The Ex Husbands Revenge Chapter 2546-Hugh, wait!" Just then, Renee and Jensen approached.

Seeing that Leon was about to break Felton's legs, Renee was startled and hurriedly stopped him.

"Miss Morrison, what's wrong?" Leon paused and turned to look at her in confusion.

"Hugh, let's stop there! Felton might have been out of line, but you've already injured him and broke his arm. I'm sure he's learned his lesson. Since he's already been punished, let's just call this a day," Renee said hesitantly.

Miss Morrison is right! Mister Wolf, Felton is the Western Boss's son. Let's not overdo this," Jensen said.

but that did not mean he could rival the Farmers or compare with their power.

Leon injured Felton and broke his arm. However, this was merely a fight between martial artists and the Western Boss might not hold Leon accountable.

However, if Leon went too far and broke Felton's legs, the nature of this fight would be different and the Western Boss would not spare him.

This would only come back to haunt Leon. Hence, Jensen and Renee tried to convince him to let it go instead of allowing the situation to escalate to the point that the Western Boss would retaliate.

"Well,." Leon frowned and fell into silence.

the Western Boss or the Farmers.

However, what Renee and Jensen said makes sense as well.

He traveled to the western region to establish branches for Cynthion Group and Elegante Group here, not to fight Felton.

If he broke Felton's legs and enraged the Western Boss, he would merely be creating a formidable enemy for himself and this would not benefit his business in any way.

"Brat! I mean, Mister Wolf, this is all just a misunderstanding. I was wrong for offending you. Please have mercy and spare me," The despair within Felton was now replaced by hope.

He was an opportunist and since he was already defeated, he could only submit to Leon in the hope of preserving his legs.

"You sure know what's best for you!" Leon scoffed.

He was always soft-hearted and now that Felton apologized, he felt slightly better.

After a few moments of consideration, he made up his mind.
