

The Ex-Husband's Revenge

The Ex-Husband's Revenge chapter 2511

"Everyone, I'm sorry, but Cynthion Group is just starting to expand so we haven't had the time to establish our branch here! Therefore, I can't give you the exact date or time when the sales drive will take place. Don't worry. Once everything is prepared, I'll update everyone three days ahead and invite you all to participate," Leon explained and smiled apologetically.

"I see. That means we'll have to wait for a long while," Everyone was disappointed.

They all thought that there would be a sales drive in the western region soon and did not mind waiting a few days. To their bewilderment, Cynthion Group did not even establish a branch, not to mention hosting a sales drive.

Even if everything went smoothly, it would take at least another two weeks or more before Cynthion Group completed all preparations.

This was not what they wanted, but it was better than nothing.

Since preparation was not in place for the moment, there was no point for them to urge Leon and they could only wait.

"By the way, Mister Wolf, you probably haven't found a partner since you're just considering expanding! If it's okay with you, the Daglesh would be honored to work with you. What do you think?" An idea formed in Jensen's head and he immediately proposed a collaboration.

Upon witnessing the effect of the alchemical pills, he instantly realized the potential hidden within Cynthion Group.

Since the company was stationed in the southern region, a partner in the western region would be crucial to handling matters in the area.

If the Daglehs formed a partnership with Cynthion Group, they would surely profit greatly.

Mister Wolf, us too!”

“We want to work with Cynthion Group as well.”

“So do we!”

Jensen’s words reminded the others and they all started proposing collaborations as well.

The alchemical pills produced by Cynthion Group worked wonders for martial artists and it was no exaggeration that anyone who worked with Cynthion Group would have great control over the western region market of martial artists.

All the guests at the bouquet were from powerful families, so they were talented and sharp enough to tell how profitable Cynthion Group would be.

If they could secure an alliance for their families, this would be incredibly beneficial and they could not possibly let such an opportunity slip away.

“No way! Mister Dagleth, Cynthion Group is going to work with the Morrisons, so they can’t work with you!” Panicking, Renee immediately interfered.

Leon traveled to the western region to reach an agreement with the Morrisons.

Though there were some unforeseen conflicts over the division of profits, Hugo was trying his best to convince Caleb and the elders to accept Leon’s proposal.

If Leon chose to work with another family at this point, all of Hugo’s hard work would go to waste.
