

The Ex Husbands Revenge

The Ex Husbands Revenge Chapter 2701-Miss Morrison, who is this next to you?" Aurelia turned and glanced at Leon.

A baffled look appeared on her face as she wondered who this strange man was and why he was with Renee.

"Oh, he is the vice president of Cynthion Group, Hugh Wolf," Renee said.

She was not familiar with Aurelia and she did not want to engage in a conversation with her at first.

However, since Aurelia took the initiative to greet her, she had to interact with her out of manner.

"Vice president of Cynthion Group? I haven't heard of that before.' Aurelia and Bucky exchanged confused looks.

During Jaxon's bouquet, many guests who attended met Leon and witnessed what his alchemical pills could do.

However, Aurelia and Bucky were not present at the time.

Bucky just reached the Initial Emperor State and was far from reaching the Intermediate Emperor State.

At the moment, he was not in need of herbs to get past the bottleneck of his training.

On top of that, he and Aurelia were busy making arrangements for the engagement party, so they did not attend the bouquet.

Because of that, they did not know Leon or Cynthion Group.

"Miss Morrison, this can't possibly be your boyfriend, right? You are the eldest daughter of the Morrisons, so how could you dare a mere vice president? Have you lost your mind?" Aurelia glanced at Renee and Leon.

Realization dawned on her and a mocking look appeared on her face.

She never liked Renee because Renee's beauty surpassed her own and Bucky once pursued her.

Upon learning that Hugh was just a vice president of a small firm, she assumed that he was Renee's boyfriend since they were here shopping early in the morning.

With that thought in mind, she took the opportunity to mock Renee, wanting to humiliate her.

"Yeah. Re- Miss Morrison, how could you date someone so ordinary?" Bucky's expression darkened and he turned to glare at Leon in hostility.

Though he already had a girlfriend, his feelings for Renee had yet to change.

If Renee agreed to date Felton, who was far stronger as a martial artist and had a higher status, Bucky would not be able to protest.

However, Renee rejected him only to date someone who could not compare to him in status and he simply could not accept it.

His heart was filled with frustration and jealousy toward Leon as he wondered how an ordinary person like Leon could win Renee over.

The Ex Husbands Revenge Chapter 2702-"No! You two are mistaken. I'm just Miss Morrison's friend, not her boyfriend,"

Leon said before Renee could answer.

"What? Is it embarrassing to be my boyfriend? Do you not think that I deserve you?" Renee's expression darkened.

As the most beautiful woman in the western region, countless young bachelors fawned over her and they all were desperate to date her.

Leon, on the other hand, jumped at the first chance to deny dating her back when Joshua and Ariella mistook him for her boyfriend.

Now that Bucky and Aurelia thought the same, he reacted the same way as though she was not a worthy match for him.

She took it personally as an insult and given her prideful nature, she got frustrated and shot Leon a dark look.

T” Leon was taken aback by Renee’s reaction.

He was not her boyfriend to begin with and merely stated a fact, so he did not know why Renee was mad.

However, he spent enough time with his confidantes in the past and knew women well enough to stay quiet when they were mad.

Hence, he quieted down and did not argue with Renee.

“Miss Morrison, your boyfriend is so weird! Maybe he doesn’t think he deserves you and doesn’t dare to admit your relationship!” Aurelia smirked mockingly.

Though Leon denied it, Renee was someone of exceptional beauty and status.

She refused to believe that Renee would accompany someone unrelated to the shop early in the morning.

Normal men would not get Renee to put in much effort, so Aurelia was certain that the two of them were dating.

Therefore, she assumed Leon refused to admit it in public because of his inferior complex.

That seemed to be the only reasonable explanation.

“Miss Underwood, I don’t really think it’s any concern of yours if Hugh is my boyfriend. Don’t you think you’re a bit out of line here?” Renee said with displeasure.

She was no fool and sensed the hostility in Aurelia’s tone. Not wanting to waste her time explaining, she retorted without mincing her words.

“Well,” Aurelia froze and was instantly rendered speechless.

After all, Renee was right and this was none of her business.

“Sir, I’m sorry for the interruption. Do you still want this piece of jadeite?” Just then, the saleswoman chimed in.

Though Leon clearly stated that he wanted to jadeite, he was not able to pay due to Bucky and Aurelia’s sudden appearance.

The saleswoman was not certain if Leon wanted it still and decided to ask him again.

The Ex Husbands Revenge Chapter 2703-Oh yeah.” Leon recalled about the jadeite and opened his mouth to answer.

However, Aurelia interrupted him before he could speak.

“Bucky, that piece looks great and matches your looks.” She glanced at it and pulled Bucky over.

“How much is this?” she asked the saleswoman.

“This costs 1.8 million,” the saleswoman blurted out.

“1.8 million? That’s not that expensive! We will take it!” Aurelia said hastily.

She already heard what the saleswoman said and guessed that Leon and Renee were interested in this piece of jadeite.

Initially, she wanted to mock Renee for dating a man of low status to embarrass her. However, Renee remained unfazed and silenced her, which displeased her.

Therefore, she decided to purchase the jadeite before Renee and Leon could do so.

She only came here with Bucky because she wanted to purchase a few pieces of jadeites for her engagement party.

The piece before her matched her taste and the price was reasonable as well.

On top of that, she felt like she could vent her frustration on Renee by stealing what she wanted.

“Um, I’m sorry, Madam. This gentleman here said he wanted this. I can sell it to you, but only if he no longer wants it.” The saleswoman smiled apologetically and turned to Leon for further instruction.

