The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky Chapter 27 In the office, Joseph Conrad, a plump, bald man about fifty years of age sat in front of the desk. He faced a young girl who looked incredibly nervous. The girl was about twenty-one or twenty-two years of age. She had delicate facial features and looked very meek. She wore large, black-rimmed glasses that hid her beautiful looks. She was quite petite and dressed plainly, but it did little to hide her natural beauty. The girl was called Lily Cameron. She was one of the three secretaries of the president. her rank was the same as Leon's. She was the secretary of daily affairs, while Leon was the administrative secretary. Other than that, the president's secretaries had two direct superiors. The first was the president, while the second was the head of the president's office. "Miss Cameron, you've already been in the company for over a month. You have been quite decent in terms of the quality of your work, but you still don't react quickly enough to anything that happens. I'm still very unhappy with your performance. How do you think we should address that?" Joseph narrowed his eyes as his eyes shone with ill intentions. Lily was incredibly frightened. She hurriedly lowered her head, "Mister Conard, I'll work harder in the future. Please give me another chance." 11 "It's not like I can't give you another chance, but it depends on how you'll seize that chance!" Joseph walked in front of Lily and grabbed Lily's white and delicate hands, running his hand up her arm. "W-what are you doing?!" Lily was shocked as she pulled her hand back, pushing Joseph's claws away. "Miss Cameron, there are certain rules when it comes to the workplace. I trust you get what I'm saying!" Joseph coldly snorted, expressing his displeasure. "What rules?" Lily was shocked. Seeing her confused reaction, Joseph could not be bothered putting up pretenses. He touched Lily's chin and smiled, "Let me be more straightforward. You're very pretty, and

I like you! “As long as you’re willing to accompany me one time, I won’t just give you a chance, I’ll even make sure you immediately pass your probation!” Lily’s face paled, immediately understanding what happened. “Mister Conrad, I’m sorry. I’m not someone like that. You’re looking for the wrong person...” Lily looked like an incredibly scared bunny. She turned around and immediately tried to run. Joseph was incredibly calm as he said to Lily’s retreating back, “You’d better think about it! “The moment you dare to leave this office, you can say goodbye to your job. Pack up your things and leave immediately!” Lily immediately stopped. She was deeply affected by those words. She just graduated from Springfield University, and only worked in the company for a little over a month. She did not even pass her probation yet. If Joseph wanted to fire her, it would be incredibly easy! Joseph was experienced with these things, he would naturally not let such a good chance slip. He hurried over to Lily and reached out to her. “Miss Cameron, I know that your mother is currently in the hospital. Your brother needs his university fees paid as well! If you lose this job, you should know better than I do what will happen!” Lily’s mind immediately went blank at those words. What Joseph said assaulted all her weak points. Her father left the family and disappeared when she was young. It was her mother who worked incredibly hard to raise her and her brother. Thankfully, a lot of her relatives helped them, which was how she managed to get into university. Yet, her mother worked too hard and ended up in the hospital. Her brother just managed to get into university as well, so her brother needed quite a lot of money for schooling fees and daily expenses. All of the family’s expenses fell on her shoulders. At the same time, she carried the hopes and dreams of a lot of her relatives. Thankfully, she found a good job right after she graduated. She became the president’s secretary in the Elegante Group. Even if the director’s secretary did not hold much power, it was still a position with a lucrative salary. Even while she was on probation, her salary was still over a thousand. As long as she passed her probation, her salary would easily go much higher. Furthermore, the president’s secretary was able to interact with the president regularly. As long as she – worked hard and earned the president’s favor, she would get promotions and higher salaries. Her future would be bright! The job affected her future, her mother’s medical bills, and her brother’s studies! If she lost her job, everything would be ruined! The consequences were not something she could bear!

"Mister Conrad, please let me off..." Lily pleaded. Her thoughts were a mess, and she did not know what to do.

"Lily, pretty women are meant to be admired by men. You should use your advantages properly! Don't worry, as long as you're with me, I'll guarantee that you get promotions and a higher salary in the future. You'll be able to achieve whatever you want in the company!" Joseph let out a smile as he reached out and held Lily, taking advantage of the fact that her thoughts were in disarray. His lips started to move toward Lily's pretty face.

Lily wanted to struggle and fight back, but she thought of her mother lying on the hospital bed, as well as her brother's studies. She suddenly lost any courage to fight back. Suddenly, her face was full of despair and hopelessness. Knock knock knock!

