The Ex-Husband's Revenge chapter 2468

"Cynthion Group is great? I haven't even heard of it before! How great can it be?" Joshua scoffed in contempt.

He did not hear of Cynthion Group before, which meant that it was not owned by any major family.

Hence, he assumed that it was merely a small business and felt that both the company and its vice president were beneath him.

"If you haven't heard of it, it only means that you lack knowledge! Cynthion Group is a unique pharmaceutical firm and the alchemical pills they make can boost martial artists' strengths and help them with their training." Renee snorted.

Hugh was the Morrisons' guest and Hugo entrusted the mission of taking care of him to Renee, hoping that this could salvage the business deal between Cynthion Group and the Morrisons.

However, Joshua kept disrespecting Cynthion Group and Hugh. If Hugh took the insults personally, the Morrisons would only suffer losses in return.

With that thought in mind, she glared at Joshua.

"Here I thought it's more than that. So it's just a puny little pharmaceutical firm,"

Joshua sneered in contempt.

He never saw the Energy Nurturing Pills and did not know what they could do.

All he knew was that rare herbs could help with martial artists' training. Since Cynthion Group was a pharmaceutical firm, he assumed it was similar to the Feaks who sold herbs to martial artists.

That did not seem like a big deal.

However, Ariella stepped on his foot under the table before he could continue.

“Joshua, just stop!”

She glared at him and signaled him to quiet down.

She agreed with Joshua and felt that Cynthion Group was merely an ordinary pharmaceutical firm, so she did not think much of it. However, regardless of Hugh’s status, he was still Renee’s boyfriend.

Yet Joshua mocked him in front of Renee, which meant that he was indirectly mocking Renee as well. Hence, Ariella swiftly stopped him from continuing to prevent him from upsetting Renee.

“Oh” He jolted and realization dawned on him.

Though he was the eldest son of the Hackets, Renee was the eldest daughter of the most powerful family in the Western region. She was far more powerful than he was and he could not afford to cross her.

If his words somehow upset her, he or his family might have to pay for it.

With that thought in mind, he swallowed his words and dared not to run his mouth.

“Hmph!” The dark expression on Renee’s face eased slightly once he quieted down.

Leon, on the other hand, matched Arthur and the Southern Boss in terms of strength and status. Joshua was the son of a somewhat powerful family, which made him far from reaching Leon’s level.

Hence, Leon saw no point in arguing with him now that he quieted down.

“Renee, speaking of the pharmaceutical industry, reminds me of something!

Jaxon Feaks is holding a bouquet tonight to auction rare herbs! Joshua and I plan on going. Would you like to join us?” Ariella asked, swiftly changing the subject.

“Sure! That’s where Hugh and I plan on heading anyway! Let’s all go together!”

Renee nodded.

She was slightly appalled by Joshua for what he said about Leon, but that did not affect her friendship with Ariella.

Moreover, Leon wanted to participate in the bouquet and she promised to go with him, so there was no reason for her to reject Ariella's proposal.

After dinner, the four drove out of the hotel and to the venue for the bouquet.

In a luxurious mansion on the outskirts.

This mansion belonged to Jaxon Feaks. It was spread over a great area with wonderful scenery. Surrounded by splendid lights, it looked majestic.

At the gate, two guards stood on each side to welcome guests who arrived.

When Leon, Renee, and the others arrived, luxurious cars were parked everywhere.

They arrived outside the mansion and Renee informed the guards her name.

The guards then escorted her and the others into the mansion.

"Mister Feaks' mansion sure looks grand!" Leon said as he walked past the yard, taking in the luxurious interior.

Though his house in the Heavenly Waters Estate was grand, it fell short in comparison to the mansion before him.

"What a country bumpkin!" Joshua sneered in contempt.

However, since Renee was still around, he dared not comment on it.

"Of course! The Feaks is a lineage that sells herbs and has accumulated a fortune bigger than most powerful families," Renee explained.

Though the Feaks were hardly significant in terms of status, they were a giant in the pharmaceutical industry, which accumulated enormous wealth over generations.

While they could not compare with others in terms of strength in martial arts, even the Morrisons, who were the head of the region, would fail to compare with them in terms of wealth.

“I see!” Leon said.

Cynthion Group was a pharmaceutical firm so he knew a lot about the industry and knew about the potential in this market. This was precisely how Cynthion Group gained its success.

Naturally, Cynthion Group was unique in the sense that it sold alchemical pills that were unique and irreplaceable. Hence, other pharmaceutical firms and the Feaks could only dream of achieving the same accomplishments as the Cynthion Group.

The only drawback for Cynthion Group was that it just started and had a relatively weak foundation. Hence, its influence fell short when compared with families that established themselves for decades.

Still, given its potential, Cynthion Group would rise in time.
