

The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky

Chapter 2436

Chapter 2436

Mason, Henry, the Heavenly Stars Method can only get you to the Saint State at best, are you willing to train with it?" Leon asked.

Though he desperately wanted to increase their power levels with the Heavenly Stars Method, that was merely his plan and since there was a limitation to the Heavenly Stars Method, he could not force them to accept it.

"Of course, we're willing to do so!" The others nodded.

Mason, Spencer, and the others were far too weak as they were all in the Emperor State. Without the Heavenly Stars Method, they would never be able to reach the Almighty State in their lives.

However, so long as they learned the Heavenly Stars Method from Leon, they could easily reach the Almighty State and might even reach the legendary Saint State.

Anyone would die for such an opportunity, so they could not turn it down.

Henry and Chandler shared their thoughts.

Though the two of them reached the Almighty State, they were old and their health was deteriorating.

With that considered, they would only be capable of making it to the next level or so even if they continued to train, and reaching the Saint State would be highly unlikely.

With the help of the Heavenly Stars Method, there was a great chance that they could reach the Saint State, so it was hardly a tough choice to make.

Absolute methods were extremely rare and any martial artists would dream of obtaining one. Since Leon was willing to hand an absolute method to them, it was a great opportunity for them all and it would be foolish of them to let it slip.

"Very well! Since you're all willing to learn, I'll teach you the Heavenly Stars Method. Be sure to memorize it," Leon said, before reciting the details of the Heavenly Stars Method.

Mason, Henry, and the others calmed themselves and listened attentively.

Once they all memorized the method by heart, Leon said thoughtfully, "Starting tomorrow, you will all train here during the day so you won't have to go to the office."

The Heavenly Stars Method was unique and required the martial artists who practiced it to absorb light energy from the earth. Since light energy in the atmosphere was strongest during the day, it was the best time for Henry and the others to train.

Hence, Leon decided to relieve them of their duties and remained within the circles to train, so that they could obtain power sooner.

Though Henry and Chandler were responsible for protecting Iris and the others, the Southern Boss was severely injured and would require at least a few months to fully recover.

Hence, Leon assumed that Iris and the others would be safe without the threat of the Southern Boss.

Therefore, he concluded that he could allow Henry and Chandler to excuse themselves from their duties of protecting the women.

Still, in case of any unforeseen situation, he decided to seek help from the Thompsons to protect the women until Henry and Chandler were done with their training. That way, everything would be in place.