Right at that moment, a knock could be heard on the door. Leon pushed the door open and walked inside with the documents from human resources. Looking at what was happening in the office, Leon was stunned. He did not know how to react. Lily woke up from her stupor when he came in. She blushed bright red as she hurriedly pushed Joseph away.

The fact that Leon entered the office stopped him from getting something that was just about to fall into his hands, and Joseph was furious. He glared at Leon, "Brat, who are you? Who permitted you to barge in here? Get lost!" TL

"I'm sorry, I wasn't trying to interrupt you..." Leon let out an awkward smile as he retreated in a hurry. Just as he was about to close the door, he suddenly met Lily's gaze. Lily was incredibly tearful as she shot him a gaze that seemed to be crying for help. Even though

Lily did not know who Leon was, she hoped that Leon could stay back and maybe even help her. Bam! As the door closed, Lily's hopes perished as well.

In truth, she knew very well that Joseph was incredibly powerful. He was not just at the top of the president's office, he was also one of the most influential people within the company.

No matter who Leon was, there was no way Leon would be able to save her! Even if Leon stayed behind, Leon would just be causing trouble for himself.

"Lily, let's continue..." Joseph let out a pleased smile as he lunged toward Lily like a starving tiger.

Lily knew that she would probably not be able to escape being humiliated. She shut her eyes in despair as hopeless tears fell from her eyes. Creak!

The door suddenly opened again, and Leon walked back inside. Lily opened her eyes when she heard the sound, looking at Leon in disbelief. She did not understand why Leon came back. In his shock, Joseph even started to wonder if he would rise again down there. "Brat, are you deaf? I asked you to get lost, so why are you back here?!" Joseph angrily berated Leon. "Mister Conrad, I'm the new president's secretary, Leon Wolf. Miss Summers asked me to report to you..." Leon said calmly. He worked in the Mansons' company for three years, so she knew quite a bit about these unspoken workplace rules. If Lily was perfectly willing, he would not have tried to interfere. However, Lily shot him a pleading gaze. It was obvious that she was being coerced. The helplessness and despair in Lily's gaze touched his heart. Even though his personality was on the softer side, he was still an upright person. He had some passion in his heart. When he saw that a weak girl was about to be taken advantage of, he could not just let it happen.

The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky Chapter 29 At the very least, his conscience would not let that happen. "I don't care who you are, get lost right now! Otherwise, don't blame me for being rude!" Joseph was furious. He was so angry that he wanted to rip Leon apart. Leon was very hesitant. He had Iris behind him, so he was not afraid of Joseph's threats. However, Iris already made it clear that he was not to reveal the relationship, nor did she want him to do as he pleased in the company. Joseph was still his direct superior in name in the end. Furthermore, Joseph was also one of the more powerful people in the company. He was in control of a lot of the company's profits. It would not be good for him to end up in conflict with his superior the very first day he started working. If the issue ended up being escalated further and it affected the company in any way, Iris's impression of him would be greatly affected. Seeing Leon not saying anything back. Joseph thought that Leon was scared. He laughed and said, "What are you staring at? Get lost!" "Mister Conrad, I reported to you according to company regulations. I don't think it's very appropriate for you to ask me to get lost?" Leon clenched his teeth, summoning up his determination in the end. Back then, he rescued Elder Manson without asking for anything. Two days ago, he put his life on the line to save Iris. There was no way he could just ignore Lily! "We're just a new secretary, how dare you talk to me like this? How arrogant of you!" Joseph was furious. Joseph pointed right at Leon's nose, "Brat, you're fired as of this moment. Get lost right now!" "Yes, I'm indeed new, but I haven't done anything wrong. How could you fire me for no reason?" Leon refused to accept it. + "How? I fired you because I'm your superior!" Joseph smiled coldly. "You're not the only superior I have, there's also the president! I'll go ask Miss Young right now if she wants to fire me!" Leon was very calm as he turned around to leave. He worked with the Mansons for three years, so he was not a complete rookie who did not know anything. Joseph's shouts would not scare him! "You... "Stay right there!" Joseph reddened in anger. He almost lost himself to his fury. Even if he did have the power to fire Leon, he was still not the boss of the company in the end. If Leon did not violate any of the company rules, it was not very appropriate for him to fire Leon just like that. If the matter escalated to Iris, he would be put in a bad position. "Hand me your documentation for now!" Joseph swallowed his anger as he grabbed the documents from Leon. Leon's goal was just to help Lily out. Since Joseph already took a step back, he would not dwell on the matter. Joseph lit a cigarette as he looked at the documents in his hand while he plotted his next steps. Leon did not only ruin a happy occasion for him but also disrespected him. If he did not show Leon what the consequences of that were, there was no way he would be able to swallow his frustrations! "You're a secretary? Haha, I haven't seen a male secretary in many years. You're shameless! Go make me a cup of coffee!" Joseph pushed the coffee mug on his desk into Leon's hands. "Mister Conrad, let me do it," Lily said as she shot Leon a thankful expression. "No! Let him do it!" Joseph said coldly. Making coffee and doing errands was a secretary's job in the end. Leon had no reason to refuse it, so he accepted the mug. Smash! Before Leon could take the mug, Joseph loosened his grip and sent the mug to the ground, shattering it. "How useless! You couldn't even hold a mug properly. What's the point of having you around?!" Joseph was furious as he slapped Leon.