“I’ll take it. Take my card!” Leon said.

He could tell that Aurelia wanted to purchase the jadeite as a means to humiliate Renee.

However, the saleswoman already turned her down, so Leon did not think much of it and handed his card to the saleswoman to purchase the jadeite.

“Sure! Please give me a moment, Sir,” The saleswoman reached out to take Leon’s card, only to be stopped by Aurelia.

“What’s wrong with you? I’ve already told you that I wanted this! Are you deaf?”

Aurelia said in displeasure.

She then slapped the saleswoman’s hand out of the way to prevent her from taking Leon’s card.

“Ow,” Pained, the saleswoman’s smile froze.

Not only was Aurelia arrogant and impolite, but she also slapped the saleswoman on the wrist.

This frustrated the saleswoman, but she had no choice but to suppress her anger.

After all, she could tell that Aurelia was from a powerful background judging from the way she dressed, and a mere saleswoman could not afford to cross her.

The Ex Husbands Revenge Chapter 2704-“Madam, this is first come first serve. This gentleman here has already decided to purchase this jadeite and I can’t sell it to you. Please understand!” The saleswoman forced a smile and maintained a polite attitude, hoping that Aurelia would settle down.

“So what? He hasn’t paid, has he? So long as he hasn’t paid, I have the right to buy it!” Aurelia scoffed and remained arrogant.

“But-” The saleswoman was rendered speechless.

Though Aurelia was playing with words, she was right that Leon was yet to pay and the saleswoman could not argue with this logic.

“Miss Underwood, what’s the meaning of this? You know that Hugh set his eyes on this and you are causing trouble on purpose! Don’t you think you are out of line here?” Renee questioned angrily.

She knew that Aurelia was only fighting over the jadeite to undermine her.

Facing such provocation, she could not maintain her politeness.

Naturally, Leon was equally offended.

He did not know Aurelia and they had no previous conflict, yet she continued to belittle him for not deserving Renee and rudely compete for the jadeite he wanted.

This was out of line and even for someone as good-tempered as Leon, he was inevitably provoked.

Still, he did not intend to fight with a woman. As a gentleman, he suppressed his anger and did not snap.

“Miss Morrison, I’m afraid I don’t agree with you. Bucky and I came here to purchase jadeites. Isn’t it normal that I want to buy something that I’m interested in? You can’t just stop me from buying it just because you and your boyfriend set your eyes on it!” Aurelia retorted.

“Why you!” Renee was furious.

However, the Underwoods were one of the most powerful families in the western region, and Aurelia’s status rivaled hers.

Since Aurelia was determined to take the jadeite from Leon, there was nothing she could do.

“What do you want, then? There’s only one piece and we are both interested in it. It’s not like this can be sold to US all!” Leon laughed angrily at Aurelia’s insensible behavior.

“How about this? Let’s bid against each other and whoever bids the highest price gets it!” Aurelia said and glanced at Leon in contempt.

She just learned from Renee that Leon was just a lowly vice president.

Leon could not possibly compare to her or Bucky in terms of wealth and status.

If they bid against one another, Leon would not stand a chance.

That way, she could defeat Leon and Renee and get them to admit their shortcomings, thus killing two birds with one stone.

The Ex Husbands Revenge Chapter 2705-“That’s not a bad idea! I’ll pay 3 million!” Bucky chimed in.

Like Aurelia, he also did not see Hugh as a threat.

The jadeite was quite valuable, yet Hugh was willing to spend a fortune on it.

Since they mistook Leon as Renee’s boyfriend and that was later confirmed by the fact that Renee was out shopping with him early in the morning, he assumed that Leon was purchasing the jadeite as a gift for Renee.

Bucky was in love with Renee so he refused to let Leon get his way.

“You want to bid against me? That’s interesting. I’ll pay 4 million, then!” Leon scoffed.

Considering how profitable Cynthion Group and Elegante Group were, he was not in short of money as the chairman of both firms.

Since Aurelia and Bucky dared to bid against him to make him give up, they would have to learn the reality as he did not fear them.

“I’ll go for 5 million, then!” Bucky sneered and raised the price without hesitation.

“7 million!” Leon said calmly.

“Why you!” Bucky and Aurelia both paled.

They thought that Leon would cave once they raised the price and he would give up on bidding.

To their surprise, Leon dared to raise the price to 7 million without hesitation.

This caught them by surprise. However, they refused to back down as a few million did not mean much to people from their backgrounds.

There was no way that they would admit defeat.

“9 million!” Bucky said darkly, no longer as composed.

The selling price of the jadeite was merely a little over 1.5 million and it was hardly worth 9 million.

It pained him slightly to pay so much for something not worthy of the value.

“I will!” Leon was about to raise the price when Renee pulled his arm.

“Hugh, forget it. This piece of jadeite isn’t worth that much. Stop bidding. If they want it so badly, let them have it! We can just buy another one!” Renee said.

Leon already mentioned that he was purchasing jadeites to produce alchemical pills. This would only require jadeites of good quality and craftsmanship should not matter.

If Leon continued to bid, he would only be wasting money so he might as well purchase another piece.

“Well, that’s true!” Realization dawned on Leon and he regained his composure.

Due to Aurelia’s unreasonable attitude, he was overwhelmed by anger and prompted to bid.

However, Renee’s words brought him back to his senses.

Though he was not short of money, spending it foolishly should not be an option.

The jadeite was only worth a little over 1.5 million and it would be foolish of him if he continued to bid only to purchase it at a much higher price.

Since Bucky and Aurelia insisted on acting recklessly, he had no reason to compete with them.
