of guarding the Cynthion group and protecting Cynthia and Ruth, whereas Chandler was responsible for guarding the Elegante Group and protecting Iris and Snow.

If Leon were to place either of them in another role, the women's safety would not be guaranteed.

The women encountered countless attacks in recent times and Leon could still remember each accident like they just happened yesterday.

After what happened, he could not possibly repeat the same mistake.

From Leon's perspective, it did not matter how he would benefit from taking charge of the underground community as the safety of his friends was his priority.

He could not assign Henry or Chandler to other responsibilities, or he would regret it should the women encounter danger once again.