However, he was already used to being ridiculed and humiliated while he was with the Mansons. The Mansons also made him meek. Facing Joseph's actions, he chose to swallow up his anger. "What are you looking at?! Hurry up and pick up the pieces. Clean this up!" Joseph berated. Leon held back his fury as he knelt down to pick up the shattered mug. "Trying to fight me? You need to grow a pair of eyeballs, dog. You're still too young for that!" Joseph laughed coldly and he stepped on Leon's hand, pushing his feet down. Sharp shards were beneath Leon's palm. He felt a surge of pain as those fragments immediately pierced through his palm, causing him to bleed. Leon sucked in a breath as he pulled back his hand incredibly quickly and forcefully. Joseph stepped on Leon's hand with one of his feet. He was caught off guard and ended up slipping, falling on his back with a bang. "Piece of trash, you wanna die?!" Joseph was infuriated. He sent his hand that held the cigarette bud right at Leon's face. Leon raised his hand in shock, and the cigarette bud somehow hit his injured hand. The heat and the pain in his palm almost caused him to jump up on the spot. He reacted instinctively and slammed his hand forward, hitting Joseph on the chest. Bang! Joseph's fat body was sent flying, slamming right into the desk behind him. With a loud bang, even the desk that was made of solid wood shattered into pieces. "Ugh..." Joseph spat out a mouthful of blood. His bones seemed to be falling apart all over his body. He felt a suffocating pain in his chest, signaling that he probably broke at least two or three bones in his rib cage. Lily was dumbfounded at the sight. Joseph was dumbfounded as well, that guy did this. Leon was the most stunned of all of them. It was as if he was not the one who injured Joseph. They did not know this, but Leon was the one who was caught off guard the most among all of them. He did not know when he became so strong! "When did I become so strong..." Leon looked at his fist in disbelief. Not only did he send Joseph flying for a few feet, he even caused Joseph to spit blood. How did that happen? Could it be... Leon's heart skipped a bit, quickly remembering that he tried to practice the sage arts the night before. He vaguely realized that his strength seemed to have improved by several times. It could very well be related to his training the night before. He could not believe that he got so strong even though he was just at the initial stage of energy refinement. If he managed to improve himself even more, would he not become even stronger? Leon got very excited and happy. It was the first time he felt how amazing the sage arts were! At that moment, the employees outside the office were alerted. Quite a few of them looked inside to see what happened. "Oh no!" "Mister Conrad was injured by someone!" "Someone call for security..." Everyone was shocked to see the mess in the office, as well as the fact that Joseph spat out blood. By the time Leon recovered from his excitement, five to six security guards already rushed over. Among the security guards, there was a young man called Donald Conrad. He was the head of security for the company. He was in his thirties and had a burly, masculine body. He did not look like someone anyone should pick a fight with. "Uncle Joseph, what happened to you? Who injured you?!" Donald was stunned. He rushed over and helped Joseph up from the floor. Joseph's face was incredibly pale. After a little time passed, the pain in his chest was already greatly reduced. “Donald, this guy here injured me. Get your men to teach him a lesson! Get revenge for me! Make sure you don’t show any mercy. I’ll bear any of the consequences!” Joseph pointed at Leon and said viciously. The Ex-Husband’s Revenge By Dragonsky Chapter 30 Smack!
